APPENDIX B

UNIFORM SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTS PRESCRIBED FOR PUBLIC UTILITIES AND LICENSEES SUBJECT TO THE PROVISIONS OF THE FEDERAL POWER ACT

Definitions

When used in this system of accounts:

1. "Accounts" means the accounts prescribed in this system of accounts.

2. "Actually issued," as applied to securities issued or assumed by the utility, means those which have been sold to bona fide purchasers for a valuable consideration, those issued as dividends on stock, and those which have been issued in accordance with contractual requirements direct to trustees of sinking funds.

3. "Actually outstanding," as applied to securities issued or assumed by the utility, means those which have been actually issued and are neither retired nor held by or for the utility; provided, however, that securities held by trustees shall be considered as actually outstanding.

4. "Amortization" means the gradual extinguishment of an amount in an account by distributing such amount over a fixed period, over the life of the asset or liability to which it applies, or over the period during which it is anticipated the benefit will be realized.

5. A. "Associated companies" means companies or persons that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, control, or are controlled by, or are under common control with, the accounting company.

B. "Control" (including the terms "controlling," "controlled by," and "under common control with") means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a company, whether such power is exercised through one or more intermediary companies, or alone, or in conjunction with, or pursuant to an agreement, and whether such power is established through a majority or minority ownership or voting of securities, common directors, officers, or stockholders, voting trusts, holding trusts, associated companies, contract or any other direct or indirect means.

6. "Book cost" means the amount at which property is recorded in these accounts without deduction of related provisions for accrued depreciation, amortization, or for other purposes.

7. "Commission," means the Federal Power Commission.

8. "Cost" means the amount of money actually paid for property or services. When the consideration given is other than cash in a purchase and sale transaction, as distinguished from a transaction involving the issuance of common stock in a merger or a pooling of interest, the value of such consideration shall be determined on a cash basis.

9. "Cost of removal" means the cost of demolishing, dismantling, tearing down or otherwise removing electric plant, including the cost of transportation and handling incidental thereto.

10. "Debt expense" means all expenses in connection with the issuance and initial sale of evidences of debt, such as fees for drafting mortgages and trust deeds; fees and taxes for issuing or recording evidences of debt; cost of engraving and printing bonds and certificates of indebtedness; fees paid trustees; specific costs of obtaining governmental authority; fees for legal services; fees and commissions paid underwriters, brokers, and salesmen for marketing such evidences of debt; fees and expenses of listing on exchanges; and other like costs.

11. "Depreciation," as applied to depreciable electric plant, means the loss in service value not restored by current maintenance, incurred in connection with the consumption or prospective retirement of electric plant in the course of service from causes which are known to be in current operation and against which the utility is not protected by insurance. Among the causes to be given consideration are wear and tear, decay, action of the elements, inadequacy, obsolescence, changes in the art, changes in demand and requirements of public authorities.

12. "Discount," as applied to the securities issued or assumed by the utility, means the excess of the par (stated value of no-par stocks) or face value of the securities plus interest or dividends accrued at the date of the sale over the cash value of the consideration received from their sale.

13. "Investment advances" means advances, represented by notes or by book accounts only, with respect to which it is mutually agreed or intended between the creditor and debtor that they shall be settled by the issuance of securities or shall not be subject to current settlement.

14. "Licensee" means any person, or State, licensed under the provisions of the Federal Power Act and subject to the Commission's accounting requirements under the terms of the license.

15. "Minor items of property" means the associated parts or items of which retirement units are composed.

16. "Net salvage value" means the salvage value of property retired less the cost of removal.

17. "Nominally issued," as applied to securities issued or assumed by the utility, means those which have been signed, certified, or otherwise executed, and placed with the proper officer for sale and delivery, or pledged, or otherwise placed in some special fund of the utility, but which have not been sold, or issued direct to trustees of sinking funds in accordance with contractual requirements.

18. "Nominally outstanding," as applied to securities issued or assumed by the utility, means those which, after being actually issued, have been reacquired by or for the utility under circumstances which require them to be considered as held alive and not retired, provided, however, that securities held by trustees shall be considered as actually outstanding.

19. "Nonproject property" means the electric plant of a licensee which is not a part of the project property subject to a license issued by the Commission.

20. "Original cost," as applied to electric plant, means the cost of such property to the person first devoting it to public service.

21. "Person" means an individual, a corporation, a partnership, an association, a joint stock company, a business trust, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not, or any receiver or trustee.

22. "Premium," as applied to securities issued or assumed by the utility, means the excess of the cash value of the consideration received from their sale over the sum of their par (stated value of no-par stocks) or face value and interest or dividends accrued at the date of sale.

23. "Project" means complete unit of improvement or development, consisting of a power house, all water conduits, all dams and appurtenant works and structures (including navigation structures) which are a part of said unit, and all storage, diverting, or forebay reservoirs directly connected therewith, the primary line or lines transmitting power therefrom to the point of junction with the distribution system or with the interconnected primary transmission system, all miscellaneous structures used and useful in connection with said unit or any part thereof, and all water rights, rights of way, ditches, dams, reservoirs, lands, or interest in lands the use and occupancy of which are necessary or appropriate in the maintenance and operation of such unit.

24. "Project property" means the property described in and subject to a license issued by the Commission.

25. "Property retired," as applied to electric plant, means property which has been removed, sold, abandoned, destroyed, or which for any cause has been withdrawn from service.

26. "Public utility" means any person who owns or operates facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission under the Federal Power Act. (See section 201(e) of said act.)

27. "Replacing" or "replacement," when not otherwise indicated in the context, means the construction or installation of electric plant in place of property retired, together with the removal of the property retired.

28. "Retirement units" means those items of electric plant which, when retired, with or without replacement, are accounted for by crediting the book cost thereof to the electric plant account in which included.

29. "Salvage value" means the amount received for property retired, less any expenses incurred in connection with the sale or in preparing the property for sale; or, if retained, the amount at which the material recoverable is chargeable to materials and supplies, or other appropriate account.

30. "Service life" means the time between the date electric plant is includible in electric plant in service, or electric plant leased to others, and the date of its retirement. If depreciation is accounted for on a production basis rather than on a time basis, then service life should be measured in terms of the appropriate unit of production.

31. "Service value" means the difference between original cost and net salvage value of electric plant.

32. "State" means a State admitted to the Union, the District of Columbia, and any organized Territory of the United States.

33. "Utility," as used herein and when not otherwise indicated in the context, means any public utility or licensee to which this system of accounts is applicable.

General Instructions

1. Classification of Utilities.

A. For the purpose of applying systems of accounts prescribed by the Commission, electric utilities and licensees are divided into four classes, as follows:

Class A. Utilities having annual electric operating revenues of $2,500,000 or more.

Class B. Utilities having annual electric operating revenues of $1,000,000 or more but less than $2,500,000.

Class C. Utilities having annual electric operating revenues of $150,000 or more but less than $1,000,000.

Class D. Utilities having annual electric operating revenues of $25,000 or more but less than $150,000.

B. This system of accounts applies to Class A and Class B utilities. Those applicable to Class C and Class D utilities are issued separately.

C. The class to which any utility belongs shall originally be determined by the average of its annual electric operating revenues for the last three consecutive years. Subsequent changes in classification shall be made when the annual electric operating revenues for each of the three immediately preceding years shall exceed the upper limit, or be less than the lower limit, of the annual electric operating revenues of the classification previously applicable to the utility.

D. Any utility may, at its option, adopt the system of accounts prescribed by the Commission for any larger class of utilities.

2. Records.

A. Each utility shall keep its books of account, and all other books, records, and memoranda which support the entries in such books of account so as to be able to furnish readily full information as to any item included in any account. Each entry shall be supported by such detailed information as will permit ready identification, analysis, and verification of all facts relevant thereto.

B. The books and records referred to herein include not only accounting records in a limited technical sense, but all other records, such as minute books, stock books, reports, correspondence, memoranda, etc., which may be useful in developing the history of or facts regarding any transaction.

C. No utility shall destroy any such books or records unless the destruction thereof is permitted by rules and regulations of the Commission.

D. In addition to prescribed accounts, clearing accounts, temporary or experimental accounts, and subdivisions of any accounts, may be kept, provided the integrity of the prescribed accounts is not impaired.

E. All amounts included in the accounts prescribed herein for electric plant and operating expenses shall be just and reasonable and any payments or accruals by the utility in excess of just and reasonable charges shall be included in account 426, Other Income Deductions.

F. The arrangement or sequence of the accounts prescribed herein shall not be controlling as to the arrangement or sequence in report forms which may be prescribed by the Commission.

3. Numbering System.

A. The account numbering plan used herein consists of a system of three-digit whole numbers as follows:

100–199	Assets and other debits.
200–299	Liabilities and other credits.
300–399	Plant accounts.
400–439	Income accounts.
440–459	Revenue accounts.
500–599	Production, transmission and distribution expenses.
900–949	Customer accounts, sales and general administrative expenses.

B. In certain instances, numbers have been skipped in order to allow for possible later expansion or to permit better coordination with the numbering system for other utility departments.

C. The numbers prefixed to account titles are to be considered as parts of the titles. Each utility, however, may adopt for its own purposes a different system of account numbers (see also general instruction 2D) provided that the numbers herein prescribed shall appear in the descriptive headings of the ledger accounts and in the various sources of original entry; however, if a utility uses a different group of account numbers and it is not practicable to show the prescribed account numbers in the various sources of original entry, such reference to the prescribed account numbers may be omitted from the various sources of original entry. Moreover, each utility using different account numbers for its own purposes shall keep readily available a list of such account numbers which it uses and a reconciliation of such account numbers with the account numbers provided herein. It is intended that the utility's records shall be so kept as to permit ready analysis by prescribed accounts (by direct reference to sources of original entry to the extent practicable) and to permit preparation of financial and operating statements directly from such records at the end of each accounting period according to the prescribed accounts.

4. Accounting Period.

Each utility shall keep its books on a monthly basis so that for each month all transactions applicable thereto, as nearly as may be ascertained, shall be entered in the books of the utility. Amounts applicable or assignable to specific utility departments shall be so segregated monthly. Each utility shall close its books at the end of each calendar year unless otherwise authorized by the Commission.

5. Submittal of Questions.

To maintain uniformity of accounting, utilities shall submit questions of doubtful interpretation to the Commission for consideration and decision.

6. Item Lists.

Lists of "items" appearing in the texts of the accounts or elsewhere herein are for the purpose of more clearly indicating the application of the prescribed accounting. The lists are intended to be representative, but not exhaustive. The appearance of an item in a list warrants the inclusion of the item in the account mentioned only when the text of the account also indicates inclusion inasmuch as the same item frequently appears in more than one list. The proper entry in each instance must be determined by the texts of the accounts.

7. Delayed Items.

Items relating to transactions which occurred prior to the current calendar year but which were not recorded in the books of account shall be included in the same accounts which would have been charged or credited if the items had not been delayed; provided, that when the amount of a delayed item is relatively so large that its inclusion in the accounts for a single month would seriously distort the accounts, it may be distributed in equal amounts to the accounts for the current and remaining months of the calendar year; and provided further, that, if the amount of any delayed item is relatively so large that its inclusion in the accounts for a single year would seriously distort the accounts, the amount shall be included in account 434, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus, or account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, unless the Commission shall prescribe otherwise in specific instances.

8. Unaudited Items.

Whenever a financial statement is required by the Commission, if it is known that a transaction has occurred which affects the accounts but the amount involved in the transaction and its effect upon the accounts cannot be determined with absolute accuracy, the amount shall be estimated and such estimated amount included in the proper accounts. The utility is not required to anticipate minor items which would not appreciably affect the accounts.

9. Distribution of Pay and Expenses of Employees.

The charges to electric plant, operating expense and other accounts for services and expenses of employees engaged in activities chargeable to various accounts, such as construction, maintenance, and operations, shall be based upon the actual time engaged in the respective classes of work, or in case that method is impracticable, upon the basis of a study of the time actually engaged during a representative period.

10. Payroll Distribution.

Underlying accounting data shall be maintained so that the distribution of the cost of labor charged direct to the various accounts will be readily available. Such underlying data shall permit a reasonably accurate distribution to be made of the cost of labor charged initially to clearing accounts so that the total labor cost may be classified among construction, cost of removal, electric operating functions (steam generation, nuclear generation, hydraulic generation, transmission, distribution, etc.) and nonutility operations.

11. Operating Reserves.

Accretions to operating reserve accounts made by charges to operating expenses shall not exceed a reasonable provision for the expense. Material balances in such reserve accounts shall not be diverted from the purpose for which provided unless the permission of the Commission is first obtained.

12. Records for Each Plant.

Separate records shall be maintained by electric plant accounts of the book cost of each plant owned, including additions by the utility to plant leased from others, and of the cost of operating and maintaining each plant owned or operated. The term "plant" as here used means each generating station and each transmission line or appropriate group of transmission lines.

13. Accounting for Other Departments.

If the utility also operates other utility departments, such as gas, water, etc., it shall keep such accounts for the other departments as may be prescribed by proper authority and in the absence of prescribed accounts, it shall keep such accounts as are proper or necessary to reflect the results of operating each such department. It is not intended that proprietary and similar accounts which apply to the utility as a whole shall be departmentalized.

14. Transactions With Associated Companies.

Each utility shall keep its accounts and records so as to be able to furnish accurately and expeditiously statements of all transactions with associated companies. The statements may be required to show the general nature of the transactions, the amounts involved therein and the amounts included in each account prescribed herein with respect to such transactions. Transactions with associated companies shall be recorded in the appropriate accounts for transactions of the same nature. Nothing herein contained, however, shall be construed as restraining the utility from subdividing accounts for the purpose of recording separately transactions with associated companies.

15. Contingent Assets and Liabilities.

Contingent assets represent a possible source of value to the utility contingent upon the fulfillment of conditions regarded as uncertain. Contingent liabilities include items which may under certain conditions become obligations of the utility but which are neither direct nor assumed liabilities at the date of the balance sheet. The utility shall be prepared to give a complete statement of significant contingent assets and liabilities (including cumulative dividends on preference stock) in its annual report and at such other times as may be requested by the Commission.

16. Separate Accounts or Records for Each Licensed Project.

The accounts or records of each licensee shall be so kept as to show for each project under license:

(a) the actual legitimate original cost of the project, including the original cost (or fair value as determined under section 23 of the Federal Power Act) of the original project, the original cost of additions thereto and betterments thereof, credits for property retired from service, and credits for related contributions in aid of construction, as determined under the Commission's regulations;

(b) the charges for operation and maintenance of the project property directly assignable to the project;

(c) the credits and debits to the depreciation reserve account, and the balance in such account;

(d) the credits and debits to operating revenue, income, and surplus accounts that can be identified with and directly assigned to the project.

NOTE: The purpose of this instruction is to insure that accounts or records are currently maintained by each licensee from which reports may be made to the Commission for use in determining the net investment in each licensed project. The instruction covers only the debit and credit items appearing in the licensee's accounts which may be identified with and assigned directly to any licensed project. In the determination of the net investment as defined in section 3 of the Federal Power Act, allocations of items affecting the net investment may be required where direct assignment is not practicable.

Electric Plant Instructions

1. Classification of Electric Plant at Effective Date of System of Accounts.

A. The electric plant accounts provided herein are the same as those contained in the prior system of accounts except for inclusion of accounts for nuclear production plant and some changes in classification in the general equipment accounts. Except for these changes, the balances in the various plant accounts, as determined under the prior system of accounts, should be carried forward. Any remaining balance of plant which has not yet been classified, pursuant to the requirements of the prior system, shall be classified in accordance with the following instructions.

B. The cost to the utility of its unclassified plant shall be ascertained by analysis of the utility's records. Adjustments shall not be made to record in utility plant accounts amounts previously charged to operating expenses or to income deductions in accordance with the uniform system of accounts in effect at the time or in accordance with the discretion of management as exercised under a uniform system of accounts, or under accounting practices previously followed.

C. The detailed electric plant accounts (301 to 399, inclusive) shall be stated on the basis of cost to the utility of plant constructed by it and the original cost, estimated if not known, of plant acquired as an operating unit or system. The difference between the original cost, as above, and the cost to the utility of electric plant after giving effect to any accumulated provision for depreciation or amortization and contributions in aid of construction applicable to the property acquired if recorded by the accounting utility at the time of acquisition, shall be recorded in account 114, Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustments. The original cost of electric plant shall be determined by analysis of the utility's records or those of predecessor or vendor companies with respect to electric plant previously acquired as operating units or systems and the difference between the original cost so determined, less accumulated provisions for depreciation and amortization and contributions in aid of construction if recorded by the accounting utility, and the cost to the utility, with necessary adjustments for retirements from date of acquisition, shall be entered in account 114, Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustments. Any difference between the cost of electric plant and its book cost, when not properly includible in other accounts, shall be recorded in account 116, Other Electric Plant Adjustments.

2. Electric Plant To Be Recorded at Cost.

A. All amounts included in the accounts for electric plant acquired as an operating unit or system, except as otherwise provided in the texts of the intangible plant accounts, shall be stated at the cost incurred by the person who first devoted the property to utility service. All other electric plant shall be included in the accounts at the cost incurred by the utility. Where the term "cost" is used in the detailed plant accounts, it shall have the meaning stated in this paragraph.

B. When the consideration given for property is other than cash, the value of such consideration shall be determined on a cash basis (see, however, definition 8). In the entry recording such transition, the actual consideration shall be described with sufficient particularity to identify it. The utility shall be prepared to furnish the Commission the particulars of its determination of the cash value of the consideration if other than cash.

C. When property is purchased under a plan involving deferred payments, no charge shall be made to the electric plant accounts for interest, insurance, or other expenditures occasioned solely by such form of payment.

D. Electric plant contributed to the utility or constructed by it from contributions to it of cash or its equivalent shall be charged to the electric plant accounts at cost of construction; estimated if not known. There shall be credited to the accounts for accumulated depreciation and amortization the estimated amount of depreciation and amortization applicable to the property at the time of its contribution to the utility. The difference between the amounts included in the electric plant accounts and the accumulated depreciation and amortization shall be credited to account 271, Contributions in Aid of Construction.

3. Components of Construction Cost.

The cost of construction properly includible in the electric plant accounts shall include, where applicable, the direct and overhead costs as listed and defined hereunder:

(1) "Contract work" includes amounts paid for work performed under contract by other companies, firms, or individuals, costs incident to the award of such contracts, and the inspection of such work.

(2) "Labor" includes the pay and expenses of employees of the utility engaged on construction work, and related workmen's compensation insurance, pay-their assistants applicable to construction work.

(12) "General administration capitalized" includes the portion of the pay and expenses of the general officers and administrative and general expenses applicable to construction work.

(13) "Engineering services" includes amounts paid to other companies, firms, or individuals engaged by the utility to plan, design, prepare estimates, supervise, inspect, or give general advice and assistance in connection with construction work.

(14) "Insurance" includes premiums paid or amounts provided or reserved as self-insurance for the protection against loss and damages in connection with construction, by fire or other casualty, injuries to or death of persons other than employees, damages to property of others, defalcation of employees and agents, and the nonperformance of contractual obligations of others. It does not include workmen's compensation or similar insurance on employees included as "labor" in item 2, above.

(15) "Law expenditures" includes the general law expenditures incurred in connection with construction and the court and legal costs directly related thereto, other than law expenses included in protection, item 7, and in injuries and damages, item 8.

(16) "Taxes" includes taxes on physical property (including land) during the period of construction and other taxes properly includible in construction costs before the facilities become available for service.

(17) "Interest during construction" includes the net cost for the period of construction of borrowed funds used for construction purposes and a reasonable rate on other funds when so used. No interest charges shall be included in these accounts upon expenditures for construction projects which have been abandoned.

NOTE: When a part only of a plant or project is placed in operation or is completed and ready for service but the construction work as a whole is incomplete, that part of the cost of the property placed in operation, or ready for service, shall be treated as "Electric Plant in Service" and interest thereon as a charge to construction shall cease. Interest on that part of the cost of the plant which is incomplete may be continued as a charge to construction until such time as it is placed in operation or is ready for service, except as limited in item 17, above.

(18) "Earnings and expenses during construction." The earnings and expenses during construction shall constitute a component of construction costs.

(a) The earnings shall include revenues received or earned for power produced by generating plants during the construction period and sold or used by the utility. Where such power is sold to an independent purchaser before intermingling with power generated by other plants, the credit shall consist of the selling price of the energy. Where the power generated by a plant under construction is delivered to the utility's electric system for distribution and sale, or is delivered to and used by the utility for purposes other than distribution and sale (for manufacturing or industrial use, for example), the credit shall be the fair value of the energy so delivered. The revenues shall also include rentals for lands, buildings, etc., and miscellaneous receipts not properly includible in other accounts.

(b) The expenses shall consist of the cost of operating the power plant, and other costs incident to the production and delivery of the power for which construction is credited under paragraph (a), above, including the cost of repairs and other expenses of operating and maintaining lands, buildings, and other property, and other miscellaneous and like expenses not properly includible in other accounts.

4. Overhead Construction Costs.

A. All overhead construction costs, such as engineering, supervision, general office salaries and expenses, construction engineering and supervision by others than the accounting utility, law expenses, insurance, injuries and damages, relief and pensions, taxes and interest, shall be charged to particular jobs or units on the basis of the amounts of such overheads reasonably applicable thereto, to the end that each job or unit shall bear its equitable proportion of such costs and that the entire cost of the unit, both direct and overhead, shall be deducted from the plant accounts at the time the property is retired.

B. As far as practicable, the determination of pay roll charges includible in construction overheads shall be based on time card distributions thereof. Where this procedure is impractical, special studies shall be made periodically of the time of supervisory employees devoted to construction activities to the end that only such overhead costs as have a definite relation to construction shall be capitalized. The addition to direct construction costs of arbitrary percentages or amounts to cover assumed overhead costs is not permitted.

C. The records supporting the entries for overhead construction costs shall be so kept as to show the total amount of each overhead for each year, the nature and amount of each overhead expenditure charged to each construction work order and to each electric plant account, and the bases of distribution of such costs.

5. Electric Plant Purchased or Sold.

A. When electric plant constituting an operating unit or system is acquired by purchase, merger, consolidation, liquidation, or otherwise, after the effective date of this system of accounts, the costs of acquisition, including expenses incidental thereto properly includible in electric plant, shall be charged to account 102, Electric Plant Purchased or Sold.

B. The accounting for the acquisition shall then be completed as follows:

(1) The original cost of plant, estimated if not known, shall be credited to account 102, Electric Plant Purchased or Sold, and concurrently charged to the appropriate electric plant in service accounts and to account 104, Electric Plant Leased to Others, account 105, Electric Plant Held for Future Use, and account 107, Construction Work in Progress—Electric, as appropriate.

(2) The depreciation and amortization applicable to the original cost of the properties purchased shall be charged to account 102, Electric Plant Purchased or Sold, and concurrently credited to appropriate account for accumulated provision for depreciation or amortization.

(3) The cost to the utility of any property included in account 121, Nonutility Property, shall be transferred thereto.

(4) The amount of contributions in aid of construction applicable to the property acquired, shall be charged to account 102, Electric Plant Purchased or Sold, and concurrently credited to account 271, Contributions in Aid of Construction, unless otherwise authorized by the Commission.

(5) The amount remaining in account 102, Electric Plant Purchased or Sold, shall then be closed to account 114, Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustments.

C. If property acquired in the purchase of an operating unit or system is in such physical condition when acquired that it is necessary substantially to rehabilitate it in order to bring the property up to the standards of the utility, the cost of such work, except replacements, shall be accounted for as a part of the purchase price of the property.

D. When any property acquired as an operating unit or system includes duplicate or other plant which will be retired by the accounting utility in the reconstruction of the acquired property or its consolidation with previously owned property, the proposed accounting for such property shall be presented to the Commission.

E. In connection with the acquisition of electric plant constituting an operating unit or system, the utility shall procure, if possible, all existing records relating to the property acquired, or certified copies thereof, and shall preserve such records in conformity with regulations or practices governing the preservation of records of its own construction.

F. When electric plant constituting an operating unit or system is sold, conveyed, or transferred to another by sale, merger, consolidation, or otherwise, the book cost of the property sold or transferred to another shall be credited to appropriate utility plant accounts, including amounts carried in account 114, Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustments, and the amounts (estimated if not known) carried with respect thereto in the accounts for accumulated provision for depreciation and amortization and in account 252, Customer Advances for Construction, and account 271, Contributions in Aid of Construction, shall be charged to such accounts and the contra entries made to account 102, Electric Plant Purchased or Sold. Unless otherwise ordered by the Commission, the difference, if any, between (a) the net amount of debits and credits and (b) the consideration received for the property (less commissions and other expenses of making the sale) shall be included in account 434, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus, or account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, as appropriate, unless a reserve therefor has been authorized and provided. Appropriate adjustments of the accounts shall be made with respect to any structures or improvements located on land sold.

F. The cost of buildings and other improvements (other than public improvements) shall not be included in the land account. If at the time of acquisition of an interest in land such interest extends to buildings or other improvements (other than public improvements), which are then devoted to utility operations, the land and improvements shall be separately appraised and the cost allo-

Debits to Surplus. (See account 102, Electric Plant Purchased or Sold.)

NOTE: In case where existing utilities merge or consolidate because of financial or operating reasons or statutory requirements rather than as a means of transferring title of purchased properties to a new owner, the accounts of the constituent utilities, with the approval of the Commission, may be combined. In the event original cost has not been determined, the resulting utility shall proceed to determine such cost as outlined herein.

6. Expenditures on Leased Property.

A. The cost of substantial initial improvements (including repairs, rearrangements, additions, and betterments) made in the course of preparing for utility service property leased for a period of more than one year, and the cost of subsequent substantial additions, replacements, or betterments to such property, shall be charged to the electric plant account appropriate for the class of property leased. If the service life of the improvements is terminable by action of the lessee, the cost, less net salvage, of the improvements shall be spread over the life of the lease by charges to account 404, Amortization of Limited-Term Electric Plant. However, if the service life is not terminated by action of the lessee but by depreciation proper, the cost of the improvements, less net salvage, shall be accounted for as depreciable plant.

B. If improvements made to property leased for a period of more than one year are of relatively minor cost, or if the lease is for a period of not more than one year, the cost of the improvements shall be charged to the electric plant account appropriate for the class of property leased. If the service life of the improvements is terminable by action of the lessee, the cost, less net salvage, of the improvements shall be spread over the life of the lease by charges to account 404, Amortization of Limited-Term Electric Plant. However, if the service life is not terminated by action of the lessee but by depreciation proper, the cost of the improvements, less net salvage, shall be accounted for as depreciable plant.

C. If improvements made to property leased for a period of not more than one year, or if the lessee is for a period of not more than one year, the cost of the improvements shall be charged to the electric plant account appropriate for the class of property leased. If the service life of the improvements is terminable by action of the lessee, the cost, less net salvage, of the improvements shall be spread over the life of the lease by charges to account 404, Amortization of Limited-Term Electric Plant. However, if the service life is not terminated by action of the lessee but by depreciation proper, the cost of the improvements, less net salvage, shall be accounted for as depreciable plant.

D. If improvements made to property leased for a period of more than one year, and the cost of subsequent substantial additions, replacements, or betterments to such property, shall be charged to the electric plant account appropriate for the class of property leased. If the service life of the improvements is terminable by action of the lessee, the cost, less net salvage, of the improvements shall be spread over the life of the lease by charges to account 404, Amortization of Limited-Term Electric Plant. However, if the service life is not terminated by action of the lessee but by depreciation proper, the cost of the improvements, less net salvage, shall be accounted for as depreciable plant.

E. Any difference between the amount received from the sale of land or land rights, less agents' commissions and other costs incident to the sale, and the book cost of such land or rights, shall be included in account 434, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus, or account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, as appropriate, unless a reserve therefor has been authorized and provided. Appropriate adjustments of the accounts shall be made with respect to any structures or improvements located on land sold.

F. The cost of buildings and other improvements (other than public improvements) shall not be included in the land account. If at the time of acquisition of an interest in land such interest extends to buildings or other improvements (other than public improvements), which are then devoted to utility operations, the land and improvements shall be separately appraised and the cost allocated to land and buildings or improvements on the basis of the appraisals. If the improvements are removed or wrecked without being used in operations, the cost of removing or wrecking shall be charged and the salvage credited to the account in which the cost of the land is recorded.

G. When the purchase of land for electric operations requires the purchase of more land than needed for such purposes, the charge to the specific land account shall be based upon the cost of the land purchased, less the fair market value of that portion of the land which is not to be used in utility operations. The portion of the cost measured by the fair market value of the land not to be used shall be included in account 105, Electric Plant Held for Future Use, or account 121, Nonutility Property, as appropriate.

H. Provisions shall be made for amortizing amounts carried in the accounts for limited-term interests in land so as to apportion equitably the cost of each interest over the life thereof. (See account 111, Accumulated Provision for Amortization of Electric Plant in Service, and account 404, Amortization of Limited-Term Electric Plant.)

I. The items of cost to be included in the accounts for land and land rights are as follows:

1. Bulkheads, buried, not requiring maintenance or replacement.
2. Cost, first, of acquisition including mortgages and other liens assumed (but not subsequent interest thereon).
3. Clearing (first cost) the land of brush, trees, and debris, except in the case of account 332, Reservoirs, Dams and Waterways, and account 351 (Transmission Plant), Clearing Land and Rights of Way.
4. Condemnation proceedings, including court and counsel costs.
5. Consents and abutting damages, payment for.
6. Conveyancers' and notaries' fees.
7. Fees, commissions, and salaries to brokers, agents and others in connection with the acquisition of the land or land rights.
8. Grading the land, except when directly occasioned by the building of a structure.
9. Leases, cost of voiding upon purchase to secure possession of land.
10. Removing, relocating, or reconstructing, property of others, such as buildings, highways, railroads, bridges, cemeteries, churches, telephone and power lines, etc., in order to acquire quiet possession.
11. Retaining walls unless identified with structures.
12. Special assessments levied by public authorities for public improvements on the basis of benefits for new roads, new bridges, new sewers, new curbing, new pavements, and other public improvements, but not taxes levied to provide for the maintenance of such improvements.
13. Surveys in connection with the acquisition, but not amounts paid for topographical surveys and maps where such costs are attributable to structures or plant equipment erected or to be erected or installed on such land.
14. Taxes assumed, accrued to date of transfer of title.
15. Title, examining, clearing, insuring, and registering in connection with the acquisition and defending against claims relating to the period prior to the acquisition.
16. Appraisals prior to closing title.
17. Cost of dealing with distributees or legatees residing outside of the state or county, such as recording power of attorney, recording will or exemplification of will, recording satisfaction of state tax.
18. Filing satisfaction of mortgage.
19. Documentary stamps.
20. Photographs of property at acquisition.
21. Fees and expenses incurred in the acquisition of water rights and grants.
22. Cost of fill to extend bulkhead line over land under water, where riparian rights are held, which is not occasioned by the erection of a structure.
23. Sidewalks and curbs constructed by the utility on public property.
24. Labor and expenses in connection with securing rights of way, where performed by company employees and company agents.

8. Structures and Improvements.

A. The accounts for structures and improvements shall include the cost of all buildings and facilities to house, support, or safeguard property or persons, including all fixtures permanently attached to and made a part of buildings and which cannot be removed therefrom without cutting into the walls, ceilings, or floors, or without in some way impairing the buildings, and improvements of a permanent character on or to land.

B. The cost of specially provided foundations not intended to outlast the machinery or apparatus for which provided, and the cost of angle irons, castings, etc., installed at the base of an item of equipment, shall be charged to the same account as the cost of the machinery, apparatus, or equipment.

C. Minor buildings and structures, such as valve towers, patrolmen's towers, telephone stations, etc., which are used directly in connection with or form a part of a reservoir, dam, waterway, etc., shall be considered a part of the facility in connection with which constructed or operated and the cost thereof accounted for accordingly.

D. Where furnaces and boilers are used primarily for furnishing steam for some particular department and only incidentally for furnishing steam for heating a building and operating the equipment therein, the entire cost of such furnaces and boilers shall be charged to the appropriate plant account, and no part to the building account.

E. Where the structure of a dam forms also the foundation of the power plant building, such foundation shall be considered a part of the dam.

F. The cost of disposing of materials excavated in connection with construction of structures shall be considered as a part of the cost of such work, except as follows: (a) When such material is used for filling, the cost of loading, hauling, and dumping shall be equitably apportioned between the work in connection with which the removal occurs and the work in connection with which the material is used; (b) When such material is sold, the net amount realized from such sales shall be credited to the work in connection with which the removal occurs. If the amount realized from the sale of excavated materials exceeds the removal costs and the costs in connection with the sale, the excess shall be credited to the land account in which the site is carried.

G. Lighting or other fixtures temporarily attached to buildings for purposes of display or demonstration shall not be included in the cost of the building but in the appropriate equipment account.

H. The items of cost to be included in the accounts for structures and improvements are as follows:

1. Architects' plans and specifications including supervision.
2. Ash pits (when located within the building).
3. Athletic field structures and improvements.
4. Boilers, furnaces, piping, wiring, fixtures, and machinery for heating, lighting, signaling, ventilating, and air conditioning systems, plumbing, vacuum cleaning systems, incinerator and smoke pipe, flues, etc.
5. Bulkheads, including dredging, riprap fill, piling, decking, concrete, fenders, etc., when exposed and subject to maintenance and replacement.
6. Chimneys.
7. Coal bins and bunkers.
8. Commissions and fees to brokers, agents, architects and others.
9. Conduit (not to be removed) with its contents.
10. Damages to abutting property during construction.
11. Docks.
12. Door checks and door stops.
13. Drainage and sewerage systems.
14. Elevators, cranes, hoists, etc., and the machinery for operating them.
15. Excavation, including shoring, bracing, bridging, refill and disposal of excess excavated material, cofferdams around foundation, pumping water from cofferdams during construction, and test borings.
16. Fences and fence curbs (not including protective fences isolating items of equipment, which shall be charged to the appropriate equipment account).
17. Fire protection systems when forming a part of a structure.
18. Flagpole.
19. Floor covering (permanently attached).
20. Foundations and piers for machinery, constructed as a permanent part of a building or other item listed herein.
21. Grading and clearing when directly occasioned by the building of a structure.
22. Intrasite communication system, poles, pole fixtures, wires and cables.
23. Landscaping, lawns, shrubbery, etc.
24. Leases, voiding upon purchase to secure possession of structures.
25. Leased property, expenditures on.
26. Lighting fixtures and outside lighting system.
27. Mailchutes when part of a building.
28. Marquee, permanently attached to building.
29. Painting, first cost.
30. Permanent paving, concrete, brick, flagstone, asphalt, etc., within the property lines.
31. Partitions, including movable.
32. Permits and privileges.
33. Platforms, railings and gratings when constructed as a part of a structure.
34. Power boards for services to a building.
35. Refrigerating systems for general use.
36. Retaining walls except when identified with land.
37. Roadways, railroads, bridges, and trestles intrasite except railroads provided for in equipment accounts.
38. Roofs.
39. Scales, connected to and forming a part of a structure.
40. Screens.
41. Sewer systems, for general use.
42. Sidewalks, culverts, curbs and streets constructed by the utility on its property.
43. Sprinkling systems.
44. Sump pumps and pits.
45. Stacks—brick, steel, or concrete, when set on foundation forming part of general foundation and steelwork of a building.
46. Steel inspection during construction.

47. Storage facilities constituting a part of a building.
48. Storm doors and windows.
49. Subways, areaways, and tunnels, directly connected to and forming part of a structure.
50. Tanks, constructed as part of a building or as a distinct structural unit.
51. Temporary heating during construction (net cost).
52. Temporary water connection during construction (net cost).
53. Temporary shanties and other facilities used during construction (net cost).
54. Topographical maps.
55. Tunnels, intake and discharge, when constructed as part of a structure, including sluice gates, and those constructed to house mains.
56. Vaults constructed as part of a building.
57. Watchmen's sheds and clock systems (net cost when used during construction only).
58. Water basins or reservoirs.
59. Water front improvements.
60. Water meters and supply system for a building or for general company purposes.
61. Water supply piping, hydrants and wells.
62. Wharves.
63. Window shades and ventilators.
64. Yard drainage system.
65. Yard lighting system.
66. Yard surfacing, gravel, concrete, or oil. (First cost only.)

NOTE: Structures and Improvements accounts shall be credited with the cost of coal bunkers, stacks, foundations, subways, tunnels, etc., the use of which has terminated with the removal of the equipment with which they are associated even though they have not been physically removed.

9. Equipment.

A. The cost of equipment chargeable to the electric plant accounts, unless otherwise indicated in the text of an equipment account, includes the net purchase price thereof, sales taxes, investigation and inspection expenses necessary to such purchase, expenses of transportation when borne by the utility, labor employed, materials and supplies consumed, and expenses incurred by the utility in unloading and placing the equipment in readiness to operate.

B. Exclude from equipment accounts hand and other portable tools, which are likely to be lost or stolen or which have relatively small value (for example, $50 or less) or short life, unless the correctness of the accounting therefor as electric plant is verified by current inventories. Special tools acquired and included in the purchase price of equipment shall be included in the appropriate plant account. Portable drills and similar tool equipment when used in connection with the operation and maintenance of a particular plant or department, such as production, transmission, distribution, etc., or in "stores," shall be charged to the plant account appropriate for their use.

C. The equipment accounts shall include angle irons and similar items which are installed at the base of an item of equipment, but piers and foundations which are designed to be as permanent as the buildings which house the equipment, or which are constructed as a part of the building and which cannot be removed without cutting into the walls, ceilings or floors or without in some way impairing the building, shall be included in the building accounts.

D. The equipment accounts shall include the necessary costs of testing or running a plant or part thereof during an experimental or test period prior to becoming available for service. The utility shall furnish the Commission with full particulars of and justification for any test or experimental run extending beyond a period of thirty days.

E. The cost of efficiency or other tests made subsequent to the date equipment becomes available for service shall be charged to the appropriate expense accounts, except that tests to determine whether equipment meets the specifications and requirements as to efficiency, performance, etc., guaranteed by manufacturers, made after operations have commenced and within the period specified in the agreement or contract of purchase, may be charged to the appropriate electric plant account.

10. Additions and Retirements of Electric Plant.

A. For the purpose of avoiding undue refinement in accounting for additions to and retirements and replacements of electric plant, all property shall be considered as consisting of (1) retirement units and (2) minor items of property. Each utility shall use such list of retirement units as is in use by it at the effective date hereof or as may be prescribed by the Commission, with the option, however, of using smaller units, provided the utility's practice in this respect is consistent.

B. The addition and retirement of retirement units shall be accounted for as follows:

(1) When a retirement unit is added to electric plant, the cost thereof shall be added to the appropriate electric plant account, except that when units are acquired in the acquisition of any electric plant constituting an operating system, they shall be accounted for as provided in electric plant instruction 5.

(2) When a retirement unit is retired from electric plant, with or without replacement, the book cost thereof shall be credited to the electric plant account in which it is included, determined in the manner set forth in paragraph D, below. If the retirement unit is of a depreciable class, the book cost of the unit retired and credited to electric plant shall be charged to the accumulated provision for depreciation applicable to such property. The cost of removal and the salvage shall be charged or credited, as appropriate, to such depreciation account.

C. The addition and retirement of minor items of property shall be accounted for as follows:

(1) When a minor item of property which did not previously exist is added to plant, the cost thereof shall be accounted for in the same manner as for the addition of a retirement unit, as set forth in paragraph B(1), above, if a substantial addition results, otherwise the charge shall be to the appropriate maintenance expense account.

D. The book cost of electric plant retired shall be the amount at which such property is included in the electric plant accounts, including all components of construction costs. The book cost shall be determined from the utility's records and if this cannot be done, it shall be estimated. When it is impracticable to determine the book cost of each unit, due to the relatively large number or small cost thereof, an appropriate average book cost of the units, with due allowance for any differences in size and character, shall be used as the book cost of the units retired.

E. The book cost of land retired shall be credited to the appropriate land account. If the land is sold, the difference between the book cost (less any accumulated provision for depreciation or amortization therefor which has been authorized and provided) and the sale price of the land (less commissions and other expenses of making the sale) shall be included in account 434, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus or account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, as appropriate. If the land is not used in utility service but is retained by the utility, the book cost shall be charged to account 105, Electric Plant Held for Future Use, or account 121, Nonutility Property, as appropriate.

F. The book cost less net salvage of depreciable electric plant retired shall be charged in its entirety to account 108, Accumulated Provision for Depreciation of Electric Plant in Service. Any amounts which, by approval or order of the Commission, are charged to account 182, Extraordinary Property Losses, shall be credited to account 108.

G. The accounting for the retirement of amounts included in account 302, Franchises and Consents, and account 303, Miscellaneous Intangible Plant, and the items of limited-term interest in land included in the accounts for land and land rights, shall be as provided for in the text of account 111, Accumulated Provision for Amortization of Electric Plant in Service, account 404, Amortization of Limited-Term Electric Plant, and account 405, Amortization of Other Electric Plant.

11. Work Order and Property Record System Required.

A. Each utility shall record all construction and retirements of electric plant by means of work orders or job orders. Separate work orders may be opened for additions to and retirements of electric plant or the retirements may be included with the construction work order, provided, however, that all items relating to the retirements shall be kept separate from those relating to construction and provided, further, that any maintenance costs involved in the work shall likewise be segregated.

B. Each utility shall keep its work order system so as to show the nature of each addition to or retirement of electric plant, the total cost thereof, the source or sources of costs, and the electric plant account or accounts to which charged or credited. Work orders covering jobs of short duration may be cleared monthly.

C. Each utility shall maintain records in which, for each plant account, the amounts of the annual additions and retirements, subsequent to the effective date of this system of accounts, are classified so as to show the number and cost of the various record units or retirement units.

12. Transfers of Property.

When property is transferred from one electric plant account to another, from one utility department to another, such as from electric to gas, from one operating division or area to another, to or from accounts 101, Electric Plant in Service, 104, Electric Plant Leased to Others, 105, Electric Plant Held for Future Use, and 121, Nonutility Property, the transfer shall be recorded by transferring the original cost thereof from the one account, department, or location to the other. Any related amounts carried in the accounts for accumulated provision for depreciation or amortization shall be transferred in accordance with the segregation of such accounts.

13. Common Utility Plant.

A. If the utility is engaged in more than one utility service, such as electric, gas, and water, and any of its utility plant is used in common for several utility services or for other purposes to such an extent and in such manner that it is impracticable to segregate it by utility services currently in the accounts, such property, with the approval of the Commission, may be designated and classified as "common utility plant."

B. The book amount of utility plant designated as common plant shall be included in account 118, Other Utility Plant, and if applicable in part to the electric department, shall be segregated and accounted for in subaccounts as electric plant is accounted for in accounts 101 to 107, inclusive, and electric plant adjustments in account 116; any amounts classifiable as common plant acquisition adjustments or common plant adjustments shall be subject to disposition as provided in paragraphs C and B of accounts 114 and 116, respectively, for amounts classified in those accounts. The original cost of common utility plant in service shall be classified according to detailed utility plant accounts appropriate for the property.

C. The utility shall be prepared to show at any time and to report to the Commission annually, or more frequently, if required, and by utility plant accounts (301 to 399) the following: (1) The book cost of common utility plant, (2) The allocation of such cost to the respective departments using the common utility plant, and (3) The basis of the allocation.

D. The accumulated provision for depreciation and amortization of the utility shall be segregated so as to show the amount applicable to the property classified as common utility plant.

E. The expenses of operation, maintenance, rents, depreciation and amortization of common utility plant shall be recorded in the accounts prescribed herein, but designated as common expenses, and the allocation of such expenses to the departments using the common utility plant shall be supported in such manner as to reflect readily the basis of allocation used.

14. Transmission and Distribution Plant.

For the purpose of this system of accounts:

A. "Transmission system" means:

(1) All land, conversion structures, and equipment employed at a primary source of supply (i.e., generating station, or point of receipt in the case of purchased power) to change the voltage or frequency of electricity for the purpose of its more efficient or convenient transmission;

(2) All land, structures, lines, switching and conversion stations, high tension apparatus, and their control and protective equipment between a generating or receiving point and the entrance to a distribution center or wholesale point; and

(3) All lines and equipment whose primary purpose is to augment, integrate or tie together the sources of power supply.

B. "Distribution system" means all land, structures, conversion equipment, lines, line transformers, and other facilities employed between the primary source of supply (i.e., generating station, or point of receipt in the case of purchased power) and of delivery to customers, which are not includible in transmission system, as defined in paragraph A, whether or not such land, structures, and facilities are operated as part of a transmission system or as part of a distribution system.

NOTE: Stations which change electricity from transmission to distribution voltage shall be classified as distribution stations.

C. Where poles or towers support both transmission and distribution conductors, the poles, towers, anchors, guys, and rights of way shall be classified as transmission system. The conductors, crossarms, braces, grounds, tiewire, insulators, etc., shall be classified as transmission or distribution facilities, according to the purpose for which used.

D. Where underground conduit contains both transmission and distribution conductors, the underground conduit and right of way shall be classified as distribution system. The conductors shall be classified as transmission or distribution facilities according to the purpose for which used.

E. Land (other than rights of way) and structures used jointly for transmission and distribution purposes shall be classified as transmission or distribution according to the major use thereof.

Operating Expense Instructions

1. Supervision and Engineering.

The supervision and engineering includible in the operating expense accounts shall consist of the pay and expenses of superintendents, engineers, clerks, other employees and consultants engaged in supervising and directing the operation and maintenance of each utility function. Wherever allocations are necessary in order to arrive at the amount to be included in any account, the method and basis of allocation shall be reflected by underlying records.

ITEMS

Labor

1. Special tests to determine efficiency of equipment operation.
2. Preparing or reviewing budgets, estimates, and drawings relating to operation or maintenance for departmental approval.
3. Preparing instructions for operations and maintenance activities.
4. Reviewing and analyzing operating results.
5. Establishing organizational setup of departments and executing changes therein.
6. Formulating and reviewing routines of departments and executing changes therein.
7. General training and instruction of employees by supervisors whose pay is chargeable hereto. Specific instruction and training in a particular type of work is chargeable to the appropriate functional account.
8. Secretarial work for supervisory personnel, but not general clerical and stenographic work chargeable to other accounts.

Expenses

9. Consultants' fees and expenses.
10. Meals, traveling and incidental expenses.

2. Maintenance.

A. The cost of maintenance chargeable to the various operating expense and clearing accounts includes labor, materials, overheads and other expenses incurred in maintenance work. A list of work operations applicable generally to utility plant is included hereunder. Other work operations applicable to specific classes of plant are listed in functional maintenance expense accounts.

B. Materials recovered in connection with the maintenance of property shall be credited to the same account to which the maintenance cost was charged.

C. If the book cost of any property is carried in account 102, Electric Plant Purchased or Sold, the cost of maintaining such property shall be charged to the accounts for maintenance of property of the same class and use, the book cost of which is carried in other electric plant in service accounts. Maintenance of property leased from others shall be treated as provided in operating expense instruction 3.

ITEMS

1. Direct field supervision of maintenance.
2. Inspecting, testing, and reporting on condition of plant specifically to determine the need for repairs, replacements, rearrangements and changes and inspecting and testing the adequacy of repairs which have been made.
3. Work performed specifically for the purpose of preventing failure, restoring serviceability or maintaining life of plant.
4. Rearranging and changing the location of plant not retired.
5. Repairing for reuse materials recovered from plant.
6. Testing for, locating and clearing trouble.
7. Net cost of installing, maintaining, and removing temporary facilities to prevent interruptions in service.
8. Replacing or adding minor items of plant which do not constitute a retirement unit. (See electric plant instruction 10.)

3. Rents.

A. The rent expense accounts provided under the several functional groups of expense accounts shall include all rents, including taxes paid by the lessee on leased property, for property used in utility operations, except (1) minor amounts paid for occasional or infrequent use of any property or equipment and all amounts paid for use of equipment that, if owned, would be includible in plant accounts 391 to 398, inclusive, which shall be treated as an expense item and included in the appropriate functional account and (2) rents which are chargeable to clearing accounts, and distributed therefrom to the appropriate account. If rents cover property used for more than one function, such as production and transmission, or by more than one department, the rents shall be apportioned to the appropriate rent expense or clearing accounts of each department on an actual, or, if necessary, an estimated basis.

B. When a portion of property or equipment rented from others for use in connection with utility operations is subleased, the revenue derived from such subleasing shall be credited to the rent revenue account in operating revenues; provided, however, that in case the rent was charged to a clearing account, amounts received from subleasing the property shall be credited to such clearing account.

C. The cost, when incurred by the lessee, of operating and maintaining leased property, shall be charged to the accounts appropriate for the expense if the property were owned.

D. The cost incurred by the lessee of additions and replacements to electric plant leased from others shall be accounted for as provided in electric plant instruction 6.

7. CURRENT AND ACCRUED LIABILITIES

231 Notes payable.
232 Accounts payable.

Payables to associated companies.

233 Notes payable to associated companies.
234 Accounts payable to associated companies.
235 Customer deposits.
236 Taxes accrued.
237 Interest accrued.

Other current and accrued liabilities.

238 Dividends declared.
239 Matured long-term debt.
240 Matured interest.
241 Tax collections payable.
242 Miscellaneous current and accrued liabilities.

8. DEFERRED CREDITS

251 Unamortized premium on debt.
252 Customer advances for construction.
253 Other deferred credits.

9. OPERATING RESERVES

261 Property insurance reserve.
262 Injuries and damages reserve.
263 Pensions and benefits reserve.
264 Amortization reserve—Federal.
265 Miscellaneous operating reserves.

10. CONTRIBUTIONS IN AID OF CONSTRUCTION

271 Contributions in aid of construction.

11. ACCUMULATED DEFERRED INCOME TAXES

281 Accumulated deferred income taxes—Accelerated amortization.
282 Accumulated deferred income taxes—Liberalized depreciation.
283 Accumulated deferred income taxes—Other.

Balance Sheet Accounts

1. Utility Plant

101 Electric plant in service.

A. This account shall include the original cost of electric plant, included in accounts 301 to 399, prescribed herein, owned and used by the utility in its electric utility operations, and having an expectation of life in service of more than one year from date of installation, including such property owned by the utility but held by nominees.

(See also account 106 for unclassified construction costs of completed plant actually in service.)

B. The cost of additions to and betterments of property leased from others, which are includible in this account, shall be recorded in subdivisions separate and distinct from those relating to owned property. (See electric plant instruction 6.)

102 Electric plant purchased or sold.

A. This account shall be charged with the cost of electric plant acquired as an operating unit or system by purchase, merger, consolidation liquidation, or otherwise, and shall be credited with the selling price of like property transferred to others pending the distribution to appropriate accounts in accordance with electric plant instruction 5.

B. Within six months from the date of acquisition or sale of property recorded herein, the utility shall file with the Commission the proposed journal entries to clear from this account the amounts recorded herein.

103 Electric plant in process of reclassification.

A. This account shall include temporarily the balance of electric plant as of the effective date of the prior system of accounts, which has not yet been reclassified as of the effective date of this system of accounts. The detailed or primary accounts in support of this account employed prior to such date shall be continued pending reclassification into the electric plant accounts herein prescribed (301–399), but shall not be used for additions, betterments, or new construction.

B. No charges other than as provided in paragraph A, above, shall be made to this account, but retirements of such unclassified electric plant shall be credited hereto and to the supporting (old) fixed capital accounts until the reclassification shall have been accomplished.

104 Electric plant leased to others.

A. This account shall include the original cost of electric plant owned by the utility, but leased to others as operating units or systems, where the lessee has exclusive possession.

B. The property included in this account shall be classified according to the detailed accounts (301 to 399) prescribed for electric plant in service and this account shall be maintained in such detail as though the property were used by the owner in its utility operations.

105 Electric plant held for future use.

A. This account shall include the original cost of electric plant owned and held for future use in electric service under a definite plan for such use. There shall be included herein property acquired but never used by the utility in electric service, but held for such service in the future under a definite plan, and property previously used by the utility in electric service, but retired from such service and held pending its reuse in the future, under a definite plan, in electric service.

B. The property included in this account shall be classified according to the detailed accounts (301 to 399) prescribed for electric plant in service and the account shall be maintained in such detail as though the property were in service.

NOTE: Materials and supplies, meters and transformers held in reserve, and normal spare capacity of plant in service shall not be included in this account.

106 Completed construction not classified—Electric.

At the end of the year or such other date as a balance sheet may be required by the Commission, this account shall include the total of the balances of work orders for electric plant which has been completed and placed in service but which work orders have not been classified for transfer to the detailed electric plant accounts.

NOTE: For the purpose of reporting to the Commission the classification of electric plant in service by accounts is required, the utility shall also report the balance in this account tentatively classified as accurately as practicable according to prescribed account classifications. The purpose of this provision is to avoid any significant omissions in reported amounts of electric plant in service.

107 Construction work in progress—Electric.

A. This account shall include the total of the balances of work orders for electric plant in process of construction.

B. Work orders shall be cleared from this account as soon as practicable after completion of the job. Further, if a project, such as a hydroelectric project, a steam station or a transmission line, is designed to consist of two or more units or circuits which may be placed in service at different dates, any expenditures which are common to and which will be used in the operation of the project as a whole shall be included in electric plant in service upon the completion and the readiness for service of the first unit. Any expenditures which are identified exclusively with units of property not yet in service shall be included in this account.

108 Accumulated provision for depreciation of electric plant in service.

A. This account shall be credited with the following:

(1) Amounts charged to account 403, Depreciation Expense, to account 416, Costs and Expenses of Merchandising, Jobbing, and Contract Work, or to clearing accounts for current depreciation expense.

(2) Amounts charged to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, for past accrued depreciation.

(3) Amounts of depreciation applicable to electric properties acquired as operating units or systems. (See electric plant instruction 5.)

(4) Amounts charged to account 182, Extraordinary Property Losses, when authorized by the Commission.

(5) Amounts of depreciation applicable to electric plant donated to the utility.

B. At the time of retirement of depreciable electric plant in service, this account shall be charged with the book cost of the property retired and the cost of removal, and shall be credited with the salvage value and any other amounts recovered, such as insurance. When retirement, costs of removal and salvage are entered originally in retirement work orders, the net total of such work orders may be included in a separate subaccount hereunder. Upon completion of the work order, the proper distribution to subdivisions of this account shall be made as provided in the following paragraph.

C. For general ledger and balance sheet purposes, this account shall be regarded and treated as a single composite provision for depreciation. For purposes of analysis, however, each utility shall maintain subsidiary records in which this account is segregated according to the following functional classification for electric plant: (1) Steam production, (2) Nuclear production, (3) Hydraulic production, (4) Other production, (5) Transmission, (6) Distribution, and (7) General. These subsidiary records shall reflect the current credits and debits to this account in sufficient detail to show separately for each such functional classification (a) the amount of accrual for depreciation, (b) the book cost of property retired, (c) cost of removal, (d) salvage, and (e) other items, including recoveries from insurance.

D. When transfers of plant are made from one electric plant account to another, or from or to another utility department, or from or to nonutility property accounts, the accounting for the related accumulated provision for depreciation shall be as provided in electric plant instruction 12.

E. The utility is restricted in its use of the accumulated provision for depreciation to the purposes set forth above. It shall not transfer any portion of this account to surplus or make any other use thereof without authorization by the Commission.

109 Accumulated provision for depreciation of electric plant leased to others.

A. This account shall be credited with amounts charged to account 413, Expenses of Electric Plant Leased to Others, for current depreciation expense or to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, for past accrued depreciation of property included in account 104, Electric Plant Leased to Others. Include, also, credits for depreciation applicable to plant acquired as operating units or systems, to plant donated to the utility or for losses transferred to account 182, Extraordinary Property Losses.

B. The requirements of account 108, Accumulated Provision for Depreciation of Electric Plant in Service, regarding retirements chargeable thereto and subsidiary data to be maintained shall be applicable likewise to this account.

C. The utility is restricted in its use of the accumulated provision for depreciation to the purposes set forth above. It shall not transfer any portion of this account to surplus or make any other use thereof without authorization by the Commission.

110 Accumulated provision for depreciation of electric plant held for future use.

A. This account shall be credited with amounts charged to account 421, Miscellaneous Nonoperating Income, for depreciation expense on property included in account 105, Electric Plant Held for Future Use. Include, also, the balance of accumulated provision for depreciation on property which may be transferred to account 105, Electric Plant Held for Future Use, from other property accounts.

B. The utility is restricted in its use of the accumulated provision for depreciation to the purposes set forth above. It shall not transfer any portion of this account to surplus or make any other use thereof without authorization by the Commission.

NOTE: Normally, this account will not be used for current depreciation provisions because, as provided herein, the service life during which depreciation is computed commences with the date property is includible in electric plant in service; however, if special circumstances indicate the propriety of current accruals for depreciation, such charges shall be made to account 421, Miscellaneous Nonoperating Income.

111 Accumulated provision for amortization of electric plant in service.

A. This account shall be credited with amounts charged to account 404, Amortization of Limited-Term Electric Plant, for the current amortization of limited-term electric investments, or to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, for past accrued amortization. It shall be credited also with amounts which may be charged to account 405, Amortization of Other Electric Plant, to account 425, Miscellaneous Amortization, or to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, to amortize intangible or other electric plant which does not have a definite or terminable life and is not subject to charges for depreciation expense.

B. When any property to which this account applies is sold, relinquished, or otherwise retired from service, this account shall be charged with the amount previously credited in respect to such property. The book cost of the property so retired less the amount chargeable to this account and less the net proceeds realized at retirement shall be included in account 434, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus, or account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, as appropriate.

C. Records shall be maintained so as to show separately the balance applicable to each class of property which is being amortized.

D. The utility is restricted in its use of the accumulated provision for amortization to the purposes set forth above. It shall not transfer any portion of this account to surplus or make any other use thereof without authorization by the Commission.

112 Accumulated provision for amortization of electric plant leased to others.

A. This account shall be credited with amounts charged to account 413, Expenses of Electric Plant Leased to Others, for the current amortization of limited-term or other investments subject to amortization included in account 104, Electric Plant Leased to Others, or to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, for past accrued amortization.

B. When any property to which this account applies is sold, relinquished, or otherwise retired from service, this account shall be charged with the amount previously credited in respect to such property. The book cost of the property so retired less the amount chargeable to this account and less the net proceeds realized at retirement shall be included in account 434, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus, or account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, as appropriate.

C. Records shall be maintained so as to show separately the balance applicable to each class of property which is being amortized.

D. The utility is restricted in its use of the accumulated provision for amortization to the purposes set forth above. It shall not transfer any portion of this account to surplus or make any other use thereof without authorization by the Commission.

113 Accumulated provision for amortization of electric plant held for future use.

A. This account shall be credited with amounts charged to account 421, Miscellaneous Non-operating Income for amortization expense on property included in account 105, Electric Plant Held for Future Use. Include also the balance of accumulated provision for amortization on property which may be transferred to account 105, Electric Plant Held for Future Use, from other property accounts.

NOTE: See also note to account 110, Accumulated Provision for Depreciation of Electric Plant Held for Future Use.

B. The utility is restricted in its use of the accumulated provision for amortization to the purposes set forth above. It shall not transfer any portion of this account to surplus or make any other use thereof without authorization by the Commission.

114 Electric plant acquisition adjustments.

A. This account shall include the difference between (a) the cost to the accounting utility of electric plant acquired as an operating unit or system by purchase, merger, consolidation, liquidation, or otherwise, and (b) the original cost, estimated, if not known, of such property, less the amount or amounts credited by the accounting utility at the time of acquisition to accumulated provisions for depreciation and amortization and contributions in aid of construction with respect to such property.

B. With respect to acquisitions after the effective date of this system of accounts, this account shall be subdivided so as to show the amounts included herein for each property acquisition and to electric plant in service, electric plant held for future use, and electric plant leased to others. (See electric plant instruction 5.)

C. The amounts recorded in this account with respect to each property acquisition shall be amortized, or otherwise disposed of, as the Commission may approve or direct.

115 Accumulated provision for amortization of electric plant acquisition adjustments.

This account shall be credited or debited with amounts which are includible in account 406, Amortization of Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustments, account 425, Miscellaneous Amortization, or account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, for the purpose of providing for the extinguishment of amounts in account 114, Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustments, in instances where the amortization of account 114 is not being made by direct write-off of the account.

116 Other electric plant adjustments.

A. This account shall include the difference between the original cost, estimated if not known, and the book cost of electric plant to the extent that such difference is not properly includible in account 114, Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustments.

B. Amounts included in this account shall be classified in such manner as to show the origin of each amount and shall be disposed of as the Commission may approve or direct.

NOTE: The provisions of this account shall not be construed as approving or authorizing the recording of appreciation of electric plant.

118 Other utility plant.

This account shall include the balances in accounts for utility plant, other than electric plant, such as gas, railway, etc.

119 Accumulated provision for depreciation and amortization of other utility plant.

This account shall include the accumulated provision for depreciation and amortization applicable to utility property other than electric plant.

2. Other Property and Investments

121 Nonutility property.

A. This account shall include the book cost of land, structures, equipment or other tangible or intangible property owned by the utility, but not used in utility service and not properly includible in account 105, Electric Plant Held for Future Use.

B. This account shall be subdivided so as to show the amount of property used in operations which are nonutility in character but nevertheless constitute a distinct operating activity of the company (such as operation of an ice department where such activity is not classed as a utility) and the amount of miscellaneous property not used in operations. The records in support of each subaccount shall be maintained so as to show an appropriate classification of the property.

122 Accumulated provision for depreciation and amortization of nonutility property.

This account shall include the accumulated provision for depreciation and amortization applicable to nonutility property.

123 Investment in associated companies.

A. This account shall include the book cost of investments in securities issued or assumed by associated companies and investment advances to such companies, including interest accrued thereon when such interest is not subject to current settlement. Include also the offsetting entry to the recording of amortization of discount or premium on interest bearing investments. (See account 419, Interest and Dividend Income.)

B. The account shall be maintained in such manner as to show the investment in securities of, and advances to, each associated company together with full particulars regarding any of such investments that are pledged.

NOTE A: Securities and advances of associated companies owned and pledged shall be included in this account, but such securities, if held in special deposits or in special funds, shall be included in the appropriate deposit or fund account. A complete record of securities pledged shall be maintained.

NOTE B: Securities of associated companies held as temporary cash investments are includible in account 136, Temporary Cash Investments.

NOTE C: Balances in open accounts with associated companies, which are subject to current settlement, are includible in account 146, Accounts Receivable from Associated Companies.

NOTE D: The utility may write down the cost of any security in recognition of a decline in the value thereof. Securities shall be written off or written down to a nominal value if there be no reasonable prospect of substantial value. Fluctuations in market value shall not be recorded but a permanent impairment in the value of securities shall be recognized in the accounts. When securities are written off or written down, the amount of the adjustment shall be charged to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or to an appropriate account for accumulated provisions for loss in value established as a separate subdivision of this account.

124 Other investments.

A. This account shall include the book cost of investments in securities issued or assumed by nonassociated companies, investment advances to such companies, and any investments not accounted for elsewhere. Include also the offsetting entry to the recording of amortization of discount or premium on interest bearing investments. (See account 419, Interest and Dividend Income.)

B. The cost of capital stock of the utility reacquired by it under a definite plan for resale pursuant to authorization by the Board of Directors may, if permitted by statutes, be included in a separate subdivision of this account. (See also account 210, Gain on Resale or Cancellation of Reacquired Capital Stock, and account 217, Reacquired Capital Stock.)

C. The records shall be maintained in such manner as to show the amount of each investment and the investment advances to each person.

NOTE A: Securities owned and pledged shall be included in this account, but securities held in special deposits or in special funds shall be included in appropriate deposit or fund accounts. A complete record of securities pledged shall be maintained.

NOTE B: Securities held as temporary cash investments shall not be included in this account.

NOTE C: See Note D of account 123.

125 Sinking funds.

This account shall include the amount of cash and book cost of investments held in sinking funds. A separate account, with appropriate title, shall be kept for each sinking fund. Transfers from this account to special deposit accounts, may be made as necessary for the purpose of paying matured sinking-fund obligations, or obligations called for redemption but not presented, or the interest thereon.

126 Depreciation fund.

This account shall include the amount of cash and the book cost of investments which have been segregated in a special fund for the purpose of identifying such assets with the accumulated provisions for depreciation.

127 Amortization fund—Federal.

This account shall include the amount of cash and book cost of investments of any fund maintained pursuant to the requirements of a federal regulatory body, and the cash and investments segregated for the purpose of identifying the specific assets associated with account 264, Amortization Reserve—Federal.

128 Other special funds.

This account shall include the amount of cash and book cost of investments which have been segregated in special funds for insurance, employee pensions, savings, relief, hospital, and other purposes not provided for elsewhere. A separate account, with appropriate title, shall be kept for each fund.

NOTE: Amounts deposited with a trustee under the terms of an irrevocable trust agreement for pensions or other employee benefits shall not be included in this account.

3. CURRENT AND ACCRUED ASSETS

Current and accrued assets are cash, those assets which are readily convertible into cash or are held for current use in operations or construction, current claims against others, payment of which is reasonably assured, and amounts accruing to the utility which are subject to current settlement, except such items for which accounts other than those designated as current and accrued assets are provided. There shall not be included in the group of accounts designated as current and accrued assets any item, the amount or collectibility of which is not reasonably assured, unless an adequate provision for possible loss has been made therefor. Items of current character but of doubtful value may be written down and for record purposes carried in these accounts at nominal value.

131 Cash.

This account shall include the amount of current cash funds except working funds.

132 Interest special deposits.

This account shall include special deposits with fiscal agents or others for the payment of interest.

133 Dividend special deposits.

This account shall include special deposits with fiscal agents or others for the payment of dividends.

134 Other special deposits.

This account shall include deposits with fiscal agents or others for special purposes other than the payment of interest and dividends. Such special deposits may include cash deposited with federal, state, or municipal authorities as a guaranty for the fulfillment of obligations; cash deposited with trustees to be held until mortgaged property sold, destroyed, or otherwise disposed of is replaced; cash realized from the sale of the accounting utility's securities and deposited with trustees to be held until invested in property of the utility, etc. Entries to this account shall specify the purpose for which the deposit is made.

NOTE: Assets available for general corporate purposes shall not be included in this account. Further, deposits for more than one year, which are not offset by current liabilities, shall not be charged to this account but to account 128, Other Special Funds.

135 Working funds.

This account shall include cash advanced to officers, agents, employees, and others as petty cash or working funds.

136 Temporary cash investments.

A. This account shall include the book cost of investments, such as demand and time loans, bankers' acceptances, United States Treasury certificates, marketable securities, and other similar investments, acquired for the purpose of temporarily investing cash.

B. This account shall be so maintained as to show separately temporary cash investments in securities of associated companies and of others. Records shall be kept of any pledged investments.

141 Notes receivable.

This account shall include the book cost, not includible elsewhere, of all collectible obligations in the form of notes receivable and similar evidences (except interest coupons) of money due on demand or within one year from the date of issue, except, however, notes receivable from associated companies. (See account 136, Temporary Cash Investments, and account 145, Notes Receivable from Associated Companies.)

NOTE: The face amount of notes receivable discounted, sold, or transferred without releasing the utility from liability as endorser thereon, shall be credited to a separate subdivision of this account and appropriate disclosure shall be made in financial statements of any contingent liability arising from such transactions.

142 Customer accounts receivable.

A. This account shall include amounts due from customers for utility service, and for merchandising, jobbing and contract work. This account shall not include amounts due from associated companies.

B. This account shall be maintained so as to permit ready segregation of the amounts due for merchandising, jobbing and contract work.

143 Other accounts receivable.

A. This account shall include amounts due the utility upon open accounts, other than amounts due from associated companies and from customers for utility services and merchandising, jobbing and contract work.

B. This account shall be maintained so as to show separately amounts due on subscriptions to capital stock and from officers and employees, but the account shall not include amounts advanced to officers or others as working funds. (See account 135, Working Funds.)

144 Accumulated provision for uncollectible accounts—Cr.

A. This account shall be credited with amounts provided for losses on accounts receivable which may become uncollectible, and also with collections on accounts previously charged hereto. Concurrent charges shall be made to account 904, Uncollectible Accounts, for amounts applicable to utility operations, and to corresponding accounts for other operations. Records shall be maintained so as to show the write-offs of account receivable for each utility department.

B. This account shall be subdivided to show the provision applicable to the following classes of accounts receivable:

Utility customers.
Merchandising, jobbing and contract work
Officers and employees.
Others.

NOTE A: Accretions to this account shall not be made in excess of a reasonable provision against losses of the character provided for.

NOTE B: If provisions for uncollectible notes receivable or for uncollectible receivables from associated companies are necessary, separate subaccounts therefor shall be established under the account in which the receivable is carried.

145 Notes receivable from associated companies.

146 Accounts receivable from associated companies.

These accounts shall include notes and drafts upon which associated companies are liable, and which mature and are expected to be paid in full not later than one year from the date of issue, together with any interest thereon, and debit balances subject to current settlement in open accounts with associated companies. Items which do not bear a specified due date but which have been carried for more than twelve months and items which are not paid within twelve months from due date shall be transferred to account 123, Investment in Associated Companies.

NOTE A: On the balance sheet, accounts receivable from an associated company may be set off against accounts payable to the same company.

NOTE B: The face amount of notes receivable discounted, sold or transferred without releasing the utility from liability as endorser thereon, shall be credited to a separate subdivision of this account and appropriate disclosure shall be made in financial statements of any contingent liability arising from such transactions.

151 Fuel stock.

This account shall include the book cost of fuel on hand.

Items

1. Invoice price of fuel less any cash or other discounts.
2. Freight, switching, demurrage and other transportation charges, not including, however, any charges for unloading from the shipping medium.
3. Excise taxes, purchasing agents' commissions, insurance and other expenses directly assignable to cost of fuel.

152 Fuel stock expenses undistributed.

A. This account may include the cost of labor and of supplies used and expenses incurred in unloading fuel from the shipping medium and in the handling thereof prior to its use, if such expenses are sufficiently significant in amount to warrant being treated as a part of the cost of fuel inventory rather than being charged direct to expense as incurred.

B. Amounts included herein shall be charged to expense as the fuel is used to the end that the balance herein shall not exceed the expenses attributable to the inventory of fuel on hand.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Procuring and handling of fuel.
2. All routine fuel analyses.
3. Unloading from shipping facility and putting in storage.
4. Moving of fuel in storage and transferring from one station to another.
5. Handling from storage or shipping facility to first bunker, hopper, bucket, tank or holder of boiler house structure.
6. Operation of mechanical equipment, such as locomotives, trucks, cars, boats, barges, cranes, etc.

Supplies and Expenses:
7. Tools, lubricants and other supplies.
8. Operating supplies for mechanical equipment.
9. Transportation and other expenses in moving fuel.
10. Stores expenses applicable to fuel.

153 Residuals.

This account shall include the book cost of any residuals produced in production or manufacturing processes.

154 Plant materials and operating supplies.

A. This account shall include the cost of materials purchased primarily for use in the utility business for construction, operation and maintenance purposes. It shall include also the book cost of materials recovered in connection with construction, maintenance or the retirement of property, such materials being credited to construction, maintenance or accumulated depreciation provision, respectively, and included herein as follows:

(1) Reusable materials consisting of large individual items shall be included in this account at original cost, estimated if not known. The cost of repairing such items shall be charged to the maintenance account appropriate for the previous use.

(2) Reusable materials consisting of relatively small items, the identity of which (from the date of original installation to the final abandonment or sale thereof) cannot be ascertained without undue refinement in accounting, shall be included in this account at current prices new for such items. The cost of repairing such items shall be charged to the appropriate expense account as indicated by previous use.

(3) Scrap and nonusable materials included in this account shall be carried at the estimated net amount realizable therefrom. The difference between the amounts realized for scrap and nonusable materials sold and the net amount at which the materials were carried in this account, as far as practicable, shall be adjusted to the accounts credited when the materials were charged to this account.

B. Materials and supplies issued shall be credited hereto and charged to the appropriate construction, operating expense, or other account on the basis of a unit price determined by the use of cumulative average, first-in-first-out, or such other method of inventory accounting as conforms with accepted accounting standards consistently applied.

ITEMS

1. Invoice price of materials less cash or other discounts.
2. Freight, switching or other transportation charges when practicable to include as part of the cost of particular materials to which they relate.
3. Customs duties and excise taxes.
4. Costs of inspection and special tests prior to acceptance.
5. Insurance and other directly assignable charges.

NOTE: Where expenses applicable to materials purchased cannot be directly assigned to particular purchases, they shall be charged to account 163, Stores Expense Undistributed.

155 Merchandise.

This account shall include the book cost of materials and supplies and appliances and equipment held primarily for merchandising, jobbing and contract work. The principles prescribed in accounting for utility materials and supplies shall be observed in respect to items carried in this account.

156 Other materials and supplies.

This account shall include the book cost of materials and supplies held primarily for nonutility purposes. The principles prescribed in accounting for utility materials and supplies shall be observed in respect to items carried in this account.

157 Nuclear fuel assemblies and components—In reactor.

This account shall include cost to the utility of assemblies and components installed in the reactor for production of electricity. This account shall be debited for cost of assemblies and components transferred from account 158, Nuclear Fuel Assemblies and Components—Stock Account, and credited for amounts charged to account 518, Fuel, for cost distribution of assemblies and components in use. Upon discharge of the reactor for refueling this account shall be credited and account 158, Nuclear Fuel Assemblies and Components—Stock Account, debited for remaining undistributed net costs pertaining to assemblies and components removed from the reactor.

158 Nuclear fuel assemblies and components—Stock account.

A. This account shall include the cost to the utility of nuclear fuel assemblies and components in process of fabrication, held in stock as spare assemblies and components, and held for or being chemically processed after use. When fuel assemblies and components are removed from stock for installation in the reactor, this account shall be credited and account 157, Nuclear Fuel Assemblies And Components—In Reactor, debited for the utility's cost thereof. When materials are discharged from the reactor, this account shall be debited and account 157 credited with the remaining costs applicable to the spent fuel assemblies. Upon completion of chemical processing of the reactor discharge materials, an accounting shall be made for disposition of such reprocessed materials, including adjustments to account 518, Fuel, and other accounts, as appropriate.

B. Where stock may consist of assemblies and components from more than one lot of fabricated materials, the basis of costing issues from stock may be on the basis of a unit price determined by the use of cumulative average, first-in-first-out, or such other method of inventory accounting as conforms with accepted accounting standards consistently applied.

NOTE: Provisions will be made as required to provide for reactors utilising aqueous and liquid metal solutions, slurries, and fluidized solids.

159 Nuclear by-product materials.

This account shall include the net recoverable values of plutonium and other nuclear by-product materials. This account shall be debited and account 518, Fuel, credited with the estimated recoverable values of the excess of the nuclear by-product materials formed in operation of the reactor over the nuclear by-product materials burned, if any, net of the estimated cost of conversion to metal and delivery to the Atomic Energy Commission. Adjustments to this account with respect to differences between amounts actually realized and the estimated amounts accumulated from credits to operations shall be debited or credited, as appropriate, to account 518, Fuel.

163 Stores expense undistributed.

A. This account shall include the cost of supervision, labor and expenses incurred in the operation of general storerooms, including purchasing, storage, handling and distribution of materials and supplies.

B. This account shall be cleared by adding to the cost of materials and supplies issued a suitable loading charge which will distribute the expense equitably over stores issues. The balance in the account at the close of the year shall not exceed the amount of stores expenses reasonably attributable to the inventory of materials and supplies exclusive of fuel, as any amount applicable to fuel costs should be included in account 152, Fuel Stock Expenses Undistributed.

ITEMS

Labor:

1. Inspecting and testing materials and supplies when not assignable to specific items.
2. Unloading from shipping facility and putting in storage.
3. Supervision of purchasing and stores department to extent assignable to materials handled through stores.
4. Getting materials from stock and in readiness to go out.
5. Inventorying stock received or stock on hand by stores employees but not including inventories by general department employees as part of internal or general audits.
6. Purchasing department activities in checking material needs, investigating sources of supply, analyzing prices, preparing and placing orders, and related activities to extent applicable to materials handled through stores. (Optional. Purchasing department expenses may be included in administrative and general expenses.)
7. Maintaining stores equipment.
8. Cleaning and tidying storerooms and stores offices.
9. Keeping stock records, including recording and posting of material receipts and issues and maintaining inventory record of stock.
10. Collecting and handling scrap materials in stores.

Supplies and expenses:

11. Adjustments of inventories of materials and supplies but not including large differences which can readily be assigned to important classes of materials and equitably distributed among the accounts to which such classes of materials have been charged since the previous inventory.
12. Cash and other discounts not practically assignable to specific materials.
13. Freight, express, etc., when not assignable to specific items.
14. Heat, light and power for storerooms and store offices.
15. Brooms, brushes, sweeping compounds and other supplies used in cleaning and tidying storerooms and stores offices.
16. Injuries and damages.
17. Insurance on materials and supplies and on stores equipment.
18. Losses due to breakage, leakage, evaporation, fire or other causes, less credits for amounts received from insurance, transportation companies or others in compensation of such losses.
19. Postage, printing, stationery and office supplies.
20. Rent of storage space and facilities.
21. Communication service.
22. Excise and other similar taxes not assignable to specific materials.
23. Transportation expense on inward movement of stores and on transfer between storerooms but not including charges on materials recovered from retirements which shall be accounted for as part of cost of removal.

NOTE: A physical inventory of each class of materials and supplies shall be made at least every two years.

165 Prepayments.

This account shall include amounts representing prepayments of insurance, rents, taxes, interest and miscellaneous items, and shall be kept or supported in such manner as to disclose the amount of each class of prepayment.

171 Interest and dividends receivable.

This account shall include the amount of interest on bonds, mortgages, notes, commercial paper, loans, open accounts, deposits, etc., the payment of which is reasonably assured, and the amount of dividends declared or guaranteed on stocks owned.

NOTE A: Interest which is not subject to current settlement shall not be included herein but in the account in which is carried the principal on which the interest is accrued.

NOTE B: Interest and dividends receivable from associated companies shall be included in account 146, Accounts receivable from associated companies.

172 Rents receivable.

This account shall include rents receivable or accrued on property rented or leased by the utility to others.

NOTE: Rents receivable from associated companies shall be included in account 146, Accounts Receivable from Associated Companies.

173 Accrued utility revenues.

At the option of the utility, the estimated amount accrued for service rendered, but not billed at the end of any accounting period, may be included herein. In case accruals are made for unbilled revenues, they shall be made likewise for unbilled expenses, such as for the purchase of energy.

174 Miscellaneous current and accrued assets.

This account shall include the book cost of all other current and accrued assets, appropriately designated and supported so as to show the nature of each asset included herein.

4. DEFERRED DEBITS

181 Unamortized debt discount and expense.

A. This account shall include the total of the debit balances in the discount, expense and premium accounts for all classes of long-term debt, determined as provided in the following paragraphs of this account.

B. A discount, expense and premium account shall be maintained for each class and series of long-term debt (including receivers' certificates) issued or assumed by the utility, in which shall be recorded the discount, expense and premium associated with the issuance and sale of each such class and series of debt. In stating the balance sheet, the total of the debit balances remaining in those accounts having debit balances shall be reported under this account and the total of credit balances remaining in those accounts having credit balances shall be reported under account 251, Unamortized Premium on Debt. Accounts with debit balances shall not be set off against accounts with credit balances.

C. The discount, expense and premium shall be amortized over the life of the respective issues under a plan which will distribute the amounts equitably over the life of the securities. The amortization shall be on a monthly basis, and the amounts thereof shall be charged to account 428, Amortization of Debt Discount and Expense, or credited to account 429, Amortization of Premium on Debt—Cr., as may be appropriate. The utility may, however, accelerate the writing off of discount and expense where the amounts are insignificant.

D. When any long-term debt is reacquired or redeemed without being converted into another form of long-term debt and when the transaction is not in connection with a refunding operation, the difference between the amount paid upon reacquirement and the face value plus the unamortized premium or less the unamortized discount and expense, as the case may be, applicable to the debt redeemed, retired and canceled, shall be included in account 434, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus or account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, as appropriate.

E. When the redemption of one issue or series of bonds or other long-term obligations is financed by another issue or series before the maturity date of the first issue, account 434, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus, or account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, shall be credited or debited, as appropriate, with any unamortized discount, expense, or premium on the first issue and any premium paid or discount earned on the redemption. If the utility desires to amortize any of the discount, expense, or premium associated with the issuance or redemption of the first issue over a period subsequent to the date of redemption, the permission of the Commission must be obtained; provided, however, that special permission of the Commission shall not be necessary, if the utility proceeds with a plan of disposition of the discount, expense, and redemption premiums associated with the refunded bonds, as follows:

(1) A special charge is recorded in the year of refunding in account 428, Amortization of Debt Discount and Expense, equal to the saving in income taxes arising from the refunding transactions;

(2) There is charged to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, in the year of refunding, any amounts of unamortized discount and expenses or redemption premiums relating to bonds or other long-term obligations previously refunded by the refunded bonds under immediate consideration, such amounts sometimes being referred to as "grandfather items"; and,

(3) The utility proceeds to amortize by equal monthly charges, from the date of refunding, the remainder of the charges associated with the refunded bonds, over a period not longer than that in which the saving in net annual interest and amortization charges equals the remainder of charges to be amortized, after taking into consideration the estimated additional taxes on income attributable to the saving in net annual interest and amortization charges.

F. Discount, expense or premium on debt shall not be included as part of the cost of constructing or acquiring any property, tangible or intangible, except under the provisions of account 432, Interest Charged to Construction—Cr.

182 Extraordinary property losses.

A. When authorized or directed by the Commission, this account shall include extraordinary losses on property abandoned or otherwise retired from service which are not provided for by the accumulated provisions for depreciation or amortization and which could not reasonably have been foreseen and provided for, and extraordinary losses, such as unforeseen damages to property, which could not reasonably have been anticipated and which are not covered by insurance or other provisions.

B. The entire cost, less net salvage, of depreciable property retired shall be charged to accumulated provision for depreciation. If all, or a portion, of the loss is to be included in this account, the accumulated provision for depreciation shall then be credited and this account charged with the amount properly chargeable hereto.

C. Application to the Commission for permission to use this account shall be accompanied by a statement giving a complete explanation with respect to the items which it is proposed to include herein, the period over which, and the accounts to which it is proposed to write off the charges, and other pertinent information.

183 Preliminary survey and investigation charges.

A. This account shall be charged with all expenditures for preliminary surveys, plans, investigations, etc., made for the purpose of determining the feasibility of utility projects under contemplation. If construction results, this account shall be credited and the appropriate utility plant account charged. If the work is abandoned, the charge shall be made to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or to the appropriate operating expense account.

B. The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish complete information as to the nature and the purpose of the survey, plans, or investigations and the nature and amounts of the several charges.

NOTE: The amount of preliminary survey and investigation charges transferred to utility plant shall not exceed the expenditures which may reasonably be determined to contribute directly and immediately and without duplication to utility plant.

184 Clearing accounts.

This caption shall include undistributed balances in clearing accounts at the date of the balance sheet. Balances in clearing accounts shall be substantially cleared not later than the end of the calendar year unless items held therein relate to a future period.

185 Temporary facilities.

This account shall include amounts shown by work orders for plant installed for temporary use in utility service for periods of less than one year. Such work orders shall be charged with the cost of temporary facilities and credited with payments received from customers and net salvage realized on removal of the temporary facilities. Any net credit or debit resulting shall be cleared to account 451, Miscellaneous Service Revenues.

186 Miscellaneous deferred debits.

A. This account shall include all debits not elsewhere provided for, such as miscellaneous work in progress, and unusual or extraordinary expenses, not included in other accounts, which are in process of amortization and items the proper final disposition of which is uncertain.

B. The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish full information as to each deferred debit.

5. PROPRIETARY CAPITAL

201 Common stock issued.

204 Preferred stock issued.

A. These accounts shall include the par value or the stated value of stock without par value if such stock has a stated value, and, if not, the cash value of the consideration received for such nonpar stock, of each class of capital stock actually issued, including the par or stated value of such capital stock in account 124, Other Investments, and account 217, Reacquired Capital Stock.

B. When the actual cash value of the consideration received is more or less than the par or stated value of any stock having a par or stated value, the difference shall be credited or debited, as the case may be, to the premium or discount account for the particular class and series.

C. When capital stock is retired, these accounts shall be charged with the amount at which such stock is carried herein.

D. A separate ledger account, with a descriptive title, shall be maintained for each class and series of stock. The supporting records shall show the shares nominally issued, actually issued, and nominally outstanding.

NOTE: When a levy or assessment, except a call for payment on subscriptions, is made against holders of capital stock, the amount collected upon such levy or assessment shall be credited to account 207, Premium on Capital Stock; provided, however, that the credit shall be made to account 213, Discount on Capital Stock, to the extent of any remaining balance of discount on the issue of stock.

202 Common stock subscribed.

205 Preferred stock subscribed.

A. These accounts shall include the amount of legally enforceable subscriptions to capital stock of the utility. They shall be credited with the par or stated value of the stock subscribed, exclusive of accrued dividends, if any. Concurrently, a debit shall be made to subscriptions to capital stock, included as a separate subdivision of account 143, Other Accounts Receivable, for the agreed price, and any discount or premium shall be debited or credited to the appropriate discount or premium account. When properly executed stock certificates have been issued representing the shares subscribed, this account shall be debited, and the appropriate capital stock account credited, with the par or stated value of such stock.

B. The records shall be kept in such manner as to show the amount of subscriptions to each class and series of stock.

208 Common stock liability for conversion.

206 Preferred stock liability for conversion.

A. These accounts shall include the par value or stated value, as appropriate, of capital stock which the utility has agreed to exchange for outstanding securities of other companies in connection with the acquisition of properties of such companies under terms which allow the holders of the securities of the other companies to surrender such securities and receive in return therefor capital stock of the accounting utility.

B. When the securities of the other companies have been surrendered and capital stock issued in accordance with the terms of the exchange, these accounts shall be charged and accounts 201, Common Stock Issued, or 204, Preferred Stock Issued, as the case may be, shall be credited.

C. The records shall be kept so as to show separately the stocks of each class and series for which a conversion liability exists.

207 Premium on capital stock.

A. This account shall include, in a separate subdivision for each class and series of stock, the excess of the actual cash value of the consideration received on original issues of capital stock over the par or stated value and accrued dividends of such stock, together with assessments against stockholders representing payments required in excess of par or stated values.

B. Premium on capital stock shall not be set off against expenses. Further, a premium received on an issue of a certain class or series of stock shall not be set off against expenses of another issue of the same class or series.

C. When capital stock which has been actually issued is retired, the amount in this account applicable to the shares retired shall be transferred to account 210, Gain on Resale or Cancellation of Reacquired Capital Stock.

208 Donations received from stockholders.

This account shall include the balance of credits for donations received from stockholders consisting of capital stock of the utility, cancellation or reduction of debt of the utility, and the cash value of other assets received as a donation.

209 Reduction in par or stated value of capital stock.

This account shall include the balance of credits arising from a reduction in the par or stated value of capital stock.

210 Gain on resale or cancellation of reacquired capital stock.

This account shall include the balance of credits arising from the resale or cancellation of reacquired capital stock. (See account 217, Reacquired Capital Stock.)

211 Miscellaneous paid-in capital.

This account shall include the balance of all other credits for paid-in capital which are not properly includible in the foregoing accounts.

NOTE: Amounts included in capital surplus at the effective date of this system of accounts which cannot be classified as to the source thereof shall be included in this account.

212 Installments received on capital stock.

A. This account shall include in a separate subdivision for each class and series of capital stock the amount of installments received on capital stock on a partial or installment payment plan from subscribers who are not bound by legally enforceable subscription contracts.

B. As subscriptions are paid in full and certificates issued, this account shall be charged and the appropriate capital stock account credited with the par or stated value of such stock. Any discount or premium on an original issue shall be included in the appropriate discount or premium account.

213 Discount on capital stock.

A. This account shall include in a separate subdivision for each class and series of capital stock all discount on the original issuance and sale of capital stock, including additional capital stock of a particular class or series as well as first issues.

B. When capital stock which has been actually issued is retired, the amount in this account applicable to the shares retired shall be written off to account 210, Gain on Resale or Cancellation of Reacquired Capital Stock, provided, however, that the amount shall be charged to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, to the extent that it exceeds the balance in account 210.

C. The utility may amortize the balance in this account by systematic charges to account 425, Miscellaneous Amortization, or it may write off capital stock discount in whole or in part by charges to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus.

214 Capital stock expense.

A. This account shall include in a separate subdivision for each class and series of stock all commissions and expenses incurred in connection with the original issuance and sale of capital stock, including additional capital stock of a particular class or series as well as first issues. Expenses applicable to capital stock shall not be deducted from premium on capital stock.

B. When capital stock which has been actually issued by the utility is retired, the amount in this account, applicable to the shares retired shall be written off to account 210, Gain on Resale or Cancellation of Reacquired Capital Stock, provided, however, that the amount shall be charged to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, to the extent that it exceeds the balance in account 210.

C. The utility may amortize the balance in this account by systematic charges to account 425, Miscellaneous Amortization, or it may write off capital stock expense in whole or in part by charges to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus.

NOTE: Expenses in connection with the reacquisition or resale of the utility's capital stock shall not be included herein.

215 Appropriated earned surplus.

This account shall include the amount of earned surplus which has been appropriated or set aside for specific purposes. Separate subaccounts shall be maintained under such titles as will designate the purpose for which each appropriation was made.

216 Unappropriated earned surplus.

This account shall include the balance, either debit or credit, of unappropriated surplus arising from earnings. It shall not include items includible in any of the accounts for paid-in capital.

217 Reacquired capital stock.

A. This account shall include in a separate subdivision for each class and series of capital stock, the cost of capital stock actually issued by the utility and reacquired by it and not retired or canceled, except, however, stock which is held by trustees in sinking or other funds.

B. When reacquired capital stock is retired or canceled, the difference between its cost, including commissions and expenses paid in connection with the reacquisition, and its par or stated value plus any premium and less any discount and expenses applicable to the shares retired, shall be debited or credited, as appropriate, to account 210, Gain on Resale or Cancellation of Reacquired Capital Stock, provided, however, that debits shall be charged to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, to the extent that they exceed the balance in account 210.

C. When reacquired capital stock is resold by the utility, the difference between the amount received on the resale of the stock, less expenses incurred in the resale, and the cost of the stock included in this account shall be accounted for as outlined in paragraph B.

NOTE A: See account 124, Other Investments, for permissive accounting treatment of stock reacquired under a definite plan for resale.

NOTE B: The accounting for reacquired stock shall be as prescribed herein unless otherwise specifically required by statute.

6. LONG-TERM DEBT

221 Bonds.

This account shall include in a separate subdivision for each class and series of bonds the face value of the actually issued and unmatured bonds which have not been retired or canceled; also the face value of such bonds issued by others the payment of which has been assumed by the utility.

222 Reacquired bonds.

A. This account shall include the face value of bonds actually issued or assumed by the utility and reacquired by it and not retired or canceled. The account for reacquired debt shall not include securities which are held by trustees in sinking or other funds.

B. When bonds are reacquired, the difference between face value, adjusted for unamortized discount, expense or premium and the amount paid upon reacquisition, shall be included in account 434, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus or account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, as appropriate. (See, however, account 181, paragraph E, as to refunding operations.)

223 Advances from associated companies.

A. This account shall include the face value of notes payable to associated companies and the amount of open book accounts representing advances from associated companies. It does not include notes and open accounts representing indebtedness subject to current settlement which are includible in account 233, Notes Payable to Associated Companies, or account 234, Accounts Payable to Associated Companies.

B. The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish complete information concerning each note and open account.

224 Other long-term debt.

A. This account shall include, until maturity, all long-term debt not otherwise provided for. This covers such items as receivers' certificates, real estate mortgages executed or assumed, assessments for public improvements, notes and unsecured certificates of indebtedness not owned by associated companies, receipts outstanding for long-term debt, and other obligations maturing more than one year from date of issue or assumption.

B. Separate accounts shall be maintained for each class of obligation, and records shall be maintained to show for each class all details as to date of obligation, date of maturity, interest dates and rates, security for the obligation, etc.

NOTE: Miscellaneous long-term debt reacquired shall be accounted for in accordance with the procedure set forth in account 222, Reacquired Bonds.

7. CURRENT AND ACCRUED LIABILITIES

Current and accrued liabilities are those obligations which have either matured or which become due within one year from the date thereof: except, however, bonds, receivers' certificates and similar obligations which shall be classified as long-term debt until date of maturity; accrued taxes, such as income taxes, which shall be classified as accrued liabilities even though payable more than one year from date; compensation awards, which shall be classified as current liabilities regardless of date due; and minor amounts payable in installments which may be classified as current liabilities. If a liability is due more than one year from date of issuance or assumption by the utility, it shall be credited to a long-term debt account appropriate for the transaction, except, however, the current liabilities previously mentioned.

231 Notes payable.

This account shall include the face value of all notes, drafts, acceptances, or other similar evidences of indebtedness, payable on demand or within a time not exceeding one year from date of issue, to other than associated companies.

232 Accounts payable.

This account shall include all amounts payable by the utility within one year, which are not provided for in other accounts.

233 Notes payable to associated companies.

234 Accounts payable to associated companies.

These accounts shall include amounts owing to associated companies on notes, drafts, acceptances, or other similar evidences of indebtedness, and open accounts payable on demand or not more than one year from date of issue or creation.

NOTE: Exclude from these accounts notes and accounts which are includible in account 223, Advances from Associated Companies.

235 Customer deposits.

This account shall include all amounts deposited with the utility by customers as security for the payment of bills.

236 Taxes accrued.

A. This account shall be credited with the amount of taxes accrued during the accounting period, corresponding debits being made to the appropriate accounts for tax charges. Such credits may be based upon estimates, but from time to time during the year as the facts become known, the amount of the periodic credits shall be adjusted so as to include as nearly as can be determined in each year the taxes applicable thereto. Any amount representing a prepayment of taxes applicable to the period subsequent to the date of the balance sheet, shall be shown under account 165, Prepayments.

B. If accruals for taxes are found to be insufficient or excessive, correction therefor shall be made through current tax accruals. However, if such corrections are so large as to seriously distort current expenses, they shall be included in account 434, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus, or account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, as appropriate.

C. Accruals for taxes shall be based upon the net amounts payable after credit for any discounts, and shall not include any amounts for interest on tax deficiencies or refunds. Interest received on refunds shall be credited to account 419, Interest and Dividend Income, and interest paid on deficiencies shall be charged to account 431, Other Interest Expense.

D. The records supporting the entries to this account shall be kept so as to show for each class of taxes, the amount accrued, the basis for the accrual, the accounts to which charged, and the amount of tax paid.

237 Interest accrued.

This account shall include the amount of interest accrued but not matured on all liabilities of the utility not including, however, interest which is added to the principal of the debt on which incurred. Supporting records shall be maintained so as to show the amount of interest accrued on each obligation.

238 Dividends declared.

This account shall include the amount of dividends which have been declared but not paid. Dividends shall be credited to this account when they become a liability.

239 Matured long-term debt.

This account shall include the amount of long-term debt (including any obligation for premiums) matured and unpaid, without specific agreement for extension of the time of payment and bonds called for redemption but not presented.

240 Matured interest.

This account shall include the amount of matured interest on long-term debt or other obligations of the utility at the date of the balance sheet unless such interest is added to the principal of the debt on which incurred.

241 Tax collections payable.

This account shall include the amount of taxes collected by the utility through pay roll deductions or otherwise pending transmittal of such taxes to the proper taxing authority.

NOTE: Do not include liability for taxes assessed directly against the utility which are accounted for as part of the utility's own tax expense.

242 Miscellaneous current and accrued liabilities.

This account shall include the amount of all other current and accrued liabilities not provided for elsewhere appropriately designated and supported so as to show the nature of each liability.

8. DEFERRED CREDITS

251 Unamortized premium on debt.

This account shall include the total of the credit balances in the discount, expense and premium accounts, for all classes of long-term debt, including receivers' certificates. (See account, 181, Unamortized Debt Discount and Expense.)

252 Customer advances for construction.

This account shall include advances by customers for construction which are to be refunded either wholly or in part. When a customer is refunded the entire amount to which he is entitled according to the agreement or rule under which the advance was made, the balance, if any, remaining in this account shall be credited to account 271, Contributions in Aid of Construction.

253 Other deferred credits.

This account shall include advance billings and receipts and other deferred credit items, not provided for elsewhere, including amounts which cannot be entirely cleared or disposed of until additional information has been received.

9. OPERATING RESERVES

261 Property insurance reserve.

A. This account shall include amounts reserved by the utility for self-insurance against losses through accident, fire, flood, or other hazards to its own property or property leased from others. The amounts charged to account 924, Property Insurance, or other appropriate accounts to cover such risks shall be credited to this account. A schedule of risks covered by this reserve shall be maintained, giving a description of the property involved, the character of the risks covered and the rates used.

B. Charges shall be made to this account for losses covered by self-insurance. Details of these charges shall be maintained according to the year the casualty occurred which gave rise to the loss.

262 Injuries and damages reserve.

A. This account shall be credited with amounts charged to account 925, Injuries and Damages, or other appropriate accounts, to meet the probable liability, not covered by insurance, for deaths or injuries to employees and others, and for damages to property neither owned nor held under lease by the utility.

B. When liability for any injury or damage is admitted by the utility either voluntarily or because of the decision of a court or other lawful authority, such as a workmen's compensation board, the admitted liability shall be charged to this account and credited to the appropriate liability account. Details of these charges shall be maintained according to the year the casualty occurred which gave rise to the loss.

NOTE: Recoveries or reimbursements for losses charged to this account shall be credited hereto; the cost of repairs to property of others if provided for herein, shall be charged to this account.

263 Pensions and benefits reserve.

A. This account shall include provisions made by the utility and amounts contributed by employees for pensions, accident and death benefits, savings, relief, hospital and other provident purposes, where the funds represented by the reserve are included in the assets of the utility either in general or in segregated fund accounts.

B. Amounts paid by the utility for the purposes for which this reserve is established shall be charged hereto.

C. A separate account shall be kept for each kind of reserve included herein.

NOTE: If employee pension or benefit plan funds are not included among the assets of the utility but are held by outside trustees, payments into such funds, or accruals therefor, shall not be included in this account.

264 Amortization reserve—Federal.

A. This account shall be credited with such amounts as are appropriated or set aside by a licensee from earnings for amortization purposes in accordance with the requirements of a license; also the interest derived from the "Amortization Fund—Federal," or income from investments belonging to such fund.

B. This account shall be debited with only such items or amounts as the Commission may require or approve. (See account 127 Amortization Fund—Federal.)

265 Miscellaneous operating reserves.

A. This account shall include all operating reserves maintained by the utility which are not provided for elsewhere.

B. This account shall be maintained in such manner as to show the amount of each separate reserve and the nature and amounts of the debits and credits thereto.

NOTE: This account includes only such reserves as may be created for operating purposes and does not include any reservations of income the credits for which should be carried in account 215, Appropriated Earned Surplus.

10. CONTRIBUTIONS IN AID OF CONSTRUCTION

271 Contributions in aid of construction.

A. This account shall include donations or contributions in cash, services, or property from states, municipalities or other governmental agencies, individuals, and others for construction purposes.

B. The credits to this account shall not be transferred to earned surplus or to any other account without the approval of the Commission.

C. The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish information as to the purpose of each donation, the conditions, if any, upon which it was made, the amount of donations from (a) States, (b) municipalities, (c) customers and (d) others, and the amount applicable to each utility department.

D. This account shall be subdivided as follows:

Contributions in Aid of Construction—General.

Contributions in Aid of Construction—Federal.

Contributions in Aid of Construction—General shall include all the donations to the various utility departments except those which are made in respect to a licensed project. Contributions in Aid of Construction—Federal shall be kept only by licensees. There shall be included therein donations from States, municipalities, individuals or others which have been expended for plant, or which are included in the plant accounts, of a licensed project, referred to in section 3, subsection (13) of the Federal Power Act, 49 Stat. 839; 16 U.S.C. 796(13). This treatment shall not affect the determination of actual legitimate original cost or net investment in accordance with the Act.

NOTE: There shall not be included in this account advances for construction which are ultimately to be repaid wholly or in part. (See account 252, Customer Advances for Construction.)

11. ACCUMULATED DEFERRED INCOME TAXES

Public utilities and licensees shall use the accounts provided below for prior accumulations of deferred taxes on income and for additional provisions. A copy of the order or other authorization to practice deferred tax accounting of the state public service commission also having jurisdiction shall be filed with the Commission, or, in the absence of a state public service commission having accounting jurisdiction, the public utility or licensee shall file with this Commission a copy of its plan of accounting for deferred taxes on income. The filing of such order or other authorization, or accounting plan, shall constitute permission for additional accumulations of deferred taxes on income. Account 283 is provided for use of those public utilities and licensees which have obtained permission of the Commission for specific types of deferrals on taxes on income other than with respect to accelerated amortization or liberalized depreciation.

NOTE A: The text of the accounts below are designed primarily to cover deferrals of federal income taxes pursuant to provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 but the accounts are also applicable to deferrals of State taxes on income.

NOTE B: Public Utilities and Licensees which, in addition to an electric utility department, have another utility department, gas, water, etc., and which have deferred taxes on income with respect thereto shall classify such deferrals in the accounts provided below under Subdivisions for each utility department.

281 Accumulated deferred income taxes—Accelerated amortization.

A. This account shall be credited and account 410, Provision for Deferred Income Taxes, shall be debited with an amount equal to that by which taxes on income payable for the year are lower because of the use of accelerated (5-year) amortization of certified defense facilities in computing such taxes, as permitted by Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (Section 124A of previous Internal Revenue Code), as compared to the depreciation deduction otherwise appropriate and allowable for tax purposes according to the straight line or other nonaccelerated depreciation method and appropriate estimated useful life for such property.

B. This account shall be debited and account 411 Income Taxes Deferred in Prior Years—Credit, shall be credited with an amount equal to that by which taxes on income payable for the year are greater because of the use in prior years of accelerated (5-year) amortization of certified defense facilities instead of nonaccelerated or nonliberalized depreciation otherwise appropriate for income tax purposes, and deferral of taxes in such prior years as described in paragraph A, above. Such debit to this account and credit to account 411 shall, in general, represent the effect on taxes payable for the current year of the unavailability of a depreciation deduction for tax purposes, or a reduced amount, with respect to any depreciable property for which accelerated amortization was used in prior years, as compared to the depreciation deduction otherwise available and appropriate for such property, considering its estimated useful life, according to the depreciation method ordinarily used by the utility for similar property in computing depreciation for tax purposes by a nonaccelerated or nonliberalized depreciation method.

C. Records with respect to entries to this account, as described above, and the account balance, shall be so maintained as to show the factors of calculation and the separate amounts applicable to the facilities of each certification or authorization of accelerated amortization for tax purposes.

D. The use of this account and the accounting described above are not mandatory for any utility, which in accordance with a consistent policy elects not to follow deferred tax accounting even though accelerated amortization is used in computing taxes on income. If, however, deferred tax accounting is initiated with respect to any certified defense facility, the accounting shall not be suspended or discontinued on the property covered by that certificate, without approval of the Commission.

E. The utility is restricted in its use of this account to the purposes set forth above. It shall not transfer the balance in this account or any portion thereof to surplus or make any use thereof except as provided in the text of this account without prior approval of the Commission. Any remaining balance of accumulated deferred taxes with respect to any certified defense facility for which deferred tax accounting has been followed, shall, upon expiration of the estimated useful life of the facility on which deferred tax calculations were based, or upon retirement of such facility or predominant part thereof, be credited to account 411, Income Taxes Deferred in Prior Years—Credit, or otherwise be applied as the Commission may authorize or direct.

282 Accumulated deferred income taxes—Liberalized depreciation.

A. This account shall be credited and account 410, Provision for Deferred Income Taxes, shall be debited with an amount equal to that by which taxes on income payable for the year are lower because of the use of liberalized depreciation in computing such taxes, as permitted by Section 167 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as compared to the depreciation deduction otherwise appropriate and allowable for tax purposes for similar property of the same estimated useful life according to the straight line or other nonliberalized method of depreciation.

B. This account shall be debited and account 411, Income Taxes Deferred in Prior Years—Credit, shall be credited with an amount equal to that by which taxes on income payable for the year are greater because of the use in prior years of liberalized depreciation for income tax purposes, and deferral of taxes in such prior years as described in paragraph A above. Such debit to this account and credit to account 411, shall, in general, represent the effect on taxes payable for the current year of the smaller amount of depreciation permitted for tax purposes for the current year with respect to any depreciable property for which liberalized depreciation was used in prior years, as compared to the depreciation deduction otherwise appropriate and available for similar property of the same estimated useful life according to the straight line or other nonliberalized depreciation method ordinarily used by the utility in computing depreciation for tax purposes.

C. Records with respect to entries to this account, as described above, and account balance, shall be so maintained as to show the factors of calculation and the separate amounts applicable to the plant additions of each vintage year for each class, group, or unit as to which different liberalized depreciation methods and estimated useful lives have been used. The underlying calculations to segregate and associate deferred tax amounts with the respective vintage years may be based on reasonable methods of approximation, if necessary, consistently applied.

D. The use of this account and the accounting described above are not mandatory for any utility, which in accordance with a consistent policy, elects not to follow deferred tax accounting even though liberalized depreciation is used in computing taxes on income. If however, deferred tax accounting is initiated with respect to any property such accounting shall not be discontinued on that property, without approval of the Commission.

E. The utility is restricted in its use of this account to the purposes set forth above. It shall not transfer the balance in the account or any portion thereof to surplus or make any use thereof except as provided in the text of this account without prior approval of the Commission. Any remaining deferred tax balance with respect to any year's plant additions or subdivisions thereof for which liberalized depreciation accounting has been followed upon retirement from service of such property or predominant portion thereof, or upon expiration of the estimated useful life on which the depreciation calculations for tax purposes are based, shall be credited to account 411, Income Taxes Deferred in Prior Years—Credit, or otherwise applied as the Commission may authorize or direct.

283 Accumulated deferred income taxes—Other.

A. This account, when its use has been authorized by the Commission for specific types of tax deferrals shall be credited and account 410, Provision for Deferred Income Taxes, shall be debited with an amount equal to that by which taxes on income payable for the year are lower because of the current use of deductions other than accelerated amortization or liberalized depreciation in the computation of income taxes, which deductions for general accounting purposes will not be fully reflected in the utility's determination of annual net income until subsequent years.

B. This account, when its use has been authorized by the Commission, shall be debited and account 411, Income Taxes Deferred in Prior Years—Credit, shall be credited with an amount equal to that by which taxes on income payable for the year are greater because of deferral of taxes on income in previous years, as provided by paragraph A, above, because of difference in timing for tax purposes of particular income deductions from that recognized by the utility for general accounting purposes, other than with respect to accelerated amortization or liberalized depreciation. Such debit to this account and credit to account 411 shall, in general, represent the effect on taxes payable in the current year of the smaller deduction permitted for tax purposes as compared to the amount recognized in the utility's general accounts with respect to the item or class of items for which deferred tax accounting by the utility was authorized by the Commission.

C. Records with respect to entries to this account, as described above, and the account balance, shall be so maintained as to show the factors of calculation with respect to each annual amount of the item or class of items, other than accelerated amortization or liberalized depreciation, for which tax deferral accounting by the utility is authorized by the Commission.

D. The utility is restricted in its use of this account to the purposes set forth above. It shall not transfer the balance in the account or any portion thereof to surplus or make any use thereof except as provided in the text of this account, without prior approval of the Commission. Any remaining deferred tax account balance with respect to an amount for any prior year's tax deferral, the amortization of which or other recognition in the utility's income accounts has been completed, or other disposition made, shall be credited to account 411, Income Taxes Deferred in Prior Years—Credit, or otherwise disposed of as the Commission may authorize or direct.

NOTE: In determining appropriate use of this account as a basis of request to the Commission for authorization of its use, consideration shall be given to the relative importance of the amount involved, and to other items in the utility's accounts where "prepaid tax accounting" may be appropriate such as situations (a) where the time of taking a deduction in computing taxes on income is such that the tax deduction must be delayed or applied to a series of future years as opposed to earlier recognition of such item in determination of income in the general accounts of the utility, or (b) where inclusion of an income item is required for tax purposes but is to be recognized in whole or in part in the utility's income accounts of a subsequent year or years.

Note: Annual or other periodic payments under franchises shall not be included herein but in the appropriate operating expense account.

303 Miscellaneous intangible plant.

A. This account shall include the cost of patent rights, licenses, privileges, and other intangible property necessary or valuable in the conduct of utility operations and not specifically chargeable to any other account.

B. When any item included in this account is retired or expires, the book cost thereof shall be credited hereto and charged to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or account 111, Accumulated Provision for Amortization of Electric Plant in Service, as appropriate.

C. This account shall be maintained in such a manner that the utility can furnish full information with respect to the amounts included herein.

2. PRODUCTION PLANT

A. STEAM PRODUCTION

310 Land and land rights.

This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used in connection with steam-power generation. (See electric plant instruction 7.)

311 Structures and improvements.

This account shall include the cost in place of structures and improvements used in connection with steam-power generation. (See electric plant instruction 8.)

NOTE: Include steam production roads and railroads in this account.

312 Boiler plant equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of furnaces, boilers, coal and ash handling and coal preparing equipment, steam and feed water piping, boiler apparatus and accessories used in the production of steam, mercury, or other vapor, to be used primarily for generating electricity.

ITEMS

1. Ash handling equipment, including hoppers, gates, cars, conveyors, hoists, sluicing equipment, including pumps and motors, sluicing water pipe and fittings, sluicing trenches and accessories, etc., except sluices which are a part of a building.
2. Boiler feed system, including feed water heaters, evaporator condensers, heater drain pumps, heater drainers, deaerators, and vent condensers, boiler feed pumps, surge tanks, feed water regulators, feed water measuring equipment, and all associated drives.
3. Boiler plant cranes and hoists and associated drives.
4. Boilers and equipment, including boilers and baffles, economizers, superheaters, soot blowers, foundations and settings, water walls, arches, grates, insulation, blowdown system, drying out of new boilers, also associated motors or other power equipment.
5. Breeching and accessories, including breeching, dampers, soot spouts, hoppers and gates, cinder eliminators, breeching insulation, soot blowers and associated motors.
6. Coal handling and storage equipment, including coal towers, coal lorries, coal cars, locomotives and tracks when devoted principally to the transportation of coal, hoppers, downtakes, unloading and hoisting equipment, skip hoists and conveyors, weighing equipment, magnetic separators, cable ways, housings and supports for coal handling equipment.
7. Draft equipment, including air preheaters and accessories, induced and forced draft fans, air ducts, combustion control mechanisms, and associated motors or other power equipment.
8. Gas-burning equipment, including holders, burner equipment and piping, control equipment, etc.
9. Instruments and devices, including all measuring, indicating, and recording equipment for boiler plant service together with mountings and supports.
10. Lighting systems.
11. Oil-burning equipment, including tanks, heaters, pumps with drive, burner equipment and piping, control equipment, etc.
12. Pulverized fuel equipment, including pulverizers, accessory motors, primary air fans, cyclones and ducts, dryers, pulverized fuel bins, pulverized fuel conveyors and equipment, burners, burner piping, priming equipment, air compressors, motors, etc.
13. Stacks, including foundations and supports, stack steel and ladders, stack brick work, stack concrete, stack lining, stack painting (first), when set on separate foundations, independent of substructure or superstructure of building.
14. Station piping, including pipe, valves, fittings, separators, traps, desuperheaters, hangers, excavation, covering, etc., for station piping system, including all steam, condensate, boiler feed and water supply piping, etc., but not condensing water, plumbing, building heating, oil, gas, air piping or piping specifically provided for in account 315.
15. Steelwork, specially constructed for apparatus listed herein.
16. Throttle and inlet valve.
17. Tunnels, intake and discharge, for condenser system, when not a part of structure, water screens, etc.
18. Turbogenerators—main, including turbine and generator, field rheostats and electric connections for self-excited units.
19. Water screens, motors, etc.
20. Moisture separator for turbine steam.
21. Turbine lubricating oil (initial charge).

315 Accessory electric equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of auxiliary generating apparatus, conversion equipment, and equipment used primarily in connection with the control and switching of electric energy produced by steam power, and the protection of electric circuits and equipment, except electric motors used to drive equipment included in other accounts. Such motors shall be included in the account in which the equipment with which they are associated is included.

ITEMS

1. Auxiliary generators, including boards, compartments, switching equipment, control equipment, and connections to auxiliary power bus.
2. Excitation system, including motor, turbine and dual-drive exciter sets and rheostats, storage batteries and charging equipment, circuit breakers, panels and accessories, knife switches and accessories, surge arresters, instrument shunts, conductors and conduit, special supports for conduit, generator field and exciter switch panels, exciter bus tie panels, generator and exciter rheostats, etc., special housing, protective screens, etc.
3. Generator main connections, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and accessories, operating mechanisms and interlocks, current transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, isolated panels and equipment, conductors and conduit, special supports for generator main leads, grounding switch, etc.
4. Station buses including main, auxiliary, transfer, synchronising and fault ground buses, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and accessories, operating mechanisms and interlocks, reactors and accessories, voltage regulators and accessories, compensators, transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, storage batteries and charging equipment, isolated panels and equipment, special housings, concrete pads, general station grounding system, special fire-extinguishing system, and test equipment.
5. Station control system, including station switchboards with panel wiring, panels with instruments and control equipment only, panels with switching equipment mounted or mechanically connected, truck-type boards complete, cubicles, station supervisory control boards, generator and exciter signal stands, temperature recording devices, frequency-control equipment, master clocks, watt-hour meters and synchronoscope in the turbine room, station totalising wattmeter, boiler-room load indicator equipment, storage batteries, panels and charging sets, instrument transformers for supervisory metering, conductors and conduit, special supports for conduit, switchboards, batteries, special housing for batteries, protective screens, doors, etc.

NOTE A: Do not include in this account transformers and other equipment used for changing the voltage or frequency of electricity for the purposes of transmission or distribution.

NOTE B: When any item of equipment listed herein is used wholly to furnish power to equipment included in another account, its cost shall be included in such other account.

316 Miscellaneous power plant equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of miscellaneous equipment in and about the steam generating plant devoted to general station use, and which is not properly includible in any of the foregoing steam-power production accounts.

ITEMS

1. Compressed air and vacuum cleaning systems, including tanks, compressor, exhausters, air filters, piping, etc.
2. Cranes and hoisting equipment, including cranes, cars, crane rails, mechanical hoists, etc., with electric and mechanical connections.
3. Fire-extinguishing equipment for general station use.
4. Foundations and settings specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
5. Locomotive cranes not includible elsewhere.
6. Locomotives not includible elsewhere.
7. Marine equipment, including boats, barges, etc.
8. Miscellaneous belts, pulleys, countershafts, etc.
9. Miscellaneous equipment, including atmospheric and weather indicating devices, intrasite communication equipment, laboratory equipment, signal systems, callophones, emergency vehicles and sirens, fire alarms, insect-control equipment, and other similar equipment.
10. Railway cars not includible elsewhere.

B. OTHER PRODUCTION

340 Land and land rights.
341 Structures and improvements.
342 Fuel holders, producers and accessories.
343 Prime movers.
344 Generators.
345 Accessory electric equipment.
346 Miscellaneous power plant equipment.

3. TRANSMISSION PLANT

350 Land and land rights.
351 Clearing land and rights of way.
352 Structures and improvements.
353 Station equipment.
354 Towers and fixtures.
355 Poles and fixtures.
356 Overhead conductors and devices.
357 Underground conduit.
358 Underground conductors and devices.
359 Roads and trails.

4. DISTRIBUTION PLANT

360 Land and land rights.
361 Structures and improvements.
362 Station equipment.
363 Storage battery equipment.
364 Poles, towers and fixtures.
365 Overhead conductors and devices.
366 Underground conduit.
367 Underground conductors and devices.
368 Line transformers.
369 Services.
370 Meters.
371 Installations on customers' premises.
372 Leased property on customers' premises.
373 Street lighting and signal systems.

5. GENERAL PLANT

389 Land and land rights.
390 Structures and improvements.
391 Office furniture and equipment.
392 Transportation equipment.
393 Stores equipment.
394 Tools, shop and garage equipment.
395 Laboratory equipment.
396 Power operated equipment.
397 Communication equipment.
398 Miscellaneous equipment.
399 Other tangible property.

Electric Plant Accounts

1. INTANGIBLE PLANT

301 Organization.

This account shall include all fees paid to federal or state governments for the privilege of incorporation and expenditures incident to organizing the corporation, partnership, or other enterprise and putting it into readiness to do business.

ITEMS

1. Cost of obtaining certificates authorizing an enterprise to engage in the public-utility business.
2. Fees and expenses for incorporation.
3. Fees and expenses for mergers or consolidations.
4. Office expenses incident to organizing the utility.
5. Stock and minute books and corporate seal.

NOTE A: This account shall not include any discounts upon securities issued or assumed; nor shall it include any costs incident to negotiating loans, selling bonds or other evidences of debt or expenses in connection with the authorization, issuance or sale of capital stock.

NOTE B: Exclude from this account and include in the appropriate expense account the cost of preparing and filing papers in connection with the extension of the term of incorporation unless the first organization costs have been written off. When charges are made to this account for expenses incurred in mergers, consolidations, or reorganizations, amounts previously included herein or in similar accounts in the books of the companies concerned shall be excluded from this account.

302 Franchises and consents.

A. This account shall include amounts paid to the federal government, to a state or to a political subdivision thereof in consideration for franchises, consents, water power licenses, or certificates, running in perpetuity or for a specified term of more than one year, together with necessary and reasonable expenses incident to procuring such franchises, consents, water power licenses, or certificates of permission and approval, including expenses of organizing and merging separate corporations, where statutes require, solely for the purpose of acquiring franchises.

B. If a franchise, consent, water power license or certificate is acquired by assignment, the charge to this account in respect thereof shall not exceed the amount paid therefor by the utility to the assignor, nor shall it exceed the amount paid by the original grantee, plus the expense of acquisition to such grantee. Any excess of the amount actually paid by the utility over the amount above specified shall be charged to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus.

C. When any franchise has expired, the book cost thereof shall be credited hereto and charged to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or to account 111, Accumulated Provision for Amortization of Electric Plant in Service, as appropriate.

Items

1. Air cleaning and cooling apparatus including blowers, drive equipment, air ducts not a part of building, louvers, pumps, hoods, etc.

2. Circulating pumps, including connections between condensers, and intake and discharge tunnels.

3. Condensers, including condensate pumps, air and vacuum pumps ejectors, unloading valves and vacuum breakers, separation devices, screens, etc.

4. Generator hydrogen gas piping system and hydrogen detrainment equipment, and bulk hydrogen gas storage equipment.

5. Cooling system, including towers, pumps, tanks and piping.

6. Cranes, hoists, etc., including items wholly identified with items listed herein.

7. Excitation system, when identified with main generating units.

8. Fire extinguishing systems.

9. Foundations and settings, especially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.

10. Governors.

11. Lighting systems.

12. Lubricating systems, including gauges, filters, water separators, tanks, pumps, piping, motors, etc.

13. Mechanical meters, including gauges, recording instruments, sampling and testing equipment.

14. Piping—main exhaust, including connections between turbogenerator and condenser and between condenser and hotwell.

15. Piping—main steam, including connections from main throttle valve to turbine inlet.

16. Platforms, railings, steps, gratings, etc., appurtenant to apparatus listed herein.

17. Pressure oil systems, including accumulators, pumps, piping, motors, etc.

18. Steelwork, specially constructed for apparatus listed herein.

19. Throttle and inlet valve.

20. Tunnels, intake and discharge, for condenser system, when not a part of structure, water screens, etc.

21. Turbogenerators—main, including turbine and generator, field rheostats and electric connections for self-excited units.

22. Water screens, motors, etc.

23. Moisture separators for turbine steam.

24. Turbine lubricating oil (initial charge).

324 Accessory electric equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of auxiliary generating apparatus, conversion equipment, and equipment used primarily in connection with the control and switching of electric energy produced by nuclear power, and the protection of electric circuits and equipment, except electric motors used to drive equipment included in other accounts. Such motors shall be included in the account in which the equipment with which they are associated is included.

Note: Do not include in this account transformers and other equipment used for changing the voltage or frequency of electric energy for the purpose of transmission or distribution.

Items

1. Auxiliary generators, including boards, compartments, switching equipment, control equipment, and connections to auxiliary power bus.

2. Excitation system, including motor, turbine, and dual-drive exciter sets and rheostats, storage batteries and charging equipment, circuit breakers, panels and accessories, knife switches and accessories, surge arresters, instrument shunts, conductors and conduit, special supports for conductors and conduit, special switch panels, exciter field and exciter generator and exciter bus tie panels, generator and exciter rheostats, etc., special housing, protective screens, etc.

3. Generator main connections, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and accessories, current transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, isolated panels and equipment, conductors and conduit, special supports for conductors and conduit, special switch, etc., special housings, protective screens, etc.

4. Station buses, including and fault ground buses, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and interlocks, current transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, isolated panels and equipment, conductors and conduit, special supports for conductors and conduit, special housings, protective screens, etc.

5. Station control system, including station switchboards with panel wiring, panels with instruments and control equipment only, panels with switching equipment mounted or mechanically connected, truck-type boards complete, cubicles, station supervisory control boards, generator and exciter signal stands, temperature recording devices, frequency-control equipment, master clocks, watt-hour meters and synchronoscope in the turbine room, station totalizing wattmeter, boiler-room load indicator equipment, storage batteries, panels and charging sets, instrument transformers for ground buses, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and interlocks, rheostats and accessories, operating mechanisms and wiring, conductors and conduit, special supports, special housings, concrete pads, general station grounding system, fire-extinguishing system, and test equipment.

6. Station control system, including station switchboards with panel wiring, panels with instruments and control equipment only, panels with switching equipment mounted or mechanically connected, truck-type boards complete, cubicles, station supervisory control boards, generator and exciter signal stands, temperature recording devices, frequency-control equipment, master clocks, watt-hour meters and synchronoscope in the turbine room, station totalizing wattmeter, boiler-room load indicator equipment, storage batteries, panels and charging sets, instrument transformers for ground buses, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and interlocks, rheostats and accessories, operating mechanisms and wiring, conductors and conduit, special supports, special housings, concrete pads, general station grounding system, fire-extinguishing system, and test equipment.

Note: When any item of equipment listed herein is used wholly to furnish power to equipment included in another account, its cost shall be included in such other account.

325 Miscellaneous power plant equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of miscellaneous equipment in and about the nuclear generating plant devoted to general station use, and which is not properly includible in any of the foregoing nuclear-power production accounts.

Items

1. Compressed air and vacuum cleaning systems, including tanks, compressors, exhausters, air filters, piping, etc.

2. Cranes and hoisting equipment, including crane, car, crane rail, monorails, hoists, etc., with electric and mechanical connections.

3. Fire-extinguishing equipment for general station use.

4. Foundations and settings specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.

5. Locomotive cranes not includible elsewhere.

6. Locomotives not included elsewhere.

7. Marine equipment, including boats, barges, etc.

8. Miscellaneous belts, pulleys, countershafts, etc.

9. Miscellaneous equipment, including atmospheric and weather recording devices, intrasite communication system, laboratory equipment, signal systems, fire alarms, emergency whistles and sirens, alarms, telephones, insect-control equipment, and other similar equipment.

10. Railway car or special shipping containers not includible elsewhere.

11. Refrigerating systems, including compressors, pumps, cooling coils, etc.

12. Station maintenance equipment, including lathes, shapers, planers, drill presses, hydraulic presses, grinders, etc., with motors, shafting, hangers, pulleys, etc.

13. Ventilating equipment, including items wholly identified with apparatus listed herein.

Note: When any item of equipment listed herein is wholly used in connection with equipment included in another account, its cost shall be included in such other account.

B. NUCLEAR PRODUCTION

320 Land and land rights.

This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used in connection with nuclear power generation. (See electric plant instruction 7.)

321. Structures and improvements.

This account shall include the cost in place of structures and improvements used and useful in connection with nuclear power generation. (See electric plant instruction 8.)

Note: Include vapor containers and nuclear production roads and railroads in this account.

322 Reactor plant equipment.

This account shall include the installed cost of reactors, reactor fuel handling and storage equipment, pressurizing equipment, coolant charging equipment, purification and discharging equipment, radioactive waste treatment and disposal equipment, boilers, steam and feed water piping, reactor and boiler apparatus and accessories and other reactor plant equipment used in the production of steam to be used primarily for generating electricity, including auxiliary superheat boilers and associated equipment in systems which change temperatures or pressure of steam from the reactor system.

Items

1. Auxiliary superheat boilers and associated fuel storage handling preparation and burning equipment, etc. (See account 312, Boiler Plant Equipment, for items, but exclude water supply, water flow lines, and steam lines, as well as other equipment not strictly within the superheat function.)

2. Boiler feed system, including feed water heaters, evaporator condensers, heater drain pumps, heater drainers, deaerators, and vent condensers, boiler feed pumps, surge tanks, feed water regulators, feed water measuring equipment, and all associated drivers.

3. Boilers and heat exchangers.

4. Instruments and devices, including all measuring, indicating, and recording equipment for reactor and boiler plant service together with mountings and supports.

5. Lighting systems.

6. Moderators, such as heavy water, graphite, etc., initial charge).

7. Reactor coolants; primary and secondary systems (initial charge).

8. Radioactive waste treatment and disposal equipment, including tanks, ion exchangers, incinerators, condensers, chimneys, and diluting fans and pumps.

9. Foundations and settings, especially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.

10. Reactor including shielding, control rods and mechanisms.

11. Reactor fuel handling equipment, including manipulating and extraction tools, underwater viewing equipment, seal cutting and welding equipment, fuel transfer equipment and fuel disassembly machinery.

12. Reactor fuel element failure detection system.

13. Reactor emergency poison container and injection system.

14. Reactor pressuring and pressure relief equipment, including pressurizing tanks and immersion heaters.

15. Reactor coolant or moderator circulation charging, purification, and discharging equipment, including tanks, pumps, heat exchangers, demineralizers, and storage.

16. Station piping, including pipes, valves, fittings, separators, traps, desuperheaters, hangers, excavation, covering, etc., for station piping system, including all-reactor coolant, steam, condensate, boiler feed and water supply piping, etc., but not condensing water, plumbing, building heating, oil, gas, or air piping.

17. Ventilating equipment.

18. Water purification equipment, including softeners, demineralizers, and accessories, evaporators and accessories, heat exchangers, filters, tanks for filtered or softened water, pumps, motors, etc.

19. Water supply systems, including pumps, motors, strainers, raw-water storage tanks, boiler wash pumps, intake and discharge pipes and tunnels not a part of a building.

20. Reactor plant cranes and hoists, and associated drives.

Note: When the system for supplying boiler or condenser water is elaborate, as when it includes a dam, reservoir, canal, pipe lines, or cooling ponds, the cost of such special facilities shall be charged to a subdivision of account 331, Structures and improvements.

323 Turbogenerator units.

This account shall include the cost installed of main turbine-driven units and accessory equipment used in generating electricity by steam.

2. Excitation system, including motor, turbine, and dual-drive exciter sets and rheostats, storage batteries and charging equipment, circuit breakers, panels and accessories, knife switches and accessories, surge arresters, instrument shunts, conductors and conduit, special supports for conductors and conduit, special switch, etc., special housings, protective screens, etc.

3. Generator main connections, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and interlocks, current transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, isolated panels and equipment, conductors and conduit, special supports for conductors and conduit, special housings, protective screens, etc.

4. Station buses, including and fault ground buses, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and interlocks, current transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, isolated panels and equipment, conductors and conduit, special supports for conductors and conduit, special housings, protective screens, etc.

5. Station control system, including station switchboards with panel wiring, panels with instruments and control equipment only, panels with switching equipment mounted or mechanically connected, truck-type boards complete, cubicles, station supervisory control boards, generator and exciter signal stands, temperature recording devices, frequency-control equipment, master clocks, watt-hour meters and synchronoscope in the turbine room, station totalizing wattmeter, boiler-room load indicator equipment, storage batteries, panels and charging sets, instrument transformers for ground buses, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and interlocks, rheostats and accessories, operating mechanisms and wiring, conductors and conduit, special supports, special housings, concrete pads, general station grounding system, fire-extinguishing system, and test equipment.

6. Station control system, including station switchboards with panel wiring, panels with instruments and control equipment only, panels with switching equipment mounted or mechanically connected, truck-type boards complete, cubicles, station supervisory control boards, generator and exciter signal stands, temperature recording devices, frequency-control equipment, master clocks, watt-hour meters and synchronoscope in the turbine room, station totalizing wattmeter, boiler-room load indicator equipment, storage batteries, panels and charging sets, instrument transformers for ground buses, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and interlocks, current transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, isolated panels and equipment, conductors and conduit, special supports for conductors and conduit, special housings, grounding switch, etc., special housings, protective screens, etc.

Note: When any item of equipment listed herein is used wholly to furnish power to equipment included in another account, its cost shall be included in such other account.

325 Miscellaneous power plant equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of miscellaneous equipment in and about the nuclear generating plant devoted to general station use, and which is not properly includible in any of the foregoing nuclear-power production accounts.

Items

1. Compressed air and vacuum cleaning systems, including tanks, compressors, exhausters, air filters, piping, etc.

2. Cranes and hoisting equipment, including crane, car, crane rail, monorails, hoists, etc., with electric and mechanical connections.

3. Fire-extinguishing equipment for general station use.

4. Foundations and settings specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.

5. Locomotive cranes not includible elsewhere.

6. Locomotives not included elsewhere.

7. Marine equipment, including boats, barges, etc.

8. Miscellaneous belts, pulleys, countershafts, etc.

9. Miscellaneous equipment, including atmospheric and weather recording devices, intrasite communication system, laboratory equipment, signal systems, fire alarms, emergency whistles and sirens, alarms, telephones, insect-control equipment, and other similar equipment.

10. Railway car or special shipping containers not includible elsewhere.

11. Refrigerating systems, including compressors, pumps, cooling coils, etc.

12. Station maintenance equipment, including lathes, shapers, planers, drill presses, hydraulic presses, grinders, etc., with motors, shafting, hangers, pulleys, etc.

13. Ventilating equipment, including items wholly identified with apparatus listed herein.

14. Station and area radiation monitoring equipment.

Note: When any item of equipment listed herein is wholly used in connection with equipment included in another account, its cost shall be included in such other account.

C. HYDRAULIC PRODUCTION

330 Land and land rights.

This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used in connection with hydraulic power generation.

(See electric plant instruction 7.)

331 Structures and improvements.

This account shall include the cost in place of structures and improvements used in connection with hydraulic power generation. (See electric plant instruction 8.)

332 Reservoirs, dams and waterways.

This account shall include the cost in place of facilities used for impounding, collecting, storage, diversion, regulation, and delivery of water used primarily for generating electricity.

Items

1. Bridges and culverts (when not a part of roads or railroads).

2. Clearing and preparing land.

3. Dams, including waterways, spillways, flash boards, spillway gates with operating mechanisms, tunnels, gate house, and fish ladders.

4. Dikes and embankments.

5. Electric system, including conductors, control system, transformers, lighting fixtures, etc.

6. Excavation, including shoring, bracing, bridging, refill, and disposal of excess excavated material.

7. Foundations and settings specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided; rack structures.

8. Intakes, including trash racks, rack cleaners, control gates and intake house when not a part of station structure.

9. Platforms, railings, steps, gratings, etc., appurtenant to structures listed herein.

10. Power line wholly identified with items included herein.

11. Retaining walls.

12. Water conductors and accessories, including canals, tunnels, flumes, penstocks, pipe conductors, forebays, tailraces, navigation locks and operating mechanisms, water-hammer and surge tanks, and supporting trestles and structures.

13. Water storage reservoirs, including dams, flashboards, spillway gates and operating mechanisms, inlet and outlet tunnels, regulating valves and valve towers, silt and mud sluicing tunnels with valve or gate towers, and all other structures wholly identified with any of the foregoing items.

333 Water wheels, turbines and generators.

This account shall include the cost installed of water wheels and hydraulic turbines (from connection with penstock or flume to tailrace) and generators driven thereby devoted to the production of electricity by water power or for the production of power for industrial or other purposes, if the equipment used for such purposes is a part of the hydraulic power plant works.

Items

1. Exciter water wheels and turbines, including runners, gates, governors, pressure regulators, oil pumps, operating mechanisms, scroll cases, draft tubes, and draft-tube supports.

2. Fire-extinguishing equipment.

3. Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.

4. Generator cooling system, including air cooling and washing apparatus, air fans and accessories, air ducts, etc.

5. Generators—main, a.c. or d.c., including field rheostats and connections for self-excited units and excitation system when identified with the generating unit.

6. Lighting systems.

7. Lubricating systems, including gauges, filters, tanks, pumps, piping, etc.

8. Main penstock valves and appurtenances, including main valves, control equipment, bypass valves and fittings, and other accessories.

9. Main turbines and water wheels, including runners, gates, governors, pressure regulators, oil pumps, operating mechanisms, scroll cases, draft tubes, and draft-tube supports.

10. Mechanical meters and recording instruments.

11. Miscellaneous water-wheel equipment, including gauges, thermometers, meters, and other instruments.

12. Platforms, railings, steps, gratings, etc., appurtenant to apparatus listed herein.

13. Scroll case filling and drain system, including gates, pipe, valves, fittings, etc.

14. Water-actuated pressure-regulator system, including tanks and housings, pipes, valves, fittings and insulations, piers and anchorage, and excavation and backfill.

334 Accessory electric equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of auxiliary generating apparatus, conversion equipment, and equipment used primarily in connection with the control and switching of electric energy produced by hydraulic power and the protection of electric circuits and equipment, except electric motors used to drive equipment included in other accounts, such motors being included in the account in which the equipment with which they are associated is included.

Items

1. Auxiliary generators, including boards, compartments, switching equipment, control equipment, and connections to auxiliary power bus.

2. Excitation system, including motor, turbine, and dual-drive exciter sets and rheostats, storage batteries and charging equipment, circuit breakers, panels and accessories, knife switches and accessories, surge arresters, instrument shunts, conductors and conduit, special supports for conductors and conduit, special switch, etc., special housings, protective screens, etc.

3. Generator main connections, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and interlocks, current transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, isolated panels and equipment, conductors and conduit, special supports for conductors and conduit, special housings, protective screens, etc.

4. Station buses, including and fault ground buses, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and interlocks, current transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, isolated panels and equipment, conductors and conduit, special supports for conductors and conduit, special housings, protective screens, etc.

5. Station control system, including station switchboards with panel wiring, panels with instruments and control equipment only, panels with switching equipment mounted or mechanically connected, truck-type boards complete, cubicles, station supervisory control boards, generator and exciter signal stands, temperature recording devices, frequency-control equipment, master clocks, watt-hour meters and synchronoscope in the turbine room, station totalizing wattmeter, boiler-room load indicator equipment, storage batteries, panels and charging sets, instrument transformers for ground buses, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and interlocks, rheostats and accessories, operating mechanisms and wiring, conductors and conduit, special supports, special housings, concrete pads, general station grounding system, fire-extinguishing system, and test equipment.

6. Station control system, including station switchboards with panel wiring, panels with instruments and control equipment only, panels with switching equipment mounted or mechanically connected, truck-type boards complete, cubicles, station supervisory control boards, generator and exciter signal stands, temperature recording devices, frequency-control equipment, master clocks, watt-hour meters and synchronoscope in the turbine room, station totalizing wattmeter, boiler-room load indicator equipment, storage batteries, panels and charging sets, instrument transformers for ground buses, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and interlocks, current transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, isolated panels and equipment, conductors and conduit, special supports for conductors and conduit, special housings, grounding switch, etc., special housings, protective screens, etc.

Note: When any item of equipment listed herein is used wholly to furnish power to equipment included in another account, its cost shall be included in such other account.

335 Miscellaneous power plant equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of miscellaneous equipment in and about the hydroelectric generating plant which is devoted to general station use and is not properly includible in other hydraulic production accounts.

ITEMS

1. Compressed air and vacuum cleaning systems, including tanks, compressors, exhausters, air filters, piping, etc.
2. Cranes and hoisting equipment, including cranes, cars, crane rails, monorails, hoists, etc., with electric and mechanical connections.
3. Fire-extinguishing equipment for general station use.
4. Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
5. Locomotive cranes not includible elsewhere.
6. Locomotives not includible elsewhere.
7. Marine equipment, including boats, barges, etc.
8. Miscellaneous belts, pulleys, countershafts, etc.
9. Miscellaneous equipment, including atmospheric and weather indicating devices, intrasite communication equipment, laboratory equipment, insect control equipment, signal systems, callophones, emergency whistles and sirens, fire alarms, and other similar equipment.
10. Railway cars, not includible elsewhere.
11. Refrigerating system, including compressors, pumps, cooling coils, etc.
12. Station maintenance equipment, including lathes, shapers, planers, drill presses, hydraulic presses, grinders, etc., with motors, shafting, hangers, pulleys, etc.
13. Ventilating equipment, including items wholly identified with apparatus listed herein.

NOTE: When any item of equipment, listed herein is used wholly in connection with equipment included in another account, its cost shall be included in such other account.

336 Roads, railroads and bridges.

This account shall include the cost of roads, railroads, trails, bridges, and trestles used primarily as production facilities. It includes also those roads, etc., necessary to connect the plant with highway transportation systems, except when such roads are dedicated to public use and maintained by public authorities.

ITEMS

1. Bridges, including foundations, piers, girders, trusses, flooring, etc.
2. Clearing land.
3. Railroads, including grading, ballast, ties, rails, culverts, hoists, etc.
4. Roads, including grading, surfacing, culverts, etc.
5. Structures, constructed and maintained in connection with items listed herein.
6. Trails, including grading, surfacing, culverts, etc.
7. Trestles, including foundations, piers, girders, trusses, flooring, etc.

NOTE A: Roads intended primarily for connecting employees' houses with the power plant shall not be included herein but in account 931, Structures and Improvements.

NOTE B: The cost of temporary roads, bridges, etc., necessary during the period of construction but abandoned or dedicated to public use upon completion of the plant, shall not be included herein but shall be charged to the accounts appropriate for the construction.

D. OTHER PRODUCTION

340 Land and land rights.

This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used in connection with other power generation. (See electric plant instruction 7.)

341 Structures and improvements.

This account shall include the cost in place of structures and improvements used in connection with other power generation. (See electric plant instruction 8.)

342 Fuel holders, producers, and accessories.

This account shall include the cost installed of fuel handling and storage equipment used between the point of fuel delivery to the station and the intake pipe through which fuel is directly drawn to the engine, also the cost of gas producers and accessories devoted to the production of gas for use in prime movers driving main electric generators.

ITEMS

1. Blower and fans.
2. Boilers and pumps.
3. Economizers.
4. Exhauster outfits.
5. Flues and piping.
6. Pipe system.
7. Producers.
8. Regenerators.
9. Scrubbers.
10. Steam injectors.
11. Tanks for storage of oil, gasoline, etc.
12. Vaporizers.

343 Prime movers.

This account shall include the cost installed of Diesel or other prime movers devoted to the generation of electric energy, together with their auxiliaries.

ITEMS

1. Air-filtering system.
2. Belting, shafting, pulleys, reduction gearing, etc.
3. Cooling system, including towers, pumps, tanks, and piping.
4. Cranes, hoists, etc., including items wholly identified with apparatus listed herein.
5. Engines, Diesel, gasoline, gas, or other internal combustion.
6. Foundations and settings specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
7. Governors.
8. Ignition system.
9. Inlet valve.
10. Lighting systems.
11. Lubricating systems, including filters, tanks, pumps, and piping.
12. Mechanical meters, including gauges, recording instruments, sampling, and testing equipment.
13. Mufflers.
14. Piping.
15. Starting systems, compressed air, or other, including compressors and drives, tanks, piping, motors, boards and connections, storage tanks, etc.
16. Steelwork, specially constructed for apparatus listed herein.
17. Waste heat boilers, antifluctuators, etc.

344 Generators.

This account shall include the cost installed of Diesel or other power driven main generators.

ITEMS

1. Cranes, hoists, etc., including items wholly identified with such apparatus.
2. Fire-extinguishing equipment.
3. Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
4. Generator cooling system, including air cooling and washing apparatus, air fans and accessories, air ducts, etc.
5. Generators—main, a.c. or d.c., including field rheostats and connections for self-excited units and excitation system when identified with the generating unit.
6. Lighting systems.
7. Lubricating system, including tanks, filters, strainers, pumps, piping, coolers, etc.
8. Mechanical meters, and recording instruments.
9. Platforms, railings, steps, gratings, etc., appurtenant to apparatus listed herein.

NOTE: If prime movers and generators are so integrated that it is not practical to classify them separately, the entire unit may be included in account 344, Generators.

345 Accessory electric equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of auxiliary generating apparatus, conversion equipment, and equipment used primarily in connection with the control and switching of electric energy produced in other power generating stations, and the protection of electric circuits and equipment, except electric motors used to drive equipment included in other accounts. Such motors shall be included in the account in which the equipment with which it is associated is included.

ITEMS

1. Auxiliary generators, including boards, compartments, switching equipment, control equipment, and connections to auxiliary power bus.
2. Excitation system, including motor, turbine and dual-drive exciter sets and rheostats, storage batteries and charging equipment, circuit breakers, panels and accessories, knife switches and accessories, surge arresters, instrument shunts, conductors and conduit, special supports for conduit, generator field and exciter switch panels, exciter bus tie panels, generator and exciter rheostats, etc., special housings, protective screens, etc.
3. Generator main connections, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and accessories, operating mechanisms and interlocks, current transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, isolated panels and equipment, conductors and conduit, special supports for generator main leads, grounding switch, etc., special housing, protective screens, etc.
4. Station control system, including station switchboards with panel wiring, panels with instruments and control equipment only, panels with switching equipment mounted or mechanically connected, trunk-type boards complete, cubicles, station supervisory control boards, generator and exciter signal stands, temperature-recording devices, frequency control equipment, master clocks, watt-hour meter, station totalizing wattmeter, storage batteries, panels and charging sets, instrument transformers for supervisory metering, conductors and conduit, special supports for conduit, switchboards, batteries, special housing for batteries, protective screens, doors, etc.
5. Station buses, including main, auxiliary, transfer, synchronizing and fault ground buses, including oil circuit breakers and accessories, disconnecting switches and accessories, operating mechanisms and interlocks, reactors and accessories, voltage regulators and accessories, compensators, resistors, starting transformers, current transformers, potential transformers, protective relays, storage batteries and charging equipment, isolated panels and equipment, conductors and conduit, special supports, special housings, concrete pads, general station ground system, special fire-extinguishing system, and test equipment.

NOTE A: Do not include in this account transformers and other equipment used for changing the voltage or frequency of electric energy for the purpose of transmission or distribution.

NOTE B: When any item of equipment listed herein is used wholly to furnish power to equipment included in another account, its cost shall be included in such other account.

346 Miscellaneous power plant equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of miscellaneous equipment in and about the other power generating plant, devoted to general station use, and not properly includible in any of the foregoing other power production accounts.

ITEMS

1. Compressed air and vacuum cleaning systems, including tanks, compressors, exhausters, air filters, piping, etc.
2. Cranes and hoisting equipment, including cranes, cars, crane rails, monorails, hoists, etc., with electric and mechanical connections.
3. Fire-extinguishing equipment for general station use.
4. Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
5. Miscellaneous equipment, including atmospheric and weather indicating devices, intrasite communication equipment, laboratory equipment, signal systems, callophones, emergency whistles and sirens, fire alarms, and other similar equipment.
6. Miscellaneous belts, pulleys, countershafts, etc.
7. Refrigerating system including compressors, pumps, cooling coils, etc.
8. Station maintenance equipment, including lathes, shapers, planers, drill presses, hydraulic presses, grinders, etc., with motors, shafting, hangers, pulleys, etc.
9. Ventilating equipment, including items wholly identified with apparatus listed herein.

NOTE: When any item of equipment, listed herein is used wholly in connection with equipment included in another account, its cost shall be included in such other account.

3. TRANSMISSION PLANT

350 Land and land rights.

This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used in connection with transmission operations. (See electric plant instruction 7.)

351 Clearing land and rights of way.

This account shall include the cost of initial or original clearing of transmission land and rights of way.

NOTE: The cost of removing stumps, grading, excavating, etc., incident to the preparation of foundations for towers or other structures or to the construction of roads, trails, and bridges, shall not be included in this account but in the accounts directly benefited.

352 Structures and improvements.

This account shall include the cost in place of structures and improvements used in connection with transmission operations. (See electric plant instruction 8.)

353 Station equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of transforming, conversion, and switching equipment used for the purpose of changing the characteristics of electricity in connection with its transmission or for controlling transmission circuits.

ITEMS

1. Bus compartments, concrete, brick, and sectional steel, including items permanently attached thereto.
2. Conduit, including concrete and iron duct runs not a part of a building.
3. Control equipment, including batteries, battery charging equipment, transformers, remote relay boards, and connections.
4. Conversion equipment, including transformers, indoor and outdoor, frequency changers, motor generator sets, rectifiers, synchronous converters, motors, cooling equipment, and associated connections.
5. Fences.
6. Fixed and synchronous condensers, including transformers, switching equipment, blowers, motors and connections.
7. Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
8. General station equipment, including air compressors, motors, hoists, cranes, test equipment, ventilating equipment, etc.
9. Platforms, railings, steps, gratings, etc., appurtenant to apparatus listed herein.
10. Primary and secondary voltage connections, including bus runs and supports, insulators, potheads, lightning arresters, cable and wire runs from and to outdoor connections or to manholes and the associated regulators, reactors, resistors, surge arresters, and accessory equipment.
11. Switchboards, including meters, relays, control wiring, etc.
12. Switching equipment, indoor and outdoor, including oil circuit breakers and operating mechanisms, truck switches, and disconnect switches.
13. Tools and appliances.

354 Towers and fixtures.

This account shall include the cost installed of towers and appurtenant fixtures used for supporting overhead transmission conductors.

ITEMS

1. Anchors, guys, braces.
2. Brackets.
3. Crossarms, including braces.
4. Excavation, backfill, and disposal of excess excavated material.
5. Foundations.
6. Guards.
7. Insulator pins and suspension bolts.
8. Ladders and steps.
9. Railings, etc.
10. Towers.

355 Poles and fixtures.

This account shall include the cost installed of transmission line poles, wood, steel, concrete, or other material, together with appurtenant fixtures used for supporting overhead transmission conductors.

ITEMS

1. Anchors, head arm and other guys, including guy guards, guy clamps, strain insulators, pole plates, etc.
2. Brackets.
3. Crossarms and braces.
4. Excavation and backfill, including disposal of excess excavated material.
5. Extension arms.
6. Gaining, roofing, stenciling, and tagging.
7. Insulator pins and suspension bolts.
8. Paving.
9. Pole steps.
10. Poles, wood, steel, concrete, or other material.
11. Racks complete with insulators.
12. Reinforcing and stubbing.
13. Settings.
14. Shaving and painting.

356 Overhead conductors and devices.

This account shall include the cost installed of overhead conductors and devices used for transmission purposes.

ITEMS

1. Circuit breakers.
2. Conductors, including insulated and bare wires and cables.
3. Ground wires and ground clamps.
4. Insulators, including pin, suspension, and other types.
5. Lightning arresters.
6. Switches.
7. Other line devices.

357 Underground conduit.

This account shall include the cost installed of underground conduit and tunnels used for housing transmission cables or wires. (See electric plant instruction 14.)

ITEMS

1. Conduit, concrete, brick or tile, including iron pipe, fiber pipe, Murray duct, and standpipe on pole or tower.
2. Excavation, including shoring, bracing, bridging, backfill, and disposal of excess excavated material.
3. Foundations and settings specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
4. Lighting systems.
5. Manholes, concrete or brick, including iron or steel, frames and covers, hatchways, gratings, ladders, cable racks and hangers, etc., permanently attached to manholes.
6. Municipal inspection.
7. Pavement disturbed, including cutting and replacing pavement, pavement base and sidewalks.
8. Permits.
9. Protection of street openings.
10. Removal and relocation of subsurface obstructions.
11. Sewer connections, including drains, traps, tide valves, check valves, etc.
12. Sumps, including pumps.
13. Ventilating equipment.

358 Underground conductors and devices.

This account shall include the cost installed of underground conductors and devices used for transmission purposes.

ITEMS

1. Armored conductors, buried, including insulators, insulating materials, splices, potheads, trenching, etc.
2. Armored conductors, submarine, including insulators, insulating materials, splices in terminal chambers, potheads, etc.
3. Cables in standpipe, including pothead and connection from terminal chamber of manhole to insulators on pole.
4. Circuit breakers.
5. Fireproofing, in connection with any items listed herein.
6. Hollow-core oil-filled cable, including straight or stop joints, pressure tanks, auxiliary air tanks, feeding tanks, terminals, potheads and connections, ventilating equipment, etc.
7. Lead and fabric covered conductors, including insulators, compound filled, oil filled, or vacuum splices, potheads, etc.
8. Lightning arresters.
9. Municipal inspection.
10. Permits.
11. Protection of street openings.
12. Racking of cables.
13. Switches.
14. Other line devices.

359 Roads and trails.

This account shall include the cost of roads, trails, and bridges used primarily as transmission facilities.

ITEMS

1. Bridges, including foundation piers, girders, trusses, flooring, etc.
2. Clearing land.
3. Roads, including grading, surfacing, culverts, etc.
4. Structures, constructed and maintained in connection with items included herein.
5. Trails, including grading, surfacing, culverts, etc.

NOTE: The cost of temporary roads, bridges, etc., necessary during the period of construction but abandoned or dedicated to public use upon completion of the plant, shall be charged to the accounts appropriate for the construction.

4. DISTRIBUTION PLANT

360 Land and land rights.

This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used in connection with distribution operations. (See electric plant instruction 7.)

NOTE: Do not include in this account the cost of permits to erect poles, towers, etc., or to trim trees. (See account 364, Poles, Towers and Fixtures, and account 365, Overhead Conductors and Devices.)

361 Structures and improvements.

This account shall include the cost in place of structures and improvements used in connection with distribution operations. (See electric plant instruction 8.)

362 Station equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of station equipment, including transformer banks, etc., which are used for the purpose of changing the characteristics of electricity in connection with its distribution.

ITEMS

1. Bus compartments, concrete, brick and sectional steel, including items permanently attached thereto.
2. Conduit, including concrete and iron duct runs not part of building.
3. Control equipment, including batteries, battery charging equipment, transformers, remote relay boards, and connections.
4. Conversion equipment, indoor and outdoor, frequency changers, motor generator sets, rectifiers, synchronous converters, motors, cooling equipment, and associated connections.
5. Fences.
6. Fixed and synchronous condensers, including transformers, switching equipment, blowers, motors, and connections.
7. Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
8. General station equipment, including air compressors, motors, hoists, cranes, test equipment, ventilating equipment, etc.
9. Platforms, railings, steps, gratings, etc., appurtenant to apparatus listed herein.
10. Primary and secondary voltage connections, including bus runs and supports, insulators, potheads, lightning arresters, cable and wire runs from and to outdoor connections or to manholes and the associated regulators, reactors, resistors, surge arresters, and accessory equipment.
11. Switchboards, including meters, relays, control wiring, etc.
12. Switching equipment, indoor and outdoor, including oil circuit breakers and operating mechanisms, truck switches, disconnect switches.

NOTE: The cost of rectifiers, series transformers, and other special station equipment devoted exclusively to street lighting service shall not be included in this account, but in account 373, Street Lighting and Signal Systems.

363 Storage battery equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of storage battery equipment used for the purpose of supplying electricity to meet emergency or peak demands.

ITEMS

1. Batteries, including elements, tanks, tank insulators, etc.
2. Battery room connections, including cable or bus runs and connections.
3. Battery room flooring, when specially laid for supporting batteries.
4. Charging equipment, including motor generator sets and other charging equipment and connections, and cable runs from generator or station bus to battery room connections.
5. Miscellaneous equipment, including instruments, water stills, etc.
6. Switching equipment, including end-cell switches and connections, boards and panels, used exclusively for battery control, not part of general station switchboard.
7. Ventilating equipment, including fans and motors, louvers, and ducts not part of building.

NOTE: Storage batteries used for control and general station purposes shall not be included in this account but in the account appropriate for their use.

364 Poles, towers and fixtures.

This account shall include the cost installed of poles, towers, and appurtenant fixtures used for supporting overhead distribution conductors and service wires.

ITEMS

1. Anchors, head arm, and other guys, including guy guards, guy clamps, strain insulators, pole plates, etc.
2. Brackets.
3. Crossarms and braces.
4. Excavation and backfill, including disposal of excess excavated material.
5. Extension arms.
6. Foundations.
7. Guards.
8. Insulator pins and suspension bolts.
9. Paving.
10. Permits for construction.
11. Pole steps and ladders.
12. Poles, wood, steel, concrete, or other material.
13. Racks complete with insulators.
14. Railings.
15. Reinforcing and stubbing.
16. Settings.
17. Shaving, painting, gaining, roofing, stenciling, and tagging.
18. Towers.
19. Transformer racks and platforms.

365 Overhead conductors and devices.

This account shall include the cost installed of overhead conductors and devices used for distribution purposes.

ITEMS

1. Circuit breakers.
2. Conductors, including insulated and bare wires and cables.
3. Ground wires, clamps, etc.
4. Insulators, including pin, suspension, and other types, and tie wire or clamps.
5. Lightning arresters.
6. Railroad and highway crossing guards.
7. Splices.
8. Switches.
9. Tree trimming, initial cost including the cost of permits therefor.
10. Other line devices.

NOTE: The cost of conductors used solely for street lighting or signal systems shall not be included in this account but in account 373, Street Lighting and Signal Systems.

366 Underground conduit.

This account shall include the cost installed of underground conduit and tunnels used for housing distribution cables or wires.

ITEMS

1. Conduit, concrete, brick and tile, including iron pipe, fiber pipe, Murray duct, and standpipe on pole or tower.
2. Excavation, including shoring, bracing, bridging, backfill, and disposal of excess excavated material.
3. Foundations and settings specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the apparatus for which constructed.
4. Lighting systems.
5. Manholes, concrete or brick, including iron or steel frames and covers, hatchways, gratings, ladders, cable racks and hangers, etc., permanently attached to manholes.
6. Municipal inspection.
7. Pavement disturbed, including cutting and replacing pavement, pavement base, and sidewalks.
8. Permits.
9. Protection of street openings.
10. Removal and relocation of subsurface obstructions.
11. Sewer connections, including drains, traps, tide valves, check valves, etc.
12. Sumps, including pumps.
13. Ventilating equipment.

NOTE: The cost of underground conduit used solely for street lighting or signal systems shall be included in account 373, Street Lighting and Signal Systems.

367 Underground conductors and devices.

This account shall include the cost installed of underground conductors and devices used for distribution purposes.

ITEMS

1. Armored conductors, buried, including insulators, insulating materials, splices, potheads, trenching, etc.
2. Armored conductors, submarine, including insulators, insulating materials, splices in terminal chamber, potheads, etc.
3. Cables in standpipe, including pothead and connection from terminal chamber or manhole to insulators on pole.
4. Circuit breakers.
5. Fireproofing, in connection with any items listed herein.
6. Hollow-core oil-filled cable, including straight or stop joints, pressure tanks, auxiliary air tanks, feeding tanks, terminals, potheads and connections, etc.
7. Lead and fabric covered conductors, including insulators, compound-filled, oil-filled or vacuum splices, potheads, etc.
8. Lightning arresters.
9. Municipal inspection.
10. Permits.
11. Protection of street openings.
12. Backing of cables.
13. Switches.
14. Other line devices.

NOTE: The cost of underground conductors and devices used solely for street lighting or signal systems shall be included in account 373, Street Lighting and Signal Systems.

368 Line transformers.

A. This account shall include the cost installed of overhead and underground distribution line transformers and pole-type and underground voltage regulators owned by the utility, for use in transforming electricity to the voltage at which it is to be used by the customer, whether actually in service or held in reserve.

B. When a transformer is permanently retired from service, the original installed cost thereof shall be credited to this account.

C. The records covering line transformers shall be so kept that the utility can furnish the number of transformers of various capacities in service and those in reserve, and the location and the use of each transformer.

ITEMS

1. Installation, labor of (first installation only).
2. Transformer cut-out boxes.
3. Transformer lightning arresters.
4. Transformers, line and network.
5. Capacitors.
6. Network protectors.

NOTE: The cost of removing and resetting line transformers shall not be charged to this account but to account 583, Overhead Line Expenses, or account 584, Underground Line Expenses, as appropriate. The cost of line transformers used solely for street lighting or signal systems shall be included in account 373, Street Lighting and Signal Systems.

369 Services.

This account shall include the cost installed of overhead and underground conductors leading from a point where wires leave the last pole of the overhead system or the distribution box or manhole, or the top of the pole of the distribution line, to the point of connection with the customer's outlet or wiring. Conduit used for underground service conductors shall be included herein.

ITEMS

1. Brackets.
2. Cables and wires.
3. Conduit.
4. Insulators.
5. Municipal inspection.
6. Overhead to underground, including conduit or standpipe and conductor from last splice on pole to connection with customer's wiring.
7. Pavement disturbed, including cutting and replacing pavement, pavement base, and sidewalks.
8. Permits.
9. Protection of street openings.
10. Service switch.
11. Suspension wire.

370 Meters.

A. This account shall include the cost installed of meters or devices and appurtenances thereto, for use in measuring the electricity delivered to its users, whether actually in service or held in reserve.

B. When a meter is permanently retired from service, the installed cost included herein shall be credited to this account.

C. The records covering meters shall be so kept that the utility can furnish information as to the number of meters of various capacities in service and in reserve as well as the location of each meter owned.

ITEMS

1. Alternating current watt-hour meters.
2. Current limiting devices.
3. Demand indicators.
4. Demand meters.
5. Direct current watt-hour meters.
6. Graphic demand meters.
7. Installation, labor of (first installation only).
8. Instrument transformers.
9. Maximum demand meters.
10. Meter badges and their attachments.
11. Meter boards and boxes.
12. Meter fittings, connections, and shelves (first set).
13. Meter switches and cut-outs.
14. Prepayment meters.
15. Protective devices.
16. Testing new meters.

NOTE A: This account shall not include meters for recording output of a generating station, substation meters, etc. It includes only those meters used to record energy delivered to customers.

NOTE B: The cost of removing and resetting meters shall be charged to account 586, Meter Expenses.

371 Installations on customers' premises.

This account shall include the cost installed of equipment on the customer's side of a meter when the utility incurs such cost and when the utility retains title to and assumes full responsibility for maintenance and replacement of such property. This account shall not include leased equipment, for which see account 372, Leased Property on Customers' Premises.

ITEMS

1. Cable vaults.
2. Commercial lamp equipment.
3. Foundations and settings specially provided for equipment included herein.
4. Frequency changer sets.
5. Motor generator sets.
6. Motors.
7. Switchboard panels, high or low tension.
8. Wire and cable connections to incoming cables.

NOTE: Do not include in this account any costs incurred in connection with merchandising, jobbing, or contract work activities.

372 Leased property on customers' premises.

This account shall include the cost of electric motors, transformers, and other equipment on customers' premises (including municipal corporations), leased or loaned to customers, but not including property held for sale.

NOTE A: The cost of setting and connecting such appliances or equipment on the premises of customers and the cost of resetting or removal shall not be charged to this account but to operating expenses, account 587, Customer Installations Expenses.

NOTE B: Do not include in this account any costs incurred in connection with merchandising, jobbing, or contract work activities.

373 Street lighting and signal systems.

This account shall include the cost installed of equipment used wholly for public street and highway lighting or traffic, fire alarm, police, and other signal systems.

ITEMS

1. Armored conductors, buried or submarine, including insulators, insulating materials, splices, trenching, etc.
2. Automatic control equipment.
3. Conductors, overhead or underground, including lead or fabric covered, parkway cables, etc., including splices, insulators, etc.
4. Lamps, arc, incandescent, or other types, including glassware, suspension fixtures, brackets, etc.
5. Municipal inspection.
6. Ornamental lamp posts.
7. Pavement disturbed, including cutting and replacing pavement, pavement base, and sidewalks.
8. Permits.
9. Posts and standards.
10. Protection of street openings.
11. Relays or time clocks.
12. Series contactors.
13. Switches.
14. Transformers, pole or underground.

5. GENERAL PLANT

389 Land and land rights.

This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used for utility purposes, the cost of which is not properly includible in other land and land rights accounts. (See electric plant instruction 7.)

390 Structures and improvements.

This account shall include the cost in place of structures and improvements used for utility purposes, the cost of which is not properly includible in other structures and improvements accounts. (See electric plant instruction 8.)

391 Office furniture and equipment.

This account shall include the cost of office furniture and equipment owned by the utility and devoted to utility service, and not permanently attached to buildings, except the cost of such furniture and equipment which the utility elects to assign to other plant accounts on a functional basis.

ITEMS

1. Bookcases and shelves.
2. Desks, chairs, and desk equipment.
3. Drafting-room equipment.
4. Filing, storage, and other cabinets.
5. Floor covering.
6. Library and library equipment.
7. Mechanical office equipment, such as accounting machines, typewriters, etc.
8. Safes.
9. Tables.

392 Transportation equipment.

This account shall include the cost of transportation vehicles used for utility purposes.

ITEMS

1. Airplanes.
2. Automobiles.
3. Bicycles.
4. Electrical vehicles.
5. Motor trucks.
6. Motorcycles.
7. Repair cars or trucks.
8. Tractors and trailers.
9. Other transportation vehicles.

393 Stores equipment.

This account shall include the cost of equipment used for the receiving, shipping, handling, and storage of materials and supplies.

ITEMS

1. Chain falls.
2. Counters.
3. Cranes (portable).
4. Elevating and stacking equipment (portable).
5. Hoists.
6. Lockers.
7. Scales.
8. Shelving.

9. Storage bins.
10. Trucks, hand and power driven.
11. Wheelbarrows.

394 Tools, shop and garage equipment.

This account shall include the cost of tools, implements, and equipment used in construction, repair work, general shops and garages and not specifically provided for or includible in other accounts.

ITEMS

1. Air compressors.
2. Anvils.
3. Automobile repair shop equipment.
4. Battery charging equipment.
5. Belts, shafts and countershafts.
6. Boilers.
7. Cable pulling equipment.
8. Concrete mixers.
9. Drill presses.
10. Derricks.
11. Electric equipment.
12. Engines.
13. Forges.
14. Furnaces.
15. Foundations and settings specially constructed for and not expected to outlast the equipment for which provided.
16. Gas producers.
17. Gasoline pumps, oil pumps and storage tanks.
18. Greasing tools and equipment.
19. Hoists.
20. Ladders.
21. Lathes.
22. Machine tools.
23. Motor-driven tools.
24. Motors.
25. Pipe threading and cutting tools.
26. Pneumatic tools.
27. Pumps.
28. Riveters.
29. Smithing equipment.
30. Tool racks.
31. Vises.
32. Welding apparatus.
33. Work benches.

395 Laboratory equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of laboratory equipment used for general laboratory purposes and not specifically provided for or includible in other departmental or functional plant accounts.

ITEMS

1. Ammeters.
2. Current batteries.
3. Frequency changers.
4. Galvanometers.
5. Inductometers.
6. Laboratory standard millivolt meters.
7. Laboratory standard volt meters.
8. Meter-testing equipment.
9. Millivolt meters.
10. Motor generator sets.
11. Panels.
12. Phantom loads.
13. Portable graphic ammeters, voltmeters, and wattmeters.
14. Portable loading devices.
15. Potential batteries.
16. Potentiometers.
17. Rotating standards.
18. Standard cell, reactance, resistor, and shunt.
19. Switchboards.
20. Synchronous timers.
21. Testing panels.
22. Testing resistors.
23. Transformers.
24. Voltmeters.
25. Other testing, laboratory, or research equipment not provided for elsewhere.

396 Power operated equipment.

This account shall include the cost of power operated equipment used in construction or repair work exclusive of equipment includible in other accounts. Include, also, the tools and accessories acquired for use with such equipment and the vehicle on which such equipment is mounted.

ITEMS

1. Air compressors, including driving unit and vehicle.
2. Back filling machines.
3. Boring machines.
4. Bulldozers.
5. Cranes and hoists.
6. Diggers.
7. Engines.
8. Pile drivers.
9. Pipe cleaning machines.
10. Pipe coating or wrapping machines.
11. Tractors—Crawler type.
12. Trenchers.
13. Other power operated equipment.

NOTE: It is intended that this account include only such large units as are generally self-propelled or mounted on movable equipment.

397 Communication equipment.

This account shall include the cost installed of telephone, telegraph, and wireless equipment for general use in connection with utilitiy operations.

ITEMS

1. Antennae.
2. Booths.
3. Cables.
4. Distributing boards.
5. Extension cords.
6. Gongs.
7. Hand sets, manual and dial.
8. Insulators.
9. Intercommunicating sets.
10. Loading coils.
11. Operators' desks.
12. Poles and fixtures used wholly for telephone or telegraph wire.
13. Radio transmitting and receiving sets.
14. Remote control equipment and lines.
15. Sending keys.
16. Storage batteries.
17. Switchboards.
18. Telautograph circuit connections.
19. Telegraph receiving sets.
20. Telephone and telegraph circuits.
21. Testing instruments.
22. Towers.
23. Underground conduit used wholly for telephone or telegraph wires and cable wires.

398 Miscellaneous equipment.

This account shall include the cost of equipment, apparatus, etc., used in the utility operations, which is not includible in any other account of this system of accounts.

ITEMS

1. Hospital and infirmary equipment.
2. Kitchen equipment.
3. Recreation equipment.
4. Radios.
5. Restaurant equipment.
6. Soda fountains.
7. Operators' cottage furnishings.
8. Other miscellaneous equipment.

NOTE: Miscellaneous equipment of the nature indicated above wherever practicable shall be included in the utility plant accounts on a functional basis.

399 Other tangible property.

This account shall include the cost of tangible utility plant not provided for elsewhere.

Income Accounts

1. UTILITY OPERATING INCOME

400 Operating revenues.

There shall be shown under this caption the total amount included in the electric operating revenue accounts provided herein.

401 Operation expense.

There shall be shown under this caption the total amount included in the electric operation expense accounts provided herein. (See note to operating expense instruction 3.)

402 Maintenance expense.

There shall be shown under this caption the total amount included in the electric maintenance expense accounts provided herein.

403 Depreciation expense.

A. This account shall include the amount of depreciation expense for all classes of depreciable electric plant in service except such depreciation expense as is chargeable to clearing accounts or to account 416, Costs and Expenses of Merchandising, Jobbing and Contract Work.

B. The utility shall keep such records of property and property retirements as will reflect the service life of property which has been retired and aid in estimating probable service life by mortality, turnover, or other appropriate methods; and also such records as will reflect the percentage of salvage and costs of removal for property retired from each account, or subdivision thereof, for depreciable electric plant.

NOTE A: Depreciation expense applicable to property included in account 104, Electric Plant Leased to Others, shall be charged to account 413, Expenses of Electric Plant Leased to Others.

NOTE B: Depreciation expense applicable to transportation equipment, shop equipment, tools, work equipment, power operated equipment and other general equipment may be charged to clearing accounts as necessary in order to obtain a proper distribution of expenses between construction and operation.

404 Amortization of limited-term electric plant.

This account shall include amortization charges applicable to amounts included in the electric plant accounts for limited-term franchises, licenses, patent rights, limited-term interests in land, and expenditures on leased property where the service life of the improvements is terminable by action of the lease. The charges to this account shall be such as to distribute the book cost of each investment as evenly as may be over the period of its benefit to the utility. (See account 111, Accumulated Provision for Amortization of Electric Plant in Service.)

405 Amortization of other electric plant.

A. When authorized by the Commission, this account shall include charges for amortization of intangible or other electric plant in service which does not have a definite or terminable life and which is not subject to charges for depreciation expense.

B. This account shall be supported in such detail as to show the amortization applicable to each investment being amortized, together with the book cost of the investment and the period over which it is being written off.

406 Amortization of electric plant acquisition adjustments.

This account shall be debited or credited, as the case may be, with amounts includible in operating expenses, pursuant to approval or order of the Commission, for the purpose of providing for the extinguishment of the amount in account 114, Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustments.

407 Amortization of property losses.

This account shall be charged with amounts credited to account 182, Extraordinary Property Losses, when the Commission has authorized the amount in the latter account to be amortized by charges to electric operations.

408 Taxes other than income taxes.

A. This account shall include the amount of ad valorem, gross revenue or gross receipts taxes, state unemployment insurance, franchise taxes, federal excise taxes, social security taxes, and all other taxes assessed by federal, state, county, municipal, or other local governmental authorities, which are properly chargeable to electric operations, except income taxes.

B. This account shall be charged in each accounting period with the amount of taxes which is applicable thereto, with concurrent credits to account 236, Taxes Accrued, or account 165, Prepayments, as appropriate. When it is not possible to determine the exact amount of taxes, the amount shall be estimated and adjustments made in current accruals as the actual tax levies become known.

C. The charges to this account shall be made or supported so as to show the amount of each tax and the basis upon which each charge is made. In the case of a utility rendering more than one utility service, taxes of the kind includible in this account shall be assigned directly to the utility department the operation of which gave rise to the tax in so far as practicable. Where the tax is not attributable to a specific utility department, it shall be distributed among the utility departments or nonutility operations on an equitable basis.

NOTE A: Taxes applicable to nonutility property or investments shall be charged to the account in which the income from the property or investments is included.

NOTE B: Special assessments for street and similar improvements shall be included in the appropriate utility plant or nonutility property account.

NOTE C: Taxes specifically applicable to construction shall be included in the cost of construction.

NOTE D: Taxes assumed by the utility on property leased from others for use in utility operations shall be charged to the appropriate rent expense or clearing account.

NOTE E: Gasoline and other sales taxes shall be charged as far as practicable to the same account as the materials on which the tax is levied.

NOTE F: Social security and other forms of so-called pay roll taxes shall be distributed to utility departments and to nonutility functions on a basis related to pay roll. Amounts applicable to construction shall be charged to the appropriate plant account.

409 Income taxes.

A. This account shall include the amount of state and federal taxes on income properly accruable during the period covered by the income statement to meet the actual liability for such taxes. Concurrent credits for the tax accruals shall be made to account 236, Taxes Accrued, and as the exact amount of taxes becomes known, the current tax accruals shall be adjusted accordingly so that this account, as nearly as can be ascertained, shall include the actual taxes payable which are chargeable to utility operations.

B. The accruals for income taxes shall be apportioned among utility departments and nonutility operations so that, as nearly as practicable, each tax shall be included in the expenses of the utility department or nonutility operation the income from which gave rise to the tax.

NOTE A: Taxes assumed by the utility on interest shall be charged to account 431, Other Interest Expense.

NOTE B: Income taxes on income from utility plant leased to others shall be charged to account 413, Expenses of Electric Plant Leased to Others.

NOTE C: Where statutes or regulatory practices require that the profits or losses of merchandising, jobbing and contract work shall not be considered in arriving at rates to be charged for utility service, income taxes on income from merchandising, jobbing and contract work shall be charged to account 416, Costs and Expenses of Merchandising, Jobbing and Contract Work.

NOTE D: Income taxes on nonutility income shall be charged to the account in which the income is included. If the amount of nonutility income is relatively small, the allocation of income taxes thereto may be made annually.

NOTE E: Interest on tax refunds or deficiencies shall not be included in this account but in account 419, Interest and Dividend Income, or account 431, Other Interest Expense, as appropriate.

410 Provision for deferred income taxes.

This account shall be debited, and Accumulated Deferred Income Taxes, shall be credited with an amount equal to any deferral of taxes on income as provided by the texts of accounts 281, 282 and 283. There shall not be netted against entries required to be made to this account any credit amounts appropriately includible in account 411, Income Taxes Deferred in Prior Years—Credit.

411 Income taxes deferred in prior years—Credit.

This account shall be credited and Accumulated Deferred Income Taxes debited with an amount equal to the portion of taxes on income payable for the year that is attributable to a deferral of taxes on income in a prior year, in accordance with the plan of deferred tax accounting provided by the texts of accounts 281, 282, and 283. There shall not be netted against entries required to be made to this account any debit amounts appropriately includible in account 410, Provision for Deferred Income Taxes.

412 Revenues from electric plant leased to others.

413 Expenses of electric plant leased to others.

A. These accounts shall include respectively, revenues from electric property constituting a distinct operating unit or system leased by the utility to others, and which property is properly includible in account 104, Electric Plant Leased to Others, and the expenses attributable to such property.

B. The detail of expenses shall be kept or supported so as to show separately the following:

Operation.
Maintenance.
Rents.
Depreciation.
Amortization.
Taxes other than income taxes.
Income taxes.

414 Other utility operating income.

A. This account shall include the revenues received and expenses incurred in connection with the operations of utility plant, the book cost of which is included in account 118, Other Utility Plant.

B. The expenses shall include every element of cost incurred in such operations, including depreciation, rents, taxes, and insurance.

2. OTHER INCOME

415 Revenues from merchandising, jobbing and contract work.

416 Costs and expenses of merchandising, jobbing and contract work.

A. These accounts shall include respectively, all revenues derived from the sale of merchandise and jobbing or contract work, including any profit or commission accruing to the utility on jobbing work performed by it as agent under contracts whereby it does jobbing work for another for a stipulated profit or commission, and all expenses incurred in such activities.

B. Records in support of these accounts shall be so kept as to permit ready summarization of revenues, costs and expenses by such major items as are feasible.

NOTE: Revenues and expenses of merchandising, jobbing and contract work shall be reported in these accounts, if a state regulatory body having jurisdiction over the utility requires the net income therefrom to be reported as other income; but the revenues and expenses shall be reported in accounts 914, Revenues from Merchandising, Jobbing and Contract Work, and 915, Costs and Expenses of Merchandising, Jobbing and Contract Work, if such regulatory body requires the net income to be reported as an operating income or expense item. In the absence of a requirement by a state regulatory body, the utility may use these accounts or accounts 914 and 915 at its option, in which case the practice of the utility must be consistent.

ITEMS

Account 415:

1. Revenues from sale of merchandise and from jobbing and contract work.

2. Discounts and allowances made in settlement of bills for merchandise and jobbing work.

Account 416:

Labor—

1. Canvassing and demonstrating appliances in homes and other places for the purpose of selling appliances.

2. Demonstrating and selling activities in sales rooms.

3. Installing appliances on customer premises where such work is done only for purchasers of appliances from the utility.

4. Installing wiring, piping, or other property work, on a jobbing or contract basis.

5. Preparing advertising materials for appliance sales purpose.

6. Receiving and handling customer orders for merchandise or for jobbing services.

7. Cleaning and tidying sales rooms.

8. Maintaining display counters and other equipment used in merchandising.

9. Arranging merchandise in sales rooms and decorating display windows.

10. Reconditioning repossessed appliances.

11. Bookkeeping and other clerical work in connection with merchandise and jobbing activities.

12. Supervising merchandise and jobbing operations.

Materials and expenses—

13. Advertising in newspapers, periodicals, radio, television, etc.

14. Cost of merchandise sold and of materials used in jobbing work.

15. Stores expenses on merchandise and jobbing stocks.

16. Fees and expenses of advertising and commercial artists' agencies.

17. Printing booklets, dodgers, and other advertising data.

18. Premiums given as inducement to buy appliances.

19. Light, heat and power.

20. Depreciation on equipment used primarily for merchandise and jobbing operations.

21. Rent of sales rooms or of equipment.

22. Transportation expense in delivery and pick-up of appliances by utility's facilities or by others.

23. Stationery and office supplies and expenses.

24. Taxes directly assignable to merchandise and jobbing operations including income taxes on net income derived therefrom.

25. Losses from uncollectible merchandise and jobbing accounts.

417 Income from nonutility operations.

A. This account shall include revenues and expenses applicable to operations which are nonutility in character but nevertheless constitute a distinct operating activity of the enterprise as a whole, such as the operation of an ice department where applicable statutes do not define such operation as a utility, or the operation of a servicing organization for furnishing supervision, management, engineering, and similar services to others.

B. The expenses shall include all elements of costs incurred in such operations, and the accounts shall be maintained so as to permit ready summarization as follows:

Operation.
Maintenance.
Rents.
Depreciation.
Amortization.
Taxes other than income taxes.
Income taxes.

418 Nonoperating rental income.

A. This account shall include all rent revenues and related expenses of land, buildings, or other property included in account 121, Nonutility Property, which is not used in operations covered by account 417.

B. The expenses shall include all elements of costs incurred in the ownership and rental of property and the accounts shall be maintained so as to permit ready summarization as follows:

Operation.
Maintenance.
Rents.
Depreciation.
Amortization.
Taxes other than income taxes.
Income taxes.

419 Interest and dividend income.

A. This account shall include interest revenues on securities, loans, notes, advances, special deposits, tax refunds and all other interest-bearing assets, and dividends on stocks of other companies, whether the securities on which the interest and dividends are received are carried as investments or included in sinking or other special fund accounts.

B. If any interest or dividends are required to be retained in a special fund and the fund is represented by a reserve, the amount of such accretion to the fund shall concurrently be credited to the appropriate reserve account and charged to account 436, Appropriations of Surplus.

C. This account may include the pro rata amount necessary to extinguish (during the interval between the date of acquisition and the date of maturity) the difference between the cost to the utility and the face value of interest-bearing securities. Amounts thus credited or charged shall be concurrently included in the accounts in which the securities are carried.

D. Where significant in amount, expenses, including operating taxes and income taxes, applicable to security investments and to interest and dividend revenues thereon shall be charged hereto.

NOTE: Interest accrued, the payment of which is not reasonably assured, dividends receivable which have not been declared or guaranteed, and interest or dividends upon reacquired securities issued or assumed by the utility shall not be credited to this account.

421 Miscellaneous nonoperating income.

This account shall include all revenue and expense items properly includible in the income account and not provided for elsewhere.

ITEMS

1. Profit on sale of timber. (See electric plant instruction 7C.)

2. Profits from operations of others realized by the utility under contracts.

3. MISCELLANEOUS INCOME DEDUCTIONS

425 Miscellaneous amortization.

This account shall include amortization charges not includible in other accounts which are properly deductible in determining the income of the utility before interest charges. Charges includible herein, if significant in amount, must be in accordance with an orderly and systematic amortization program. Similar charges made irregularly without a definite program, or which are dependent upon the amount of net income shall be charged to account 435, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus.

ITEMS

1. Amortization of utility plant acquisition adjustments, or of intangibles included in utility plant in service when not authorized to be included in utility operating expenses by the Commission.

2. Amortization of amounts in account 182, Extraordinary Property Losses, when not authorized to be included in utility operating expenses by the Commission.

3. Amortization of capital stock discount or expenses when in accordance with a systematic amortization program.

426 Other income deductions.

This account shall include miscellaneous expense items which are nonoperating in nature but which are properly deductible before determining total income before interest charges.

ITEMS

1. Donations for charitable, social or community welfare purposes.

2. Life insurance of officers and employees where utility is beneficiary (net premiums less increase in cash surrender value of policies).

3. Penalties or fines for violation of statutes pertaining to regulation.

NOTE: The classification of expenses as nonoperating and their inclusion in this account is for accounting purposes. It does not preclude Commission consideration of proof to the contrary for ratemaking or other purposes.

4. INTEREST CHARGES

427 Interest on long-term debt.

A. This account shall include the amount of interest on outstanding long-term debt issued or assumed by the utility, the liability for which is included in account 221, Bonds, or account 224, Other Long-Term Debt.

B. This account shall be so kept or supported as to show the interest accruals on each class and series of long-term debt.

NOTE: This account shall not include interest on nominally issued or nominally outstanding long-term debt, including securities assumed.

428 Amortization of debt discount and expense.

A. This account shall include the amortization of unamortized debt discount and expense on outstanding long-term debt. Amounts charged to this account shall be credited concurrently to account 181, Unamortized Debt Discount and Expense.

B. This account shall be so kept or supported as to show the debt discount and expense on each class and series of long-term debt.

429 Amortization of premium on debt—Cr.

A. This account shall include the amortization of unamortized net premium on outstanding long-term debt. Amounts credited to this account shall be charged concurrently to account 251, Unamortized Premium on Debt.

B. This account shall be so kept or supported as to show the premium on each class and series of long-term debt.

430 Interest on debt to associated companies.

A. This account shall include the interest accrued on amounts included in account 223, Advances from Associated Companies, and on all other obligations to associated companies.

B. The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept as to show to whom the interest is to be paid, the period covered by the accrual, the rate of interest and the principal amount of the advances or other obligations on which the interest is accrued.

431 Other interest expense.

This account shall include all interest charges not provided for elsewhere.

ITEMS

1. Interest on notes payable on demand or maturing one year or less from date and on open accounts, except notes and accounts with associated companies.

2. Interest on customers' deposits.

3. Interest on claims and judgments, tax assessments, and assessments for public improvements past due.

4. Income and other taxes levied upon bondholders of utility and assumed by it.

432 Interest charged to construction—Cr.

This account shall include concurrent credits for interest charged to construction based upon the net cost for the period of construction of borrowed funds used for construction purposes and a reasonable rate upon other funds when so used. (See electric plant instruction 3(17).)

5. EARNED SURPLUS

433 Balance transferred from income.

This account shall include the net credit or debit transferred from income for the year.

434 Miscellaneous credits to surplus.

This account shall include credits affecting earned surplus not provided for elsewhere. If an amount otherwise required by the uniform system of accounts to be credited to this account is not significant with respect to net income determination for the year, it may be credited to the appropriate nonoperating income account. (See also general instruction 7, Delayed Items.) All items included in this account shall be sufficiently described in the entries relating thereto as to permit ready analysis.

ITEMS

1. Delayed credits as provided in general instruction 7.

2. Profit on reacquisition and resale or retirement of utility's debt securities.

3. Profit on sale of property or investments.

435 Miscellaneous debits to surplus.

This account shall include amounts chargeable to earned surplus but not provided for elsewhere. If an amount otherwise required by the uniform system of accounts to be charged to this account is not significant with respect to net income determination for the year, it may be charged to the apropriate nonoperating income deduction account. (See also general instruction 7, Delayed Items.) All items included in this account shall be sufficiently described in the entries relating thereto as to permit ready analysis.

ITEMS

1. Decline in value of investments.

2. Delayed debits as provided in general instruction 7.

3. Loss on reacquisition and resale or retirement of utility's debt securities.

4. Provision for past accrued depreciation not provided for.

5. Long-term debt discount or expense written off.

6. Loss on sale of property or investments.

7. Write off of utility plant acquisition adjustments or of intangibles when not done under an orderly systematic program indicating the propriety of inclusion of the annual charges in account 425, Miscellaneous Amortization.

8. Preliminary survey and investigation expenses on abandoned projects.

9. Income taxes, both state and federal, occasioned by items included in account 434, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus.

10. Charges from retirement or resale of reacquired capital stock.

436 Appropriations of surplus.

This account shall include appropriations of earned surplus for purposes not provided for elsewhere.

ITEMS

1. Appropriations of income required under terms of mortgages, orders of courts, contracts or other agreements.

2. Appropriations of income required by action of regulatory authorities.

3. Miscellaneous appropriations of income made at option of utility for specified purposes.

437 Dividends declared—Preferred stock.

A. This account shall include amounts declared payable out of earned surplus as dividends on actually outstanding preferred or prior lien capital stock issued by the utility.

B. Dividends shall be segregated for each class and series of preferred stock as to those payable in cash, stock and other forms. If not payable in cash, the medium of payment shall be described with sufficient particularity to identify it.

438 Dividends declared—Common stock.

A. This account shall include amounts declared payable out of earned surplus as dividends on actually outstanding common capital stock issued by the utility.

B. Dividends shall be segregated for each class of common stock as to those payable in cash, stock and other forms. If not payable in cash, the medium of payment shall be described with sufficient particularity to identify it.

Operating Revenue Accounts

1. SALES OF ELECTRICITY

440 Residential sales.
442 Commercial and industrial sales.
444 Public street and highway lighting.
445 Other sales to public authorities.
446 Sales to railroads and railways.
447 Sales for resale.
448 Interdepartmental sales.

2. OTHER OPERATING REVENUES

450 Forfeited discounts.
451 Miscellaneous service revenues.
453 Sales of water and water power.
454 Rent from electric property.
455 Interdepartmental rents.
456 Other electric revenues.

Operating Revenue Accounts

1. SALES OF ELECTRICITY

440 Residential sales.

A. This account shall include the net billing for electricity supplied for residential or domestic purposes.

B. Records shall be maintained so that the quantity of electricity sold and the revenue received under each rate schedule shall be readily available.

NOTE: When electricity supplied through a single meter is used for both residential and commercial purposes, the total revenue shall be included in this account, or account 442, Commercial and Industrial Sales, according to the rate schedule which is applied. If the same rate schedules apply to residential as to commercial and industrial service, classification shall be made according to principal use.

442 Commercial and industrial sales.

A. This account shall include the net billing for electricity supplied to customers for commercial and industrial purposes.

B. Records shall be maintained so that the quantity of electricity sold and the revenue received under each rate schedule shall be readily available. Records shall be maintained also so as to show separately the revenues from commercial and industrial customers (a) which have demands generally of 1000 kw or more, and (b) those which have demands generally less than 1000 kw. Reasonable deviations above or below the 1000 kw demand are permissible in order that transfers of customers between the two classes during the year may be minimized.

NOTE A: If the utility classifies large commercial and industrial customers and related revenues on a lesser basis than 1000 kilowatts of demand, or segregates industrial customers and related revenues according to a recognized definition of an industrial customer, such classifications are acceptable in lieu of those otherwise required by the text of this account on the basis of 1000 kilowatts of demand.

NOTE B: When electricity supplied through a single meter is used for both commercial and residential purposes, the total revenue shall be included in this account, or in account 440, Residential Sales, according to the rate schedule which is applied. If the same rate schedules apply to residential as to commercial and industrial service, classification shall be made according to the principal use.

444 Public street and highway lighting.

A. This account shall include the net billing for electricity supplied and services rendered for the purposes of lighting streets, highways, parks and other public places, or for traffic or other signal system service, for municipalities or other divisions or agencies of state or federal governments.

B. Records shall be maintained so that the quantity of electricity sold and the revenue received from each customer shall be readily available. In addition, the records shall be maintained so as to show the revenues from (a) contracts which include both electricity and services, and (b) contracts which include sales of electricity only.

445 Other sales to public authorities.

A. This account shall include the net billing for electricity supplied to municipalities or divisions or agencies of federal or state governments, under special contracts or agreements or service classifications applicable only to public authorities, except such revenues as are includible in accounts 444 and 447.

B. Records shall be maintained so as to show the quantity of electricity sold and the revenues received from each customer.

446 Sales to railroads and railways.

A. This account shall include the net billing for electricity supplied to railroads and interurban and street railways, for general railroad use, including the propulsion of cars or locomotives, where such electricity is supplied under separate and distinct rate schedules.

B. Records shall be maintained so that the quantity of electricity sold and the revenue received from each customer shall be readily available.

NOTE: Revenues from incidental use of electricity furnished under a contract for propulsion of cars or locomotives shall be included herein.

447 Sales for resale.

A. This account shall include the net billing for electricity supplied to other electric utilities or to public authorities for resale purposes.

B. Records shall be maintained so as to show the quantity of electricity sold and the revenue received from each customer.

NOTE: Revenues from electricity supplied to other public utilities for use by them and not for distribution, shall be included in account 442, Commercial and Industrial Sales, unless supplied under the same contract as and not readily separable from revenues includible in this account.

448 Interdepartmental sales.

A. This account shall include amounts charged by the electric department at tariff or other specified rates for electricity supplied by it to other utility departments.

B. Records shall be maintained so that the quantity of electricity supplied each other department and the charges therefor shall be readily available.

2. OTHER OPERATING REVENUES

450 Forfeited discounts.

This account shall include the amount of discounts forfeited or additional charges imposed because of the failure of customers to pay their electric bills on or before a specified date.

451 Miscellaneous service revenues.

This account shall include revenues for all miscellaneous services and charges billed to customers which are not specifically provided for in other accounts.

ITEMS

1. Fees for changing, connecting or disconnecting service.
2. Profit on maintenance of appliances, wiring, piping or other installations on customers' premises.
3. Net credit or debit (cost less net salvage and less payment from customers) on closing of work orders for plant installed for temporary service of less than one year. (See account 185, Temporary Facilities.)
4. Recovery of expenses in connection with current diversion cases (billing for the electricity consumed shall be included in the appropriate electric revenue account).

453 Sales of water and water power.

A. This account shall include revenues derived from the sale of water for irrigation, domestic, industrial or other uses, or for the development by others of water power, or for headwater benefits; also, revenues derived from furnishing water power for mechanical purposes when the investment in the property used in supplying such water or water power is carried as electric plant in service.

B. The records for this account shall be kept in such manner as to permit an analysis of the rates charged and the purposes for which the water was used.

454 Rent from electric property.

A. This account shall include rents received for the use by others of land, buildings, and other property devoted to electric operations by the utility.

B. When property owned by the utility is operated jointly with others under a definite arrangement for apportioning the actual expenses among the parties to the arrangement, any amount received by the utility for interest or return or in reimbursement of taxes or depreciation on the property shall be credited to this account.

NOTE: Do not include in this account rents from property constituting an operating unit or system. (See account 412, Revenues from Electric Plant Leased to Others.)

455 Interdepartmental rents.

This account shall include rents credited to the electric department on account of rental charges made against other departments (gas, water, etc.) of the utility. In the case of property operated under a definite arrangement to allocate the costs among the departments using the property, any reimbursement to the electric department for interest or return and depreciation and taxes shall be credited to this account.

456 Other electric revenues.

This account shall include revenues derived from electric operations not includible in any of the foregoing accounts.

ITEMS

1. Commission on sale or distribution of electricity of others when sold under rates filed by such others.
2. Compensation for minor or incidental services provided for others such as customer billing, engineering, etc.
3. Profit or loss on sale of material and supplies not ordinarily purchased for resale and not handled through merchandising and jobbing accounts.
4. Sale of steam, but not including sales made by a steamheating department or transfers of steam under joint facility operations.
5. Revenues from transmission of electricity of others over transmission facilities of the utility.

Operation and Maintenance Expense Accounts

1. POWER PRODUCTION EXPENSES

A. STEAM POWER GENERATION

Operation

500 Operation supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of the operation of steam power generating stations. Direct supervision of specific activities, such as fuel handling, boiler-room operations, generator operations, etc., shall be charged to the appropriate account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

501 Fuel.

A. This account shall include the cost of fuel used in the production of steam for the generation of electricity, including expenses in unloading fuel from the shipping media and handling thereof up to the point where the fuel enters the first boiler plant bunker, hopper, bucket, tank or holder of the boiler-house structure. Records shall be maintained to show the quantity, B.t.u. content and cost of each type of fuel used.

B. The cost of fuel shall be charged initially to account 151, Fuel Stock, and cleared to this account on the basis of the fuel used. Fuel handling expenses may be charged to this account as incurred or charged initially to account 152, Fuel Stock Expenses Undistributed. In the latter event, they shall be cleared to this account on the basis of the fuel used. Respective amounts of fuel stock and fuel stock expenses shall be readily available.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising purchasing and handling of fuel.
2. All routine fuel analyses.
3. Unloading from shipping facility and putting in storage.
4. Moving of fuel in storage and transferring fuel from one station to another.
5. Handling from storage or shipping facility to first bunker, hopper, bucket, tank or holder of boiler-house structure.
6. Operation of mechanical equipment, such as locomotives, trucks, cars, boats, barges, cranes, etc.

Materials and Expenses:
7. Cost of fuel including freight, switching, demurrage and other transportation charges.
8. Excise taxes, insurance, purchasing commissions and similar items.
9. Stores expenses to extent applicable to fuel.
10. Transportation and other expenses in moving fuel in storage.
11. Tools, lubricants and other supplies.
12. Operating supplies for mechanical equipment.
13. Residual disposal expenses less any proceeds from sale of residuals.

NOTE: Abnormal fuel handling expenses occasioned by emergency conditions shall be charged to expense as incurred.

502 Steam expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in production of steam for electric generation. This includes all expenses of handling and preparing fuel beginning at the point where the fuel enters the first boiler plant bunker, hopper, tank or holder of the boiler-house structure.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising steam production.
2. Operating fuel conveying, storage, weighing and processing equipment within boiler plant.
3. Operating boiler and boiler auxiliary equipment.
4. Operating boiler feed water purification and treatment equipment.
5. Operating ash-collecting and disposal equipment located inside the plant.
6. Operating boiler plant electrical equipment.
7. Keeping boiler plant log and records and preparing reports on boiler plant operation.
8. Testing boiler water.
9. Testing, checking, and adjusting meters, gauges, and other instruments and equipment in boiler plant.
10. Cleaning boiler plant equipment when not incidental to maintenance work.
11. Repacking glands and replacing gauge glasses where the work involved is of a minor nature and is performed by regular operating crews. Where the work is of a major character, such as that performed on high-pressure boilers, the item should be considered as maintenance.

Materials and Expenses:
12. Chemicals and boiler inspection fees.
13. Lubricants.

14. Boiler feed water purchased and pumping supplies.

503 Steam from other sources.

This account shall include the cost of steam purchased, or transferred from another department of the utility or from others under a joint facility operating arrangement, for use in prime movers devoted to the production of electricity.

NOTE: The records shall be so kept as to show separately for each company from which steam is purchased, the point of delivery, the quantity, the price, and the total charge. When steam is transferred from another department or from others under a joint operating arrangement, the utility shall be prepared to show full details of the cost of producing such steam, the basis of the charge to electric generation and the extent and manner of use by each department or party involved.

504 Steam transferred—Credit.

A. This account shall include credits for expenses of producing steam which are charged to others or to other utility departments under a joint operating arrangement. Include also credits for steam expenses chargeable to other electric accounts outside of the steam generation group. Full details of the basis of determination of the cost of steam transferred shall be maintained.

B. If the charges to others or to other departments of the utility include an amount for depreciation, taxes and return on the joint steam facilities, such portion of the charge shall be credited, in the case of others, to account 454, Rent from Electric Property, and in the case of other departments of the utility, to account 455, Interdepartmental Rents.

505 Electric expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in operating prime movers, generators, and their auxiliary apparatus, switch gear and other electric equipment to the points where electricity leaves for conversion for transmission or distribution.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising electric production.
2. Operating turbines, engines, generators and exciters.
3. Operating condensers, circulating water systems and other auxiliary apparatus.
4. Operating generator cooling system.
5. Operating lubrication and oil control system, including oil purification.
6. Operating switchboards, switch gear and electric control and protective equipment.
7. Keeping electric plant log and records and preparing reports on electric plant operations.
8. Testing, checking and adjusting meters, gauges, and other instruments, relays, controls and other equipment in the electric plant.
9. Cleaning electric plant equipment when not incidental to maintenance work.
10. Repacking glands and replacing gauge glasses.

Materials and Expenses:
11. Lubricants and control system oils.
12. Generator cooling gases.
13. Circulating water purification supplies.
14. Cooling water purchased.
15. Motor and generator brushes.

506 Miscellaneous steam power expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred which are not specifically provided for or are not readily assignable to other steam generation operation expense accounts.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. General clerical and stenographic work.
2. Guarding and patrolling plant and yard.
3. Building service.
4. Care of grounds including snow removal, cutting grass, etc.
5. Miscellaneous labor.

Materials and Expenses:
6. General operating supplies, such as tools, gaskets, packing waste, gauge glasses, hose, indicating lamps, record and report forms, etc.
7. First-aid supplies and safety equipment.
8. Employees' service facilities expenses.
9. Building service supplies.
10. Communication service.
11. Miscellaneous office supplies and expenses, printing and stationery.
12. Transportation expenses.
13. Meals, traveling and incidental expenses.

507 Rents.

This account shall include all rents of property of others used, occupied or operated in connection with steam power generation. (See operating expense instruction 3.)

Maintenance

510 Maintenance supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of maintenance of steam generation facilities. Direct field supervision of specific jobs shall be charged to the appropriate maintenance account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

511 Maintenance of structures.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the maintenance of steam structures, the book cost of which is includible in account 311, Structures and Improvements. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

512 Maintenance of boiler plant.

A. This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the maintenance of steam plant, the book cost of which is includible in account 312, Boiler Plant Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2).

B. For the purpose of making charges hereto and to account 513, Maintenance of Electric Plant, the point at which steam plant is distinguished from electric plant is defined as follows:

a. Inlet flange of throttle valve on prime mover.

b. Flange of all steam extraction lines on prime mover.

c. Hotwell pump outlet on condensate lines.

d. Inlet flange of all turbine-room auxiliaries.

e. Connection to line side of motor starter for all boiler-plant equipment.

513 Maintenance of electric plant.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the maintenance of electric plant, the book cost of which is includible in account 313, Engines and Engine-Driven Generators, account 314, Turbogenerator Units, and account 315, Accessory Electric Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2 and paragraph B of account 512.)

514 Maintenance of miscellaneous steam plant.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of miscellaneous steam generation plant, the book cost of which is includible in account 316, Miscellaneous Power Plant Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

B. NUCLEAR POWER GENERATION

Operation

517 Operation supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of the operation of nuclear power generating stations. Direct supervision of specific activities, such as fuel handling, reactor operations, generator operations, etc., shall be charged to the appropriate account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

518 Fuel.

A. This account shall include fuel costs for the production of steam in the generation of electricity by nuclear process (see accounts 157, 158 and 159).

B. Records supporting entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish the basis of computations and amounts of the individual fuel cost items. The records shall be so maintained that the fuel cost may be readily classified as to use charges, nuclear fuel burn-up, consumption of non-nuclear materials, net plutonium and other nuclear materials formed—credit, provision for chemical processing, and cost of non-nuclear fuel, if any, used for steam superheat facilities.

ITEMS

1. Use charge for nuclear materials in service, in reserve, in cooling, or in chemical processing.
2. Amortization of costs of fuel assemblies and components in use.
3. Burn-up of nuclear fuel.
4. Chemical processing of fuel assemblies including charges for converting recovered materials into a form acceptable to a supplier of nuclear materials, disposal of chemical processing wastes and for transportation of materials.
5. Plutonium and other nuclear materials—credit.
6. Oil, gas, coal or other fuel used in auxiliary steam superheat facilities, at cost delivered to station.

NOTE: The utility shall adopt the necessary accounting procedures to assure that charges to this account shall, so far as practicable, be accurately distributed to accounting periods. Where computed amounts are derived from estimates, corrections of this account shall be made promptly when it is ascertained that significant revisions of the estimates are necessary. Where significant delayed adjustments are necessary, such adjustments shall be made in accordance with the provisions of general instruction 7, Delayed Items.

519 Coolants and water.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred for heat transfer materials and water used for steam and cooling purposes.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Operation of water supply facilities.
2. Handling of coolants and heat transfer materials.

Materials and Expenses:
3. Chemicals.
4. Additions to or refining of, fluids used in reactor systems.
5. Lubricants.
6. Pumping supplies and expenses.
7. Miscellaneous supplies and expenses.
8. Purchased water.

NOTE: Do not include in this account water for general station use or the initial charge for coolants, heat transfer or moderator fluids, chemicals or other supplies capitalized.

520 Steam expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in production of steam through nuclear processes, and similar expenses for operation of any auxiliary superheat facilities.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising steam production.
2. Fuel handling including removal, insertion, disassembly and preparation for cooling operations and shipment.
3. Testing instruments and gauges.
4. Health, safety, monitoring and decontamination activities.
5. Waste disposal.
6. Operating steam boilers and auxiliary steam, superheat facilities.

Materials and Expenses:
7. Chemical supplies.
8. Charts, logs, etc.
9. Health, safety, monitoring and decontamination supplies.
10. Boiler inspection fees.
11. Lubricants.

521 Steam from other sources.

This account shall include the cost of steam purchased or transferred from another department of the utility or from others under a joint facility operating arrangement for use in prime movers devoted to the production of electricity.

NOTE: The records shall be so kept as to show separately, for each company from which steam is purchased, the point of delivery, the quantity, the price, and the total charge. When steam is transferred from another operating department, the utility shall be prepared to show full details of the cost of producing such steam, the basis of the charges to electric generation, and the extent and manner of use by each department involved.

522 Steam transferred—Credit.

A. This account shall include credits for expenses of producing steam which are charged to others or to other utility departments under a joint operating arrangement. Include also credits for steam expenses chargeable to other electric accounts outside of the steam generation group. Full details of the basis of determination of the cost of steam transferred shall be maintained.

B. If the charges to others or to other departments of the utility include an amount for depreciation, taxes and return on the joint steam facilities, such portion of the charge shall be credited, in the case of others, to account 454, Rent from Electric Property, and in the case of other departments of the utility, to account 455, Interdepartmental Rents.

523 Electric expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in operating turbogenerators, steam turbines and their auxiliary apparatus, switch gear and other electric equipment to the points where electricity leaves for conversion for transmission or distribution.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising electric production.
2. Operating turbines, engines, generators and exciters.
3. Operating condensers, circulating water systems and other auxiliary apparatus.
4. Operating generator cooling system.
5. Operating lubrication and oil control system, including oil purification.
6. Operating switchboards, switch gear and electric control and protective equipment.
7. Keeping plant log and records and preparing reports on electric plant operations.
8. Testing, checking and adjusting meters, gauges, and other instruments, relays, controls and other equipment in the electric plant.
9. Cleaning electric plant equipment when not incidental to maintenance.
10. Repacking glands and replacing gauge glasses.

Materials and Expenses:
11. Lubricants and control system oils.
12. Generator cooling gases.
13. Log sheets and charts.
14. Motor and generator brushes.

524 Miscellaneous nuclear power expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred which are not specifically provided for or are not readily assignable to other nuclear generation operation accounts.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. General clerical and stenographic work.
2. Plant security.
3. Building service.
4. Care of grounds, including snow removal, cutting grass, etc.
5. Miscellaneous labor.

Materials and Expenses:
6. General operating supplies, such as tools, gaskets, hose, indicating lamps, record and report forms, etc.
7. First-aid supplies and safety equipment.
8. Employees' service facilities expenses.
9. Building service supplies.
10. Communication service.
11. Miscellaneous office supplies and expenses, printing and stationery.
12. Transportation expenses.
13. Meals, traveling and incidental expenses.

525 Rents.

This account shall include all rents of property of others used, occupied or operated in connection with nuclear generation. (See operating expense instruction 3.)

Maintenance

528 Maintenance supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of maintenance of nuclear generation facilities. Direct field supervision of specific jobs shall be charged to the appropriate maintenance account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

529 Maintenance of structures.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the maintenance of structures, the book cost of which is includible in account 321, Structures and Improvements. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

530 Maintenance of reactor plant equipment.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the maintenance of reactor plant, the book cost of which is includible in account 322, Reactor Plant Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

531 Maintenance of electric plant.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the maintenance of electric plant, the book cost of which is includible in account 323, Turbogenerator Units, and account 324, Accessory Electric Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

532 Maintenance of miscellaneous nuclear plant.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of miscellaneous nuclear generating plant, the book cost of which is includible in account 325, Miscellaneous Power Plant Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

C. HYDRAULIC POWER GENERATION

Operation

535 Operation supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of the operation of hydraulic power generating stations. Direct supervision of specific activities, such as hydraulic operation, generator operation, etc., shall be charged to the appropriate account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

536 Water for power.

This account shall include the cost of water used for hydraulic power generation.

ITEMS

1. Cost of water purchased from others, including water tolls paid reservoir companies.
2. Periodic payments for licenses or permits from any governmental agency for water rights, or payments based on the use of the water.
3. Periodic payments for riparian rights.
4. Periodic payments for headwater benefits or for detriments to others.
5. Cloud seeding.

537 Hydraulic expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in operating hydraulic works including reservoirs, dams and waterways, and in activities directly relating to the hydroelectric development outside the generating station.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising hydraulic operation.
2. Removing debris and ice from trash racks, reservoirs and waterways.
3. Patrolling reservoirs and waterways.
4. Operating intakes, spillways, sluiceways, and outlet works.
5. Operating bubbler, heater or other deicing systems.
6. Ice and log jam work.
7. Operating navigation facilities.
8. Operations relating to conservation of game, fish, forests, etc.
9. Insect control activities.

Materials and Expenses:
10. Insect control materials.
11. Lubricants, packing, and other supplies used in operation of hydraulic equipment.
12. Supplies and expenses in conservation of game, fish, forests, etc.
13. Transportation expense.

538 Electric expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in operating prime movers, generators, and their auxiliary apparatus, switchgear, and other electric equipment, to the point where electricity leaves for conversion for transmission or distribution.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising electric production.
2. Operating prime movers, generators and auxiliary equipment.
3. Operating generator cooling system.
4. Operating lubrication and oil control systems, including oil purification.
5. Operating switchboards, switchgear, and electric control and protection equipment.
6. Keeping plant log and records and preparing reports on plant operations.
7. Testing, checking and adjusting meters, gauges, and other instruments, relays, controls, and other equipment in the plant.
8. Cleaning plant equipment when not incidental to maintenance work.
9. Repacking glands.

Materials and Expenses:
10. Lubricants and control system oils.
11. Motor and generator brushes.

539 Miscellaneous hydraulic power generation expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred which are not specifically provided for or are not readily assignable to other hydraulic generation operation expense accounts.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. General clerical and stenographic work.
2. Guarding and patrolling plant and yard.
3. Building service.
4. Care of grounds including snow removal, cutting grass, etc.
5. Snow removal from roads and bridges.
6. Miscellaneous labor.

Materials and Expenses:
7. General operating supplies, such as tools, gaskets, packing, waste, hose, indicating lamps, record and report forms, etc.
8. First-aid supplies and safety equipment.
9. Employees' service facilities expenses.
10. Building service supplies.
11. Communication service.
12. Office supplies, printing and stationery.
13. Transportation expenses.
14. Fuel.
15. Meals, traveling and incidental expenses.

540 Rents.

This account shall include all rents of property of others used, occupied or operated in connection with hydraulic power generation, including amounts payable to the United States for the occupancy of public lands and reservations for reservoirs, dams, flumes, forebays, penstocks, power houses, etc., but not including transmission right of way. (See operating expense instruction 3.)

Maintenance

541 Maintenance supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of the maintenance of hydraulic power generating stations. Direct field supervision of specific jobs shall be charged to the appropriate maintenance account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

542 Maintenance of structures.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of hydraulic structures, the book cost of which is includible in account 331, Structures and Improvements. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

543 Maintenance of reservoirs, dams and waterways.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of plant includible in account 332, Reservoirs, Dams and Waterways. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

544 Maintenance of electric plant.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of plant includible in account 333, Water Wheels, Turbines and Generators, and account 334, Accessory Electric Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

545 Maintenance of miscellaneous hydraulic plant.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of plant, the book cost of which is includible in account 335, Miscellaneous Power Plant Equipment, and account 336, Roads, Railroads and Bridges. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

D. OTHER POWER GENERATION

Operation

546 Operation supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of the operation of other power generating stations. Direct supervision of specific activities, such as fuel handling, engine and generator operation, etc., shall be charged to the appropriate account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

547 Fuel.

This account shall include the cost delivered at the station (see account 151, Fuel Stock) of all fuel, such as gas, oil, kerosene, and gasoline used in other power generation.

548 Generation expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in operating prime movers, generators and electric equipment in other power generating stations, to the point where electricity leaves for conversion for transmission or distribution.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising other power generation operation.
2. Operating prime movers, generators and auxiliary apparatus and switching and other electric equipment.
3. Keeping plant log and records and preparing reports on plant operations.
4. Testing, checking, cleaning, oiling and adjusting equipment.

Materials and Expenses:
5. Dynamo, motor, and generator brushes.
6. Lubricants and control system oils.
7. Water for cooling engines and generators.

549 Miscellaneous other power generation expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the operation of other power generating stations which are not specifically provided for or are not readily assignable to other generation expense accounts.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. General clerical and stenographic work.
2. Guarding and patrolling plant and yard.
3. Building service.
4. Care of grounds, including snow removal, cutting grass, etc.
5. Miscellaneous labor.

Materials and Expenses:
6. Building service supplies.
7. First-aid supplies and safety equipment.
8. Communication service.
9. Employees' service facilities expenses.
10. Office supplies, printing and stationery.
11. Transportation expense.
12. Meals, traveling and incidental expenses.
13. Fuel for heating.
14. Water for fire protection or general use.
15. Miscellaneous supplies, such as hand tools, drills, saw blades, files, etc.

550 Rents.

This account shall include all rents of property of others used, occupied, or operated in connection with other power generation. (See operating expense instruction 3.)

Maintenance

551 Maintenance supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of the maintenance of other power generating stations. Direct field supervision of specific jobs shall be charged to the appropriate maintenance account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

552 Maintenance of structures.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of facilities used in other power generation, the book cost of which is includible in account 341, Structures and Improvements, and account 342, Fuel Holders, Producers and Accessories. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

553 Maintenance of generating and electric equipment.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of plant, the book cost of which is includible in account 343, Prime Movers, account 344, Generators, and account 345, Accessory Electric Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

554 Maintenance of miscellaneous other power generation plant.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of other power generation plant, the book cost of which is includible in account 346, Miscellaneous Power Plant Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

E. OTHER POWER SUPPLY EXPENSES

555 Purchased power.

A. This account shall include the cost at point of receipt by the utility of electricity purchased for resale. It shall include, also, net settlements for exchange of electricity or power, such as economy energy, off-peak energy for on-peak energy, spinning reserve capacity, etc. In addition, the account shall include the net settlements for transactions under pooling or interconnection agreements wherein there is a balancing of debits and credits for energy, capacity, etc. Distinct purchases and sales shall not be recorded as exchanges and net amounts only recorded merely because debit and credit amounts are combined in the voucher settlement.

B. The records supporting this account shall show, by months, the demands and demand charges, kilowatt-hours and prices thereof under each purchase contract and the charges and credits under each exchange or power pooling contract.

556 System control and load dispatching.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in load dispatching activities for system control. Utilities having an interconnected electric system or operating under a central authority which controls the production and dispatching of electricity may apportion these costs to this account and accounts 561, Load Dispatching—Transmission, and 581, Load Dispatching—Distribution.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Allocating loads to plants and interconnections with others.
2. Directing switching.
3. Arranging and controlling clearances for construction, maintenance, test and emergency purposes.
4. Controlling system voltages.
5. Recording loadings, water conditions, etc.
6. Preparing operating reports and data for billing and budget purposes.
7. Obtaining reports on the weather and special events.

Expenses:
8. Communication service provided for system control purposes.
9. System record and report forms.
10. Meals, traveling and incidental expenses.
11. Obtaining weather and special events reports.

557 Other expenses.

A. This account shall be charged with any production expenses, including expenses incurred directly in connection with the purchase of electricity, which are not specifically provided for in other production expense accounts. Charges to this account shall be supported so that a description of each type of charge will be readily available.

B. Recoveries from insurance companies, under use and occupancy provisions of policies, of amounts in reimbursement of excessive or added production costs for which the insurance company is liable under the terms of the policy shall be credited to this account.

2. TRANSMISSION EXPENSES

Operation

560 Operation supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of the operation of the transmission system as a whole. Direct supervision of specific activities, such as station operation, line operation, etc., shall be charged to the appropriate account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

561 Load dispatching.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in load dispatching operations pertaining to the transmission of electricity.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Directing switching.
2. Arranging and controlling clearances for construction, maintenance, test and emergency purposes.
3. Controlling system voltages.
4. Obtaining reports on the weather and special events.
5. Preparing operating reports and data for billing and budget purposes.

Expenses:
6. Communication service provided for system control purposes.
7. System record and report forms.
8. Meals, traveling and incidental expenses.
9. Obtaining weather and special events reports.

562 Station expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in operating transmission substations and switching stations. If transmission station equipment is located in or adjacent to a generating station, the expenses applicable to transmission station operations shall nevertheless be charged to this account.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising station operation.
2. Adjusting station equipment where such adjustment primarily affects performance, such as regulating the flow of cooling water, adjusting current in fields of a machine or changing voltage of regulators, changing station transformer taps.
3. Inspecting, testing and calibrating station equipment for the purpose of checking its performance.
4. Keeping station log and records and preparing reports on station operation.
5. Operating switching and other station equipment.
6. Standing watch, guarding, and patrolling station and station yard.
7. Sweeping, mopping, and tidying station.
8. Care of grounds, including snow removal, cutting grass, etc.

Materials and Expenses:
9. Building service expenses.
10. Operating supplies, such as lubricants, commutator brushes, water, and rubber goods.
11. Station meter and instrument supplies, such as ink and charts.
12. Station record and repor forms.
13. Tool expense.
14. Transportation expenses.
15. Meals, traveling, and incidental expenses.

563 Overhead line expenses.

564 Underground line expenses.

A. These accounts shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the operation of transmission lines.

B. If the expenses are not substantial for both overhead and underground lines, these accounts may be combined.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising line operation.
2. Inspecting and testing lightning arresters, circuit breakers, switches, and grounds.
3. Load tests of circuits.
4. Routine line patrolling.
5. Routine voltage surveys made to determine the condition or efficiency of transmission system.
6. Transferring loads, switching and reconnecting circuits and equipment for operating purposes. (Switching for construction or maintenance purposes is not includible in this account.)
7. Routine inspection and cleaning of manholes, conduit, network and transformer vaults.
8. Electrolysis surveys.
9. Inspecting and adjusting line-testing equipment, such as voltmeters, ammeters, wattmeters, etc.
10. Regulation and addition of oil or gas in high-voltage cable systems.

Materials and Expenses:
11. Transportation expenses.
12. Meals, traveling and incidental expenses.
13. Tool expenses.
14. Operating supplies, such as instrument charts, rubber goods, etc.

565 Transmission of electricity by others.

This account shall include amounts payable to others for the transmission of the utility's electricity over transmission facilities owned by others.

566 Miscellaneous transmission expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in transmission map and record work, transmission office expenses, and other transmission expenses not provided for elsewhere.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. General records of physical characteristics of lines and stations, such as capacities, etc.
2. Ground resistance records.
3. Janitor work at transmission office buildings, including care of grounds, snow removal, cutting grass, etc.
4. Joint pole maps and records.
5. Line load and voltage records.
6. Preparing maps and prints.
7. General clerical and stenographic work.
8. Miscellaneous labor.

Materials and Expenses
9. Communication service.
10. Building service supplies.
11. Map and record supplies.
12. Transmission office supplies and expenses, printing and stationery.
13. First-aid supplies.

567 Rents.

This account shall include rents of property of others used, occupied, or operated in connection with the transmission system, including payments to the United States and others for use of public or private lands and reservations for transmission line rights of way. (See operating expense instruction 3.)

Maintenance

568 Maintenance supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of maintenance of the transmission system. Direct field supervision of specific jobs shall be charged to the appropriate maintenance account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

569 Maintenance of structures.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the maintenance of structures, the book cost of which is includible in account 352, Structures and Improvements. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

570 Maintenance of station equipment.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of station equipment the book cost of which is includible in account 353, Station Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

571 Maintenance of overhead lines.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of transmission plant, the book cost of which is includible in accounts 354, Towers and Fixtures, 355, Poles and Fixtures, 356, Overhead Conductors and Devices, 359, Roads and Trails. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

ITEMS

1. Work of the following character on poles, towers and fixtures:
a. Installing or removing additional clamps or strain insulators on guys in place.
b. Moving line or guy pole in relocation of the same pole or section of line.
c. Painting poles, towers, crossarms or pole extensions.
d. Readjusting and changing position of guys or braces.
e. Realigning and straightening poles, crossarms braces, and other pole fixtures.
f. Reconditioning reclaimed pole fixtures.
g. Relocating crossarms, racks, brackets, and other fixtures on poles.
h. Repairing or realigning pins, racks, or brackets.
i. Repairing pole supported platform.
j. Repairs by others to jointly owned poles.
k. Shaving, cutting rot, or treating poles or crossarms in use or salvaged for reuse.
l. Stubbing poles already in service.
m. Supporting fixtures and conductors and transferring them to new pole during poles replacements.
n. Maintenance of pole signs, stencils, tags, etc.
2. Work of the following character on overhead conductors and devices:
a. Overhauling and repairing line cutouts, line switches, line breakers, etc.
b. Cleaning insulators and bushings.
c. Refusing cutouts.
d. Repairing line oil circuit breakers and associated relays and control wiring.
e. Repairing grounds.
f. Resagging, retying, or rearranging position or spacing of conductors.
g. Standing by phones, going to calls, cutting faulty lines clear, or similar activities at times of emergencies.
h. Sampling, testing, changing, purifying, and replenishing insulating oil.
i. Repairing line testing equipment.
j. Transferring loads, switching and reconnecting circuits and equipment for maintenance purposes.
k. Trimming trees and clearing brush.
l. Chemical treatment of right of way areas when occurring subsequent to construction of line.
3. Work of the following character on roads and trails:
a. Repairing roadway, bridges, etc.
b. Trimming trees and brush to maintain previous roadway clearance.
c. Snow removal from roads and trails.
d. Maintenance work on publicly owned roads and trails when done by utility at its expense.

572 Maintenance of underground lines.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of transmission plant, the book cost of which is includible in accounts 357, Underground Conduit, and 358, Underground Conductors and Devices. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

ITEMS

1. Work of the following character on underground conduit:
a. Cleaning ducts, manholes, and sewer connections.
b. Minor alterations of handholes, manholes, or vaults.
c. Refastening, repairing, or moving racks, ladders, or hangers in manholes, or vaults.
d. Plugging and shelving or replugging ducts.
e. Repairs to sewers and drains, walls and floors, rings and covers.
2. Work of the following character on underground conductors and devices:
a. Repairing oil circuit breakers, switches, cutouts, and control wiring.
b. Repairing grounds.
c. Retraining and reconnecting cables in manhole, including transfer of cables from one duct to another.
d. Repairing conductors and splices.
e. Repairing or moving junction boxes and potheads.
f. Refireproofing of cables and repairing supports.
g. Repairing electrolysis preventive devices for cables.
h. Repairing cable bonding systems.
i. Sampling, testing, changing, purifying and replenishing insulating oil.
j. Transferring loads, switching and reconnecting circuits and equipment for maintenance purposes.
k. Repairing line testing equipment.
l. Repairs to oil or gas equipment in high-voltage cable system and replacement of oil or gas.

573 Maintenance of miscellaneous transmission plant.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of owned or leased plant which is assignable to transmission operations and is not provided for elsewhere. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

3. Distribution Expenses

Operation

580 Operation supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of the operation of the distribution system. Direct supervision of specific activities, such as station operation, line operation, meter department operation, etc., shall be charged to the appropriate account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

581 Load dispatching.

This account (the keeping of which is optional with the utility) shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in load dispatching operations pertaining to the distribution of electricity.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Directing switching.
2. Arranging and controlling clearances for construction, maintenance, test and emergency purposes.
3. Controlling system voltages.
4. Preparing operating reports.
5. Obtaining reports on the weather and special events.

Expenses:
6. Communication service provided for system control purposes.
7. System record and report forms.
8. Meals, traveling and incidental expenses.

582 Station expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the operation of distribution substations.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising station operation.
2. Adjusting station equipment where such adjustment primarily affects performance, such as regulating the flow of cooling water, adjusting current in fields of a machine, changing voltage of regulators, or changing station transformer taps.
3. Keeping station log and records and preparing reports on station operation.
4. Inspecting, testing, and calibrating station equipment for the purpose of checking its performance.
5. Operating switching and other station equipment.
6. Standing watch, guarding and patrolling station and station yard.
7. Sweeping, mopping, and tidying station.
8. Care of grounds, including snow removal, cutting grass, etc.

Materials and Expenses:
9. Building service expenses.
10. Operating supplies, such as lubricants, commutator brushes, water, and rubber goods.
11. Station meter and instrument supplies, such as ink and charts.
12. Station record and report forms.
13. Tool expense.
14. Transportation expense.
15. Meals, traveling, and incidental expenses.

NOTE: If the utility owns storage battery equipment used for supplying electricity to customers in periods of emergency, the cost of operating labor and of supplies, such as acid, gloves, hydrometers, thermometers, soda, automatic cell fillers, acid proof shoes, etc., shall be included in this account. If significant in amount, a separate subdivision shall be maintained for such expenses.

583 Overhead line expenses.

584 Underground line expenses.

These accounts shall include, respectively, the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the operation of overhead and underground distribution lines.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising line operation.
2. Changing line transformer taps.
3. Inspecting and testing lightning arresters, line circuit breakers, switches, and grounds.
4. Inspecting and testing line transformers for the purpose of determining load, temperature, or operating performance.
5. Patrolling lines.
6. Load tests and voltage surveys of feeders, circuits, and line transformers.
7. Removing line transformers and voltage regulators with or without replacement.
8. Installing line transformers or voltage regulators with or without change in capacity provided that the cost of first installation of these items is included in account 368, Line Transformers.
9. Voltage surveys, either routine or upon request of customers, including voltage tests at customer's main switch.
10. Transferring loads, switching and reconnecting circuits and equipment for operation purposes.
11. Electrolysis surveys.
12. Inspecting and adjusting line testing equipment.

Materials and Expenses:
13. Tool expense.
14. Transportation expense.
15. Meals, traveling, and incidental expense.
16. Operating supplies, such as instrument charts, rubber goods, etc.

585 Street lighting and signal system expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in: (1) The operation of street lighting and signal system plant which is owned or leased by the utility; and (2) the operation and maintenance of such plant owned by customers where such work is done regularly as a part of the street lighting and signal system service.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising street lighting and signal systems operation.
2. Replacing lamps and incidental cleaning of glassware and fixtures in connection therewith.
3. Routine patrolling for lamp outages, extraneous nuisances or encroachments, etc.
4. Testing lines and equipment including voltage and current measurement.
5. Winding and inspection of time switch and other controls.

Materials and Expenses:
6. Street lamp renewals.
7. Transportation and tool expense.
8. Meals, traveling, and incidental expenses.

586 Meter expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the operation of customer meters and associated equipment.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising meter operation.
2. Clerical work on meter history and associated equipment record cards, test cards, and reports.
3. Disconnecting and reconnecting, removing and reinstalling, sealing and unsealing meters and other metering equipment in connection with initiating or terminating services including the cost of obtaining meter readings, if incidental to such operation.
4. Consolidating meter installations due to elimination of separate meters for different rates of service.
5. Changing or relocating meters, instrument transformers, time switches, and other metering equipment.
6. Resetting time controls, checking operation of demand meters and other metering equipment, when done as an independent operation.
7. Inspecting and adjusting meter testing equipment.
8. Inspecting and testing meters, instrument transformers, time switches, and other metering equipment on premises or in shops excluding inspecting and testing incidental to maintenance.

Materials and Expenses:
9. Meter seals and miscellaneous meter supplies.
10. Transportation expenses.
11. Meals, traveling, and incidental expenses.
12. Tool expenses.

NOTE: The cost of the first setting and testing of a meter is chargeable to utility plant account 370, Meters.

587 Customer installations expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in work on customer installations in inspecting premises and in rendering services to customers of the nature of those indicated by the list of items hereunder.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. Supervising customer installations work.
2. Inspecting premises, including check of wiring for code compliance.
3. Investigating, locating, and clearing grounds on customers' wiring.
4. Investigating service complaints, including load tests of motors and lighting and power circuits on customers' premises; field investigations of complaints on bills or of voltage.
5. Installing, removing, renewing, and changing lamps and fuses.
6. Radio, television and similar interference work including erection of new aerials on customers' premises and patrolling of lines, testing of lightning arresters, inspection of pole hardware, etc., and examination on or off premises of customers' appliances, wiring, or equipment to locate cause of interference.
7. Installing, connecting, reinstalling, or removing leased property on customers' premises.
8. Testing, adjusting, and repairing customers' fixtures and appliances in shop or on premises.
9. Cost of changing customers' equipment due to changes in service characteristics.
10. Investigation of current diversion including setting and removal of check meters and securing special readings thereon; special calls by employees in connection with discovery and settlement of current diversion; changes in customer wiring and any other labor cost identifiable as caused by current diversion.

Materials and Expenses:
11. Lamp and fuse renewals.
12. Materials used in servicing customers' fixtures, appliances and equipment.
13. Power, light, heat, telephone, and other expenses of appliance repair department.
14. Tool expense.
15. Transportation expense, including pickup and delivery charges.
16. Meals, traveling and incidental expenses.
17. Rewards paid for discovery of current diversion.

NOTE A: Amounts billed customers for any work, the cost of which is charged to this account, shall be credited to this account. Any excess over costs resulting therefrom shall be transferred to account 451, Miscellaneous Service Revenues.

NOTE B: Do not include in this account expenses incurred in connection with merchandising, jobbing and contract work.

588 Miscellaneous distribution expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in distribution system operation not provided for elsewhere.

ITEMS

Labor:
1. General records of physical characteristics of lines and substations, such as capacities, etc.
2. Ground resistance records.
3. Joint pole maps and records.
4. Distribution system voltage and load records.
5. Preparing maps and prints.
6. Service interruption and trouble records.
7. General clerical and stenographic work except that chargeable to account 586, Meter Expenses.
8. Operating records covering poles, transformers, manholes, cables, and other distribution facilities. Exclude meter records chargeable to account 586, Meter Expenses, and station records chargeable to account 582, Station Expenses, and stores records chargeable to account 163, Stores Expense Undistributed.
9. Janitor work at distribution office buildings including snow removal, cutting grass, etc.

Materials and Expenses:
10. Communication service.
11. Building service expenses.
12. Miscellaneous office supplies and expenses, printing, and stationery, maps and records and first-aid supplies.

589 Rents.

This account shall include rents of property of others used, occupied, or operated in connection with the distribution system, including payments to the United States and others for the use and occupancy of public lands and reservations for distribution line rights of way. (See operating expense instruction 3.)

Maintenance

590 Maintenance supervision and engineering.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in the general supervision and direction of maintenance of the distribution system. Direct field supervision of specific jobs shall be charged to the appropriate maintenance account. (See operating expense instruction 1.)

591 Maintenance of structures.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of structures, the book cost of which is includible in account 361, Structures and Improvements. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

592 Maintenance of station equipment.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in maintenance of plant, the book cost of which is includible in account 362, Station Equipment, and account 363, Storage Battery Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

593 Maintenance of overhead lines.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the maintenance of overhead distribution line facilities, the book cost of which is includible in account 364, Poles, Towers and Fixtures, account 365, Overhead Conductors and Devices, and account 369, Services. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

ITEMS

1. Work of the following character on poles, towers, and fixtures:
a. Installing additional clamps or removing clamps or strain insulators on guys in place.
b. Moving line or guy pole in relocation of pole or section of line.
c. Painting poles, towers, crossarms, or pole extensions.
d. Readjusting and changing position of guys or braces.
e. Realigning and straightening poles, crossarms, braces, pins, racks, brackets, and other pole fixtures.
f. Reconditioning reclaimed pole fixtures.
g. Relocating crossarms, racks, brackets, and other fixtures on poles.
h. Repairing pole supported platform.
i. Repairs by others to jointly owned poles.
j. Shaving, cutting rot, or treating poles or crossarms in use or salvaged for reuse.
k. Stubbing poles already in service.
l. Supporting conductors, transformers, and other fixtures and transferring them to new poles during pole replacements.
m. Maintaining pole signs, stencils, tags, etc.
2. Work of the following character on overhead conductors and devices:
a. Overhauling and repairing line cutouts, line switches, line breakers, and capacitor installations.
b. Cleaning insulators and bushings.
c. Refusing line cutouts.
d. Repairing line oil circuit breakers and associated relays and control wiring.
e. Repairing grounds.
f. Resagging, retying, or rearranging position or spacing of conductors.
g. Standing by phones, going to calls, cutting faulty lines clear, or similar activities at times of emergency.
h. Sampling, testing, changing, purifying, and replenishing insulating oil.
i. Transferring loads, switching, and reconnecting circuits and equipment for maintenance purposes.
j. Repairing line testing equipment.
k. Trimming trees and clearing brush.
l. Chemical treatment of right of way area when occurring subsequent to construction of line.
3. Work of the following character on overhead services:
a. Moving position of service either on pole or on customers' premises.
b. Pulling slack in service wire.
c. Retying service wire.
d. Refastening or tightening service bracket.

594 Maintenance of underground lines.

This account shall include the cost of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the maintenance of underground distribution line facilities, the book cost of which is includible in account 366, Underground Conduit, account 367, Underground Conductors and Devices, and account 369, Services. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

ITEMS

1. Work of the following character on underground conduit:
a. Cleaning ducts, manholes, and sewer connections.
b. Moving or changing position of conduit or pipe.
c. Minor alterations of handholes, manholes, or vaults.
d. Refastening, repairing, or moving racks, ladders, or hangers in manholes or vaults.
e. Plugging and shelving ducts.
f. Repairs to sewers, drains, walls, and floors, rings and covers.
2. Work of the following character on underground conductors and devices:

6. ADMINISTRATIVE AND GENERAL EXPENSES

Operation

920 Administrative and general salaries.

A. This account shall include the compensation (salaries, bonuses, and other consideration for services, but not including directors' fees) of officers, executives, and other employees of the utility properly chargeable to utility operations and not chargeable directly to a particular operating function.

B. This account may be subdivided in accordance with a classification appropriate to the departmental or other functional organization of the utility.

921 Office supplies and expenses.

A. This account shall include office supplies and expenses incurred in connection with the general administration of the utility's operations which are assignable to specific administrative or general departments and are not specifically provided for in other accounts. This includes the expenses of the various administrative and general departments, the salaries and wages of which are includible in account 920.

B. This account may be subdivided in accordance with a classification appropriate to the departmental or other functional organization of the utility.

NOTE: Office expenses which are clearly applicable to any group of operating expenses other than the administrative and general group shall be included in the appropriate account in such group. Further, general expenses which apply to the utility as a whole rather than to a particular administrative function shall be included in account 930, Miscellaneous General Expenses.

ITEMS

1. Automobile service, including charges through clearing account.
2. Bank messenger and service charges.
3. Books, periodicals, bulletins and subscriptions to newspapers, newsletters, tax services, etc.
4. Building service expenses for customer accounts, sales, and administrative and general purposes.
5. Communication service expenses.
6. Cost of individual items of office equipment used by general departments which are of small value or short life.

8. Office supplies and expenses.
9. Payment of court costs, witness fees, and other expenses of legal department.
10. Postage, printing and stationery.
11. Meals, traveling and incidental expenses.

922 Administrative expenses transferred—Credit.

This account shall be credited with administrative expenses recorded in accounts 920 and 921 which are transferred to construction costs or to nonutility accounts. (See electric plant instruction 4.)

923 Outside services employed.

A. This account shall include the fees and expenses of professional consultants and others for general services which are not applicable to a particular operating function or to other accounts. It shall include also the pay and expenses of persons engaged for a special or temporary administrative or general purpose in circumstances where the person so engaged is not considered as an employee of the utility.

B. This account shall be so maintained as to permit ready summarization according to the nature of service and the person furnishing the same.

ITEMS

1. Fees, pay and expenses of accountants and auditors, actuaries, appraisers, attorneys, engineering consultants, management consultants, negotiators, public relations counsel, tax consultants, etc.
2. Supervision fees and expenses paid under contracts for general management services.

NOTE: Do not include inspection and brokerage fees and commissions chargeable to other accounts or fees and expenses in connection with security issues which are includible in the expenses of issuing securities.

924 Property insurance.

A. This account shall include the cost of insurance or reserve accruals to protect the utility against losses and damages to owned or leased property used in its utility operations. It shall include also the cost of labor and related supplies and expenses incurred in property insurance activities.

B. Recoveries from insurance companies or others for property damages shall be credited to the account charged with the cost of the damage. If the damaged property has been retired, the credit shall be to the appropriate account for accumulated provision for depreciation.

C. Records shall be kept so as to show the amount of coverage for each class of insurance carried, the property covered, and the applicable premiums. Any dividends distributed by mutual insurance companies shall be credited to the accounts to which the insurance premiums were charged.

ITEMS

1. Premiums payable to insurance companies for fire, storm, burglary, boiler explosion, lightning, fidelity, riot, and similar insurance.
2. Amounts credited to account 261, Property Insurance Reserve, for similar protection.
3. Special costs incurred in procuring insurance.
4. Insurance inspection service.
5. Insurance counsel, brokerage fees, and expenses.

NOTE A: The cost of insurance or reserve accruals capitalized shall be charged to construction either directly or by transfer to construction work orders from this account.

NOTE B: The cost of insurance or reserve accruals for the following classes of property shall be charged as indicated.

(1) Materials and supplies and stores equipment, to account 163, Stores Expense Undistributed, or appropriate materials account.

(2) Transportation and other general equipment to appropriate clearing accounts that may be maintained.

(3) Electric plant leased to others, to account 413, Expenses of Electric Plant Leased to Others.

(4) Nonutility property, to the appropriate nonutility income account.

(5) Merchandise and jobbing property, to account 416, Costs and Expenses of Merchandising, Jobbing and Contract Work, or account 915, as appropriate.

NOTE C: The cost of labor and related supplies and expenses of administrative and general employees who are only incidentally engaged in property insurance work may be included in accounts 920 and 921, as appropriate.

925 Injuries and damages.

A. This account shall include the cost of insurance or reserve accruals to protect the utility against injuries and damages claims of employees or others, losses of such character not covered by insurance, and expenses incurred in settlement of injuries and damages claims. It shall also include the cost of labor and related supplies and expenses incurred in injuries and damages activities.

B. Reimbursements from insurance companies or others for expenses charged hereto on account of injuries and damages and insurance dividends or refunds shall be credited to this account.

ITEMS

1. Premiums payable to insurance companies for protection against claims from injuries and damages by employees or others, such as public liability, property damages, casualty, employee liability, etc., and amounts credited to account 262, Injuries and Damages Reserve, for similar protection.
2. Losses not covered by insurance or reserve accruals on account of injuries or deaths to employees or others and damages to the property of others.
3. Fees and expenses of claim investigators.
4. Payment of awards to claimants for court costs and attorneys' services.
5. Medical and hospital service and expenses for employees as the result of occupational injuries, or resulting from claims of others.
6. Compensation payments under workmen's compensation laws.
7. Compensation paid while incapacitated as the result of occupational injuries. (See Note A.)
8. Cost of safety, accident prevention and similar educational activities.

NOTE A: Payments to or in behalf of employees for accident or death benefits, hospital expenses, medical supplies or for salaries while incapacitated for service or on leave of absence beyond periods normally allowed, when not the result of occupational injuries, shall be charged to account 926, Employee Pensions and Benefits. (See also Note B of account 926.)

NOTE B: The cost of injuries and damages or reserve accruals capitalized shall be charged to construction directly or by transfer to construction work orders from this account.

NOTE C: Exclude herefrom the time and expenses of employees (except those engaged in injuries and damages activities) spent in attendance at safety and accident prevention educational meetings, if occurring during the regular work period.

NOTE D: The cost of labor and related supplies and expenses of administrative and general employees who are only incidentally engaged in injuries and damages activities may be included in accounts 920 and 921, as appropriate.

926 Employee pensions and benefits.

A. This account shall include pensions paid to or on behalf of retired employees, or accruals to provide for pensions, or payments for the purchase of annuities for this purpose, when the utility has definitely, by contract, committed itself to a pension plan under which the pension funds are irrevocably devoted to pension purposes, and payments for employee accident, sickness, hospital, and death benefits, or insurance therefor. Include, also, expenses incurred in medical, educational or recreational activities for the benefit of employees, and administrative expenses in connection with employee pensions and benefits.

B. The utility shall maintain a complete record of accruals or payments for pensions and be prepared to furnish full information to the Commission of the plan under which it has created or proposes to create a pension fund and a copy of the declaration of trust or resolution under which the pension plan is established.

C. There shall be credited to this account the portion of pensions and benefits expenses which is applicable to nonutility operations or which is charged to construction unless such amounts are distributed directly to the accounts involved and are not included herein in the first instance.

D. Records in support of this account shall be so kept that the total pensions expense, the total benefits expense, the administrative expenses included herein, and the amounts of pensions and benefits expenses transferred to construction or other accounts will be readily available.

ITEMS

1. Payment of pensions under a nonaccrual or nonfunded basis.
2. Accruals for or payments to pension funds or to insurance companies for pension purposes.
3. Group and life insurance premiums (credit dividends received).
4. Payments for medical and hospital services and expenses of employees when not the result of occupational injuries.
5. Payments for accident, sickness, hospital, and death benefits or insurance.
6. Payments to employees incapacitated for service or on leave of absence beyond periods normally allowed, when not the result of occupational injuries, or in excess of statutory awards.
7. Expenses in connection with educational and recreational activities for the benefit of employees.

NOTE A: The cost of labor and related supplies and expenses of administrative and general employees who are only incidentally engaged in employee pension and benefit activities may be included in accounts 920 and 921, as appropriate.

NOTE B: Salaries paid to employees during periods of nonoccupational sickness may be charged to the appropriate labor account rather than to employee benefits.

927 Franchise requirements.

A. This account shall include payments to municipal or other governmental authorities, and the cost of materials, supplies and services furnished such authorities without reimbursement in compliance with franchise, ordinance, or similar requirements; provided, however, that the utility may charge to this account at regular tariff rates, instead of cost, utility service furnished without charge under provisions of franchises.

B. When no direct outlay is involved, concurrent credit for such charges shall be made to account 929, Duplicate Charges—Credit.

C. The account shall be maintained so as to readily reflect the amounts of cash outlays, utility service supplied without charge, and other items furnished without charge.

NOTE A: Franchise taxes shall not be charged to this account but to account 408, Taxes Other Than Income Taxes.

NOTE B: Any amount paid as initial consideration for a franchise running for more than one year shall be charged to account 302, Franchises and Consents.

928 Regulatory commission expenses.

A. This account shall include all expenses (except pay of regular employees only incidentally engaged in such work) properly includible in utility operating expenses, incurred by the utility in connection with formal cases before regulatory commissions, or other regulatory bodies, or cases in which such a body is a party, including payments made to a regulatory commission for fees assessed against the utility for pay and expenses of such commission, its officers, agents, and employees, and also including payments made to the United States for the administration of the Federal Power Act.

B. Amounts of regulatory commission expenses which by approval or direction of the Commission are to be spread over future periods shall be charged to account 186, Miscellaneous Deferred Debits, and amortized by charges to this account.

C. The utility shall be prepared to show the cost of each formal case.

ITEMS

1. Salaries, fees, retainers, and expenses of counsel, solicitors, attorneys, accountants, engineers, clerks, attendants, witnesses, and others engaged in the prosecution of, or defense against petitions or complaints presented to regulatory bodies, or in the valuation of property owned or used by the utility in connection with such cases.

2. Office supplies and expenses, payments to public service or other regulatory commissions, stationery and printing, traveling expenses, and other expenses incurred directly in connection with formal cases before regulatory commissions.

NOTE A: Exclude from this account and include in other appropriate operating expense accounts, expenses incurred in the improvement of service, additional inspection, or rendering reports, which are made necessary by the rules and regulations, or orders, of regulatory bodies.

NOTE B: Do not include in this account amounts includible in account 302, Franchises and Consents, account 181, Unamortized Debt Discount and Expense, or account 214, Capital Stock Expense.

929 Duplicate charges—Credit.

This account shall include concurrent credits for charges which may be made to operating expenses or to other accounts for the use of utility service from its own supply. Include, also, offsetting credits for any other charges made to operating expenses for which there is no direct money outlay.

930 Miscellaneous general expenses.

This account shall include the cost of labor and expenses incurred in connection with the general management of the utility not provided for elsewhere.

ITEMS

Labor:

1. Miscellaneous labor not elsewhere provided for.

Expenses:

2. Industry association dues for company memberships.
3. Contributions for conventions and meetings of the industry.

10. Directors' fees and expenses.
11. Publishing and distributing annual reports to stockholders.
12. Institutional or goodwill advertising.
13. Public notices of financial, operating, and other data required by regulatory statutes, not including, however, notices required in connection with security issues or acquisitions of property.

931 Rents.

This account shall include rents properly includible in utility operating expenses for the property of others used, occupied, or operated in connection with the customer accounts, sales, and general and administrative functions of the utility. (See operating expense instruction 3.)

Maintenance

932 Maintenance of general plant.

A. This account shall include the cost assignable to customer accounts, sales and administrative and general functions of labor, materials used and expenses incurred in the maintenance of property, the book cost of which is includible in account 390, Structures and Improvements, account 391, Office Furniture and Equipment, account 397, Communication Equipment, and account 398, Miscellaneous Equipment. (See operating expense instruction 2.)

B. Maintenance expenses on office furniture and equipment used elsewhere than in general, commercial and sales offices shall be charged to the following accounts:

Steam Power Generation, Account 514.
Nuclear Power Generation, Account 532.
Hydraulic Power Generation, Account 545.
Other Power Generation, Account 554.

AUTHORITY: §§ 333.1 to 333.5 issued under sec. 41, 50 Stat. 528, as amended, sec. 510, 63 Stat. 437, sec. 4, 64 Stat. 100; 7 U.S.C. 1015, 42 U.S.C. 1480, 40 U.S.C. 442; Order of Acting Sec. of Agr., 19 F.R. 74, 22 F.R. 8188. §§ 333.1, 333.4, 333.5 also issued under secs. 1, 2, 3, 44, 50 Stat. 522, as amended, 523, as amended, 530, as amended, secs. 11, 12, 60 Stat. 1075, as amended, 1076, as amended, sec. 16, 60 Stat. 553, as amended, sec. 17, 70 Stat. 802, as amended, sec. 16, 72 Stat. 840; 7 U.S.C. 1001, 1002, 1003, 1018, 1005a, 1005b, 1006c, 1006d, 1006e. Additional authority is cited in parentheses following the sections affected.

§ 333.1 General.

This part prescribes the authority, policies, and procedures for processing subsequent direct and insured Farm Ownership loans. The term "subsequent loan," as used in this part, means a Farm Ownership loan to a person who is indebted for a direct or insured Farm Ownership loan, a direct Farm Ownership loan made in connection with a credit sale of real estate on Farm Ownership terms, or a direct or insured Farm Ownership loan made to a transferee in connection with the transfer of a Farm Ownership farm. "Farm Ownership debt" means any amount owed by a Farm Ownership borrower on his Farm Ownership account. "Holder" means the current holder of the insured note, and, when applicable, also the insured mortgage and related instruments. "Private holder" means any holder other than the insurance fund or the United States as Trustee for a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation under an agreement pursuant to section 2(f) of the Rural Rehabilitation Corporation Trust Liquidation Act (40 U.S.C. 440 (f)). If the subsequent credit needs of a Farm Ownership borrower can be met with a Farm Housing loan, the special requirements contained in § 383.6(e) of this chapter will apply.

(a) A subsequent Farm Ownership loan may be made for the same purposes and under the same conditions as an initial Farm Ownership loan, including the development of an underdeveloped farm or enlargement of an undersized farm into an adequate family-type farm, and:

(1) May include funds to pay equity to a transferor in connection with the transfer of a farm which is security for a Farm Ownership loan if the transaction will result in the transferee becoming the owner-operator of a family-type farm.

(2) May include funds for the payment of principal and interest owed on an existing direct Farm Ownership loan being refinanced in accordance with this part.

(3) In case the borrower is indebted for an insured loan, the subsequent loan may include funds to pay the holder the unpaid principal balance plus accrued interest owed to the holder, as well as the following items when the borrower or transferee is unable to pay them from personal funds:

(i) Any amount owed the insurance fund for advances made on behalf of the borrower.

(ii) Any amount owed the insurance fund for annual loan insurance charges for loans evidenced by Form FHA–240, "Promissory Note," or Form FHA–360 "Promissory Note."

(iii) The portion of the unpaid interest on the note account that represents the annual charge on the loan being refinanced when the loan is evidenced by Form FHA–251, "Promissory Note (Insured FO Loan)." (Since the annual charge in such cases is a fractional part of the accrued interest on the note account, there always will be an annual charge to be collected.)

(b) Ordinarily, a subsequent Farm Ownership loan, or a Farm Housing loan to a Farm Ownership borrower, will not be processed if the amount of funds required is less than $1,000 because of the costs involved in proportion to the amount of the loan.

(c) Ordinarily, a subsequent Farm Ownership loan will be amortized so as to mature within one year of the maturity date of the earliest existing Farm Ownership note. The loan may be amortized over a longer period if the approval official determines that a longer payment period is necessary, but in no case will it be amortized over a period longer than 40 years from the date of the subsequent Farm Ownership note. The note and security instrument taken in connection with the subsequent Farm Ownership loan will indicate the proper amortization period of the loan.

(d) For a subsequent direct Farm Ownership loan, title clearance and loan closing will be accomplished in accordance with Part 307 of this chapter. For a subsequent insured Farm Ownership loan, closing instructions will be issued by the Attorney in Charge in each case.

(e) A new appraisal report will be required in connection with a subsequent Farm Ownership loan only when:

(1) Subsequent loan funds will be used to purchase land or to refinance debts against land not covered by the mortgage for the initial Farm Ownership loan; or

(2) The latest appraisal report was made on a different basis (normal earning capacity value or normal market value) than the type of appraisal applicable to the subsequent loan; or

(3) The County Committee, County Supervisor, or loan approval official requests a new appraisal report; or

(4) The physical characteristics of the farm have changed significantly or will be changed as a result of the subsequent loan.

(f) The County Committee will certify again, on Form FHA–491, "County Committee Certification (Farm Ownership Loans)," as to the fair and reasonable value of the farm, after the contemplated improvements are made. The Committee will take into consideration any information on farm production that has become available as a result of operating history, as well as the normal earning capacity value or the normal market value of the farm as indicated on the latest appraisal report.

(g) Escrow arrangements may be used with the advice of the Attorney in Charge, provided the escrow agent is properly bonded. No escrow arrangements will be initiated by the Farmers Home Administration and no part of the expense for an escrow arrangement will be paid by the Government.

§ 333.2 Authority.

The State Director is authorized to approve or disapprove subsequent Farm Ownership loans. This authority may be redelegated in writing by the State Director to one or more of the following State Office employees: Chief, Real Estate Loans; Chief, Program Operations; Program Loan Officer; or Real Estate Loan Officer.

§ 333.3 Subsequent direct loans.

(a) Direct loan to insured loan borrower. A direct Farm Ownership loan will not be made to an insured loan borrower unless prior approval is received from the National Office.

(b) Refinancing of existing direct Farm Ownership debt required. Existing direct Farm Ownership debts will be refinanced when the borrower's indebtedness represents an asset of a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation; a Defense Relocation Corporation, the accounts of which are not yet considered Government accounts; or a land-leasing or land-purchasing association or similar organization. The amount to be refinanced will include interest on the direct Farm Ownership debt to the date the subsequent direct loan is closed. The determination of the balance to be refinanced, the receipt for payment, note, mortgage, and satisfaction or release of the mortgage in connection with the debt being refinanced will be handled in accordance with Subpart A of Part 366 of this chapter.

(c) Refinancing of existing direct Farm Ownership debt not required. Existing direct Farm Ownership debts, except the three types indicated in paragraph (b) of this section, will not be refinanced unless special authorization is obtained from the National Office. When the existing direct Farm Ownership debt is not refinanced:

(1) The subsequent direct Farm Ownership loan will bear interest at 5 percent and the existing debt(s) will be continued at the rate(s) of interest shown in the note(s).

(2) The mortgage(s) securing the existing direct Farm Ownership debt will not be released.

(3) Each borrower whose initial direct Farm Ownership loan was approved prior to November 1, 1946, will execute Form FHA–165, "Variable-Payment Agreement," for his initial loan at the time he receives a subsequent direct Farm Ownership loan if he has not previously done so. The Form also will be executed by the County Supervisor. Execution of Form FHA–165 will change the repayment plan, eliminate the 90-day grace period, and establish December 31 as the installment due date. However, if a prior subsequent direct Farm Ownership loan has been made with a March 31 installment due date, the installment due date for the new subsequent direct Farm Ownership loan also will be March 31.

(d) Reamortization of existing direct Farm Ownership debt. The existing direct Farm Ownership debt will be reamortized in accordance with Subpart A of Part 361 of this chapter, except an account need not be reamortized if it was on schedule (neither ahead nor behind schedule) as of the last preceding installment due date. When the existing direct Farm Ownership debt is to be reamortized, the borrower will execute Form FHA–176, "Request for Reamortization of Farm Ownership Loan."

(e) Loan processing actions. The subsequent loan docket will be assembled and the loan will be processed in the same manner as prescribed in Part 332 of this chapter, except that:

(1) Additional Forms FHA–643, "Farm Development Plan," FHA–42, "Valuation of Buildings," and FHA–596, "Appraisal Report," will be completed and included in the docket only when applicable.

(2) The docket will include, when applicable, Forms FHA–165 and FHA–176. If the subsequent loan is made in connection with a transfer, Form FHA–97, "Assumption Agreement," will be included.

(3) The installment due date of the subsequent direct Farm Ownership loan will be January 1 except in those cases in which a borrower previously executed an initial or a subsequent direct Farm Ownership note or an assumption agreement which provided for a March 31 installment due date. If the borrower previously executed an initial or a subsequent direct Farm Ownership note or an assumption agreement with a March 31 installment due date, the installment due date of the subsequent direct Farm Ownership loan will be March 31; in such case, the note taken in connection with the subsequent direct Farm Ownership loan will be amended to provide for a March 31 installment due date.

(Secs. 1, 2, 3, 44, 48, 50 Stat. 522, as amended, 523, as amended, 530, as amended, 531, as amended, sec. 17, 70 Stat. 802, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 1001, 1002, 1003, 1018, 1022, 1006d)

§ 333.4 Subsequent insured loan to a person indebted for a direct or insured Farm Ownership loan.

(a) General. When a subsequent insured loan is made, the existing direct or insured Farm Ownership loan will be refinanced and the entire amount of the subsequent insured Farm Ownership note will bear 5 percent interest. Generally, a subsequent insured loan may be made from the insurance fund only when funds are not available from a private lender or under a 2(f) agreement.

(1) Before refinancing a Farm Ownership loan held by a local or state lender, the lender should be contacted to determine whether he is willing to make the subsequent loan. If a holder is not interested in making the subsequent loan, the loan may be made by another lender, including the United States as Trustee under a 2(f) agreement or the insurance fund.

(2) Loan limitations will apply as in the case of an initial insured Farm Ownership loan.

(3) If a new appraisal report is made, the borrower will be required to pay a $20 appraisal fee.

(4) When a subsequent insured loan is made, the existing note(s) will be cancelled and the existing Farm Ownership mortgage(s) will be satisfied except that in any state where local law requires the lien of the initial mortgage to the kept alive in order to obtain adequate security for the subsequent loan, the initial note and mortgage will not be cancelled and satisfied, and the State Director may approve the taking of a subsequent insured Farm Ownership note and mortgage which will renew, extend, if legally proper, and consolidate the unpaid balance of principal and interest on the initial loan with the additional advance, provided the Government will hold both the initial and subsequent mortgages.

(5) The fixed 5-year period for nonredemption by the Government from the holder of a subsequent insured Farm Ownership loan will begin from the date of execution of the insurance endorsement.

(b) Loan processing actions. The subsequent loan docket will be assembled and the loan will be processed in the same manner as prescribed for an initial insured loan except that:

(1) Additional Forms FHA–643, FHA–42, and FHA–596 will be completed and included in the docket only when applicable.

(2) After approval of the loan by the loan approval official, the following additional items will be submitted by the County Supervisor to the Attorney in Charge for preparation of closing instructions:

(i) Preliminary title evidence based on a continuation search commencing from the date of recordation of the latest mortgage for the existing Farm Ownership loan.

(ii) Final opinion and any title insurance policy issued in connection with the existing Farm Ownership loan.

(iii) The mortgage for the existing Farm Ownership loan. This may be the original or a conformed copy certified by the County Supervisor or the recorder and showing the recording information.

(iv) Any additional title information required by the Attorney in Charge.

(3) The Attorney in Charge will include in his closing instructions advice with respect to the satisfaction or release of the mortgage for the initial Farm Ownership loan. In case such mortgage is held by a private lender, the closing instructions will recognize that the satisfaction or release will not be received from the holder until some time after closing of the subsequent insured Farm Ownership loan and the closing instructions will require that the satisfaction or release be recorded as soon as it is received. In case the mortgage for the initial insured Farm Ownership loan is held by a private lender, the closing instructions also will require that Form FHA–366, "Consent and Release of Interest of United States (Insured Farm Ownership Loans)," be recorded along with the satisfaction or release.

(4) The amount of the new note will be the sum of the following items less any amount paid by the borrower or transferee from personal funds:

(i) Unpaid principal of note being refinanced.

(ii) Total unpaid interest on note being refinanced computed to date of loan closing.

(iii) Any amount owed the loan insurance account for advances or annual loan insurance charges.

(iv) Amount of additional funds needed.

(5) When a new lender is making the subsequent loan and the loan is ready for closing, the County Supervisor will request a check for the total amount of funds needed for refinancing the existing Farm Ownership loan and providing additional funds. This amount will correspond with the amount to be shown in the new note, Form FHA–251, when the loan is closed.

(i) When the account is paid in full, the account will be closed. If the initial insured loan is held by a private holder, the original and one copy of Form FHA–993A, "Notice and Acknowledgment of Final Payment," will be forwarded to the holder. In a case where the holder holds the deed of trust and under State law the satisfaction or release is not to be furnished by the holder, the language of Form FHA–993A, Section II B, will be modified accordingly.

(6) If the holder is making the subsequent loan, the amount of the loan check requested will be determined by subtracting the unpaid principal and interest owed the holder, calculated to the date of loan closing, from the total amount of the subsequent loan. (For insured loans evidenced by Form FHA–251, the interest owed the holder does not include the portion of interest representing the annual charge due the Government.)

(i) When the subsequent loan is to be made by a private holder, the loan will be closed before the County Supervisor requests a loan check for the additional advance.

(a) The State Director will deliver to the holder the original and two copies of the partially completed Form FHA–993, "Notice of Receipt of Final Payment on Insured Loan," the original of the subsequent insured Farm Ownership note, and the original attested Form FHA–971, "Request for Check," with a letter explaining the transaction. The State Director will inform the holder of the amount of the unpaid balance of principal and interest due him as of the date of loan closing on the old note being refinanced. The State Director will request that, if such amount is in agreement with the holder's records, the holder should execute the original and one copy of Form FHA–993, and send to the appropriate County Supervisor the executed original and copy of Form FHA–993, together with the cancelled note for the initial insured Farm Ownership loan. If the mortgage for the initial insured Farm Ownership loan is held by the holder, the State Director also will request the holder to send to the County Supervisor the mortgage and an appropriate instrument of satisfaction or release of the mortgage. The State Director also will request the holder to send a check to the County Supervisor drawn to the order of the borrower in the amount specified on Form FHA–971.

(b) When the executed original and copy of Form FHA–993 and the cancelled note are received from the holder, the County Supervisor will send the executed original and copy of Form FHA–993 to the Finance Office.

(c) Upon receipt of the executed original and copy of Form FHA–993, the Finance Office will determine if the full amount owed the loan insurance account and, if the note is on Form FHA–251, the annual charge for the initial insured Farm Ownership loan have been paid, and, if paid, the Director, Finance Office, will sign Section II of the original and copy of Form FHA–993. Finance Office records on the initial insured Farm Ownership loan will be satisfied as a paid-in-full account.

(ii) When the holder of the initial loan is the insurance fund or a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation under a 2(f) agreement, the check for the subsequent loan and the note for the initial loan will be obtained before the loan is closed.

(7) The County Supervisor on the date of loan closing will collect from the borrower a $20 appraisal fee if a new apparisal was made, any amount owed the loan insurance account, the annual charge if the note being refinanced is on Form FHA–251, and if a new lender is making the subsequent loan the unpaid balance of principal on the initial Farm Ownership note and the amount of unpaid interest due the holder. However, if a private holder is making the subsequent loan and the loan check includes the appraisal fee and any amount owed the loan insurance account or the annual charge, the amounts for these items will be collected as soon as the loan check is received. If a new lender is making the subsequent loan and the holder of the initial loan is a private lender, the collection will include 10 days' additional interest.

(8) The County Supervisor is authorized to satisfy the existing mortgage(s) in accordance with the closing instructions of the Attorney in Charge when the loan(s) being refinanced is a direct Farm ownership loan, an insured Farm Ownership loan for which the Government is named as mortgagee in the mortgage, or an insured Farm Ownership loan for which the mortgage is held by the Government under a trust assignment or declaration of trust. Whenever the Government holds the mortgage under a trust assignment or declaration of trust, the satisfaction will show that the Government is satisfying the mortgage for itself and as trustee.

(9) The County Supervisor is authorized to execute Form FHA–366 for an initial insured Farm Ownership loan for which the lender holds the mortgage.

(10) The cost of recording the satisfaction or release and Form FHA–366 will be borne by the borrower, except when State law requires the mortgagee to record or file satisfactions or releases and to pay the cost of recording. When the mortgagee is required to pay the recording cost:

(i) The cost of recording the satisfaction or release will be paid by the mortgagee. The Government is the mortgagee for all mortgages taken on Form FHA–242..., "Real Estate Mortgage," or Form FHA–177..., "Real Estate Mortgage (Insured Loan)," and will be considered as the mortgagee for any mortgage taken on Form FHA–363..., "Real Estate Mortgage," which is subject to a trust assignment or declaration of trust.

(ii) The cost of recording Form FHA–366 will be paid by the Government.

(iii) Any recording costs required to be paid by the Government will be paid by voucher.

(11) After the satisfaction or release of the mortgage for the initial insured Farm Ownership loan and, when appropriate, Form FHA–366 have been recorded, the County Supervisor will deliver to the borrower the cancelled note, the satisfied real estate mortgage, the instrument of satisfaction or release of the mortgage, and, when appropriate, Form FHA–366.

§ 333.5 Subsequent insured loan to an eligible applicant to refinance a direct or insured Farm Ownership loan in connection with a transfer.

When an applicant elegible for a Farm Ownership loan is acquiring by transfer a farm which is security for a Farm Ownership loan, he may be made a subsequent insured Farm Ownership loan to refinance the existing Farm Ownership indebtedness and provide additional funds for authorized purposes if needed. Even though the applicant (transferee) is not indebted for a Farm Ownership loan, the loan to refinance the Farm Ownership indebtedness is considered to be a subsequent Farm Ownership loan. The amount of the subsequent loan plus any prior lien indebtedness not being refinanced may not exceed 90 percent of the fair and reasonable value of the farm rather than the lesser of such value or the total cash investment. In all other respects, the policies and procedures outlined in this part will be followed except: The county average value limitation is not applicable when no additional land is being purchased; an option from the old borrower will be included in the docket; and the deed from the old borrower to the new borrower will be prepared or approved by the Farmers Home Administration.

Dated: June 1, 1960.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

SUBCHAPTER A—MARKETING ORDERS

PART 1015—CUCUMBERS GROWN IN FLORIDA

Order Terminating Limitation of Shipments

Findings. (a) Pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 118 and Order No. 115 (7 CFR Part 1015), regulating the handling of cucumbers grown in Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Florida Cucumber Committee, established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the termination of the limitation of shipments, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(b) It is hereby found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice and engage in public rule making procedure, and that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of this termination order until 30 days or any other period beyond the date specified (5 U.S.C. 1001 et seq.) in that: (i) the time intervening between the date when information upon which this termination order is based became available and the time when this termination order must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; (ii) more orderly marketing in the public interest, than would otherwise prevail, will be promoted by terminating regulations applicable to the handling of cucumbers, in the manner set forth below, on and after the effective date of this termination order; (iii) compliance with this termination order will not require any special preparation on the part of handlers which cannot be completed by the effective dates; (iv) a reasonable time is permitted under the circumstances, for such preparation; (v) information regarding the committee's recommendations has been made available to producers and handlers in the production area; and (vi) this order relieves restrictions on the handling of cucumbers grown in the production area during the period from the effective date specified until July 31, 1960.

Order terminated. The provisions of § 1015.303, as amended (24 F.R. 7863, 8089, 8542, 9708, 25 F.R. 2512, 3315, 3804) are hereby terminated as of June 6, 1960.

Dated: June 3, 1960.

[Cherry Order 4]

PART 1022—SWEET CHERRIES GROWN IN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN WASHINGTON

Limitation of Shipments

§ 1022.304 Cherry Order 4.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 122 (7 CFR Part 1022), regulating the handling of sweet cherries grown in designated counties in Washington, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Washington Cherry Marketing Committee, established under the aforesaid marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of cherries, in the manner herein provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than June 13, 1960. A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, cherries must await the development of the crop and adequate information thereon was not available to the Washington Cherry Marketing Committee until May 19, 1960; recommendation as to the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such cherries was made at the meeting of said committee on May 19, 1960, after consideration of all available information relative to the supply and demand conditions for such cherries, at which time the recommendation and supporting information were submitted to the Department; necessary supplemental data for consideration in connection with the specifiaction of the provisions of this section were not available until May 25, 1960; shipments of the current crop of such cherries will begin on or about June 13, 1960, and this section should be applicable, insofar as practicable, to all shipments of such cherries in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., June 13, 1960, and ending at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., September 1, 1960, no handler shall handle:

(i) Any lot of cherries unless such cherries grade at least U.S. No. 1, except the contents of individual packages in any lot are not restricted as to the percentage of defects: Provided, That the averages for the entire lot are within the tolerances specified for the grade;

(ii) Any lot of cherries, unless at least 95 percent, by count, of such cherries measure at least $^{48}/_{64}$ inch in diameter;

(iii) Any lot of cherries in faced packs unless at least 90 percent, by count, of such cherries measure at least $^{54}/_{64}$ inch in diameter; or

(iv) Any lot of cherries in any pack other than faced packs in any container having a capacity greater than that of a container with inside dimensions of 15⅛ by 10½ by 4 inches, unless the net weight of the cherries in such container is not less than 20 pounds, and at least 90 percent, by count, of such cherries measure at least $^{54}/_{64}$ inch in diameter.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, any individual shipment of cherries which, in the aggregate, does not exceed 100 pounds, net weight, may be handled without regard to the restrictions specified in this paragraph (b) or in § 1022.41 or § 1022.55.

(c) Terms used in the marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as given to the respective term in said marketing agreement and order; "U.S. No. 1" and "diameter" shall have the same meaning as when used in the United States Standards for Sweet Cherries (§§ 51.2646–51.2657 of this title); and "faced pack" means that the cherries in the top layer in any container are so placed that the stem ends are pointing downward toward the bottom of the container.

SUBCHAPTER B—PROHIBITIONS OF IMPORTED COMMODITIES

PART 1070—CUCUMBERS

Order Terminating Cucumber Import Regulation

Pursuant to the requirement contained in section 8e of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended, 7 U.S.C. 601–674), § 1070.3 Cucumber Regulation No. 3 (24 F.R. 8717, 9780, 25 F.R. 2515, 3315, 3812), is hereby terminated as of June 6, 1960.

It is hereby found that it is impracticable, unnessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this termination of regulation beyond that herein specified (5 U.S.C. 1001 et seq.) in that (a) the requirements established by this termination order are issued pursuant to section 8e of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, supra, which makes such termination mandatory; (b) termination of regulations imposed on domestic shipments of cucumbers under Marketing Agreement No. 118 and Order No. 115 (7 CFR 1015.303; 24 F.R. 7863, 8089, 8542, 9708, 25 F.R. 2512, 3315, 3804), will become effective June 6, 1960; (c) compliance with this cucumber import regulation should not require any special preparation by importers which cannot be completed by the effective date; and (d) this order terminates restrictions on the importation of cucumbers which would be imposed by § 1070.3 Cucumber Regulation No. 3 (24 F.R. 8717, 9780, 25 F.R. 2515, 3315, 3812), if it were not terminated.

Dated: June 3, 1960, to become effective June 6, 1960.

Title 16—COMMERCIAL PRACTICES

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

[Docket 7646 c.o.]

PART 13—PROHIBITED TRADE PRACTICES

B. Gertz, Inc.

Subpart—Advertising falsely or misleadingly: § 13.155 Prices: § 13.155–40 Exaggerated as regular and customary; § 13.155–80 Retail as cost, etc., or discounted; § 13.155–85 Sales below cost. Subpart—Invoicing products falsely: § 13.1108 Invoicing products falsely; § 13.1108–45 Fur Products Labeling Act. Subpart—Neglecting, unfairly or deceptively, to make material disclosure: § 13.1852 Formal regulatory and statutory requirements; § 13.1852–35 Fur Products Labeling Act.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U.S.C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; sec. 6, 65 Stat. 719; 15 U.S.C. 45, 69f) [Cease and desist order, B. Gertz, Inc., Jamaica, Long Island, N.Y., Docket 7646, April 20, 1960]

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging a furrier in Jamaica, Long Island, N.Y., with violating the Fur Products Labeling Act by advertising in newspapers which falsely represented prices of fur products to be "Below wholesale" and below or at cost, and represented excessive amounts to be the usual prices; by failing to maintain adequate records as a basis for such pricing claims; and by failing to comply with invoicing requirements.

Accepting a consent agreement, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 20 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That B. Gertz, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, and respondent's representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the introduction into commerce, or the sale, advertising, or offering for sale in commerce, or the transportation or distribution in commerce of fur products, or in connection with the sale, advertising, offering for sale, transportation, or distribution of fur products, which are made in whole or in part of fur which has been shipped and received in commerce, as "commerce", "fur" and "fur product" are defined in the Fur Products Labeling Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Falsely or deceptively invoicing fur products by:

(a) Failing to furnish to purchasers of fur products an invoice showing all of the information required to be disclosed by each of the subsections of section 5(b)(1) of the Fur Products Labeling Act.

(b) Setting forth information required under section 5(b)(1) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder in abbreviated form.

2. Falsely or deceptively advertising fur products through the use of any advertisement, representation, public announcement or notice which is intended to aid, promote, or assist, directly or indirectly, in the sale, or offering for sale of fur products, and which:

(a) Represents, directly or by implication, that the prices of fur products are "below wholesale", or words of similar import, when such is not the fact.

(b) Represents, directly or by implication that the prices of fur products are below or at respondent's cost, or words of similar import, when such is not the fact.

(c) Misrepresents in any manner the savings available to purchasers of respondent's fur products.

(d) Represents in any manner that any amount is respondent's regular or usual price of fur products when such amount is in excess of the price at which respondent has usually and customarily sold such products in the recent, regular course of its business.

3. Making pricing claims and representations respecting prices and values of fur products unless there are maintained by respondent full and adequate records disclosing the facts upon which such claims or representations are based.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent herein shall within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 20, 1960.

By the Commission.

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging a Pittsburgh furrier with violating the Fur Products Labeling Act by mutilating labels on fur products prior to ultimate sale and delivery; by setting forth on invoices and in advertising the name of another animal than that producing the fur; by advertising in newspapers which failed to disclose the names of animals producing certain furs or the country of origin or that furs were artificially colored, and by failing in other respects to comply with labeling and invoicing requirements.

Accepting a consent agreement, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 14 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent Rosenbaum Company of Pittsburgh, a corporation, and its officers, representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the introduction into commerce, or the sale, advertising, offering for sale, transportation or distribution, in commerce, of any fur product, or in connection with the sale, advertising, offering for sale, transportation, or distribution of any fur product which is made in whole or in part of fur which has been shipped and received in commerce, as "commerce", "fur" and "fur product" are defined in the Fur Products Labeling Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Mutilating, or causing the mutilation or participation in the mutilation of, labels required to be affixed to fur products, prior to the time fur products are sold and delivered to the ultimate purchaser of such products.

2. Misbranding fur products by:

A. Failing to affix labels to fur products showing in words and figures plainly legible all of the information required to be disclosed by each of the subsections of section 4(2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act.

B. Setting forth on labels affixed to fur products information required under section 4(2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regualtions promulgated thereunder:

(1) Mingled with non-required information.

(2) In handwriting.

C. Failing to set forth the information required under section 4(2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder in the required sequence.

3. Falsely or deceptively invoicing fur products by:

A. Failing to furnish the purchasers of fur products an invoice showing all the information required to be disclosed by each of the subsections of section 5(b)(1) of the Fur Products Labeling Act.

B. Falsely or deceptively invoicing or otherwise identifying any such products as to the name or names of the animal or animals that produced the fur from which such products were manufactured.

C. Setting forth information required under section 5(b)(1) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder in abbreviated form.

D. Failing to set forth the item number or mark assigned to a fur product.

A. Fails to disclose:

(1) The name or names of the animal or animals producing the fur or furs contained in the fur product, as set forth in the Fur Products Name Guide, and as prescribed under the rules and regulations;

(2) That the fur product contains or is composed of bleached, dyed or otherwise artificially colored fur, when such is the fact;

(3) The name of the country of origin of any imported furs contained in a fur product.

B. Sets forth the name or names of any animal or animals other than the name or names specified in section 5(a)(1) of the Fur Products Labeling Act.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 14, 1960.

By the Commission.

[SEAL.] ROBERT M. PARRISH,
Secretary.

SUBCHAPTER E—ORGANIZED RESERVES

PART 561—ARMY RESERVE

Appointments

1. Section 561.8(d)(1) is amended to read as follows:

§ 561.8 Eligibility.

* * * * *

(d) Mental requirements. Applicant will be administered the Armed Forces Qualification Test AFQT-3 or -4, by the examining board, and must achieve a percentile score of 74 or higher thereon except for the following:

(1) Those who have a previously recorded percentile score of 74 on the AFQT-1 or -2, or standard score of 115 or higher on AFQT-1 or -2, the Army General Classification test (AGCT), the general classification test (GCT), Aptitude Area I, or General Technical Aptitude Area (GT).

2. In § 561.20, revise paragraphs (c) and (e) as follows:

§ 561.20 Appointment of professional and technical personnel as Reserve Commissioned Officers of the Army.

* * * * *

(c) Grade. Initial appointments are authorized under this section in recognition of advanced professional or technical experience and training, in accordance with the grades indicated in paragraph (d)(4) of this section. However, appointments up to and including the grade of colonel may be made when an individual possesses outstanding qualifications for which a need exists in the military service.

* * * * *

(e) Supplementary military training. (1) Applicants who are appointed under this section and who are not assigned to a TOE or TD unit in the Ready Reserve, will be required to complete the appropriate extension course series within 2 years of date of appointment, except when the applicant is ordered to active duty at time of appointment or when the Department of the Army evaluates the applicant's prior military service, where applicable, and determines that such service is the equivalent of the subject matter of the appropriate Army extension course or courses. Determination of extension courses to be completed will be made by the Department of the Army at the time the individual's application for appointment is approved. Necessary records will be maintained by the appropriate area commander to determine whether the individual satisfactorily completed the required courses. Those failing to comply with this requirement are subject to discharge as provided for in paragraph (f) of this section.

(2) The requirements in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph may be fulfilled at any time by the successful completion of an appropriate associate basic course.

(3) Applicants without prior service appointed under this section and who are assigned to a TOE or TD unit in the Ready Reserve will be encouraged to enroll in appropriate extension courses as soon as practicable in order that they may qualify themselves in areas not covered by civilian education and/or experience. Area commander will insure that information regarding extension courses is furnished newly appointed officers under this section. (Area commanders will inform individuals who have been appointed and have been assigned to TOE or TD units in the Ready Reserve and who are obligated to complete an appropriate extension course series within 2 years of date of appointment, that the statement appearing on the letter of appointment as pertains to completion of the extension course series no longer applies. Area commanders will encourage such individuals to continue in their present extension course series.)

3. In § 561.21(c)(1)(i), revise heading for MOS 8104, and add new MOS numbers, as follows:

§ 561.21 Appointment as Reserve Commissioned Officers of the Army for assignment to the Civil Affairs/Military Government Branch.

* * * * *

(c) Special requirements. (1) In addition to the requirements of section I, the applicant must:

(i) Qualify for an * * * of such MOS.

SUBCHAPTER H—GRAZING

[Circular 2046]

PART 160—GRAZING LEASES

PART 161—THE FEDERAL RANGE CODE FOR GRAZING DISTRICTS

Compensation for Loss of Improvements; Restrictions in Gathering Unlicensed Horses and Burros From Public Lands

On page 81 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 6, 1960, there were published proposed amendments to § 160.12 and § 161.15, Title 43, Code of Federal Regulations, governing compensation to lessees and permittees for loss of improvements placed on public lands, and banning the use of airplanes and motor vehicles in the gathering of unlicensed horses and burros from public lands to conform to Public Law 86-234. Interested persons were given 30 days in which to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections with respect to the proposed regulations.

As a result of comments received, the following changes in the proposed regulations are made:

Section 160.12, line 14: To avoid an unusually long sentence, a period is placed after the word "upon". The following words, "except that", are stricken and a new sentence is begun with the word "If".

Section 160.12, line 29: After the word "needed" the words "by the United States" are inserted.

Section 161.15, line 21: To avoid an unusually long sentence, a period is placed after the word "cooperators". The following words, "except that", are stricken and a new sentence is begun with the word "If".

Section 161.15, line 36: After the word "needed" the words "by the United States" are inserted.

As changed, the regulations are adopted and are set forth below. They shall become effective at the beginning of the 30th calendar day following date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

FRED A. SEATON,
Secretary of the Interior.

JUNE 1, 1960.

1. Paragraph 160.12(a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 160.12 Lease lands subject to disposition; compensation to lessee for loss of improvements.

(a) Lands embraced in a grazing lease are subject to disposition under the provisions of the Act of June 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 1272, 1274), as amended, or other public land laws. Before any application for such disposition is allowed, evidence must be furnished that the applicant has agreed to compensate the lessee and the United States for any grazing improvements placed on the lands under the authority of the lease, permit, or cooperative agreement in an amount and manner to be mutually agreed upon. If such improvements have been constructed in whole or in part with Federal funds and are administered by the Bureau of Land Management, and the application for disposal is in satisfaction of any lieu or indemnity selection right of any State under R.S. 2275, as amended (43 U.S.C. 851), such application may be allowed in the discretion of the authorized officer without compensation to the United States for its share of the value of the improvements, if the authorized officer shall first determine that the grazing improvements are no longer used or needed by the United States for the purpose for which the improvements were constructed and that the probable salvage value is insufficient to warrant the expense of removal of the salvageable materials in such improvements. If the parties are unable to agree as to the amount, manner, and time for compensation for such improvements, the amount, manner, and time shall be fixed by the authorized officer. The failure of the applicant to comply with the agreement or the conditions fixed by the authorized officer shall be just cause for cancellation of any right or interest in the lands acquired by the applicant by reason of the allowance of his application.

2. Paragraph 161.12(c)(2) is amended to read as follows:

§ 161.12 Procedure for enforcement of rules and regulations.

* * * * *

(c) Unlawful grazing on Federal range; removal of livestock; impoundment. * * *

(2) In any case where the owner of the trespassing livestock, or his representative, is unknown, or where conservation of the Federal range and of the forage thereon requires it, the district manager when so authorized by order of the State Supervisor may take steps to remove the trespassing livestock by such methods and by such means not inconsistent with legislation which prohibits the use of airborne or motor-driven vehicles in the gathering of horses and burros, as may be necessary, and to dispose of them by sale or otherwise within not less than 48 hours after public notice of his intention to make such disposition, subject to the right of any owner or registered lien holder of such trespassing livestock to redeem the livestock within such nondisposal period upon payment of (i) the value of the forage consumed, (ii) damage to the Federal range and other property of the United States, and (iii) the cost of such impoundment and removal, as determined by the district manager.

3. Paragraph 161.15(g)(2)(i) is amended to read as follows:

§ 161.15 Construction and maintenance of improvements on the Federal range.

* * * * *

(g) Applications for lands containing range improvements; compensation; reservation. * * *

(2)(i) When the disposal application covers public land upon which range improvements have been placed by the United States, or pursuant to a cooperative agreement heretofore or hereafter entered into between the Bureau and the licensee, permittee, and/or other cooperators, the disposal application will be referred by the land office manager to the district manager for determination as to whether it may be allowed, notwithstanding such improvements, and, if so, whether with or without a reservation. If the application is to be allowed without a reservation of the improvements, the applicant may be required to agree in writing to compensate for the loss of such improvements in the amounts to be mutually agreed upon and payable separately to the Bureau and to the cooperators. If such improvements have been constructed in whole or in part with Federal funds and are administered by the Bureau of Land Management, and the application for disposal is in satisfaction of any lieu or indemnity selection right of any State under R.S. 2275, as amended (43 U.S.C. 851), such application may be allowed in the discretion of the authorized officer without compensation to the United States for its share of the value of the improvements, if the authorized officer shall first determine that the grazing improvements are no longer used or needed by the United States for the purpose for which the improvements were constructed and that the probable salvage value is insufficient to warrant the expense of removal of the salvageable materials in such improvements. In the event of disagreement, the district manager shall determine the total amount of compensation due, as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, and the time for payment. Such amount shall then be payable separately to the Bureau and to the cooperators entitled thereto, in proportion to the amount or value of their respective contributions in money, material, or labor, to the total cost of the improvement, as made by them under the original cooperative agreement, as specified by the district manager.

PART 161—THE FEDERAL RANGE CODE FOR GRAZING DISTRICTS

Adjudication of Grazing Privileges; Graduated Reduction for Hardship Cases

On page 9627 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of December 2, 1959, there were published proposed amendments to § 161.2 and § 161.6, Title 43, Code of Federal Regulations, to standardize the meaning and use of the term "adjudication of grazing privileges" and to provide a graduated reduction for hardship cases where grazing privileges are required to be reduced to reach the grazing capacity of the Federal range.

Interested persons were given 30 days within which to submit written comments with respect to the proposed amendments. After consideration of all such relevant matter as was presented regarding the proposed amendments, the regulations are hereby adopted and are set forth below. These amendments shall become effective at the beginning of the 30th calendar day following the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

FRED A. SEATON,
Secretary of the Interior.

JUNE 1, 1960.

1. A new paragraph (r) is added to § 161.2, as follows:

§ 161.2 Definitions.

* * * * *

(r) "Adjudication of grazing privileges" is the determination of the qualifications for grazing privileges of the base properties, land (§ 161.2(k)(1)) or water (§ 161.2(p)(1)), offered in support of applications for grazing licenses or permits in a range unit or area, and the subsequent equitable apportionment among the applicants of the forage production within the proper grazing season and capacity of the particular unit or area of Federal range, and acceptance by the applicants of the grazing privileges based upon the apportionment or its substantiation in a decision by an examiner, the Director, or the Secretary upon appeal. (Applicable provisions are §§ 161.1 to 161.5, inclusive; § 161.6 (a) and (b); § 161.6(e) (1) to (4), inclusive; § 161.6 (f); § 161.6(g); § 161.9 and § 161.10.)

2. Paragraph (e)(3) of § 161.6 is amended, and subparagraph (1)(ii) is amended and new subparagraphs (3) and (4) are added to paragraph (f), as follows:

§ 161.6 Issuance of licenses and permits.

* * * * * * *

(e) Terms and conditions. * * *

(3) No license or permit will confer grazing privileges in excess of the grazing capacity of the Federal range to be used, as determined by the district manager, except as may be allowed under paragraph (f)(3) of this section.

* * * * * * *

(f) Reduction. (1) * * *

(ii) Regular licenses or permits to the extent, if any, to which they are in excess of the base property qualifications or have been otherwise improperly issued.

* * * * * * *

(3) When the district manager, after recommendation by the advisory board, determines that the imposition of the full amount of certain reductions in grazing privileges from current licensed or permitted use necessary to reach the grazing capacity of a range area would impose a serious hardship on the range users, he is not required to impose the full amount of the reduction forthwith, but will then schedule a percentage of the required reduction during each of the three years immediately following the determination as the circumstances of each case may warrant, except when the total reduction is less than fifteen percent it may not be so scheduled but will be imposed forthwith in the full amount. (4) The district manager will notify each affected licensee or permittee by certified mail of his decision to make a reduction in grazing privileges to reach the grazing capacity of any Federal range area and of the manner in which the reduction is to be made. The district manager's decision notice will allow thirty days from receipt thereof in which to file any desired appeal in accordance with § 161.10 of this part. If no appeal is filed within the thirty-day period, the reduction will be made in accordance with the district manager's decision, and no further appeal will be allowed even though the reduction may be scheduled under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph to cover a period of time up to three years. If any timely appeal is filed after receipt of the district manager's decision notice, the reduction for the entire Federal range area under consideration will be deferred pending the completion of the appeal and hearing procedure. Any reduction provided by the ultimate decision will be applied to its full extent immediately after the effective date of that decision. If, however, the final decision on appeal is rendered within the three-year reduction period established by the decision notice of the district manager, the required adjustment may be apportioned over the remaining portion of that period. In the event that the orderly administration of the range or other public interest so requires, any decision may be placed in full force and effect in accordance with the provisions of § 161.10(i)(2).

Title 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

[Docket No. 11331; FCC 60-615]

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 1—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

PART 4—EXPERIMENTAL, AUXILIARY, AND SPECIAL BROADCAST SERVICES

Operation of Co-channel Amplifying Transmitters in Conjunction With Main Transmitter

1. The Commission has before it for consideration its Memorandum Opinion and Notice of Further Proposed Rule Making (FCC 57-700), issued in this proceeding on July 2, 1957, proposing the authorization of television broadcast booster stations for use in conjunction with UHF television broadcast stations.

2. This proceeding was instituted on March 31, 1955, by a Notice of Proposed Rule Making (FCC 55-404) designed to elicit information on the desirability and feasibility of licensing UHF television co-channel amplifying transmitters, generally referred to as TV boosters. The Notice contemplated that such devices would be used by the licensees of UHF television broadcast stations to receive, amplify and retransmit the signals of the TV broadcast station on the original channel in order to "boost" the signal in areas of sub-normal signal intensity. After reviewing the comments directed to this phase of the proceeding, the Commission, on June 27, 1957, adopted a Memorandum Opinion and Notice of Further Proposed Rule Making proposing specific rules to govern UHF television boosters.

3. There was no opposition to the general proposal. Some of the comments merely endorsed the proposal without commenting on the specific rules; others suggested certain modifications; and a few requested that provision be made for VHF boosters.

4. Governor McNichols of Colorado filed comments on behalf of the Governors of several western states urging that provision be made for licensing the numerous low-power television boosters and translators operating in the VHF television band without Commission authorization.[1]

5. Two other parties filed comments supporting the subject proposal but requesting that it be expanded to include VHF boosters and translators. Television Montana, Inc. (KXLF-TV, Channel 4, Butte, Montana) proposed the licensing of VHF boosters with power up to 100 watts not only to the licensee of the primary TV station but to other "qualified applicants."[2] The Washington State TV Reflector Association endorsed the subject proposal but requested that the proceeding be expanded to include provision for licensing devices such as those now being operated by its members.[3]

6. The Commission by a Memorandum Opinion and Order of July 29, 1957, initiated a separate proceeding (Docket No. 12116) concerning low power TV repeater stations. In the judgment of the Commission, the considerations involved in that proceeding are not sufficiently related to the matters considered in the subject proceeding to be included herein. Since none of the parties commenting with respect to the above problem objected to the subject proposal for UHF, their comments need not be considered further in this UHF booster proceeding.

7. The following parties generally supported the proposal but did not comment with respect to specific rules: Basin TV Company (KBAS-TV, Channel 43, Ephrata, Washington), WATR, Inc. (WATR-TV, Channel 53, Waterbury, Connecticut), Prairie Television Company (WTVP, Channel 17, Decatur, Illinois), Great Lakes Television Company (WSEE, Channel 35, Erie, Pennsylvania), KCOR, Inc. (KCOR-TV, Channel 41, San Antonio, Texas), Sir Walter Television Company (WNAO-TV, Channel 28, Raleigh, North Carolina), WBRE-TV, Inc. (WBRE-TV, Channel 28, Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania), Committee for Competitive Television and American Broadcasting Company.

8. Six parties submitted comments which support the proposal generally but suggest certain modifications. These are discussed in the following paragraphs.

9. Adler Electronics, Inc., which is engaged in the production of UHF transmitting apparatus, has operated an experimental UHF booster in conjunction with WATR-TV (Channel 53, Waterbury, Connecticut) since July 1955. Adler endorses the general proposal and subscribes to the comments of Electronics Industries Association (formerly RETMA). Adler suggests that the required suppression of emissions more than 3 mc above or below the assigned TV channel be reduced from 60 decibels to 40 decibels below the peak visual carrier power, with additional suppression added in individual cases if objectionable interference occurs. Adler contends that the proposed 60 decibels of suppression would add considerably to the cost of basic equipment and would be unnecessary at the majority of the actual installations.

10. Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc. supports the proposal generally but recommends the following modifications:

(a) CBS suggests that the rules expressly state that there is no numerical limit on the number of boosters used by a licensee to fill in shadows in its normal service area.

(b) CBS urges that the rules should clearly show that there is no fixed minimum separation required between boosters or between a booster and other TV broadcast stations since potential interference is controlled to a great extent by limitations on power and field intensity as well as the provision limiting boosters to the Grade A service area of the parent station.

(c) CBS submits that the provision in § 4.803(a) suggesting adjustment of time differential as a corrective measure for interference is impractical and should be deleted.

(d) CBS urges that the reference to "principal community" in §§ 4.835 and 4.837 should be deleted since the principal community might be difficult to determine and the provisions could impose an artificial and unnecessary barrier to providing service to two adjacent communities from a single booster. CBS suggests that "center of the area of highest concentration of population" could be used instead.

(e) CBS believes that the proposed requirement of § 4.803(c) that the booster licensee "assume full responsibility for resolving all valid complaints of interference" may be impossible to meet and recommends that the responsibility of the booster licensee be limited to "reducing the interference to a minimum."

(f) CBS suggests that the provision of § 4.883(b), which states that the Commission may request the operator on duty at the TV broadcast station to interrupt the transmissions of the booster for short intervals to aid in identification of a particular booster, should be modified to limit such requests to times when the booster is not transmitting programs since such interruptions may prove annoying to viewers.

11. Radio-Electronics-Television Manufacturers Association (RETMA), now Electronics Industries Association (EIA), supports the proposal generally but comments specifically with respect to the following:

(a) EIA now supports the proposal to restrict the use of boosters to areas within the Grade A contour of the primary TV station.

(b) EIA agrees that a reduction in out-of-band emissions should be specified but recommends that the proposed requirement be reduced from 60 decibels to 40 decibels below the visual carrier power, with additional attentuation required in individual cases of interference.

(c) EIA opposes any maximum limit on power since such a restriction may raise problems when a booster operates close to the primary station. EIA is of the opinion that the amount of power which may be employed will be automatically limited by design considerations, which restrict the possible gain in the amplifier because of "feed-back" problems. The output power would thus be controlled by the strength of the signal available from the primary station and would decrease with distance from the primary station.

(d) EIA recommends against imposing a maximum field intensity over the area to be served since this will be governed by the automatic limit on power output. In this connection, EIA believes the political boundaries of a "principal community" would be difficult to define.

(e) EIA supports the proposal which would limit the field strength to not more than 5 millivolts per meter at 68 miles from the primary station.

(f) EIA suggests that the term "maximum overall gain" in § 4.850(d) be changed to "maximum utilized gain" to embrace circumstances where the booster amplifier might be operated below its maximum capabilities.

12. Joint Council on Educational Television (JCET) supports the proposal generally but expresses concern that boosters operating in locations at less than the minimum separations required by regular TV broadcast stations may cause interference under certain conditions. JCET suggests that an applicant proposing a booster at less than the normally required separation from any TV broadcast station be required to submit a special showing with regard to potential interference.

13. Indiana Broadcasting Corporation supports the proposal generally but believes that the requirement of § 4.834(a)(3), that a manned control point be established in the areas served by the booster, would add substantially to the cost of operation and might discourage the use of boosters. Indiana Broadcasting suggests that the rules also permit remote control of boosters from the primary station if automatic devices are incorporated which will transmit a warning signal to the control point by wire lines if the booster equipment malfunctions.

14. National Broadcasting Company, Inc. supports the proposal generally and stated that it was considering the use of boosters in conjunction with its UHF stations at Buffalo, New York and New Britain, Connecticut.[4] NBC suggests the following modifications:

(a) Delete the provision in § 4.832(b)(1) that would require a showing that 50 percent of the locations in the area proposed to be served by the booster receive signals of less than 5 millivolts per meter from the primary station. NBC contends that this requirement would be burdensome, that making such a determination with respect to the "principal community" would not necessarily indicate that the area adjacent to the "principal community" and served by the contemplated booster had less than 5 millivolts at more than 50 percent of the locations, and that the purpose of the rule is obscure. NBC urges that deletion of this requirement would not lead to abuses since self-interest would deter broadcasters from placing boosters in areas where they are not actually needed.

(b) Delete the restriction on maximum power in § 4.835(c) and let this be governed by the strength of the signal available from the primary station at the booster location. NBC contends that the provisions of § 4.803(c) and (d) afford adequate protection to other services from interference by the booster and that limiting the 5 millivolt per meter field to within the Grade A contour of the primary station guards against extension of the service area of a TV station.

(c) NBC states that the reference in § 4.835(a) to political boundary of the principal community may be difficult to determine and that elimination of the limit on maximum power and maximum field intensity would remove any need for such a reference point.

DISCUSSION

15. The Commission agrees with CBS that the sentence in § 4.803(a) concerning adjustment of the time differential of the modulation envelope should be deleted.

16. On the basis of the comments of NBC with regard to § 4.832(b)(1), we have reconsidered the proposed requirement that booster applicants indicate the quality and extent of direct reception in the area proposed to be served, and agree that the cost and complexity of the necessary field strength survey outweighs the importance of the data so obtained. This requirement has therefore been deleted.

17. We do not agree with the suggestion by CBS regarding § 4.803(c)—that the licensee of a booster should assume responsibility for interference only to the extent of "reducing it to a minimum." On-channel amplifiers used for "boosting" and re-radiating TV signals inherently are a source of potential interference. The subject rules stress this fact and there will undoubtedly be places where boosters cannot be operated because of insoluble interference problems. Where a TV booster is authorized, the burden of resolving interference must, in our judgment, rest with the licensee. In the experimental UHF booster operations that have been conducted to date, it has been found that when a UHF booster is properly located, it is possible to eliminate interference through the use of readily available engineering procedures. If the circumstances are such that the booster cannot be properly located, the operation is not feasible. The Commission is placing the burden of eliminating interference on the licensee to prevent the use of boosters to provide service to one group of people at the expense of service to another group, even though such use might result in a net gain in audience.

18. We have carefully considered the comments of Indiana Broadcasting Corporation concerning the establishment of a monitoring point in the area served by the booster and conclude that the

[1] In connection with that pleading, the following parties filed comments endorsing the Governor's comments: Congressman Don Magnuson (Washington), Congressman Emanuel Celler (New York), Congresswoman Gracie Pfost (Idaho), and Governor Charles H. Russell of Nevada. In addition, the following parties referred to or forwarded copies of the pleading filed by the Governor of Colorado and requested that they be kept advised of developments: Senator Carl Hayden (Arizona), Senator Warren G. Magnuson (Washington) and Congressman James Roosevelt (California).

[2] To the extent that they may be pertinent, the comments of Television Montana, Inc., will be considered in Docket No. 12116.

[3] Their comments generally paralleled those of Governor McNichols and will be considered in Docket No. 12116 concerning low power television repeater stations.

[4] NBC has since terminated the UHF operation at Buffalo and disposed of its UHF station at New Britain.

additional protection against interference caused by improper operation, which might be afforded by the establishment of a local monitoring point is not sufficient to warrant the cost of establishing such a monitoring point. The most important feature of the originally proposed local monitoring point was the provision for manual on and off control of the booster, particularly in the event of failure of the remote on and off control. This problem has been met by adding a requirement to the remote control provision which makes necessary the periodic transmission of a "cue" signal by the primary station. Failure of the primary station to transmit the cue signal or failure of the booster control circuit to receive the cue signal will automatically place the transmitter in an inoperative condition. The cue signal need not be transmitted more frequently than intervals of one hour.

19. CBS, NBC, and EIA commented extensively with respect to § 4.835. It is their consensus that using the political boundaries of a "principal community" as a reference point in connection with the maximum limit on field intensity radiated by a booster is impractical and might introduce artificial restrictions on the use of boosters. All of the parties subscribed to the provisions of paragraph (b) (4) of this section, which would prohibit the radiation of a field having an intensity in excess of 5 millivolts per meter beyond the theoretical Grade A contour (68 miles) of the primary station; and EIA and NBC submitted that the further restriction limiting the radiated field to 5 millivolts per meter over the "principal community" is unnecessary. CBS suggested as a reference point "the center of the area of highest concentration of population" in the area proposed to be served by the booster in applying the proposed restriction. NBC and EIA recommended that paragraph (c) be deleted and that no maximum power limit be specified. Both expressed the view that there is an automatic limit on power imposed by the practical limits on the amplification of the signals received from the primary station which can be accomplished. They maintain that since the strength of the direct signals diminish with the distance from the primary station, less power can be employed at the booster as the distance from the primary station increases, and no specified limit is necessary.

20. We adhere to our belief that a ceiling on the maximum power which may be used by a television broadcast booster station, should be included in these rules. However, we have reconsidered the original proposal which would have determined this "ceiling" on the basis of a predicted field strength over a "principal community" and conclude that this would add an unnecessary complexity to the rules. Accordingly, the rules adopted herein limit the power in only two regards; (1) the maximum effective radiated power which will be authorized is 5 kilowatts, and (2) no booster installation will be authorized which would produce a predicted field of more than 5 millivolts per meter beyond the normal Grade A (68 mile) contour of the primary station.[5] The problem of interference to other television stations, raised by JCET, is met by the provisions of § 4.804 which require the TV booster licensee to correct any condition of interference to other TV stations which occurs as the result of a field strength from the booster in excess of that which could be produced at the place where the interference occurs, by the primary station if it were operating at its authorized location with an effective radiated power of 5,000 kilowatts from an antenna 2,000 feet above average terrain.

21. Deletion of the rules which would have required determination of field strength over a "principal community" eliminates the need for establishing such a reference point. For record purposes a booster will be identified with the largest community in the area which it serves, i.e., the license, in addition to the geographic coordinates, will specify such community.

22. With regard to CBS's suggestion that the rules clearly show that no numerical limit is placed on the number of TV boosters that may be used by a single licensee, we have added language to § 4.832(c) which makes this clear.

23. On the basis of the comments of Adler and EIA, the Commission has reconsidered the proposal in § 4.836(c) which would require that spurious emissions, including any emissions more than 3 megacycles above or below the upper and lower limits of the assigned channel, be suppressed at least 60 decibels below the peak visual carrier amplitude. Adler and EIA have suggested that a suppression of only 40 decibels would be adequate. In view of the statements that achieving the additional 20 decibels of suppression above 40 decibels will add substantially to the cost of equipment and our experience with UHF translators which have been operating for over a year with less than 60 decibels suppression, we are incorporating the suggested reduction in the suppression requirement in §§ 4.836(c) and 4.850. However, § 4.836 (c) will continue to provide that additional suppression may be required in individual cases where interference is caused by out-of-band emissions.

24. JCET urges adoption of minimum geographic separations between boosters, and between a booster and a regular TV broadcast station. CBS on the other hand urges that the rules clearly show that no minimum spacings are required. JCET expresses concern at the possibility of interference if no separation requirement is specified. Application of the separation requirements of Part 3 of the rules to boosters would make it virtually impossible to find satisfactory locations in regions where boosters are needed. UHF operation is concentrated in areas of high population density. In such areas there is often little flexibility in the allocation of UHF channels since many of the allocations have been made at or near minimum spacings. Therefore, boosters proposed to serve communities beyond the immediate area around the TV station would, in many cases, not meet minimum spacings to other UHF stations or assignments. By confining boosters within the theoretical Grade A contour, limiting the power to 5 kilowatts and requiring correction of interference which occurs as the result of fields in excess of those which could be produced by the primary station, we accomplish substantially the same degree of protection to other co-channel TV stations as is provided by the minimum separations. Interference can be controlled in most cases by the judicious choice of booster sites and the intelligent use of the directive properties of transmitting antennas and individual TV receiving antennas in the areas served by the booster. In circumstances where such measures are inapplicable, other means, such as translators or satellite operation may be employed to provide the needed service.

25. Sections 4.803, 4.804 and 4.832(b) are intended to insure that the use of a TV booster does not deprive people of otherwise satisfactory service. These rules are designed (1) to guard against the destruction of the service of a TV station other than the primary station whether or not a substitute service is provided by the TV booster and (2) to prevent the degradation of service received directly from the primary station unless the substitute service provided by the booster is of equivalent quality. However, in neither of the above cases is it intended to provide protection over and above that which is provided under the rules governing TV broadcast stations. Therefore, the responsibility of the licensee of the TV booster with respect to interference, applies only in those cases where the interference results from the existence of signals from the booster having a strength in excess of that which would be produced at the same location, by the primary station operating with the maximum power and antenna height permitted under the TV rules. The provisions of § 4.804 place a continuing requirement on the licensee of the TV booster and the responsibility for resolving valid complaints of interference applies not only to interference to stations existing at the time the TV booster is placed in operation but also to interference which may develop as the result of new TV stations coming into operation. Although the rules are concerned only with actual interference, applicants should carefully consider potential interference and the hazard of interrupted operation posed thereby.

26. EIA suggested that § 4.850(d) refer to "maximum utilized gain" rather than "maximum overall gain." The term "overall gain" as used in this section simply means the net gain of the booster amplifier between the input and output terminals, and refers to the actual utilized gain, not the maximum capabilities of the amplifier. Therefore, no change in the wording of this rule appears necessary.

27. We have found it unnecessary to require these boosters to transmit individual call signs. They are licensed only to the licensee of the TV broadcast station they are retransmitting and the transmission of the TV station call sign provides rapid identification. If it becomes necessary to obtain emergency suspension of operation due to interference, these devices can be turned off from the TV station by the transmission of a coded signal. The proposed rule contained a provision whereby the Commission could request that the transmissions of a booster be interrupted for short intervals of time to facilitate identification. CBS suggested that such interruptions be limited to periods when no program is being transmitted. The importance of rapid identification outweighs the slight annoyance of inconvenience of program interruption. If a TV station licensee operates more than one booster selective coding may be employed to control each booster separately. This would avoid having to turn off all the boosters when interruption of the signal of only one is needed to identify improper operation or eliminate interference. It should not be necessary to interrupt the transmissions of the primary TV station for this purpose.

28. The present Television Agreements with Canada and Mexico do not cover the matter of "booster" amplifiers. Under rules such as those adopted herein, boosters may not be used to extend the service range of a TV station beyond that which it could obtain with the maximum power and antenna height at the site of its main transmitter. Consequently, such operation may be considered to come within the purview of the Agreements. However, in the interest of good international relations, the Commission will not act unilaterally in this matter and will initiate action looking toward securing concurrence of the governments of Canada and Mexico in the matter of licensing these devices in the vicinity of the borders. Pending the completion of such an arrangement, applications proposing UHF boosters in conjunction with assignments listed in the Canadian or Mexican TV Agreements and located more than 15 miles from the site of the main transmitter in the direction of the border of Canada or Mexico, will be referred to the appropriate Government on a case-by-case basis.

29. In order to implement the rules, we are adopting FCC Form 343 to be used in applying for a Construction Permit for a Television Broadcast Booster Station. This form will be available shortly.

30. Authority for the adoption of the rules herein is contained in sections 4(i), 301, 303 (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (j), and (r), and 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

31. Accordingly, it is ordered, That effective July 5, 1960, the Commission's rules and regulations are amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U.S.C. 154. Interpret or apply secs. 301, 303, 307, 48 Stat. 1081, 1082, 1083; 47 U.S.C. 301, 303, 307)

DEFINITIONS AND ALLOCATION OF FREQUENCIES

§ 4.801 Definitions.

(a) Television broadcast booster station: A station in the broadcasting service operated for the sole purpose of retransmitting the signals of a television broadcast station by amplifying and reradiating such signals which have been received directly through space, without significantly altering any characteristic of the incoming signal other than its amplitude.

(b) Primary station: The television broadcasting station radiating the signals which are retransmitted by a television broadcast booster station.

§ 4.802 Frequency assignment.

A television broadcast booster station will be assigned the channel and carrier frequencies assigned to its primary station.

§ 4.803 Interference to primary station.

(a) An application for a new television broadcast booster station or for a change in the facilities of an existing station shall be accompanied by a detailed showing and discussion of the areas of potential interference. The showing shall include:

(1) A suitable map of the area in which the booster is proposed to be operated showing the location of the booster, the direction from the booster toward the primary station and the distance to the primary station, the radiation pattern of the booster, and the areas in which an unfavorable ratio is likely to exist between the direct signal and the boosted signal. If certain terrain features are expected to confine or otherwise minimize interference, these shall be clearly marked.

(2) A statement as to the approximate number of existing receiving installations which may be adversely affected by the proposed booster operation and the measures which will be employed by the applicant to restore reception, including an estimate of the cost of such restoration and how this cost will be borne.

(b) It shall be the responsibility of the licensee of a television broadcast booster station to correct any condition of inter-

[5] The proposal in Docket 13340 if adopted as proposed would eliminate the definition of Grade A service and revise the Field Strength Charts used for estimating service ranges. If these changes are adopted the rules relating to TV boosters will be appropriately amended to be consistent with the changes.

ference resulting from the operation of the booster to a receiving installation existing at the time the booster is placed in operation, which causes loss or degradation of on otherwise acceptable service from the primary station if requested to do so by the owner of the affected TV receiver. The licensee of the booster is expected to provide such advice, technical assistance, and materials as may be required to restore the lost service either by rejecting the booster signals to the extent necessary to restore the direct service to its original condition or by utilizing the booster service to replace the lost direct service. Refusal of the complainant to permit the application of remedies which are demonstrably capable of restoring the lost service will relieve the booster licensee of further responsibility for the correction of interference to that complainant.

§ 4.804 Interference to other stations and services.

(a) The licensee of a television broadcast booster station is responsible for the correction of interference to reception of other television broadcast stations or stations in other services, caused by:

(1) Radiation of radio frequency energy outside the channel assigned to the booster.

(2) Radiation of spurious emissions, i.e., emissions not contained in the visual and sound signal received from the primary TV station, within the channel assigned to the booster.

(3) Authorized emissions which produce a field strength at the affected receiver in excess of the theoretical field which would be produced by the primary TV station at that same location if the primary TV station were operating with 5 megawatts effective radiated power from an antenna 2,000 feet above average terrain, over a path of normal terrain. The theoretical value of field strength which could be produced by the primary station under the conditions stipulated, shall be determined by the use of the F(50,50) field strength charts for Channels 14–83, contained in § 3.699 of this chapter.

(b) Upon notification by the Commission that such interference has been reported, operation of the booster shall be suspended and shall not be resumed until the interference has been eliminated or it can be demonstrated that the interference is not due to any of the above causes: Provided, however, That short test transmissions may be made during the period of suspended operation to check the efficacy of remedial measures. In each case where suspension of operation is required, the licensee of the TV booster shall within 10 days after operation is resumed, submit a full report to the Commission of the cause and nature of the interference and the remedial steps taken to eliminate the interference.

(c) An application for a new television broadcast booster station shall contain a suitable map showing the locations of the proposed booster and all other TV boosters and television broadcast stations within 75 miles of the proposed booster site and operating on the same channel as the proposed booster or on any related channel shown in the columns opposite the proposed booster channel in Table IV of § 3.698 of this chapter.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE

§ 4.811 Administrative procedure.

See §§ 4.11 to 4.16 inclusive.

LICENSING POLICIES

§ 4.831 Purpose and permissible service.

Television broadcast booster stations provide a means whereby the licensees of television broadcast stations operating in the UHF television broadcast band may provide service to areas of low signal intensity in any region which would be encompassed by the theoretical Grade A contour if the station were assumed to be operating with an effective radiated power of 5,000 kilowatts from an antenna 2,000 feet above average terrain over a transmission path of normal terrain. For the purpose of this section, the distance from a UHF television broadcast station to its theoretical Grade A contour under the above assumptions is 68 miles.

(a) A television broadcast booster station is authorized to retransmit only the signals of its primary station. It shall not retransmit the signals of any other station nor make independent transmissions: Provided, however, That locally generated signals may be used to excite the booster apparatus for the purpose of conducting tests and measurements essential to the proper installation and maintenance of the apparatus.

(b) A television broadcast booster station will not be authorized to operate at any location more than 68 miles from its primary station and shall not be operated to produce a field strength greater than 5 millivolts per meter at a height of 30 feet above ground at a distance of more than 68 miles from its primary station.

(c) The transmissions of a television broadcast booster station shall be intended for direct reception by the general public. Such stations may not be used to establish a point-to-point television relay system.

§ 4.832 Eligibility and licensing requirements.

(a) A license for a television broadcast booster station will be issued only to the licensee of a television broadcast station operating in the UHF television broadcast band, and solely for the purpose of retransmitting the signals of such television broadcast station.

(b) An application for a television broadcast booster station shall contain an adequate showing that:

(1) The proposed booster can be installed and operated so as to provide satisfactory reception without causing harmful interference to existing service, by the application of acceptable techniques.

(2) That a signal of sufficient magnitude is available from the primary station at the site of the proposed booster.

(c) No numerical limit is placed upon the number of boosters which may be licensed to a single licensee. A separate application is required for each booster transmitter. Television broadcast booster stations will not be counted as TV stations in applying the multiple ownership provisions of § 3.636 of this chapter.

§ 4.833 [Reserved]

§ 4.834 Remote control operation.

(a) A television broadcast booster station may be operated by remote control provided that such operation is conducted in accordance with the conditions set forth in subparagraphs (1) through (4) of this paragraph.

(1) The transmitter shall be equipped with automatic devices, which, in the absence of a signal from the primary station, will render the transmitter incapable of emitting radio frequency energy.

(2) The transmitter shall be further equipped with a device, which may be actuated by a coded signal or tone transmitted by the primary station, and which will permit turning the transmitter on and off at will from the primary station. The signal required to be transmitted by the primary station for this purpose shall be of such nature or of duration so short that it will not appreciably degrade normal reception of the primary station.

(3) As a precaution against loss of control due to failure of the control circuit, the circuit shall be designed so as to require reception of a cue signal from the primary station at intervals of one hour or less and failure to receive the cue signal will automatically place the booster transmitter in an inoperative condition.

(4) The transmitter and its associated controls shall be so installed and protected as to be inaccessible to unauthorized persons.

(b) An application for a new television broadcast booster station or for a change in the facilities of an existing station which proposes remote control operation, shall be accompanied by a satisfactory showing as to the manner of compliance with the above conditions. Unless remote control is specifically authorized pursuant to the above requirements, the booster transmitter shall be under the direct supervision of a qualified operator in accordance with § 4.866.

§ 4.835 Power limitations.

(a) A television broadcast booster station will not be authorized to operate with power in excess of that required to provide an adequate signal over the area intended to be served by the booster. Due consideration should be given to the provisions of § 4.804 which requires the licensee of a television broadcast booster station to correct any condition of interference which results from field strengths in excess of those which could be produced by the primary station at the place where interference occurs.

(b) In no event will a television broadcast booster station be authorized to operate with an effective radiated power of more than 5 kilowatts peak visual.

(c) In no event will a television broadcast booster station be authorized to operate at a location, and with an effective radiated power, and antenna height above average terrain, which would produce a predicted field strength of more than 5 millivolts per meter at any location more than 68 miles from the primary station. The predicted field strength of a television broadcast booster station shall be determined in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 3.684 of this chapter. If a directive transmitting antenna is to be used to suppress radiation so as to comply with this requirement, the proposed directive pattern shall be supported with adequate engineering data.

(d) No minimum power is specified for television broadcast booster stations.

§ 4.836 Emissions and bandwidth.

(a) The license of a television broadcast booster station authorizes the transmission of the visual signal by amplitude modulation (A5) and the accompanying aural signal by frequency modulation (F3).

(b) Standard width television channels will be assigned and the emission of a television broadcast booster station shall be confined to the authorized channel in accordance with the Television Technical Standards contained in Part 3, Subpart E, of this chapter, except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Spurious emissions on frequencies more than 3 megacycles outside the assigned channel, other than radio frequency harmonics of the visual and aural carriers but including intermodulation products, signals other than those received from the primary station, and radio frequency energy generated within the booster apparatus, shall be attenuated no less than 40 decibels below the peak visual carrier amplitude. Radio frequency harmonics of the visual and aural carriers shall be attenuated no less than 60 decibels for transmitters operating with more than 1 kilowatt power output. For transmitters operating with power output of 1 kilowatt or less, the power of such radio frequency harmonics shall not exceed 1 milliwatt. Greater attenuation of all spurious emissions may be required if interference is caused to any radio service.

§ 4.837 Antenna location.

(a) The transmitting antenna of a television broadcast booster station shall be located within the Grade A contour of the primary station, as defined in § 4.831.

(b) An applicant for a new television broadcast booster station or for changes in an existing station shall endeavor to select a site which will provide a line-of-sight transmission path to the area intended to be served and at which there is a suitable signal available from the primary station. The transmitting antenna should be placed above growing vegetation lying in the direction of the area intended to be served to minimize the possibility of signal absorption by foliage.

(c) Consideration should be given to accessibility of the site at all seasons of the year and to the availability of facilities for the maintenance and operation of the television broadcast booster station.

(d) Consideration should be given to the existence of strong radio frequency fields from other transmitters at the booster site and possibility that such fields may result in the retransmission of signals originating on frequencies other than that of the primary station.

EQUIPMENT

§ 4.850 Equipment and installation.

(a) An application for a new television broadcast booster station or for changes in the facilities of an existing station shall supply complete technical details of the apparatus to be employed and the overall installation. The functioning of such automatic features or other safeguards as may be incorporated to prevent improper operation shall be fully described. If the apparatus is to be remotely controlled, a detailed description of the control features shall be included.

(b) The overall characteristics of the complete installation shall be essentially linear so as to accomplish retransmission of the incoming signals of the primary station without significantly altering any electrical characteristics other than the overall amplitude. Intermodulation products which may be generated shall be adequately removed from the transmissions of the booster so as not to constitute a source of potential interference. Provision shall be made in the circuits employed, to prevent the amplifier being driven into a non-linear condition over the full range of signal intensities within which the booster may be called upon to operate, or to cause it to cease radiating should non-linear operation or oscillation of any stage occur.

(c) The isolation between the input and output circuits of the booster, including the receiving and transmitting antenna systems, shall be at least 20 decibels greater than the maximum overall gain of the booster amplifier.

(d) The overall response of the amplifier shall not vary by more than 2 decibels over the entire assigned channel: Provided, however, That the amplitude of the aural signal may be decreased by a suitable amount if necessary to minimize intermodulation effects or eliminate interference between the sound and picture signals. The apparatus shall be capable of complying with the requirements of § 4.836(c) with respect to spurious emissions.

(e) In general, the transmitter shall be mounted on racks and panels or in totally enclosed frames protected as required by Article 810 of the National Electrical Code.

(f) The installation of a television broadcast booster station shall be made only by, or under the direct supervision of, a qualified electronics engineer and any repairs or adjustments made during or subsequent to the installation, which could result in improper operation, shall be made by or under the direct supervision of such an engineer or an operator holding a valid first or second class radiotelephone operator's license issued by the Commission.

(g) In cases where the electrical characteristics of the transmitting and receiving antennas of a booster station are used to provide the required degree of isolation between the input and output circuits, the installation of such antennas shall be sufficiently rugged and protected as to withstand such hazards as may reasonably be expected to be encountered due to their exposure to the elements and the local environment.

(h) Prior to placing a television broadcast booster station in regular operation, the permittee shall perform sufficient measurements of the completed installation to insure compliance with this section. These measurements together with a detailed description of the methods used in obtaining the measurements shall be submitted with the application for license for the booster station.

(i) Type acceptance of television booster amplifiers may be granted upon request in accordance with the type acceptance procedure set forth in Part 2 of this chapter; provided that measurement data and descriptive information submitted shows that the amplifier is capable of meeting the technical requirements of this subpart. The following measurement data must be supplied:

(1) Radio frequency power output (visual peak power).

(2) Over-all gain of the amplifier vs. frequency throughout the entire channel in which it is designed to operate.

(3) Spurious emissions appearing on frequencies outside the channel in which it is designed to operate, including radio frequency harmonics up to 2,000 megacycles.

§ 4.851 Equipment changes.

(a) Formal application (FCC Form 343) is required for any of the following changes:

(1) Replacement of the transmitter as a whole, except replacement with an identical transmitter, or any modification which could result in a change in the electrical characteristics or overall performance of the booster installation.

(2) A change in the transmitting antenna system, including the direction of radiation, directive pattern, or transmission line.

(3) An increase in the authorized overall height of the antenna above ground of more than 20 feet or which will result in an overall height above ground of more than 170 feet.

(4) A change in the control system.

(5) Any change in the location of the transmitter except a move within the same building or upon the same tower or pole, and any horizontal change in the antenna location of the transmitting antenna in excess of 500 feet.

(6) A change of frequency assignment.

(7) A change of authorized operating power.

(b) Other equipment changes not specifically referred to above may be made at the discretion of the licensee, provided that the Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which the television broadcast booster station is located and the Commission's Washington, D.C. office, are notified in writing upon completion of such changes, and provided, further, that the changes are appropriately reflected in the next application for renewal of license of the television broadcast booster station.

TECHNICAL OPERATION

§ 4.861 Frequency tolerance.

The visual carrier frequency and the aural center frequency of the television signals transmitted by a television broadcast booster station shall be identical with those of the primary station.

§ 4.862 Frequency monitors and measurements.

The licensee of a television broadcast booster is not required to provide means for measuring the operating frequencies of the booster transmitter.

§ 4.863 Time of operation.

(a) A television broadcast booster station is not required to adhere to any regular schedule of operation. However, the licensee of a television booster station is expected to provide a dependable service to the extent that such is within its control and to avoid unwarranted interruptions to the service provided.

(b) If causes beyond the control of the licensee require that a television broadcast booster station remain inoperative for a period in excess of 10 days, the Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which the station is located shall be notified promptly in writing, describing the cause of failure and the steps taken to place the station in operation again, and shall be notified promptly when the operation is resumed.

(c) Failure of a television broadcast booster station to operate for a period of 30 days or more, except for causes beyond the control of the licensee, shall be deemed evidence of discontinuance of operation and the license of the station will be automatically forfeited.

(d) A television broadcast booster station shall not be operated during periods when the primary station is not operating.

§ 4.864 Station inspection.

The licensee of a television broadcast booster station shall make the station and the records required to be kept available for inspection upon request by representatives of the Commission.

§ 4.865 Posting of station and operators licenses.

(a) The station license and any other instrument of authorization or individual order concerning the construction of the equipment or manner of operation shall be posted at the place where the transmitter is located, so that all of the terms thereof are visible: Provided, however, That if the booster transmitter is operated by remote control and is located more than 20 miles from the primary station, the station license and other instruments of authorization shall be posted in the above-described manner at the transmitter of the primary station.

(b) The call letters and assigned channel of the primary station shall be displayed at the booster site on the structure supporting the transmitting antenna so as to be visible to a person standing on the ground at the booster transmitter site. The display shall be prepared so as to withstand normal weathering for a reasonable period of time and shall be maintained in a legible condition by the licensee.

(c) The original of each station operator license shall be posted at the place where he is on duty: Provided, however, That if the original license of a station operator is posted at another radio transmitting station in accordance with the rules governing that class of station and is there available for inspection by a representative of the Commission, a verification card (Form 758–F) is acceptable in lieu of the posting of such license: Provided further, however, That if the operator in charge holds a restricted radiotelephone operator permit of the card form (as distinguished from the diploma form), he shall not post that permit but shall keep it in his personal possession.

§ 4.866 Operator requirements.

(a) The actual operation of the transmitting apparatus at a television broadcast booster station shall be carried on only by a person holding a valid first or second class radio-telephone operators license: Provided, however, That where the booster transmitter is remotely controlled by the transmission of coded signals from the primary station, an unlicensed person may turn the power supplied to the booster by the power mains, on and off upon instructions from the operator on duty at the primary station.

(b) The licensed operator on duty and in charge of a television broadcast booster station may, at the discretion of the licensee, be employed for other duties or for the operation of another station or stations in accordance with the class of license which he holds and the rules and regulations governing such stations. However, such duties shall in no wise interfere with the operation of the television broadcast booster station.

§ 4.867 Marking and lighting of antenna structures.

The marking and lighting of antenna structures employed at a television broadcast booster station, where required, will be specified in the authorization issued by the Commission. Part 17 of this chapter sets forth the conditions under which such marking and lighting will be required and the responsibility of the licensee with regard thereto.

§ 4.868 Additional orders.

In case the rules contained in this part do not cover all phases of operation or experimentation with respect to external effects, the Commission may make supplemental or additional orders, in each case as may be deemed necessary.

§ 4.869 Copies of rules.

The licensee of a television broadcast booster station shall have current copies of Part 3 and Part 4, and in cases where antenna marking is required, Part 17 of this chapter, available for use by the operator in charge, and is expected to be familiar with those rules relating to the operation of a television broadcast booster station. Copies of the Commission's rules may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C., at nominal cost.

OPERATION

§ 4.881 Station records.

(a) The licensee of a television broadcast booster station shall maintain an operating log showing the following:

(1) Hours of operation.

(2) A record of all repairs, adjustments, maintenance, tests, and equipment changes, showing the date of such events, the name and qualifications of the person performing the operation, and a brief description of the matter logged.

(b) Where an antenna structure is required to be illuminated, see § 17.38 of this chapter.

(c) The operating log shall be made available upon request to any authorized representative of the Commission.

(d) Station records shall be retained for a period of two years.

§ 4.882 [Reserved]

§ 4.883 Station identification.

(a) Television broadcast booster stations will not be assigned individual call signs. Station identification will be accomplished by the retransmission of the call sign of the primary station.

(b) The Commission may request the operator on duty at the primary station to interrupt the transmissions of the booster station for short intervals of time in order to facilitate identification of a particular booster.

§ 4.884 Rebroadcasts.

(a) The term "rebroadcast" means the reception by radio of the programs or other signals of a radio or television station and the simultaneous or subsequent retransmission of such programs or signals for direct reception by the general public.

(b) A television broadcast booster station is authorized to rebroadcast only the signals of the primary station with which it is associated. In cases where the booster is located at a site where the signals of other television broadcast stations or other classes of stations may be received, care shall be exercised in the installation to insure that such other signals are not retransmitted: Provided, however, That occasional inadvertent retransmission of the signals of other co-channel TV stations caused by abnormal propagation conditions, will not be considered to be non-compliance.

Proposed Rule Making

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 1018]

[Docket No. AO–286–A2]

MILK IN SOUTHEASTERN FLORIDA MARKETING AREA

Decision on Proposed Amendments to Tentative Marketing Agreement and to Order

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Fort Lauderdale, Florida, on October 5 and 6, 1959, pursuant to notice thereof issued on September 21, 1959 (24 F.R. 7703).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, on March 15, 1960 (25 F.R. 2263) filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision containing notice of the opportunity to file written exceptions thereto.

The material issues on the record of the hearing relate to:

1. Definition of producer;
2. Price for Class I milk;
3. Classification and price for milk dumped;
4. Classification of diverted and transferred milk, shrinkage, and inventories;
5. Base-excess plan; and
6. Miscellaneous and conforming changes.
   (a) Definition of Chicago butter price;
   (b) Establishment of milk weights or measurements;
   (c) Advance payments; and
   (d) Adjustment of overdue accounts.

Findings and conclusions. The findings and conclusions relative to the base-excess plan were dealt with in a decision issued by the Acting Secretary on February 12, 1960 (25 F.R. 1412). The remaining issues were reserved for a later decision pending further study of the hearing record. The following findings and conclusions, on issues 1, 2, 3, 4 and 6 are based on evidence presented at the hearing and the record thereof.

1. Definition of producer. The definition of producer should be changed to allow a producer's milk to be diverted temporarily to nonpool plants. The definition should exclude persons who use the same farm production facilities to produce milk for other markets unless such deliveries to other markets are covered by the diversion provision.

A diversion provision in the order was proposed by the Independent Dairy Farmer's Association, Inc. Members of the association produce 90 percent or more of the regular supply for the market. The association performs the services of allocating member milk among handlers according to their needs, obtaining needed supplemental supplies, and arranging for disposal of milk in excess of handler's needs.

During the years of 1958 and 1959, the problem of disposing of milk in excess of handler's immediate needs has increased. The increase in production in relation to sales is discussed in detail in other parts of this decision. Variations in fluid sales, particularly through stores, has become increasingly important in causing short-term changes in the supply-sales relationship.

It is concluded that a diversion provision will aid the producer's association in finding outlets for temporary surpluses which are necessarily associated with production of a reliable and adequate supply. It will also provide a means of more equitable sharing of the burden of such surplus on the basis of marketwide pooling. Such a provision will enable movement of a producers milk directly from his farm to a nonpool plant. Inasmuch as the association does not have a plant, the diversion provision will extend the association's ability to move milk to plants where it may be used without depending on the services of handlers' plants. The diversion operation will also be more economical in handling of the milk than receiving it at a pool plant prior to transfer to a nonpool plant. A cooperative association which diverts milk for its account would be the responsible handler for such milk.

Handlers requested that the diversion privilege should also be available to them. Inasmuch as the Independent Dairy Farmer's Association regularly performs the function of allocating member milk to various plants according to market needs, and the membership includes all but a few producers, it may be expected that relatively few diversions would be made by plant operators. Nevertheless, handlers should be permitted to divert milk of nonmembers, in order to provide for economical disposition for such milk when it is not needed at the plant where regularly received.

In order to assure that diverted producers are genuinely associated with the market, the requirement in the producer definition for delivery to a pool plant on eight days in the current or previous month should be retained.

The testimony with respect to diverting milk shows a need to provide appropriate classification of the milk as discussed under another part of the findings and conclusions.

The producer association also requested that any person who produces milk for another market, except as would be provided under a diversion arrangement, should not qualify as a producer for this market. If a dairy farmer sells part of his production in this market and part in another market, he may arrange so that his deliveries to the other market closely approximate the amount of his base in that market. For this base milk he may be paid a price in the other market close to the level of this market's Class I price. At the same time, such a dairy farmer, if he is qualified as a producer under the order for the Southeastern Florida market, will share in the marketwide utilization of milk as reflected in his deliveries to a pool plant. Such a farmer's deliveries to this market would represent merely the variable excess of his production over the needs of the other market. As a result, the marketwide pool of this market would be burdened with the surplus or reserve of other markets without a share of the associated fluid sales in such other markets.

Furthermore, in the southern Florida area, plants in this market and surrounding markets are primarily engaged in fluid milk handling for route sales, and usually buy only enough of locally produced milk to cover fluid sales. Thus the shifting of deliveries to other markets in the manner described tends to increase the burden upon this market to obtain supplemental supplies.

It is concluded that the order should limit the conditions under which a dairy farmer may have producer status and yet deliver part of the production from the same production facilities to another market. The term production facilities would include the milking barns and premises. Such partial shifting of deliveries should be only through diversion by a handler (including a cooperative association). This would not preclude any farmer from shifting his entire production to another market. Furthermore, since such a limitation could be circumvented by a producer by assigning part of the herd to a member of his family as another producer on the same farm, it is necessary that the definition of producer exclude persons who produce milk using the same farm production facilities which are used by him or another person to produce milk for another market. It is not practical, however, to place a limitation, as requested at the hearing, on producer qualification with respect to shipments from separate farms to this and another market. To give any producer now delivering part of his production to other markets an opportunity to change his business arrangements, this limitation on producer status should become effective January 1, 1961.

2. Class I Price. The price for Class I milk should be subject to adjustment based upon the relationship of producer milk supplies to Class I disposition by pool plants. The adjusted Class I price should not exceed a value for manufacturing milk by more than $4.00 nor should it be less than such manufacturing price plus $2.75.

Since the order prices were made effective September 1, 1957, there has been considerable change in the supply-demand situation in the market, although the price for Class I milk has remained constant at $7.00 per hundredweight. During the early period under the order, the supply of producer milk was very close to the quantity of milk needed for Class I sales and in some months there were shortages which were met by shipments from other markets. Since that time, both supplies of producer milk and Class I sales have increased. Throughout 1959, however, the supply of producer milk has been at a higher level in relation to Class I sales than in previous periods. Prior to that time, the percentage of producer milk assigned to Class I was never less than 91 percent and in most months exceeded 95 percent. During 1959, the percentage of producer milk assigned to Class I was less than 90 percent in 8 of the twelve months. The lowest monthly utilization was 82.3 percent in Class I in May. Official notice is taken of data on milk receipts and utilization published by the market administrator.

During the year 1959, there have been large quantities of distress skim milk which have been dumped. No plant in or near the market has equipment for manufacturing large quantities of excess skim milk into a storable form.

A further factor in the supply situation is the ability of the market to depend on supplemental supplies from other fluid markets which have ample reserve supplies. The relationship of the price level in this market to price levels in markets with more ample supplies has an important bearing on this matter. In recent years the Southeastern Florida market has obtained supplemental milk from Bristol, Tennessee (Order No. 23), Chattanooga, Tennessee (Order No. 100), Chicago, Illinois (Order No. 41), and Springfield, Missouri (Order No. 21). Computations using a hauling rate of 1½ cents for each 10 miles (and adjusting for butterfat test) would result in an average cost of milk in 1959 delivered to Miami of $6.77 from Bristol, Tennessee, $6.35 from Chattanooga, $6.13 from Chicago, and $6.37 from Springfield, Missouri. These computations make no allowance for special handling charges or other mark-ups. Although the price differences between these markets and the Southeastern Florida market tend to narrow in the months when this market is shortest of milk, the type of computation referred to for the months of December 1958 through February 1959 for milk from the Chicago market would give a price 83 cents less than the price in this market.

In the case of milk from Bristol, Tennessee in these months the computed price difference was 9 cents per hundredweight under this market, and similarly for Chattanooga, 62 cents; and for Springfield, Missouri, 57 cents. In view of the ability of this market to depend on other markets for supplemental supplies, this market may be adequately supplied although only a small amount of reserve milk is locally produced.

The changes in the supply-demand situation in the market show a definite need for a Class I pricing formula which is responsive to such changes in market conditions. Formula calculations based on the cost of feed and a local industrial wage index, which have been in the order provisions, although not effective, have not provided a suitable basis for a Class I milk price formula. The supply-demand adjustment stated in the order has not been made effective, and would not provide an adequate reflection of market conditions if it were effective. A supply-demand adjustment more closely related to experience in the market under order regulation should be used.

The Independent Dairy Farmer's Association, Inc., proposed that the Class I price be subject to a supply-demand adjustment which could adjust the price as much as 20 cents above or below the present price of $7.00 per hundredweight. The association recommended the continuance of the present order relationship to the manufacturing milk value described in § 1018.50(b), and the deletion of the present ineffective order provisions under which computations are made of supply-demand figures and feed-wage price formula.

The proposed supply-demand adjustment would be based on milk utilization figures for the four preceding months. As an indicator of demand, Class I disposition in the marketing area by pool plants and by nonpool plants including that of producer-handlers would be used. On the supply side this computation would include milk received from producers and milk produced by producer-handlers. Class I disposition outside the marketing area by pool plants would not be included because of possible erratic variations. The normal utilization percentages in such proposed supply-demand adjustment would range from 112 percent to 117 percent of supply as a percent of sales. The actual percentage of utilization on this basis was calculated to range from 99 percent to 112 percent for price adjustments applicable in the period from October 1958 through September 1959. The resulting computed adjustments ranged from plus 52 cents to minus 20 cents, but actual adjustments in either direction would be limited under the proposal to 20 cents.

The foregoing proposal includes production and sales of producer-handlers. This milk is not priced under the order and accordingly is not subject to the same kind of supply-demand considerations as producer milk. Class I sales by pool plants outside the marketing area should be included as part of the demand for producer milk. The omission of these sales in the proposal by producers was for the purpose of avoiding the effect of variations in outside sales, such as might be caused by a handler transferring his outside sales to a nonpool plant which he operates. The latter situation, however, would usually represent an actual change in the supply-demand situation in this market, whether the handler did or did not shift corresponding volume of production along with the sales.

Utilization in the market during a recent four-month period, with somewhat different methods of calculation than proposed by producers, would provide a suitable basis for a price adjustment reflecting particularly the situation in the most recent of the four months, as well as a progressively greater effect to the extent that a particular level of utilization persisted for more than one month during the four-month period.

The relationship of supply to demand may be expressed for this purpose by calculating the percentage that producer milk is of the quantity of Class I disposition. The supply-demand adjustment adopted herein would combine the receipts and disposition of each two successive months, and would use three such two-month utilization percentages. A price adjustment for the month of January, for example, would be based on the three utilization percentages for the preceding August–September, September–October and October–November periods. These months would be the latest for which data would be available so that the supply-demand price adjustment could be announced before the month in which it is effective.

The amount of price adjustment would depend on the difference of each two-month utilization percentage from a corresponding standard established for such two-month period. These differences would be called deviation percentages. The three successive deviation percentages to be used in the price adjustment for each month, would be applied in a manner so that the more recent of the deviations would be given more importance than the earlier of the three deviation percentages. This would be done by eliminating any deviation which is in the opposite direction (above or below the corresponding standard) from a more recent deviation, and reducing any deviation figure to the extent that it exceeds a more recent deviation. The sum of the remaining deviation percentages would be the basis for price adjustment. The price adjustment would be upward or downward depending on whether the sum of the deviations reflects utilization below or above, respectively, the standard utilization percentages.

The rate of price adjustment for each deviation percentage should be 1½ cents rather than the 2 cent rate in the recommended decision. This change is made in light of producer exceptions which protested that the standard utilization percentages in the recommended decision would yield Class I prices lower than could be justified. Standard utilization percentages recommended by the producer association would have resulted, however, in price adjustments too large on the plus side in some past periods, particularly 1958. It is concluded elsewhere in this decision that the utilization percentages in the recommended decision represent a better seasonal pattern and annual level for the kind of price adjustment needed in this market than do the percentages recommended by the producers. In view of producer exceptions and other considerations referred to, it is concluded here that the lesser rate of price adjustment on both the upper and lower side of the current price level will provide adequate response to supply and demand conditions in the market.

Fractional amounts resulting from the one-and-one-half-cent rate should be rounded to the next largest figure (plus or minus).

The standard utilization percentages specified herein for use in the supply-demand adjustment have been developed on the basis of the experience with the changes in supply and demand since the order was established. As evidenced in the record and by the market data of which official notice was taken in the recommended decision, a more than an adequate supply of milk has developed at the price level of $7.00 per hundredweight which has been the price throughout the effective period of the order. In accordance with the act under which the order is issued, the level of price should reflect the market supply and demand condition. For this reason the level of price should be reduced when the supply is as large in relation to sales as it has been in recent periods of oversupply. The standard utilization percentages therefore represent a means of arriving at such price adjustment.

The producers in their exceptions complained that the standard utilization percentages in the recommended decision did not represent an optimum relation of supply to sales. In this connection, it is pointed out, that the standard utilization percentages merely serve as a basis for arriving at appropriate price adjustments in view of market experience. In this light, it is not necessary that the standard percentages represent the most desirable utilization to be achieved by the market.

There are definite seasonal changes in the level of Class I disposition. The seasonal increase may begin in September and continue to increase to the highest level in January or February. Production has generally increased seasonally in the same manner. The decline in Class I disposition during spring months tends to be more rapid than changes in production. As a result, during spring months supplies become more ample in relation to Class I sales. Such seasonal changes in the utilization of producer milk are sufficiently definite to be recognized to some degree in the mechanism of a supply-demand adjustment, although the two years of experience under the order does not establish precisely a normal seasonal pattern. Accordingly, a given level of utilization in the spring months should correspond to a higher adjusted price than for the same level of utilization in the late summer and fall months.

The standard utilization percentages to be used in the supply-demand adjustment would be as follows:

Month for which price applies	Months for which utilization is computed	Standard utilization percentage
January	October–November	100
February	November–December	103
March	December–January	105
April	January–February	105
May	February–March	108
June	March–April	112
July	April–May	114
August	May–June	114
September	June–July	112
October	July–August	107
November	August–September	104
December	September–October	100

At the level of utilization which has existed since October 1957, the supply-demand formula would have resulted in adjustments ranging from plus 30 cents per hundredweight in the month of November 1958 to minus 53 cents in February 1960. The average adjustment for the year 1958 would have been plus 16 cents and for 1959 minus 15 cents.

The tie-in of the Class I price with the value of milk for manufacturing uses will provide an adequate limit to the operation of the supply-demand adjustment. This tie-in based on a relationship to prices paid by Mid-West manufacturing plants and prices of nonfat dry milk and butter, requires that the Class I price be not less than $3.25 over the manufacturing milk formula value, and be not more than $3.75 over such formula value. Although this tie-in has not affected the Class I price in any month since the inception of the order, it is apparent that the limits of this tie-in relationship would limit the action of the supply-demand adjustment to a narrow range. In view of the need to provide a pricing mechanism more responsive to supply and demand conditions, the limits of the relationship to the manufacturing milk value should be widened. The lower limit should be established at $2.75 over the manufacturing milk value and the upper limit at $4.00 over such value.

3. Dumped milk. Skim milk dumped should be classified and priced as Class II milk.

Production of milk for this market since the latter part of 1958 has increased faster than Class I disposition. An excess of supply over Class I sales has resulted. Although there is generally use for the butterfat of such excess milk in fluid cream, ice cream, or storage cream, the outlets for the skim milk portion are very restricted by lack of manufacturing facilities. As a result, during the January-July period of 1959, handlers returned large quantities of skim milk to producers through the producer's association for dumping.

A proposal made by representatives of producers, intended to facilitate the handling of skim milk in such circumstances, would classify the dumped skim milk as Class II milk, but would allow the handler a credit for such skim milk at the rate of the Class II price for 4.0 percent milk less $3.00. This difference would have ranged between $1.39 and $1.41 in the January-July period of 1959. The figure of $3.00 is equivalent to the value of four pounds of butterfat arrived at by applying the producer butterfat differential of 7.5 cents provided under the order. Hence, there would be no value attached to the skim milk.

It is pointed out in connection with the prior findings on Class I prices that in the early period under the order, the supply of milk from local sources was very close to the amount of milk needed for fluid sales. When supplemental milk was needed it was obtained from distant markets. More recently, the local supply of milk has increased to the point that skim milk is in excess of the needs for the fluid market.

In a fluid market the unpredictable variations in supplies and fluid sales can be met either out of a reserve produced locally or by obtaining supplemental milk from other markets. Although the change in the supply situation since the order became effective might be interpreted as the development of a local reserve supply, physical facilities for handling such a reserve have not been provided. Under the circumstances it may be just as feasible for the market and in the interest of consumers to maintain a pricing arrangement which will promote a supply of milk which is geared to the facilities available for the economic disposal thereof. Appropriate adjustments of the Class I price have been considered in this decision to encourage a proper balance of supplies in relation to the requirements for the fluid market.

The primary purpose of a milk marketing order is to provide for the orderly marketing of milk produced for sale in a regulated marketing area. This is achieved chiefly by the use of the classified price plan and the pooling mechanisms provided in the order. It is presumed that the Class prices established will be at levels which will encourage the utilization of milk in its most economical outlets. A pricing system which assigns no value for skim milk when it is dumped, while at the same time establishing a significantly higher value for all other uses of skim milk, will obviously not encourage the disposition of skim milk in its most economical uses. On the contrary, such provision could only encourage the wastage of skim milk.

The problem here is to find a pricing level for skim milk in Class II which will accommodate its utilization in some form of useful product. The evidence, however, did not address itself to this matter and, consequently, the basis is not provided in this record for establishing a value for Class II skim milk different from that which is presently provided.

In view of the above considerations it is concluded that dumped skim milk should be classified and priced as Class II milk.

4. Classification: Milk transferred or diverted to nonpool plants, shrinkage, and inventories.

(a) Transfers and diversions. The discussion in previous findings and conclusions with respect to the producer definition, particularly the diversion of milk from producers' farms to nonpool plants, shows the need to establish rules of classification for diverted milk.

Most of the nonpool plants in Florida to which producer milk may be diverted are in the fluid milk distribution business. These plants depend very largely on supplies of milk received directly from dairy farmers, and usually have only a relatively small margin of such receipts over their volume of fluid sales.

If a handler in this market diverts milk to any nonpool plant which has more Class I disposition than milk received from the farmers primarily associated with the nonpool plant, the diverted milk should be considered as part of the supply upon which the nonpool plant depends to cover Class I disposition. Accordingly, after assignment of Class I disposition of the nonpool plant to dairy farmers which supply approved milk to the nonpool plant, any remaining Class I disposition should be assigned to producer milk diverted to the nonpool plant, with provision, however, for similar classification for milk originating at plants under other Federal orders. If the nonpool plant has received milk classified and priced as Class I milk under other orders, the assignment of Class I disposition to diverted milk should be pro rata with the milk which has been classified and priced as Class I milk under the other Federal orders.

In this connection, a proposal was made by producers that the classification of producer milk should not be restricted to Class I when the diversion is to a plant more than 350 miles from Boca Raton, Florida. It was suggested that the mileage limitation be extended to 900 miles so that milk could be diverted to Chattanooga, Tennessee, for surplus disposition. It was claimed in this connection that the plant of the Chattanooga Area Milk Producer's Association is the nearest plant which could regularly accept such diversions for manufacturing purposes.

For the purpose of effective administration of the order, some limitations must be set on the requirements upon the market administrator to determine final disposition of producer milk in other than Class I use. The mileage figure referred to is such a limitation. In this case the limit may be extended to 500 miles from Boca Raton and be in accordance with administrative feasibility. In the case of movements of milk beyond such distance, if the nonpool plant is regulated under another Federal order, reliance could be placed on the verification procedures under the other order. Such would be the case for shipments to the Chattanooga association plant as long as that plant is fully regulated under the Chattanooga Federal order.

The preceding rules for classification of producer milk diverted to nonpool plants are necessary to assure that producers for this market will share properly in the utilization at the nonpool plants. The terminology "diversion of producer milk by a pool plant operator to a nonpool plant" is applied here particularly to movements of milk directly from a producer's farm to a nonpool plant. In the case of producer milk transferred as shipments from pool plants to nonpool plants, similar considerations with respect to proper classification necessarily apply. The evidence with respect to shifting of milk supplies between pool plants and nonpool plants, and the possible result that this market may carry the surplus and reserve of other markets, bears on the proper classification of transfers from pool plants to nonpool plants. Accordingly, the same classification rules should apply to such transfers as would apply to diverted milk.

(b) Shrinkage. The shrinkage provision should be revised to provide that shrinkage shall be prorated only to receipts in the form of milk or skim milk.

Under current order provisions, the total shrinkage is prorated to producer milk and other source milk without distinction as to whether the other source milk is a fluid receipt or represents the use of nonfat dry milk, or some other concentrated product. Thus, pool plants with manufacturing operations using largely other source milk received in concentrated forms may prorate shrinkage over the entire fluid equivalent of products in this operation as well as fluid receipts. Under the definition of Class II milk, skim milk and butterfat used in the manufacture of milk products are accounted for on a used-to-produce basis. Any processing loss is included in the amount of skim milk and butterfat reported as used.

Other source milk received by pool plants in forms other than milk or skim milk is very largely (if not entirely) used in a manner which results in the used-to-produce accounting. It is improper, therefore, that proration of shrinkage should apply to other source milk receipts in forms other than milk or skim milk.

Producers also proposed that the allowable amount of shrinkage of producer milk classified as Class II milk should be reduced from 2 percent to 1½ percent. The evidence on such a change in the shrinkage allowance is not sufficiently clear to arrive at a conclusion on this record. Some handler testimony claimed that the amount of actual shrinkage experienced generally was in the neighborhood of 2 percent. It is not clear from the record from what type of calculation or what data were used by the producer representative in arriving at the market average figure of 1.2 percent.

(c) Inventories. A reclassification charge should apply to other source milk in inventories allocated to Class I milk.

The order now provides in § 1018.70(c) for a reclassification charge on producer milk in inventories. This charge applies when under the allocation procedure pursuant to § 1018.45 any part of beginning inventory is assigned to Class I milk, limited however, to the amount of producer milk assigned to Class II milk in the preceding month. The rate of reclassification charge is the difference between the Class II price of the preceding month (since closing inventory is classified as Class II milk) and the Class I price of the current month.

A proposal made by producers was intended to apply a further reclassification charge when beginning inventory allocated to Class I milk is at least in part from unregulated sources. Such a reclassification charge would be at the rate of compensatory payments applied to current receipts of other source milk classified as Class I milk.

Compensatory payments do not apply to other source milk which has been priced as Class I milk under another Federal order, but may apply when milk is received from unregulated sources or from another Federal order market where it is not priced as Class I milk. Similarly, in case of inventory reclassification, a compensatory payment should not apply if, after reclassification of producer milk in inventory, the remaining amount of beginning inventory assigned to Class I may have come from supplies received in the previous month which were classified as Class I under another Federal order. Accordingly, after arriving at a reclassification charge on producer milk in inventory, the remaining amount of beginning inventory which has been allocated to Class I should be reduced to the extent that receipts during the prior month from other Federal markets were allocated to Class II milk although classified as Class I milk under the other orders. The then remaining amount of reclassified inventory would be subject to compensatory payment.

Inasmuch as the rate of compensatory payment differs according to whether the other source milk originates inside or outside the State of Florida, it is necessary to provide separate steps in allocation procedure under § 1018.45 for the assignment of other source milk from inside and outside the state. The procedure of assigning milk from the nearest source (inside the state) to Class I milk first is followed in this connection.

6. Miscellaneous and conforming changes. (a) The definition of Chicago butter price should be changed to mean the average price for the month instead of for the period from the 26th of the preceding month through the 25th day of the current month. This will conform with the general practice in other Federal milk orders and will provide an appropriate average butter price for establishing prices under this order.

(b) The producer's association proposed that the order contain a provision which would require handlers to use approved measuring devices in determining the quantity of milk received at a handler's plant. This proposal was made because of inaccuracies discovered in the measurements of milk by flow meters at plants of two handlers. Tests made by the Weights and Measure Division of the Florida State Department of Agriculture showed errors of as much as 2 percent in the milk measured by these flow meters.

The assurance of accurate measurement of milk received from producers is necessary to make effective the minimum price provisions of the order and to provide equity among handlers as to the cost of milk.

The responsibility for the routine weighing and testing of producers' milk deliveries may be undertaken by either handlers, or producers, or both. For producers who are not members of a cooperative association, the market administrator is responsible for checking the accuracy of the weights and tests of their deliveries and furnishing them with the market information. Four cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the Secretary may prescribe, is deducted from the payments due such producers and is paid to the market administrator to cover the cost of such checking. If a cooperative association is performing these services for their members, handlers make such deductions as are authorized by producers and pay the money so deducted to the cooperative association performing such services.

The verification of the quantities of milk receipts reported by each handler is one of the duties of the market administrator, particularly pursuant to § 1018.22(h). In performance of such duty, the market administrator may rely upon approval of weighing and measuring devices by local or state government agencies if such approval is based upon a regular inspection. If a scale or other device is shown by such agency to be inaccurate, or if the device is not subject to such regular inspection, this may be a basis for the market administrator to disregard measurements made by such device. The market administrator also may check the accuracy of scales or other measuring devices by whatever physical testing procedure is necessary.

In view of the above stated considerations it is concluded that the provisions of the order are sufficient to deal with the type of problem raised.

(c) Advance payments. Advance payments should be made to producers twice a month.

All of the handlers in the market are currently paying the milk producers' association two advance payments each month. For milk delivered during the first 15 days of the month, handlers make a payment on the 18th and for milk delivered during the last half, on the 3d of the following month. These payments are for a partial value of the milk the handlers have already received. Such payments are in advance of the final settlement, which is due on the 13th of the following month for payments to the cooperative association and 15th of the following month for individual producers.

The order now provides for advance payment on the last day of the month for milk received during the first 15 days at the rate equal to the Class II price for the preceding month. The order provisions should be revised as proposed by the producer's association to conform more nearly with market practices and thus to ameliorate the burden of financing production by putting it on as current a basis as possible. Advance payment should be made by handlers to cooperative associations on the 18th of the month for milk received during the first 15 days of the month, and similar payments to individual producers who are not members of an association should be made on the 20th. Handlers should make an advance payment on the 3d of the following month to cooperative associations for milk received during the last half of the month, and on the 5th of the following month to individual producers. If such date of payment falls on a day which is not a day of business, the requirement would be delayed to the next regular business day. The rate of payment should be not less than the uniform base price for the preceding month less 20 percent. Payment at this rate will reduce the possibility of an overpayment at the time advance payments to producers are made. Any balance should be paid by the handler on the date for final payment as now specified in the order.

(d) The order should be amended to provide for the charging of interest at the rate of one-half of one percent per month or any portion thereof on overdue obligations to the producer-settlement fund. Prompt payment to the producer-settlement fund is essential to the operation of the marketwide pool. Charging interest at the above rate will encourage handlers to make payments to such fund within the time specified.

The requirement as to date of payment shall be considered to have been met in the case of payments made by mail if the postmark is not later than the required payment date.

Producers also proposed that interest be charged handlers on any payments due producers which are not remitted by the date specified in the order. The evidence does not show that a serious problem exists in this regard and accordingly, the proposal is denied.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs and proposed findings and conclusions were filed on behalf of certain interested parties in the market. These briefs, proposed findings and conclusions and the evidence in the record were considered in making the findings and conclusions set forth above. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions filed by interested parties are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions set forth herein, the requests to make such findings or reach such conclusions are denied for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

General findings. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

Rulings on exceptions. In arriving at the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision, each of the exceptions received was carefully and fully considered in conjunction with the record evidence pertaining thereto. To the extent that the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision are at variance with any of the exceptions, such exceptions are hereby overruled for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

Marketing agreement and order. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled respectively, "Marketing Agreement Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Southeastern Florida Marketing Area", and "Order Amending the Order Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Southeastern Florida Marketing Area", which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision, except the attached marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order as hereby proposed to be amended by the attached order which will be published with this decision.

Determination of representative period. The month of March 1960 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of the attached order amending the order regulating the handling of milk in the Southeastern Florida marketing area, is approved or favored by producers, as defined under the terms of the order as hereby proposed to be amended, and who, during such representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale within the aforesaid marketing area.

Issued at Washington, D.C., this 2d day of June 1960.

CLARENCE L. MILLER,
Assistant Secretary.

§ 1018.0 Findings and determinations.

The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Southeastern Florida marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act;

(2) The parity prices of milk, as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

(3) The said order as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial or commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Southeastern Florida marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as hereby amended, and the aforesaid order is hereby amended as follows:

DEFINITIONS

§ 1018.1 Act.

"Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as re-enacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.).

§ 1018.2 Secretary.

"Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture or any officer or employee of the United States who is authorized to exercise the powers and to perform the duties of the said Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 1018.3 Department.

"Department" means the United States Department of Agriculture or such other Federal agency as is authorized to perform the price reporting functions specified in this part.

§ 1018.4 Person.

"Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association or any other business unit.

§ 1018.5 Cooperative association.

"Cooperative association" means any cooperative association of producers which the Secretary determines, after application by the association: (a) To be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 19, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act"; (b) to have full authority in the sale of milk of its members and to be engaged in making collective sales of or marketing milk or its products for its members; and (c) to have its entire activities under the control of its members.

§ 1018.6 Southeastern Florida marketing area.

"Southeastern Florida marketing area" hereinafter called the "marketing area" means all territory included within the counties of Dade, Broward, Monroe, and Palm Beach, all in the State of Florida. All government reservations and incorporated municipalities within this territory shall be considered part of the marketing area as herein defined.

§ 1018.7 Producer.

"Producer" means any person, except a producer-handler, who produces milk (as described in § 1018.63) in compliance with the inspection requirements of a duly constituted health authority for fluid consumption (as used in this subpart, compliance with inspection requirements shall include production of milk acceptable to agencies of the United States Government located in the marketing area for fluid consumption), which milk is received at pool plant(s) on eight or more days during the month, or a person who was a producer during the preceding month from whom milk was received at pool plant(s) on eight or more days: Provided, That after December 31, 1960 the definition of "producer" shall not mean any person who during the month produces milk on, in, or by the use of the same milking barns or premises from which milk is delivered to a nonpool plant except milk diverted to such nonpool plant by a handler pursuant to § 1018.13.

§ 1018.8 Producer-handler.

"Producer-handler" means any person who, during the month: (a) produces milk; (b) distributes Class I milk on routes in the marketing area; and (c) receives no milk except from his own dairy farm, and receives no products designated as Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.41(a) from pool plants or other sources.

§ 1018.9 Handler.

"Handler" means:

(a) Any person in his capacity as the operator of one or more pool plants;

(b) A producer-handler;

(c) Any person in his capacity as the operator of a nonpool plant from which Class I milk is disposed of in the marketing area on routes;

(d) Any person in his capacity as the operator of a plant from which milk in the form of products designated as Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.41(a) is shipped to pool plants, and

(e) A cooperative association with respect to milk diverted to a nonpool plant pursuant to § 1018.7.

§ 1018.10 Route.

"Route" means any delivery to retail or wholesale outlets (including delivery by a vendor, or a sale from or through a plant store, or by vending machine) of any product in a form designated as Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.41(a), but does not include delivery to a milk receiving or processing plant.

§ 1018.11 Pool plant.

"Pool plant" means a plant described under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section which is not a plant operated by a dairy farmer in his capacity as a producer-handler, is not determined to be a nonpool plant pursuant to § 1018.61, and is not a facility described in paragraph (c) of this section:

(a) A plant at which the total Class I milk during the month is equal to not less than 50 percent of the receipts at the plant during the month of milk from dairy farmers who meet the inspection requirements pursuant to § 1018.7 and other receipts in the form of milk products designated as Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.41(a) and from which an amount of Class I milk equal to not less than 20 percent of such receipts is disposed of during the month in the marketing area on routes;

(b) A plant from which, during the month, a volume of milk and skim milk equal to at least the required percentage (specified herein) of the volume of milk received thereat from dairy farmers who meet the inspection requirements pursuant to § 1018.7 is shipped to plants which are pool plants pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, such required percentages being 50 percent in each of the months of December through March, and 40 percent in other months; and

(c) Pool plant as defined in this section shall not be deemed to include any building, premises, facilities, the primary function of which is to hold or store bottled milk or milk products in finished form, nor shall it include any part of a plant in which the operations are entirely separated (by wall or other partition) from the handling of producer milk.

§ 1018.12 Nonpool plant.

"Nonpool plant" means any milk receiving or processing plant other than a pool plant.

§ 1018.13 Producer milk.

"Producer milk" means only that skim milk and butterfat contained in milk received at pool plants directly from producers and milk from producers diverted by a handler to a nonpool plant for his account: Provided, That milk so diverted shall be deemed to be received by the diverting handler at the location (except in computing the days of receipt at pool plants pursuant to § 1018.7) of the pool plant from which diverted.

§ 1018,14 Other source milk.

"Other source milk" means all skim milk and butterfat contained in:

(a) Receipts during the month in a form of products designated as Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.41(a) except (1) receipts from pool plants, (2) inventory at the beginning of the month or accounting period, or (3) producer milk; and

(b) Milk products in any form other than those designated as Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.41(a) received from any source (including those produced at the plant) which are reprocessed or converted to another product in the plant during the month.

§ 1018.15 Cream.

"Cream" means the product obtained by the separation of skim milk from whole milk such that the butterfat content of the remaining product exceeds 10 percent, and mixtures of such products with milk and skim milk such that the average butterfat content exceeds 10 percent.

§ 1018.16 Chicago butter price.

"Chicago butter price" means the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) per pound of 92-score bulk creamery butter at Chicago as reported by the Department for the month.

§ 1018.17 Chicago powder price.

"Chicago powder price" means the carlot price per pound of nonfat dry milk solids, spray process, for human consumption, f.o.b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published by the Department for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month.

§ 1018.18 Base milk.

"Base milk" means producer milk received by a handler from a producer which is not in excess of such producer's daily base determined pursuant to § 1018.90, multiplied by the number of days of production for which such producer delivered milk during the month.

§ 1018.19 Excess milk.

"Excess milk" means producer milk received by a handler which is in excess of base milk.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 1018.20 Designation.

The agency for the administration of this part shall be a "market administrator" selected by the Secretary. He shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by the Secretary and shall be subject to removal at his discretion.

§ 1018.21 Powers.

The market administrator shall have the following powers with respect to this part:

(a) To administer its terms and provisions;

(b) To make rules and regulations to effectuate its terms and provisions;

(c) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations; and

(d) To recommend amendments to the Secretary.

§ 1018.22 Duties.

The market administrator shall perform all duties necessary to administer the terms and provisions of this part, including, but not limited to the following:

(a) Within 45 days following the date on which he enters upon his duties, or such lesser period as may be prescribed by the Secretary, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, effective as of the date on which he enters upon his duties and conditioned upon the faithful performance of such duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(b) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer its terms and provisions;

(c) Obtain a bond in a reasonable amount and with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(d) Pay out of the funds received pursuant to § 1018.86:

(1) The cost of his bond and the bonds of his employees;

(2) His own compensation; and

(3) All other expenses, except those incurred under § 1018.85, necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office and in the performance of his duties;

(e) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this part, and, upon request by the Secretary, surrender the same to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(f) Publicly disclose to handlers and producers, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, the name of any person who, within 2 days after the date upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not made reports or made available records and facilities pursuant to §§ 1018.30 through 1018.32, or payments pursuant to §§ 1018.80 through 1018.86;

(g) Furnish such information and verified reports as the Secretary may request, and submit his books and records to examination by the Secretary at any and all times;

(h) Verify all reports and payments of each handler, by audit of such handler's records and the records of any other handler or person upon whose utilization the classification of skim milk and butterfat for such handler depends; and by such other means as are necessary;

(i) Prepare and make available for the benefit of producers, consumers, and handlers, general statistics and information which do not reveal confidential information;

(j) On or before the date specified, publicly announce by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, and mail to each handler at his last known address, a notice of each of the following:

(1) The 5th day of each month, the Class I price and the Class I butterfat differential, both for the current month, and the Class II price and the Class II butterfat differential, both for the preceding month; and

(2) The 11th day of each month, the uniform prices computed pursuant to § 1018.72 and the producer butterfat differential, all for the preceding months; and

(k) On or before the 12th day after the end of each month, report to each cooperative association which so requests the percentage of producer milk delivered by members of such association which was used in each class by each handler receiving such milk. For the purpose of this report, the milk so received shall be prorated to each class in accordance with the total utilization of producer milk by such handler.

Reports, Records and Facilities

§ 1018.30 Reports of sources and utilization.

On or before the 7th day after the end of each month, each handler, except a producer-handler, shall report to the market administrator for each of the plants with respect to which he is a handler for such month, and for each accounting period in each month, in the detail and on the forms prescribed by the market administrator, as follows:

(a) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in or represented by receipts of:

(1) Producer milk;

(2) Receipts from pool plants in the form of products designated as Class I pursuant to § 1018.41(a);

(3) Other source milk; and

(4) Inventories in the form of products designated as Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.41(a) on hand at the beginning and end of the month or accounting period.

(b) The utilization of all skim milk and butterfat required to be reported pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, including separate statements as to the disposition of Class I milk on routes entirely outside the marketing area;

(c) Such other information with respect to receipts and utilization as the market administrator may request;

(d) The total quantity of base milk and the total quantity of excess milk received; and

(e) Each handler who submits reports on the basis of accounting periods of less than a month, as described in § 1018.45 (d), shall submit a summary report of the same information for the entire month.

§ 1018.31 Other reports.

(a) Each producer-handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may prescribe; and

(b) Each handler, except a producer-handler, shall report to the market administrator in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator:

(1) On or before the 20th day after the end of the month, for each of his pool plants, his producer payroll for that month, which shall show for each producer: (i) His name and address, (ii) the total pounds of milk received from such producer, including, separately, the pounds of base milk and the pounds of excess milk, (iii) the days for which milk was received from such producer, (iv) the average butterfat content of such milk, and (v) the net amount of the handler's payment with respect to such milk to the producer or cooperative association, together with the price paid and the amount and nature of any deductions;

(2) On or before the first day other source milk as defined pursuant to § 1018.14(a) is received at his pool plants, his intention to receive such product, and on or before the last day such product is received, his intention to discontinue receipt of such product;

(3) Such other information with respect to his sources and utilization of butterfat and skim milk, and at such times as the market administrator shall prescribe.

§ 1018.32 Records and facilities.

Each handler shall maintain and make available to the market administrator during the usual hours of business such accounts and records of his operations and such facilities as are necessary for the market administrator to verify or establish the correct data for each month, with respect to requirements of this part, including, but not limited to:

(a) The receipt and utilization of all skim milk and butterfat handled in any form;

(b) The weights and tests for butterfat and other content of all milk and milk products handled;

(c) The pounds of skim milk and butterfat contained in or represented by all items of products on hand at the beginning and end of each month; and

(d) Payments to producers and cooperative associations, including any deductions, and the disbursement of money so deducted.

§ 1018.33 Retention of records.

All books and records required under this part to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if, within such three-year period, the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c(15)(A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified books and records, until further notification from the market administrator. In either case, the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

Classification of Milk

§ 1018.40 Skim milk and butterfat to be classified.

The skim milk and butterfat required to be reported for pool plants pursuant to § 1018.30(a) shall be classified by the market administrator, pursuant to the provisions of §§ 1018.41 through 1018.45.

§ 1018.41 Classes of utilization.

Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 1018.42 through 1018.45, the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk. Class I milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat:

(1) Disposed of from the plant in the form of milk, skim milk, frozen milk (whole or concentrated), concentrated milk, reconstituted milk, chocolate milk, fortified skim milk up to the weight of an equal volume of unmodified skim milk, and fortified milk up to the weight of an equal volume of unmodified milk of the same butterfat test, and

(2) Not specifically accounted for as Class II milk;

(b) Class II milk. Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat:

(1) Used to produce any product other than those designated as Class I milk pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section;

(2) Contained in inventories in the form of milk products designated as Class I milk pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section on hand at the end of each month and accounting period;

(3) That portion of fortified milk or skim milk not classified as Class I milk pursuant to subparagraph (a)(1) of this section;

(4) In total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, such shrinkage to be prorated to producer milk and other source milk received in the form of fluid milk or skim milk: Provided, That Class II classification of shrinkage prorated to skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in producer milk shall not exceed 2 percent of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk; and

(5) Skim milk which is dumped at the plant after notification to the market administrator which provides adequate opportunity for him to observe the dumping operation and verify the amount of product dumped.

§ 1018.42 Responsibility of handlers.

All skim milk and butterfat to be classified pursuant to this order shall be classified as Class I milk, unless the handler who received such skim milk and butterfat establishes to the satisfaction of the market administrator that it should be classified as Class II milk.

§ 1018.43 Transfers.

(a) Skim milk and butterfat transferred to a pool plant in the form of milk products designated as Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.41(a) shall be classified so as to result in the maximum assignment of the producer milk of both handlers to Class I milk within the accounting period used by each handler, and skim milk and butterfat so transferred shall be classified as Class I milk unless the operators of both plants claim utilization thereof in Class II milk in their reports submitted pursuant to § 1018.30: Provided, That the skim milk or butterfat so assigned, to Class II milk shall be limited to the respective amounts thereof remaining in Class II milk at the pool plants of the receiving handler after the subtraction of other source milk and beginning inventory pursuant to § 1018.45;

(b) Skim milk and butterfat transferred in bulk form as milk or skim milk from a pool plant to a nonpool plant, or diverted from a producer's farm to a nonpool plant for the account of a handler shall be classified as Class I milk unless the conditions pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph are met and classification pursuant to subparagraph (3) or (4) of this paragraph is claimed by the transferring or diverting handler;

(1) The nonpool plant is located less than 500 miles from the location of the main U.S. Post Office in Boca Raton, Florida, by the shortest hard-surfaced highway distance as determined by the market administrator or is a plant fully regulated under another order issued pursuant to the Act;

(2) The operator of the nonpool plant maintains books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at such plant which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the purpose of verification; and

(3) The skim milk and butterfat in the milk transferred or diverted is classified as Class I milk in an amount not less than the pro rata assignment of such skim milk and butterfat and skim milk and butterfat received at the nonpool plant in milk classified and priced as Class I milk under another Federal order, such pro rata assignment to be to skim milk and butterfat in route disposition from the nonpool plant in forms designated as Class I milk in § 1018.41(a) after subtraction from such disposition of the quantities of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in milk received at the nonpool plant from dairy farmers who the market administrator determines constitute the regular approved dairy-farmer supply for the nonpool plants, or

(4) If the nonpool plant to which milk is transferred or diverted is a plant fully regulated under another order issued pursuant to the Act, the milk transferred or diverted shall be classified as Class I milk in the same amount as it is classified in the highest price class under such other order, and the remainder shall be Class II milk.

§ 1018.44 Computation of skim milk and butterfat in each class.

For each month, the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and other obvious errors, the reports submitted by each handler pursuant to § 1018.30(a) and compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class I milk and Class II milk at all of the pool plants of such handler: Provided, That the skim milk contained in any product utilized, produced or disposed of by the handler during the month shall be considered to be an amount equivalent to the nonfat milk solids contained in such product, plus all of the water originally associated with such solids.

§ 1018.45 Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified.

(a) For each month or other accounting period as described in paragraph (d) of this section, the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class after making the following computations with respect to the pool plants of each handler, shall be the pounds of skim milk in such class allocated to the producer milk of such handler:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class II milk the shrinkage of skim milk in producer milk classified as Class II milk pursuant to § 1018.41(b)(4);

(2) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II milk the pounds of skim milk in other source milk not priced as Class I milk under another Federal order and received from a plant or dairy farmers located outside the State of Florida: Provided, That if the pounds of skim milk to be subtracted are greater than the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II milk, the balance shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk in Class I milk;

(3) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II milk the pounds of skim milk in other source milk not priced as Class I milk under another Federal order and received from a plant or dairy farmers located in the State of Florida: Provided, That if the pounds of skim milk to be subtracted are greater than the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II milk, the balance shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk in Class I milk;

(4) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II milk the pounds of skim milk in other source milk which is priced and pooled as Class I milk under another order except any quantities from a nonpool plant equal to or less than the skim milk in milk or skim milk disposed of from such nonpool plant and not priced and pooled under such other order: Provided, That if the pounds of skim milk to be subtracted are greater than the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II milk, the balance shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk in Class I milk;

(5) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II milk the pounds of skim milk contained in inventory of milk products in the form of products designated as Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.41(a) on hand at the beginning of the month or other accounting period: Provided, That if the pounds of skim milk in such inventory exceed the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II milk the balance shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class I milk;

(6) Subtract the pounds of skim milk in milk products in the form of products designated as Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.41(a) received from pool plants of other handlers from the pounds of skim milk remaining in the class to which assigned pursuant to § 1018.43(a);

(7) Add to the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II milk the pounds of skim milk subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph; and

(8) If the pounds of skim milk remaining in all classes exceed the pounds of skim milk in milk received from producers, subtract such excess from the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II milk, and then subtract any remaining excess from Class I. Any amount so subtracted shall be called "overage".

(b) Determine the pounds of butterfat in each class to be allocated to producer milk in the manner prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section for determining the allocation of skim milk to producer milk;

(c) Add the pounds of skim milk and the pounds of butterfat in each class calculated pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and determine the percentage of butterfat in the producer milk allocated to each class; and

(d) A handler may account for receipts of milk, utilization of milk and classification of milk, at his plant, for periods within a month if he notifies the market administrator in writing of his intention to use such accounting period not later than the end of every accounting period.

Minimum Prices

§ 1018.50 Class prices.

Subject to the provisions of § 1018.51, the class prices per hundredweight of milk to be paid by each handler shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk price. The price for Class I milk shall be $7.00 per hundredweight, plus or minus a supply-demand adjustment as provided in paragraph (c) of this section: Provided, That the price shall not exceed by more than $4.00 the price calculated pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section nor be less than the price calculated pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section plus $2.75.

(b) Calculate the higher of the prices computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) To the average of the basic field prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid or to be paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the preceding month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department:

Present Operator and Location
Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

Add an amount computed by multiplying the Chicago butter price for the preceding month by 0.625; and

(2) The price per hundredweight computed as follows: Multiply the Chicago butter price for the preceding month by 4.0, add 20 percent thereof, and add to such sum 7.5 times the amount by which the Chicago powder price for the preceding month exceeds 5 cents.

(c) The supply-demand adjustment shall be calculated as follows:

(1) The "supply-demand percentage" for a month means the quantity of producer milk during the second and third preceding months expressed as a percent of the gross Class I disposition of all pool plants during the same months, rounded to the nearest whole percent.

Month for which price applies	Months for which utilization is computed	Standard utilization percentage
January	October–November	100
February	November–December	103
March	December–January	105
April	January–February	105
May	February–March	106
June	March–April	112
July	April–May	114
August	May–June	114
September	June–July	112
October	July–August	107
November	August–September	104
December	September–October	100

(3) The "deviation percentage" for a month means the difference between the supply-demand percentage for the month and the corresponding standard utilization percentage, the direction of such deviation to depend on whether it is above or below the standard utilization percentage.

(4) Compute the deviation percentages for the current and two preceding months, and after excluding any deviation percentage which is in the opposite direction from the deviation percentage of a more recent month, compute a sum from the remaining deviation percentages which excludes any amount by which any of such deviation percentages exceeds any of such deviation percentages for a more recent month.

(5) If the current month's supply-demand percentage is less than the corresponding standard utilization percentage, increase the Class I price by the number of cents which is 1½ times the sum computed pursuant to subparagraph (4) of this paragraph (rounding any fraction of a cent to a whole cent); and if the current month's supply-demand percentage is more than the corresponding standard utilization percentage, decrease the Class I price by the number of cents which is 1½ times the sum computed pursuant to subparagraph (4) of this paragraph (rounding any fraction of a cent to a whole cent).

(e) Class II milk price. The Class II price per hundredweight shall be the sum of the amounts computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) Multiply the Chicago butter price by 1.25, add 4 cents and multiply the result by 4; and

(2) Add 2.5 cents to the Chicago powder price and multiply the result by 8.5.

§ 1018.51 Location differentials to handlers.

For that milk which is received from producers at a pool plant located 60 miles or more from the location of the main U.S. Post Office in Boca Raton, by the shortest hard-surfaced highway distance as determined by the market administrator, and which is assigned to Class I milk pursuant to the proviso of this section, when moved to another pool plant, or classified as Class I milk without such movement, the Class I price specified in § 1018.50 shall be reduced at the rate set forth in the following schedule:

	Rate per hundredweight (cents)
Distance (miles):
60 but not more than 70	13.0
For each additional 10 miles or fraction thereof over 70 an additional	1.5

Provided, That for the purpose of calculating such locations differential, milk in the form of any milk product designated as Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.41(a) transferred between pool plants shall be assigned to any remainder of Class II milk in the plant to which transferred after making the calculations prescribed in § 1018.45(a) (1) through (4), and the comparable steps in paragraph (b) for such plant, such assignment to the transferring plants to be made in sequence according to the location differential applicable at each plant, beginning with the plant having the largest differential.

§ 1018.52 Rate of compensatory payment.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the rate of compensatory payment per hundredweight to be paid by pool plants, or by nonpool plants pursuant to § 1018.62(a), shall be calculated as follows:

(1) If the milk is received at a pool plant from a nonpool plant located in the State of Florida, or if the nonpool plant described in § 1018.62(a) is located in the State of Florida, subtract the Class II price from the Class I price adjusted by the Class I location differential at the nonpool plant; or

(2) If the milk is received at a pool plant from a nonpool plant located outside the State of Florida, or if the nonpool plant described in § 1018.62(a) is located outside the State of Florida, subtract the price pursuant to § 1018.50(b) (2) from the Class I price adjusted by the Class I location differential at the nonpool plant.

(b) If other source milk is received at a pool plant in a form other than milk or skim milk, the rate of compensatory payment per hundredweight with respect to such receipts shall be computed by subtracting the Class II price from the Class I price at the plant where such other source milk is received.

§ 1018.53 Use of equivalent prices.

If, for any reason, a price quotation required by this order for computing class prices or for other purposes is not available in the manner described, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the Secretary to be equivalent to the price which is required.

Application of Provisions

§ 1018.60 Producer-handler.

Sections 1018.50 through 1018.53, 1018.61, 1018.62, 1018.70 through 1018.75, and 1018.80 through 1018.86 shall not apply to a producer-handler.

§ 1018.61 Plants where other Federal orders may apply.

Upon determination by the Secretary pursuant to this section, any plant specified in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section shall be a nonpool plant, except that the operator of such plant shall, with respect to the total receipts and disposition of skim milk and butterfat at the plant, make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require and allow verification of such reports by the market administrator:

(a) Any plant meeting the requirements of a pool plant pursuant to § 1018.11(b) but not pursuant to § 1018.11(a) which, if it were not a pool plant under this part, would be fully subject to the classification and pooling provisions of another order issued pursuant to the Act;

(b) Any plant meeting the requirements of a pool plant pursuant to § 1018.11(b) but not pursuant to § 1018.11(a) at which all receipts of skim milk and butterfat during the month would be priced and pooled under the terms of another order(s) issued pursuant to the Act if such plant were not a pool plant under this order: Provided, That such pricing and pooling results in all skim milk and butterfat disposed of from the plant in the form of milk and skim milk during the month being Class I milk under the terms of another order(s) issued pursuant to the Act; and

(c) Any plant which does not dispose of a greater volume of Class I milk on routes in the southeastern Florida marketing area than in the marketing area regulated pursuant to such other order.

§ 1018.62 Handlers operating nonpool plants.

On or before the 25th day after the end of each month, each handler (except as provided in § 1018.60) operating a nonpool plant from which Class I milk is disposed of on routes in the marketing area shall pay to the market administrator for deposit into the producer-settlement fund the amount calculated pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section unless the handler elects to pay the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section:

(a) Multiply the quantity of milk received by such handler which was disposed of in the marketing area on routes as Class I milk during the month by the rate of compensatory payment pursuant to § 1018.52; or

(b) Any plus amount resulting from the following computation: from an amount equal to the value of milk which would be computed pursuant to § 1018.70 for such month if the plant were a pool plant, adjusted by the butterfat differential pursuant to § 1018.73, deduct the gross payments made by such handler to dairy farmers for milk approved by a duly constituted health authority as described in § 1018.7.

§ 1018.63 Person producing milk.

The person who produces milk shall be considered to be the person who is responsible for the milk production enterprise on a continuing basis as to management and risk.

Determination of Uniform Prices to Producers

§ 1018.70 Computation of the obligation of each handler.

For each month, the market administrator shall compute the value of producer milk for each handler as follows:

(a) Multiply the quantity of producer milk in each class computed pursuant to § 1018.45 by the applicable class price as adjusted by the location differentials pursuant to § 1018.51, and total the resulting amounts;

(b) Add an amount computed by multiplying the pounds of any overage deducted from either class pursuant to § 1018.45 (a)(8) and (b) by the applicable class price adjusted by the butterfat differential specified in § 1018.73;

(c) Add the amounts computed pursuant to subparagraph (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) Multiply the difference between the Class II price for the preceding accounting period and the Class I price for the month by the hundredweight of skim milk and butterfat remaining in Class II milk after the calculations pursuant to § 1018.45(a)(6) and the corresponding step of § 1018.45(b) for the preceding accounting period, or the hundredweight of skim milk and butterfat subtracted from Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.45(a)(5) and the corresponding step of § 1018.45(b) for the current accounting period, whichever is less; and

(2) Amounts computed as follows:

(i) Multiply the rate of compensatory payment pursuant to § 1018.52(a)(1) by the quantity of skim milk and butterfat computed pursuant to subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph which does not exceed the quantity of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, subtracted from Class II milk pursuant to § 1018.45(a)(3) and the corresponding step of (b) for the preceding accounting period; (ii) multiply the rate of compensatory payment pursuant to § 1018.52(a)(2) by any remainder of the quantity computed pursuant to subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph which does not exceed the quantity of skim milk and butterfat respectively, subtracted from Class II milk pursuant to § 1018.45(a)(2) for the preceding accounting period; and (iii) calculate the hundredweight of skim milk and butterfat subtracted from Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.45(a)(5) and the corresponding step of (b), which are in excess of the sum of the quantity of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, on which a payment is applicable pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and the quantity of skim milk and butterfat assigned in the preceding accounting period to Class II milk pursuant to § 1018.45(a)(4) and the corresponding step of (b); and

(d) Add an amount computed by multiplying the hundredweight of skim milk and butterfat subtracted from Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.45(a) (2) and (3) by the applicable rate determined by § 1018.52: Provided, That this provision shall not apply in any month in which more than 95 percent of producer milk in all handlers' plants is classified as Class I milk.

§ 1018.71 Aggregate value used to determine producer prices.

For each month, the market administrator shall compute an aggregate value from which to determine the uniform prices for base milk and excess milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, at the market, as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 1018.70 for the producer milk of all handlers who submitted reports prescribed in § 1018.30 and who are not in default of payments pursuant to § 1018.80 and § 1018.82;

(b) Add an amount equal to the sum of the deductions to be made from producer payments for location differentials pursuant to § 1018.74; and

(c) Add an amount equal to one-half of the unobligated balance on hand in the producer-settlement fund.

§ 1018.72 Computation of uniform base and excess prices.

For each month the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight for base milk and excess milk, each of 4.0 percent butterfat content, at the market, as follows:

(a) Compute the total value, on a 4.0 percent butterfat basis, of excess milk for all handlers whose receipts are included in the computation pursuant to § 1018.71 as follows: (1) Multiply the hundredweight quantity of such milk which does not exceed the total quantity of producer milk assigned to Class II milk in the pool plants of such handlers by the applicable Class II price plus 4 cents, (2) multiply the remaining hundredweight quantity of excess milk by the Class I milk price, and (3) add together the resulting amounts;

(b) Divide the total value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (a) of this section by the total hundredweight of such milk, and subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for excess milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content at the market;

(c) Subtract the value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (a) of this section from the aggregate value of producer milk computed pursuant to § 1018.71;

(d) Divide the amount calculated pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section by the total hundredweight of base milk included in these computations; and

(e) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the price computed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for base milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content at the market.

§ 1018.73 Butterfat differential to producers.

The applicable uniform prices to be paid each producer shall be increased or decreased 7.5 cents for each one-tenth of one percent which the average butterfat content of his milk is above or below 4.0 percent, respectively.

§ 1018.74 Location differential to producers.

The applicable uniform prices computed pursuant to § 1018.72 to be paid for base milk and excess milk received at a pool plant located 60 miles or more from the location of the main U.S. Post Office in Boca Raton by the shortest hard-surfaced highway distance, as determined by the market administrator, shall be reduced according to the location of the pool plant where such milk was received, at the rates set forth in § 1018.51.

§ 1018.75 Notification of handlers.

On or before the 11th day after the end of each month, the market administrator shall mail to each handler, at his last known address, a statement showing:

(a) The amount and value of his producer milk in each class and the total thereof;

(b) The uniform prices for base and excess milk computed pursuant to § 1018.72, and the butterfat differentials;

(c) The amount and value of his base milk and excess milk, respectively, and the totals thereof; and

(d) The amounts to be paid by such handler pursuant to §§ 1018.82, 1018.85, and 1018.86, and the amount due such handler pursuant to § 1018.83.

Payments

§ 1018.80 Time and method of payment for producer milk.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall make payment to each producer from whom milk is received as follows:

(1) On or before the 20th day of each month to each producer who did not discontinue shipping milk to such handler before the 15th day of the month, an amount equal to not less than the base price for the preceding month less 20 percent, multiplied by the hundredweight of milk received from such producer during the first 15 days of the month, less proper deductions authorized by such producer to be made from payments due pursuant to this paragraph;

(2) On or before the 5th day of the following month to each producer who did not discontinue shipping milk to such handler before the last day of the month, an amount equal to not less than the base price for the preceding month less 20 percent, multiplied by the hundredweight of milk received from such producer after the 15th and through the last day of the month, less proper deductions authorized by such producer to be made from payments due pursuant to this paragraph; and

(3) On or before the 15th day of the following month, to each producer an amount equal to not less than the uniform prices for base milk and excess milk pursuant to § 1018.72, adjusted by the butterfat and location differentials to producers, multiplied by the respective hundredweight of base milk and excess milk received from such producer, subject to the following adjustment: (i) Less payments made to such producer pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, (ii) less marketing service deductions made pursuant to § 1018.85, (iii) plus or minus adjustments for errors made in previous payments made to such producer, and (iv) less proper deductions authorized in writing by such producer: Provided, That if by the date specified, such handler has not received full payment from the market administrator pursuant to § 1018.83 for such month, he may reduce pro rata his payments to producers by not more than the amount of such underpayment and payments to producers shall be completed thereafter not later than the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following after the receipt of the balance due from the market administrator;

(b) Upon receipt of a written request from a cooperative association which the Secretary determines is authorized by its members to collect payment for their milk and receipt of a written promise to reimburse the handler the amount of any actual loss incurred by him because of any improper claim on the part of the association, each handler shall on or before the second day prior to each date on which payments are due individual producers, pay the cooperative association for milk received from the producer-members of such association as determined by the market administrator during the period for which payment is made, an amount equal to not less than the total due such producer-members as determined pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section;

(c) Each handler who received milk from producers for which payment is to be made to a cooperative association pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section shall report to such cooperative association or to the market administrator for transmittal to such cooperative association for each such producer as follows:

(1) On or before the 25th day of the month, the total pounds of milk received during the first 15 days of the month;

(2) On or before the 10th day of the following month: (i) The total pounds of milk received during the month, (ii) the pounds of milk received each day, together with the butterfat content of such milk, (iii) the total pounds of base milk and excess milk, (iv) the amount or rate and nature of any authorized deductions to be made from payments, and (v) the amount and nature of payments due pursuant to § 1018.84.

§ 1018.81 Producer-settlement fund.

The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to § 1018.82 and out of which he shall make all payments pursuant to § 1018.83: Provided, That any payments due to any handler shall be offset by any payments due from such handler.

§ 1018.82 Payments to the producer-settlement fund.

On or before the 12th day after the end of each month, each handler shall pay to the market administrator any amount by which the value of his producer milk as computed pursuant to § 1018.70 is greater than the amount owed by him for such milk at the uniform prices determined pursuant to § 1018.72, adjusted by the producer location differentials: Provided, That to this amount shall be added one-half of one percent of any amount due the market administrator pursuant to this section for each month or portion thereof that such payment is overdue: And provided further, That the requirement as to date of payment pursuant to this section shall be considered to have been met if the payment is made by mail postmarked not later than the required payment date.

§ 1018.83 Payments out of the producer-settlement fund.

On or before the 13th day after the end of each month, the market administrator shall pay to each handler any amount by which the total value of his producer milk, computed pursuant to § 1018.70, is less than the amount owed by him for such milk at the uniform prices determined pursuant to § 1018.72, adjusted by the producer location differentials. If, at such time, the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this section, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the funds are available.

§ 1018.84 Adjustment of accounts.

Whenever audit by the market administrator of any reports, books, records, or accounts or other verification discloses errors resulting in moneys due (a) the market administrator from a handler, (b) a handler from the market administrator, or (c) any producer or cooperative association from a handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any amount so due and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payments set forth in the provisions under which such error occurred.

§ 1018.85 Marketing services.

(b) In the case of producers who are members of a cooperative association which the Secretary has determined is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall (in lieu of the deduction specified in paragraph (a) of this section) make such deductions from the payments to be made to producers as may be authorized by the membership agreement or marketing contract between the cooperative association and its members. On or before the 15th day after the end of each month, the handler shall pay the aggregate amount of such deductions to the cooperative association, furnishing a statement showing the amount of the deductions and the quantity of milk on which the deduction was computed for each producer.

§ 1018.86 Expense of administration.

On or before the 15th day after the end of each month, each handler shall pay to the market administrator, 4 cents or such lesser amount as the Secretary may prescribe, for each hundredweight of butterfat and skim milk contained in (a) producer milk, and (b) other source milk allocated to Class I milk pursuant to § 1018.45(a) (2) and (3) and the corresponding step in § 1018.45(b), or

(c) Class I milk disposed of on routes in the marketing area from a nonpool plant for which the obligation to the producer-settlement fund is determined pursuant to § 1018.62(a);

(d) Receipts of milk from dairy farmers, or total Class I milk, whichever is greater, at a nonpool plant which elects to have its obligation computed pursuant to § 1018.62(b); and

(e) With respect to payments pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this section, if a handler uses more than one accounting period in a month, the rate of payment per hundredweight for such handler shall be the rate for monthly accounting periods multiplied by the number of accounting periods in the month, or such lesser rate as the Secretary may determine is demonstrated as appropriate in terms of the particular costs of administering the additional accounting periods.

§ 1018.87 Termination of obligations.

The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligations under this part for the payment of money.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this part shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate 2 years after the last day of the month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The months during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the names of such producers or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid;

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this part, to make available to the market administrator or his representatives all books and records required by this part to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two-year period, with respect to such obligation, shall not begin to run until the first day of the month following the month during which all such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representative;

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this part to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed; and

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this part shall terminate two years after the end of the month during which the payment (including deduction or offset by the market administrator) was made by the handler, if a refund on such payment is claimed unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c(15)(A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

BASE RATING

§ 1018.90 Computation of daily base for each producer.

Subject to the rules set forth in § 1018.91, a daily base, effective for 12 months beginning February 1 of each year, shall be computed for each producer by dividing the total pounds of milk received from such producer at all pool plants during the base earning months of August through December immediately preceding by the number of days beginning with the first day of delivery by such producer during such months through the last day of December, inclusive, or by 120, whichever is greater: Provided, That any producer who, during the preceding months of August through December, delivered his milk to a nonpool plant which subsequently became a pool plant shall be assigned a base in the same manner calculated from his deliveries during such August–December period to such plant: And provided further, That for the period beginning with March 1, 1960, and through January 31, 1961, the daily base for each producer shall be computed by dividing the total pounds of milk received from such producer at all pool plants during the base earning months of August 1959 through January 1960, inclusive, by the number of days from the first day of delivery during such months through the last day of January, or by 150, whichever is greater, subject also to the first proviso of this section applied to the August 1959 through January 1960 period instead of the August–December period.

§ 1018.91 Base rules.

The following rules shall apply in connection with the establishment and assignment of bases:

(a) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, the market administrator shall assign a base as calculated pursuant to § 1018.90 to each person for whose account milk was delivered to plants as described in § 1018.90 during the months of August through December (August through January for bases effective March 1, 1960): Provided, That any producer who has not earned a base pursuant to § 1018.90 or any producer who elects to relinquish such base by giving written notice to the market administrator, shall be assigned a base each month equal to the percentage of his deliveries specified in the following schedule:

	Percentage
February	50
March	50
April	50
May	55
June	55
July	60
August	70
September	70
October	65
November	60
December	55
January	55

(b) Assignment and transfer of any base shall be subject to the following rules:

(1) An entire base (except one computed pursuant to the proviso of paragraph (a) of this section) may be transferred from a person holding such base to any other person, effective as of the end of any month during which an application for such transfer is received by the market administrator, such application to be on forms approved by the market administrator and signed by the baseholder, or his heirs, and by the person to whom such base is to be transferred: Provided, That if a base is held jointly, the entire base shall be transferable only upon the receipt of such application signed by all joint holders, or their heirs, and by the person to whom such base is to be transferred.

(2) If milk received as producer milk under the name of more than one person is produced on, in, or by use of the same milking barns or premises, the base or bases assigned to such persons as producers shall not exceed the base assignable if such milk were produced by one person using the same facilities.

(3) A base may be divided among members of a partnership, among members of the immediate family of the baseholder, or among stockholders of a corporation at dissolution of the corporation, such division to be effective as of the end of any month during which an application for such division is received by the market administrator on forms approved by the market administrator and signed by persons making such division.

(4) A person who has transferred a base computed from milk deliveries to pool plants during a base earning period may not have a base assigned to him on a percentage of his deliveries pursuant to the proviso of paragraph (a) of this section until after the end of the period to which the transferred base applies.

(5) A producer who has made milk deliveries to pool plants during the immediately preceding base earning period may elect to have his base computed from his milk deliveries to pool plants in the second preceding base earning period, if he so notifies the market administrator prior to the month in which such election will apply.

§ 1018.92 Announcement of established bases.

On or before January 25th of each year, the market administrator shall notify each producer, and the handler receiving milk from such producer, of the producer's daily base to be effective for the 12-month period, beginning February 1 of such year: Provided, That for the period March 1960 through January 1961, each producer's base shall be announced on or before February 25, 1960.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION, OR TERMINATION

§ 1018.100 Effective time.

The provisions of the part, or any amendment thereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated.

§ 1018.101 Suspension or termination.

The Secretary shall, whenever he finds that any or all provisions of this part, or any amendment thereto, obstruct or do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, terminate or suspend the operation of any or all provisions of this order or any amendment thereto.

§ 1018.102 Continuing obligations.

If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part, or any amendment thereto, there are any obligations thereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 1018.103 Liquidation.

Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including account receivable, and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated, all assets, books, and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidating and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 1018.110 Agents.

The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent and representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

§ 1018.111 Separability of provisions.

If any provision of this part, or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provision, and of the remaining provisions of this part, to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

FEDERAL AVIATION AGENCY

[14 CFR Part 507]

[Reg. Docket No. 415]

AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Beech Aircraft

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 405.27, 24 F.R. 2196), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration a proposal to amend Part 507 of the regulations of the Administrator to include an airworthiness directive requiring modification to certain Beech C45 Series aircraft. It has been determined that a condition exists which would present a hazard in an emergency situation. Certain Beech C45 Series aircraft converted from military status have seats obstructing the emergency exits and the emergency position switch on the electrical turn and bank indicator bypasses the master switch.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Docket Section of the Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-318, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. All communications received on or before July 11, 1960, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action on the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in light of comments received. All comments submitted will be available, in the Docket Section, for examination by interested persons when the prescribed date for return of comments has expired. This proposal will not be given further distribution as a draft release.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of sections 313(a), 601 and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 752, 775, 776; 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, 1423).

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend § 507.10(a) (14 CFR Part 507), by adding the following airworthiness directive:

BEECH. Applies to all Beech Model C45G, C45H, TC45G and TC45H airplanes which have been converted from military status to civil certification.

Compliance required not later than October 1, 1960.

The emergency position switch of the electrical turn and bank indicator that bypasses the master switch arrangement contrary to CAR 3.688, must be removed. The live wire connected to the switch must be disconnected at the battery terminal and either removed from the airplane or carefully insulated and secured.

Passenger seats (P/N 734-183302) which partially block the emergency exit must be removed, relocated, or reversed to provide a clear and unobstructed opening as required by CAR 3.387. Two configurations of seat P/N 734-183302 were delivered to the military only one of which has been structurally substantiated for aft facing mounting. This seat can be identified by the triangular shaped closed rear leg formed from 2 sheets of .040 alal with a long stiffening bead on the outer face of the leg. FAA approval must be obtained for any modification of the seating arrangement, other than removing or or reversing (if applicable) the obstructing seat.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 2, 1960.

CONTROL AREAS

Modification of Control Area Extension

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to § 601.1139 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration the modification of the Fort Rucker, Ala., control area extension. The Fort Rucker control area extension is presently designated within a 35-mile radius of a point at latitude 31°14'55" N., longitude 85°46'20" W., excluding the portion which coincides with Restricted Area R-156. It is proposed to designate additional control area to the northeast bounded on the north by VOR Federal airway No. 70, on the east by VOR Federal airway No. 241, and on the southwest by the present control area extension and VOR Federal airway No. 7; and additional control area to the west bounded on the west by VOR Federal airway No. 115, on the north by VOR Federal airway No. 70, on the south by VOR Federal airway No. 241 and on the east by the present control area extension. The U.S. Army Aviation Center and School at Rucker is responsible for the instrument training of personnel in fixed and rotary wing type aircraft. To accommodate the extensive instrument training required, departure and arrival routes and holding patterns have been developed which would require additional control area to provide protection for aircraft operating in the Fort Rucker area.

If this action is taken, the Fort Rucker, Ala., control area extension would be designated as that area bounded on the west by VOR Federal airway No. 115, on the north by VOR Federal airway No. 70, on the east by VOR Federal airway No. 241, and VOR Federal airway No. 7; and the area within a 35-mile radius of a point at latitude 31°14'55" N., longitude 85°46'20" W., extending from Victor 241 clockwise to Victor 7, on the south by VOR Federal airway No. 22, excluding the portion which coincides with the Camp Rucker, Ala., Restricted Area (R-156) during its time of designation.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, P.O. Box 1689, Fort Worth 1, Tex. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 1, 1960.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Docket 11234; Order No. E-18318]

JOHNSON FLYING SERVICE, INC.

Order To Show Cause

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C. on the 2d day of June 1960.

In the matter of the application of Johnson Flying Service, Inc., for an exemption pursuant to section 416(b) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958.

On March 21, 1960, Johnson Flying Service, Inc. (Johnson), a certificated supplemental air carrier, filed a letter application with the Board seeking an exemption pursuant to section 416(b) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, under which it would be enabled to carry persons in foreign air transportation from the United States to Canada on an infrequent and irregular basis utilizing for this purpose aircraft not exceeding 12,500 pounds maximum certificated take-off weight.

In support of its application, Johnson recites that it receives up to twenty requests annually from business concerns, civic organizations, vacationers and persons desiring emergency air ambulance service for air transportation services from the United States to Canada. Under its present operating authority, Johnson has been unable to satisfy these requests. The economic loss sustained by Johnson resulting from its lack of operating authority in this respect amounts to several thousand dollars annually and is of considerable importance to Johnson.

The Board has considered the application and finds that the limited extent of the foreign air transportation services which Johnson seeks to provide, a major portion of which will be on an emergency basis, will have little, if any, competitive impact on other air carriers, while the additional revenue which Johnson will be able to generate from these operations will be of benefit to Johnson and will strengthen its financial position. The time and expense involved in prosecuting a certificate proceeding by which to obtain authority to conduct the proposed operations would be wholly disproportionate to the limited and sporadic operations for which the exemption is sought, and the duration of such a proceeding would prevent such operations from being conducted during its pendency. Moreover, the time incidental to prosecuting an application for exemption authority would in emergency or short notice conditions prevent the carrying out of the operations. Accordingly, the Board finds that enforcement of the provisions of section 401 of the Act and § 291.23(a) of the Board's Economic Regulations, insofar as they would otherwise prevent the operations sought by Johnson would be an undue burden on Johnson by reason of the limited extent of, and unusual circumstances affecting, its operations and is not in the public interest.

The Board therefore considers it appropriate to grant Johnson an exemption to enable the carrier to conduct the proposed operations subject to the following conditions:

1. Such flights shall be conducted on an infrequent and irregular basis utilizing aircraft not exceeding 12,500 pounds maximum certificated take-off weight.

2. Johnson shall file with the Board flight reports disclosing the extent and nature of operations conducted under such exemption, said reports to be filed concurrently with reports to be filed as a supplemental air carrier.

3. Such exemption shall not extend beyond the expiration date of Johnson's temporary certificate of public convenience and necessity.[1]

The Board will afford all interested parties the opportunity to show cause why an exemption order as described above should not issue.

Accordingly, it is ordered:

1. That all interested persons having any objections to the issuance of an exemption order by the Board under the terms of which Johnson Flying Service, Inc. will be permitted to carry persons in foreign air transportation between the United States and Canada on an infrequent and irregular basis utilizing aircraft not exceeding 12,500 pounds maximum certificated take-off weight shall file a statement of such objections with the Board within fifteen days from the date thereof;

2. That any objections filed by interested persons in opposition to the grant of an exemption to Johnson must conform to the Board's Rules of Practice in Economic Proceedings and shall indicate the basis for the objections, together with a summary of the evidence, if any, which the objector would introduce if offered the opportunity for an evidentiary hearing. If no objections are received within fifteen days after the date of this order, or if, in the Board's judgment, such objections as are received do not require reconsideration of the Board's findings and its conclusions herein, the Board will by subsequent order, and without further hearing, grant an exemption as outlined above.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[SEAL] MABEL MCCART,
Acting Secretary.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. 13462-13465; FCC 60M-953]

BROCKWAY CO. (WMSA) ET AL.

Order Following Prehearing Conference

In re applications of The Brockway Company (WMSA), Massena, New York, Docket No. 13462, File No. BP-12290; Twin State Broadcasters, Inc. (WTWN), St. Johnsbury, Vermont, Docket No. 13463, File No. BP-13040; Trustees of Dartmouth College (WDCR), Hanover, New Hampshire, Docket No. 13464, File No. BP-13112; WIRY, Inc. (WIRY), Plattsburgh, New York, Docket No. 13465, File No. BP-13631; for construction permits.

Pursuant to agreements reached by counsel for all parties at the prehearing conference held on May 26, 1960, as set forth on the record thus made;

It is ordered, This 1st day of June 1960, that the following shall govern the further course of this proceeding:

(1) The direct cases of the applicants shall be presented by written, sworn exhibits.

(2) An informal engineering conference among the parties shall be held on June 1, 1960;

(3) The proposed engineering exhibits of the applicants shall be exchanged by July 1, 1960. (Copies of such exhibits are to be supplied also to the Hearing Examiner and Broadcast Bureau counsel.)

(4) Notification as to witnesses, if any, desired to be present at the hearing for cross-examination shall be given by the parties concerned by July 8, 1960.

It is further ordered, That the hearing heretofore scheduled to commence on June 13, 1960, is continued to Thursday, July 14, 1960, at 10:00 a.m., in the offices of the Commission at Washington, D.C.

Released: June 2, 1960.

BUNKIE BROADCASTING CO.

Order Designating Application for Hearing on Stated Issues

In re application of Charles T. Hook tr/as Bunkie Broadcasting Co., Bunkie, Louisiana, Docket No. 13547, File No. BP-11214; Requests: 1540kc, 250w, Day; for construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D.C., on the 1st day of June 1960;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned and described application;

It appearing that except as indicated by the issues specified below, the instant applicant is legally, technically, and otherwise qualified to construct and operate the instant proposal; and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the Commission, in a letter dated April 5, 1960, and incorporated herein by reference, notified the applicant, and any other known parties in interest, of the grounds and reasons for the Commission's inability to make a finding that a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity; and that a copy of the aforementioned letter is available for public inspection at the Commission's offices; and

It further appearing that the applicant filed a timely reply to the aforementioned letter, which reply has not, however, entirely eliminated the grounds and reasons precluding a grant of the application and requiring an evidentiary hearing on the particular issues hereinafter specified; and

It further appearing that the Commission's above-referenced letter of April 5, 1960, advised the applicant that his estimated cost of equipment, $3,745, did not appear to be realistic and that no showing was made that the equipment could be purchased at the prices specified; that the applicant amended to show his estimated cost of equipment as $4,610; but that the revised estimate does not appear realistic and no showing has been submitted to indicate that the equipment could be purchased at the nominal prices specified; and that, if the $4,610 figure is inadequate, the applicant does not appear to have sufficient funds available to construct and operate the proposed station; and

It further appearing that after consideration of the foregoing and the applicant's reply, the Commission is still unable to make the statutory finding that a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity; and is of the opinion that the application must be designated for hearing on the issues specified below;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the instant application is designated for hearing, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent Order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine whether the applicant's estimated cost of equipment is realistic, and, if not, whether the applicant is financially qualified to construct and operate his proposed station.

2. To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issue, whether a grant of the instant application would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity.

It is further ordered, That, to avail himself of the opportunity to be heard, the applicant, pursuant to § 1.140 of the Commission rules, in person or by attorney, shall, within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

Released: June 3, 1960.

Order Continuing Hearing

In re proposal filed by Nathan Frank (WNBE-TV), New Bern, North Carolina, Docket No. 13481; for specification of transmitter and antenna site.

The Hearing Examiner having under consideration the matters discussed at the prehearing conference in the above-entitled proceeding which was held on June 1, 1960; and

It appearing that it is desirable to formalize by an order the rulings made on the record and the deadlines established;

It is ordered, This 2d day of June 1960, that the outline of procedures to be followed which was distributed to the parties by the Hearing Examiner and made a part of the record of the prehearing conference is hereby adopted in its entirety, as clarified orally on the record;

It is ordered further, That the transcript of the prehearing conference insofar as it contains pertinent rulings and comments by the Hearing Examiner, the reasons and explanations thereof, and the comments and objections of the parties with regard thereto, is hereby deemed incorporated herein to the same force and effect as if it were set out herein verbatim;

It is ordered further, (1) That the exhibits delineated in items 1, 2 and 3 in the outline of procedures adopted by the Hearing Examiner are to be exchanged by the parties (with a copy of each furnished to the Examiner) not later than August 8, 1960; (2) that exhibits in rebuttal thereof are to be similarly exchanged on or before September 15, 1960; (3) that a further prehearing conference for the purposes delineated on the record is scheduled for 10:00 a.m., Monday,[1] September 26, 1960, at the Commission's offices, Washington, D.C.; and (4) that the hearing itself is continued to Monday, October 3, 1960, at the same time and place.

[Docket No. 13090; FCC 60-635]

FREDERICKSBURG BROADCASTING CORP. (WFVA) ET AL.

Memorandum Opinion and Order Amending Issues

In re applications of Fredericksburg Broadcasting Corporation (WFVA), Fredericksburg, Virginia, et al., Docket No. 13090, File No. BP-11550, et al.; for construction permits.

1. The Commission has before it for consideration a petition for reconsideration, filed March 10, 1960, by William C. Forrest and WBOW, Incorporated, and oppositions thereto filed by the Commission's Broadcast Bureau and Bloomington Broadcasting Corporation on April 11, 1960, and March 23, 1960, respectively.

2. In Mid-America Broadcasting System, Inc., 19 RR 889, released February 9, 1960 (FCC 60-94), the Commission denied a request for programming issues because the interference to an existing station was less than 10 percent of the population within the existing station's normally-protected service area and because no threshold showing was made that programming evidence would be of decisional significance. In that same opinion, it was also stated that where there is an engineering showing that the interference would affect more than 10 percent of the population within the normally-protected service area of the existing station, a petition for programming issues would be granted. The Commission went on to say, however, that even in such situations a request for programming issues would be denied

[1] It is recognized that the date established at the prehearing conference for the second prehearing conference was September 22, 1960. However, the Examiner discovered subsequently that that date and the day following, coincides with the Jewish High Holiday. Accordingly, the second prehearing conference will be held on Monday, September 26, 1960 instead.

if those opposing the request allege factual circumstances showing that programming evidence would not be of decisional significance and such allegations are not controverted by the petitioner in its reply.

3. In accordance with the views thus enunciated in Mid-America, the Commission, in Fredericksburg Broadcasting Corporation, 19 RR 895, released February 9, 1960 (FCC 60-99), added programming issues as to the proposals of WSBC Broadcasting Co. and Bloomington Broadcasting Corporation because their applications showed that the operations proposed by them would cause interference affecting in excess of 10 percent of the populations within the normally-protected contours of petitioner William C. Forrest's Station WIBU and of Station WBOW (licensed to petitioner WBOW, Incorporated), respectively. The added issues read as follows:

6. To determine the type and character of program service rendered by Stations WIBU and WBOW, respectively; whether such program service of each of them meets the requirements of the population and area which would lose such service as a result of the grant of the modification applications of WSBC Broadcasting Co. (File No. BP-12503), and Bloomington Broadcasting Corporation (File No. BP-12835), respectively; and the extent to which the programming of other existing standard broadcast stations meets the requirements of these interference areas.

7. To determine the type and character of the program service to be rendered by WSBC Broadcasting Co. and by Bloomington Broadcasting Corporation, respectively; whether the program service of each of them would meet the requirements of the populations and areas which would gain service upon grant of their respective modification applications; and the extent to which the programming of other existing standard broadcast stations meets the requirements of the areas thus gained.

The Opinion and Order in Fredericksburg also provided:

It is further ordered, That WBOW, Incorporated, and William C. Forrest, respectively, shall have the burden of proof and the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence under Issue 6; and that WSBC Broadcasting Co. and Bloomington Broadcasting Corporation, respectively, shall have the burden of proof and the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence under Issue 7.

In explanation of the division of burdens between the petitioners and the applicants, the Commission in Fredericksburg stated:

The first of the two added issues relates to the programming of the petitioners and of existing stations now serving the proposed interference areas. The second of the two added issues relates to the programming proposed by the applicants and to the programming of existing stations now serving the proposed new service areas. Since the matters encompassed by the first of the added issues are of primary concern to the petitioners, the burden of proof and burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence under that issue will be placed upon the petitioners. These burdens under the second of the added issues will be placed upon the applicants, since they are primarily concerned with the matters encompassed by that issue.

4. Petitioners William C. Forrest and WBOW, Incorporated, submit that the Commission was in error in placing upon them the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof under the first of the two added programming issues. In support of their view, they quote that portion of section 309(b) of the Act which provides that these burdens shall be upon the applicant. If, however, this is not regarded as a proceeding under section 309(b), petitioners maintain that it is a proceeding under section 316 of the Act, citing Democrat Printing Co. v. FCC, 202 F. 2d 298, 7 RR 2138 (C.A.D.C., 1952), and FCC v. National Broadcasting Company (KOA), 319 U.S. 239 (1943) as authority for the view that interference to an existing station constitutes an indirect modification of the latter's license within the meaning of section 316 of the Act. Since, according to petitioners, it is clear that under the only two provisions of the Act which may be applicable to this proceeding the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof must be placed either upon the applicant (section 309(b)) or upon the Commission (section 316(b)), the Commission acted unlawfully in placing these burdens upon the petitioners. Moreover, argue petitioners, they have no more knowledge than the applicants concerning the program service of existing stations serving the areas which would lose petitioners' service.

5. In opposition, Bloomington contends that the net effect of petitioners' position is that a respondent would be relieved of the necessity of adducing any evidence which it feels desirable or necessary to protect its own interests, and would impose upon applicants the insuperable burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence which, by definition, is within the possession and peculiar knowledge of the respondent. Bloomington contends that section 309(b) relates only to issues "specified by the Commission". While Bloomington concedes that it has the burden of proving the ultimate issue, viz., that the grant of its application would be in the public interest, it maintains that section 309(b) does not require that it assume the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof as to issues which were requested by the petitioner and which only the petitioner is in a position to prove. Bloomington points out that evidence as to WBOW's programming is not available to it, and that only if Bloomington were given access to WBOW's files could Bloomington produce such evidence.

6. The Broadcast Bureau also opposes the petition, maintaining that the burden provisions of section 309(b) are applicable only to issues "specified by the Commission". As to issues not "specified by the Commission", whether included in the designation order or subsequent thereto, the burden provisions of section 309(b), the Bureau maintains, do not apply. In support of its view, the Bureau cites § 1.140(b) of the rules, which provides that these burdens shall be upon the applicant "except as otherwise provided in the order of designation." The Bureau submits that issues added after a 309(b) designation may be analogized to issues added pursuant to a protest under section 309(c) of the Act, and it notes that section 309(c) grants the Commission a measure of discretion as to where the burdens shall be placed. The Bureau also urges that the programming issues do not pose a question under § 3.24[1] of the Commission's rules but merely seek information from the respective parties, who would appear to have the best knowledge thereof, for the purpose of assisting the Commission should it determine that programming evidence is material to the disposition of the proceeding in making a § 3.24 determination. The Bureau contends, as does Bloomington, that the petitioners are in a better position than the applicant to present evidence as to their own programming, and in just as good a position to introduce such evidence as to the programming of existing stations serving the interference area.

7. At the time Issues 6 and 7 were added, it was thought that the WSBC proposal would cause interference to Station WIBU affecting substantially more than ten percent of the population within Station WIBU's normally protected service contour. It now appears that the engineering exhibits which have been exchanged and not objected to by the petitioners show that any objectionable interference which would be caused to Station WIBU by the WSBC proposal falls in an area presently under objectionable interference caused by other existing stations. It is therefore clear that the programing issues which we previously adopted with respect to the WSBC proposal will serve no useful purpose. Accordingly, Issues 6 and 7, and the ordering clause dealing with the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof, will be amended by deleting all reference to William C. Forrest and Station WIBU, and to WSBC Broadcasting Company and its proposal, and the instant petition will be dismissed as moot insofar as it requests reconsideration on behalf of William C. Forrest.

8. Section 316(b) of the Act provides that the Commission shall have the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof in "any case where a hearing is conducted pursuant to the provisions of this section." We do not agree with the petitioner's contention that section 316(b) requires that these burdens be placed upon the Commission under Issue 6. To be sure, the interference which would be received by the petitioner's station were Bloomington's application granted would, under the KOA decision, constitute an indirect modification of William C. For-rest's license entitling him, under section 316(a) of the Act, to a hearing. The Supreme Court in KOA did not, however, hold that the hearing to which the interfered-with station is entitled must be conducted pursuant to section 316(a). On the contrary, the proceeding in that case was not conducted pursuant to section 316(a), which was then section 312(b), but was rather a proceeding on an application by an existing station proposing an increase in power, and the Court concluded that section 316(a) requires that the station which would receive interference from the modification proposal is entitled to intervene in the proceeding on that proposal. It is thus evident, under the facts of KOA, that the hearing which under section 316(a) is to be accorded the station which would receive interference from a proposed operation need not be a hearing pursuant to that section. It is likewise evident that the instant proceeding, like that involved in KOA, is not one which is held pursuant to section 316(a), but is rather a proceeding on applications for construction permits. It is clear, therefore, that the provisions of section 316(b) are inapplicable to Issue 6 in this proceeding.

[1] Section 3.24 provides in pertinent part as follows: "An authorization for a new standard broadcast station or increase in facilities of an existing station will be issued only after a satisfactory showing has been made in regard to the following among others: • • • (b) That objectionable interference will not be caused to existing stations or that if interference will be caused the need for the proposed service outweighs the need for the service which will be lost by reason of such interference • • •."

9. Nor are we persuaded that section 309(b) of the Act requires that the applicant assume the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof under Issue 6. The petitioner's arguments to that effect presuppose the applicability of section 309(b) to issues added after issuance of the designation order. The context of section 309(b) clearly suggests that the words "in which the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence upon any issue specified by the Commission, as well as the burden of proof upon all such issues" has reference to a preceding provision in the same section that if the Commission "shall be unable to make the finding specified in subsection (a), it shall formally designate the application for hearing on the grounds or reasons then obtaining and shall notify the applicant and all other known parties in interest of such action and the grounds and reasons therefor, specifying with particularity the matters and things in issue * * *." This latter provision, in view of the context of section 309(b) as a whole, is limited to the period ending with the issuance of the designation order.[2] The burden provisions of section 309(b), therefore, do not have reference to issues adopted subsequent to the issuance of the designation order.

10. It is apparent, of course, that the provisions of section 309(c) of the Act relating to the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof are not applicable to this proceeding. Since none of the burden provisions of sections 316(b), 309 (b) and (c) is applicable to issues added subsequent to the issuance of a section 309(b) designation order, it is incumbent upon the Commission to exercise its discretion, in the light of the circumstances presented, as to where to place the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and burden of proof.

11. In placing these burdens under Issue 6 upon the petitioner, the Commission did not, of course, relieve the applicant of the ultimate burden of satisfying the Commission that a grant of its application would be in the public interest, nor did it relieve the applicant of its burden of making a satisfactory showing that the need for its proposed service outweighs the need for the service which would be lost by reason of the interference, as required by § 3.24(b) of the Commission's rules. The narrow question presented by the instant petition is whether, under the circumstances here presented, the Commission was in error in placing these burdens upon the petitioner insofar as a showing favorable to its view is concerned. The interference which would be caused to the petitioner's station is co-channel in nature; thus, while the petitioner's service would be eliminated in the interference area, the applicant's service would not be substituted therefor. Issue 6 calls for a determination of the petitioner's programing, whether its service meets the programing needs of the interference area, and whether other existing stations serving the interference area meet such programing needs. While the petitioner, at the time it requested programing issues, made no factual allegations that the needs of the interference area require a continuance of its service to such area, we did not assume that its request was frivolous or that it was made without regard to any facts; had we made such an assumption, the original request for programing issues would have been denied. Thus, implicit in the petitioner's request was a representation that the programing needs of the interference area would not be met were the area to be deprived of the petitioner's service. Having made this implicit representation, the petitioner cannot persuasively contend that it should now be relieved of the responsibility of demonstrating the validity of such representation. To relieve it of this responsibility would pave the way to requests for programing issues which petitioners therefor know are patently frivolous and the only purpose of which is to obstruct and delay the institution of a new broadcast service. In placing upon the petitioner the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and burden of proof under Issue 6, the Commission is thus requiring no more of the petitioner than was implicit in its request for programing issues in the first instance; for if, under the circumstances here presented, the petitioner is unable to show that the programing needs of the interference area would not be met without his service, the underlying basis of its request for a programing issue has been dissipated.

12. As between the applicant and the petitioner, it is clear that the latter is in the better position to prove the programing needs of the interference area and the need of that area for the petitioner's service. As has been indicated, the interference is co-channel in nature, and hence the applicant will not serve that area and its programing needs are not of primary concern to it. The petitioner, on the other hand, has been serving the area, it presumably has some knowledge of its needs, and, in view of its assertion that the programing needs of that area will not be met without its service, the petitioner presumably also has knowledge of the programing of other stations serving the interference area and the extent to which such stations meet the programing needs of that area. Both from the standpoint of primary concern for the needs of the interference area and from the standpoint of knowledge as to the manner in which the programing needs of the interference area are now met, the petitioner is in a better position than the applicant to assume the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof under Issue 6.

13. In placing the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and burden of proof under Issue 6 upon the petitioner, we are not unmindful of the statement in Democrat Printing, supra, that § 3.24 of our rules "appears" to place these burdens upon the applicant as to "the comparative need in the interference area" for the programming of the applicant and of the interfered-with station. The interference involved in Democrat Printing was adajcent channel in nature; thus, the applicant's service would be substituted for that of the existing station in the interference area. In such a situation, a direct comparision could be made of the respective needs of the interference area for the proposed programs of the applicant as compared to the programs of the existing station. Since the instant situation involves co-channel interference, there would be no substitution of service, and a comparison such as that called for by Democrat Printing is therefore not possible. In Democrat Printing, the Court regarded a determination of the programming needs of the interference area as dispositive of the determination called for by § 3.24(b) of the rules, and, if so regarded,[3] it follows that the burden of showing and proving the programming needs of the interference area is, under § 3.24(b), upon the applicant. In the present situation, however, the comparison is to be made between the need for the applicant's programming in the proposed service area as against the need for the interfered-with station's programming in the interference area. In this comparison, the burden, under § 3.24(b) of the rules, is upon the applicant to show that the need for its proposed programming outweighs the need for the programming of the interfered-with station; in placing upon the petitioner the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof under Issue 6, which relates to the programming needs of the interference area, we did not, as indicated above, relieve Bloomington of its burden under § 3.24(b) of the rules of showing that the need for its proposed service outweighs the need for the service which will be lost by reason of the interference it would cause to Station WBOW.

[2] In this connection, it may be noted that in Plains Television Corporation v. FCC, Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, Case No. 15,204 decided April 28, 1960, the Court indicated its approval of the Commission's interpretation of the notice provisions of section 309(b) as "designed, by calling early attention to deficiencies in an application, to give the applicant the opportunity to cure those deficiencies and perhaps avoid a hearing." See also Robert A. Mensel, 14 RR 1189 (1957), Port Huron Broadcasting Co., 11 RR 936 (1954), Greenwich Broadcasting Corporation, 11 RR 621 (1954), and Theodore Feinstein, 14 RR 759 (1956), as instances in which the Commission placed upon the interfered-with station the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and/or the burden of proof under programming issues adopted subsequent to the issuance of the designation order.

[3] A comparison, in an adjacent channel interference situation, only of the need of the interference area for the service which will be lost as against the need of that area for the service which will be gained, overlooks the need of the proposed service area (outside the interference area) for the new service.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That the petition for reconsideration, filed March 10, 1960, by William C. Forrest and WBOW, Incorporated, is dismissed as moot to the extent indicated herein, and in all other respects, is denied;

It is further ordered, On the Commission's own motion, That Issues 6 and 7 in the above-captioned proceeding, and the final ordering clause in our Memorandum Opinion and Order released February 9, 1960 (FCC 60-99), are amended to read as follows:

6. To determine the type and character of program service rendered by Station WBOW; whether such program service meets the requirements of the population and area which would lose such service as a result of the grant of the modification application of Bloomington Broadcasting Corporation (File No. BP-12835); and the extent to which the programing of other existing standard broadcast stations meets the requirements of the interference area.

7. To determine the type and character of the program service to be rendered by Bloomington Broadcasting Corporation; whether such program service would meet the requirements of the populations and areas which would gain service upon grant of its modification application; and the extent to which the programing of other existing standard broadcast stations meets the requirements of the areas thus gained.

It is further ordered, That WBOW, Incorporated, shall have the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof under Issue 6; and Bloomington Broadcasting Corporation shall have the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof under Issue 7.

MAYNARD M. HASKALL

Order To Show Cause

In the matter of Maynard M. Haskall, P.O. Box 814, Ft. Pierce, Florida, Docket No. 13537; order to show cause why there should not be revoked the license for radio station WA-2168 aboard the vessel "Alert."

There being under consideration the matter of certain alleged violations of the Commission's rules in connection with the operation of the above-captioned station;

It appearing that pursuant to § 1.61 of the Commission's rules, written notice of violation of the Commission's rules was served upon the above-named licensee as follows: Official Notice of Violation was mailed to the licensee on February 1, 1960 alleging that on January 29, 1960 the subject ship radio station was not provided with Part 8 of the Commission's rules in violation of § 8.367(a)(2) of said rules;

It further appearing that the above-named licensee received said official notice but did not make satisfactory reply thereto, whereupon the Commission, by letter dated March 9, 1960, and sent by Certified Mail—Return Receipt Requested (No. 877830), brought this matter to the attention of the licensee and requested that such licensee respond to the Commission's letter within fifteen days from the date of its receipt stating the measures which had been taken, or were being taken, in order to bring the operation of the radio station into compliance with the Commission's Rules, and warning the licensee that his failure to respond to such letter might result in the institution of proceedings for the revocation of the radio station license; and

It further appearing that receipt of the Commission's letter was acknowledged by the signature of the licensee, Maynard M. Haskall, on March 10, 1960, to a Post Office Department return receipt; and

It further appearing that although more than fifteen days have elapsed since the licensee's receipt of the Commission's letter, no response was made thereto; and

It further appearing, that in view of the foregoing, the licensee has repeatedly violated § 1.61 of the Commission's rules;

It is ordered, This 27th day of May 1960, pursuant to section 312 (a)(4) and (c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and section 0.291(b)(8) of the Commission's Statement of Delegations of Authority, that the said licensee show cause why the license for the above-captioned radio station should not be revoked, and appear and give evidence in respect thereto at a hearing[1] to be held at a time and place to be specified by subsequent order; and

It is further ordered, That the Secretary send a copy of this order by Certified Mail—Return Receipt Requested to the said licensee.

Released: June 2, 1960.

HARRY C. OTIS

Order Rescheduling Hearing

In the matter of Harry C. Otis, 1941 Myer Place, Costa Mesa, California, Docket No. 13337; order to show cause why there should not be revoked the license for radio station, WJ-4389 aboard the vessel "Flyer."

It appearing that by an order released March 10, 1960, the Hearing Examiner continued indefinitely the hearing in this proceeding previously scheduled for March 16, 1960; and

It further appearing that the indefinite continuance had been requested by the Commission's Safety and Special Radio Services Bureau following unsuccessful efforts to serve the above-named licensee with copies of the Commission's show cause order released January 8, 1960, and the Chief Hearing Examiner's order released January 13, 1960, designating time and place of hearing in this matter; and issuance of the designation order.

[1] Section 1.62 of the Commission's rules provides that a licensee, in order to avail himself of the opportunity to be heard, shall, in person or by his attorney, file with the Commission, within thirty days of the receipt of the order to show cause, a written statement stating that he will appear at the hearing and present evidence on the matter specified in the order. In the event it would not be possible for respondent to appear for hearing in the proceeding if scheduled to be held in Washington, D.C., he should advise the Commission of the reasons for such inability within five days of the receipt of this order. If the licensee fails to file an appearance within the time specified, the right to a hearing shall be deemed to have been waived. Where a hearing is waived, a written statement in mitigation or justification may be submitted within thirty days of the receipt of the order to show cause. If such statement contains, with particularity, factual allegations denying or justifying the facts upon which the show cause order is based, the Hearing Examiner may call upon the submitting party to furnish additional information, and shall request all opposing parties to file an answer to the written statement and/or additional information. The record will then be closed and an initial decision issued on the basis of such procedure. Where a hearing is waived and no written statement has been filed within the thirty days of the receipt of the order to show cause, the allegations of fact contained in the order to show cause will be deemed as correct and the sanctions specified in the order to show cause will be invoked.

graming issues in the first instance; for service.

It further appearing that service of the aforementioned show cause order on the subject licensee was accomplished on April 4, 1960, and that on April 8, 1960, he wrote to the Commission's San Pedro, California field office apparently in reference to said order but failed to state whether he would appear at a hearing or desired to waive a hearing and submit a written statement in justification or mitigation for consideration by the Hearing Examiner; and

It further appearing that said licensee has failed to respond to a Commission communication sent him on May 4, 1960, requesting a statement as to whether he will appear at a hearing or waive a hearing and submit a written statement in mitigation or justification of the violations charged in the show cause order; and

It further appearing that in view of the events described above and of applicable provisions of § 1.62 of the Commission's rules, it is appropriate at this time to schedule a new hearing date so as to afford the licensee the opportunity to file with the Commission a written statement that he will appear at the specified time and place and present evidence;

Accordingly, on the Hearing Examiner's own motion: It is ordered, This 1st day of June 1960, that the hearing on the show cause order in this proceeding is hereby rescheduled for July 19, 1960, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., in the offices of the Commission, at Washington, D.C.

The attention of the licensee is again directed to the provisions of § 1.62 of the Commission's rules noted below[1] concerning the filing of a written appearance, or waiver of hearing and submission of a statement in justification or mitigation to the Commission in Washington, D.C. Such written appearance or other statement of the licensee may be filed within 30 days from the date of service of the instant order.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. CP60-56]

MONTANA-DAKOTA UTILITIES CO.

Notice of Application and Date of Hearing

JUNE 2, 1960.

Take notice that on March 11, 1960, as supplemented on April 18, 1960, Montana-Dakota Utilities Company (Applicant), filed in Docket No. CP60-56 an application, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural gas facilities and the abandonment and salvage of certain other natural gas facilities, all as more fully set forth in the application, as supplemented, which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The facilities for which authorization is sought are:

(1) Approximately 22.7 miles of 16-inch O.D. transmission pipeline to replace in the same location a 22.7 mile 12¾ inch segment of the Cabin Creek to Bismarck line, beginning at the Cabin Creek compressor station in Fallon County, Montana, and terminating at a point near Golva in Golden Valley County, North Dakota;

(2) Approximately 7.0 miles of 10¾ inch O.D. and 5.6 miles of 12¾ inch O.D. transmission pipeline to loop 12.6 miles of existing 12¾ inch line on the Cabin Creek to Bismarck line just west of Mandan in Morton County, North Dakota;

(3) Approximately 15.9 miles of 12¾ inch O.D. transmission pipeline to loop 15.9 miles of existing 12¾ inch line on the Elk Basin to Billings line, all in Carbon County, Montana; and

(4) An additional 880 horsepower compressor unit and related facilities at the Cabin Creek compressor station in Fallon County, Montana.

The facilities to be abandoned consist of the 22.7 mile, 12¾ inch line which is to be replaced as indicated in Item (1) above, because of deterioration, and which is to be salvaged, reconditioned and re-utilized.

The purpose of the instant application is to provide increased capacity to serve estimated increasing future requirements on Applicant's system and to assure continuity of service on deteriorated sections of line which are to be looped.

The estimated cost of construction of the proposed facilities is $1,732,000, to be defrayed from working capital, and the cost of retiring the facilities to be replaced is estimated at $62,000, with a salvage value of $156,000.

No new markets are proposed to be served.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on June 28, 1960, at 10:00 a.m., e.d.s.t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D.C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by the application herein.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D.C., in accordance with the Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before June 21, 1960. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

[Docket Nos. G-20570 etc.]

NORTHERN NATURAL GAS CO. AND MICHIGAN WISCONSIN PIPE LINE CO.

Notice of Applications, Consolidation and Date of Hearing

JUNE 1, 1960.

Northern Natural Gas Co., Docket Nos. G-20570, G-20571 and G-18756; Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., Docket No. G-20572.

Take notice that: Northern Natural Gas Company (Northern), a Delaware corporation with principal place of business at 2223 Dodge Street, Omaha 1, Nebraska, filed in Docket No. G-20570 on December 30, 1959, as supplemented on February 12, 1960, March 3, 1960 and April 29, 1960, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act (Act), authorizing Northern to construct and operate pipeline and storage facilities and sell and deliver additional gas to its existing customers to meet their increased requirements for the 1960-61 heating season; additionally, Northern filed in Docket No. G-20571 on December 30, 1959, as supplemented on February 2, 1960, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Act, authorizing Northern to construct and operate facilities and sell and deliver an initial volume of gas to a new pipeline customer, Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company; Northern also filed in Docket No. G-18756 on June 9, 1959, as supplemented on July 31, 1959 and September 16, 1959, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Act, authorizing Northern to construct and operate pipeline and storage facilities and sell and deliver additional gas to its existing customers to meet their increased requirements for the 1959-60 heating season; Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company (Michigan Wisconsin), a Delaware corporation with principal place of business at 500 Griswold Street, Detroit 26, Michigan, filed in Docket No. G-20572, as supplemented on January 27, 1960, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Act, authorizing Michigan Wisconsin to construct and operate facilities and sell and deliver gas, proposed to be purchased from Northern, to its existing customers; all as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, as more fully represented in the above-mentioned applications which are on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

In Docket No. G-20570, Northern proposes to construct and operate, as an integral part of its existing natural-gas system, certain facilities, hereinafter described, and to sell for resale[1] in interstate commerce an additional contract demand volume totaling 78,552 Mcf[2] of gas per day to its existing customers to satisfy increased requirements anticipated and nominated by such customers for the 1960-61 heating season. Of the 73,792 Mcf of additional contract demand desired by Northern's customers, an increased volume of 40,000 Mcf per day has been requested by Northern Illinois Gas Company. Northern seeks authorization to construct and operate the following facilities in order to transport and deliver the additional 73,792 Mcf of gas:

103 miles of 24-inch and 30-inch main-line loops in Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, and Iowa	$10,081,900
17,360 horsepower of compressor additions at seven existing stations	5,390,800
20.8 miles of branch-line loops in Iowa and Minnesota	473,400
Additional measuring station for Rochester, Minn	29,100
Interest and overheads	639,000
Total estimated cost (G-20570)	16,614,200

In Docket No. G-20571, Northern proposes to construct and operate certain natural-gas facilities, hereinafter described, to sell for resale in interstate commerce a contract demand volume of 75,000 Mcf per day to Michigan Wisconsin, a proposed new pipeline customer. To deliver the proposed $75,000 Mcf per day to Michigan Wisconsin at a point near Janesville, Wisconsin, on Michigan Wisconsin's existing pipeline system, Northern proposes to construct and operate the facilities described below:

154 miles of 26 and 30-inch main-line loops in Kansas, Nebraska, and Iowa	$15,057,600
82.5 miles of 20-inch main-line extension from East Dubuque, Ill., to Janesville, Wis., to connect Northern's system with that of Michigan Wisconsin	4,967,400
14,050 horsepower of compressor additions at Waterloo and Ogden, Iowa, Palmyra and Beatrice, Nebr., and Mullinville, Kans	3,881,600
Sales measuring facilities at Janesville, Wis	57,300
Interest and overheads	958,600
Total estimated cost (G-20571)	24,922,500

In Docket No. G-18756, Northern proposes to construct and operate certain facilities, hereinafter described, and to sell for resale in interstate commerce an additional contract demand volume totaling 29,423 Mcf[3] of gas per day to its existing customers to satisfy increased requirements anticipated and nominated by such customers for the 1959-60 heating season.

On July 31, 1959, the Commission issued Opinion No. 324 in Northern Natural Gas Co., et al., Docket Nos. G-17485, et al., 22 F.P.C. 164. This opinion was issued between the time Northern filed its original application in Docket No. G-18756 and the time Northern filed its application for temporary authority in that docket. Among the main-line facilities authorized by the order accompanying Opinion No. 324 were those for which Northern had sought Commission approval in Docket No. G-18756. Consequently, in its application for temporary authority, Northern indicated that the only facilities then needed to deliver the additional contract demand requested by its existing customers for the 1959-60 heating season were those not theretofore authorized by the order accompanying Opinion No. 324:

19.9 miles of 10-inch pipeline (2d branch to Marshalltown, Iowa)	$575,500
2.5 miles of 2-inch branch-line loop to Griswold, Iowa	29,600
Second measuring station for Marshalltown, Iowa	42,100
Interest and overheads	25,900
Total estimated cost (G-18756)	673,100

Paragraph (I) of the order accompanying Opinion No. 316 issued October 31, 1958, in American Louisiana Pipe Line Co., et al., Docket Nos. G-2306, et al., 20 F.P.C. 575, provided: "Northern's application in Docket No. G-2460, pertaining to Redfield Storage, is hereby denied * * *". However, at page 598 of that opinion the Commission stated, "In accordance with the procedure we intend to follow in this case outlined previously, Northern may file a new application for Redfield Storage and seek to sustain this facility further on the basis of new and incorporated evidence. * * *" [Emphasis supplied.] In its applications in Docket Nos. G-18756 and G-20570, as supplemented, Northern has indicated that the 24,923 Mcf per day needed by its existing customers for the 1959-60 heating season and the 33,792 Mcf nominated by its existing customers (except Northern Illinois) for the 1960-61 heating season will be supplied during peak periods by utilizing the St. Peter-Elgin system of its Redfield underground storage field near Redfield, Iowa; Northern relies only upon its existing gas reserves and additional pipeline capacity to provide the 40,000 Mcf per day desired by Northern Illinois and the 75,000 Mcf per day requested by Michigan Wisconsin, as shown in the following tabulation:

Docket No.	Additional contract demand requested by—	Utilization of Redfield storage	Additional pipeline capacity
		Mcf	Mcf
G-18756	Existing customers	24,923	----------
G-20570	Existing customers (except Northern Illinois)	33,792	----------
G-20570	Northern Illinois	None	40,000
G-20571	Michigan Wisconsin	None	75,000
Total		58,715	115,000

Northern states that the facilities for which authorization is sought in Docket No. G-18756 "* * * will be financed out of funds on hand"; that the facilities required in Docket No. G-20570 will be financed "* * * by the issuance of $6,000,000 of debentures and $10,000,000 of preferred stock"; and that the facilities required in Docket No. G-20571 will be financed "* * * by the issuance of $18,000,000 of debentures and $6,000,000 of preferred stock".

In Docket No. G-20572, Michigan Wisconsin proposes to construct and operate certain facilities, hereinafter described, and to sell for resale in interstate commerce an additional 75,000 Mcf of gas per day to its existing customers. Michigan Wisconsin states in its application

[1] Except a volume of 2,383 Mcf per day desired by Northern's own distributing arm, Peoples Natural Gas Division, and gas required for the "Argus System"; the same kind of exception applies to the total additional contract demand specified in Northern's application in Docket No. G-18756.

[2] Now 73,792 Mcf per day because of "* * * cutbacks of 4,340 Mcf by present customers of previous contract demand nominations for the 1960-61 heating season and an adjustment of 420 Mcf for equivalent contract demand applicable to the Argus System * * *", according to page 1 of third supplement filed April 29, 1960, in Docket No. G-20570.

[3] In its third supplement, filed April 29, 1960, to its application in Docket No. G-20570, Northern stated that the total increase in contract demand needed by its existing customers for the 1959-60 heating season had been reduced to 26,643 Mcf. Northern received temporary authorization on October 21, 1959, in Docket No. G-18756 to supply an increase in contract demand of 24,923 Mcf, i.e., the original increase requested of 29,423 Mcf less a volume of 4,500 Mcf no longer desired by Metropolitan Utilities District of Omaha.

that it will "• • • make a pro rata allocation, in accordance with Section 8 of the General Terms and Conditions of its FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1 of the proposed additional • • •" volumes of gas to be purchased from Northern pursuant to a letter agreement between Michigan Wisconsin and Northern dated November 16, 1959.

In order to deliver the additional gas to its existing customers, Michigan Wisconsin proposes to construct facilities, costing an estimated $4,363,000, consisting of 29.2 miles of 30-inch main-line loop between its Compressor Station No. 10, located in northern Illinois, and its leased storage facilities in west central Michigan, and 3,000 horsepower of compression for installation at a new compressor station to be located at the terminus of Northern's proposed facilities near Janesville, Wisconsin, to be designated as Michigan Wisconsin's "Wisconsin D Station".

Michigan Wisconsin states in its application that the necessary facilities "• • • will be financed initially with funds on hand. In 1961 it is contemplated that additional ten-year promissory notes in the amount of $4,000,000 will be issued to permanently finance the proposed facilities".

These related matters should be heard on a consolidated record and disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations, and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on Wednesday, July 6, 1960, at 10:00 a.m., e.d.s.t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D.C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such applications.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D.C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before June 24, 1960.

JOSEPH H. GUTRIDE,
Secretary.

[6] Gathered gas.

In support of its proposed favored-nation increased rate, Texaco Inc. cites a comparable increased price and states that [illegible] Phillips also states its proposed rate is less than the highest approved rate being collected in the area; in this connection, Phillips cites a rate which was accepted

(Operator), et al. (Lab) cites an increase in the resale rate[3] of its purchaser and states that Lab's proposed increased rate is necessary to recover costs and over-

In support of its proposed renegotiated increased rate, Sun Oil Company submits an amendatory agreement and states that the proposed rate provided therein was negotiated at arm's length and does not exceed the value of gas in the area.

In support of its proposed favored-nation increased rate, Forest Oil Corporation (Forest) cites a triggering price and states that the favored-nation clause in its contract was an essential element of contractual consideration and was negotiated at arm's length. Forest also states that the proposed rate is in line with the going price of gas in the area.

In support of its proposed revenue-sharing increased rate, General Crude Oil Company (General) cites its contract, a renegotiated resale rate of its purchaser, and the purchaser's agreement to share its increase. The purchaser's resale rate was suspended in the proceeding in Docket No. RI60-30 until June 23, 1960 and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

In support of his proposed renegotiated increased rate, Willard E. Ferrell, Agent, Brushy Fork Development Company, submits an amendatory agreement to his contract and states that the increased rate is necessary to meet increased expenses, as is recognized by the purchaser in the amendatory agreement.

In support of its proposed periodic increased rate, The Bradley Producing Corporation (Bradley) states that each contractual provision is part of one integral pricing arrangement previously submitted under the initial rate filing. Bradley also states that such pricing arrangements are common in long term contracts and are economically desirable to the buyer, seller, and public.

In support of its proposed renegotiated increased rates Skelly Oil Company (Skelly) cites a renegotiation agreement and states that the proposed rates were negotiated at arm's length. Skelly cites 11-cent rates being charged in the area. Skelly also states that on September 10, 1958, it agreed to the elimination of the favored-nation clause from its contract, depriving it of other opportunities for increased rates.

In support of its proposed renegotiated increased rates, Cosden Petroleum Corporation submits contract amendments, states that the favored-nation clauses were thereby eliminated from its contracts, states that the proposed rates are the offered price for gas in the area, and further states that the proposed rates are needed to compensate for increasing costs. Cosden previously proposed increased rates under its rate schedules involved herein. The rates were suspended in the proceeding in Docket No. G-15408 but have never been made effective.

chaser's agreement to share its increase. The purchaser's resale rate was suspended in the proceeding Docket No. RI60-30 until June 23, 1960 and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

The increased rates and charges so proposed may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon hearings concerning the lawfulness of the several proposed changes and that the above-designated supplements be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

(2) The proceeding in Docket No. G-15408 should be terminated.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), public hearings shall be held upon dates to be fixed by notices from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the several proposed changes in rates and charges contained in the above-designated supplements.

(B) Pending hearings and decisions thereon, each of the above-designated supplements is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date indicated in the above "Rate Suspended Until" column, plus footnotes thereto, and thereafter until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplements hereby suspended, nor the rate schedules sought to be altered thereby, shall be changed until these proceedings have been disposed of or until the periods of suspension have expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) The proceeding in Docket No. G-15408 is hereby terminated.

(E) Notices of intervention or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D.C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37(f)) on or before July 15, 1960.

By the Commission (Commissioner Kline dissenting).

Acting Secretary.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Company Act of 1956, Eastern Trust and Banking Company, Bangor, Maine, a bank holding company, has applied for the Board's prior approval of the acquisition of up to 70 percent of the 2,000 outstanding voting shares of Guilford Trust Company, Guilford, Maine. Information relied upon by the Board in making its tentative decision is summarized in the Board's Tentative Statement[1] of this date, which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, and which is available for inspection at the Office of the Board's Secretary, at all Federal Reserve Banks, and at the Office of the Federal Register.

The record in this proceeding to date consists of the application, the Board's letter to the Bank Commissioner for the State of Maine inviting his views and recommendations on the application, the Commissioner's reply, this Notice of Tentative Decision, and the Tentative Statement.

For the reasons set forth in the Tentative Statement, the Board proposes to grant the application.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than fifteen (15) days after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, file with the Board in writing any comments upon or objections to the Board's proposed action. Communications should be addressed to the Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington 25, D.C.

Following expiration of the said 15-day period, the Board's Tentative Decision will be made final by order to that effect, unless for good cause shown other action is deemed appropriate by the Board.

Dated at Washington, D.C., this 1st day of June 1960.

By order of the Board of Governors.

FOREIGN-TRADE ZONES BOARD

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON

Extension of Time for Permanent Relocation of Foreign-Trade Zone No. 5

Mr. H. M. Burke, General Manager, Port of Seattle, Seattle, Washington, as representative of the zone grantee, on April 28, 1960 advised the Foreign-Trade Zones Board of their inability to accomplish the permanent relocation of Foreign-Trade Zone No. 5 by the date established in Order No. 46, and requested an extension of time to Decem-

It further appearing that service of the aforementioned show cause order on the subject licensee was accomplished on April 4, 1960, and that on April 8, 1960, he wrote to the Commission's San Pedro, California field office apparently in reference to said order but failed to state whether he would appear at a hearing or desired to waive a hearing and submit a written statement in justification or mitigation for consideration by the Hearing Examiner; and

It further appearing that said licensee has failed to respond to a Commission communication sent him on May 4, 1960, requesting a statement as to whether he will appear at a hearing or waive a hearing and submit a written statement in mitigation or justification of the violations charged in the show cause order; and

It further appearing that in view of the events described above and of applicable provisions of § 1.62 of the Commission's rules, it is appropriate at this time to schedule a new hearing date so as to afford the licensee the opportunity to file with the Commission a written statement that he will appear at the specified time and place and present evidence;

Accordingly, on the Hearing Examiner's own motion: It is ordered, This 1st day of June 1960, that the hearing on the show cause order in this proceeding is hereby rescheduled for July 19, 1960, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., in the offices of the Commission, at Washington, D.C.

The attention of the licensee is again directed to the provisions of § 1.62 of the Commission's rules noted below[1] concerning the filing of a written appearance, or waiver of hearing and submission of a statement in justification or mitigation to the Commission in Washington, D.C. Such written appearance or other statement of the licensee may be filed within 30 days from the date of service of the instant order.

Released: June 2, 1960.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] BEN F. WAPLE,
Acting Secretary.

[F.R. Doc. 60-5196; Filed, June 7, 1960; 8:51 a.m.]

[1] Section 1.62 of the Commission's rules provides that a licensee, in order to avail himself of the opportunity to be heard, shall, in person or by his attorney, file with the Commission, within thirty days of the receipt of the order to show cause, a written statement stating that he will appear at the hearing and present evidence on the matter specified in the order. In the event it would not be possible for respondent to appear for hearing in the proceeding if scheduled to be held in Washington, D.C., he should advise the Commission of the reasons for such inability within five days of the receipt of this order. If the licensee fails to file an appearance within the time specified, the right to a hearing shall be deemed to have been waived. Where a hearing is waived, a written statement in mitigation or justification may be submitted within thirty days of the receipt of the order to show cause. If such statement contains, with particularity, factual allegations denying or justifying the facts upon which the show cause order is based, the Hearing Examiner may call upon the submitting party to furnish additional information, and shall request all opposing parties to file an answer to the written statement and/or additional information. The record will then be closed and an initial decision issued on the basis of such procedure. Where a hearing is waived and no written statement has been filed within the thirty days of the receipt of the order to show cause, the allegations of fact contained in the order to show cause will be deemed as correct and the sanctions specified in the order to show cause will be invoked.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. CP60-56]

MONTANA-DAKOTA UTILITIES CO.

Notice of Application and Date of Hearing

JUNE 2, 1960.

Take notice that on March 11, 1960, as supplemented on April 18, 1960, Montana-Dakota Utilities Company (Applicant), filed in Docket No. CP60-56 an application, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural gas facilities and the abandonment and salvage of certain other natural gas facilities, all as more fully set forth in the application, as supplemented, which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The facilities for which authorization is sought are:

(1) Approximately 22.7 miles of 16-inch O.D. transmission pipeline to replace in the same location a 22.7 mile 12¾ inch segment of the Cabin Creek to Bismarck line, beginning at the Cabin Creek compressor station in Fallon County, Montana, and terminating at a point near Golva in Golden Valley County, North Dakota;

(2) Approximately 7.0 miles of 10¾ inch O.D. and 5.6 miles of 12¾ inch O.D. transmission pipeline to loop 12.6 miles of existing 12¾ inch line on the Cabin Creek to Bismarck line just west of Mandan in Morton County, North Dakota;

(3) Approximately 15.9 miles of 12¾ inch O.D. transmission pipeline to loop 15.9 miles of existing 12¾ inch line on the Elk Basin to Billings line, all in Carbon County, Montana; and

(4) An additional 880 horsepower compressor unit and related facilities at the Cabin Creek compressor station in Fallon County, Montana.

The facilities to be abandoned consist of the 22.7 mile, 12¾ inch line which is to be replaced as indicated in Item (1) above, because of deterioration, and which is to be salvaged, reconditioned and re-utilized.

The purpose of the instant application is to provide increased capacity to serve estimated increasing future requirements on Applicant's system and to assure continuity of service on deteriorated sections of line which are to be looped.

The estimated cost of construction of the proposed facilities is $1,732,000, to be defrayed from working capital, and the cost of retiring the facilities to be replaced is estimated at $62,000, with a salvage value of $156,000.

No new markets are proposed to be served.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on June 28, 1960, at 10:00 a.m., e.d.s.t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D.C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by the application herein.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D.C., in accordance with the Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before June 21, 1960. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

MICHAEL J. FARRELL,
Acting Secretary.

[Docket Nos. G-20570 etc.]

NORTHERN NATURAL GAS CO. AND MICHIGAN WISCONSIN PIPE LINE CO.

Notice of Applications, Consolidation and Date of Hearing

JUNE 1, 1960.

Northern Natural Gas Co., Docket Nos. G-20570, G-20571 and G-18756; Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., Docket No. G-20572.

Take notice that: Northern Natural Gas Company (Northern), a Delaware corporation with principal place of business at 2223 Dodge Street, Omaha 1, Nebraska, filed in Docket No. G-20570 on December 30, 1959, as supplemented on February 12, 1960, March 3, 1960 and April 29, 1960, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act (Act), authorizing Northern to construct and operate pipeline and storage facilities and sell and deliver additional gas to its existing customers to meet their increased requirements for the 1960-61 heating season; additionally, Northern filed in Docket No. G-20571 on December 30, 1959, as supplemented on February 2, 1960, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Act, authorizing Northern to construct and operate facilities and sell and deliver an initial volume of gas to a new pipeline customer, Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company; Northern also filed in Docket No. G-18756 on June 9, 1959, as supplemented on July 31, 1959 and September 16, 1959, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Act, authorizing Northern to construct and operate pipeline and storage facilities and sell and deliver additional gas to its existing customers to meet their increased requirements for the 1959-60 heating season; Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company (Michigan Wisconsin), a Delaware corporation with principal place of business at 500 Griswold Street, Detroit 26, Michigan, filed in Docket No. G-20572, as supplemented on January 27, 1960, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Act, authorizing Michigan Wisconsin to construct and operate facilities and sell and deliver gas, proposed to be purchased from Northern, to its existing customers; all as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, as more fully represented in the above-mentioned applications which are on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

In Docket No. G-20570, Northern proposes to construct and operate, as an integral part of its existing natural-gas system, certain facilities, hereinafter described, and to sell for resale [1] in interstate commerce an additional contract demand volume totaling 78,552 Mcf [2] of gas per day to its existing customers to satisfy increased requirements anticipated and nominated by such customers for the 1960-61 heating season. Of the 73,792 Mcf of additional contract demand desired by Northern's customers, an increased volume of 40,000 Mcf per day has been requested by Northern Illinois Gas Company. Northern seeks authorization to construct and operate the following facilities in order to transport and deliver the additional 73,792 Mcf of gas:

103 miles of 24-inch and 30-inch main-line loops in Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, and Iowa	$10,081,900
17,360 horsepower of compressor additions at seven existing stations	5,390,800
20.8 miles of branch-line loops in Iowa and Minnesota	473,400
Additional measuring station for Rochester, Minn	29,100
Interest and overheads	639,000
Total estimated cost (G-20570)	16,614,200

In Docket No. G-20571, Northern proposes to construct and operate certain natural-gas facilities, hereinafter described, to sell for resale in interstate commerce a contract demand volume of 75,000 Mcf per day to Michigan Wisconsin, a proposed new pipeline customer. To deliver the proposed $75,000 Mcf per day to Michigan Wisconsin at a point near Janesville, Wisconsin, on Michigan Wisconsin's existing pipeline system, Northern proposes to construct and operate the facilities described below:

154 miles of 26 and 30-inch main-line loops in Kansas, Nebraska, and Iowa	$15,057,600
82.5 miles of 20-inch main-line extension from East Dubuque, Ill., to Janesville, Wis., to connect Northern's system with that of Michigan Wisconsin	4,967,400
14,050 horsepower of compressor additions at Waterloo and Ogden, Iowa, Palmyra and Beatrice, Nebr., and Mullinville, Kans	3,881,600
Sales measuring facilities at Janesville, Wis	57,300
Interest and overheads	958,600
Total estimated cost (G-20571)	24,922,500

In Docket No. G-18756, Northern proposes to construct and operate certain facilities, hereinafter described, and to sell for resale in interstate commerce an additional contract demand volume totaling 29,423 Mcf [3] of gas per day to its existing customers to satisfy increased requirements anticipated and nominated by such customers for the 1959-60 heating season.

On July 31, 1959, the Commission issued Opinion No. 324 in Northern Natural Gas Co., et al., Docket Nos. G-17485, et al., 22 F.P.C. 164. This opinion was issued between the time Northern filed its original application in Docket No. G-18756 and the time Northern filed its application for temporary authority in that docket. Among the main-line facilities authorized by the order accompanying Opinion No. 324 were those for which Northern had sought Commission approval in Docket No. G-18756. Consequently, in its application for temporary authority, Northern indicated that the only facilities then needed to deliver the additional contract demand requested by its existing customers for the 1959-60 heating season were those not theretofore authorized by the order accompanying Opinion No. 324:

19.9 miles of 10-inch pipeline (2d branch to Marshalltown, Iowa)	$575,500
2.5 miles of 3-inch branch-line loop to Griswold, Iowa	29,600
Second measuring station for Marshalltown, Iowa	42,100
Interest and overheads	25,900
Total estimated cost (G-18756)	673,100

Paragraph (I) of the order accompanying Opinion No. 316 issued October 31, 1958, in American Louisiana Pipe Line Co., et al., Docket Nos. G-2306, et al., 20 F.P.C. 575, provided: "Northern's application in Docket No. G-2460, pertaining to Redfield Storage, is hereby denied * * *". However, at page 598 of that opinion the Commission stated, "In accordance with the procedure we intend to follow in this case outlined previously, Northern may file a new application for Redfield Storage and seek to sustain this facility further on the basis of new and incorporated evidence. * * *" [Emphasis supplied.] In its applications in Docket Nos. G-18756 and G-20570, as supplemented, Northern has indicated that the 24,923 Mcf per day needed by its existing customers for the 1959-60 heating season and the 33,792 Mcf nominated by its existing customers (except Northern Illinois) for the 1960-61 heating season will be supplied during peak periods by utilizing the St. Peter-Elgin system of its Redfield underground storage field near Redfield, Iowa; Northern relies only upon its existing gas reserves and additional pipeline capacity to provide the 40,000 Mcf per day desired by Northern Illinois and the 75,000 Mcf per day requested by Michigan Wisconsin, as shown in the following tabulation:

Docket No.	Additional contract demand requested by—	Utilization of Redfield storage	Additional pipeline capacity
		Mcf	Mcf
G-18756	Existing customers	24,923	----------
G-20570	Existing customers (except Northern Illinois).	33,792	----------
G-20570	Northern Illinois	None	40,000
G-20571	Michigan Wisconsin	None	75,000
Total		58,715	115,000

Northern states that the facilities for which authorization is sought in Docket No. G-18756 "* * * will be financed out of funds on hand"; that the facilities required in Docket No. G-20570 will be financed "* * * by the issuance of $6,000,000 of debentures and $10,000,000 of preferred stock"; and that the facilities required in Docket No. G-20571 will be financed "* * * by the issuance of $18,000,000 of debentures and $6,000,000 of preferred stock".

In Docket No. G-20572, Michigan Wisconsin proposes to construct and operate certain facilities, hereinafter described, and to sell for resale in interstate commerce an additional 75,000 Mcf of gas per day to its existing customers. Michigan Wisconsin states in its application

[1] Except a volume of 2,383 Mcf per day desired by Northern's own distributing arm, Peoples National Gas Division, and gas required for the "Argus System"; the same kind of exception applies to the total additional contract demand specified in Northern's application in Docket No. G-18756.

[2] Now 73,792 Mcf per day because of "* * * cutbacks of 4,340 Mcf by present customers of previous contract demand nominations for the 1960-61 heating season and an adjustment of 420 Mcf for equivalent contract demand applicable to the Argus System * * *", according to page 1 of third supplement filed April 29, 1960, in Docket No. G-20570.

[3] In its third supplement, filed April 29, 1960, to its application in Docket No. G-20570, Northern stated that the total increase in contract demand needed by its existing customers for the 1959-60 heating season had been reduced to 26,643 Mcf. Northern received temporary authorization on October 21, 1959, in Docket No. G-18756 to supply an increase in contract demand of 24,923 Mcf, i.e., the original increase requested of 29,423 Mcf less a volume of 4,500 Mcf no longer desired by Metropolitan Utilities District of Omaha.

that it will "• • • make a pro rata allocation, in accordance with Section 8 of the General Terms and Conditions of its FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1 of the proposed additional • • •" volumes of gas to be purchased from Northern pursuant to a letter agreement between Michigan Wisconsin and Northern dated November 16, 1959.

In order to deliver the additional gas to its existing customers, Michigan Wisconsin proposes to construct facilities, costing an estimated $4,363,000, consisting of 29.2 miles of 30-inch main-line loop between its Compressor Station No. 10, located in northern Illinois, and its leased storage facilities in west central Michigan, and 3,000 horsepower of compression for installation at a new compressor station to be located at the terminus of Northern's proposed facilities near Janesville, Wisconsin, to be designated as Michigan Wisconsin's "Wisconsin D Station".

Michigan Wisconsin states in its application that the necessary facilities "• • • will be financed initially with funds on hand. In 1961 it is contemplated that additional ten-year promissory notes in the amount of $4,000,000 will be issued to permanently finance the proposed facilities".

These related matters should be heard on a consolidated record and disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations, and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on Wednesday, July 6, 1960, at 10:00 a.m., e.d.s.t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D.C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such applications.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D.C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before June 24, 1960.

JOSEPH H. GUTRIDE,
Secretary.

[1] The stated effective dates are those requested by Respondents or the first day after the exptration of statutory notice, whichever is later.
[2] The rate of Willard E. Ferrell, Agent, Brushy Fork Development Co., is at a pressure base of 15.325 psia. All the other rates are at a pressure base of 14.65 psia.
[3] Supplement No. 5 is an amendatory agreement dated Apr. 12, 1960.
[4] Or until one day after the rate suspended in the proceeding in Docket No. RI60-30 is made effective, if later.
[5] Ungathered gas.
[6] Gathered gas.

In support of its proposed favored-nation increased rate, Texaco Inc. cites a triggering increased price and states that the favored-nation provision of its contract is part of the integral pricing arrangement in its contract, which is designed partially to compensate for increasing costs. Texaco Inc. also cites a higher price being paid in the area.

In support of its proposed periodic increased rate, Phillips Petroleum Company (Phillips) cites its contract and states it was negotiated at arm's length. Phillips also states its proposed rate is less than the highest approved rate being collected in the area; in this connection, Phillips cites a rate which was accepted on the basis of submitted cost evidence.

In support of his proposed favored-nation increased rate, C. V. Lyman cites several sales certificated at higher rates and cites one of the cost of service exhibits in the proceeding in Docket No. G-9289.

In support of its proposed revenue-sharing increased rate, Lab Oil Company (Operator), et al. (Lab) cites an increase in the resale rate[2] of its purchaser and states that Lab's proposed increased rate is necessary to recover costs and overcome the reductions in allowable production. Lab also states that higher prices are being received in the area.

[1] This order does not provide for the consolidation for hearing or disposition of the several matters covered herein, nor should it be so construed.
[2] Rate effective subject to refund in the proceeding in Docket No. G-19936.

In support of its proposed renegotiated increased rate, Sun Oil Company submits an amendatory agreement and states that the proposed rate provided therein was negotiated at arm's length and does not exceed the value of gas in the area.

In support of its proposed favored-nation increased rate, Forest Oil Corporation (Forest) cites a triggering price and states that the favored-nation clause in its contract was an essential element of contractual consideration and was negotiated at arm's length. Forest also states that the proposed rate is in line with the going price of gas in the area.

In support of its proposed revenue-sharing increased rate, General Crude Oil Company (General) cites its contract, a renegotiated resale rate of its purchaser, and the purchaser's agreement to share its increase. The purchaser's resale rate was suspended in the proceeding in Docket No. RI60-30 until June 23, 1960 and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

In support of his proposed renegotiated increased rate, Willard E. Ferrell, Agent, Brushy Fork Development Company, submits an amendatory agreement to his contract and states that the increased rate is necessary to meet increased expenses, as is recognized by the purchaser in the amendatory agreement.

In support of its proposed periodic increased rate, The Bradley Producing Corporation (Bradley) states that each contractual provision is part of one integral pricing arrangement previously submitted under the initial rate filing. Bradley also states that such pricing arrangements are common in long term contracts and are economically desirable to the buyer, seller, and public.

In support of its proposed renegotiated increased rates Skelly Oil Company (Skelly) cites a renegotiation agreement and states that the proposed rates were negotiated at arm's length. Skelly cites 11-cent rates being charged in the area. Skelly also states that on September 10, 1958, it agreed to the elimination of the favored-nation clause from its contract, depriving it of other opportunities for increased rates.

In support of its proposed renegotiated increased rates, Cosden Petroleum Corporation submits contract amendments, states that the favored-nation clauses were thereby eliminated from its contracts, states that the proposed rates are the offered price for gas in the area, and further states that the proposed rates are needed to compensate for increasing costs. Cosden previously proposed increased rates under its rate schedules involved herein. The rates were suspended in the proceeding in Docket No. G-15408 but have never been made effective. Cosden's recent amendatory agreements and filings render the ineffective rate proposals moot, the proceeding in Docket No. G-15408 should therefore be terminated.

In support of its proposed revenue-sharing increased rate, Shell Oil Company cites its contract, a renegotiated resale rate of its purchaser, and the purchaser's agreement to share its increase. The purchaser's resale rate was suspended in the proceeding Docket No. RI60-30 until June 23, 1960 and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

The increased rates and charges so proposed may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon hearings concerning the lawfulness of the several proposed changes and that the above-designated supplements be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

(2) The proceeding in Docket No. G-15408 should be terminated.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), public hearings shall be held upon dates to be fixed by notices from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the several proposed changes in rates and charges contained in the above-designated supplements.

(B) Pending hearings and decisions thereon, each of the above-designated supplements is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date indicated in the above "Rate Suspended Until" column, plus footnotes thereto, and thereafter until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplements hereby suspended, nor the rate schedules sought to be altered thereby, shall be changed until these proceedings have been disposed of or until the periods of suspension have expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) The proceeding in Docket No. G-15408 is hereby terminated.

(E) Notices of intervention or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D.C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37(f)) on or before July 15, 1960.

By the Commission (Commissioner Kline dissenting).

[SEAL] MICHAEL J. FARRELL,
Acting Secretary.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

EASTERN TRUST AND BANKING CO.

Notice of Tentative Decision on Application for Prior Approval of Acquisition by a Bank Holding Company of Voting Shares of a Bank

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to section 3(a) of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, Eastern Trust and Banking Company, Bangor, Maine, a bank holding company, has applied for the Board's prior approval of the acquisition of up to 70 percent of the 2,000 outstanding voting shares of Guilford Trust Company, Guilford, Maine. Information relied upon by the Board in making its tentative decision is summarized in the Board's Tentative Statement[1] of this date, which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, and which is available for inspection at the Office of the Board's Secretary, at all Federal Reserve Banks, and at the Office of the Federal Register.

The record in this proceeding to date consists of the application, the Board's letter to the Bank Commissioner for the State of Maine inviting his views and recommendations on the application, the Commissioner's reply, this Notice of Tentative Decision, and the Tentative Statement.

For the reasons set forth in the Tentative Statement, the Board proposes to grant the application.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than fifteen (15) days after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, file with the Board in writing any comments upon or objections to the Board's proposed action. Communications should be addressed to the Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington 25, D.C.

Following expiration of the said 15-day period, the Board's Tentative Decision will be made final by order to that effect, unless for good cause shown other action is deemed appropriate by the Board.

Dated at Washington, D.C., this 1st day of June 1960.

By order of the Board of Governors.

[SEAL] MERRITT SHERMAN,
Secretary.

FOREIGN-TRADE ZONES BOARD

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON

Extension of Time for Permanent Relocation of Foreign-Trade Zone No. 5

Mr. H. M. Burke, General Manager, Port of Seattle, Seattle, Washington, as representative of the zone grantee, on April 26, 1960 advised the Foreign-Trade Zones Board of their inability to accomplish the permanent relocation of Foreign-Trade Zone No. 5 by the date established in Order No. 48, and requested an extension of time to December 31, 1961.

The Committee of Alternates has reviewed the circumstances in this case and unanimously recommend that the request for an extension of time from September 6, 1960 to December 31, 1961 be granted.

[1] Filed as part of the original document.

Upon consideration the Board concurs in the Committee's recommendation and hereby adopts the following resolution:

The Foreign-Trade Zones Board, after consideration of the request from the Port of Seattle Commission, Grantee, Foreign-Trade Zone No. 5 for an extension of time from September 6, 1960 to December 31, 1961 to permanently relocate the zone, approves the request.

The Executive Secretary of the Foreign-Trade Zones Boards is directed to incorporate this Memorandum, the letters from the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, dated May 25, 1960, and Col. Carl H. Bronn, Army Member, Committee of Alternates, dated May 9, 1960, approving the foregoing Resolution in the official records of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board. The Executive Secretary will publish the foregoing Resolution in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated: June 2, 1960.

[SEAL] FREDERICK H. MUELLER,
Secretary of Commerce, Chairman and Executive Officer Foreign-Trade Zones Board.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[Rev. S.O. 562, Taylor's I.C.C. Order 118]

ANN ARBOR RAILROAD CO.

Rerouting and Diversion of Traffic

In the opinion of Charles W. Taylor, Agent, The Ann Arbor Railroad Company, account work stoppage affecting its car ferry service is unable to transport traffic offered it for movement via its car ferries.

It is ordered, That:

(a) Rerouting traffic: The Ann Arbor Railroad Company, being unable to transport traffic offered for movement by its car ferries account work stoppage affecting its car ferry service is hereby authorized to divert and reroute such traffic over any available route to expedite the movement regardless of the routing shown on the waybill. The billing covering all such cars rerouted shall carry a reference to this order as authority for the rerouting.

(b) Concurrence of receiving roads to be obtained: The railroad desiring to divert or reroute traffic under this order shall confer with the proper transportation officer of the railroad to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, and shall receive the concurrence of such other railroad before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers: Each carrier rerouting cars in accordance with this order shall notify each shipper at the time each car is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided under this order.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic by said Agent is deemed to be due to carrier's disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said Agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipment on the shipments as originally routed.

(e) In executing the directions of the Commission and of such Agent provided for in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements, or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, those voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be those hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(f) Effective date: This order shall become effective at 2:00 p.m., June 1, 1960.

(g) Expiration date: This order shall expire at 11:59 p.m., June 10, 1960, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled.

It is further ordered, That this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement and by filing it with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D.C., June 1, 1960.

all intermediate points; and (3) between Clines Corners, N. Mex., and Roswell, N. Mex.: from Clines Corners over U.S. Highway 285 to Roswell, and return over the same route, serving all intermediate points.

HEARING: July 25, 1960, at the New Mexico State Corporation Commission, Santa Fe, N. Mex., before Joint Board No. 87.

No. MC 102799 (Sub No. 4) (CORRECTION), filed April 26, 1960, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, issue of May 25, 1960. Applicant: PACKAGE MESSENGERS, INC., 2939 West Page Street, Philadelphia 21, Pa. Applicant's attorney: Paul F. Barnes, 811–819 Lewis Tower Building, 225 South 15th Street, Philadelphia 2, Pa. The above docket number is the correct number assigned to the application. The previous issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER incorrectly designated the docket number as MC 10279 (Sub No. 4).

HEARING: Remains as assigned, July 15, 1960, at the Penn Sherwood Hotel, 3900 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa., before Examiner Leo A. Riegel.

No. MC 107107 (Sub No. 142) (REPUBLICATION), filed February 4, 1960, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, issue of February 25, 1960. Applicant: ALTERMAN TRANSPORT LINES, INC., P.O. Box 65, Allapattah Station, Miami 42, Fla. Applicant's attorney: Frank B. Hand, Jr., Transportation Building, Washington, D.C. By application filed February 4, 1960, carrier sought a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity authorizing operations in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, of fresh and processed nuts, and peanut butter, from Boykins, Va., to points in Florida, over irregular routes. At the hearing evidence adduced revealed that applicant would transport peanut bars. It is questionable whether the peanut bars come within the commodity description set forth in the application as filed and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Accordingly, it is concluded that the authority actually desired, and for which a need was found as set forth in the findings of Examiner William P. Sullivan, served May 5, 1960, should be set forth in this republication, and the issuance of a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity withheld for a period of at least 30 days from the date of this republication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, during which time any person or persons who might have been prejudiced by the failure of the first published notice to specifically set forth the transportation of peanut bars to file an appropriate pleading. The operations authorized in the Report and Order dated May 5, 1960, on compliance with certain conditions, are as follows: Fresh and processed nuts, peanut butter, and peanut bars, over irregular routes, from Boykins, Va., to points in Florida.

No. MC 107515 (Sub No. 350) (AMENDED), filed April 1, 1960, published FEDERAL REGISTER issue of May 11, 1960. Applicant: REFRIGERATED TRANSPORT CO., INC., 290 University Avenue SW., Atlanta 10, Ga. Applicant's attorney: Paul M. Daniell, 214 Grant Building, Atlanta 3, Ga. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: Frozen foods, prepared dough, meats, meat products, and meat by-products, and dairy products, as defined by the Commission, from points in Texas to points in Mississippi, Louisiana, and Tennessee. RESTRICTION: Service to points in Mississippi, Louisiana, and Memphis, Tenn., restricted to partial delivery in instances where there is a subsequent partial delivery in either the States of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, or Tennessee.

NOTE: Dual operations under section 210 may be involved. The purpose of this republication is to reflect authority as sought to all points in Tennessee, except as restricted above.

HEARING: Remains as assigned: July 13, 1960, at the Baker Hotel, Dallas, Tex., before Examiner James H. Gaffney.

No. 112963 (Sub No. 5), filed May 5, 1960. Applicant: ROY BROS., INC., Boston Road, Pinehurst, Mass. Applicant's attorney: S. Harrison Kahn, 1110–14 Investment Building, Washington, D.C. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: Liquid and dry commodities, in bulk, in tank vehicles, between Lowell, Mass., and Endicott, N.Y.

HEARING: July 19, 1960, at the New Post Office and Court House Building, Boston, Mass., before Examiner Richard H. Roberts.

No. MC 113388 (Sub No. 28), filed May 16, 1960. Applicant: LESTER C. NEWTON TRUCKING COMPANY, a corporation, Bridgeville, Del. Applicant's attorney: H. Charles Ephraim, 1001 15th Street NW., Washington 5, D.C. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: Meats, meat products, and Meat By-Products from Wilmington, Del., to points in Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, and North Carolina.

HEARING: July 12, 1960, at the Offices of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C., before Examiner John B. Mealy.

No. MC 115691 (Sub No. 11) (Correction), filed April 11, 1960, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of May 25, 1960. Applicant: R. J. COKER, doing business as COKER TRUCKING COMPANY, P.O. Box 398, Demopolis, Ala. Applicant's attorney: H. A. Lloyd, Lloyd and Dinning Building, Demopolis, Ala. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: Conduit and pipe, in flat bed trailers, and fittings and attachments for such conduit and pipe, from Glen Dale, Marshall County, W. Va., to points in Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Mississippi, and damaged or defective shipments of the above-described commodities, on return.

NOTE: The subject application is assigned for hearing July FIRST, as shown below. Previous publication indicated July 11th in error.

FROM Houston, Texas, New Orleans, Louisiana, and Oklahoma TO Beloit, Manitowoc, Milwaukee, Racine, and Two Rivers, Wisconsin, with no transportation on return except as otherwise authorized. (2) MC–83539 Sub 9, Commodities other than those described above, the transportation of which, by reason of size or weight, requires the use of special equipment, BETWEEN points in Texas and Oklahoma, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin, except from Beloit, Milwaukee, Racine, Waukesha, and West Allis, Wisconsin, to points in Texas and Oklahoma, AND FROM Houston, Texas, and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, TO Beloit, Manitowoc, Racine, and Two Rivers, Wisconsin. (3) MC–83539 Sub 13, Commodities, which because of their size or weight require the use of special equipment, and parts thereof when moved in connection with such commodities, BETWEEN points in that part of Texas on and north of U.S. Highway 80 from the Texas-Louisiana State line through Marshall, Dallas, and Fort Worth to Mineral Wells, Texas, and, on and east of U.S. Highway 281 from Mineral Wells through Wichita Falls to the Texas-Oklahoma State Line, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Colorado, Nebraska and Missouri. (4) MC–83539 Sub 14, Heavy Machinery, heavy machinery parts, and commodities other than heavy machinery, the transportation of which because of size or weight require the use of special equipment, and parts of such commodities when moving in connection therewith, BETWEEN points in Kansas, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. BETWEEN points in New Mexico, Texas, and Oklahoma, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, and Arkansas. BETWEEN points in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi and Arkansas. RESTRICTION: The service authorized hereinabove is subject to the following restrictions: Heavy machinery parts which are not transported with the machinery of which they are a part or on which they are to be installed, shall not be transported between points in Illinois, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Mississippi and Louisiana and those in Arkansas on U.S. Highway 61. (5) MC–83539 Sub 17, Commodities, other than those described above, the transportation of which, because of their size or weight, require the use of special equipment, and parts thereof, when moving in connection with such commodities, FROM points in Arkansas, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, and Texas TO Oil City and Braddock, Pennsylvania, with no transportation for compensation on return except as otherwise authorized. (6) MC–83539 Sub 30, (c) Commodities, the transportation of which, because of size or weight, require the use of special equipment (except the stringing and picking up of pipe in connection with main or trunk pipelines); and, (d) Parts of commodities described in (c) above when moving with such commodities, BETWEEN points in Texas, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Oregon and Washington. Restrictions: The authority granted herein is restricted against tacking of the authority to transport the items specified in (c) and (d) above, and of which have an origin or destination at points in Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio, with any other authority now held by carrier for the purpose of providing a through service. (7) MC109770, MC–F–7115, LEASE—PARTIAL; SECTION 210a(b), Heavy or cumbersome commodities, which, because of size or weight, require the use of special equipment, BETWEEN Seagraves, Texas, and points in Texas within 250 miles of Seagraves and those in that part of Texas north of U.S. Highway 80 and west of U.S. Highway 75 beyond such 250 mile radius, including points on the indicated portions of the highways specified, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Arizona. Petitioner prays (1) that the Commission enter an order interpreting the above Certificates so as to authorize the transportation of conduit or pipe, in pallets, and attachments, parts and fittings for conduit or pipe, when moving in connection therewith from Denison, Texas, to points in the authorized territory, or, in the alternative (2) that if the above relief cannot be immediately granted, that the Commission enter a formal or informal order directing its agents, officers, servants and employees to refrain from interfering with the continued transportation by petitioner, or pending formal hearing of this petition and issuance of a final order. Any person or persons desiring to oppose the relief sought may, within 30 days from the date of this publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, file an appropriate pleading.

No. MC 114529 (SUPPLEMENTAL PETITION FOR DEFINITION OF TRUCKLOADS AND PETITION FOR REOPENING AND ELIMINATION OF TRUCKLOAD RESTRICTION, AND ENTRY OF AN ORDER AUTHORIZING THROUGH SERVICE, ANY QUANTITY, LESS-THAN-TRUCKLOAD, AND TRUCKLOADS, AND ELIMINATION OF GATEWAYS), filed October 7, 1958. Petitioner: TRAVELERS MOTOR FREIGHT, INC., Wheeling, W. Va. Petitioner's attorney: John R. Meeks, 607 Copley Road, Akron 20, Ohio. Certificate No. MC 114529, dated March 13, 1958, authorizes the transportation, among other things, which is here pertinent, of: General commodities, with exceptions, in truckloads only, between points in Marshall County, W. Va., on the one hand, and, on the other, Philadelphia, Pa., points in Ohio, and specified points in Pennsylvania. The subject petition prays the Commission (1) to reopen and reconsider this proceeding and an underlying "Grandfather" proceeding, and if necessary, assign them for further hearing, (2) to define just what was contemplated by "Truckloads only" as incorporated in the instant Certificate, (3) to eliminate that restriction, and (4) to determine the scope and extent of petitioner's predecessor's operations prior to, on, and since June 1, 1935, with respect to (a) less-than-truckload shipments and (b) so-called base points or gateways, if any, which were observed prior to April 26, 1939. By order of May 11, 1960, division 1 assigned the petition filed October 7, 1958, for oral hearing at a time and place to be hereafter fixed, and directed that the substance of said petition, together with notice of such assignment, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

HEARING: July 13, 1960, at the Offices of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C., before Examiner James O'D Moran.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 812–1306]

BROAD STREET INVESTING CORP.

Notice of Filing of Application for Order Exempting Sale by Open-End Company of Its Shares at Other Than Public Offering Price in Exchange for Assets of Private Investment Company

JUNE 1, 1960.

Notice is hereby given that Broad Street Investing Corporation ("Broad Street"), a registered open-end investment company, has filed an application pursuant to section 6(c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act") for an order of the Commission exempting from the provisions of section 22(d) of the Act the proposed issuance of its shares at net asset value for substantially all of the cash and securities of Hugest Company, Inc. ("Hugest").

Shares of Broad Street, a Maryland Corporation, are offered to the public on a continuous basis at net asset value plus varying sales charges dependent on the amount purchased. Hugest, a New York corporation, is an investment company with nine stockholders which engages in the business of investing and reinvesting its funds. Hugest is exempt from registration under the Act by reason of the provisions of section 3(c)(1) thereof. Pursuant to an agreement between Broad Street and Hugest, substantially all of the cash and securities owned by Hugest, with a value of approximately $6,233,000 as of May 3, 1960, will be transferred to Broad Street in exchange for shares of its capital stock. It is the present intention of Broad Street, subject to changes in investment conditions and considerations, to hold the securities acquired, which consist principally of significant blocks of securities of six companies. The shares acquired by Hugest are to be distributed immediately to its shareholders who intend to take such shares for investment with no present intention of distribution or redemption. The number of shares of Broad Street to be delivered to Hugest will be determined by dividing the net asset value per share of Broad Street in effect at the closing time into the value of the Hugest assets to be exchanged.

The value of the assets of Hugest will be determined in substantially the same manner as used for calculating net asset value for the purpose of issuance of Broad Street's shares. Since the exchange will be tax free for Hugest and its shareholders, Broad Street's cost basis for tax purposes on the assets acquired from Hugest will be the same as for Hugest, rather than the price actually paid by Broad Street for the assets. The unrealized appreciation on the assets acquired from Hugest exceeds proportionately the unrealized appreciation on Broad Street's present assets. Thus, Broad Street will acquire securities from Hugest at a tax-cost basis less than the price actually paid therefor, and if any of the acquired assets are sold in the future, artificial capital gains may be realized and Broad Street's present shareholders will be subject to tax liability thereon.

To provide against the possible unfavorable tax consequence of a future sale of the assets acquired from Hugest, Broad Street proposes to adjust the aggregate market value of the acquired assets by deducting from such value an amount to be determined by the parties at the closing date, which amount is not to exceed $95,900 and would have been $82,338 at May 3, 1960. This adjustment shall consist first of $25,900 representing an amount equivalent to 12½ percent of unrealized taxable long-term capital gain of $207,200 on a serial note to be acquired by Broad Street from Hugest. The balance, not to exceed $70,000, shall represent an amount equal to 12½ percent of the increase in the amount of unrealized appreciation allocable to the present shareholders of Broad Street, giving effect to the acquisition of Hugest on a pro forma basis and making allowance for the amount of Broad Street's realized undistributed gains allocable to Hugest, which amount shall be reduced by the estimated savings in costs resulting from the acquisition from Hugest of investment grade securities in significant blocks at fixed market prices and the savings in operating costs to the shareholders of Broad Street anticipated to result over a reasonable period from this transaction. In the opinion of the Board of Directors of Broad Street, allowance for the capital and operating cost savings is appropriate only in consideration of the unusual nature of the securities portfolio of Hugest and of certain other aspects of the transaction. Broad Street is furnished investment research and administrative facilities and services at cost under its arrangement with three other investment companies for the joint ownership and operation of Union Service Corporation. The total operating expenses of the company in 1959, including investment research and administrative services, amounted only to .29 of 1 percent of the average value of assets.

The application recites that the terms of the entire transaction were arrived at through arm's-length bargaining between Broad Street and Hugest. The application further states that there is no affiliation or relationship of any kind between the officers and directors of Broad Street and the officers, directors, and stockholders of Hugest.

Section 22(d) of the Act provides, in pertinent part, that no registered investment company shall sell any redeemable security issued by it to any person except at a current offering price described in the prospectus, with certain exceptions not applicable here. Under the terms of the Agreement, however, the shares of Broad Street are to be issued to Hugest at a price other than the public offering price stated in the prospectus, which lists a sales charge of 2.22 percent for sales of $250,000 or over.

Section 6(c) of the Act authorizes the Commission by order upon application to exempt, conditionally or unconditionally, any transaction from any provision of the Act or of any rule or regulation thereunder, if and to the extent that the Commission finds that such exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 13, 1960, at 5:30 p.m., submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to the nature of his interest, the reason for such request and the issues of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D.C. At any time after said date, as provided by Rule O–5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application herein may be issued by the Commission upon the basis of the showing contained in said application, unless an order for hearing upon said application shall be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion.

By the Commission.

CONSOLIDATED NATURAL GAS CO. ET AL.

Notice of Filing Regarding Issuance and Sale by Holding Company of Short-Term Promissory Notes to Banks and Intrasystem Issuances, Sales, and Acquisitions of Capital Stocks, Short-Term and Long-Term Promissory Notes

JUNE 1, 1960.

In the matter of Consolidated Natural Gas Company, The East Ohio Gas Company, Hope Natural Gas Company, Lake Shore Pipe Line Co., New York State Natural Gas Corporation, The Peoples Natural Gas Company, The River Gas Company; File No. 70–3883.

Notice is hereby given that Consolidated Natural Gas Company ("Consolidated"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiaries, The East Ohio Gas Company ("East Ohio"), Hope Natural Gas Company ("Hope"), Lake Shore Pipe Line Co. ("Lake Shore"), New York State Natural Gas Corporation ("New York State"), The Peoples Natural Gas Company ("Peoples"), and The River Gas Company ("River"), have filed a joint application-declaration and amendments thereto with this Commission pursuant to the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act") and the rules promulgated thereunder. The companies have designated sections 6(a), 6(b), 7, 9(a), 10, 12(b) and 12(f) of the Act and Rules 43, 45, 50(a) (2) and (3), and 70(a)(4) (D) thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions which are summarized as follows:

According to this filing the above named subsidiaries contemplate spending in 1960 an aggregate of $64,500,000 for construction purposes and other plant requirements. Internal sources of the Consolidated system are expected to provide $20,850,000 of such cash requirements and the $43,650,000 balance will be provided (a) by the sale by Consolidated to banks of $25,000,000 of short-term construction notes; (b) by the use of $15,000,000 of the proceeds derived from Consolidated's February 1960 sale of $25,000,000 of debentures ($10,000,000 having been used to pay off then outstanding short-term notes, (see Holding Company Act Release No. 14153)); and (c) by the use of $3,650,000 of treasury cash of Consolidated. In addition, Consolidated will provide the cash needed to meet the 1960 gas storage inventory requirements of East Ohio, Hope, New York State, and Peoples by means of issuing and selling to banks $35,000,000 of short-term promissory notes and will renew for one year $30,000,000 of outstanding 4 percent construction notes. The $43,650,000 of cash will be made available to the subsidiaries by means of intrasystem issuances, sales, and acquisitions of common stocks and short-term and long-term notes. Subject to market conditions and other circumstances, Consolidated, through long-term debt financing, intends to refund the $25,000,000 of short-term construction notes prior to their maturity and possibly in part to refund $30,000,000 of 4 percent 1960 and the $30,000,000 of 4 percent construction notes before July 1, 1961.

To carry out the 1960 financing program summarized above Consolidated proposes herein:

(a) to issue and sell, from time to time during 1960 to the banks hereinafter named, $25,000,000 of unsecured construction notes and $35,000,000 of unsecured gas storage notes. Each note will mature not more than twelve months from the issue date of the first note of its category to be issued and bear interest at the prime rate of interest in effect at The Chase Manhattan Bank on such first issue date. All of the notes are to be issued without a commitment fee and may be prepared without premium, in whole or in part from time to time, upon ten days prior written notice.

(b) to renew until July 1, 1961 its $30,000,000 of unsecured construction 4 percent notes which are outstanding with the banks hereinafter named, having been authorized by the Commission by order dated May 20, 1957.

To further carry out the 1960 financing program of Consolidated and its subsidiaries it is proposed herein that:

(a) $35,000,000 aggregate amount of long-term unsecured notes be issued and sold to Consolidated by East Ohio, Hope, New York State, and Peoples, $20,000,000 of which are for refunding as indicated in Table I below:

TABLE I

Company	For refunding purposes	To raise new money	Totals
East Ohio	$8,000,000	$7,000,000	$15,000,000
Hope	2,500,000	2,500,000	5,000,000
New York State	4,500,000	3,500,000	8,000,000
Peoples	4,000,000	3,000,000	7,000,000
Totals	20,000,000	15,000,000	35,000,000

Such notes will bear interest at the rate of 5 percent per annum which rate is predicated on and substantially equal to the effective cost of money secured through the issuance by Consolidated in February 1960 of its 5 percent Debentures due February 1, 1955. Such notes will mature semi-annually in differing amounts with the last note of each subsidiary maturing on January 31, 1965.

(b) $20,600,000 aggregate amount of short-term unsecured notes be issued and sold, from time to time during 1960, to Consolidated by East Ohio, Hope, New York State, Peoples, and River as set forth in Table II below:

TABLE II

Company	To raise new money	For gas storage purposes	To refund outstanding 4 percent notes	Totals
East Ohio	$10,500,000	$8,500,000	$10,000,000	$29,000,000
Hope	4,500,000	5,500,000	4,000,000	14,000,000
New York State	5,500,000	19,500,000	11,000,000	36,000,000
Peoples	4,500,000	1,500,000	4,500,000	10,500,000
River			100,000	100,000
Totals	25,000,000	35,000,000	29,600,000	89,600,000

The $25,000,000 of construction notes will be prepared without premium, in whole or in part from time to time, upon ten days prior written notice. The $29,600,000 of 4 percent notes, as renewed, will mature June 28, 1961.

(c) $3,650,000 of common capital stock be issued and sold to Consolidated in 1960, at the aggregate par value thereof, as follows: $3,000,000 by Hope (30,000 shares of $100 par value), $400,000 by Lake Shore (40,000 shares of $10 par value), and $250,000 by River (2,500 shares of $100 par value). Such stock will be issued to finance, in part, the 1960 construction programs of these subsidiaries. The number of authorized shares of capital stock of Lake Shore and River will be increased by 40,000 and 3,000 shares, respectively, to effectuate the proposed issues and sales.

The banks from which Consolidated proposes to borrow and the amounts to be borrowed from each bank are indicated in Table III below:

Copies of the several applications of East Ohio, Hope, Lake Shore, Peoples and River to the appropriate State Commissions of Ohio, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania for requisite authorization of certain of the proposed transactions have been filed herein. Orders approving the issuances and sales of capital stock have been issued by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio with respect to Lake Shore and River and by the Public Service Commission of West Virginia with respect to Hope. Orders have been issued by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio authorizing the issuances and sales of $10,000,000 of short-term 4 percent promissory notes and an aggregate of $15,000,000 of long-term 5 percent promissory notes by East Ohio; and the issuances and sale of $100,000 of short-term 4 percent promissory notes by River. An order has been issued by the Public Service Commission of West Virginia approving, subject to certain conditions, the issuances and sales by Hope of an aggregate of $5,000,000 long-term 5 percent promissory notes, of an aggregate of $10,000,000 of short-term promissory notes, and $4,000,000 of short-term 4 percent promissory notes. An order has been issued by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission authorizing the issuances and sales by Peoples of an aggregate amount of $7,000,000 of long-term 5 percent promissory notes. It is represented that no other State commission and no Federal commission, other than this commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

The estimated fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions are as follows:

Federal original issue tax on additional capital stock to be issued by Hope, Lake Shore, and River	$3,650
State taxes and filing fees in connection with charter amendments increasing authorized capital stock of Lake Shore and River	1,000
Miscellaneous	500
Total	5,150

Notice is further given that any interested person, not later than June 14, 1960, may request in writing that a hearing be held in respect of such matters, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law which he desires to controvert, or he may request that he be notified should the Commission order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D.C. At any time after said date the Commission may grant and permit to become effective the joint application-declaration, as filed or as it may be further amended, as provided by Rule 23 promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from its rules under the Act as provided by Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof, or take such other action as it deems appropriate.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Land Management

ALASKA

Notice of Filing of Plat of Survey and Order Providing for Opening of Public Lands

JUNE 1, 1960.

1. Plat of the extension survey of the lands described below will be officially filed in the Anchorage Land Office, Anchorage, Alaska effective at 10:00 a.m. June 15, 1960.

SEWARD MERIDIAN

T. 11 N., R. 3 W.,
Section 11: All;
Section 12: All;
Section 13: All;
Section 14: All;
Section 24: All.

Containing 3,200 acres.

2. The land is located approximately fourteen miles southeast of Anchorage, Alaska. Most of the land to the east of the highway is mountainous, rolling ground with an elevation extending from 1,000 feet to a high of 3,000 feet.

The northern half of Sections 13, 14 and the southern half of Section 11 are drained by Potters Creek flowing southerly into Turnagain Arm. The soil is sandy loam, covered by brush and a stand of spruce trees.

3. a. Public Land Order 1654 dated June 13, 1958 partially revokes Public Land Order 576 dated March 29, 1949 as to the following described portion of lands concerned, subject to valid existing rights:

SEWARD MERIDIAN

T. 11 N., R. 3 W.,
Section 14: SW¼;
Section 24: S½.

b. The following described lands remain withdrawn under Public Land Order 576, dated March 29, 1949; for scenic purposes:

SEWARD MERIDIAN

T. 11 N., R. 3 W.,
Section 11: W½NW¼SW¼, SW¼SW¼, SW¼SE¼SW¼, SW¼SW¼NW¼;
Section 14: W½NW¼, SE¼NW¼, W½NE¼NW¼, SE¼NE¼NW¼, W½SE¼, SE¼SE¼, S½NE¼SE¼, NW¼NE¼SE¼, S½SW¼NE¼.

4. Subject to valid existing rights and the requirements of applicable law, the lands described in paragraph one of this order and not withdrawn by paragraph three, are hereby opened to filing of applications, selections and locations in accordance with the following:

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public land laws and applications and offers under the mineral leasing laws may be presented to the Manager, Anchorage Land Office, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications, selections and offers will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraph:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

b. The lands will be open to location under the United States mining laws, beginning at 10.00 a.m. on September 14, 1960.

5. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their applications, setting forth all facts relevant to their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

6. Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land Office at Anchorage, Alaska, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations to the extent such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead and homesite laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 64, 65, and 166 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

7. Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Anchorage Land Office, Anchorage, Alaska.

IRVING W. ANDERSON,
Manager,
Anchorage Land Office.

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public land laws and applications and offers under the mineral leasing laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications, selections, and offers will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraphs:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications and selections under the nonmineral public land laws and applications and offers under the mineral leasing laws presented prior to 10:00 a.m. on July 6, 1960, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections and offers filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their applications, setting forth all facts relevant to their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

ROY T. HELMANDOLLAR,
Manager.

Title 3—THE PRESIDENT

Executive Order 10880

PERMITTING CERTAIN EMPLOYEES TO BE GIVEN CAREER OR CAREER-CONDITIONAL APPOINTMENTS

By virtue of the authority vested in me by section 2 of the Civil Service Act (22 Stat. 403) and section 1753 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (5 U.S.C. 631), and as President of the United States, it is hereby ordered as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) Except as provided by subsection (b) of this section and by section 4 hereof, any employee of the United States Government or of the District of Columbia Government who on the date of this order is serving in a position in the competitive service under an indefinite appointment or a temporary appointment without a definite time limitation may have his appointment converted to a career or career-conditional appointment: Provided, that such employee—

(i) shall have completed two years of continuous service immediately preceding the date of this order in a competitive position or positions;

(ii) shall be recommended for the benefits of this order by his agency within one year after the date of this order;

(iii) shall have completed, prior to the date of recommendation by his agency, a total of continuous or intermittent satisfactory service aggregating not less than three years in a competitive position or positions;

(iv) during the period beginning January 23, 1955, and ending on the date of this order, shall have passed a qualifying examination for a position in the competitive service in which he served during such period, or shall meet such non-competitive examination standards as the Civil Service Commission shall prescribe with respect to the position held at the time of the agency recommendation for conversion of his appointment; and

(v) shall meet the requirements prescribed by the Civil Service Commission under section 5 of this order.

(b) The requirements of paragraphs (i) and (iii) of subsection (a) of this section shall not apply to substitute employees of the Postal Field Service. In lieu of such requirements, any such employee, during each year of the three-year period ending on the date that conversion of his appointment is recommended, shall have been paid for at least 700 hours of satisfactory work in a competitive position or positions for which the salary is fixed by the Postal Field Service Compensation Act of 1955, as amended (39 U.S.C. 951–1038). The conversion of the appointment of a substitute employee shall be effected only as career substitute vacancies are available, under applicable law, in the Postal Field Service.

SEC. 2. For the purposes of section 1 hereof, (a) "status-quo" employees shall be considered as serving under indefinite appointments, and (b) "service" shall include military service if the employee shall have left a competitive position to enter the armed forces of the United States and shall have been re-employed in a competitive position within 120 days after discharge under honorable conditions.

SEC. 3. Any person who left a competitive position to enter the armed forces of the United States who would meet the requirements of section 1 except for absence in the armed forces on the date of this order and who is re-employed by an agency in a competitive position within 120 days after discharge from the armed forces under honorable conditions may have his appointment converted if he is recommended by such agency within ninety days after his re-employment and qualifies in such examination as the Civil Service Commission may prescribe.

SEC. 4. This order shall not apply to postmasters or rural carriers, or to employees serving under overseas limited appointments of indefinite or fixed duration.

SEC. 5. The Civil Service Commission may prescribe such regulations as may be necessary for carrying out the provisions of this order.

Chapter IV—Commodity Stabilization Service and Commodity Credit Corporation, Department of Agriculture

SUBCHAPTER B—LOANS, PURCHASES, AND OTHER OPERATIONS

[1960 C.C.C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supp. 2, Grain Sorghums]

PART 421—GRAINS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

Subpart—1960-Crop Grain Sorghums Loan and Purchase Agreement Program

The C.C.C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1 (25 F.R. 2380), issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and containing the regulations of a general nature with respect to price support operations for certain grains and other commodities produced in 1960 was supplemented by 1960 C.C.C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Grain Sorghums (25 F.R. 3920), containing specific requirements applicable to price support operations on the 1960 grain sorghums crop. These regulations are further supplemented as follows:

§ 421.5237 Support rates.

(a) Basic support rates at designated terminal markets. Basic support rates per 100 pounds for grain sorghums of the Classes I to IV inclusive, grading No. 2 or better, and containing not in excess of 13 percent moisture, stored in approved warehouses at the terminal markets listed below are as follows:

Terminal market:	Rate per hundredweight

Chapter VII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Farm Marketing Quotas and Acreage Allotments), Department of Agriculture

PART 722—COTTON

Subpart—Regulations Pertaining to Marketing Quotas for Upland Cotton of the 1960 and Succeeding Crops

Basis and purpose. The provisions of §§ 722.1 to 722.51 are issued pursuant to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 1281 et seq.). These provisions govern the identification and measurement of farms; the amount, adjustment, and review of the farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess; the issuance of marketing cards and marketing certificates; the identification of cotton which is marketed as being subject to or not subject to the penalty and lien for the penalty; the rate of the penalty and the manner in which penalties shall be paid by producers and buyers; the refunding of penalty overpayments; the records and reports required to be made by cotton producers, ginners, buyers, warehousemen, and others; and other miscellaneous matters regarding the production and marketing of cotton.

Notice of proposed formulation of marketing quota regulations for upland cotton of the 1960 and succeeding crops when marketing quotas are in effect for upland cotton was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 22, 1960 (25 F.R. 3529) in accordance with section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U.S.C. 1003) and the data and recommendations received in response to such notice have been duly considered.

GENERAL

§ 722.1 Applicability.

The provisions of §§ 722.1 to 722.51 apply to cotton produced in 1960 and succeeding years when marketing quotas are in effect and to carry-over cotton which is marketed by producers in the 1960-61 and succeeding marketing years. The regulations pertaining to marketing quotas for upland cotton of the 1958 and succeeding crops (23 F.R. 3231), as amended, apply to the 1958 and 1959 crops of upland cotton.

§ 722.2 Definitions.

As used in §§ 722.1 to 722.51 and in all forms and documents in connection therewith, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires, the following terms shall have the following meanings and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter genders and the singular shall include the plural number:

(a) General terms. (1) "Act" means the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 and any amendments thereto, heretofore or hereafter made.

(2) The terms "Secretary", "Deputy Administrator", "State committee", "county committee", "community committee", "State administrative officer", "county office manager", "operator", and "person" as defined in Part 718 of this chapter (24 F.R. 4223), as amended, shall apply to the regulations in §§ 722.1 to 722.51.

(3) "Director" means the Director, or Acting Director, Cotton Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

(4) "Review committee" means the group of persons appointed by the Secretary as a review committee pursuant to section 363 of the act.

(5) "Treasurer" means the county office manager or the person designated by him to act as county committee treasurer.

(6) "Upland cotton" (referred to in §§ 722.1 to 722.51 as "cotton") means any cotton other than extra long staple cotton.

(7) "Extra long staple cotton" means American-Egyptian, Sea Island, and Sealand cotton, and all other varieties of the Barbadense species, and any hybrid thereof, and any other cotton in which one or more of these varieties predominate, as provided under section 347(a) of the act.

(8) "Carry-over cotton" for any year means the unmarketed cotton from any previous crop which the producer thereof has on hand as of August 1 of such year.

(9) "State and county code" means the applicable number assigned by the Commodity Stabilization Service to each State and county for the purpose of identification.

(10) "Penalty" for any year means the amount payable with respect to the farm marketing excess for such year as determined under section 346 of the act and § 722.26.

(11) "Crop year" means the calendar year in which the cotton is planted.

(12) The terms "county", "farm" and "farm serial number" as defined in Part 719 of this chapter (23 F.R. 6731), as amended, shall apply to the regulations in §§ 722.1 to 722.51.

(13) "Seed cotton" means the harvested fruit of the cotton plant before ginning.

(14) "Lint cotton" means the fiber taken from seed cotton by ginning.

(15) "Normal yield for any county" for a crop year means the average yield per harvested acre of lint cotton for the county, adjusted for abnormal weather conditions, during the five calendar years immediately preceding the year in which such normal yield is determined, as established by the Director, with the approval of the Administrator of Commodity Stabilization Service. If for any year of such five-year period actual yield data are not available or there was no actual yield, the yield for such year shall be appraised by taking into consideration the yields in years for which data are available, abnormal weather conditions, and the yields for such year in nearby counties in which the type of soil, topography, and farming practices are similar. If because of drought, flood, insect pests, plant disease, or other uncontrollable natural cause, the yield in any year of such five-year period is less than 75 percent of the average (computed without regard to such year), such year shall be eliminated in calculating the normal yield per acre for the county. The normal yield determined for a county shall be kept readily available to the public in the county office and the normal yield determined for each county in a State shall be kept readily available to the public in the State office.

(16) "Expiration of time limitations" as set forth in Part 720 of this chapter (24 F.R. 4233) shall apply to the regulations in §§ 722.1 to 722.51.

(b) Terms relating to farms. (1) "Farm allotment" means a cotton acreage allotment established for a farm under the applicable acreage allotment regulations.

(2) "New cotton farm" means a farm on which cotton is to be planted in a crop year but such farm is not eligible for an allotment as an old cotton farm for such crop year.

(3) "Acreage planted to cotton on the farm" for a crop year, for purposes of §§ 722.1 to 722.51 shall be the acreage seeded to cotton on the farm in such year and the acreage devoted to the production of cotton on the farm in such year but seeded prior to such year, excluding any acreage in excess of the farm allotment which (i) is destroyed by causes beyond the producer's control prior to expiration of the period established under applicable regulations for disposing of excess cotton acreage or (ii) is disposed of in accordance with applicable regulations pertaining to the disposal of excess cotton acreage.

(4) "Normal yield" for any year means the average yield per harvested acre of lint cotton for the farm, adjusted for abnormal weather conditions, during the five calendar years immediately preceding the year in which such normal yield is determined. If for any such year, actual yield data are not available or there was no actual yield, the normal yield for the farm shall be appraised by the county committee taking into consideration abnormal weather conditions, the normal yield for the county, and the yield in years for which data are available. In the case of new cotton farms, the county committee may also take into consideration the normal yields of other farms in the locality which are similar with respect to soil and other physical factors affecting the production of cotton. The determination made by the county committee under this subparagraph shall be subject to the approval of a representative of the State committee.

(5) "Normal production" of any number of acres for a crop year means the normal yield of lint cotton per acre for the farm for such year multiplied by such number of acres.

(6) "Actual production" of cotton on the farm means the total number of pounds of lint cotton determined to have been produced on the farm in the crop year. Cotton will be considered to have been produced in the crop year in which the acreage from which it was produced was planted.

(7) "Actual yield" per acre for a crop year means the number of pounds of lint cotton determined by dividing the actual production of cotton on the farm in such year by the acreage planted to cotton on the farm in such year.

(8) "Farm marketing quota" for a crop year means a cotton marketing quota established for the farm for such year under § 722.9.

(9) "Farm marketing excess" for a crop year means the amount of cotton determined for the farm for such year under § 722.10 or § 722.12, whichever is applicable.

(10) "Farm with no farm marketing excess" for a crop year means a farm on which the acreage planted to cotton in such year is not in excess of the farm allotment for such year.

(11) "Farm with a farm marketing excess" for a crop year means a farm on which the acreage planted to cotton in such year is in excess of the farm allotment for such year.

(12) "Producer" means a person on a farm who, as owner or landlord (other than the landlord of a standing-rent tenant, fixed-rent tenant, or cash tenant), cash tenant, standing-rent tenant, fixed-rent tenant, share tenant, or sharecropper, is entitled to all or a share of the cotton produced thereon during the year in which the cotton is planted (or cotton on hand from a prior crop) or the proceeds thereof.

(13) "Owner or landlord" means a person who owns farmland and rents such land to another person or who operates such land.

(14) "Cash tenant", "standing-rent tenant", or "fixed-rent tenant" means a person who rents land from another for a fixed amount of cash or a fixed amount of cotton to be paid as rent.

(15) "Share tenant" means a person other than a sharecropper who rents land from another person and pays as rent a share of the cotton or of the proceeds thereof.

(16) "Sharecropper" means a person who works a farm in whole or in part under the general supervision of the operator and is entitled to receive for his labor a share of the cotton or of the proceeds thereof.

(c) Terms relating to harvesting and marketing. (1) "Harvest" means the act of extracting seed cotton from the cotton plant by manual or mechanical means or grazing by livestock.

(2) "Harvested" and "harvesting" shall have corresponding meanings to the term "harvest" in the connection in which they are used. Salvage operations shall be considered as harvesting.

(3) "Available for harvest" means the stage of maturity when bolls are sufficiently open to permit harvest.

(4) "Market" means to dispose of cotton in raw or processed form by voluntary or involuntary sale, barter, or exchange, or by gift inter vivos.

(i) The term "sale" means any transfer of title to cotton by a producer to another by any means other than barter or exchange or gift inter vivos.

(ii) The terms "barter" and "exchange" mean transfer of title to cotton by a producer to another in exchange for cotton or any other commodity, service, or property in cases where the value of the cotton or such other commodity, service, or property is not considered in terms of money, or the transfer of title to cotton by a producer to another in payment of a fixed rental or other charge for land.

(iii) The term "gift inter vivos" means any transfer of title, accompanied by delivery, to cotton by a producer to another which takes effect immediately and irrevocably and is made without any consideration or compensation therefor.

(iv) "Marketed", "marketing", and "for market" shall have corresponding meanings to the term "market" in the connection in which they are used.

(5) "Marketing year" means the period beginning August 1 of a crop year and ending July 31 of the following year, both dates inclusive.

(6) "Buyer" means a person who acquires cotton from a producer by purchase, including transferees and all persons who acquire title to cotton from producers. A person acting as a purchasing agency pursuant to a Cotton Purchasing Agency Agreement with Commodity Credit Corporation shall be deemed to be a "buyer" with respect to any cotton acquired by such purchasing agency which is subject to marketing quotas as provided in § 722.8. Also, an agricultural cooperative association which makes purchase and sale agreements with producers, or marketing agreements under which the title to cotton passes upon delivery of cotton by the producer and the association is authorized to deal with such cotton as owner, shall be deemed to be a "buyer" with respect to any cotton acquired pursuant to such an agreement which is subject to marketing quotas as provided in § 722.8.

(7) "Transferee" means a person who receives cotton from a producer by barter or exchange, or by gift inter vivos.

(8) "Ginner" means a person engaged in the business of ginning cotton.

(9) "Ginning" means the process by which lint cotton is removed from the cotton seed.

(10) "Gin bale number or mark" means the number entered on the bale tag or any other mark made or used by the ginner to identify a bale of cotton.

(11) "Warehouse receipt number" means the number on the warehouse receipt and on the warehouse bale tag used by the warehouseman to identify a bale of cotton.

§ 722.3 Issuance of forms and instructions.

Forms and instructions with respect to internal management necessary for carrying out §§ 722.1 to 722.51 shall be prepared under the direction of the director and shall be issued by the deputy administrator. Copies of such forms and instructions shall be furnished free to persons needing them upon request made to the office of the State or county committee or to the director.

§ 722.4 Extent of calculations and rule of fractions.

In making any computation in connection with §§ 722.1 to 722.51, the amount of lint cotton shall be rounded to the nearest whole pound and the amount of penalties or refunds shall be rounded to the nearest whole cent. Fractions of exactly five-tenths of a pound or cent shall be dropped.

Identification and Measurement of Farms

§ 722.5 Identification of farms.

Each farm as operated for a crop year shall be identified by a farm serial number and all records pertaining to marketing quotas for such crop year and farm shall be identified by the farm serial number.

§ 722.6 Measurement of farms.

The county committee shall provide for measurement each crop year of the acreage planted to cotton on farms in accordance with Part 718 of this chapter (24 F.R. 4223), as amended.

§ 722.7 Reports and records of farm measurements.

The county committee shall keep a record for each crop year of the measurements made on all farms. It shall file with the State office a written report for each crop year on Form MQ-94—Cotton (Upland) setting forth for each farm with a farm marketing excess the following: (a) Farm serial number, (b) name of operator, (c) farm allotment, (d) acreage planted to cotton, and (e) total cropland.

Farm Marketing Quota and Farm Marketing Excess

§ 722.8 Cotton subject to marketing quota provisions.

Marketing quotas for each crop of cotton shall be applicable to any cotton of that crop notwithstanding that the cotton may be available for marketing prior to or subsequent to the marketing year which begins in the year when the cotton is planted. Carryover cotton marketed during any marketing year shall be subject to §§ 722.1 to 722.51 to the extent applicable.

§ 722.9 Farm marketing quotas.

The farm marketing quota for each crop year for any farm shall be that number of pounds of lint cotton produced on the farm less the amount of the farm marketing excess for such crop year. In addition, lint cotton which producers have on hand from any previous crop (except cotton on which a penalty was incurred and has not been paid) may also, when properly identified, be marketed penalty free.

§ 722.10 Amount of farm marketing excess.

The farm marketing excess for each crop year shall be the normal production of the acreage planted to cotton on the farm in excess of the farm allotment for such crop year. For a farm having a zero allotment or no allotment, the entire acreage planted to cotton shall be used in determining the farm marketing excess for such crop year. Where it is established to the satisfaction of the county committee, by any producer on the farm in connection with an application filed by him or by any other producer on the farm, in accordance with § 722.12 that the actual production of cotton on the farm in a crop year is less than the normal production of the acreage planted to cotton on the farm in such crop year, the farm marketing excess shall be adjusted downward to the amount by which such actual production exceeds the normal production of the farm allotment.

§ 722.11 Notice of farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess.

Written notice of the farm marketing quota and, where applicable, the farm marketing excess, established for a farm for any crop year shall be mailed to the operator of such farm. Notice so given shall constitute notice to each producer having an interest in the cotton produced or to be produced on the farm in such crop year. Each notice shall contain a brief statement of the procedure whereby application for a review of the farm marketing quota or farm marketing excess, or any determination made in connection therewith, may be had in accordance with section 363 of the act. A record of the date of mailing the notice to the operator of the farm shall be kept among the records of the county office and upon request a copy of the notice shall be furnished without charge to any producer on the farm for which the notice is given. Such notice shall contain the information necessary in each case to inform the producer as to the basis for the determinations set forth in the notice and the effect thereof.

§ 722.12 Farm marketing excess adjustment.

(a) Application for adjustment in the farm marketing excess. Any producer having an interest in the cotton produced in any crop year on a farm with a farm marketing excess may apply in writing to the county committee for a downward adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess on the basis of the amount of cotton produced in such crop year on the farm. Any such application shall be filed with the county committee not later than the earlier of (1) 60 days after harvest of such cotton crop is completed on the farm or by such later date as is approved by the State committee on the basis of a recommendation by the county committee and a showing that the producer's failure to apply for such adjustment within the 60-day period was due to circumstances beyond his control or (2) March 15 of the year following the year in which the cotton was planted. If the harvesting of cotton on the farm has not been completed by March 15 of the year following the year in which the cotton was planted but an application has been timely filed under the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, the producer may request the county committee to provide for an estimate to be made of the amount of unharvested cotton on the farm in order that a final determination of the actual production on the farm for such crop year may be made. The county committee shall keep a record of each application so made and the date thereof. The county committee shall establish a time and place at which each application will be considered and shall notify the applicant of the time and place of the hearing. Insofar as practicable, applications shall be considered and acted upon in the order in which applications are made. Unless application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess is made within the period of time provided for in this paragraph, the farm marketing excess as determined pursuant to § 722.10 shall be final as to the producers on the farm. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, whenever the county committee determines that no cotton has been or will be produced on a farm with a farm marketing excess for the year for which such farm marketing excess is determined, the county committee may adjust the farm marketing excess and notify the operator of such adjustment, as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Procedure in connection with an application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess. The county committee shall consider each application on the basis of facts known by or made available to it and on the basis of such evidence as may be presented to it by the applicant. Official measurement of the cotton acreage on the farm for the crop year in question must have been made before the county committee approves a determination of the actual production of cotton on the farm. The actual production of cotton in such crop year on any farm shall be determined in view of the relevant facts, including the measured acreage planted to cotton in such crop year on the farm, the past production on the farm, the actual yields per acre in such crop year for other farms in the community which are similar with regard to farming practices followed, type of soil and productivity; the harvesting, ginning, and sales of the cotton produced on the farm in such crop year; and weather conditions and other factors in such crop year affecting the production of cotton on the farm and in the locality in which the farm is situated. In the consideration of any application for adjustment in the farm marketing excess the producer shall have the burden of proof. The evidence presented by the applicant may be in the form of written statements or other documentary evidence or of oral testimony in a hearing before the county committee during its consideration of the application. In order to expedite the consideration of applications, the county committee shall receive, in advance of the time fixed for consideration of the application, any written statement or documentary evidence offered by or on behalf of the applicant, and the application may be disposed of upon the basis of such statement or evidence, together with any other information bearing on or establishing the facts, which is available to the county committee, unless the applicant appears before the county committee at the time fixed for consideration of the application and requests a hearing for the purpose of offering additional documentary evidence or oral testimony in support of the application. Every such hearing shall be open to the public. The county committee shall make its determination in connection with each application not later than five calendar days next succeeding the day on which the consideration of the application was concluded. The determination of the county committee shall be in writing and shall contain (1) a concise statement of the grounds upon which the applicant sought an adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess, (2) a concise statement of the findings of the county committee upon the question of fact, and (3) the determination of the county committee as to the farm marketing quota, the actual production of cotton on the farm, the farm marketing excess, and the penalty due on the farm marketing excess. The determination made by the county committee under this paragraph shall be subject to approval by a representative of the State committee. A notice showing the result of the determination made as aforesaid, shall be mailed to the operator of the farm and also to the applicant if he is not such operator.

(c) Application for adjustment in the farm marketing excess in cases where the initial notice of farm marketing excess mailed after thirty days prior to expiration of filing period established under paragraph (a) of this section. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, in any case where the initial notice of farm marketing excess is mailed to the farm operator any time after a date which is thirty days prior to the expiration date for filing application for the crop year under paragraph (a) of this section, any producer having an interest in the cotton produced on the farm in such crop year may apply in writing to the county committee for a downward adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess on the basis of the amount of cotton produced in such crop year on the farm. Any such application shall be filed with the county committee not later than thirty days after the date of mailing of such notice of farm marketing excess to the farm operator. The county committee shall keep a record of each application so made and the date thereof. The county committee shall establish a time and place at which each application will be considered and shall notify the applicant of the time and place of the hearing. Insofar as practicable, applications shall be considered and acted upon in the order in which applications are made. Unless application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess in cases arising under this paragraph is made within the period of time provided for in this paragraph, the farm marketing excess as determined pursuant to § 722.10 shall be final as to the producers on the farm. The procedures provided in paragraph (b) of this section shall be followed to the extent practicable in cases arising under this paragraph.

§ 722.13 Publication of the farm allotment, normal yield, marketing quota, and marketing excess.

A record of the farm allotment, normal yield, farm marketing quota, and farm marketing excess established for farms in the county shall be kept readily available in the office of the county committee for public inspection for a period of not less than 30 calendar days. At the end of such period, the records shall be filed in the office of the county committee and remain readily available for further public inspection. Copies of notices, or other compilations upon which the pertinent data are shown may be used for this purpose.

§ 722.14 Marketing quotas not transferable.

A farm marketing quota established for a farm may not be assigned or otherwise transferred in whole or in part to any other farm except as specifically provided in the applicable acreage allotment regulations for release and reapportionment pursuant to section 344 of the act and transfer of allotments pursuant to section 378 of the act. Under sections 345 and 347 of the act, farm marketing quotas are established for each crop year for both upland and extra long staple cotton. The farm marketing quota established under the provisions of §§ 722.8 to 722.16 for a crop of upland cotton may not be used in whole or in part in connection with the marketing of extra long staple cotton.

§ 722.15 Successors-in-interest.

Any person who succeeds to the interest of a producer in a farm, or in a cotton crop produced on a farm, for which a farm marketing quota and a farm marketing excess were established, including a farm on which cotton was planted in a crop year but for which a farm cotton allotment was not established for such crop year, shall, to the same extent as his predecessor, be entitled to all the rights and privileges incident to such marketing quota and marketing excess and be subject to the penalty on the farm marketing excess and to the lien on the entire crop of cotton and to the restrictions on the marketing of cotton.

§ 722.16 Review of quotas.

(a) Review committee. Any producer who is dissatisfied with the farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess determined for his farm may, by making application in writing within 15 days after the mailing to him of the notice provided for in § 722.11 or § 722.12, have such farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess reviewed by a review committee pursuant to section 363 of the act. Unless such application is made within such 15 days, the determination of the county committee shall be final. All applications for review shall be made in accordance with the Marketing Quota Review Regulations set forth in Part 711 of this chapter, a copy of which may be obtained from the county committee. If a determination of the county committee for the crop year, as for example, the farm allotment, has previously been reviewed by a review committee, and such determination as approved by the review committee has become final under the Marketing Quota Review Regulations, it may not be reconsidered in a subsequent review proceeding concerning the farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess. In all cases, the review committee shall consider only such matters as, under the applicable provisions of the act and the applicable regulations in this part, are required or permitted to be considered by the county committee in determining the farm marketing quota or farm marketing excess.

(b) Court review. If the producer is dissatisfied with the determination of the review committee, he may, within 15 days after notice of such determination is mailed to him by registered mail, institute proceedings against the review committee to have the determination of the review committee reviewed by a court in accordance with section 365 of the act.

MARKETING CARDS, MARKETING CERTIFICATES AND LOAN DOCUMENTS

§ 722.17 Eligibility for and issuance of marketing cards.

(a) Producers eligible to receive marketing cards. Except as otherwise provided in this section the operator and any producer on a farm, or an official of a publicly owned agricultural experiment station, shall be eligible to receive a marketing card for each crop of cotton if for such crop (1) no farm marketing excess is determined for the farm or (2) an amount equal to the penalty on the farm marketing excess has been received by the treasurer for the county in which the farm is located, except that a marketing card shall not be issued under item (1) or (2) of this paragraph if any producer on the farm has on hand any cotton produced in previous crop years on which the penalty was incurred and has not been paid. For the 1960 crop year an eligible producer interested in the cotton production on a Choice (A) allotment farm shall be eligible to receive a marketing card, identified as Form MQ–76–A Upland Cotton, for such farm and an eligible producer interested in the cotton production on a Choice (B) allotment farm shall be eligible to receive a marketing card, identified as Form MQ–76–B Upland Cotton, for such farm: Provided, however, That an eligible producer interested in the cotton production on either a Choice (A) allotment farm or a Choice (B) allotment farm who is not eligible for price support or who is eligible for price support only upon approval of the price support documents by the county committee shall be eligible to receive only a marketing card identified as Form MQ–76–R Upland Cotton.

(b) Multiple farm producers eligible to receive marketing cards. Any person who is a cotton producer on more than one farm in a county in a crop year shall not be eligible to receive a marketing card for any such farm in the county for such crop year until, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, he is eligible to receive a marketing card for each of such farms. Any other producers on a farm who are eligible to receive marketing cards pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section shall receive marketing cards with respect to the farm notwithstanding the ineligibility of the multiple farm producer, if the county office manager determines that such issuance will serve a useful purpose. Any producer may be denied a marketing card if the county committee determines that, in order to enforce the provisions of the act, such producers should not receive marketing cards for such farm with no farm marketing excess. Where a producer is engaged in the production of cotton in more than one county in the same year (in the same State or two or more States), the procedure outlined in this section for issuing marketing cards for multiple farms in a county may be followed in such year with respect to all such farms, wherever situated, to the extent deemed necessary by the respective county committees to enforce the provisions of the act. The State committee may require any multiple farm producer to file with it a list of all farms on which he is engaged in the production of cotton, together with any other information deemed necessary to enforce the provisions of the act.

(c) Producers to whom marketing cards will not be issued to enforce the provisions of the act. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the county committee shall deny any producer a marketing card for a crop year if it determines that such action is necessary to enforce the provisions of the act in such crop year.

(d) Preparation and issuance of marketing cards to producers. A marketing card shall be issued to the operator of the farm for any year if he is eligible to receive it under the foregoing provisions of this section unless the operator is not a producer, in such case the card will be issued only on the request of the operator and, if the county committee or the county office manager determines that it will serve a useful purpose, marketing cards for such year shall also be issued to other eligible producers on the farm. Each serially numbered marketing card when completed shall show: (1) The State and county code and farm serial number; (2) the name and address of the farm operator or other eligible producer; (3) the name and address of the county office; and (4) either (i) the actual or facsimile signature of the county office manager or a member of the county committee, or (ii) the name of the county office manager as written by an employee of the county office. A facsimile signature may be affixed by the person whose name is being affixed or by an employee of the county office. Where the name of the issuing officer is affixed by an employee of the county office, a record shall be kept in the county office of the name of the person who so affixed the signature.

(e) Designation of agent to use marketing card. If a producer designates a person who is not a producer on the farm as agent to use his marketing card, he shall submit and file with the county committee a power of attorney covering such designation. It shall be the duty of the buyer to ascertain that such a power of attorney is on file before acquiring cotton from any purported agent of the producer.

(f) Preparation and issuance of marketing cards to experiment station officials. The county office manager shall, upon the written application of a responsible official of any publicly owned agricultural experiment station having cotton exempt from the penalty as provided in the applicable acreage allotment regulations, issue a marketing card for such experiment station.

§ 722.18 Marketing certificates and loan documents.

(a) Use of marketing certificates. A marketing certificate (Form MQ–91—Cotton (Upland)) shall be issued to a producer upon his request to permit the marketing of cotton (1) by any such producer (i) who has an unexpired marketing card for use in identifying the cotton to be marketed or is eligible to receive such a marketing card and who desires to market such cotton by telegraph, telephone, mail, or by any other means or method other than directly to and in the presence of the buyer or transferee; (ii) who desires to market cotton which he has on hand from any prior crop, except cotton from a previous crop on which the penalty was incurred and has not been paid; (iii) who desires to market cotton produced by him on a farm with no farm marketing excess but he is not eligible to receive a marketing card under § 722.17(b) because he or another producer on such farm is also a cotton producer on a farm with a farm marketing excess and the penalty has not been paid; or (iv) who desires to market his share of the cotton produced on a farm with no farm marketing excess or on a farm on which the penalty on the farm marketing excess has been paid but he was denied a marketing card by the county committee because it deemed such action necessary to enforce the provisions of the act, and (2) any other producer who has cotton not subject to the penalty or on which the penalty has been paid and such producer is not eligible to receive a marketing card or does not have a loan document as prescribed in § 722.24. In instances where the acreage planted to cotton on the farm has not been determined through no fault of the operator, and he, in applying for marketing certificates, certifies that he has cotton produced in that crop year available for marketing and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the acreage planted to cotton on the farm does not exceed the farm allotment, the county committee or the county office manager may issue marketing certificates for his farm in a total amount not exceeding the product of the farm allotment for that crop year multiplied by the smaller of the county normal yield per acre for that crop year or the estimated actual yield per acre for such crop year on the farm. Also, certificates shall be issued in any case where a person has loose cotton such as field scrap cotton, sample trimmings, floor sweepings, and cotton picked up from the roadside provided that such person establishes to the satisfaction of the county committee that such cotton was acquired through normal off-farm handling or trade customs, was field scrap cotton, was waste cotton picked up on the roadside or similar location, or was acquired in some other similar manner.

(b) Preparation and delivery of marketing certificates. Each marketing certificate shall show (1) the name and address of the producer to whom issued, (2) the county and State and the farm serial number, (3) the serial number of the marketing card issued for the farm, where applicable, and the crop year in which the cotton was produced, (4) the description and amount of the cotton to be marketed, (5) the signature of the producer and the date thereof, and (6) either (i) the actual or facsimile signature of the county office manager or a member of the county committee, or (ii) the name of the county office manager as written by an employee of the county office. A facsimile signature may be affixed by the person whose name is being affixed or by an employee of the county office. Where the name of the issuing officer is affixed by an employee of the county office, a record shall be kept in the county office of the name of the person who so affixed the signature. The county committee shall, for each crop year, estimate or otherwise determine the actual production on each farm for which a marketing card has not been issued and for which marketing certificates are to be issued, and certificates shall not be issued in an amount in excess of such production as estimated or otherwise determined by the county committee. The "buyer's copy", "producer's copy", and "county office copy" of the marketing certificate shall be delivered to the producer to whom issued, and such producer, upon marketing the cotton described in the marketing certificate shall deliver all such copies to the buyer.

(c) Use of loan documents in lieu of marketing certificates to identify carry-over CCC loan cotton. Any producer who desires to sell his equity in carry-over cotton which is pledged as collateral security for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or to sell carry-over cotton on which such a loan has been repaid may, as provided in § 722.24, identify such cotton as being penalty-free by presenting to the buyer or transferee thereof a loan document covering such cotton, and the buyer or transferee shall accept such document as evidence to him that the cotton described therein is not subject to the penalty or the lien for the penalty.

§ 722.19 Lost, destroyed, or stolen marketing cards or marketing certificates.

(a) Report of loss, destruction, or theft. In case a marketing card or marketing certificate delivered to a producer is lost, destroyed, or stolen, any person having knowledge thereof shall, insofar as he is able, immediately notify the county committee of the following: (1) The name of the producer to whom the marketing card or certificate was issued; (2) the serial number of the marketing card or certificate; and (3) whether in his knowledge or judgment it was lost, destroyed, or stolen and by whom.

(b) Investigation and findings by county office manager and county committee. If the county office manager finds that an unexpired marketing card or certificate issued to a producer has been lost, destroyed, or stolen, he shall investigate to determine whether there has been any collusion or connivance on the part of the producer to or for whom the marketing card or certificate was issued to fraudulently obtain a second marketing card or certificate. If investigation discloses no evidence of collusion or connivance, a replacement marketing card or certificate may be issued to the producer by the county office manager and a notice in writing canceling the lost, destroyed, or stolen marketing card or certificate shall be signed by the county office manager and mailed to the last known address of such producer. Where circumstances appear to warrant investigation by the county committee before a replacement marketing card or certificate is issued, the case should be referred to the county committee for a determination as to the action to be taken. Each marketing card or certificate issued under this section shall bear across its face in bold letters the word "Duplicate". In case the lost, destroyed, or stolen marketing card or certificate is not recovered promptly, the county office manager shall notify the ginner-buyers, buyers, Commodity Credit Corporation loan clerks, and Commodity Credit Corporation purchasing agencies in the county or in the immediate market area that the marketing card or certificate has been canceled and that a duplicate has been issued. A report of the findings and action of the county office manager and of any action by the county committee shall be kept among the county office records. Any person coming into possession or control of a marketing card or certificate which has been canceled shall immediately return it to the county office which issued it.

§ 722.20 Cancellation of marketing cards and marketing certificates.

(a) Cancellation of marketing cards and marketing certificates issued in error. In the event any marketing card or marketing certificate was erroneously issued, the producer to whom it was issued shall be requested to return it to the county office and upon its being returned it shall be canceled by the county office manager by endorsing thereon in bold letters the word "Canceled". Without awaiting its return, the county office manager shall notify the producer in writing at his last known address that it is void and of no effect. The county office manager shall notify the ginner-buyers, buyers, Commodity Credit Corporation loan clerks, and Commodity Credit Corporation purchasing agencies in the county, or in the immediate market area that the marketing card or certificate has been canceled. A copy of the notice, containing a notation thereon of the date of mailing, shall be kept among the records of the county office.

(b) Cancellation of marketing cards which may be misused. In the event the county committee determines that a marketing card has been, or will be, misused such marketing card shall be canceled and the producer to whom it was issued shall be so notified and requested to return it to the county office. Without awaiting its return, the county office manager shall notify the ginner-buyers, buyers, Commodity Credit Corporation loan clerks, and Commodity Credit Corporation purchasing agencies in the county, or in the immediate market area that the marketing card has been canceled. A copy of the notice of cancellation, containing a notation thereon of the date of mailing, shall be kept among the records of the county office. Any producer whose marketing card is canceled under this provision shall, upon his request, be issued marketing certificates in accordance with § 722.18(a).

IDENTIFICATION OF COTTON

§ 722.21 Time and manner of identification.

Each producer of cotton may, at the time he markets any cotton, identify the cotton to the buyer or transferee, in the manner hereinafter provided, as not subject to the penalty provided in § 722.26 and the lien for the penalty as provided in § 722.27 and any such cotton not so identified shall be taken as being subject to the penalty and the lien for the penalty as provided in § 722.25.

§ 722.22 Identification by marketing card.

A marketing card (Form MQ–76–A Upland Cotton, Form MQ–76–B Upland Cotton, or Form MQ–76–R Upland Cotton) shall, when presented to the buyer or transferee by the producer to whom issued, or any other eligible producer on the farm, be evidence to the buyer or transferee that the cotton produced on the farm in the crop year for which the marketing card was issued may be purchased by him without collection, deduction, or payment of the penalty, and that such cotton is not subject to the lien for the penalty.

§ 722.23 Identification by marketing certificate.

A marketing certificate (Form MQ–91—Cotton (Upland)) shall, when presented to the buyer or transferee by the producer to whom it was issued, be evidence to the buyer or transferee that the cotton described on such certificate may be purchased by him without the collection, deduction, or payment of the penalty, and that such cotton is not subject to the lien for the penalty.

§ 722.24 Identification by loan document.

A loan document (the original or the producer's copy) shall, when presented to the buyer or transferee by the producer in whose favor it is drawn, be evidence to the buyer or transferee that the carryover cotton described in such loan document may be purchased by him without the collection, deduction, or payment of the penalty, and that such cotton is not subject to the lien for the penalty. Any one of the following forms shall constitute a "loan document" for purposes of the foregoing provisions of this paragraph: Cotton Producer's Note and Loan Agreement (CCC Cotton Form A); Producer's Loan Statement—A; or Producer's Warranty and Agreement (CCC Cotton Form G–2).

§ 722.25 Cotton not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate or loan document.

All cotton marketed by a producer which is not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document, as provided in § 722.22, § 722.23, or § 722.24 shall be presumed to be subject to penalty and lien for the penalty and shall be taken by the buyer or transferee thereof as subject to penalty at the rate prescribed in § 722.26 and to the lien for the penalty. All cotton purchased or acquired by a person which is not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document shall be presumed to have been marketed by a producer unless it is established that such cotton was purchased or acquired from a person other than the producer thereof. The buyer or transferee shall report the purchase of all such unidentified cotton on Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland) and shall remit to the county committee treasurer the penalty collected, or deducted from the purchase price of the cotton.

PENALTY

§ 722.26 Rate of penalty.

The rate of penalty for lint cotton is 50 percent of the parity price for cotton as of June 15 of the year in which the cotton is planted, as provided in section 346(a) of the act. Section 722.51 will be amended annually to set forth the exact rate of the penalty for each crop year.

§ 722.27 Lien for the penalty.

Until the penalty on the farm marketing excess for any crop year is paid, all cotton produced on the farm in such crop year and marketed shall be subject to the penalty at the rate prescribed in § 722.26 and a lien on such entire crop of cotton produced on the farm shall be in effect in favor of the United States.

§ 722.28 Interest on unremitted penalty.

The person liable for the payment or collection of the penalty shall be liable also for interest on the amount of penalty which is not remitted in accordance with § 722.29 (b), (d), or § 722.30(c), as the case may be, at the rate of 6 percent per annum from the final date for remitting the penalty until the date such penalty is remitted. The computation of interest on any penalty due shall be made beginning with the day following the final date for remitting the penalty.

§ 722.29 Payment of penalty by producers.

(a) Producer liable for payment of penalty. Each producer having an interest in the crop of cotton on any farm produced in a crop year for which a farm marketing excess has been determined shall be liable for the entire amount of the penalty on the farm marketing excess. The amount of the penalty which any producer shall pay shall nevertheless be reduced by the amount of the penalty which is paid by another producer or a buyer of cotton produced on the farm.

(b) Time when penalty becomes due and payable. The farm marketing excess for a farm shall be regarded as available for marketing and the penalty thereon shall become due at the time any cotton produced on the farm is harvested or is available for harvest. The amount of the penalty on the farm marketing excess for any farm shall be remitted on the date it becomes due or not later than March 15 of the year following the year in which the cotton was planted, even though the cotton is not harvested: Provided, however, That the penalty on any bale or lot of cotton marketed (1) from a farm for which the penalty on the farm marketing excess has not been paid or (2) without being properly identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document as provided in § 722.22, § 722.23 or § 722.24, shall be due on the date of such marketing and shall be remitted not later than seven calendar days next succeeding the end of the calendar week in which the cotton was marketed.

(c) Apportionment of the penalty. The county committee may, upon application of any producer made prior to the expiration of the time allowed for remitting the penalty on the farm marketing excess, determine his proportionate share of the penalty on the farm marketing excess if, pursuant to the application, the producer establishes that he is unable to arrange with other producers on the farm for the payment of the penalty on the entire farm marketing excess, that his share of the cotton crop produced on the farm is marketed by him separately, and that he exercises no control over the marketing of the shares of the other producers in the cotton crop. The producer's proportionate share of the penalty on the farm marketing excess shall be that proportion of the entire penalty on the farm marketing excess which his share in the cotton produced on the farm in the crop year bears to the total amount of cotton produced on the farm in such crop year. When the producer pays his proportionate share of the penalty, he shall be entitled to receive marketing certificates issued in accordance with § 722.18 for his share of the cotton crop produced on the farm in such crop year: Provided, however, That the producer shall remain liable for the remainder of the penalty on the farm marketing excess, notwithstanding any apportionment under this paragraph.

(d) Time when penalty becomes due in cases where the initial notice of farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess mailed after thirty days prior to time when penalty would become due under paragraph (b) of this section. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, in any case where the initial notice of farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess is mailed to the farm operator any time after a date which is thirty days prior to the time when penalty would become due under paragraph (b) of this section, the penalty on the farm marketing excess shall become due thirty days after mailing of such notice of farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess to the farm operator.

§ 722.30 Payment of penalty by buyers and transferees.

(a) Buyers and transferees liable for payment of penalty. Each person within the United States who buys or acquires from the producer any cotton subject to the lien for the penalty shall be liable for and shall pay the penalty thereon. Cotton shall be presumed to be subject to the lien for the penalty unless the producer presents to the buyer or transferee a marketing card (Form MQ–76–A Upland Cotton, Form MQ–76–B Upland Cotton, or Form MQ–76–R Upland Cotton), a marketing certificate (Form MQ–91—Cotton (Upland)), or a loan document as provided in §§ 722.22, 722.23, and 722.24.

(b) Payment of penalty on account of lien for the penalty. Each person within the United States who buys or acquires cotton from the producer which is subject to the lien for the penalty shall pay the amount of the penalty on each pound thereof in satisfaction of the lien thereon.

(c) Time when penalty becomes due. The penalty to be paid by any buyer or transferee pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall become due at the time the cotton is marketed and shall be remitted not later than seven calendar days next succeeding the end of the calendar week in which the cotton was marketed. Cotton shall be deemed to be sold when either title to or actual or constructive possession of the cotton is delivered by or on behalf of the producer or any part of the purchase price is paid. Cotton shall be deemed to have been marketed by barter or exchange when it is delivered to the transferee by actual or constructive delivery or the transferor has received any part of the property, goods, or services for which the cotton is being bartered or exchanged. Cotton shall be deemed to have been marketed by gift inter vivos when there is actual or constructive delivery of the cotton to the transferee during the lifetime of the producer. Cotton shall be deemed to have been marketed in processed form when the producer, or some person on his behalf, converts cotton into an article of trade and thereby causes the cotton to lose its identity as lint cotton. An article of trade within the meaning of this provision is any article made in whole or in part from cotton for the purpose of marketing such article.

(d) Manner of deducting penalty and issuance of receipts. The buyer may deduct from the price paid for any cotton an amount equivalent to the amount of the penalty to be paid by the buyer pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. Any buyer who deducts an amount equivalent to the penalty shall issue to the person from whom the cotton was purchased a receipt for the amount so deducted which shall be on Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland).

§ 722.31 Remittance of penalty to the county committee treasurer.

The county committee treasurer for and on behalf of the Secretary, shall receive the penalty and any interest due thereon and issue a receipt therefor to the person remitting the penalty as required by established fiscal procedure. The penalty and interest shall be remitted only in legal tender, or by check, draft, or money order drawn payable to the order of Commodity Stabilization Service, U.S.D.A. All checks, drafts, or money orders tendered in payment of the penalty and interest shall be received by the county committee treasurer subject to collection and payment at par.

§ 722.32 Deposit of funds.

All funds received by the county committee treasurer in connection with penalties for cotton shall be scheduled and transmitted by him on the day received or not later than the morning of the next succeeding business day, to the State committee, which, in accordance with applicable instructions, shall cause such funds to be deposited to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States. In the event the funds so received are in the form of cash, the county committee treasurer shall deposit such cash in the county committee bank account and issue a check in the amount thereof payable to Commodity Stabilization Service, U.S.D.A., and transmit such check to the State committee. The county committee treasurer shall make and keep a record of each amount received by him, showing the name of the person who remitted the funds, the identification of the farm or farms for which the funds were remitted, and the names of the persons who marketed the cotton in connection with which the funds were remitted.

§ 722.33 Refunds of money in excess of the penalty.

(a) Determination of refunds. The county committee and the county committee treasurer, upon their own motion or upon the request of any interested person, shall review the amount of money received in connection with the penalty for any farm to determine for each producer the amount thereof, if any, which is in excess of the penalty incurred. The excess amount shall be refunded. Any refund shall be made only to persons who bore the burden of the payment and who have not been reimbursed therefor. The excess sum shall be first applied, insofar as the sum will permit, so as to make refunds to eligible persons other than producers and the remainder, if any, shall be applied so as to make refunds to the eligible producers. The amount to be refunded to each producer shall be either (1) the amount agreed upon in writing by each and every cotton producer on the farm or (2) in the event that such producers cannot agree to the division of such refund or if all of the producers on the farm are not available to apply for such refund, the amount determined by apportioning the excess among all of the producers on the farm on the basis of the amount of the penalty borne by each producer, as determined by the county committee. No refund shall be made to any buyer or transferee of any amount which he collected from the producer, deducted from the price or other consideration for the cotton or for which he was liable.

(b) Certification of refunds. A member of the county committee, or the county committee treasurer shall notify the State committee of the amount which the county committee determines may be refunded to each person with respect to the farm, and the State committee shall cause to be certified to the appropriate Disbursing Officer of the Treasury Department for payment such amounts as are approved by it. No refund of money shall be certified under this section unless the money has been collected and transmitted to the State committee but has not been covered into the general fund of the Treasury of the United States.

§ 722.34 Refund of penalty erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected.

Whenever a claim for refund of any sum of money erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected as a penalty with respect to cotton is duly filed in accordance with section 372 of the act and the regulations pertaining to Refunds of Penalties Erroneously, Illegally, or Wrongfully Collected with Respect to Marketing in Excess of Marketing Quotas (§§ 714.21 to 714.28 of this chapter; 13 F.R. 6210, Oct. 22, 1948; 19 F.R. 395, Jan. 22, 1954), as amended, and a determination is duly made that a part or all of the penalty was erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected, a refund of such penalty or part thereof shall be made as provided in the regulations pertaining to refunds of penalties (§§ 714.21 to 714.28 of this chapter).

§ 722.35 Report of violations and court proceedings to collect penalty.

The county office manager shall report in writing to the State administrative officer each case of failure or refusal to pay the penalty or to remit the same as provided in §§ 722.1 to 722.51 to the county committee treasurer when collected. The State administrative officer shall report each such case in writing to the Office of the General Counsel of the United States Department of Agriculture, in accordance with instructions issued by the deputy administrator, with a view to the institution of proceedings by the United States Attorney for the appropriate district, under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, to collect the penalties as provided in section 376 of the act.

RECORD AND REPORTS

§ 722.36 Records to be kept and reports to be made by ginners.

(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each ginner shall, in conformity with section 373(a) of the act, keep the records and make the reports prescribed by this section which the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to cotton, the provisions of the act.

(b) Ginner's record of cotton ginned. Each ginner shall keep, for each crop year, as a part of or in addition to the records maintained by him in the conduct of his business, a record showing with respect to each bale, and each lot of cotton less than a bale, ginned by him the following information: (1) The date of ginning; (2) the name of the operator of the farm on which the cotton was produced; (3) the name of the producer of the cotton; (4) the name and address of the person who delivered the cotton to the gin in those cases where the ginner has doubt as to the accuracy of the name of the farm operator or producer of the cotton as furnished; (5) the county and State in which the farm on which the cotton was produced is located; (6) the gin bale number or mark or other identification; (7) the serial number of the gin ticket or receipt prepared or issued by the ginner; and (8) the gross weight of each bale of cotton and the net weight of each lot of lint cotton less than a bale ginned by the ginner.

(c) Requests for reports. Each ginner, upon written request of the State committee, State administrative officer, or county committee, shall make a report showing the information provided for in this section, or any part thereof as specified in the request, with respect to cotton ginned for the person or persons specified in the request or for the period of time specified in the request. This report shall be filed not later than the date designated by the State committee, State administrative officer, or county committee in the written request for such report.

(d) Manner of submitting reports. The county committee treasurer designated in the request for such report, or his successor in office, is hereby authorized and empowered to receive each such report on behalf of the Secretary. Each report shall be mailed or delivered directly to the said treasurer.

§ 722.37 Records to be kept and reports to be made by buyers.

(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each person who buys or acquires seed cotton or lint cotton from the producer thereof, in conformity with section 373 (a) of the act, shall keep the records and make the reports prescribed by this section which the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to cotton, the provisions of the act.

(b) Nature of records. Each buyer shall keep for each crop year, as a part of or in addition to the records maintained by him in the conduct of his business, a record which shall show with respect to each bale of cotton, and each lot of cotton less than a bale, which is purchased by him from the producer thereof the following information: (1) the name and address of the producer from whom the cotton was purchased; (2) the date on which the cotton was purchased; (3) the original gin bale number or if there is no gin bale number, the gin bale mark or other information showing the origin or source of the cotton and in the case of seed cotton purchased, the number of pounds of seed cotton and the known or estimated amount of lint in such seed cotton; (4) the number of pounds of lint cotton in each bale, and each lot of lint cotton less than a bale, purchased from the producer; (5) the amount of any penalty required to be collected under §§ 722.1 to 722.51 and the amount of penalty collected in connection with the cotton purchased from the producer; and (6) the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate or a brief description of the loan document by which the cotton was identified when marketed (if a loan number appears on the loan document, the buyer shall keep a record of such number and the crop year; otherwise, the buyer shall keep a record of the form number of the CCC loan document and the date of the loan). It shall be presumed that the cotton was not identified in the manner provided in §§ 722.1 to 722.51 if the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate or a brief description of the loan document does not appear on the records as required by this paragraph. The county committee shall, upon the request of any buyer, furnish to him without cost blank copies of Form MQ–100—Cotton (Upland) which may be used by him for the purpose of keeping the records required pursuant to this paragraph.

(c) Reports in connection with marketing of cotton not identified by marketing cards, marketing certificates, or loan documents. The buyer of cotton which is not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate or loan document, as provided in §§ 722.22, 722.23 and 722.24 when marketed by a producer shall, with respect to each such purchase, make a written report on Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland) of the following information: (1) The name and address of the producer from whom the cotton was purchased; (2) the date on which the cotton was purchased; (3) the original gin bale number or, if there is no gin bale number, the gin bale mark or other information showing the origin or source of the cotton; (4) the net weight of each bale of cotton, and of each lot of lint cotton less than a bale; and (5) the amount of the penalty collected in connection with the cotton purchased. The report shall be prepared and executed in triplicate; the "Producer's Copy" shall be delivered to the producer, the "Buyer's Copy" shall be retained by the buyer and the buyer shall mail or deliver the "County Office Copy" to the county committee treasurer for the county in which such cotton was produced.

(d) Reports in connection with cotton identified by marketing certificates. The buyer of cotton which is identified, when marketed, by a marketing certificate, Form MQ–91—Cotton (Upland), as provided in § 722.23, shall make a report in connection with the transaction by executing the certificate in triplicate and by mailing or delivering the "County Office Copy" to the county committee treasurer for the county in which such certificate was issued. The "Buyer's Copy" shall be retained by the buyer and the "Producer's Copy" shall be delivered to the producer to whom such certificate was issued. The manner in which the marketing certificate shall be executed and distributed, in case the marketing is to a buyer not within the United States, is provided for in § 722.42(b).

(e) Receipts to producers for penalties. Where the cotton is not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document at the time of marketing, the "Producer's Copy" of the executed Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland) shall be the receipt from the buyer to the producer for the penalty collected. The buyer shall report the giving of each such receipt to the producer by forwarding the "County Office Copy" of Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland) to the county committee treasurer for the county in which such cotton was produced, as provided in paragraph (c) of this section.

(f) Time for making reports. Each report required by the foregoing provisions of this section shall be made not later than seven calendar days next succeeding the end of the calendar week in which the cotton covered thereby was marketed.

(g) Buyer's record and report. In the event the county committee, the State committee, or State administrative officer has reason to believe that any buyer failed or refused to collect or to remit the penalty required to be collected by him for any cotton which he purchased, or otherwise in any manner failed or refused to comply with §§ 722.1 to 722.51, the buyer shall, within fifteen days after a written request therefor by either the county committee, State committee, or State administrative officer is sent to him by certified mail at his last known address, make a report verified as true and correct on Form MQ–100—Cotton (Upland) to the designated county committee treasurer with respect to cotton purchased or acquired by him from the person or persons specified in the request or purchased or acquired by him during the period of time specified in the request. Such report shall include the following information for each bale of cotton, and each lot of cotton less than a bale, purchased by such buyer: (1) the name and address of the producer from whom the cotton was purchased; (2) the date on which the cotton was purchased; (3) the original gin bale number, or if there is no gin bale number, the gin bale mark or other information showing the origin or source of the cotton and, in the case of cotton purchased in the seed, the number of pounds of seed cotton and the known or estimated amount of lint in such seed cotton; (4) the net weight of each bale of cotton, and of each lot of lint cotton less than a bale, purchased from the producer; (5) the amount of penalty required to be collected under §§ 722.1 to 722.51 and the amount of any penalty collected in connection with the cotton purchased from the producer; and (6) the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate or a brief description of the loan document by which the cotton was identified when marketed (if the cotton was identified by a loan document when marketed, enter the loan number and the crop year or the form number of the CCC loan document and the date of the loan).

(h) Manner of submitting reports. The county committee treasurer for the county in which the cotton covered by the report was produced is hereby authorized and empowered to receive, for and on behalf of the Secretary, each report required pursuant to this section. Each report shall be mailed or delivered directly to the said treasurer. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this paragraph, each report on Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland) in connection with the purchase of cotton marketed without the use of the means of identification provided by §§ 722.1 to 722.51 may be mailed or delivered directly to the county committee treasurer from whom the blank copy of the form was obtained.

§ 722.38 Records to be kept and reports to be made by transferees.

Each transferee who acquires seed cotton or lint cotton from the producer thereof shall keep the same records and make the same reports which are required to be kept and made by buyers pursuant to § 722.37. Also, transferees shall execute applicable certificates which are necessary to enable the producer to keep the records and make the reports required of him.

§ 722.39 Records to be kept by warehousemen, processors, and others.

Each warehouseman, processor (including compressman), common carrier, or other person, as defined in section 373(a) of the act, who stores, processes (including compressing), transports as a common carrier or otherwise deals with cotton from, for, or on behalf of the producer thereof shall for each crop year keep the records relating to such cotton which are normally kept by persons engaged in the same or similar business. The Secretary hereby finds such records to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to cotton, the provisions of the act.

§ 722.40 Availability of records kept by ginners, buyers, transferees, warehousemen, and others.

Each ginner, buyer, transferee, warehouseman, processor (including compressman), common carrier, or other person as defined in section 373(a) of the act, who gins, buys, stores, processes (including compressing), transports as a common carrier, or otherwise deals with cotton from, for, or on behalf of the producer thereof, shall make available for examination and inspection by the Secretary or by any authorized representative of the Secretary, the records kept in his business concerning such cotton, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept pursuant to §§ 722.1 to 722.51 or of obtaining the information required to be furnished in any report pursuant to §§ 722.1 to 722.51 but not so furnished. The records to be kept pursuant to the provisions of §§ 722.36, 722.37, 722.38 and 722.39 shall be kept available for examination and inspection by the Secretary, or by any authorized representative of the Secretary, until December 31 of the second year following the year in which the cotton is planted, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept pursuant to §§ 722.1 to 722.51 or of obtaining the information required to be furnished in any report pursuant to §§ 722.1 to 722.51 but not so furnished. Such records shall be kept for such longer period of time as may be requested in writing by the State administrative officer or by the director.

§ 722.41 Penalty for failure or refusal to keep records or make reports.

Any ginner, buyer, transferee, warehouseman, processor (including compressman), common carrier, or other person, as defined in section 373(a) of the act who gins, buys, acquires, stores, processes (including compressing), transports as a common carrier, or otherwise deals with cotton from, for, or on behalf of the producer thereof who fails to keep the records, make the reports as required by § 722.36, § 722.37, § 722.38, or § 722.39 or who makes any false report or false record shall, as provided for in section 373(a) of the act, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense.

§ 722.42 Records to be kept and reports to be made by producers.

(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each person who produces or who has produced in any crop year, cotton which is subject to the provisions of §§ 722.1 to 722.51 shall, in conformity with section 373(b) of the act, keep the records and make the reports prescribed by this section, which records and reports the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to cotton, the provisions of the act. The records required to be kept pursuant to this section shall be kept until December 31 of the second year following the year in which the cotton is planted, or for such longer period of time as may be requested in writing by the State administrative officer or by the director.

(b) Cotton marketed to persons not within the United States. In each case where cotton for which a marketing certificate has been issued pursuant to § 722.18 is marketed to any person not within the United States the producer shall enter the name and address of the buyer or transferee and indicate in the space provided for the signature of the buyer or transferee on each copy of the marketing certificate that such person is not within the United States. The producer shall retain the "Producer's Copy" of the certificate. Not later than 15 calendar days next succeeding the day on which the cotton was marketed the "County Office Copy" and the "Buyer's Copy" shall be mailed or delivered by such producer to the county committee treasurer for the county in which the certificate was issued.

(c) Farm operator's report. The operator of the farm shall file with the county committee treasurer for the county in which the farm is located a farm operator's report on Form MQ–98—Cotton (Upland) in the following cases: (1) Where the producer is making an application for a downward adjustment in the farm marketing excess pursuant to § 722.12 except that the county committee may waive this requirement in case it determines that the evidence otherwise submitted by the producer is satisfactory evidence of the actual production of cotton on the farm; (2) where a farm marketing excess is determined for the farm but an application for downward adjustment in the farm marketing excess has not been filed and the county committee or the State committee requests the report in writing; and (3) where a farm marketing excess is not established but the State committee or the county committee determines that a farm operator's report is necessary for proper administration of §§ 722.1 to 722.51 and requests such report in writing. Upon written request by the county committee or by the State committee for a farm operator's report on Form MQ–98—Cotton (Upland), the operator of the farm shall make the report in the manner specified in this paragraph not later than the date designated by such committee in its request. Form MQ–98—Cotton (Upland) shall show for the farm the following information or any part thereof as specified in such request for a specified crop year: (i) The date harvesting of the crop of cotton was completed on the farm, the date of the last ginning of cotton produced on the farm, and the acreage planted to cotton on the farm; (ii) the total number of pounds of lint cotton ginned from the crop of cotton; (iii) the name and address of each ginner who ginned such cotton and the number of and net weight of bales or lots less than a bale ginned by him; (iv) the total amount of seed cotton of the crop marketed; (v) the total amount of lint cotton of the crop marketed; (vi) the amount of unmarketed cotton of the crop on hand; (vii) the total number of pounds of lint cotton produced from such crop; (viii) the name and address of each buyer or transferee of such crop lint or seed cotton and the amount thereof marketed to him; and (ix) the amount of penalty paid by the producer or collected by the buyer or transferee.

(d) Manner of submitting reports. The county committee treasurer for the county in which the cotton covered by the report was produced is hereby authorized and empowered to receive, for and on behalf of the Secretary, each report required pursuant to this section. Each report shall be mailed or delivered directly to such treasurer.

§ 722.43 Data to be kept confidential.

Except as provided in § 722.48 all data reported to or acquired by the Secretary pursuant to and in the manner provided in §§ 722.36 to 722.40, inclusive, and § 722.42 shall be kept confidential by all officers and employees of the United States Department of Agriculture, members of county committees and State committees, county agents, and the employees of such committees and county agents' offices, and shall not be disclosed to anyone not having an interest in or responsibility for any cotton, farm, or transaction covered by the particular data, record, information, report, or form; and only such data so reported or acquired as the Secretary deems relevant shall be disclosed by them to anyone not having such an interest or not being employed in the administration of the act and then only in a suit or administrative hearing under the provisions of the act.

§ 722.44 Enforcement.

The county office manager shall report in writing in quadruplicate to the State administrative officer each case of failure or refusal to make any report or keep any record as required by §§ 722.1 to 722.51 and so to report each case of making any false report or record. The State administrative officer shall report each such case in writing, in triplicate, to the Office of the General Counsel of the United States Department of Agriculture, in accordance with instructions issued by the deputy administrator, with a view to the institution of proceedings by the United States Attorney for the appropriate district, under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, to enforce the provisions of the act.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS AND EXCEPTIONS

§ 722.45 Cotton produced by publicly owned agricultural experiment stations.

The conditions under which cotton produced by publicly owned agricultural experiment stations shall be exempted from penalty shall be determined pursuant to applicable acreage allotment regulations.

§ 722.46 Revision of county committee determinations and erroneous notices.

(a) Revision of determinations. In any case where a determination of the county committee under §§ 722.1 to 722.51 is found to be in error, the county committee on its own motion or upon request of a representative of the State office, shall revise such determinations.

(b) Erroneous notice of cotton allotment. In any case where through error the producer is officially notified in writing of a farm allotment larger than the final approved farm allotment and it is found by the county committee that such producer, acting solely on the information contained in the erroneous notice, planted an acreage to cotton in excess of the final approved farm allotment, the producer will not be considered to have exceeded the farm allotment unless he planted an acreage in excess of the allotment shown on the erroneous notice. Before a producer can be said to have relied upon the erroneous notice the circumstances must have been such that the producer had no cause to believe that the allotment notice was in error. To determine this fact, the date of any corrected notice in relation to the time of planting; the size of the farm; the amount of cotton customarily planted; and all other pertinent facts should be taken into consideration. The determination by the county committee under this section shall be subject to the approval of the State committee or the State administrative officer. The acreage planted to cotton on the farm in excess of the final approved allotment shall be considered as excess acreage for purposes of § 722.47.

(c) Erroneous notice of planted acreage. In any case where it is discovered after all the cotton acreage on the farm has been picked one or more times that the farm operator was officially notified in writing through error of an acreage planted to cotton which is less than the acreage actually planted but the acreage actually planted is in excess of the farm allotment, the county committee shall determine whether or not the following conditions are met:

(1) The lack of compliance was caused by reliance in good faith by the farm operator on an erroneous official notice of measured acreage.

(2) Neither the farm operator nor any producer on the farm had actual knowledge of the error in time to adjust the excess acreage in accordance with applicable regulations.

(3) The incorrect notice was the result of an error made by an employee of the county or State office in reporting, computing, or recording the cotton acreage for upland cotton for the farm.

(4) Neither the farm operator nor any producer on the farm was in any way responsible for the error.

(5) The extent of the error in the erroneous notice was such that the farm operator would not reasonably be expected to question the acreage of which he was erroneously notified.

If the county committee determines that all five of the conditions are met, and the State administrative officer concurs upon review of the county committee determination, the acreage planted to cotton on the farm will be considered as an acreage equal to the farm allotment.

§ 722.47 No credit for overplanting the farm allotment.

Any acreage planted to cotton in any crop year in excess of the farm allotment for such crop of cotton shall not be taken into account in establishing State, county, and farm allotments for subsequent crops of cotton.

§ 722.48 Availability of records.

The State and county committee shall make available for inspection by owners or operators of farms receiving cotton allotments all records pertaining to cotton allotments and marketing quotas.

§ 722.49 Designation of representatives of the Secretary to examine records.

(a) Designation of representatives. In order to carry out the provisions of §§ 722.36 to 722.40, relating to the examination of records, the deputy administrator is hereby authorized and directed to designate in writing with the counter signature of the State administrative officer, an appropriate number of persons from the officers or employees of the Department of Agriculture to act as the authorized representatives of the Secretary for the purposes of said provisions. In addition, investigators and accountants (special agents), Compliance and Investigation Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture, are hereby designated as authorized representatives of the Secretary for the purposes of said provisions.

(b) Proof of designation. Each person designated pursuant to this section shall be furnished with a copy of his designation.

(c) Authorization to administer oaths. Each person designated pursuant to this section to act as the authorized representative of the Secretary is hereby authorized and empowered, pursuant to the act of Congress approved January 31, 1925 (sec. 1, 43 Stat. 803; 5 U.S.C. 521), to administer to or take from any person an oath, affirmation, or affidavit whenever such oath, affirmation, or affidavit is for use in any prosecution or proceeding under or in the enforcement of the cotton marketing quota provisions of the act or §§ 722.1 to 722.51.

§ 722.50 County normal yields for each crop year.

This section will be amended annually to establish county normal yields for each crop year pursuant to § 722.2(d)(8).

§ 722.51 Penalty rate for each crop year.

This section will be amended annually to establish the penalty rate for each crop year pursuant to § 722.26.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of these regulations have been approved by and subsequent reporting requirements will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 3d day of June 1960.

ANDREW J. MAIR,
Acting Administrator,
Commodity Stabilization Service.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Elberta Peach Order 1]

PART 936—FRESH BARTLETT PEARS, PLUMS, AND ELBERTA PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

Regulation by Grades and Sizes

§ 936.641 Elberta Peach Order 1.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 36, as amended (7 CRF Part 936), regulating the handling of fresh Bartlett pears, plums, and Elberta peaches grown in the State of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Elberta Peach Commodity Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of Elberta peaches, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than June 13, 1960. A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, such peaches must await the development of the crop and adequate information thereon was not available to the Elberta Peach Commodity Committee until May 20, 1960; recommendation as to the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such peaches was made at the meeting of said committee on May 20, 1960, after consideration of all available information relative to the supply and demand conditions for such peaches, at which time the recommendation and supporting information were submitted to the Department; shipments of the current crop of such peaches are expected to begin on or about June 13, 1960, and this section should be applicable to all shipments of such peaches in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., June 13, 1960, and ending at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., November 1, 1960, no shipper shall ship:

(i) Any package or container of Elberta peaches unless such peaches meet the requirements of the U.S. No. 1 grade: Provided, That with respect to ripe Elberta peaches, a tolerance of 10 percent, by count, for bruises not causing serious damage is allowed in addition to the tolerances provided for such U.S. No. 1 grade;

(ii) Any package or container of Elberta peaches unless at least 85 percent, by count, of such peaches are well matured (as such term is defined in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph);

(iii) Any package or container of Elberta peaches containing more than one peach which is immature: Provided, That no lot of packages or containers of Elberta peaches may be shipped if more than one-half of one percent, by count, of the peaches in the lot are immature; or

(iv) Any package or container of Elberta peaches unless at least 85 percent of the Elberta peaches contained in such package or container measured not less than 2⅜ inches in diameter: Provided, That, Elberta peaches (a) when packed in a 12B California peach box, which are of the size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements prescribed for a standard pack, 65 peaches in said box, or (b) when packed in either a No. 26 standard lug box or a No. 27 standard lug box, which are of the size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements prescribed for a standard pack, not more than 80 peaches in the respective lug box, shall be deemed to meet the said minimum diameter requirement: And provided, further, That for the purpose of determining whether ripe Elberta peaches meet the said standard pack requirements, such peaches may be fairly tightly packed rather than tightly packed.

(2) Peaches which are "well matured" means peaches which, at the time of picking, (i) are not hard; (ii) have shoulders and sutures well filled out; (iii) when ring cut, have flesh that separates from the pit readily and cleanly, and is red colored next to the pit; and (iv) have skin and flesh yellowish green to yellow in color. "Peaches which are not hard" yield to moderate pressure at least slightly at the suture and tip and at least very slightly elsewhere.

(3) Section 936.143 of the rules and regulations, as amended (7 CFR 936.100 et seq.), sets forth the requirements with respect to the inspection and certification of shipments of Elberta peaches. Such section also prescribes the conditions which must be met if any shipment is to be made without prior inspection and certification. Notwithstanding that shipments may be made without inspection and certification, each shipper shall comply with all grade and size regulations applicable to the respective shipment.

(4) Terms used in the amended marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as given to the respective term in said amended marketing agreement and order; "U.S. No. 1," "bruises," "defects," "damage," "serious damage," "standard pack," "tightly packed," and "fairly tightly packed" shall have the same meaning as when used in the United States Standards for Peaches (§§ 51.1210 to 51.1223 of this title); "No. 26 standard lug box" and "No. 27 standard lug box," respectively, shall have the same meaning as set forth in section 828.4 of the Agricultural Code of California; "No. 12B California peach box" shall have the same meaning as set forth in section 828.25 of the Agricultural Code of California; and "diameter" shall mean the distance through the widest portion of the cross section of a peach at right angles to a line running from the stem to the blossom end.

[Nectarine Order 5]

PART 937—NECTARINES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

Limitation of Shipments

§ 937.321 Nectarine Order 5.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 37 (7 CFR Part 937) regulating the handling of nectarines grown in the State of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Nectarine Administrative Committee, established under the aforesaid marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of nectarines of the variety hereinafter set forth, and in the manner herein provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than May 19, 1960. Such committee meeting was held on May 19, 1960.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., June 13, 1960, and ending at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., November 1, 1960, no handler shall handle any package or container of Early Le Grand nectarines unless:

(i) Such nectarines, when packed in a No. 26 standard lug box, or in a No. 27 standard lug box, are of a size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack, not more than 88 nectarines in the respective lug box; or

(ii) Such nectarines, when packed in any container other than in a No. 26 standard lug box, or in a No. 27 standard lug box, measure not less than two and one-quarter (2¼) inches in diameter: Provided, That not to exceed ten (10) percent, by count, of the nectarines in any such container may fail to meet such diameter requirement.

(2) When used herein, "diameter" and "standard pack" shall have the same meaning as set forth in the United States Standards for Nectarines (§§ 51.3145 to 51.3159 of this title); "standard basket" shall mean the standard basket set forth in paragraph 1 of section 828.1 of the Agricultural Code of California; "No. 26 standard lug box," and "No. 27 standard lug box," respectively, shall have the same meaning as set forth in section 828.4 of the Agricultural Code of California, and all other terms shall have the same meaning as when used in the marketing agreement and order.

Title 14—AERONAUTICS AND SPACE

Chapter I—Federal Aviation Agency

[Reg. Docket No. 418; Reg. SR–440]

PART 40—SCHEDULED INTERSTATE AIR CARRIER CERTIFICATION AND OPERATION RULES

PART 41—CERTIFICATION AND OPERATION RULES FOR SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER OPERATIONS OUTSIDE THE CONTINENTAL LIMITS OF THE UNITED STATES

PART 42—IRREGULAR AIR CARRIER AND OFF-ROUTE RULES

Occupancy of Forward Observer's Seat During En Route Inspection

Sections 40.22, 41.5 and 42.8 of the Civil Air Regulations contain provisions which make it mandatory to permit an authorized representative of the Federal Aviation Agency at any time and place to make inspections or examinations to determine an air carrier's compliance with the requirements of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, and the Civil Air Regulations. Similar inspection provisions have existed without interruption since the regulation of civil aviation by the former Aeronautics Branch, U.S. Department of Commerce, which provided in its regulations that the "owner, operating agency, or pilot" was required to give Federal inspectors "free and uninterrupted access to the aircraft" while conducting government inspections.

Historically, the required government inspections of air carrier operations known as en route inspections have been conducted from a seat or station on the flight deck of the aircraft which permits the inspector to observe the operation of the aircraft by the flight crew members at their respective stations. This was done for the obvious reason that an inspection conducted from a location which would not permit observation of the operation would be essentially futile. As a result of this well established and accepted practice, it has been unnecessary for the Federal Aviation Agency or its predecessor agencies to further prescribe by regulatory action the authority of the inspector to occupy such seat in the conduct of his required en route inspections.

With the introduction into service of new type turbo jet airplanes two observers' seats were made available for use on the flight deck of such airplanes, in addition to those required for the minimum flight crew. In some of these airplanes one of these seats, the forward observer's seat, is located directly behind that occupied by the pilot-in-command and permits FAA inspectors while occupying such seat to observe the operation of the airplane by the flight crew members. The location of the second observer's seat, however, does not permit such observation.

By agreement entered into between the Air Line Pilots Association and certain air carriers, an additional pilot flight crew member has been assigned to assist the pilot-in-command in the operation of turbo jet airplanes. This agreement was entered into notwithstanding the fact that such airplanes were certificated for safe operation by the FAA with a minimum flight crew of two pilots and a flight engineer. Moreover, these airplanes are still being operated safely with such a flight crew complement by all of the other air carriers not parties to such an agreement. The Air Line Pilots Association has now advised the FAA that under the provisions of this agreement it has decided that the forward observer's seat must be occupied by the additional pilot flight crew member or the airplane will not be operated by its members—even during en route inspections. In support of this decision, resolutions have been entered into by the Master Executive Council of the pilots of the air carriers which are parties to such agreements directing its members not to operate turbo jet airplanes for en route inspections, when the forward observer's seat is occupied by the FAA inspector instead of the additional third pilot.

Pursuant to such agreements and resolutions, the pilots of one of the air carriers have now refused to operate turbo jet airplanes which were scheduled for en route inspections by authorized representatives of the Administrator occupying the forward observers' seats. Such overt acts by the pilots involved have created a situation which requires immediate corrective action. The statutory safety responsibilities of the Federal Aviation Agency can not be derogated by the provisions of agreements between the pilots and the air carriers, or by unilateral resolutions of the pilots and their associations purporting to implement such agreements. In the exercise and performance of their statutory responsibilities, FAA inspectors conducting en route inspections must be provided with a seat in the cockpit from which they are able properly to discharge such responsibilities. This requirement is both obvious and fundamental for the conduct of inspections which will assure the highest degree of safety in the fast growing system of air transportation.

Because of the emergency nature of the situation, I find that compliance with the notice, procedures and effective date provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and impede the due and timely execution of the functions of the Federal Aviation Agency.

In consideration of the foregoing this emergency Special Civil Air Regulation is adopted to make clear that the authorized representatives of the Administrator must be given full and uninterrupted access to the aircraft, including a suitable seat on the flight deck, as determined by the Administrator, for the proper performance and discharge of their en route inspection duties. This regulation is declaratory of a long standing practice and makes explicit, with respect to certain aircraft, the location of such seat.

The following Special Civil Air Regulation is hereby adopted to become effective immediately.

Each air carrier shall make available a seat on the flight deck of each aircraft used by it in air transportation for occupancy by an authorized representative of the Administrator while conducting en route inspections. The location and equipment of such seat, in respect to its suitability for use in conducting en route inspections, shall be as required by the Administrator or his representative. In all Boeing 707's, Douglas DC–8's, and other types of aircraft having more than one observer's seat in excess of that required for the crew complement for which the aircraft was certificated, the forward observer's seat shall be made available to such representative.

SUBCHAPTER E—AIR NAVIGATION REGULATIONS

[Airspace Docket No. 59–KC–54]

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS

Modification

On March 1, 1960, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (25 F.R. 1801) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency was proposing to modify the segments of VOR Federal airway No. 38 and VOR Federal airway No. 1510 from Moline, Ill., to Joliet, Ill.

No adverse comments were received regarding the proposed amendments.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rules herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

The substance of the proposed amendments having been published, therefore, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530) and for the reasons stated in the notice, the following actions are taken:

1. In the text of § 600.6038 (24 F.R. 10510; 25 F.R. 3576), "INT of the Moline VOR 081° and the Joliet VOR 265° radials;" is deleted.

2. In the text of § 600.6610 (24 F.R. 10528), "INT of the Moline VOR 081° and the Joliet VOR 265° radials;" is deleted.

These amendments shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. July 28, 1960.

[Airspace Docket No. 59–WA–229]

PART 608—RESTRICTED AREAS

Modification of Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor

On November 13, 1959, a notice of proposed rule-making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (24 F.R. 9242) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency was considering an amendment to § 608.28 of the regulations of the Administrator which would modify the upper altitude limits of the Camp Springs (Andrews AFB), Md., Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor (R–542).

As stated in the notice, the present Andrews AFB climb corridor extends from a point 5 statute miles northeast of the airbase on the 053° True radial of the Andrews AFB TVOR to a point 32 statute miles northeast of the airbase. The lower altitude limits extend in graduated steps from 2,280 feet MSL to 19,280 feet MSL. The upper altitude limits extend from 10,280 feet MSL to 27,000 feet MSL. The upper altitude limits of the present Andrews AFB Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor will not contain later models of the Century series aircraft due to the ability of the aircraft to reach high speeds and a high rate of climb in a short time after takeoff. Accordingly, to provide protection for the air defense Century series aircraft and other aircraft operating in the vicinity of the airbase, the Federal Aviation Agency is raising the upper altitude limits of the Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor. This action will result in the upper altitude limits of the Andrews AFB climb corridor extending from 15,280 feet MSL to 27,000 feet MSL.

No adverse comments were received regarding the proposed amendment. However, the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association/National Aviation Trades Association Airspace Representative requested that consideration be given to raising the floor of the corridor in the steps from 6 to 7 and from 7 to 10 statute miles from the airbase. The Federal Aviation Agency has coordinated this recommendation with the Department of the Air Force. The Air Force has indicated a requirement to maintain the present configuration of the climb corridors due to aircraft operating characteristics.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rule herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, the following action is taken:

In § 608.28 Maryland, Camp Springs, Md. (Andrews AFB) Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor (R–542) (Washington Chart) (23 F.R. 9134) is amended to read:

Description. That area based on the 053° True radial of the Andrews AFB TVOR, beginning 5 statute miles NE of the airbase and extending 32 statute miles NE of the airbase, having a width of 1 statute mile SE and 2.3 statute miles NW of the 053° True radial at the beginning and a width of 2.3 statute miles on each side of the 053° True radial at the outer extremity.

Designated altitudes. 2,280' MSL to 15,280' MSL from 5 statute miles NE of the airbase to 6 statute miles NE of the airbase. 2,280' MSL to 24,280' MSL from 6 to 7 statute miles NE of the airbase. 2,280' MSL to 27,000' MSL from 7 to 10 statute miles NE of the airbase. 6,280' MSL to 27,000' MSL from 10 to 15 statute miles NE of the airbase. 10,280' MSL

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U.S.C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; sec. 8, 65 Stat. 719; 15 U.S.C. 45, 69f) [Cease and desist order, Kitty Lefin Fur House, Schenectady, N.Y., Docket 7530, April 2, 1960]

The complaint in this case charged a retail furrier in Schenectady, N.Y., with violating the Fur Products Labeling Act by removing required labels after sale of fur products but before delivery to customers; by failing to name the animal producing certain furs or the country of origin, on labels, invoices, and in advertising; to use the designation "secondhand used", and to identify the manufacturer, etc., on tags; by failing additionally in advertisements to disclose that some fur products were secondhand and that others were dyed; and by failing in other respects to comply with requirements of the Act.

After trial of the issues, the hearing examiner made his initial decision, including findings, conclusions and order to cease and desist, which became on April 2 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent Kitty Lefin, an individual trading as Kitty Lefin Fur House, or under any other name, and respondent's representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the introduction into commerce, or the sale, advertising, or offering for sale, transportation or distribution, in commerce, of fur products; or in connection with the sale, advertising, offering for sale, transportation, or distribution of fur products, which are made in whole or in part of fur which has been shipped and received in commerce, as "commerce", "fur", and "fur product" are defined in the Fur Products Labeling Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Removing, or causing the removal or participating in the removal of labels required to be affixed to fur products, prior to the time fur products are sold and delivered to the ultimate purchaser of such products.

2. Misbranding fur products by:

A. Failing to affix labels to fur products showing in words and figures plainly legible all of the information required to be disclosed by each of the subsections of section 4(2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act.

B. Setting forth on labels affixed to fur products:

(1) Information required under section 4(2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, mingled with nonrequired information;

(2) Information required under section 4(2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder in handwriting.

C. Failing to set forth separately on labels attached to fur products composed of two or more sections containing different animal furs the information required under section 4(2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder with respect to the fur comprising each section.

3. Falsely and deceptively invoicing fur products by:

A. Failing to furnish to purchasers of fur products an invoice showing all of the information required to be disclosed by each of the subsections of section 5(b)(1) of the Fur Products Labeling Act.

B. Failing to furnish invoices to purchasers of fur products showing the item number or mark assigned to a fur product.

4. Falsely or deceptively advertising fur products through the use of any advertisement, representation, public announcement, or notice which is intended to aid, promote, or assist, directly or indirectly, in the sale, or offering for sale of fur products, and which:

A. Fails to disclose:

(1) The name or names of the animal or animals producing the fur or furs contained in the fur product, as set forth in the Fur Products Name Guide, and as prescribed under the rules and regulations;

(2) That the fur product is composed of used fur when such is the fact;

(3) That the fur product contains or is composed of bleached, dyed, or otherwise artificially colored fur, when such is the fact;

B. Fails to disclose that fur products contain or are composed of "secondhand used fur" when such is the fact.

C. Fails to set forth the information required under section 5(a) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder in type of equal size and conspicuousness and in close proximity with each other.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent herein shall within sixty (60) days after service upon her of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which she has complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 1, 1960.

Subpart—Advertising falsely or misleadingly: § 13.30 Composition. Subpart—Invoicing products falsely: § 13.1108 Invoicing products falsely. Subpart—Misbranding or mislabeling: § 13.1185 Composition; § 13.1185–40 in general.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U.S.C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U.S.C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Michaelian & Kohlberg, Inc., et al., New York, N.Y., Docket 7642, April 19, 1960]

In the Matter of Michaelian & Kohlberg, Inc., a Corporation, Trading as Spinning Wheel Rugs, and Frank M. Michaelian, L. P. Michaelian, M. A. Michaelian, and P. G. Evraets, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

The complaint in this case charged New York City distributors of rugs and floor coverings, some of them imported, with representing falsely on attached labels, invoices, price lists and other sales literature, that the pile or wearing surface of their imported "Manor House" and "Heritage" rugs was "All Wool" when it actually contained a substantial quantity of other fibers.

Accepting a consent agreement, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 19 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents Michaelian & Kohlberg, Inc., a corporation, trading and doing business under its own name or under the name of Spinning Wheel Rugs or under any other name and its officers, and Frank M. Michaelian, L. P. Michaelian, M. A. Michaelian and P. G. Evraets, individually and as officers of said corporation, and respondents' representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution, of rugs and floor coverings or any other textile product in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

Using the terms "wool" or "all wool" or any other word or term indicative of wool to designate or describe any product or portion thereof which is not composed wholly of wool, the fiber from the fleece of the sheep or lamb, or hair of the Angora or Cashmere goat, or hair of the camel, alpaca, llama, or vicuna, which has never been reclaimed from any woven or felted product: Provided, That in the case of products or portions thereof which are composed in substantial part of wool and in part of other fibers or materials, the term "wool" may be used as descriptive of the wool content of the product or portion thereof if there are used in immediate connection or conjunction therewith, in letters of at least equal size and conspicuousness, words truthfully designating each constituent fiber or material thereof in the order of its predominance by weight: Provided, further, That if any fiber or material so designated is not present in a substantial quantity, the percentage thereof shall be stated. Nothing herein shall prohibit the use of the terms "reprocessed wool" or "reused wool" when the products or those portions thereof referred to are composed of such fibers.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 19, 1960.

In the Matter of Hindra R. Perlo, Now Deceased, and Dismissed From These Proceedings; Eli Perlo, and Leon Perlo, Co-Partners Trading as S. Perlo & Sons

The complaint in this case charged New York City distributors with violating the Wool Products Labeling Act by labeling and invoicing as "100% Reprocessed Wool * * *" interlining materials which contained substantially less than 100 percent wool.

On the basis of a consent agreement, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 14 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents Eli Perlo and Leon Perlo, individually and as copartners trading as S. Perlo & Sons, or under any other name, and respondents' representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the introduction into commerce, or the offering for sale, sale, transportation, or distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, and the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939, of woolen interlining materials or other "wool products," as such products are defined in and subject to said Wool Products Labeling Act, do forthwith cease and desist from misbranding such products by:

1. Falsely or deceptively stamping, tagging, labeling or otherwise identifying such products as to the character or amount of the constituent fibers included therein;

2. Failing to affix labels to wool products showing each element of information required to be disclosed by section 4(a)(2) of the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939.

It is further ordered, That Eli Perlo and Leon Perlo, individually and as copartners trading as S. Perlo & Sons, or under any other name, and respondents' representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of wool interlining materials, or any other products, in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

Misrepresenting the character or amount of the constituent fibers contained in such products on invoices or shipping memoranda applicable thereto or in any other manner.

It is further ordered, That the complaint herein, insofar as it relates to individual respondent, Hinda R. Perlo, be and the same hereby is dismissed.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents Eli Perlo and Leon Perlo, individuals and co-partners trading as S. Perlo & Sons shall within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 14, 1960.

Robert Ottemberg and F. H. Leather Products

Subpart—Misbranding or mislabeling: § 13.1185 Composition. Subpart—Neglecting, unfairly or deceptively, to make material disclosure: § 13.1845 Composition.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U.S.C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U.S.C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Robert Ottemberg t/a F. H. Leather Products, New York, N.Y., Docket 7654, April 1, 1960]

The complaint in this proceeding charged a New York City manufacturer with stamping the words "top grain cowhide" on certain of his wallets and billfolds which were made of split leather and consisted substantially of nonleather materials simulating leather.

Accepting a consent agreement, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 1 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent Robert Ottemberg, an individual trading as F. H. Leather Products, or under any other name or names, and his representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of wallets or billfolds, or any other products in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Using the words "top grain cowhide" or any other words of similar import in connection with leather goods made or split leather or misrepresenting in any manner the kind or quality of the materials of which his leather goods are composed.

2. Offering for sale or selling leather goods made in whole or in part of split leather without affirmatively disclosing such fact on or in immediate connection with such product in a clear and conspicuous manner.

3. Offering for sale or selling leather goods which, to any substantial exent, consist of parts made of materials other than leather and which simulate or imitate leather unless such parts and the materials of which they are composed are clearly and conspicuously set forth on or in immediate connection with such goods.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon him of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with the order to cease and desist.

Title 26—INTERNAL REVENUE, 1954

Chapter I—Internal Revenue Service, Department of the Treasury

SUBCHAPTER G—REGULATIONS UNDER TAX CONVENTIONS

[T.D. 6469]

PART 504—BELGIUM

Subpart—Belgian Congo and Ruanda-Urundi

On December 31, 1959, Treasury Decision 6438 containing the withholding regulations applicable with respect to the extension of the income tax convention between the United States and Belgium of October 28, 1948, as amended, to Belgian Congo and Ruanda-Urundi was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (24 F.R. 11084). In order to correct the text of certain provisions of the convention as contained in § 504.301(a) of that Treasury decision, that section is amended effective with respect to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1959, as follows:

(A) By striking out paragraphs (1) and (2) of Article VIII and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(1) The rate of United States tax on dividends derived from sources within the United States by a resident or corporation or other entity of Belgium not having a permanent establishment within the United States shall not exceed 15 percent.

(2) Belgium shall not impose on dividends derived from sources within Belgium by a resident or corporation or other entity of the United States not having a permanent establishment within Belgium any tax in the nature of a personal complementary tax or surtax thereon, or any tax similar to that withheld at the source on dividends under United States law in the case of nonresident aliens and foreign corporations.

(B) By striking out Article XVII and inserting in lieu thereof the following article:

ARTICLE XVII

Each of the Contracting States shall collect taxes, which are the subject of this Convention, imposed by the other Contracting State (as though such tax were a tax imposed by the former State) as will ensure that the exemption, or reduced rate of tax, as the case may be, granted under the present Convention by such other State shall not be enjoyed by persons not entitled to such benefits.

(C) By striking from paragraph (1) of Article XXIII the word "Washington" and inserting in lieu thereof "Brussels".

(D) By striking out paragraph (2) of Article XXIII and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(2) The present Convention shall become effective with respect to income derived in taxable years beginning on or after the first day of January of the calendar year in which the exchange of the instruments of ratification takes place, except that if such exchange takes place after the thirtieth day of September of such calendar year, Articles VIII and VIIIA and Article IX (2) shall become effective only with respect to payments made after the thirty-first day of December of such calendar year. It shall continue effective for a period of five years beginning with the first day of January of the calendar year in which such exchange takes place and indefinitely after that period, but may be terminated by either of the Contracting States at the end of the five-year period or at any time thereafter, provided that at least six months' prior notice of termination has been given, the termination to become effective on the first day of January following the expiration of the six-month period.

Because this Treasury decision merely corrects the text of certain provisions of law cited in existing regulations, it is hereby found that it is unnecessary to issue this Treasury decision with notice and public procedure thereon under section 4(a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, or subject to the effective date limitation of section 4(c) of that Act.

Title 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

Chapter II—Federal Aviation Agency

PART 2-60—CONTRACT APPEAL PROCEDURES

Establishing Procedures Governing Contract Appeals

On March 17, 1959, the Administrator of General Services published the Federal Procurement Regulations (Title 41, Chapter I) in the FEDERAL REGISTER. These regulations apply to all Federal agencies to the extent specified in the Federal Property and Administrative Service Act of 1949 or other applicable statutes and laws. This Federal procurement regulation system for the codification and publication of uniform policies and procedures applicable to the procurement of personal property and nonpersonal services (including construction) by executive agencies contemplates that succeeding chapters of Title 41 would be devoted to implementing and supplementing materials developed and issued by particular Federal agencies to govern their procurement activities, as well as to regulations of general application to agencies having procurement functions issued by other Federal regulatory agencies. These rules constitute the Federal Aviation Agency's detailed procedures governing the conduct of contract appeals.

In essence, these procedural rules merely codify and formalize the procedures presently followed by the Agency in handling its contract appeals. New Part 2-60 contains provisions prescribing the method whereby an authorized appeal may be taken; internal agency procedures for processing such appeals either upon the basis of written submission or after oral hearing; the scope and nature of such oral hearings and their conduct and the method of arriving at findings and decisions. Since this rule relates to public property and contracts, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary, and good cause exists for making this amendment effective immediately upon the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

In consideration of the foregoing, I hereby adopt new Part 2-60 of Title 41 of the Code of Federal Regulations:

Sec.
2-60.1 Scope of part.
2-60.2 Establishment of Panel.
2-60.3 Exercise of authority.
2-60.4 Delegation.
2-60.5 Appeal.
2-60.6 Form of appeal.
2-60.7 Transmittal of notice of appeal.
2-60.8 Notification to contractor.
2-60.9 Consideration without oral hearing.
2-60.10 Notice of hearing.
2-60.11 Absence of contractor.
2-60.12 Scope and nature of hearing.
2-60.13 Evidence.
2-60.14 Examination of witnesses.
2-60.15 Briefs.
2-60.16 Copies of papers.
2-60.17 Withdrawal of exhibits.
2-60.18 Representation.
2-60.19 Findings and decisions.
2-60.20 Motions for rehearing.
2-60.21 Modification of rules.

AUTHORITY: §§ 2-60.1 to 2-60.21 issued under secs. 303, 313, 1001, 72 Stat. 747, 752, 788; 49 U.S.C. 1344, 1354, 1481.

§ 2-60.1 Scope of part.

This part relates to the establishment and functions of a Contract Appeals Panel, authorizes the members of such panel to act, and delegates to the General Counsel authority to designate the Chairman of such panel and its members.

§ 2-60.2 Establishment of Panel.

The Contract Appeals Panel heretofore established in the Office of the General Counsel is hereby continued.

§ 2-60.3 Exercise of authority.

Members of the Contract Appeals Panel are hereby authorized to act for the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency in hearing and considering appeals by contractors from findings of fact or from decisions of contracting officers of the Agency, where permitted by the terms of the contract, or as directed by the Administrator. Members of the Panel are also authorized to recommend to the Administrator action to be taken upon such appeals.

§ 2-60.4 Delegation.

The General Counsel is hereby delegated authority to appoint the members of the Contract Appeals Panel from personnel of his Office who are members of the Bar of any State, territory, or possession of the United States, and to designate one of such members as Chairman of the Panel.

§ 2-60.5 Appeal.

When and to the extent that an appeal from a decision of a contracting officer of the Agency is authorized, such an appeal may be taken by filing a written appeal with the contracting officer from whose decision it is taken.

§ 2-60.6 Form of appeal.

The appeal must be in writing but need not follow any prescribed form and may be in the form of a letter addressed to the Administrator, except that it must identify the decision appealed from and it must state that the contractor appeals from that decision. Letters of complaint or general letters objecting to some action taken will not be considered appeals. It should be in triplicate, and should indicate the decision from which the appeal is taken, the date thereof, and the number of the contract involved. It should also specify the portion or portions of the decision from which the appeal is taken and the reasons why those portions are deemed to be erroneous. The appeal should be dated and signed by the contractor and, if he desires to appear or be represented at a hearing, it must contain a request that such a hearing be held. The appeal must be mailed to or otherwise filed with the contracting officer within the time specified in the contract or, if no time is specified, within 30 days from the date of receipt of the contracting officer's decision.

§ 2-60.7 Transmittal of notice of appeal.

When the appeal has been received by a contracting officer, he will endorse the date of its receipt on the original and promptly forward the original and one copy thereof, together with one copy of the contract, including specifications, modifications and change orders, his decision, findings of fact and supporting data, and all pertinent correspondence and other data in his possession relevant to the dispute, to the Chairman, Contract Appeals Panel, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C.

§ 2-60.8 Notification to contractor.

After receipt by him of the material referred to in § 2-60.7, the Chairman will designate one of the members of the Contract Appeals Panel to consider the appeal, notify the contractor of such designation, and supply to him copies of such relevant factual material in the possession of the Government as the Chairman may deem to be desirable in order to assist the contractor to develop his case. In cases of unusual complexity, more than one member may be designated.

§ 2-60.9 Consideration without oral hearing.

If an oral hearing has not been requested in the appeal the member designated by the Chairman will consider the appeal upon the basis of written material, together with such brief as the contractor may desire to submit. The member will instruct the contractor with respect to the time within which such brief may be submitted.

§ 2–60.10 Notice of hearing.

If an oral hearing has been requested, the member to whom the appeal has been assigned will fix the time when and the place where such hearing will be conducted and will give the contractor at least 15 days' notice thereof in writing. In fixing a time and place for such hearing, the convenience of the parties will be considered. Ordinarily, hearings will be held at the headquarters of the Agency, in Washington, but they may be held at such other place as may be determined by the member conducting the hearing.

§ 2–60.11 Absence of contractor.

In the event of the unexcused absence of the contractor or his representative at the time and place set for an oral hearing, the appeal will be deemed to have been submitted without oral testimony or argument on behalf of the contractor, and will be considered by the member conducting the hearing without further proceedings.

§ 2–60.12 Scope and nature of hearing.

At an oral hearing the member presiding will receive evidence and arguments presented by or on behalf of the contractor. Evidence will not be presented on behalf of the Government. The questions raised by the appeal will be considered de novo, and the Administrator will not be bound by the findings of fact of the contracting officer, although he may adopt them in whole or in part. Hearings will be as informal as may be reasonably permitted under the circumstances. The contractor, or his representatives, may offer at a hearing such evidence or argument as they deem appropriate, subject to the exercise of reasonable discretion by the presiding officer as to the extent and manner of presenting such argument. In the event that the contractor desires to submit additional evidence or argument subsequent to an oral hearing, he will be permitted to do so within a time limit fixed by the presiding officer. In some instances, the evidence presented may be insufficient to permit the formulating of a recommendation. In such cases, the member conducting the hearing may require additional information to be submitted.

§ 2–60.13 Evidence.

The contractor may present to the member conducting the hearing sworn statements setting forth the factual material upon which he relies, or he may present witnesses who will testify to such facts. He will be expected to state and establish the grounds upon which his appeal is founded. Testimony and evidence may be submitted without regard to the formal rules of evidence, but shall, nevertheless, be subject to a determination by the member presiding with respect to propriety or relevance.

§ 2–60.14 Examination of witnesses.

Witnesses will not be required to testify under oath; however, if the circumstances so warrant, the member presiding at the hearing may warn the witness that his statements may be subject to the provisions of Title 18, U.S.C., sec. 287, 1001; and any other provisions of law imposing penalties for knowingly making false representations in connection with matters under consideration by Federal agencies. All witnesses will be subject to examination by the member conducting the hearing. Witnesses may then be re-examined by the contractor, or his counselor or other authorized representative.

§ 2–60.15 Briefs.

Briefs may be submitted in accordance with instructions by the member conducting the hearing, who may request preliminary briefs or statements describing the basis for the appeal and the questions involved in advance of a hearing.

§ 2–60.16 Copies of papers.

Copies of papers, books, records or documents will be accepted as evidence in lieu of the submission of the original documents where such submission is not practicable.

§ 2–60.17 Withdrawal of exhibits.

After the Administrator's decision has been rendered, upon request, original exhibits will be returned to the persons entitled to them.

§ 2–60.18 Representation.

A contractor may appear in person or may be represented by counsel, or by any other duly authorized person.

§ 2–60.19 Findings and decisions.

After consideration of the appeal, the member assigned thereto will advise the Administrator with respect to the case, and the Administrator will make such decision as he deems appropriate. The contractor will be notified of the Administrator's decision by the Chairman and will be furnished a copy thereof.

§ 2–60.20 Motions for rehearing.

In most instances, the decision of the Administrator as to questions of fact, by the terms of the contract involved, are final and conclusive and binding on the parties thereto. Motions for rehearing or reconsideration will not be considered unless based upon evidence not previously available to the contractor or considered by the member to whom the appeal was assigned, in making his recommendation to the Administrator. Such motions must be filed within a reasonable period of time from the date of receipt of the Administrator's decision and shall set forth specifically the grounds relied upon.

§ 2–60.21 Modification of rules.

The rules contained in this part are intended to render the contract appeals procedure just and simple and to prevent unjustifiable expense and delay. They may be relaxed or modified by the member conducting the hearing in the interests of justice and the expeditious settlement of disputes.

This part shall become effective upon the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 2, 1960.

E. R. QUESADA,
Administrator.

Title 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[FCC 60–617]

PART 1—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

Revision of FCC Form 316

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D.C., on the 25th day of May 1960;

The Commission having before it for consideration its revised FCC Form 316 (Assignment of License or Transfer of Control Application, Short Form), adopted and approved July 6, 1949; and

It appearing that changes in the "General Instructions" on the face of the form are solely of a clarifying nature and include the present texts of §§ 1.303, 1.329 and 1.330 of the rules, as revised when Part 1 was recodified in February 1958; and

It further appearing that certain other changes in the numbering, punctuating and wording of the instructions in the various paragraphs of the form are editorial in nature and designed to clarify the instructions; and

It further appearing that a need exists for an additional paragraph on the face of the form calling for Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws, properly certified, if the applicant is a corporation, or, the agreement creating the partnership, if that be the case; and

It further appearing that additional paragraphs on the back of the form calling for detailed financial statements, other broadcast interests, and the citizenship of the applicants, are needed; and

It further appearing that the revisions are procedural and editorial in nature and therefore the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act with respect to proposed rule making are not applicable;

It is ordered, That, effective May 25, 1960, pursuant to authority under sections 4(i) and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, FCC Form 316 (adopted July 6, 1949), Assignment of License or Transfer of Control Application, Short Form,[1] is revised to conform with the above changes. Copies of the revised form will be available upon request to the Commission in the near future.

Released: June 6, 1960.

Proposed Rule Making

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Fish and Wildlife Service

[50 CFR Part 130]

NORTH PACIFIC AREA

Definition; Salmon Fishery Prohibition

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of the Interior by section 12 of the act of August 12, 1954 (68 Stat. 700; 16 U.S.C. 1031), it is proposed to amend 50 CFR Part 130 as set forth below. The purpose of the amendment is to extend the boundaries of the area where it is prohibited to fish for or take salmon with any net and to define the term North Pacific area.

Such fishing has been prohibited by Federal regulations since 1957 under authority of the North Pacific Fisheries Act as far west as longitude 175 degrees west.

In order to provide identical coverage with that provided the Pacific Coast States, it is now proposed to extend the prohibition against such fishing throughout the North Pacific area.

It is the policy of the Department of the Interior whenever practicable, to afford the public an opportunity to participate in the rule making process. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments, suggestions, or objections with respect to the proposed amendments to the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, Washington 25, D.C., within thirty days of the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 1, 68 Stat. 698, as amended; 16 U.S.C. 1021 et seq.)

ROSS LEFFLER,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

JUNE 3, 1960.

Part 130—North Pacific Area, would be revised as follows:

§ 130.1 Definition.

For the purpose of the regulations of this part the North Pacific area is defined to include all waters of the North Pacific Ocean and Bering Sea north of 48 degrees 30 minutes north latitude, exclusive of waters adjacent to Alaska north and west of the International Boundary at Dixon Entrance which extend three miles seaward (a) from the coast, (b) from lines extending from headland to headland across all bays, inlets, straits, passes, sounds and entrances, and (c) from any island or groups of islands, including the islands of the Alexander Archipelago, and the waters between such groups of islands and the mainland.

SALMON FISHERY

§ 130.10 Salmon fishing prohibited, exception.

No person or fishing vessel subject to the jurisdiction of the United States shall fish for or take salmon with any net in the North Pacific area, as defined in this part: Provided, That this shall not apply to fishing for sockeye salmon or pink salmon south of latitude 49 degrees north.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Bureau of Customs

[19 CFR Part 24]

SERVICES AND EXPENSES OF EMPLOYEES

Reimbursement of Charges

Notice is hereby given pursuant to section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 1003), that under the authority of R.S. 161, as amended, 251, sec. 501, 65 Stat. 290, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759 (5 U.S.C. 22, 140; 19 U.S.C. 66, 1624), it is proposed to amend § 24.17(a)(11) of the Customs Regulations.

Sections 15.2, 15.3(b), and 15.10 of the Customs Regulations permit the performance of certain operations on imported merchandise under customs supervision for the benefit or convenience and at the expense of the importer. The compensation of the customs employee assigned to supervise such operations is not included in the charges for expenses incurred. When, however, the examination or other processing of merchandise before entry for consumption or warehouse is permitted under § 8.5 of the Customs Regulations at the request of an importer, the compensation of the customs employee supervising the operation, as well as any other expenses incurred, are required to be reimbursed to the Government.

It is believed that services rendered by the Government under §§ 15.2, 15.3(b) and 15.10, like those under § 8.5(b) should, in accordance with section 501 of the Act of August 31, 1951 (5 U.S.C. 140), be "self-sustaining to the full extent possible." Accordingly, it is proposed to amend § 24.17(a)(11) of the Customs Regulations as tentatively set forth below:

(11) When a customs officer or employee is assigned to supervise examination, sampling, weighing, repacking, segregation, or other operation on merchandise in accordance with §§ 8.5(b), 15.2, 15.3(b) and 15.10 of the regulations of this part, the compensation and other expenses of such officer or employee shall be reimbursed to the Government by the party-in-interest except when a warehouse proprietor is liable therefor.

Prior to the issuance of the proposed amendment, consideration will be given to any relevant data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Commissioner of Customs, Bureau of Customs, Washington 25, D.C., and received not later than 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. No hearing will be held.

[SEAL] C. A. EMERICK,
Acting Commissioner of Customs.

Approved: May 19, 1960.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 1028]

[Docket No. AO–314]

MILK IN CENTRAL ILLINOIS MARKETING AREA

Findings and Determinations on Results of Referendum on Proposed Marketing Order

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and of the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Peoria and Bloomington, Illinois, on August 25 through September 4, 1959, pursuant to notice thereof issued on July 20, 1959 (24 F.R. 5908) and notice of postponement of hearing issued July 28, 1959 (24 F.R. 6165) upon a proposed marketing agreement and order regulating the handling of milk in the Central Illinois marketing area.

The recommended decision of the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, was issued on February 15, 1960 (25 F.R. 1448) and the final decision of the Assistant Secretary was issued on May 4, 1960 (25 F.R. 4093) setting forth a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order as the appropriate and determined means for effectuating the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 as amended. Annexed to, and made a part of, the final decision of the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture issued May 4, 1960 (25 F.R. 4093, F.R. Doc. 60–4157) was an order directing that a referendum be conducted among producers to determine whether the required percentage of producers favored the issuance of the proposed order.

It is hereby found and determined on the basis of the results of the referendum conducted pursuant to the aforesaid referendum order that the issuance of the proposed order regulating the handling of milk in the Central Illinois marketing area as set forth in the aforesaid decision is not favored by the required percentage of producers who voted in the aforesaid referendum.

It is hereby found and determined that the proposed order set forth in the decision of the Assistant Secretary of May 4, 1960 (25 F.R. 4093) will not be issued or made effective because of the failure of the required percentage of producers voting in the referendum to approve or favor its issuance.

Issued at Washington, D.C., this 6th day of June 1960.

Assistant Secretary.

FEDERAL AVIATION AGENCY

[14 CFR Parts 600, 601]

[Airspace Docket No. 60-WA-91]

FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROL AREAS AND REPORTING POINTS

Modification

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (Section 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to §§ 600.6051, 600.6243, 601.6051, 601.6243, 601.1126 and 601.7001 of the regulations of the administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

VOR Federal airway No. 51 extends, in part, from Jacksonville, Fla., to Crossville, Tenn. VOR Federal airway No. 243 extends, in part, from Chattanooga, Tenn., to Bowling Green, Ky. The Federal Aviation Agency is considering redesignating the McDonough, Ga., to Crossville segment of Victor 51; revoking Victor 51W from Alma, Ga., to Chattanooga; designating east and west alternates from McDonough to Crossville, and designating an east alternate from Alma to Macon, Ga. It is also proposed to extend VOR Federal airway No. 243 from Jacksonville to Chattanooga via the Jacksonville VOR 319° and the Alma VOR 148° True radials; Alma VOR; Alma VOR 305° and the Vienna VOR 135° True radials; Vienna VOR; Atlanta VOR, including a west alternate via the Vienna VOR 286° and Atlanta VOR 164° True radials; the Atlanta VOR 009° and the Chattanooga VOR 152° True radials to Chattanooga.

The McDonough to Crossville segment of Victor 51 would be realigned from the McDonough VOR to the Crossville VOR direct station to station. An east alternate to Victor 51 would be designated from Alma to Macon via the intersection of the Alma VOR 335° True radial and the 137° True radial of a VOR to be installed approximately October 20, 1960, near Dublin, Ga., at latitude 32°30'54" N., longitude 83°07'56" W.; Dublin VOR direct to Macon. An east alternate to Victor 51 would be designated from the intersection of the McDonough VOR 345° and the Atlanta VOR 009° True radials to the Crossville VOR via the intersection of the Atlanta VOR 009° and the Crossville VOR 142° True radials. A west alternate to Victor 51 would be designated from the McDonough VOR to the Crossville VOR via the Chattanooga VOR. Victor 243 would be extended from Jacksonville to Chattanooga via the intersection of the Jacksonville VOR 319° and the Alma 148° True radials; Alma VOR; intersection of the Alma VOR 305° and the Vienna VOR 135° True radials; Vienna VOR; Atlanta VOR, including a west alternate from the Vienna VOR to the Atlanta VOR via the Vienna VOR 286° and the Atlanta VOR 164° True radials to the Atlanta VOR; intersection of the Atlanta VOR 009° and the Chattanooga VOR 152° True radials to Chattanooga VOR. These modifications are part of a plan to revise and increase the air traffic flow capabilities into and from the Atlanta terminal area by providing a direct route between the Atlanta terminal area and Crossville, and a bypass route around the Chattanooga terminal area. In addition, the east alternate to Victor 51 would provide a route for separating climbing and descending aircraft from aircraft operating on the main airway between Atlanta and Crossville. The extension of Victor 243 from Jacksonville to Chattanooga and the revocation of Victor 51 west alternate from Alma to Chattanooga would improve air traffic management by providing a single airway designation from Jacksonville to Scotland, Ind. The west alternate to Victor 243 from the Vienna VOR to the Atlanta VOR would provide a route for separating climbing and descending aircraft from aircraft operating on the main airway between Atlanta and Vienna. In addition, the Knoxville, Tenn., control area extension would be modified by deleting reference to the Chattanooga, Tenn., control area extension. The realignment of Victor 51 as proposed herein would serve as the western boundary and it would no longer be necessary to refer to the Chattanooga control area extension in the Knoxville control area extension description. This would be a change in the description of the Knoxville control area extension only, and would not increase the amount of controlled airspace.

Concurrently with this action, it is proposed to designate the following VOR reporting points:

Bobby Jones Intersection: The intersection of the Atlanta VOR 034° and the McDonough 333° True radials.

Benton Intersection: The intersection of the Chattanooga VOR 088° and the Crossville VOR 164° True radials.

Lithania Intersection: The intersection of the McDonough VOR 345° and the Atlanta VOR 054° True radials.

The Murphy, N. C., intersection (the intersection of the Chattanooga, Tenn., VOR 088° and the Knoxville, Tenn., VOR 191° True radials), and the Atlanta VOR and the McDonough VOR; would be revoked as Domestic VOR reporting points.

If these actions are taken, VOR Federal airway No. 51 and its associated control areas would be modified by redesignating the segment of Victor 51 from McDonough, Ga., to Crossville, Tenn., direct station to station, including an east alternate from the intersection of the McDonough VOR 345° and the Atlanta, Ga., VOR 009° True radials to the Crossville VOR via the intersection of the Atlanta VOR 009° and the Crossville VOR 142° True radials; including a west alternate from McDonough to Crossville via the Chattanooga, Tenn., VOR. An east alternate to Victor 51 would be designated from Alma, Ga., to Macon, Ga., via the intersection of the Alma VOR 335° and the Dublin, Ga., VOR 137° True radials; and the Dublin VOR. The present Victor 51 west alternate from Alma to Chattanooga would be revoked. VOR Federal airway No. 243 and its associated control areas would be extended from Jacksonville, Fla., to Chattanooga via the intersection of the Jacksonville VOR 319° and the Alma VOR 148° True radials; Alma VOR; intersection of the Alma VOR 305° and the Vienna, Ga., VOR 135° True radials; Vienna VOR; Atlanta VOR, including a west alternate from the Vienna VOR to the Atlanta VOR via the Vienna VOR 286° and the Atlanta VOR 164° True radials; and the intersection of the Atlanta VOR 009° and the Chattanooga VOR 152° True radials to Chattanooga.

Concurrently Bobby Jones, Ga., Benton, Tenn., and the Lithonia, Ga., intersections would be designated as Domestic VOR reporting points. The Murphy, N.C., Intersection and the Atlanta, Ga., VOR and the McDonough, Ga., VOR would be revoked as Domestic VOR reporting points. The Knoxville, Tenn., control area extension (§ 601.1126) would be modified by deleting in the description "on the southwest by the Chattanooga control area extension (§ 601.1373)".

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, P.O. Box 1689, Fort Worth 1, Tex. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 3, 1960.

CHARLES W. CARMODY,
Acting Director, Bureau of Air Traffic Management.

[Airspace Docket No. 60-WA-92]

FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROL AREAS AND REPORTING POINTS

Modification

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to §§ 600.6005, 601.6005 and 601.7001 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

VOR Federal airway No. 5 extends, in part, from Jacksonville, Fla., to Chattanooga, Tenn. The Federal Aviation Agency is considering modifying the present Victor 5 east alternate between Jacksonville and Macon, Ga., by realigning it via a VOR to be installed approximately October 20, 1960, near Dublin, Ga., at latitude 32°30'54" N., longitude 83°07'56" W., and extending it to McDonough, Ga. Victor 5 east would then be designated from the Jacksonville VOR via the intersection of the Jacksonville VOR 334° and the Dublin VOR 137° True radials; Dublin VOR; the intersection of the Dublin VOR 330° and the McDonough VOR 122° True radials to the McDonough VOR. It is also proposed to designate an east alternate to Victor 5 from McDonough to Chattanooga via the intersection of the McDonough VOR 345° and the Chattanooga VOR 118° True radials. Concurrently, Victor 5 west alternate from Alma to Chattanooga would be revoked. The Federal Aviation Agency proposes to extend VOR Federal airway No. 243 between Alma and Chattanooga via the present alignment of Victor 5 west.

This is a part of a plan to revise and increase the air traffic flow capabilities into and from the Atlanta terminal area. Victor 5 and its east alternate from McDonough to Chattanooga would provide a dual airway system between the Atlanta and Chattanooga terminals. Victor 5 east alternate from Jacksonville to McDonough would provide a dual airway system between Jacksonville and Atlanta terminals.. Concurrently with these actions, it is proposed to designate Baxley, Ga., Intersection (intersection of the Jacksonville VOR 334° and the Alma, Ga., VOR 035° True radials) and to revoke Coffee, Ga., Intersection (intersection of the Jacksonville VOR 334° and the Alma VOR 009° True radials) as Domestic VOR reporting points.

If these actions are taken, VOR Federal airway No. 5 and its associated control areas would be modified by designating an east alternate from Jacksonville, Fla., to McDonough, Ga., via the intersection of the Jacksonville VOR 334° and the Dublin, Ga., VOR 137° True radials; Dublin VOR; intersection of the Dublin VOR 330° and the McDonough VOR 122° True radials. Victor 5 east alternate from McDonough to Chattanooga, Tenn., would be designated via the intersection of the McDonough VOR 345° and the Chattanooga VOR 118° True radials. Victor 5 west alternate from Alma, Ga., to Chattanooga would be revoked. The Baxley, Ga., Intersection would be designated and the Coffee, Ga., Intersection would be revoked as Domestic VOR reporting points.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, P.O. Box 1689, Fort Worth 1, Tex. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 3, 1960.

FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROL AREAS AND REPORTING POINTS

Modification

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering amendments to §§ 600.6267, 601.6267 and 601.7001 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

VOR Federal airway No. 267 presently extends from Miami, Fla., to Jacksonville, Fla. The Federal Aviation Agency is considering the modification of Victor 267 by extending it from the Jacksonville VOR to the Norcross, Ga., VOR via the intersection of the Jacksonville VOR 334° and the Dublin, Ga., VOR 137° True radials, and the Dublin VOR. The Dublin VOR is scheduled to be installed approximately October 20, 1960 near Dublin, Ga., at latitude 32°30'54" N., longitude 83°07'56" W.

This extension would facilitate air traffic management and flight planning by providing a bypass route northeast of the Macon, Ga., and Atlanta, Ga., terminal areas for air traffic proceeding to northern and northwestern terminals. In addition, § 601.7001, Domestic VOR reporting points, would be modified by adding the following reporting points:

1. Dublin, Ga., VOR.

2. Smart, Ga., Intersection: The intersection of the Macon, Ga., VOR 056° and the Dublin, Ga., 330° True radials.

3. Porterdale, Ga., Intersection: The intersection of the McDonough, Ga., VOR 063° and the Norcross, Ga., VOR 150° True radials.

If this action is taken, VOR Federal airway No. 267 and its associated control areas would be modified by extending it from Jacksonville, Fla., to Norcross, Ga., via the intersection of the Jacksonville VOR 334° and the Dublin, Ga., VOR 137° True radials; and the Dublin, Ga., VOR. In addition, the following Domestic VOR reporting points would be designated; Dublin, Ga., VOR; Smart, Ga., Intersection; and the Porterdale, Ga., Intersection.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, P.O. Box 1689, Fort Worth 1, Tex. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

FEDERAL AIRWAYS AND CONTROL AREAS

Modification

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to Parts 600 and 601 and §§ 600.6066, 600.6454, 601.6066 and 601.6454 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

VOR Federal airway No. 454 presently extends in part from Evergreen, Ala., to McDonough, Ga., and from Atlanta, Ga., to Fort Mill, S.C. VOR Federal Airway No. 66 presently extends from San Diego, Calif., to Sulphur Springs, Tex. VOR Federal airway No. 476 presently extends from McDonough to Fort Mill. The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration redesignation of the portion of Victor 454 between Evergreen, Ala., and Fort Mill as follows: From the Evergreen VOR via the intersection of the Evergreen VOR 075° and the Columbus, Ga., VOR 219° True radials; Columbus VOR; McDonough VOR; Greenwood, S.C., VOR; intersection of the Greenwood VOR 060° and the Fort Mill VOR 227° True radials, to the Fort Mill VOR. If Victor 454 is redesignated as proposed herein, it would coincide with Victor 476 from McDonough to Fort Mill. Therefore, to simplify the airway numbering system it is proposed to revoke Victor 476 concurrently with the redesignation of Victor 454. It is also proposed to designate an additional segment of Victor 66 from McDonough to Fort Mill via the intersection of the McDonough VOR 036° and the Athens, Ga., VOR 241° True radials; Athens VOR; intersection of the Athens VOR 062° and the Fort Mill VOR 242° True radials. These modifications are part of a plan to revise and increase the air traffic flow capabilities into and from the Atlanta terminal area by providing airway continuity and bypass routes around the Atlanta terminal area.

If these actions are taken, VOR Federal airway No. 454 and its associated control areas would be redesignated from Evergreen, Ala., to Fort Mill, S.C., via the intersection of the Evergreen VOR 075° and the Columbus, Ga., VOR 219° True radials; Columbus VOR; McDonough, Ga., VOR; Greenwood, S.C., VOR; intersection of the Greenwood VOR 060° and the Fort Mill VOR 227° True radials. A segment of VOR Federal airway No. 66 and its associated control areas would be designated from the McDonough, Ga., VOR to the Fort Mill, S.C., VOR via the intersection of the McDonough VOR 036° and the Athens, Ga., VOR 241° True radials; Athens VOR; intersection of the Athens VOR 062° and the Fort Mill VOR 242° True radials. VOR Federal airway No. 476 and its associated control areas would be revoked.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, P.O. Box 1689, Fort Worth 1, Tex. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 3, 1960.

CHARLES W. CARMODY,
Acting Director, Bureau of Air Traffic Management.

ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION

[Docket No. 50-10]

COMMONWEALTH EDISON CO.

Issuance of Amended Facility License

Please take notice that the Atomic Energy Commission by an order of the Presiding Officer dated May 16, 1960, has amended License No. DPR-2 issued to Commonwealth Edison Company, Chicago, Illinois. The amended license, which is effective as of the date given below, authorizes Commonwealth Edison to operate its Dresden reactor to a power level of 630 megawatts (thermal) but provides that Commonwealth Edison shall not operate the reactor in excess of or at a steady-state power level of 630 megawatts (thermal) without further order of the Commission.

The license provides for a further public hearing after completion of the rated power tests to consider the issuance of a license for the full term of years requested by Commonwealth Edison. Such hearing will be held upon 15 days notice to the public.

Dated at Germantown, Md., this 2d day of June 1960.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

H. L. PRICE,
Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

LAND BURIAL OF PACKAGED LOW-LEVEL RADIOACTIVE WASTES

AEC Charges

1. This notice sets forth U.S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) charges for land burial of packaged solid waste substances consisting of or contaminated with source, special nuclear or byproduct material and having a low level of radioactivity (packaged low-level radioactive wastes), generated by AEC-licensed users of such materials.

2. Land burial of packaged low-level radioactive wastes will be permitted at AEC sites located near Oak Ridge, Tennessee and Idaho Falls, Idaho (the sites). Land burials of packaged low-level radioactive wastes have been carried on at the sites for AEC and others for a number of years. The sites have been established as interim land burial sites pending designation of permanent land burial sites.

3. The charges for land burial at the sites are established as $.70 per cubic foot for packaged low-level radioactive wastes, with a minimum charge of $21.00 for batches consisting of 30 cubic feet or less. All charges are f.o.b. the sites. Although these charges are subject to adjustment, the AEC intends to maintain them as stable as possible. Arrangements for land burial of packaged low-level radioactive wastes should be made with the AEC's Oak Ridge Operations Office, for land burial at Oak Ridge, and with the Idaho Operations Office, for land burial at Idaho Falls. Requests for information concerning terms and conditions of such arrangements should be directed to:

Manager of Operations, P.O. Box E, Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Manager of Operations, P.O. Box 1221, Idaho Falls, Idaho.

4. The types of packaged low-level radioactive wastes to which this notice applies include such items as broken glassware, paper wipes, rags, ashes, animal carcasses, laboratory paraphernalia, etc.

5. Shipments of packaged low-level radioactive wastes to the sites must be made in accordance with the regulations and requirements of transportation regulatory agencies, and the AEC where applicable.

Dated at Germantown, Md., this 31st day of May 1960.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

A. R. LUEDECKE,
General Manager.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. 13586, 13587; FCC 60-646]

JAMES C. FIELDS AND ALL-FLORIDA COMMUNICATIONS CO.

Order Designating Applications for Consolidated Hearing on Stated Issues

In re applications of James C. Fields, Tampa, Florida, Docket No. 13586, File No. 1964-C2-R-60, for a renewal of the license for station KIK578 in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service at Tampa, Florida; Alan H. Rosenson, d/b as, All-Florida Communications Company, Tampa, Florida, Docket No. 13587, File Nos. 2335-C2-MP-60, for a modification of the construction permit for Station KIQ516 in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service at Tampa, Florida.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D.C., on the 1st day of June 1960;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications for authorizations in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service at Tampa, Florida; and

It appearing that the application of James C. Fields to renew the license for station KIK578 on 35.22 Mc and the application of Alan H. Rosenson to modify his existing construction permit for station KIQ516 to change from 43.22 Mc to 35.22 Mc would result in harmful mutual interference between them; and

It further appearing that satisfactory one-way signaling service requires a minimum radio signal field strength ratio of 5 to 1 (14 decibels) between desired and undesired co-channel stations; and

It further appearing that § 21.504 of our rules prescribes a median field strength contour of 43 decibels above one microvolt per meter as the limit of reliable service area for stations engaged in one-way signaling service; and

It further appearing that the 43 dbu median field strength set forth in § 21.504 of the rules is based upon the Commission's report T.R.R. 3.3.1. entitled "Service Field Intensity Required for Radio Paging Service at 40 Mc/s"; and

It further appearing that the procedure set forth in a Commission Report No. T.R.R. 4.3.8, entitled "A Summary of the Technical Factors Affecting the Allocation of Land Mobile Facilities in the 152 to 158 Megacycle Band", and use of the F(50,50) and F(50,10) radio wave propagation charts for TV channel 2 (contained in Part 3 of the Commission's rules and the Commission's Sixth Report and Order in Docket No. 8736, et al.) adjusted downward in field strength by 6 decibels, to compensate for the change in receiving antenna height to 6 feet above ground in lieu of the 30 foot height for which the charts were drawn, are proper for the evaluation of the service contours and interference potential of the stations proposed in this proceeding; and

It further appearing that in accordance with § 21.100 of the Commission's rules, each frequency available for assignment in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service is normally required to be assigned exclusively to a single applicant in any service area in order to permit the rendition of service on an interference-free basis; and

It further appearing that Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc. (hereinafter called Pinson) may have assumed the full operational control of station KIK578, which station is licensed to James C. Fields, without having first obtained the Commission's consent therefor, as required by section 310(b) of our Act and § 21.29(b) of our rules, and despite actual notice not to do so; and

It further appearing that the obtaining of the license for station KIK578 in the name of Fields may have been in furtherance of a scheme by Pinson and Fields to mislead the Commission into believing that such facility would be operated by Fields rather than Pinson; and

It further appearing that the operation of station KIK578 may not have been in accordance with the sworn statements of Pinson and Fields executed March 17, 1958, relative thereto; and

It further appearing that Pinson and Fields may have willfully and deliberately made false representations to the Commission and its representatives for the purpose of misleading or misinforming the Commission relative to matters material to the grant of radio authorizations to such persons and relative to the use and operation of station KIK578; and

It further appearing that we are unable to find, at this time, that Fields possesses the necessary technical and other (character and moral) qualifications to be a licensee in this service; and

It further appearing that the Commission has advised each of the above entitled applicants and Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc., by various letters transmitted pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, as to the reasons why the subject applications cannot be granted without hearing, and that replies have been received from each of the applicants and from Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc., and that such replies have been considered; and

It further appearing that though there has been a challenge of Rosenson's technical and other qualifications to be a licensee in this service, there have been offered no facts to support such beliefs and we have no independent knowledge of facts reflecting adversely on Rosenson's qualifications; and

It further appearing that Fields is financially qualified to be a licensee in this service and that Rosenson is legally, financially and technically qualified to be a licensee in this service.

It is ordered, That pursuant to the provisions of section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-entitled applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding, which proceeding is to be further consolidated, in view of the matters mentioned above, with a hearing ordered this date in the matter of certain applications of Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc., (File Nos. 683-C2-P-59, 684-C2-P-59, 785-C2-P-59, 263-C2-MP-60, 1380-C2-R-60, 207-C2-R-60 and 1069-C2-R-60), at the Commission's offices in Washington, D.C., and at such places in Tampa and St. Petersburg, Florida, as may be designated by the Presiding Examiner, on a date or dates to be hereafter specified, upon the following issues:

(a) To determine James C. Fields' technical and character qualifications to be a licensee in this service.

(b) To determine whether the statement made to the Commission, under oath, on March 17, 1958 by Charles P. B. Pinson, President of Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc., relative to the operation of station KIK578, was true and correct when made and whether Fields was cognizant of such statement.

(c) To determine, in the event the statement mentioned in issue (b) above is found to be untrue in any respect, whether such untrue statement was made with intent to mislead and misinform the Commission, and whether Fields was cognizant thereof.

(d) To determine whether Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc. or Charles P. B. Pinson have made false and misleading representations to the Commission and its representatives relevant and material to the grant of radio authorizations for station KIK578 and material and relevant to the use and operation of such station, and whether Fields was cognizant thereof.

(e) To determine whether the statement made to the Commission, under oath, on March 17, 1958 by James C. Fields, relative to the operation of station KIK578, was true and correct when made.

(f) To determine, in the event the statement mentioned in issue (e) above is found to be untrue in any respect, whether such untrue statement was made with intent to mislead and misinform the Commission.

(g) To determine whether James C. Fields has made false and misleading representations to the Commission and its representatives relevant and material to the grant of radio authorizations for station KIK578 and material and relevant to the use and operation of such station.

(h) To determine the basis for, and the extent of, the participation of Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc. or Charles P. B. Pinson in the control and operation of station KIK578 and to determine the legal, financial and other relationships heretofore and presently existing between Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc. or Charles P. B. Pinson, on the one hand, and James C. Fields, licensee of record of station KIK578 at Tampa, Florida, on the other hand.

(i) To determine whether James C. Fields has violated the provisions of section 310(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 21.29(h) of our rules in relation to station KIK578.

(j) To determine, on the basis of the evidence adduced on all of the above issues, whether James C. Fields should be disqualified for reasons, other than technical qualifications, from being a licensee in this service.

(k) To determine, on a comparative basis, the nature and extent of service now provided by station KIK578 in Tampa, including the rates, charges, practices, classifications, regulations, and facilities pertaining thereto.

(l) To determine, on a comparative basis, the nature and extent of service proposed by Alan H. Rosenson in Tampa, including the rates, charges, practices, classifications, regulations and facilities pertaining thereto.

(m) To determine the area and population presently covered by station KIK578 in Tampa.

(n) To determine the area and population to be covered by Rosenson's proposed station in Tampa.

(o) To determine the nature and extent of the need of the public for service of the kind proposed by Rosenson and Fields, respectively.

(p) To determine, on the basis of the engineering standards relative to the 43 dbu contour, as set forth above, whether any harmful interference would result from the simultaneous cochannel operations on the frequency 35.22 Mc by stations KIK578 and KIQ516 at Tampa, and, if so, in view of the nature of the service proposed, whether such service would be undesirable or intolerable.

(q) To determine the reasons for which Alan H. Rosenson seeks to modify the construction permit for station KIQ516 to change the authorized frequency of his proposed station from 43.22 Mc to 35.22 Mc.

(r) To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced on the foregoing issues, whether the public interest, convenience or necessity would be better served by (1) a grant or a denial of the renewal of license application for station KIK578; (2) a grant or a denial of the application to modify the construction permit for station KIQ516.

It is further ordered, That the parties desiring to participate herein shall file their appearances in accordance with § 1.140 of the Commission's rules.

Released: June 6, 1960.

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned and described applications;

It appearing that except as indicated by the issues specified below, each of the instant applicants is legally, technically, financially, and otherwise qualified to construct and operate its instant proposal; and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the Commission, in a letter dated January 21, 1960, and incorporated herein by reference, notified the instant applicants, and any other known parties in interest, of the grounds and reasons for the Commission's inability to make a finding that a grant of any one of the applications would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity; and that a copy of the aforementioned letter is available for public inspection at the Commission's offices; and

It further appearing that the instant applicants filed timely replies to the aforementioned letter, which replies have not, however, entirely eliminated the grounds and reasons precluding a grant of the said applications and requiring an evidentiary hearing on the particular issues as hereinafter specified; and in which the applicants stated that they would appear at a hearing on the instant applications; and

It further appearing that by letter dated February 9, 1960, Tennessee Valley Radio and Television Corporation, licensee of Station WMSL, Decatur, Alabama, agreed to accept any interference from the proposal of Station WJLD (BP-12559) in the event that the application of Station WJLD to increase its daytime power to one kilowatt is granted; and

It further appearing that in reply to the Commission's letter of January 21, 1960, E. H. Eiland requests (1) a grant of his application without hearing; (2) a grant of his application on condition that, "if interference to WRBL [Columbus, Georgia] should exceed the limits in operation", the applicant would (a) change frequency, (b) install a directional antenna to protect WRBL, or (c) cease operation; or (3) consideration of his application in accordance with the waiver provisions provided by § 1.391 of the Commission rules; [1] and

It further appearing that in support of Eiland's requests, he states that he will accept the interference from Station WRBL, Columbus, Georgia; that the interference his proposal would cause to WRBL is less than WRBL would cause to his proposal and that the interference would fall in a sparsely populated area in Alabama; that Columbus is served by five other standard broadcast stations in Columbus and a sixth station in nearby Phenix City, Alabama; that WRBL is part of a wealthy chain and that the need for Eiland's proposed station "far outweighs the improbable loss to WRBL"; that the WJHO proposal herein, with which Eiland's proposal is in conflict, is in conflict with four existing stations and four proposed operations; that the proposed "primary service" of WJHO might possibly encompass Lanett, Alabama, the location of Station WRLD; [2] that Miles H. Ferguson has interests in both WRLD and WJHO and would, in effect, have two stations in the same town; that the proposed WJHO power increase would not render any new service in the area common to both WRLD and WJHO but would only duplicate WRLD service in the area served thereby; and that Eiland accepts the interference from the WJHO proposal; and

It further appearing that by letter of February 10, 1960, counsel for Station WRBL requested that Eiland's application be designated for hearing and that the licensee of Station WRBL be made a party to the proceeding and, therefore, a hearing is necessary; and

It further appearing that the Commission is of the opinion that the present situation is not one which would warrant a conditional grant of the Eiland application and that the questions presented require resolution in the hearing ordered below; and

It further appearing that with respect to Eiland's request for consideration of his application in accordance with the special waiver procedure provided by § 1.364 of the Commission rules must be denied because the application had not been designated for hearing at the time the request was made, Eiland did not indicate that copies of his request were served on the other parties involved and no other party to this proceeding has requested consideration of its application in accordance with the waiver procedure; and

It further appearing that with respect to Eiland's allegations concerning the interests of Miles H. Ferguson, the Commission considered the overlap of the service areas of Stations WJHO and WRLD in granting an application for Commission consent to the acquisition of positive control of Station WRLD by Ferguson on December 16, 1959, after finding that the overlap of the service areas of WJHO and WRLD was not substantial within the meaning of § 3.35 of the Commission rules on multiple ownership; that WRLD does not provide an adequate signal for service to Opelika; that WJHO does not provide an adequate signal for service to Lanett, Alabama, or West Point, Georgia, and would not provide an adequate signal if authorized to increase daytime power; and that, therefore, Ferguson's interest in WRLD is not significant in this proceeding; and

It further appearing that after consideration of the foregoing and the applicants' replies, the Commission is still unable to make the statutory finding that a grant of the applications would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity; and is of the opinion that the applications must be designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding on the issues specified below;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the instant applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent Order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which would receive primary service from the proposal of E. H. Eiland, Jr., and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the proposed operations of each of the other applicants and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine the nature and extent of the interference, if any, that each of the instant proposals would cause to and receive from each other and all other existing standard broadcast stations, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to the areas and populations affected by interference from any of the instant proposals.

4. To determine whether the instant proposal of Station WNEX would involve objectionable interference with Stations WCOH, Newnan, Georgia; WCQS, Alma, Georgia; WJHO, Opelika, Alabama; WMGA, Moultrie, Georgia; and WSGC, Elberton, Georgia, or any other existing standard broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine whether the instant proposal of Station WJLD would involve objectionable interference with Stations WFPA, Fort Payne, Alabama; WJHO, Opelika, Alabama; WMSL, Decatur, Alabama; and WXAL, Demopolis, Alabama, or any other existing standard broadcast stations, and if so, the nature and extent thereof; the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

6. To determine whether the instant proposal of E. H. Eiland, Jr., would involve objectionable interference with Station WRBL, Columbus, Georgia, or any other existing standard broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

7. To determine whether the instant proposal of Station WJHO would involve objectionable interference with Stations WCOH, Newnan, Georgia; WJLD, Homewood, Alabama; WNEX, Macon, Georgia; and WRBL, Columbus, Georgia, or any other existing standard broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

8. To determine whether the instant proposal of Station WMGA would involve objectionable interference with Stations WCQS, Alma, Georgia; WNEX, Macon, Georgia; and WPRY, Perry, Florida, or any other existing standard broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

9. To determine whether the instant proposal of Station WCOH would involve objectionable interference with Stations WJHO, Opelika, Alabama; and WNEX, Macon, Georgia, or any other existing standard broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

10. To determine whether the instant proposal of Station WSGC would involve objectionable interference with Stations WHPB, Belton, South Carolina; WTHE, Spartanburg, South Carolina; and WNEX, Macon, Georgia, or any other existing standard broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

11. To determine whether the interference received from any of the other proposals herein and any existing stations would affect more than ten percent of the population within the normally protected primary service area of any one of the instant proposals in contravention of § 3.28(c)(3) of the Commission rules and, if so, whether circumstances exist which would warrant a waiver of said section.

12. To determine whether overlap of the 2 mv/m and 25 mv/m contours would occur between the instant proposal of Opelika-Auburn Broadcasting Company (WJHO) and Station WRBL, Columbus, Georgia in contravention of § 3.37 of the Commission rules, and, if so, whether circumstances exist which would warrant a waiver of said section.

13. To determine whether the transmitter site proposed by Newman Broadcasting Company (WCOH) is satisfactory with particular regard to any conditions that may exist in the vicinity of the antenna system which would distort the proposed antenna radiation pattern.

14. To determine, in the light of section 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which of the instant proposals would best provide a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of radio service.

15. To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues which, if any, of the instant applications should be granted.

It is further ordered, That, Queen City Broadcasting System, Incorporated, George A. Gothberg, Jr., Demopolis Broadcasting Company, Inc., Columbus Broadcasting Company, Inc., Taylor County Broadcasting Company, Community Broadcasting Company, Inc., and Spartanburg Broadcasting Company, licensees of stations WCQS, WFPA, WXAL, WRBL, WPRY, WHPB and WTHE, respectively, are made parties to the proceeding.

It is further ordered, That each of the applicants herein except E. H. Eiland, Jr., be made parties to the proceeding with respect to their existing operations.

It is further ordered, That, to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard, each of the instant applicants and parties respondent herein, pursuant to § 1.140 of the Commission rules, in person or by attorney, shall, within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

It is further ordered, That, the issues in the above-captioned proceeding may be enlarged by the Examiner, on his own motion or on petition properly filed by a party to the proceeding, and upon sufficient allegations of fact in support thereof, by the addition of the following issue: To determine whether the funds available to the applicant will give reasonable assurance that the proposals set forth in the application will be effectuated.

CHARLES P. B. PINSON, INC.

Order Designating Applications for Consolidated Hearing on Stated Issues

In re applications of Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc., for a construction permit to change location and change antenna at existing licensed two-way station KIG289 in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service at St. Petersburg, Florida, Docket No. 13579, File No. 683-C2-P-59; for a construction permit to change location and change antenna at existing licensed one-way station KIG843 in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service at St. Petersburg, Florida, Docket No. 13580, File No. 684-C2-P-59; for a construction permit to establish a new one-way signaling facility in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service at Clearwater, Florida, Docket No. 13581, File No. 785-C2-P-59; for a modification of construction permit to extend date of required completion of construction and change control point for station KIN652 in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service at Jacksonville, Florida, Docket No. 13582, File No. 263-C2-MP-60; for renewal of the license for station KIB386 in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service at Tampa, Florida, Docket No. 13583, File No. 207-C2-R-60; for renewal of the license for station KIG289 in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service at St. Petersburg, Florida, Docket No. 13584, File No. 1069-C2-R-60; for renewal of the license for station KIG-843 in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service at St. Petersburg, Florida, Docket No. 13585, File No. 1380-C2-R-60.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D.C., on the 1st day of June, 1960;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications for authorizations in the Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio Service;

It appearing that Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc. (Pinson) may have assumed the full operational control of station KIK578, a one-way signaling station at Tampa, Florida, licensed to James C. Fields (Fields), without having first obtained the Commission's consent therefor, as required by section 310(b) of our Act and § 21.29(b) of our rules and despite actual notice not to so do; and [1] Apparently Eiland refers to the procedure now provided by new § 1.364 which supersedes former § 1.391.

[2] WRLD is licensed to serve Lanett, Alabama-West Point, Georgia.

It further appearing that the obtaining of the license for station KIK578 in the name of Fields may have been in furtherance of a scheme by Pinson and Fields to mislead the Commission into believing that such facility would be operated by Fields rather than Pinson; and

It further appearing that the operation of station KIK578 may not have been in accordance with the sworn statements of Fields and Pinson executed on March 17, 1958, relative thereto; and

It further appearing that Pinson and Fields may have willfully and deliberately made false representations to the Commission and its representatives for the purpose of misleading or misinforming the Commission relative to matters material to the grant of radio authorizations to such persons and relative to the use and operation of station KIK578; and

It further appearing that Pinson may have violated other Federal statutes, particularly those pertaining to income tax and those pertaining to wages and hours of employees; and

It further appearing that we are unable to find, at this time, that Pinson possesses the necessary technical and other (character and moral) qualifications to be a licensee in this service; and

It further appearing that the Commission has advised the applicant and all known parties in interest by various letters transmitted pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, as to the reasons why the captioned applications cannot be granted without a hearing and that replies have been received from the applicant, and from other parties in interest, and that such replies have been considered; and

It further appearing that Pinson, in his individual capacity, though not an attorney-at-law, has requested a waiver of § 1.23(a) of the Commission's rules so as to permit him, individually, to represent the licensee and applicant corporation as attorney; and

It further appearing that pursuant to the provisions of § 1.23(a) of our rules and well established and sound precedents set forth in our decisions (see 4 FCC 281; 4 FCC 293; 13 RR 1) this request must be denied;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the captioned applications are designated for hearing in a proceeding which is consolidated, in view of the matters mentioned above, with a hearing ordered this date in the matter of certain applications of James C. Fields and Alan H. Rosenson, File Nos. 1964–C2–R–60 and 2335–C2–MP–60, respectively, at the Commission's offices in Washington, D.C. and at such places in Tampa and St. Petersburg, Florida, as may be designated by the Presiding Examiner, on a date or dates to be hereinafter specified, upon the following issues:

(1) To determine Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc.'s technical and character qualifications to be a licensee in this service.

(2) To determine whether the statement made to the Commission under oath on March 17, 1958 by Charles P. B. Pinson, President of Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc., relative to the operation of station KIK578 was true and correct when made.

(3) To determine, in the event the statement mentioned in issue 2 above is found to be untrue in any respect, whether such untrue statement was made with intent to mislead and misinform the Commission.

(4) To determine whether Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc. or Charles P. B. Pinson have made false and misleading representations to the Commission and its representatives relevant and material to the grant of radio authorizations for station KIK578 and material and relevant to the use and operation of such station.

(5) To determine the basis for, and the extent of, the participation of Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc. or Charles P. B. Pinson in the control and operation of station KIK578 and to determine the legal, financial and other relationships heretofore and presently existing between Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc., or Charles P. B. Pinson, on the one hand, and James C. Fields, licensee of record of station KIK578 at Tampa, Florida, on the other hand.

(6) To determine whether Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc. or Charles P. B. Pinson have violated the provisions of section 310(b) of the Communications Act and Section 21.19(h) of our rules in relation to station KIK578.

(7) To determine whether Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc. or Charles P. B. Pinson have been found, by competent authority, to have violated any Federal statute relating to income tax or pertaining to wages and hours of their employees.

(8) To determine, on the basis of the evidence adduced on all of the above issues, whether Charles P. B. Pinson, Inc. should be disqualified for reasons, other than technical qualifications, from being a licensee in this service.

(9) To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced on the foregoing issues, whether the public interest, convenience or necessity would be served by a grant of the captioned applications.

It is further ordered, That Pinson's request for waiver of § 1.23(a) of the Commission's rules is denied; and

It is further ordered, That the parties desiring to participate herein shall file their appearances in accordance with § 1.140 of the Commission's rules.

Released: June 6, 1960.

The Hearing Examiner having under consideration further proceedings in the above-entitled matter following a prehearing conference held on May 25, 1960;

It appearing that the issues in the above-entitled matter may be divided into three areas of testimony involving: (1) the Florida applications; (2) the North Carolina applications; and (3) a very limited area of evidence involving WJNC at Jacksonville, North Carolina and the Florida group; and

It further appearing that the hearing in this matter, by agreement of the parties, may be divided into two groups; namely, the first group composed of the Florida applicants and the second group composed of the North Carolina applicants; and

It further appearing that the two North Carolina stations, WJNC and WRAL, are preparing to file petitions with the Commission for severance and grant of their applications from this hearing; and

It further appearing that the other parties to this proceeding desire to proceed with their applications without awaiting Commission action upon the said petitions for severance and grant, and that such a procedure is agreeable to all the parties, and good cause exists for such action;

It is ordered, This 1st day of June 1960, that the parties in the above-entitled proceeding shall be divided into two groups; namely, Group I, composed of the Florida stations, and Group II, composed of WJNC, Jacksonville, North Carolina and WRAL, Raleigh, North Carolina; and

It is further ordered, That Group I shall be governed by the following dates with respect to the future conduct of the proceedings:

July 29, 1960—an informal exchange of all engineering information;
August 31, 1960—the formal exchange of all engineering exhibits based upon the exchanged information, as well as all exhibits with respect to the 307(b) issue set forth in the Commission's Order of Designation;
September 7, 1960—the notification of witnesses whose presence is desired at the hearing by the parties;
September 13, 1960—the evidentiary hearing with respect to Group I; and

It is further ordered, That future dates concerning Group II, the North Carolina stations, are to await the action of the Commission upon their respective petitions for severance and grant.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. DA–989, DA–994]

LANDS WITHDRAWN IN POWER SITE RESERVES NOS. 87 AND 261, AND PROJECT NO. 284

Finding of the Commission and Partial Vacation of Withdrawal Under Section 24 of the Federal Water Power Act

JUNE 2, 1960.

Lands withdrawn in Power Site Reserves Nos. 87 and 261 and Project No. 284, Docket No. DA–989–California, Mrs. Alfred G. Porteous; Docket No. DA–994–California, George M. Downing.

An application, designated Docket No. DA–989–California, was filed by Mrs. Alfred G. Porteous, of Glencoe, California, for restoration to entry, requiring a determination under section 24 of the Federal Power Act with respect to the following-described lands:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN, CALIFORNIA

T. 6 N., R. 13 E.,
Sec. 20, lots 4 and 5.

and an application, designated Docket No. DA–994–California, was filed by George M. Downing, of San Jose, California, for restoration to entry, requiring a determination under section 24 of the Federal Power Act with respect to the following-described lands:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN, CALIFORNIA

T. 6 N., R. 14 E.,
Sec. 7, E½NE¼ and NE¼SE¼;
Sec. 8, W½NW¼.

The above-described lands in sec. 20 lie almost a mile south of the South Fork Mokelumne River and the Middle Fork of the Mokelumne and its tributary, Forest Creek, flow through the southern portions of the above-described lands in secs. 7 and 8.

The lands in sec. 20 are withdrawn in Power Site Reserve No. 261; dated April 19, 1912, and the lands in secs. 7 and 8 are withdrawn in Power Site Reserve No. 87, dated July 2, 1910, based on Temporary Power Site Withdrawal of December 20, 1909. The land in the NE¼SE¼ of sec. 7, among other lands, was also reserved pursuant to the filing on July 31, 1922, of an application for a preliminary permit for proposed Project No. 284. The preliminary permit expired March 5, 1924.

A determination under section 24 of the Federal Power Act for highway purposes was made by the Commission on September 9, 1941 (Docket No. DA–599–California) with respect to a portion of the land in the SE¼NW¼ of sec. 20, which included above-described lot 5.

The development of the water resources of the Mokelumne River basin has been and is continuing to be the subject of considerable review. The above-described lands in sec. 20, ranging in elevation from 2,480 feet to almost 2,800 feet, are located a short distance downstream from one of the several developments contemplated under proposed Project No. 2128, a comprehensive development to be located on the Mokelumne River and the South Fork of Mokelumne River, for which an application for a license is pending before this Commission. The lands will not be affected by the proposed project and, since it does not appear likely that any greater development would affect the lands, their power value is negligible.

As to the development of the Middle Fork, the existing Middle Fork dam and reservoir project, located just upstream from the lands in secs. 7 and 8, is operated for irrigation and municipal water supply. The enlargement of the project has been suggested but the development of power has not been mentioned.

Proposed Project No. 284 contemplated the development of several small dams on the Middle Fork for diversion to the South Fork and thence to a storage reservoir on the North Fork Calaveras River, primarily for irrigation with an accompanying generation of a small amount of power. Such diversion dams probably could be constructed at numerous points along this particular reach of river, making the power value of any specific portion of the lands conjectural.

Moreover, since it appears that future development of the water resources of the Middle Fork, limited by a comparative small drainage area, will be for domestic water supply and irrigation, the power value of the lands is negligible.

The Commission finds:

(1) Inasmuch as the above-described lands have negligible value for purposes of power development, the existing power withdrawals pertaining thereto serve no useful purpose.

(2) It has no objection to the revocation by the Secretary of the Interior of Power Site Reserves Nos. 87 and 261 insofar as they pertain to the above-described lands.

(3) Vacation of the existing power withdrawal pertaining to the above-described land in the NE¼SE¼ of sec. 7, T. 6 N., R. 14 E., Mount Diablo meridian, California, under section 24 of the Federal Water Power Act pursuant to the filing of the application for a preliminary permit for proposed Project No. 284 is in the public interest.

The Commission orders: The existing power withdrawal pertaining to the above-described land in the NE¼SE¼ of sec. 7, T. 6 N., R. 14 E., Mount Diablo meridian, California, under section 24 of the Federal Water Power Act pursuant to the filing of the application for a preliminary permit for proposed Project No. 284 is vacated.

By the Commission.

JOSEPH H. GUTRIDE,
Secretary.

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

[Delegation of Authority No. 381]

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

Delegation of Authority

1. Pursuant to the provisions of sections 210(a)(4) and 205 (d) and (e) of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, 63 Stat. 377, as amended, authority to represent the interest of the executive agencies of the Federal Government in the matter of Application of Clinton County Water Company for authority to Increase Water Rates, before the City of Wilmington, Ohio, is hereby delegated to the Secretary of Defense.

2. The Secretary of Defense is hereby authorized to redelegate any of the authority contained herein to any officer, official or employee of the Department of Defense.

3. The authority conferred herein shall be exercised in accordance with the policies, procedures and controls prescribed by the General Services Administration, and shall further be exercised in cooperation with the responsible officers, officials and employees of General Services Administration.

4. This delegation of authority shall be effective April 29, 1960.

WATERFOWL FEATHERS AND DOWN HELD IN NATIONAL STOCKPILE

Proposed Disposition

Pursuant to the provisions of section 3(e) of the Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act, 50 U.S.C. 98b(e), notice is hereby given of a proposed disposition of approximately 1,930,000 pounds (clean basis) of waterfowl feathers and down now held in the national stockpile.

The Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization has made a revised determination, pursuant to section 2(a) of the Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act, that there is no longer any need for stockpiling these 1,930,000 pounds of feathers and down. The revised determination was based upon the finding of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization that said 1,930,000 pounds of feathers and down are obsolescent for use in time of war.

General Services Administration proposes to transfer to Federal agencies such quantities of feathers and down as may be required by such agencies. In order to provide for further disposal, General Services Administration may sell said feathers and down, on a competitive basis. The quantity sold at any one time will not exceed 60,000 pounds (clean basis) and there will be an interval of at least 60 days between sales. Said feathers and down will become available for transfer or sale beginning six months after the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

This plan and the dates of disposition have been fixed with due regard to the protection of producers, processors, and consumers against avoidable disruption of their usual markets as well as the protection of the United States against avoidable loss on disposal.

Prior to the beginning of disposal pursuant to this plan, it is contemplated that waterfowl feathers and down will be disposed of in accordance with statutory authority for sale, without replacement, of excess perishable stockpile materials to avoid deterioration. The quantity of feathers and down covered by this notice shall be reduced by the quantity of feathers and down so disposed of.

Dated: June 2, 1960.

Administrator.

OFFICE OF CIVIL AND DEFENSE MOBILIZATION

CONVENTIONAL ARTILLERY AND MORTAR SHELL

Notice of Amendment of Plan and Regulations of the Ordnance Corps Governing the Integration Committee

Pursuant to section 708 of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, there is published herewith the request to participate in the Plan and Regulations of the Ordnance Corps Governing the Integration Committee on Conventional Artillery and Mortar Shell to put the committee mechanism for meeting defense requirements in a standby status until such time as a national emergency in this field should be found to require reactivation. This amendment was made after consultation between the Attorney General, the Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, and the Director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization. This amended voluntary plan was approved by the Director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization and was found to be in the public interest as contributing to the national defense.

Contents of request. The Department of the Army has recommended that the Plan and Regulations of the Ordnance Corps covering the activities of the Ordnance Integration Committee on Conventional Artillery and Mortar Shell be amended to place the Committee in a standby status pending a national defense need for reactivation. You are requested to participate in the Plan as amended (amendment attached).

The Attorney General has approved this request after consultation with respect thereto between his representatives, representatives of the Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission and my representatives, pursuant to section 708 of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

I approve the voluntary plan, as amended, and find it to be in the public interest as contributing to the national defense. You will become a participant therein upon notifying me in writing of your acceptance of this request. Will you kindly also send two copies of your acceptance to the Industrial Operations Branch, Procurement Division, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D.C.

If you accept this request, immunity from prosecution under the Federal antitrust laws and the Federal Trade Commission Act will be given upon such acceptance, provided that the activities of the Committee and your participation therein are within the limits set forth in the voluntary plan, as amended. The earlier request for your participation in the activities of this Committee is superseded and withdrawn.

Your cooperation in this matter will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

LEO A. HOEGH,
Director.

The following companies have agreed to participate in the amended plan and this list supersedes previous publications in the FEDERAL REGISTER of membership in the Voluntary Plan governing the activities of the Integration Committee on Conventional Artillery and Mortar Shell.

SKIATRON ELECTRONICS AND TELEVISION CORP.

Order Summarily Suspending Trading

JUNE 3, 1960.

In the matter of trading on the American Stock Exchange In the Common Stock, Par Value 10 cents per share of Skiatron Electronics and Television Corporation, File No. 1-3865.

The common stock, par value 10 cents per share of Skiatron Electronics and Television Corporation, being listed and registered on the American Stock Exchange, a national securities exchange; and

The Commission being of the opinion that the public interest requires the summary suspension of trading in such security on such Exchange and that such action is necessary and appropriate for the protection of investors; and

The Commission being of the opinion further that such suspension is necessary in order to prevent fraudulent, deceptive or manipulative acts or practices, with the result that it will be unlawful under section 15(c)(2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the Commission's Rule 15c2-2 thereunder for any broker or dealer to make use of the mails or of any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce to effect any transaction in, or to induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of such security, otherwise than on a national securities exchange;

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 19(a)(4) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that trading in said security on the American Stock Exchange be summarily suspended in order to prevent fraudulent, deceptive or manipulative acts or practices, this order to be effective for a period of ten (10) days, June 5, 1960 to June 14, 1960, both dates inclusive.

Title 3—THE PRESIDENT

Proclamation 3352

GENERAL OF THE ARMIES JOHN J. PERSHING CENTENNIAL DAY

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

WHEREAS September 13, 1960, will mark the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of General of the Armies John J. Pershing; and

WHEREAS General Pershing was a great and patriotic military leader whose long and distinguished life was dedicated solely to his country; and

WHEREAS our Nation will be forever grateful to General Pershing for his leadership in bringing victory to the Allied cause in World War I; and

WHEREAS, by joint resolution approved June 1, 1960, the Congress has requested the President to proclaim September 13, 1960, as a day upon which all Americans should pay honor and respect to General of the Armies John J. Pershing and the men who served under him:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim September 13, 1960, as General of the Armies John J. Pershing Centennial Day; and I invite the people of this Nation to observe that day with appropriate ceremonies designed to commemorate the life and accomplishments of General Pershing and of those who served with him.

As provided in the aforesaid joint resolution, the Secretary of Defense will be responsible for coordination between civic and patriotic organizations and the departments and agencies of the Government in ceremonies commemorating the birth of General Pershing.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this third day of June in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and sixty, and [SEAL] of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eighty-fourth.

§ 502.200 General purpose and scope.

This part announces the policies and prescribes the general regulations with respect to the Special Milk Program for Children, under Public Law 85-478, as amended, and sets forth the general requirements for participation in the Program. The Act reads in pertinent part as follows:

• • • for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1960, not to exceed $95,000,000, of the funds of the Commodity Credit Corporation shall be used to increase the consumption of fluid milk by children (1) in nonprofit schools of high school grade and under; and (2) in nonprofit nursery schools, child-care centers, settlement houses, summer camps, and similar nonprofit institutions devoted to the care and training of children.

§ 502.201 Definitions.

For the purpose of this part, the term:

(a) "Adults" means all staff members and employees of participating schools and child-care institutions including administrative and supervisory personnel, and high school graduates and persons 21 years of age and over enrolled in combination high schools and junior colleges, vocational training schools and child-care institutions. Exception: Camp Counselors under 21 years of age shall not be regarded as adults.

(b) "AMS" means the Agricultural Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(c) "CCC" means the Commodity Credit Corporation.

(d) "Child-care institution" means any nonprofit nursery school (other than nursery schools falling within the definition of school in this section), child-care center, settlement house, summer camp or similar nonprofit institution, devoted to the care and training of children. "Child-care institution" as used in this part includes, where applicable, the authorized sponsoring agency which has entered into an agreement under the Program for a child-care institution.

(e) "Cost of milk" means the net purchase price paid by the school or child-care institution to the milk supplier for milk delivered to the school or child-care institution. This shall not include any amount paid to the milk supplier for servicing, rental of or installment purchase of milk service equipment.

(f) "Department" means the United States Department of Agriculture.

(g) "Distribution costs" means direct expenses incurred by the school or child-care institution in connection with the sale, handling and service of milk. This may include expenses incident to acquisition or rental of necessary milk service equipment.

(h) "FDD" means the Food Distribution Division of the Agricultural Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(i) "Fiscal year" means a period of twelve calendar months, beginning with July 1 of any calendar year and ending with June 30 of the following calendar year.

(j) "Milk" means unflavored milk which meets State and local butterfat and sanitation standards for fluid whole milk and flavored milk made from fluid whole milk which meets such standards.

(k) "Nonpricing program" means a program which does not sell milk to children. This shall include any such program in a school or child-care institution, in which milk is normally provided children, along with food and other services, for a tuition or boarding charge or other fee. This shall also include any such program in a school or child-care institution, where the entire operation of the school or child-care institution is completely financed from tax sources or by private donations or endowments.

(l) "Nonprofit food service" or "nonprofit milk service" means food or milk service maintained by or on behalf of the school or child-care institution for the benefit of the children, all of the income from which is used solely for the operation or improvement of such food or milk service.

(m) "Nonprofit private school" means a nonpublic school that is exempt from income tax under the Internal Revenue Code, as amended.

(n) "Pricing program" means a program which sells milk to children, but shall also include any program in a school or child-care institution in which the portion of the cost of milk which would otherwise have been charged to the children is paid by some individual or civic organization, or absorbed by the school or child-care institution (i.e., the price of milk is reduced to "zero").

(o) "Program" means the Special Milk Program for Children.

(p) "School" means the governing body responsible for the administration of a public or nonprofit private "school" of high school grade or under, as defined in the statutes of the State. The term also includes a nonprofit agency to which the school has delegated authority for the operation of its nonprofit milk service.

(q) "State" means any of the 50 States, and the District of Columbia.

(r) "State Agency" means the educational agency or other agency of a State.

§ 502.202 Administration.

(a) Within the Department, AMS shall act on behalf of CCC in the administration of the Program. Within AMS, FDD shall be responsible for Program administration.

(b) To the extent practicable and permissible under State law, responsibility for the administration of this Program in schools and child-care institutions within a State shall be in the educational agency of the State: Provided, however, That another State agency, upon request by an appropriate State official, may be approved by FDD to administer the Program in child-care institutions.

(c) FDD shall administer the Program in any nonprofit private schools and in child-care institutions in which the Program is not administered by the State.

(d) Each State Agency desiring to take part in the Program shall enter into a written agreement with CCC for the administration of the Program in the State in accordance with the provisions of this part. Such agreement shall show the class or classes of schools and child-care institutions in which the State Agency will administer the Program. Such agreement shall cover a fiscal year and may be extended at the option of CCC.

(e) References in this part to "FDD where applicable" are to FDD as the agency administering the Program in nonprofit private schools and child-care institutions in which the Program is not administered by the State.

§ 502.203 Reserve of funds for State Agencies.

As soon as possible after the beginning of each fiscal year for which funds are made available by the Congress, FDD will announce the amount of funds which it will reserve for that fiscal year for each State Agency. In establishing each reserve, FDD will take into account the total amount of reimbursement payments made during the preceding fiscal year to the class or classes of schools and child-care institutions in which the State Agency will administer the Program during the then current year.

§ 502.204 Payments to State Agencies.

(a) The funds reserved for any State Agency for any fiscal year shall be made available in not less than nine monthly payments. The first payment shall be scheduled to arrive in the State on or about September 1, and shall include payments for July, August and September. Payments for succeeding months shall be scheduled to arrive on or about the first of each month: Provided, however, That the payment for May shall cover operations for May and June.

(b) FDD reserves the right to request any State Agency to justify its need for the full amount of any scheduled payment prior to its advance. If FDD determines that a State Agency has not justified the need for the full amount of this payment, FDD shall withhold from such payment the amount determined to be in excess of the State's needs.

(c) In the event that a State Agency justifies the need for funds in excess of the amount of its reserve, additional funds will be provided to such State Agency to the extent funds are available for such purpose.

(d) The State Agency shall return to AMS any Federal funds paid to it under the Program which are unobligated at the end of the fiscal year. Such return shall be made as soon as practicable but in any event not later than 30 days following demand made by FDD. The State Agency shall also pay to AMS any interest paid or credited to it with respect to Federal funds paid to it under the Program.

§ 502.205 Use of funds.

Funds made available under this Program shall be used to increase the consumption of milk through reimbursement payments to schools and child-care institutions in connection with the purchase of milk for service to children.

§ 502.206 Requirements for participation.

(a) Any school or child-care institution not participating in the Program in the previous fiscal year shall make written application for participation to the State Agency, or FDD where applicable.

(b) As a minimum, applications shall provide information on each of the items listed below, except that State Agencies may obtain some of the required information from other program forms or special inquiries or other sources prior to approval of a school or child-care institution for participation. Further exceptions may be made with respect to any of the items which FDD determines are not pertinent or necessary in the proper administration of the Program in the specific types of schools or child-care institutions for which a State Agency is responsible under its agreement with CCC.

(1) The name, location, and mailing address of the school or child-care institution;

(2) The type of nonprofit school or child-care institution;

(3) Whether the school or child-care institution is public or private;

(4) The average daily number of children in attendance;

(5) The average daily number of enrolled adults;

(6) Whether children and enrolled adults attend during the morning, afternoon, all day or on a 24-hour basis;

(7) If the application is for a school, whether the school is participating in the National School Lunch Program and, if not, whether the school is planning to apply for participation in the National School Lunch Program;

(8) Whether the school or child-care institution operates its food or milk service under a fee, concession or contract arrangement and, if so, a description of such arrangement;

(9) The opening date and closing date of operation, if the school or child-care institution does not operate year-round;

(10) The number of days of operation per week;

(11) A description of the milk service in sufficient detail to enable a determination of whether the school or child-care institution operates a pricing or nonpricing program;

(12) The net delivered cost of milk per half pint (after discount);

(13) The daily, weekly or other periodic price per half pint at which the school or child-care institution offers children milk separately priced; and

(14) A description of specific service practices planned for encouraging increased milk consumption by children, if the school or child-care institution offers children milk not separately priced.

(c) Any school which operates its food or milk service under a fee, concession, or contract arrangement shall not be approved for participation, even though the school itself obtains no profit from the operation of the food or milk service: Provided, however, That this does not exclude from participation, any school:

(1) That contracts with a dairy or other milk supplier for the rental of milk service equipment and related services as a means of increasing the availability of milk;

(2) Whose food of milk service is operated by a private nonprofit organization, such as a parent-teacher association, under delegation of authority from school officials; or

(3) That maintains food or milk service, such as a snack bar, operated by students for the benefit of student activities, if (i) supplemental to regular nonprofit food or milk service or as the only food or milk service maintained, the school uses the student-operated facilities as a means of increasing the availability of milk rather than to employ labor for that purpose, (ii) the milk served through the student-operated facilities is purchased and sold for the account of nonprofit food or milk service, and (iii) any payments made by the school to the student-operated facility, for labor and other costs in connection with the service of milk to children, bears a direct relationship to the amount of services rendered.

(d) A child-care institution that is a summer camp, in which the only opportunity to make milk available, additional to milk regularly served with meals, is through canteens or trading posts operated for attending children, may be approved for participation in the Program, subject to the same conditions on the use of canteens or trading posts as are established by paragraph (c) (3) of this section for the use of student-operated facilities.

(e) A child-care institution which operates its food or milk service under a contractual arrangement with a food service management company may be approved for participation in the Program, after FDD has approved the contractual arrangement. To be approved by FDD the contract must provide for:

(1) A specific fee for the management service, with the child-care institution procuring the food or reimbursing the service company for food expenditures made on behalf of the child-care institution;

(2) The service of milk in accordance with the plan for increasing milk consumption outlined in the application executed by the child-care institution;

(3) The maintenance of milk-purchase and other records necessary to the purposes of the child-care institution in claiming Program reimbursement; and

(4) The retention of the records for a period of three years after the end of the fiscal year to which they pertain, for audit and review at a reasonable time and place by the State Agency or AMS.

(f) Any school or child-care institution approved for participation in the Program shall enter into written agreement with the State Agency, or, where FDD is responsible for program administration, with CCC. The agreement shall be on a form which provides that the school or child-care institution shall:

(1) Conduct a nonprofit food service or, in the event no other food service is maintained, conduct a nonprofit milk service;

(2) Claim reimbursement only for milk as defined in this part and in accordance with the provisions of §§ 502.207 and 502.209;

(3) Submit claims for reimbursement in accordance with procedure established by the State Agency, or FDD where applicable;

(4) Maintain full and accurate records of its milk program, and retain such records for a period of three years after the end of the fiscal year to which they pertain; and

(5) Upon request, make all records pertaining to its milk program available to the State Agency and to AMS, for audit and administrative review, at a reasonable time and place.

§ 502.207 Reimbursement payments.

(a) Reimbursement payments shall be made for milk purchased for service to children by participating schools and child-care institutions, except that reimbursement shall not be made for the first half pint of milk served as part of a Type A lunch by schools participating in the National School Lunch Program.

(b) In pricing programs, the maximum rate of reimbursement shall be four cents per half pint in schools that serve Type A lunches under the National School Lunch Program. For other schools and for child-care institutions having pricing programs, the maximum rate of reimbursement shall be three cents per half pint. Schools and child-care institutions having pricing programs shall make maximum use of the reimbursement payments received under the Program to reduce the price of milk to children. The full amount of the payments shall be reflected in reduced prices to children, except that such payments may be used by schools or child-care institutions to defray distribution costs. Distribution costs shall not exceed one cent per half pint. Exceptions to this provision may be granted by the State Agency, or FDD where applicable, in instances where the situation in a school or child-care institution justifies distribution costs above one cent per half pint, but in no case shall distribution costs be allowed above one and one-half cents per half pint.

(c) Less-than-maximum rates of reimbursement may be assigned to pricing programs, or rates assigned to such programs may be adjusted, in order that the State Agency, or FDD where applicable, may properly relate rates of reimbursement to: (1) The price of milk to children, (2) the cost of milk, and (3) the distribution costs approved by the State Agency, or FDD where applicable, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) Schools and child-care institutions having nonpricing programs shall, at the time they apply for participation, submit for approval the specific service practices by which they plan to encourage increased milk consumption by children. Reimbursement payments to such schools and child-care institutions shall be made at the rate of two cents per half pint, provided the specific service practices for increasing milk consumption as outlined in the approved application have been placed into effect.

§ 502.208 Effective date for reimbursement.

(a) A State Agency, or FDD where applicable, may grant written approval to begin operations under the Program prior to the receipt of the application from the school or child-care institution. Such written approval shall be attached to the subsequently filed application, and the agreement executed by the school or child-care institution shall be effective from the date upon which the school or child-care institution was authorized to begin operations: Provided, however, That such effective date shall not be earlier than the calendar month preceding the calendar month in which the agreement is executed by the State Agency or by CCC.

(b) Reimbursement payments pursuant to § 502.207 shall be made on milk purchased for service to children at any time during the effective period of an agreement between a school or child-care institution and the State Agency or CCC.

§ 502.209 Reimbursement procedure.

(a) Each State Agency, or FDD where applicable, shall require schools and child-care institutions to submit a "Claim for Reimbursement" on a calendar month basis: Provided, however, That not more than 5 days of the beginning or ending month of Program operations in the fiscal year may be combined with the claim of the month immediately following the beginning month or preceding the ending month. Any Claim for Reimbursement combining the ending month of one fiscal year and the beginning month of the next fiscal year shall not be permitted. Any Claim for Reimbursement for any fiscal year, not received by the State Agency, or FDD where applicable, within 90 days after the closing date of the fiscal year, shall be disqualified from payment, except where the State Agency, or FDD where applicable, considers that a Claim for Reimbursement has been filed late because of circumstances beyond the control of the school or child-care institution.

(b) Each Claim for Reimbursement shall include:

(1) The name, location, and mailing address of the school or child-care institution;

(2) The month and year for which claim is made;

(3) The total number of half pints of milk purchased for service to children;

(4) For any school that participates in the National School Lunch Program, the number of half pints served to children in Type A lunches not eligible for reimbursement;

(5) The number of half pints served to adults as a beverage not eligible for reimbursement, as determined by the school or child-care institution pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section;

(6) The number of half pints claimed for Program reimbursement;

(7) The rate of reimbursement per half pint, as assigned in the agreement between the school or child-care institution and the State Agency or CCC;

(8) The total amount of Program reimbursement claimed;

(9) The net cost of milk per half pint paid by the school or child-care institution to the milk supplier; and

(10) Where milk separately priced has been offered the price per half pint at which such milk was made available to children.

(c) In submitting a Claim for Reimbursement, each school or child-care institution shall certify that the claim is true and correct; that records are available to support the claim; that the claim is in accordance with the existing agreement; and that payment therefor has not been received. Any school or child-care institution that does not offer children milk separately priced shall also certify that the specific service practices for encouraging increased milk consumption by children as described in its application for participation are in operation.

(d) Milk consumed as a beverage by adults is not eligible for reimbursement. The number of half pints of such milk to be reported by a school or child-care institution in a Claim for Reimbursement shall be determined by actual count, or as a percentage of the milk purchased. In the absence of an actual count:

(1) The quantity of milk consumed by adults, other than adults enrolled in the school or child-care institution, shall be reported as 5 percent of total milk purchases in the case of schools and 10 percent of total milk purchases in the case of child-care institutions;

(2) Schools or child-care institutions that have adult enrollees shall be assigned a percentage adjustment factor which represents the percentage of adults in the total enrollment of the school or child-care institution. This adjustment factor shall be used to determine what portion of the milk (other than that consumed by adults other than enrollees) is to be reported as the quantity of milk consumed by adult enrollees. The percentage adjustment factor shall be assigned at the time the school or child-care institution enters the Program and annually thereafter.

(e) Any school or child-care institution having both pricing and nonpricing programs may claim reimbursement, either: (1) for the milk separately priced, or (2) for the milk not separately priced, or (3) for the milk in both types of service. When reimbursement is claimed for milk in both types of service, the school or child-care institution shall be reimbursed at a rate of 2 cents per half pint for all milk purchased for service to children under the Program, and to the extent feasible shall use Program reimbursement to reduce the price of milk to children.

(f) Claims for Reimbursement covering milk separately priced shall be reviewed by the State Agency, or FDD where applicable, to assure the proper relationship exists between the cost of milk, the allowable distribution cost, the price of milk to children and the assigned rate of reimbursement. Adjustments shall be made in rates of reimbursement, where necessary, in accordance with the provisions of this part.

(g) Schools in the National School Lunch Program may not be reimbursed at a rate in excess of three cents per half pint for milk separately priced to children participating in summer activities operated by the school after the expiration of the regular school term, unless (1) the summer program is regarded by the school authorities as a regular part of school activities, (2) the program sponsor who signed the agreement covering the regular school term will be responsible for the operation of the summer program, and (3) the children who attend and participate in such activities are under the care and jurisdiction of the school officials.

(h) Schools in the National School Lunch Program experiencing late delivery of school lunch equipment or fire or other situation beyond school control, forcing delay or suspension of the service of Type A lunches for more than 30 days during the course of the school year, may not be reimbursed at a rate in excess of three cents per half pint for milk separately priced to children during the period of delay or suspension, unless an acceptable explanation is made in writing to the State Agency, or FDD where applicable.

(i) Schools offering milk separately priced in more than one school attendance unit may be regarded by the State Agency, or FDD where applicable, as a single school or as individual schools for reimbursement purposes. If regarded as a single school, reimbursement shall not be made at a rate in excess of three cents per half pint for any unit unless all units participate in the National School Lunch Program. If the units are regarded as individual schools, the State Agency, or FDD where applicable, may assign reimbursement at a rate not in excess of four cents per half pint to those units that are participating in the National School Lunch Program, and distribution costs may be approved pursuant to paragraph (b) of § 502.207: (1) On an individual unit basis, or (2) on a schoolwide basis.

§ 502.210 Special responsibilities of State Agencies.

(a) Program administration. Each State Agency shall provide or cause to be provided, adequate personnel for Program administration.

(b) State conducted audit programs. A State Agency may submit for approval by AMS a plan whereby it will conduct audits in schools and child-care institutions in which it administers the Program. Any State Agency satisfactorily conducting such an audit program as of the effective date of this part may be deemed to have an approved plan or such State Agency may submit its plans for formal approval. Audits performed by or on behalf of State Agencies shall meet standards prescribed by AMS and shall be reviewed by AMS to the extent necessary to determine compliance therewith, such review to be made not less than once each year. AMS shall have the right to perform test audits of schools and child-care institutions, and to make audits on a State-wide basis if it determines that the State audit program is not functioning satisfactorily or if the State terminates its audit program.

(c) Accounting for Program funds. Each State Agency shall maintain a separate account of all Federal funds advanced to it under the Program each fiscal year and shall maintain a current record of payments made to schools and child-care institutions and of the unexpended balance remaining on hand. All payments made from such funds shall be made only upon properly certified vouchers.

(d) Records and reports. Each State Agency shall maintain current records on the Program operations in schools and child-care institutions, and submit monthly reports to FDD on such operations, on a form provided by FDD. Such records shall be maintained for a period of three years after the end of the fiscal year to which they pertain.

(e) Investigations. Each State Agency shall promptly investigate complaints received or irregularities noted in connection with the operation of the Program, and shall take appropriate action to correct any irregularities. State Agencies shall maintain on file evidence of such investigations and actions. AMS shall make investigations at the request of the State Agency or where AMS determines investigations by AMS are appropriate.

§ 502.211 Claims against schools or child-care institutions.

(a) If a State Agency receives information or has reason to believe that a claim or a portion of a claim for reimbursement submitted by a school or child-care institution is not properly payable under this part, it shall not pay the claim or such portion of the claim and shall advise the school or child-care institution of the reasons for nonpayment or disallowance. The school or child-care institution may submit to the State Agency evidence and information to justify the total amount claimed, or may submit a reclaim for the portion disallowed, with appropriate justification therefor. The State Agency may make reimbursement in the amount it believes is warranted by the evidence, subject, however, to the provisions of paragraph (e) of this section.

(b) If a State Agency receives information or has reason to believe that a payment already made to a school or child-care institution was not proper under this part, it shall advise the school or child-care institution of the amount and basis of the alleged overpayments and may request a refund or advise the school or child-care institution that the amount overpaid is being deducted from subsequent claims. The school or child-care institution shall have full opportunity to present evidence and information to the State Agency to justify the amount of reimbursement paid. If the State Agency determines that the evidence is not sufficient, the State Agency shall collect the amount of the overpayment from the school or child-care institution, by refund or by deduction from subsequent claims for reimbursement made by the school or child-care institution. If new evidence becomes available to the school or child-care institution it may, within a reasonable time after the collection, make a reclaim for all or a portion of the amount so collected, and the State may pay the amount of any reclaim it believes is warranted by the evidence, subject, however, to the provisions of paragraph (e) of this section.

(c) The State Agency may refer any matter in connection with this section to FDD for determination of the action to be taken.

(d) The State Agency shall retain for AMS audit and review all records pertaining to action taken under this section.

(e) If FDD does not concur with the State Agency action in paying a claim or a reclaim, or in failing to collect an overpayment, FDD shall assert a claim against the State Agency for the amount of such claim, reclaim or overpayment. In all such cases the State Agency shall have full opportunity to submit to FDD evidence or information concerning the action taken. If in the determination of FDD, the State Agency's action was unwarranted, the State Agency shall promptly pay to AMS the amount of the claim, reclaim or overpayment.

(f) The amounts recovered by the State Agency from schools or child-care institutions shall be available to make reimbursement payments during the fiscal year for which the funds were initially available.

(g) With respect to schools or child-care institutions in which FDD administers the Program, when FDD disallows a claim or a portion of a claim, or makes a demand for refund of an alleged overpayment, it shall notify the schools or child-care institutions of the reasons for such disallowance or demand and the schools or child-care institutions shall have full opportunity to submit evidence or to file reclaim for any amount disallowed or demanded in the same manner afforded in this section to schools or child-care institutions administered by State Agencies.

§ 502.212 Administrative analyses and audits.

Each State Agency shall provide AMS with full opportunity to conduct administrative analyses (including visits to schools and child-care institutions) and audits of all operations of the State Agency under the Program. Each State Agency shall make available its records, including records of the receipt and expenditure of funds under the Program, upon a reasonable request by AMS. AMS shall also have the right to make audits of the records and operations of any school or child-care institution.

§ 502.213 Miscellaneous provisions.

(a) Disqualification and non-compliance. Any State Agency or any school or child-care institution may be disqualified from future participation if it fails to comply with the provisions of this part and its agreement with the CCC or the State Agency. This does not preclude the possibility of other action being taken through other means available where necessary, including prosecution for fraud under applicable Federal statutes. If any part of the money received by the State Agency or by any private school or child-care institution in which FDD administers the Program, by any improper or negligent action, is diminished, lost, misapplied or diverted from the Program by the State Agency, or by the school or child-care institution to which such funds are disbursed, FDD may order such money to be replaced. Until the money is replaced, no subsequent payment shall be made to the State Agency or to the school or child-care institution causing the loss. The State Agency or the school or child-care institution shall have full opportunity to submit evidence, explanation or information concerning instances of noncompliance or diversion of funds before a final determination is made in such cases.

(b) Saving clause. Any or all of the provisions of this part may be withdrawn or amended at any time by the Department: Provided, however, That any withdrawal or amendment shall not be made without due prior notice in writing to the State Agencies or to nonprofit private schools or child-care institutions in which the Program is administered by FDD.

(c) State requirements. Nothing contained in this part shall prevent a State Agency from imposing additional requirements for participation in the Program which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this part.

§ 502.214 Program information.

Schools and child-care institutions desiring information concerning the Program should write to their State Educational Agency or to the appropriate Area Office of FDD as indicated below:

(a) In the States of Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and West Virginia:

Title 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Plum Order 6]

PART 936—FRESH BARTLETT PEARS, PLUMS, AND ELBERTA PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

Regulation by Sizes

§ 936.642 Plum Order 6.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 36, as amended (7 CFR Part 936), regulating the handling of fresh Bartlett pears, plums, and Elberta peaches grown in the State of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Plum Commodity Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of plums of the variety hereinafter set forth, and in the manner herein provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rulemaking procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than the date hereinafter specified. A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, such plums must await the development of the crop thereof, and adequate information thereon was not available to the Plum Commodity Committee until the date hereinafter set forth on which an open meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof, to consider the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such plums. Interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein were promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; shipments of the current crop of such plums are expected to begin on or about the effective date hereof; this section should be applicable to all such shipments in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; the provisions of this section are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee; and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such plums and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof. Such committee meeting was held on May 18, 1960, and necessary supplemental data for consideration in connection with the specification of the provisions of this regulation were not available until June 6, 1960.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., June 16, 1960, and ending at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., November 1, 1960, no shipper shall ship any package or container of El Dorado plums, unless:

(i) Such plums are of a size that, when packed in a standard basket, they will pack at least a 4 x 5 standard pack and will have a net weight of not less than twenty-three (23) pounds: Provided, That, not to exceed ten (10) percent, by count, of the packages or containers in any lot may fail to meet such net weight requirement; and

(ii) The diameters of the smallest and largest plums in such package or container do not vary more than one-fourth (¼) inch: Provided, That, a total of not more than five (5) percent, by count, of the plums in the package or container may fail to meet this requirement.

(2) When used in this section, "standard pack" shall have the same meaning as set forth in the revised United States Standards for Plums and Prunes (Fresh) (§§ 51.1520 to 51.1537 of this title); "standard basket" shall mean the standard basket set forth in paragraph 1 of section 828.1 of the Agricultural Code of California; "diameter" shall mean the distance through the widest portion of the cross section of a plum at right angles to a line running from the stem to the blossom end; and, except as otherwise specified, all other terms shall have the same meaning as when used in the amended marketing agreement and order.

(3) Section 936.143 sets forth the requirements with respect to the inspection and certification of shipments of fruit covered by this section. Such section also prescribes the conditions which must be met if any shipment is to be made without prior inspection and certification. Notwithstanding that shipments may be made without inspection and certification, each shipper shall comply with all grade and size regulations applicable to the respective shipment.

PART 936—FRESH BARTLETT PEARS, PLUMS, AND ELBERTA PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

Regulation by Size

§ 936.643 Plum Order 7.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 36, as amended (7 CFR Part 936), regulating the handling of fresh Bartlett pears, plums, and Elberta peaches grown in the State of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Plum Commodity Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of plums of the variety hereinafter set forth, and in the manner herein provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

PART 962—FRESH PEACHES GROWN IN GEORGIA

Expenses and Fixing of the Rate of Assessment for 1960–61 Fiscal Period

Notice was published in the May 20, 1960, issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER (25 F.R. 4472) that consideration was being given to proposals regarding the expenses and the fixing of the rate of assessment for the 1960–61 fiscal period under the marketing agreement, as amended and Order No. 62, as amended (7 CFR Part 962), regulating the handling of fresh peaches grown in Georgia, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in such notice which were submitted by the Industry Committee (established pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order), it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 962.213 Expenses and rate of assessment for the 1960–61 fiscal period.

(a) Expenses. The expenses necessary to be incurred by the Industry Committee, established pursuant to the provisions of the said amended marketing agreement and order, to enable such committee to perform its functions, in accordance with the provisions thereof, during the fiscal period beginning March 1, 1960, will amount to $16,408.80.

(b) Rate of assessment. The rate of assessment, which each handler who first handles peaches shall pay as his pro rata share of the aforementioned expenses in accordance with the applicable provisions of said amended marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed at eight-tenths cent ($0.008) per bushel basket of peaches (net weight 50 pounds), or its equivalent of peaches in other containers or in bulk.

(c) Terms used in the amended marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is given to the respective term in said amended marketing agreement and order.

The provisions hereof shall become effective 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674)

Dated: June 7, 1960.

PART 962—FRESH PEACHES GROWN IN GEORGIA

Limitation of Shipments

§ 962.318 Peach Order 1.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 62, as amended (7 CFR Part 962), regulating the handling of fresh peaches grown in the State of Georgia, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendation of the Industry Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that this order will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to shipments of fresh peaches grown in the State of Georgia.

(2) It is hereby found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective time of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than June 12, 1960. Shipments of the early varieties of the current crop of peaches are expected to begin on or about June 12, 1960, and this section should be applicable, insofar as practicable, to all shipments of such peaches in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a.m., e.s.t., June 12, 1960, and ending at 12:01 a.m., e.s.t., September 1, 1960, no handler shall ship peaches in any bulk lot or any lot of packages (except peaches in bulk to destinations in the adjacent markets), unless (i) at least 85 percent, by count, of such peaches are U.S. No. 1 quality; and (ii) at least 90 percent, by count, of such peaches are mature: Provided, That peaches with split pits and well healed hail marks may be shipped if they otherwise meet the requirements of this paragraph.

(c) The inspection requirement contained in § 962.64 is hereby suspended with respect to peaches in bulk shipped to destinations in the adjacent markets during the period specified in paragraph (b) (1) of this section.

(d) The maturity regulations contained in § 962.400 are hereby suspended with respect to shipments of peaches to destinations other than in the adjacent markets during the period specified in paragraph (b) (1) of this section.

(e) When used herein, the terms "handler," "adjacent markets," "peaches," "peaches in bulk," and "ship" shall have the same meaning as when used in the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and the terms "U.S. No. 1," "split pits," and "well healed hail marks" shall have the same meaning as when used in the revised United States Standards for Peaches (§§ 51.1210–51.1223 of this title).

Title 14—AERONAUTICS AND SPACE

Chapter I—Federal Aviation Agency

[Reg. Docket No. 416; Supp. 6]

PART 35—FLIGHT ENGINEER CERTIFICATES

Deletion of Manual Material

Effective November 15, 1958, Part 35 of the Civil Air Regulations (23 F.R. 6548) was revised to make it conform more closely to the format and terminology of the newer airman parts, as well as to clarify certain regulatory policy. The Civil Aeronautics Manual material has not yet been revised. As presently written, this manual material is not numerically related to currently effective Part 35 and consists of interpretive and policy material which is not in accord with the provisions of that part.

In view of the extensive revisions which would be necessary to update the manual material, and since the Federal Aviation Agency is in the process of reviewing, with the industry, the need for further major revisions to the substantive rules of Part 35, it is considered more appropriate to delete all of the manual material than to attempt to formulate interim regulatory policy which at best would be incomplete if not inadequate.

Since this supplement deletes interpretive and policy material and imposes no additional burden on any person, it may be made effective immediately.

In consideration of the foregoing, the following sections which comprise the manual material of Part 35 of the Civil Air Regulations are hereby deleted, effective June 3, 1960: §§ 35.6–1, 35.6–2, 35.6–3, 35.6–4, 35.7–1, 35.8–1, 35.8–2, 35.9–1, 35.10–1, 35.10–2, 35.12–1, 35.14–1, and 35.14–2.

(Secs. 313(a), 601, 602, 72 Stat. 752, 775, 776; 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, 1422)

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 3, 1960.

E. R. QUESADA,
Administrator.

Chapter III—Federal Aviation Agency

SUBCHAPTER E—AIR NAVIGATION REGULATIONS

[Airspace Docket No. 59-FW-36]

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS

Modification

On December 23, 1959, a notice of proposed rule-making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (24 F.R. 10456) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency was considering an amendment to § 600.6020 of the regulations of the Administrator which would modify VOR Federal airway No. 20 by designating a north alternate to the segment between Montgomery, Ala., and Atlanta, Ga., via the Montgomery VORTAC 028° True and the Atlanta VORTAC 248° True radials and by realigning the segment from Atlanta to Royston, Ga., via direct station-to-station radials.

As stated in the notice, Victor 20 extends in part, from Montgomery to Royston. This modification is part of a plan to revise and increase the air traffic flow capabilities into and from the Atlanta terminal area. The designation of a north alternate to Victor 20 from Montgomery to Atlanta will provide an airway for separating climbing and descending aircraft from aircraft operating on the main airway. A Federal Aviation Agency peak day survey for the first half of 1959 showed the following over flights on Victor 20: Montgomery to Kent, Ala., intersection, 71; Kent to La Grange, Ga., 67; La Grange to Raymond, Ga., intersection, 52; Raymond to Atlanta, 64. The realignment of the Atlanta-Royston segment of Victor 20 will provide more precise navigational guidance. The Department of the Air Force objected to the designation of Victor 20 north because it would traverse an area between Central, Ga., intersection and Atlanta VORTAC that is used by Maxwell AFB, Montgomery, Ala., for a local flying area. This area is used by 91 T–33's, 45 C–47's, 2 W–29's and 4 U–3A's for transition and aerobatic flights. The Air Force further stated that they did not believe that Victor 20 north was justifiable. As far as can be determined, aerobatics in T–33 aircraft is the only activity that additional airways in the area would affect. Since the remaining activity is proficiency flying only—no student pilot training—it appears that the aerobatic flying can be relocated to avoid the alternate airway. In view of the existing amount of traffic on the main airway, the Federal Aviation Agency is of the opinion that a north alternate will not only expedite the flow of traffic from the Atlanta, Ga., terminal area, but will also improve the air traffic handling capabilities in the Montgomery, Ala., area. Therefore, the Federal Aviation Agency is modifying the segment of Victor 20 between Montgomery and Atlanta by designating a north alternate via the Montgomery VORTAC 028° True and Atlanta VORTAC 248° True radials and realigning the segment from Atlanta to Royston via direct station-to-station radials. The control areas associated with Victor 20 are so designated that they will automatically conform to the modified airway. Accordingly, no amendment relating to such control areas is necessary.

No other adverse comments were received.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rule herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530), § 600.6020 (24 F.R. 10508) is amended as follows:

In the text of § 600.6020 VOR Federal airway No. 20 (Laredo, Tex., to Richmond, Va.), delete "Montgomery, Ala., VOR; La Grange, Ga., omnirange station; Atlanta, Ga., omnirange station; intersection of the Atlanta omnirange 048° True and the Royston omnirange 236° True radials; Royston, Ga., omnirange station;" and substitute therefor "Montgomery, Ala., VORTAC; La Grange, Ga., VOR; Atlanta, Ga., VORTAC, including a N alternate from the Montgomery VORTAC to the Atlanta VORTAC via the Montgomery VORTAC 028° True and the Atlanta VORTAC 248° True radials; Royston, Ga., VOR;".

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. September 22, 1960.

(Secs. 307(a), 313(a), 72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354)

CHARLES W. CARMODY,
Acting Director, Bureau of Air Traffic Management.

[Airspace Docket No. 59-WA-120]

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS

Modification

On December 29, 1959, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (24 F.R. 10915) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency was considering an amendment to § 600.6187 of the regulations of the Administrator which would extend VOR Federal airway No. 187 northward from Rock Springs, Wyo., to Boysen Reservoir, Wyo.

As stated in the notice, Victor 187 presently extends from Albuquerque, N. Mex., to Rock Springs, and from Boysen Reservoir to Billings, Mont. The Federal Aviation Agency is extending this airway northward from the Rock Springs VORTAC to the Boysen Reservoir VORTAC via the intersection of the Rock Springs VORTAC 026° True and the Boysen Reservoir VORTAC 186° True radials. This will provide an interconnecting VOR airway between the Rock Springs VORTAC and the Boysen Reservoir VORTAC, thereby, improving air traffic management and flight planning by providing a single numbered VOR airway from Albuquerque to Billings. It will also provide a more direct airway for VHF equipped aircraft operating between Albuquerque and Billings and between other southern and northern terminals. The control areas associated with Victor 187 are so designated that they will automatically conform to the modified airway. Accordingly, no amendment relating to such control areas is necessary.

The Department of the Air Force submitted the only comment regarding the proposed amendment stating that it did not object to the extension of Victor 187, but was concerned with the relative position of the Victor 187 extension to the Strategic Air Command's low altitude refueling area "Brick Bat," since multiengine jet aircraft and conventional tanker aircraft will frequently maneuver into and out of this refueling area between the altitudes of 14,000 feet and 20,000 feet, MSL, along the extended portion of Victor 187. The Federal Aviation Agency recognizes that this extension of Victor 187 will penetrate the southeast corner of the "Brick Bat" refueling area. However, any air traffic problem that may exist between refueling operations and en route IFR traffic on Victor 187 will be resolved procedurally by the appropriate air route traffic control center.

No other comments were received regarding the proposed amendment.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rule herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530) § 600.6187 (24 F.R. 10520) is amended to read:

§ 600.6187 VOR Federal airway No. 187 (Albuquerque, N. Mex., to Billings, Mont.).

From the Albuquerque, N. Mex., VORTAC via the Farmington, N. Mex., VOR; Grand Junction, Colo., VOR, including a west alternate from the Farmington VOR to the Grand Junction VOR via the Dove Creek, Colo., VOR; Rock Springs, Wyo., VORTAC; INT of the Rock Springs VORTAC 026° True and the Boysen Reservoir VORTAC 186° True radials; Boysen Reservoir, Wyo., VORTAC; to the Billings, Mont., VOR.

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. July 28, 1960.

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS

Modification

On December 10, 1959, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (24 F.R. 9993) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency proposed the following actions based on the relocation of the Terre Haute, Ind., VOR: Realignment of VOR Federal airway No. 7 from Lewis, Ind., via Terre Haute to Westpoint, Ind.; realignment of the west alternate of Victor 7 from Evansville, Ind., to Terre Haute; revocation of the west alternate of Victor 7 from Terre Haute to Westpoint; and realignment of VOR Federal airway No. 124 between Terre Haute and Shelbyville, Ind., via the Terre Haute VOR 095° True and the Shelbyville VOR 253° True radials.

The notice stated that the Terre Haute VOR would be relocated at latitude 39°29'20" N., longitude 87°14'57" W., approximately March 1, 1960. Subsequent to the publication of the notice, the relocation of this facility to the new site was rescheduled and will now be accomplished approximately October 20, 1960.

No adverse comments were received regarding the proposed amendment.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rules herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

The substance of the proposed amendments having been published, therefore, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530) and for the reasons stated in the notice, §§ 600.6007 (24 F.R. 10504, 25 F.R. 630) and 600.6124 (24 F.R. 10516) are amended as follows:

§ 600.6007 [Amendment]

1. In the text of § 600.6007 VOR Federal airway No. 7 (Miami, Fla., to Green Bay, Wis.), delete "Lewis, Ind., VOR; Terre Haute, Ind., VOR, including a west alternate from the Evansville VOR to the Terre Haute VOR via the INT of the Evansville VOR 001° T and the Terre Haute VOR 211° T radials; Westpoint, Ind., VOR, including a west alternate via the INT of the Terre Haute VOR 348° T radial with the Westpoint VOR direct radial to the Vandalia, Ill., VOR;" and substitute therefor "Lewis, Ind., VOR; Terre Haute, Ind., VOR, including a W alternate via the INT of the Evansville VOR 001° T and the Terre Haute VOR 215° T radials; Westpoint, Ind., VOR;".

2. Section 600.6124 is amended to read:

§ 600.6124 VOR Federal airway No. 124 (Terre Haute, Ind., to Shelbyville, Ind.).

From the Terre Haute, Ind., VOR via the INT of the Terre Haute VOR 095° T and the Shelbyville 253° T radials; to the Shelbyville, Ind., VOR.

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. October 20, 1960.

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF THE CONTINENTAL CONTROL AREA, CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, REPORTING POINTS, AND POSITIVE CONTROL ROUTE SEGMENTS

Designation of Control Area Extension

On March 26, 1960, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (25 F.R. 2592) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency proposed to designate a control area extension at Toledo, Ohio.

No adverse comments were received regarding the proposed amendment.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rule herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

The substance of the proposed amendment having been published, therefore, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530) and for the reasons stated in the notice, Part 601 (24 F.R. 10530) is hereby amended by adding the following section:

§ 601.1178 Control area extension (Toledo, Ohio).

That airspace NE and SW of the Toledo Express Airport, bounded on the SW by VOR Federal airway No. 422, on the NW by VOR Federal airway No. 98, on the NE and E by a line extending from the INT of the SE boundary of VOR Federal airway No. 98, with the W boundary of VOR Federal airway No. 275, thence to latitude 41°45'30" N., longitude 83°19'45" W.; thence to latitude 41°39'39" N., longitude 83°15'15" W.; thence to the N boundary of VOR Federal airway No. 6 at latitude 41°39'09" N., longitude 83°15'15" W.; on the S by VOR Federal airway No. 6, and on the E, S of Toledo, by VOR Federal airway No. 275.

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. July 28, 1960.

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF THE CONTINENTAL CONTROL AREA, CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, REPORTING POINTS, AND POSITIVE CONTROL ROUTE SEGMENTS

Modification of Control Area Extension

The purpose of this amendment to § 601.1198 of the regulations of the Administrator is to modify the Idaho Falls, Idaho, control area extension.

The Idaho Falls control area extension was modified in Airspace Docket No. 59-LA-36 (25 F.R. 1399) by the substitution of VOR Federal airway No. 269 for Blue Federal airway No. 51 in the control area description. In Airspace Docket No. 60-WA-271 (24 F.R. 8544), Victor 269, between Pocatello, Idaho, and Dubois, Idaho, was renumbered as VOR Federal airway No. 257. It is, therefore, appropriate to substitute Victor 257 for Victor 269 in the control area description.

Since this amendment imposes no additional burden on the public, compliance with the notice, public procedure, and effective date requirements of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is unnecessary and it may be made effective immediately.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530) § 601.1198 (24 F.R. 10557, 25 F.R. 1399) is amended as follows:

In the text of § 601.1198 Control area extension (Idaho Falls, Idaho), delete "VOR Federal airway No. 269," and substitute therefor "VOR Federal airway No. 257,"

This amendment shall become effective upon the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Acting Director, Bureau of Air Traffic Management.

PART 608—RESTRICTED AREAS

Designation of Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor

On November 11, 1959, a notice of proposed rule-making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (24 F.R. 9211) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency was considering an amendment to § 608.30 of the regulations of the Administrator which would designate a Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor at Selfridge AFB, Mt. Clemens, Mich.

As stated in the notice, the Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor will confine the high-speed, high rate-of-climb Century series aircraft, departing from Selfridge AFB on active air defense missions, within a relatively small area. It will also provide protection for the high-speed air defense aircraft and other users of the airspace during the takeoff phase of such missions. Such action will result in the designation of a Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor extending along the Selfridge AFB TVOR 336° True radial from 5 statute miles northwest of the airbase to 32 statute miles northwest, having a width of 1 statute mile west and 3 statute miles east of the 336° True radial at the entry point to the corridor, and a width of 2.3 statute miles either side of the TVOR 336° True radial at the outer extremity. The lower limits in graduated steps will extend from 2,600 feet MSL to 19,600 feet MSL. The upper limits will extend from 15,600 feet MSL to 27,000 feet MSL. Selfridge AFB approach control will be the controlling agency and the time of use will be continuous. Other aircraft will be authorized by the controlling agency to operate in and through the climb corridor at any time it is not occupied by an air defense mission.

Only one comment was received regarding the proposed amendment, from the Air Transport Association. This comment stated that the designation of this corridor at Selfridge in a northwesterly direction was the least objectionable considering the Detroit, Mich., terminal area, and discussed the effect of the corridor on VOR Federal airway No. 84. However, in Airspace Docket No. 59-WA-116 (25 F.R. 173) which was effective February 11, 1960, the segment of Victor 84 from the Lansing, Mich., VOR to the London, Ont., VOR, was redesignated via the Flint, Mich., VOR and the Peck, Mich., VOR, and no longer conflicts with the proposed Selfridge RA/MCC.

No other adverse comments were received regarding the proposed amendment.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rule herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, the following action is taken:

In § 608.30 Michigan, (23 F.R. 8582) add the following:

Mount Clemens, Mich., (Selfridge AFB) Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor (R-579) (Detroit Chart).

Description. That area based on the 336° True radial of the Selfridge AFB TVOR beginning 5 statute miles NW of the airbase and extending 32 statute miles NW of the airbase, having a width of 1 statute mile W and 3 statute miles E of the 336° True radial at the beginning and a width of 2.3 statute miles on each side of the 336° True radial at the outer extremity.

Designated altitudes. 2,600' MSL to 15,600' MSL from 5 statute miles NW of the airbase to 6 statute miles NW of the airbase. 2,600' MSL to 24,600' MSL from 6 to 7 statute miles NW of the airbase. 2,600' MSL to 27,000' MSL from 7 to 10 statute miles NW of the airbase. 6,600' MSL to 27,000' MSL from 10 to 15 statute miles NW of the airbase. 10,600' MSL to 27,000' MSL from 15 to 20 statute miles NW of the airbase. 15,600' MSL to 27,000' MSL from 20 to 25 statute miles NW of the airbase. 19,600' MSL to 27,000' MSL from 25 to 32 statute miles NW of the airbase.

Time of designation. Continuous.

Controlling agency. Selfridge AFB Approach Control.

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. July 28, 1960.

PART 608—RESTRICTED AREAS

Modification

On November 11, 1959, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (24 F.R. 9211) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency proposed to revoke the Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., Restricted Area (R-199) (Tulsa Chart).

The U.S. Army, as controlling agency for the Fort Leonard Wood Restricted Area, submitted comments substantially as hereinafter noted. Fort Leonard Wood is the largest Army training center in the Continental United States. Its central location minimizes the distance and travel costs imposed on the U.S. Army. Fort Leonard Wood trains enlisted replacement trainees for the Active Army and Army Reserve components, qualifying personnel in individual and crew-served weapons firing including small arms, machine gun, mortar, as well as recoilless weapons up to 106 mm and 105 mm howitzers. Revocation of R-199 would necessitate discontinuance of all weapons firing and render the base inoperable as training center, thereby imposing an adverse effect on the National Defense. However, the Army indicated that the ceiling could be reduced to 6,000 feet MSL.

In the light of comments received, the Federal Aviation Agency has determined that a requirement exists for the retention of Restricted Area (R-199). Accordingly, the area will be retained as now designated with the exception of the designated altitude which is changed from "surface to 50,000 feet MSL" to "surface to 6,000 feet MSL."

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rule herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter received.

In consideration of the foregoing, the following action is taken:

In § 608.33, the Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., Restricted Area (R-199) (Tulsa Chart) (23 F.R. 8583) is amended by deleting "surface to 50,000 feet MSL." and substituting therefor "Surface to 6,000 feet MSL."

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. July 28, 1960.

(Sec. 307(a), 313(a), 72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354)

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 3, 1960.

Administrator.

Title 20—EMPLOYEES' BENEFITS

Chapter III—Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, Social Security Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

[Regs. No. 4, further amended]

PART 404—FEDERAL OLD-AGE AND SURVIVORS INSURANCE (1950-)

Procedures, Payment of Benefits, and Representation of Parties; Definitions

Regulations No. 4, as amended (20 CFR 404.1 et seq.) are further amended to read as follows:

1. Section 404.942 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.942 Appeals Council proceedings on certification and review. Procedure before Appeals Council on certification by the hearing examiner.

When a case has been certified to the Appeals Council by a hearing examiner without decision (see § 404.939), the Appeals Council shall mail notice of such action to the parties at their last known addresses. Copies or a statement of the contents of the documents or other written evidence received in evidence in the hearing record, and a copy of the transcript of oral evidence adduced at the hearing, if any, or a condensed statement thereof, shall be made available to any party upon request, upon payment of the cost, or if such cost is not readily determinable, the estimated amount thereof, unless, for good cause shown, such payment is waived. When a case has been certified to the Appeals Council by a hearing examiner for decision, the parties shall be given, upon their request, a reasonable opportunity to appear before the Appeals Council for the purpose of presenting oral argument. The parties shall also be given, upon their request, a reasonable opportunity to file briefs or other written statements of their allegations as to applicable fact and law. Where there is more than one party, copies of such brief or written statements shall be filed in sufficient number that they may be made available to any party requesting a copy or any other party designated by the Appeals Council.

2. Section 404.943 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.943 Evidence in proceeding before Appeals Council.

Evidence in addition to that admitted into the hearing record by the hearing examiner may not be received as evidence except where it appears to the Appeals Council that such additional evidence may affect its decision. If no additional material is presented but such evidence is available and may affect its decision, the Appeals Council shall receive such evidence or designate a hearing examiner or member of the Appeals Council before whom the evidence shall be introduced. Before such additional evidence is received, notice that evidence will be received with respect to certain matters shall be mailed to the parties, unless such notice is waived, at their last known addresses, and the parties shall be given a reasonable opportunity to present evidence which is relevant and material to such matters. When the additional evidence is presented to a hearing examiner or a member of the Appeals Council, a transcript or a condensed statement of such evidence shall be made available to any party upon request upon payment of the cost, or if such cost is not readily determinable, the estimated amount thereof, unless, for good cause shown, such payment is waived.

3. Section 404.948 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.948 Procedure before Appeals Council on review.

Whenever the Appeals Council determines to review a hearing examiner's decision (except when the case is remanded to a hearing examiner in accordance with § 404.950), the Appeals Council shall make available to any party upon request, copies or a statement of the contents of the documents or other written evidence upon which the hearing examiner's decision was based, and a copy of the transcript of oral evidence, if any, or a condensed statement thereof, upon payment of the cost, or if such cost is not readily determinable, the estimated amount thereof, unless for good cause shown, such payment is waived. The parties shall be given, upon request, a reasonable opportunity to file briefs or other written statements of allegations as to fact and law. Copies of such brief or other written statements, where there is more than one party, shall be filed in sufficient number that they may be made available to any party requesting a copy and to any other party designated by the Appeals Council.

4. Section 404.949 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.949 Evidence admissible on review.

Evidence in addition to that introduced at the hearing before the hearing examiner, or the documents before the hearing examiner where such hearing was waived (see § 404.934), may not be admitted except where it appears to the Appeals Council that such evidence is relevant and material to an issue before it and thus may affect its decision. Where no such evidence is presented, and it appears to the Appeals Council that additional material evidence is available which may affect its decision, the Appeals Council shall receive such evidence and designate a hearing examiner, or member of the Appeals Council before whom the evidence shall be introduced. Before additional evidence is admitted into the record, as provided in this section, notice that evidence will be received with respect to certain issues shall be mailed to the parties, unless such notice is waived, at their last known addresses, and the parties shall be given a reasonable opportunity to comment thereon and to present evidence which is relevant and material to such issues. When the additional evidence is presented to a hearing examiner or a member of the Appeals Council, a transcript or a condensed statement of such evidence shall be made available to any party upon request, upon payment of the cost, or if such cost is not readily determinable the estimated amount thereof, unless, for good cause shown, such payment is waived.

5. Section 404.956(b) is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.956 Revision for error or other reason; time limitations generally.

* * * * * *

(b) By a hearing examiner or the Appeals Council. Either upon the motion of the hearing examiner or the Appeals Council, as the case may be, or upon the petition of any party to a hearing, except as otherwise provided in §§ 404.960 and 404.960a, any decision of a hearing examiner provided for in § 404.939, may be revised by such hearing examiner or by another hearing examiner, if the hearing examiner who issued the decision is unavailable, for a reason and within the time period prescribed in § 404.957. Such decision may also be revised by the Appeals Council, and any decision of the Appeals Council provided for in § 404.960, may be revised by the Appeals Council, for a reason and within the time period prescribed in § 404.967. For purposes of this paragraph (b), nonavailability shall include death, termination of employment, illness, leave of absence or transfer of official station.

6. Section 404.961 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.961 Notice of revision.

(a) When any determination or decision is revised, as provided in § 404.956, § 404.960, or § 404.960a, notice of such revision shall be mailed to the parties to such determination or decision at their last known addresses. The notice of revision which is mailed to the parties shall state the basis for the revised decision.

(b) Where a determination of the Bureau is revised under paragraph (a) of this § 404.961, the notice of revision shall inform the parties of their right to a hearing as provided in § 404.963.

(c) (1) Where a hearing examiner or the Appeals Council proposes to revise a decision under paragraph (a) of this § 404.961 and the revision would be based on evidence theretofore not included in the record on which the decision proposed to be revised was based, the parties shall be given notice of the proposal of the hearing examiner or the Appeals Council, as the case may be, to revise such decision, and unless hearing is waived, a hearing with respect to such proposed revision shall be granted as provided in this Subpart J.

(2) If a revised decision is appropriate, such decision shall be rendered by the hearing examiner or the Appeals Council, as the case may be, on the basis of the entire record, including the additional evidence. If the decision is revised by a hearing examiner, any party thereto may request review by the Appeals Council (§§ 404.945 and 404.946) or the Appeals Council may review the decision on its own motion (§ 404.947).

7. Section 404.962 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.962 Effect of revised determination.

Except as provided in § 404.612, the revision of a determination or decision shall be final and binding upon all parties thereto unless a party authorized to do so (see § 404.961) files a written request for a hearing with respect to a revised determination in accordance with § 404.963 or a revised decision is reviewed by the Appeals Council as provided in this Subpart J.

8. Section 404.1001(a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.1001 General definitions and use of terms.

As used in the regulations in this part—

* * * * * *

(a) "Appeals Council" means the Appeals Council of the Office of Hearings and Appeals in the Social Security Administration or such member or members thereof as may be designated by the Chairman.

[Reg. No. 4, further amended]

PART 404—FEDERAL OLD-AGE AND SURVIVORS INSURANCE (1950——)

Miscellaneous Amendments

Regulations No. 4, as amended (20 CFR 404.1 et seq.), are further amended as follows:

1. The heading of Subpart O of Part 404 is amended to read as follows: "Interrelationship Of Old-Age, Survivors And Disability Insurance Program With The Railroad Retirement Program."

2. Section 404.1401 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.1401 General relationship of Railroad Retirement Act with the old-age, survivors and disability insurance program of the act.

The Railroad Retirement Act sets up a system of benefits for railroad employees, their dependents and survivors, and has in many respects been integrated with the Social Security Act to provide a coordinated system of retirement, survivor, dependent and disability benefits payable on the basis of an individual's work in the railroad industry and in employment and self-employment covered by the Social Security Act. With respect to the coordination of the two programs the Railroad Retirement Act distinguishes between "career" railroaders and those individuals who may be considered "casual" railroad workers, the line of demarcation being 10 years of service in the railroad industry, including service prior to 1937. It transfers to the old-age, survivors and disability insurance system individuals who at the time of retirement, onset of disability or death have less than 10 years of service in the railroad industry and meet certain other requirements. Any compensation paid to such individuals for such service becomes wages under the Social Security Act so that whatever benefits are payable to them, their dependents, or their survivors come from the old-age and survivors and disability insurance trust funds under the conditions set forth in title II of the Social Security Act. Those with 10 or more years of railroad service remain under the Railroad Retirement Act, except that under certain circumstances survivors of such workers may be shifted to the old-age, survivors and disability insurance system.

3. Section 404.1402 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.1402 When services in the railroad industry are covered.

Services performed by an individual in the railroad industry which would, but for the provisions of this section, be excepted from "employment" by reason of § 404.1017 shall be considered to be in "employment" as defined in section 210 of the act in the following situations:

(a) For the purpose of determining entitlement to or the amount of any monthly benefits or lump-sum death payment on the basis of the wages and self-employment income of an individual whose years of service in the railroad industry are less than 10;

(b) For the purpose of determining entitlement to or the amount of any survivor monthly benefit or any lump-sum death payment on the basis of the wages and self-employment income of an individual whose years of service in the railroad industry at the time of death were 10 or more (see § 404.1406 for circumstances under which no payment may be made even though services are in "employment");

(c) For the purpose of determining entitlement to the establishment of a period of disability (see Subpart B of this Part 404) on the basis of the wages and self-employment income of an individual;

(d) For the purpose of applying the provisions of section 203 of the act (see Subpart E of this part).

4. Section 404.1404 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.1404 Effective date of coverage of railroad services under the act.

Coverage under the act of services performed after 1936 by an individual in the railroad industry is effective as follows:

(a) The provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 404.1402 insofar as they relate to survivor monthly benefits are effective for months after December 1946 and insofar as they relate to lump-sum death payments are effective with respect to deaths after 1946;

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of § 404.1402 insofar as they relate to old-age insurance benefits or monthly benefits of dependents of old-age insurance beneficiaries are effective November 1, 1951; insofar as they relate to disability insurance benefits are effective for months after June 1957; and insofar as they relate to monthly benefits for dependents of disability insurance beneficiaries are effective for months after August 1958;

(c) The provisions of paragraph (c) of § 404.1402 are effective for benefits for months after June 1955; and

(d) The provisions of paragraph (d) of § 404.1402 are effective November 1, 1951.

5. Paragraph (b) of § 404.1407 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.1407 When railroad benefits do not bar payment of social security benefits.

The provisions of § 404.1406 shall not operate if:

* * * * *

(b) The residual lump-sum payment provided by section 5(f)(2) of the Railroad Retirement Act with respect to the death of an insured individual is paid by the Railroad Retirement Board in accordance with the provisions of said section 5(f)(2) and pursuant to an irrevocable election filed with the Board by the widow, widower or parent of such individual to waive all future annuities or benefits based on the combined records of earnings and compensation to which such widow, widower or parent might otherwise become entitled, but only to the extent that widow's, widower's or parent's benefits may be payable under the regulation of this part to such widow, widower or parent, as the case may be, solely on the basis of the wages and self-employment income of such deceased individual and without regard to any compensation which may be treated as wages pursuant to § 404.1408.

6. Section 404.1409 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.1409 Purposes of using compensation.

Compensation which is treated as wages under § 404.1408 shall be used, together with wages (see Subpart K of this part) and self-employment income (see Subpart K of this part), for purposes of:

(a) Determining an individual's insured status for monthly benefits or the lump-sum death payment (see Subpart B of this part);

(b) Computing such individual's primary insurance amount (see Subpart C of this part);

(c) Determining an individual's entitlement to the establishment of a period of disability (see Subpart B of this part for disability insured status requirements); and

(d) Applying the deduction provisions of section 203 of the act (see Subpart E of this part).

7. Section 404.1410 is amended to read as follows:

§ 404.1410 Presumption on basis of certified compensation record.

Where the Railroad Retirement Board certifies to the Administration a report of record of compensation, which is treated as wages under § 404.1408, and periods of service which does not identify the months or quarters in which such compensation was paid, the sum of the compensation quarters of coverage (see § 404.1412) will be presumed, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, to represent an equivalent number of quarters of coverage (see §§ 404.103 and 404.104). No more than four quarters of coverage shall be credited to an individual in a single calendar year. However, if such individual also had self-employment income for a taxable year and the sum of such income and wages (including compensation which is treated as wages under § 404.1408) paid to him during such taxable year equals $3,600 in any taxable year beginning after 1950 and ending before 1955, or equals $4,200 in any taxable year ending after 1954 and before 1959 or equals $4,800 in any taxable year ending after 1958, each calendar quarter any part of which falls in such taxable year shall be a quarter of coverage.

(Sec. 205(a), 53 Stat. 1368, as amended, sec. 1102, 49 Stat. 647, as amended; 42 U.S.C. 405(a), 1302; sec. 5 of Reorg. Plan No. 1 of 1953, 67 Stat. 18. Interprets sec. 302 as amended, 72 Stat. 1021, 1022, 1023, sec. 216(i) as amended, 68 Stat. 1080, 1081, 72 Stat. 1020, 1021, and sec. 223, as amended, 70 Stat. 815, 816, 72 Stat. 1030, 1031; 42 U.S.C. 402, 416(i) and 423.

Title 26—INTERNAL REVENUE, 1954

Chapter I—Internal Revenue Service, Department of the Treasury

SUBCHAPTER A—INCOME TAX

[T.D. 6470]

PART 1—INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1953

Percentage To Be Used by Foreign Life Insurance Companies in Computing Income Tax for Taxable Year 1959

Section 819(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as added by the Life Insurance Company Income Tax Act of 1959 (73 Stat. 136), provides for the determination of a percentage to be used in determining a "minimum figure" for each foreign life insurance company described in section 819(a). Where this minimum figure exceeds the foreign life insurance company's surplus held in the United States, the amount of the "policy and other contract liability requirements" (determined under section 805 without regard to section 819(b)), and the amount of the "required interest" (determined under section 809(a) without regard to section 819(b)), must each be reduced by an amount determined by multiplying such excess by the "current earnings rate" (as defined in section 805(b)(2)). Accordingly, it is hereby determined that for purposes of computing the 1959 income tax by foreign life insurance companies a percentage of 12.5 shall be used in determining the "minimum figure" under section 819(b).

Because the percentage announced in this Treasury decision is computed from information contained in the income tax returns of domestic life insurance companies for the year 1958, which are not open to public inspection, the public accordingly cannot effectively participate in the determination of such figure. Therefore, it is found that it is unnecessary to issue this Treasury decision with notice and public procedure thereon under section 4(a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, or subject to the effective date limitation of section 4(c) of said Act.

[SEAL] DAVID A. LENDAY,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

Title 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter II—Corps of Engineers, Department of the Army

PART 204—DANGER ZONE REGULATIONS

PART 207—NAVIGATION REGULATIONS

Mona Passage, Puerto Rico; St. Petersburg Harbor and Tampa Bay, Fla.

1. Pursuant to the provisions of section 7 of the River and Harbor Act of August 8, 1917 (40 Stat. 266; 33 U.S.C. 1), § 204.225 establishing and governing the use and navigation of a danger zone in Mona Passage in the vicinity of Monito Island, Puerto Rico, is hereby revoked, as follows:

§ 204.225 Mona Passage in vicinity of Monito Island, Puerto Rico; aerial bombing range, United States Air Force, Ramey Air Force Base, Puerto Rico. [Revoked]

2. Pursuant to the provisions of section 7 of the River and Harbor Act of August 8, 1917 (40 Stat. 266; 33 U.S.C. 1) § 207.175 establishing and governing the use and navigation of seaplane restricted and operating areas in St. Petersburg Harbor and Tampa Bay, Florida, is hereby amended revising paragraph (a)(1) to change the boundary of the seaplane restricted area, as follows:

§ 207.175 St. Petersburg Harbor and Tampa Bay, Fla.; seaplane restricted and operating areas.

(a) The areas—(1) The seaplane restricted area. The waters of St. Petersburg Harbor and Tampa Bay in the vicinity of the United States Coast Guard Air Station within an area described as follows: Beginning at the intersection of the easterly end of the concrete bulkhead along the northerly side of the Port of St. Petersburg with the northerly end of the steel bulkhead along the easterly side of the port; thence 242°30', 450 feet; thence 152°30', 600 feet; thence 180°00', about 460 feet to the south edge of the entrance channel; thence 90°30', 6300 feet; thence 360°00', 280 feet to the north edge of the entrance channel; thence 270°30', 5,775 feet; thence 360°00', 250

PART 4—OPERATION AND NAVIGATION OF PANAMA CANAL AND ADJACENT WATERS

Passing Through Locks

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Governor of the Canal Zone by 35 CFR 4.11 as adopted by Canal Zone Order 30, January 6, 1953 (18 F.R. 280), § 4.43a of such title is amended as follows:

§ 4.43a Passing through locks.

Vessels passing through the locks shall normally be handled by electric towing locomotives. After cables from the towing locomotives have been placed aboard, main engines may be used if considered necessary by the pilot. Small vessels may be permitted to pass through the locks under their own power. When a vessel has a pilot aboard, the use of engines shall be under the direction of the pilot. A small vessel passing through the locks without a pilot aboard shall be under the direction of the lockmaster, who may authorize the use of engines in the locks.

Issued at Balboa Heights, Canal Zone, May 31, 1960.

PART 46—RURAL SERVICE

PART 168—DIRECTORY OF INTERNATIONAL MAIL

Miscellaneous Amendments

The regulations of the Post Office Department are amended as follows:

I. In § 46.5 Rural boxes, subparagraph (4) of paragraph (a) is amended by inserting "Lee Silver Service, Inc., 13561 Helen Avenue, Detroit 12, Michigan" in the proper alphabetical order of approved manufacturers of rural mail boxes.

NOTE: The corresponding Postal Manual section is 156.5.

(R.S. 161, as amended, 396, as amended, sec. 1, 39 Stat. 423; 5 U.S.C. 22, 369, 39 U.S.C. 191, 192)

II. In § 168.5 Individual country regulations, the country "Algeria", as amended by Federal Register document 60-1649, 25 F.R. 1617-1618, is further amended by making the following changes for the purpose of clarification:

A. Under "Postal Union mail," amend the item Prohibitions and import restrictions, to read as follows:

Prohibitions and import restrictions. Same as France.

B. Under "Parcel Post", amend the item Prohibitions and import restrictions to read as follows:

Prohibitions and import restrictions. Same as France, except that tobacco and its products up to 10 kilograms (22 pounds) per person per year are admitted subject to import permit from the Algerian Tobacco Monopoly. Military clothing is prohibited. Antibiotics, serums and vaccines may not be sent in gift parcels without authorization from the Algerian Government.

Import licenses must be obtained for all commercial shipments and for gift parcels weighing 10 kilograms (22 pounds) or more, or valued at 30,000 francs ($61) or more. Gift parcels under that weight and value and for the personal use of the addressees and their families are exempt from import licensing, provided they are sent infrequently. They are free of customs duty if the value is under 5,000 francs ($10.20).

As import licenses must be obtained before the parcels arrive, senders should notify the addressees in advance of mailing any parcels likely to require licenses.

Title 42—PUBLIC HEALTH

Chapter I—Public Health Service, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

PART 21—COMMISSIONED OFFICERS

Miscellaneous Amendments

1. Subpart C is amended by redesignating §§ 21.28, 21.29, 21.30, 21.31 and 21.32 as §§ 21.29, 21.31, 21.32, 21.33, and 21.34, respectively; by changing accordingly all references in Part 21 to the redesignated sections; and by adding to Subpart C the following new §§ 21.28 and 21.30:

§ 21.28 Age requirements, Regular Corps, senior assistant grade and below.

No candidate for appointment to the Regular Corps, except in the nurse category, shall be appointed (a) after age 31 to the permanent junior assistant grade, (b) after age 34 to the permanent assistant grade, or (c) after age 37 to the permanent senior assistant grade. The age limitations for candidates who have had prior active service in the Commissioned Corps of the Public Health Service shall be increased by the period of such service.

§ 21.30 Determination of creditable years of educational and professional training and experience.

The level of academic attainment, the number of calendar years and the quality of educational and professional training and experience shall be considered in determining the number of years of such training and experience with which each candidate for appointment may be credited.

2. Section 21.72 is amended as follows:

§ 21.72 Special circumstances.

An officer on active duty whose permanent post of duty is in Alaska or Hawaii, a possession or trust territory of the United States, or a foreign area, or who is performing temporary duty in, or temporary duty travel to or from these localities, may be permitted to allot, in addition to allotments for the purposes as indicated in § 21.71, a part or all of his monthly pay and allowances for the support of his family or dependents, except that no officer, without the approval of the Surgeon General, may have in force more than two such allotments at one time.

3. Subpart F is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

§ 21.98 Maternity leave.

(a) An officer, when pregnant, shall be relieved from her assigned duties at such time as may be determined to be in the interest of her health, and shall at that time be placed on annual leave. Upon the expiration of all annual leave with which she is credited she shall be granted such sick leave (not to exceed 90 days) as is determined to be necessary under the circumstances. Such sick leave shall be granted only if (1) the officer has been on continuous active duty for not less than one year at the time her annual leave expires, (2) she states in writing that she intends to remain on extended active duty with the Service after the birth of the child, and (3) the maximum authorized sick leave will extend through the 30th day following the anticipated birth date of the child. Any sick leave taken in connection with the officer's pregnancy before the date she is placed on annual leave will reduce the maximum period of sick leave which she may be granted under this subsection, and no sick leave shall be granted during the period of such annual leave.

(b) If upon the termination of the sick leave authorized under paragraph (a) of this section the officer is not physically qualified to return to her assigned duties and it is determined that under normal circumstances she should be so qualified before the 90th day following the birth of the child, she may be granted such additional sick leave as may be necessary, but the sick leave so authorized shall not extend beyond the 90th day following the birth of the child.

4. Section 21.152 is amended as follows:

§ 21.152 Separation of officers because of pregnancy.

If an officer who is pregnant is not eligible for sick leave pursuant to § 21.98, she shall, (a) if an officer of the Regular Corps, have her commission terminated, or (b) if an officer of the Reserve Corps, be placed on inactive status, on the day following the expiration of her annual leave. If an officer who is granted sick leave pursuant to § 21.98(a), and, if applicable, § 21.98(b), is found to be physically unqualified for duty at the expiration of such sick leave, she shall, (1) if an officer of the Regular Corps, have her commission terminated, or (2) if an officer of the Reserve Corps, be placed on inactive status, on the day following the expiration of her sick leave. If an officer who is granted sick leave pursuant to § 21.98 at any time thereafter officially advises the Service that she does not intend to return to duty, her commission shall be immediately terminated. This section shall not be applicable to any officer eligible for retirement.

§ 21.171 [Amendment]

5. Section 21.171 is amended by deleting the word "Secretary" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Surgeon General".

6. Section 21.176 is amended as follows:

§ 21.176 Prescription of standards to be utilized by category retirement boards.

The Surgeon General may from time to time prescribe standards to effectuate the current and expected program requirements of the Service to be utilized by each category retirement board in determining the qualifications for continued active service of officers whose names may thereafter be referred to the board pursuant to § 21.173 or § 21.175.

7. Section 21.177 is amended as follows:

§ 21.177 Action by the Surgeon General.

If a retirement board finds in accordance with standards prescribed under § 21.176 that an officer should be retired, and if such finding is approved by the Surgeon General, the officer concerned shall be retired.

8. Section 21.192 is amended as follows:

§ 21.192 Procedures; full and fair hearings.

(a) If the report of the medical review board, which has reviewed the case of an officer for retirement where the officer did not specifically apply for such retirement, contains a finding that such officer is physically fit to perform the duties of his office, the report shall be transmitted to the Surgeon General for appropriate action pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section.

(b) If the report of the medical review board, which has reviewed the case of an officer for retirement, recommends that such officer be retired or separated, or finds that an officer who has specifically applied for disability retirement is physically fit to perform the duties of his office, a copy of the report shall be forwarded to the officer concerned who shall be informed that if he feels aggrieved by any of the board's findings or recommendations, he shall have the right, within 30 days of his receipt of the report, to request a hearing. If the officer's request for a hearing is received within 30 days of his receipt of the board's report, he shall be granted a full and fair hearing. Upon completion of such hearing, the findings and recommendations of the hearing board, together with the medical review board's report, shall be transmitted to the Surgeon General for appropriate action pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section.

(c) If an officer, upon notification of his right to request a hearing, states in writing that he does not desire a hearing, or if a request for a hearing is not received within 30 days from the officer's receipt of the board's report, the report shall be forwarded to the Surgeon General for appropriate action pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Upon receipt by the Surgeon General of the material transmitted to him, the officer concerned shall be retired, separated, or continued on active duty as the Surgeon General shall determine.

9. Effective date: These amendments shall be effective on the date of their publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER: Provided, That no candidate for appointment to the senior assistant grade or below in the Regular Corps whose name has been placed on a merit roll before such effective date shall be subject to the age limitations imposed by the new § 21.28 so long as his name continues on that or succeeding merit rolls as a result of an examination taken before such effective date.

PART 21—COMMISSIONED OFFICERS

Miscellaneous Amendments

1. Subpart C is amended by redesignating §§ 21.28, 21.29, 21.30, 21.31 and 21.32 as §§ 21.29, 21.31, 21.32, 21.33, and 21.34, respectively; by changing accordingly all references in Part 21 to the redesignated sections; and by adding to Subpart C the following new §§ 21.28 and 21.30:

§ 21.28 Age requirements, Regular Corps, senior assistant grade and below.

No candidate for appointment to the Regular Corps, except in the nurse category, shall be appointed (a) after age 31 to the permanent junior assistant grade, (b) after age 34 to the permanent assistant grade, or (c) after age 37 to the permanent senior assistant grade. The age limitations for candidates who have had prior active service in the Commissioned Corps of the Public Health Service shall be increased by the period of such service.

§ 21.30 Determination of creditable years of educational and professional training and experience.

The level of academic attainment, the number of calendar years and the quality of educational and professional training and experience shall be considered in determining the number of years of such training and experience with which each candidate for appointment may be credited.

2. Section 21.72 is amended as follows:

§ 21.72 Special circumstances.

An officer on active duty whose permanent post of duty is in Alaska or Hawaii, a possession or trust territory of the United States, or a foreign area, or who is performing temporary duty in, or temporary duty travel to or from these localities, may be permitted to allot, in addition to allotments for the purposes as indicated in § 21.71, a part or all of his monthly pay and allowances for the support of his family or dependents, except that no officer, without the approval of the Surgeon General, may have in force more than two such allotments at one time.

3. Subpart F is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

§ 21.98 Maternity leave.

(a) An officer, when pregnant, shall be relieved from her assigned duties at such time as may be determined to be in the interest of her health, and shall at that time be placed on annual leave. Upon the expiration of all annual leave with which she is credited she shall be granted such sick leave (not to exceed 90 days) as is determined to be necessary under the circumstances. Such sick leave shall be granted only if (1) the officer has been on continuous active duty for not less than one year at the time her annual leave expires, (2) she states in writing that she intends to remain on extended active duty with the Service after the birth of the child, and (3) the maximum authorized sick leave will extend through the 30th day following the anticipated birth date of the child. Any sick leave taken in connection with the officer's pregnancy before the date she is placed on annual leave will reduce the maximum period of sick leave which she may be granted under this subsection, and no sick leave shall be granted during the period of such annual leave.

(b) If upon the termination of the sick leave authorized under paragraph (a) of this section the officer is not physically qualified to return to her assigned duties and it is determined that under normal circumstances she should be so qualified before the 90th day following the birth of the child, she may be granted such additional sick leave as may be necessary, but the sick leave so authorized shall not extend beyond the 90th day following the birth of the child.

4. Section 21.152 is amended as follows:

§ 21.152 Separation of officers because of pregnancy.

If an officer who is pregnant is not eligible for sick leave pursuant to § 21.98, she shall, (a) if an officer of the Regular Corps, have her commission terminated, or (b) if an officer of the Reserve Corps, be placed on inactive status, on the day following the expiration of her annual leave. If an officer who is granted sick leave pursuant to § 21.98(a), and, if applicable, § 21.98(b), is found to be physically unqualified for duty at the expiration of such sick leave, she shall, (1) if an officer of the Regular Corps, have her commission terminated, or (2) if an officer of the Reserve Corps, be placed on inactive status, on the day following the expiration of her sick leave. If an officer who is granted sick leave pursuant to § 21.98 at any time thereafter officially advises the Service that she does not intend to return to duty, her commission shall be immediately terminated. This section shall not be applicable to any officer eligible for retirement.

§ 21.171 [Amendment]

5. Section 21.171 is amended by deleting the word "Secretary" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Surgeon General".

6. Section 21.176 is amended as follows:

§ 21.176 Prescription of standards to be utilized by category retirement boards.

The Surgeon General may from time to time prescribe standards to effectuate the current and expected program requirements of the Service to be utilized by each category retirement board in determining the qualifications for continued active service of officers whose names may thereafter be referred to the board pursuant to § 21.173 or § 21.175.

7. Section 21.177 is amended as follows:

§ 21.177 Action by the Surgeon General.

If a retirement board finds in accordance with standards prescribed under § 21.176 that an officer should be retired, and if such finding is approved by the Surgeon General, the officer concerned shall be retired.

8. Section 21.192 is amended as follows:

§ 21.192 Procedures; full and fair hearings.

(a) If the report of the medical review board, which has reviewed the case of an officer for retirement where the officer did not specifically apply for such retirement, contains a finding that such officer is physically fit to perform the duties of his office, the report shall be transmitted to the Surgeon General for appropriate action pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section.

(b) If the report of the medical review board, which has reviewed the case of an officer for retirement, recommends that such officer be retired or separated, or finds that an officer who has specifically applied for disability retirement is physically fit to perform the duties of his office, a copy of the report shall be forwarded to the officer concerned who shall be informed that if he feels aggrieved by any of the board's findings or recommendations, he shall have the right, within 30 days of his receipt of the report, to request a hearing. If the officer's request for a hearing is received within 30 days of his receipt of the board's report, he shall be granted a full and fair hearing. Upon completion of such hearing, the findings and recommendations of the hearing board, together with the medical review board's report, shall be transmitted to the Surgeon General for appropriate action pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section.

(c) If an officer, upon notification of his right to request a hearing, states in writing that he does not desire a hearing, or if a request for a hearing is not received within 30 days from the officer's receipt of the board's report, the report shall be forwarded to the Surgeon General for appropriate action pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Upon receipt by the Surgeon General of the material transmitted to him, the officer concerned shall be retired, separated, or continued on active duty as the Surgeon General shall determine.

9. Effective date: These amendments shall be effective on the date of their publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER: Provided, That no candidate for appointment to the senior assistant grade or below in the Regular Corps whose name has been placed on a merit roll before such effective date shall be subject to the age limitations imposed by the new § 21.28 so long as his name continues on that or succeeding merit rolls as a result of an examination taken before such effective date.

[Anchorage 047373]

ALASKA

Withdrawing Public Lands for Recreational Purposes

By virtue of the authority vested in the President, and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, it is ordered as follows:

Subject to valid existing rights, the following-described public lands in Alaska are hereby withdrawn from all forms of appropriation under the public land laws, including the mining but not the mineral leasing laws nor disposals of materials under the act of July 31, 1947 (61 Stat. 681; 30 U.S.C. 601–604), as amended, and reserved under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Interior, for administration and maintenance as public recreation areas:

TEBAY LAKES AREA

SITE NO. 1

A parcel of unsurveyed land located near outlet of North Tebay Lake, described as follows:

Beginning at Corner No. 1, Latitude 61°13'36" N., Longitude 144°12'50" W., thence
N. 45°00' W., 5 chains to corner No. 2;
S. 45°00' W., 20 chains to corner No. 3;
S. 45°00' E., 5 chains approximately to corner No. 4 located on shore of lake;
Northeasterly, 20 chains approximately along shore line to point of beginning.
Containing approximately 20 acres.

SITE NO. 2

A parcel of unsurveyed land located near inlet on SE side of North Tebay Lake, described as follows:

Beginning at corner No. 1, Latitude 61°12'00" N., Longitude 144°15'50" W., located at mean high water on shore of N. Tebay Lake; thence
S. 45°00' E., 5 chains to corner No. 2;
S. 45°00' W., 10 chains to corner No. 3;
N. 45°00' W., 5 chains approximately to corner No. 4 on shore of lake;
Northeasterly, 10 chains, approximately along shore line to point of beginning.
Containing approximately 5 acres.

COPPER LAKE AREA

A parcel of unsurveyed land located on south shore of Copper Lake, headwaters drainage of Copper River, described as follows:

Beginning at corner No. 1, Latitude 62°25'00" N., Longitude 143°34'00" W., located at high water mark on Copper Lake; thence South, 5 chains to corner No. 2;
East, 10 chains to corner No. 3;
North, 5 chains to corner No. 4;
Westerly, 10 chains approximately, along shore line to point of beginning.
Containing approximately 5 acres.

The tracts described total in the aggregate approximately 30 acres.

Nothing in this order shall preclude selection by the State of Alaska of the lands or parts thereof under applicable law.

ROGER ERNST,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

FEDERAL AVIATION AGENCY

[14 CFR Part 601]

[Airspace Docket No. 60–WA–149]

CONTROL ZONES

Designation and Modification

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to Part 601 and §§ 601.2180 and 601.2187 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

The Oakland, Calif., control zone is presently designated within a 5-mile radius of Metropolitan Oakland International Airport including an extension to the southeast which includes Hayward Airport and an extension to the northwest which includes NAS Alameda. The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration redesignation of the Oakland control zone to include the area within a 5-mile radius of Metropolitan Oakland International Airport and to designate 5-mile radius control zones around both Hayward Airport and NAS Alameda. At present, the official weather observation for the entire control zone is made at Oakland International Airport; however, separate weather observations are made at each airport. Weather conditions in the bay area are such that one airport could be conducting operations in accordance with instrument flight rules while another airport within the control zone could conduct operations in accordance with visual flight rules. The proposal under consideration would facilitate air traffic management by permitting each airport to conduct operations consistent with the existing weather observed at the individual airports.

The San Francisco, Calif., control zone is presently designated within a 5-mile radius of San Francisco International Airport including extensions to the northwest, east and southeast. The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration redesignation of this control zone within a 7-mile radius of the San Francisco International Airport and the area bounded by the 7-mile radius of San Francisco control zone and the proposed 5-mile radius Oakland and Alameda control zones. The 7-mile radius zone at San Francisco would provide protection for trans-bay air activity, for departing aircraft and for aircraft executing instrument approaches to the San Francisco International Airport. It would also release airspace no longer required for the control of air traffic at San Francisco International Airport.

The Oakland and San Francisco High Density Air Traffic Zones are so designated that they would automatically conform to the modified San Francisco and Oakland control zones. Accordingly, no amendment relating to high density air traffic zones would be necessary.

If these actions are taken, the San Francisco, Calif., control zone, the Oakland, Calif., control zone, the Hayward, Calif., control zone and the NAS Alameda, Calif., control zone would be designated as follows:

San Francisco, California, Control Zone. Within a 7-mile radius of the San Francisco International Airport (latitude 37°37'07" N., longitude 122°22'35" W.), including the airspace bounded by the San Francisco 7-mile radius zone and on the northeast by the Oakland and NAS Alameda control zones, excluding that portion which would coincide with the Oakland control zone.

Oakland, California, Control Zone. Within a 5-mile radius of the Oakland International Airport (latitude 37°43'25" N., longitude 122°12'56" W.), excluding the portion subtended by a chord drawn between the points of intersection of this radius with the radius of the Alameda control zone.

Hayward, California, Control Zone. Within a 5-mile radius of the Hayward Airport (latitude 37°39'30" N., longitude 122°06'45" W.), excluding that portion which would coincide with the Oakland control zone.

NAS Alameda, California, Control Zone. Within a 5-mile radius of NAS Alameda (latitude 37°47'10" N., longitude 122°19'00" W.), excluding the portion subtended by a chord drawn between the points of intersection of this radius with the radius of the Oakland control zone.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, 5651 West Manchester Avenue, P.O. Box 90007, Airport Station, Los Angeles 45, Calif. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B–316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 6, 1960.

CHARLES W. CARMODY,
Acting Director, Bureau of Air Traffic Management.

[Airspace Docket No. 60–EC–21]

CONTROL ZONES

Designation

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to Part 601 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration the designation of a control zone at the University of Illinois Airport, Champaign, Ill. This control zone would be designated within a 5-mile radius of the University of Illinois Airport, within two miles either side of the 129° True radial of the Champaign VOR extending from the 5-mile radius zone to 12 miles southeast of the VOR, and within two miles either side of the 233° True radial of the Champaign VOR extending from the 5-mile radius zone to 12 miles southwest of the VOR. The designation of this control zone would provide protection for aircraft conducting instrument approaches which are to be prescribed for the University of Illinois Airport.

If this action is taken, the Champaign, Ill., control zone would be designated within a 5-mile radius of the University of Illinois Airport (latitude 40°02'24" N., longitude 88°16'36" W.), within 2 miles either side of the 129° True radial of the Champaign VOR extending from the 5-mile radius zone to 12 miles southeast of the VOR, and within two miles either side of the 233° True radial of the Champaign VOR extending from the 5-mile radius zone to 12 miles southwest of the VOR.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, 4825 Troost Avenue, Kansas City 10, Mo. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 6, 1960.

CONTROL ZONES

Modification

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to § 601.2024 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

The Federal Aviation Agency is considering modifying the Amarillo, Tex., control zone. The Amarillo control zone is presently designated within a five-mile radius of the Amarillo Air Force Base/Municipal Airport and within 2 miles either side of the west course of the Amarillo radio range extending from the radio range station to a point 5 miles west, and within 2 miles either side of the east course of the radio range extending from the radio range station to a point 18 miles east. The instrument approaches based on the radio range have have been revised. In order to provide adequate protection for aircraft executing VOR, ADF and radio range approaches to the Amarillo AFB/Municipal Airport, it is proposed to revoke the present extensions and designate an extension within 2 miles either side of a line bearing 046° True from the Tradewind radio beacon, extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the Tradewind radio beacon and within 2 miles either side of the north course of the radio range extending from the radio range to 12 miles north.

If this action is taken, the Amarillo, Tex., control zone would be designated as follows: Within a 5-mile radius of the Amarillo, Tex., AFB/Municipal Airport (latitude 35°13'11" N., longitude 101°42'42" W.), within 2 miles either side of a line, bearing 046° True, from the Tradewind radio beacon, extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the Tradewind RBN and within 2 miles either side of the north course of the Amarillo, Tex., radio range from the radio range to 12 miles north.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, P.O. Box 1689, Fort Worth 1, Tex. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 6, 1960.

CONTROL ZONES

Modification

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to § 601.2123 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substances of which is stated below.

The South Bend, Ind., control zone is presently designated within a 5-mile radius of St. Joseph County Airport extending two miles either side of the west course of the South Bend radio range to the New Carlisle fan marker, extending two miles either side of the South Bend ILS localizer course from the St. Joseph County Airport control zone to a point 10 miles east of the outer marker, and extending two miles either side of the 359° True radial of the South Bend VOR to a point 10 miles north of the VOR. The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration the modification of the South Bend control zone by lengthening the present west extension based on the west course of the South Bend radio range to 12 miles west of the radio range, to provide protection for aircraft conducting prescribed standard radio range instrument approaches to St. Joseph County Airport. In addition, prescribed instrument approach procedures are being revised for the VOR approach and ADF approach to this airport which will eliminate the requirement for the control zone extensions presently provided for these approaches. Accordingly, the north extension based on the 359° True radial of the South Bend VOR and the east extension based on the South Bend ILS localizer course would be revoked.

If these actions are taken, the South Bend, Ind., control zone would be designated within a 5-mile radius of St. Joseph County Airport (latitude 41°42'15" N., longitude 86°18'50" W.), and within two miles either side of the west course of the South Bend radio range extending from the 5-mile radius zone to a point 12 miles west of the radio range.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, 4825 Troost Avenue, Kansas City 10, Mo. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 3, 1960.

RESTRICTED AREAS AND CONTROL AREAS

Modification of Restricted Area and Control Area Extension

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to §§ 601.1386, 601.1464 and 608.18 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration a modification of the Banana River, Fla., and Orlando, Fla., control area extensions and the Banana River Restricted Area R-162. The present Banana River control area extension includes the airspace south of latitude 28°22'00" N., bounded on the east by Warning Area W-497A, on the south by the 5-mile radius control zone at Patrick AFB, Fla. (§ 601.2153), on the west by Amber Federal airway No. 7. It is proposed to enlarge the Banana River control area extension to include the airspace designated as the Banana River, Fla., Restricted Area R-162 and the airspace within 5 miles either side of the 071° True radial of the Orlando VOR extending from the VOR to VOR Federal airway No. 3. Concurrently with this action, it is proposed to delete reference to Amber Federal airway No. 7 in the description of the Banana River control area extension and to substitute therefor VOR Federal airway No. 3, because of the diminishing requirements for and gradual phasing out of L/MF airways.

The Orlando, Fla., control area extension (§ 601.1386) presently includes the airspace within 5 miles either side of the 071° True radial of the Orlando VOR extending from the Orlando VOR to the Wilmington, N.C., control area extension (§ 601.1150), excluding the airspace below 14,000 feet MSL lying between the eastern edge of VOR Federal airway No. 3 and the western edge of the Wilmington control area extension. It is proposed to redesignate the Orlando control area extension to include the airspace within 5 miles either side of the Orlando VOR 071° True radial extending from the eastern edge of the Banana River control area extension, as proposed for revision herein, to the Wilmington, N.C., control area extension, excluding the airspace below 14,000 feet MSL. Redesignation of the Orlando control area extension, as proposed herein, would not affect that portion of this control area extension which is presently designated outside the United States.

The Banana River, Fla., Restricted Area R-162 is presently used for missile operations by the Department of Army, Navy, and Patrick AFB, Cocoa, Fla., and includes 372 square miles beginning at latitude 28°50'00" N., longitude 80°50'00" W., thence due east to a point 3 nautical miles from the shoreline at longitude 80°41'35" W., southerly paralleling the shoreline at a distance of 3 nautical miles to latitude 28°22'00" N., longitude 80°33'00" W., due west to latitude 28°22'00" N., longitude 80°38'00" W., north-northwest to latitude 28°50'00" N., longitude 80°50'00" W., point of beginning. Designated altitudes are unlimited, excluding the portion which overlaps the Orlando control area above 13,000 feet MSL. Time of use is continuous. Controlling agency is the Department of Air Force, Army, Navy and Patrick AFB. It is proposed to change the Banana River Restricted Area R-162 to a joint use restricted area; designate the Federal Aviation Agency, Miami Air Route Traffic Control Center, as the controlling agency and revoke the altitude restriction in the portion of R-162 which coincides with the Orlando Control area extension.

Enlarging the Banana River control area extension and modifying the Banana River Restricted Area (R-162), would facilitate air traffic management by providing additional controlled airspace within R-162 for holding aircraft at the Titusville, Fla., intersection (intersection of the Orlando VOR 071° and the Daytona Beach, Fla., VOR 141° True radials). It would also provide controlled airspace for radar vectoring aircraft departing and arriving Patrick AFB, Fla. If the Banana River control area extension is modified as proposed herein, it would coincide with the western portion of the Orlando control area extension. The proposed modifications to the Orlando control area extension would eliminate this duplication and would simplify the description of the Orlando control area extension.

If these actions are taken, the Banana River, Fla., control area extension would be redesignated to include the airspace bounded on the north by latitude 28°50'00" N., on the east by a line 3 nautical miles east of and parallel to the shoreline, on the south by the Patrick AFB, Fla., 5-mile radius control zone, on the west by VOR Federal airway No. 3, including the airspace 5 miles either side of the Orlando, Fla., VOR 071° True radial extending from the Orlando VOR to VOR Federal airway No. 3. The Orlando, Fla., control area extension would be redesignated to include the airspace within 5 miles either side of the 071° True radial of the Orlando, Fla., VOR extending from the Banana River, Fla., control area extension to the Wilmington, N.C., control area extension (§ 601.1150), excluding the airspace below 14,000 feet MSL. The Banana River Restricted Area (R-162), would be redesignated to include the area beginning at latitude 28°50'00" N., longitude 80°50'00" W., thence due east to a point three nautical miles from the shoreline at longitude 80°41'35" W., southerly paralleling the shoreline at a distance of 3 nautical miles to latitude 28°22'00" N., longitude 80°33'00" W., due west to latitude 28°22'00" N., longitude 80°38'00" W., north-northwest to latitude 28°50'00" N., longitude 80°50'00" W., the point of beginning. Designated altitudes would be unlimited. Time of designation would be continuous. The controlling agency would be Miami Air Route Traffic Control Center.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, P.O. Box 1689, Fort Worth 1, Tex. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

CODED JET ROUTES

Modification

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3469), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to § 602.516 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

In an amendment to § 602.516 of the Regulations of the Administrator, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 22, 1960 (25 F.R. 2368), as Airspace Docket No. 59-WA-173, VOR/VORTAC jet route No. 16 was modified by redesignating it to extend from Portland, Oreg., to Pullman, Mich., and from Buffalo, N.Y., to Boston, Mass., effective April 28, 1960. As stated in Airspace Docket No. 59-WA-173, the amendment represented a change from the published Notice of Proposed Rule Making (24 F.R. 8657), which had proposed designation of the first portion of Jet Route 16-V to terminate at Peck, Mich. The designation of the segment of this jet route from Pullman to Peck was deferred. To provide continuity of Jet Route 16-V within the United States, the Federal Aviation Agency is now proposing its extension from the Pullman VOR via the Peck VOR and the Peck VOR 100° True radial to the United States-Canadian Border; and from the United States-Canadian Border via the Buffalo VOR 274° True radial to the Buffalo VOR.

If this action is taken, VOR/VORTAC jet route No. 16 would be modified by extending it from Pullman, Mich., via Peck, Mich., and the Peck VOR 100° True radial to the United States-Canadian Border; and from the United States-Canadian Border via the Buffalo, N.Y., VOR 274° True radial to Buffalo.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 3, 1960.

[Dockets F-44, 50-56]

AEROJET-GENERAL NUCLEONICS AND AEROJET-GENERAL CORP.

Notice of Termination of Licenses

Please take notice that the Atomic Energy Commission has terminated (1) License R-14 which authorized Aerojet-General Nucleonics (AGN) to possess and operate nuclear reactor Model AGN-201, Serial No. 108 and to transfer said reactor to any person licensed to acquire it and (2) License R-16 which authorized Aerojet-General Corporation (AGC) to acquire the title to nuclear reactor Model AGN-201, Serial No. 108 from Aerojet-General Nucleonics and to transfer said title to any person licensed by the AEC to acquire it. The licenses were terminated in accordance with requests from AGN dated May 2, 1960, and AGC dated May 10, 1960, since the reactor has been sold by AGN to Argonne National Laboratory.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Notice of Proposed Issuance of Construction Permit

Please take notice that the Atomic Energy Commission proposes to issue to Cornell University, a construction permit substantially as set forth below for a TRIGA reactor facility to be constructed on the University's campus in Ithaca, New York, unless within fifteen (15) days after the filing of this notice with the Office of the Federal Register a request for a formal hearing is filed with the Commission as provided by the Commission's rules of practice (10 CFR Part 2). Petitions for leave to intervene shall be filed by mailing a copy to the Office of the Secretary, Atomic Energy Commission, Washington 25, D.C., or by delivery of a copy in person to the Office of the Secretary, Germantown, Maryland, or the AEC's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C.

For further details see (1) the application submitted by Cornell University (2) a hazards analysis prepared by the Hazards Evaluation Branch, Division of Licensing and Regulation, both on file at the AEC's Public Document Room. A copy of item (2) above may be obtained at the AEC's Public Document Room or upon request addressed to the Atomic Energy Commission, Washington 25, D.C., Attention: Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

Dated at Germantown, Md., this 6th day of June 1960.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

R. L. KIRK,
Deputy Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

Proposed Construction Permit

1. By application dated February 24, 1960, (hereinafter referred to as "the application") Cornell University requested a Class 104 license, defined in § 50.21 of Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities" Title 10, Chapter I, CFR, authorizing construction and operation on the Cornell University campus in Ithaca, New York, of a 10 kilowatt (thermal) TRIGA reactor facility (hereinafter referred to as "the facility").

2. The Atomic Energy Commission (hereinafter referred to as "the Commission") finds that:

A. The facility will be a utilization facility as defined in the Commission's regulations contained in Title 10, Chapter I, CFR, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities".

B. The facility will be used in the conduct of research and development activities of the types specified in section 31 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, (hereinafter referred to as "the Act").

C. Cornell University is financially qualified to construct and operate the facility in accordance with the regulations contained in Title 10, Chapter I, CFR, to assume financial responsibility for the payment of Commission charges for special nuclear material and to undertake and carry out the proposed use of such material for a reasonable period of time.

D. Cornell University and its contractors Vitro Engineering Company, a Division of Vitro Corporation of America, and General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation, are technically qualified to design, construct and operate the facility.

E. Cornell University has submitted sufficient information to provide reasonable assurance that the facility can be constructed and operated at the proposed location without undue risk to the health and safety of the public.

F. The issuance of a construction permit to Cornell University will not be inimical to the common defense and security or to the health and safety of the public.

3. Pursuant to the Act and Title 10, Chapter I, CFR, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities", the Commission hereby issues a construction permit to Cornell University to construct the facility in accordance with the application. This permit shall be deemed to contain and be subject to the conditions specified in §§ 50.54 and 50.55 of said regulations; is subject to all applicable provisions of the Act and rules, regulations, and orders of the Commission now or hereafter in effect; and is subject to the additional conditions specified below:

A. The earliest completion date of the facility is March 1, 1961. The latest date for completion of the facility is September 30, 1961. The term "completion date" as used herein, means the date on which construction of the facility is completed except for the introduction of the fuel material.

B. The facility shall be constructed and located at the location on the campus of Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, specified in the application.

4. This permit is provisional to the extent that a license authorizing operation of the facility will not be issued by the Commission unless Cornell University has submitted to the Commission (by amendment of the application) additional data required to complete the hazards evaluation and the Commission has found the final design provides reasonable assurance that the health and safety of the public will not be endangered by operation of the facility in accordance with the specified procedures.

5. Upon completion (as defined in paragraph "3A" above) of the construction of the facility in accordance with the terms and conditions of this permit, upon filing of the additional information needed to bring the original application up-to-date, and upon finding that the facility authorized has been constructed and will operate in conformity with the application as amended and in conformity with the provisions of the Act and of the rules and regulations of the Commission, and in the absence of any good cause being shown to the Commission why the granting of a license would not be in accordance with the provisions of the Act, the Commission will issue a Class 104 license to Cornell University pursuant to Section 104c of the Act, which license shall expire twenty (20) years after the date of this construction permit.

Date of issuance:

[Docket No. 50-94]

NORTH AMERICAN AVIATION, INC.

Notice of Proposed Issuance of Construction Permit and Amended Facility License

Please take notice that the Atomic Energy Commission proposes to issue to North American Aviation, Inc., a construction permit substantially as set forth in Appendix "A" below for a 10 watt nuclear research reactor to be installed at the DeSoto facility of Atomics International Division, North American Aviation, Inc., in Canoga Park, California, unless within fifteen (15) days after the filing of this notice with the Office of the Federal Register a request for a formal hearing is filed with the Commission by the applicant or an intervener as provided by the Commission's rules of practice (10 CFR Part 2). Petitions for leave to intervene shall be filed by mailing a copy to the Office of the Secretary, Atomic Energy Commission, Washington 25, D.C., or by delivery of a copy in person to the Office of the Secretary, Germantown, Maryland, or the AEC's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C.

This reactor has operated since May 17, 1958 at the Vanowen facility of Atomics International Division, North American Aviation, Inc., in Canoga Park, California. The construction permit and the amended facility license described below would authorize the movement, subsequent possession and operation of the reactor from the Vanowen facility to its new location at the DeSoto facility. This license will also incorporate as part of the operating requirements, the loading and unloading procedures specified in Amendment No. 3 to the application dated February 8, 1960. Notice is also hereby given that if the Commission issues the construction permit, the Commission may without further prior public notice convert the construction permit to a Class 104 license substantially as set forth in Appendix "B" below authorizing operation of the facility by North American Aviation, Inc., if it is found that construction of the facility has been completed in compliance with the terms and conditions contained in the construction permit and that the facility authorized has been constructed and will operate in conformity with the application and the provisions of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and of the rules and regulations of the Commission, and in the absence of any good cause being shown to the Commission why the granting of such license would not be in accordance with the provisions of the Act. Upon conversion of the construction permit to a Class 104 license, notice of the issuance of the Class 104 license will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and a period of thirty days will be provided within which requests for a formal hearing with respect to the issuance of said license may be filed with the Commission.

For further details see (1) the application submitted by North American Aviation, Inc., and amendments thereto, and (2) the hazards analyses of the loading and unloading procedures and of the construction and operation at the proposed site prepared by the Hazards Evaluation Branch, Division of Licensing and Regulation (Appendices "C" and "D" below), all on file at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. A copy of item (2) above may be obtained at the Commission's Public Document Room or upon request addressed to the Atomic Energy Commission, Washington 25, D.C., Attention: Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

Dated at Germantown, Md., this 3d day of June 1960.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

R. L. KIRK,
Deputy Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

APPENDIX "A"

[Construction Permit No. CPRR-54]

1. By application dated January 20, 1958, and amendments thereto dated March 26, 1958, April 15, 1958, September 25, 1959, February 8, 1960, and March 29, 1960 (hereinafter collectively referred to as "the application"), North American Aviation, Inc. requested a Class 104 license, defined in § 50.21 of Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities," Title 10, Chapter I, CFR, authorizing construction and operation at the DeSoto facility of Atomics International Division, North American Aviation, Inc. in Canoga Park, California, of a 10 watt solution-type nuclear reactor (hereinafter referred to as "the reactor").

2. The Atomic Energy Commission (hereinafter referred to as "the Commission") finds that:

A. The reactor will be a utilization facility as defined in the Commission's regulations contained in Title 10, Chapter I, CFR, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities".

B. The reactor will be used in the conduct of research and development activities of the types specified in section 31 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (hereinafter referred to as "the Act").

C. North American Aviation, Inc. is financially qualified to construct and operate the reactor in accordance with the regulations contained in Title 10, Chapter I, CFR, to assume financial responsibility for the payment of Commission charges for special nuclear material and to undertake and carry out the proposed use of such material for a reasonable period of time.

D. North American Aviation, Inc. is technically qualified to construct and operate the reactor.

E. North American Aviation, Inc. had submitted sufficient information to provide reasonable assurance that the reactor can be constructed and operated at the proposed location without undue risk to the health and safety of the public.

F. The issuance of a construction permit to North American Aviation, Inc. will not be inimical to the common defense and security or to the health and safety of the public.

3. Pursuant to the Act and Title 10, Chapter I, CFR, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities", the Commission hereby issues a construction permit to North American Aviation, Inc. to construct the reactor in accordance with the application. This permit shall be deemed to contain and be subject to the conditions specified in §§ 50.54 and 50.55 of said regulations; is subject to all applicable provisions of the Act and rules, regulations, and orders of the Commission now or hereafter in effect; and is subject to the additional conditions specified below:

A. The earliest completion date of the reactor is June 23, 1960. The latest date for completion of the recator is July 10, 1960. The term "completion date" as used herein, means the date on which construction of the reactor is completed except for the introduction of the fuel material.

B. The reactor shall be constructed and located at the DeSoto facility of Atomics International Division, North American Aviation, Inc. in Canoga Park, California, specified in the application.

4. Upon completion (as defined in paragraph "3A" above) of the construction of the reactor in accordance with the terms and conditions of this permit, and upon finding that the reactor authorized has been constructed and will operate in conformity with the application and the provisions of the Act and of the rules and regulations of the Commission, and in the absence of any good cause being shown to the Commission why the granting of a license would not be in accordance with the provisions of the Act, the Commission will issue a Class 104 license to North American Aviation, Inc. pursuant to section 104c of the Act, which license shall expire at midnight May 16, 1978.

Date of issuance:

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

APPENDIX "B"

[License No. R-40; Amdt. 1]

License No. R-40 is revised in its entirety to read as follows:

1. The Atomic Energy Commission (hereinafter "the Commission") finds that:

A. The solution-type 10 watt nuclear research reactor authorized for construction by Construction Permit CPRR-54 issued to North American Aviation, Inc., has been constructed in accordance with the specifications contained in the application.

B. There is reasonable assurance that the reactor can be operated without endangering the health and safety of the public;

C. North American Aviation, Inc., is technically and financially qualified to operate the reactor;

D. Issuance of a license to possess and operate the reactor will not be inimical to the common defense and security or to the health and safety of the public;

E. North American Aviation, Inc., has submitted proof of financial protection which satisfies the requirements of Commission regulations which are currently in effect.

2. Subject to the conditions and requirements incorporated herein, the Commission hereby licenses North American Aviation, Inc.:

A. Pursuant to section 104c of the Act and Title 10, CFR, Chapter I, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities" to possess and operate as a utilization facility the nuclear research reactor designated below:

B. Pursuant to the Act and Title 10, CFR, Chapter I, Part 70, "Special Nuclear Material", to possess and use 1.5 kilograms of contained uranium-235 as fuel for operation of the reactor;

C. Pursuant to the Act and Title 10, CFR, Chapter I, Part 30, "Licensing of Byproduct Material" to possess but not to separate, such byproduct material as may be produced in the operation of the reactor.

3. This license applies to the reactor which is owned by North American Aviation, Inc., and located at Canoga Park, California, and described in North American Aviation, Inc.'s application dated January 20, 1958, and amendments thereto dated March 26, 1958, April 15, 1958, September 25, 1959, February 8, 1960, and March 29, 1960, (herein referred to as "the application"). The reactor is of the solution-type, is moderated by light water and uses as fuel a solution of uranyl sulfate containing uranium enriched to 20 percent or more in the isotope uranium-235. It is designed to operate at a thermal power level of ten (10) watts and is designated by North American Aviation, Inc., as the "L-77" reactor.

4. This license shall be deemed to contain and be subject to the conditions specified in § 50.54 of Part 50; is subject to all applicable provisions of the Act and rules, regulations and orders of the Commission now or hereafter in effect; and is subject to the additional conditions specified or incorporated below:

a. Operating restrictions. (1) North American Aviation, Inc., shall operate the facility in accordance with the application.

(2) North American Aviation, Inc., shall not operate the reactor at a power level in excess of 10 watts (thermal).

(3) Materials having a reactivity value in excess of 0.5 percent may not be inserted into the exposure tubes.

b. Records. In addition to those otherwise required under this license and applicable regulations, North American Aviation, Inc., shall keep the following records:

(1) Reactor operating records, including power levels.

(2) Records showing radioactivity released or discharged into the air or water beyond the effective control of North American Aviation, Inc., as measured at the point of such release or discharge.

(3) Records of emergency scrams, including reasons for emergency shutdowns.

c. Reports. North American Aviation, Inc., shall immediately report to the Commission any indication or occurrence of a possible unsafe condition relating to the operation of the reactor.

5. This license is effective as of the date of issuance and shall expire at midnight May 16, 1978.

Date of issuance:

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

APPENDIX "C"

HAZARDS ANALYSIS OF L-77 AMENDMENT NO. 3, DATED FEBRUARY 8, 1960

General: This amendment describes in detail the latest loading and unloading procedures for this reactor, as a result of our previous requests for additional information on the subject.

Hazards analysis. The procedures in this amendment are complete, and provide a clear step-by-step method for loading or unloading the liquid fuel for this reactor. The loading increments are specified, and represent the customary limits to provide adequate safety during the loading procedure. Emergency procedures are specified which are acceptable for the situations one could credibly expect to encounter.

Conclusions. The procedures described in this amendment provide an adequate degree of assurance that this reactor can be loaded and unloaded without any undue hazard to the public or to the operating personnel.

Dated:

Chief, Hazards Evaluation Branch, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

APPENDIX "D"

HAZARDS ANALYSIS OF L-77 AMENDMENT NO. 4 DATED MARCH 29, 1960

Hazards associated with the operation of this ten watt research reactor at the Vanowen site, Canoga, Park, California, have been reviewed previously. The present amendment proposes no changes in the design, construction or operation of the reactor (which will be moved intact), so these will not be dealt with further at this time.

However, a new site is proposed, and has been analyzed. Since only insignificant amounts of activity are released from this reactor under normal operation, or even in the maximum credible accident, the nature of the site beyond the company property line is not very important. The new location, which will be at the Company's DeSoto site, also in Canoga Park, is no more densely populated than the previous one, and the distance to the nearest residence is approximately 700 feet, which is quite adequate for such a small reactor.

A separate room is provided for the reactor, with an adjacent control room and viewing window. Access to both rooms is controlled by the reactor operator. Fire protection and emergency exits are provided. Air monitors and exhaust filters are installed in the new reactor room.

We believe that operation of this reactor at the proposed new site will not constitute an undue hazard to the health and safety of the public.

Dated:

EMORY G. CASE,
Acting Chief, Hazards Evaluation Branch, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

O'Neill Broadcasting Company (KTRB-TV), Modesto, California, Docket No. 13577, File No. BPCT-2484; Sherrill C. Corwin (KFMX-TV), San Diego, California, Docket No. 13578, File No. BPCT-2657; for replacement of expired construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D.C., on the 1st day of June 1960;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned applications for additional time within which to complete construction; and

It appearing that the above-named applicants are the permittees of UHF television broadcast stations on which no construction has been commenced; and

It further appearing that the Commission advised the applicants by letter dated February 24, 1960, that it could not determine that a grant of the requests for additional time within which to complete construction would be warranted, since it had been unable to find that the applicants had been diligent in proceeding with construction or that applicants were prevented from completing construction by causes beyond their control; and

It further appearing that the above-named applicants were also advised that unless they informed the Commission that they desired to prosecute their applications further, their construction permits would be cancelled and their call letters deleted; that their reasons for not proceeding with construction entitled them at most to oral argument on the question of whether failure to complete was due to causes not under their control or that the reasons stated are sufficient to justify an extension within the meaning of section 319(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended; that the above-named applicants were further advised that if they were of the opinion that they were entitled to an evidentiary hearing, they would have to specify with particularity the issues and facts in support thereof; and

It further appearing that Malco Theatres, Inc. (KMPT-TV, WAMT, WTMV), Herbert Mayer tr/as Ajax Enterprises (WXEL, WPHD), WHFC, Inc., Connecticut Radio Foundation, Inc., Cleveland Broadcasting, Inc., Cornell University, Stevens-Wismer Broadcasting Company, J. D. Wrather, Jr., David E. Mackey, Philadelphia Broadcasting Co., Inc., Northwestern Television Broadcasting Corp., and Tri-Cities Telecasting, Inc., have replied to the Commission's letter and have requested oral argument; and

It further appearing that Sherrill C. Corwin (KFMX-TV, KMYR-TV), WGAL, Inc., The Thames Broadcasting Corporation, Air-Pix Corporation, and Peoples Broadcasting Company in their replies to the Commission's letter have indicated their desire to prosecute further their applications, but have failed to request either oral argument or evidentiary hearing; that the Commission believes that their requests for further extension should be treated as requests for oral argument; and

It further appearing that Tri-Cities Telecasting, Inc., Hazleton Television Corporation, WKAP, Inc., Robert W. Rounsaville, Woodward Broadcasting Company (WTOH-TV, WBID-TV), Star Broadcasting Co., Inc., Peninsular Broadcasting Company, Business Management, Inc., and Birmingham Television Corporation, have each requested evidentiary hearing; that Tri-Cities, Hazleton, WKAP, Inc., and Rounsaville have not specified issues; that Woodward, Star, Peninsular, and Birmingham have specified issues; that the Commission upon due consideration finds that none of the matters and facts specified by the applicants in support of the requests for evidentiary hearing is sufficient to warrant such a hearing; and that, therefore, the Commission is of the view that they are only entitled to oral argument.

It is ordered, That the requests of Tri-Cities Telecasting, Inc., Hazleton Television Corporation, WKAP, Inc., Robert W. Rounsaville, Woodward Broadcasting Company, Star Broadcasting Co., Inc., Peninsular Broadcasting Company, Business Management, Inc., and Birmingham Television Corporation for evidentiary hearing, are denied.

It is further ordered, That the above-captioned applications are designated for oral argument before the Commission en banc in Washington, D.C. at a time to be specified in a subsequent order on the following issue: To determine whether the reasons advanced by the permittee in support of its request for extension of completion date, constitute a showing that failure to complete construction was due to causes not under control of the permittee, or constitute a showing of other matters sufficient to warrant further extension within the meaning of section 319(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 1.323(a) of the Commission's rules.

It is further ordered, That to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard each of the applicants, pursuant to § 1.140 of the Commission rules, in person or by attorney, shall, within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the oral argument and present arguments on the issue specified, and shall have until 10 days prior to oral argument to file briefs or memoranda of law.

NATIONAL AMBULANCE & OXYGEN SERVICE, INC.

Order Scheduling Prehearing Conference and Continuing Hearing

In the matter of National Ambulance & Oxygen Service, Inc., Rochester, New York, Docket No. 13513; order to show cause why the license for Special Emergency Radio Station KED-879 should not be revoked or, in the alternative, why a cease and desist order should not be issued.

The Hearing Examiner having under consideration a statement of appearance filed in behalf of the above-named respondent in this proceeding on May 25, 1960, by the law firm of Fitzgerald and Fitzgerald, Rochester, New York, wherein respondent requests a field hearing and "a statement specifying the acts, dates, methods used, etc., complained of" in the show cause order instituting this proceeding; and an "Opposition" filed June 6, 1960, by the Chief of the Commission's Safety and Special Radio Services Bureau, the only other party to the proceeding, opposing the request for "a statement" etc. but requesting the scheduling of a prehearing conference in Washington, D.C. on June 27, 1960, and the adjournment of the presently scheduled hearing date until a date to be determined at the prehearing conference;

It appearing that insofar as the respondent's statement of appearance may be construed as a motion for the production of certain information (it merely expresses appreciation "by the undersigned if we could receive a statement") this is a matter properly open for discussion at the prehearing conference to be scheduled herein;

It appearing further that the request for a field hearing is not before the Hearing Examiner at this time inasmuch as this is a matter to be considered by the Chief Hearing Examiner under the Commission's rules;

It appearing further that a prehearing conference, pursuant to the provisions of § 1.111 of the Commission's rules, should be held in this proceeding for a discussion of the questions of fact and of law involved and the establishment of procedures which will protect the rights of the parties and at the same time promote the orderly and expeditious development of a record to the end that the case will be ripe for initial decision at the earliest date practicable;

It is ordered, This 7th day of June, 1960, that, except for the request for a field hearing, the respondent's motion is denied, but that a prehearing conference for a discussion of the questions raised by the respondent, as well as the other matters specified in § 1.111 of the Commission's rules, is hereby scheduled for 10:00 a.m., Monday June 27, 1960, at the Commission's offices, Washington, D.C.;

It is ordered further, That the parties are to be prepared fully at said prehearing conference to discuss the practicability and advisability of reducing as much as possible of their respective presentations to written form;

It is ordered further, That the hearing, which is presently scheduled to commence on July 14, 1960, at the Commission's offices, Washington, D.C., is hereby continued until a date to be determined by further order after an opportunity is afforded to discuss the matter at the said prehearing conference.[1]

Released: June 7, 1960.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. E-6942]

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

Notice of Application

JUNE 6, 1960.

Take notice that on May 27, 1960, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission pursuant to section 204 of the Federal Power Act by Community Public Service Company ("Applicant"), a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware and doing business in the States of New Mexico and Texas, with its principal business office at Fort Worth, Texas, seeking an order authorizing the issuance of short-term unsecured promissory notes in the maximum principal amount of $3,000,000. According to the application, the aforesaid notes will be issued prior to June 30, 1961, when and as additional funds are required for Applicant's construction program; the notes will be issued to evidence loans from Fort Worth banking institutions, and the maturity of each note will not exceed 120 days from its date. The Applicant represents that it always received the prime rate for such loans in the Fort Worth area, currently 5 percent per annum, and expects that it will continue to do so with respect to said unsecured short-term promissory notes. The notes will be issued and dated at such time or times as other short-term bank loans are made or renewed on or before June 30, 1961. Applicant states that the purpose of the issuance and sale of the short-term promissory notes is reimbursement of its treasury for expenditures for the construction, completion, extension or improvement of its facilities.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protests with reference to said application should on or before the 27th day of June 1960, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D.C., petitions or protests in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). The application is on file and available for public inspection.

JOSEPH H. GUTRIDE,
Secretary.

[1] Amended 12-17-58; 6-5-59; 12-23-59.

Notice of El Paso's application filed on February 16, 1959, in Docket No. G-17849 and Northern Natural Gas Company's (Northern) application filed on March 19, 1959, in Docket No. G-18110 was given in the Commission's order issued March 26, 1959, in the consolidated proceeding In the Matters of Northern Natural Gas Company, et al., Docket Nos. G-17485, et al., and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 4, 1959 (24 F.R. 2628). By order issued April 16, 1959, in the proceeding in Docket Nos. G-17485, et al., and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 23, 1959 (24 F.R. 3168), the Commission granted El Paso's petition to sever its application in Docket No. G-17849 and Northern's petition to sever its application in Docket No. G-18110 from the consolidated proceedings in Docket Nos. G-17485, et al., upon El Paso's assurances that it could provide a total of up to 475,000 Mcf of transportation-exchange gas for Northern's expansion proposals in Docket Nos. G-17485 and G-17486 without relying upon gas which El Paso proposes to purchase from the producers involved herein.

On June 2, 1960, El Paso filed its Second Supplement to Original Application in Docket No. G-17849 in which it proposes to construct and operate facilities, estimated to cost about $4,140,000, to transport and deliver into Northern's main line gas in quantities of up to 50,000 Mcf per day, such facilities to be financed by the use of current working funds or by making short-term bank loans as may be required. Northern proposes in Docket No. G-18110 to construct and operate an interconnection in Beaver County, Oklahoma, between its main system and the above mentioned El Paso Facilities.

By notice of the Commission dated December 28, 1959, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 1, 1960 (25 F.R. 23), the above-mentioned pipeline applications were consolidated with eight independent producer applications, in which each producer proposes to produce and sell to El Paso natural gas for transportation in interstate commerce for resale.[1]

These related matters should be heard on a consolidated record and disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on June 27, 1960 at 10:00 a.m., e.d.s.t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D.C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such applications:

Protests or petitions to intervene in Docket Nos. G-19672, CI60-328 and CI60-350 may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D.C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before June 23, 1960.

JOSEPH H. GUTRIDE,
Secretary.

Paragraph 59: The following is inserted between Paragraph 58 and Paragraph 60:

Paragraph 59. Opium.

Paragraph 60: "Ambergris;" is changed to read "Ambergris and civet;".

Paragraph 355: A comma is inserted after "butchers'".

The word "planters'" is changed to "painters'".

Paragraph 372: The language "for manufacturing or processing vegetable fibers (other than cotton) prior to making of fabrics or crocheted, knit, woven, or felt articles not made from fabrics;" is changed to read "for manufacturing or processing cotton prior to making of fabrics or crocheted, knit, woven, or felt articles not made from fabrics);".

Paragraph 397 [second]: A closing parenthesis is inserted before the period at the end of this paragraph.

Paragraph 710: The word "grading" (in two places) is changed to "grating".

Paragraph 1002: The word "or" before "flax" is changed to "of".

Paragraph 1504(b): The word "carludovia" is changed to "carludovica".

The language "and not bleached, dyed, colored, or stained" in the first clause is changed to read "and not bleached, dyed, colored, stained, or sewed".

Paragraph 1513: In the first clause, the word "and" before "of the laces" is changed to "any".

Paragraph 1530(c): In the third clause of the exceptions, the language "goat, kid, pig, and shark" is changed to read "goat, kid, and pig".

Paragraph 1541(a) [second]: The word "strings" is substituted for "srings".

By direction of the Interdepartmental Committee on Trade Agreements this 8th day of June 1960.

JOHN A. BIRCH,
Chairman, Interdepartmental Committee on Trade Agreements.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

STATEMENT OF ORGANIZATION

Veterans Administration organization material is amended in its entirety to read as follows:

Sec.
1. General.
2. Central Office.
3. Field stations.
4. Addresses of Veterans Administration installations and jurisdictional areas of district offices.

SECTION 1. General—(a) Authority and functions. (1) The Veterans Administration administers laws authorizing benefits for former members of the Armed Forces and for the dependents and other beneficiaries of deceased former members of such forces. The Veterans Administration benefits available under various acts of Congress include: Compensation for service-connected disability or death; pension for non-service-connected disability or death; dependency and indemnity compensation; vocational rehabilitation for service-connected disability; education and training; war orphans' educational assistance; guaranty or insurance of home, farm, and business loans, and, under certain conditions, direct home loans; United States Government and National Service Life Insurance; insurance indemnity; hospitalization; domiciliary care; outpatient medical and dental care for service-connected disability; prosthetic and other appliances; special housing for certain seriously disabled veterans; automobiles or other conveyances for certain disabled veterans; World War I adjusted service certificates, a guardianship program for the protection of estates derived from Veterans Administration benefits paid to incompetent or minor beneficiaries; burial allowances; and burial flags. In addition the Veterans Administration administers the insurance section of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act for persons in the active military service.

(2) The Veterans Administration was established as an independent agency under the President by Executive Order 5398, of July 21, 1930, in accordance with the act of July 3, 1930 (46 Stat. 1016). This act authorized the President to consolidate and coordinate Federal agencies especially created for or concerned in the administration of laws providing benefits for veterans.

(b) General description of organization. (1) The Veterans Administration is under the charge of the Administrator of Veterans Affairs, who is responsible for the administration of all laws governing the Veterans Administration.

(2) The Veterans Administration is organizationally divided as follows: Central Office, District Offices, Regional Offices, Veterans Benefits Office (D.C.), Hospitals, Centers, Outpatient Clinics, Domiciliaries, VA Offices, Supply Depots, Forms and Publications Depot, and a Data Processing Center.

SEC. 2. Central office—(a) The Administrator. The Administrator is responsible to the President for the administration of veterans' affairs and the laws which govern them. In him is vested the authority to operate Veterans Administration. He is directly responsible for the establishment of the basic policies governing agency operation; the development and maintenance of its basic organization structure; the interpretation of laws pertaining to veterans' affairs, and the establishment of supplementary regulations; the stimulation and approval of long-range plans; and the development and maintenance of favorable relations with important organizations, groups, and individuals interested in veterans' affairs. As head of an independent agency of the executive branch of the Government, the Administrator is the adviser to the President on veterans' affairs.

(b) The Deputy Administrator. The Deputy Administrator is the principal assistant to the Administrator in the overall administration of the Veterans Administration. He takes independent action for the Administrator on all problems affecting the Veterans Administration which do not require the Administrator's personal attention and acts for the Administrator in the latter's absence.

SEC. 3. Field Stations. This term applies to Veterans Administration installations located in the field, and includes the following:

(a) District Office and Centers. The Veterans Administration, Department of Insurance, operates insurance field activities through one District Office at Philadelphia and two Centers at Denver and St. Paul. They provide policy, underwriting and disability insurance claims service to veterans with Government life insurance within assigned geographical areas (see sec. 4b). The offices implement established plans, policies and operating procedures. They are responsible for the auxiliary services essential to the insurance office operations including finance, personnel, administrative and supply activities. All United States Government Life Insurance policyholders and those National Service Life Insurance policyholders paying premiums by allotment from service department pay and by deduction from benefit payments, also those living in foreign countries, are serviced by the Philadelphia District Office.

(b) Regional Office. A Veterans Administration regional office is a field station which under properly constituted authority grants benefits and services provided by law for veterans, their dependents, and beneficiaries within an assigned territory; furnishes information as to all Veterans Administration benefits and services; procures data regarding applications and claims; rates and adjudicates claims and makes awards for disability compensation and pension; conducts physical and mental examinations for claims purposes; establishes eligibility and need for hospitalization in other Government and private institutions and State-home care; renders outpatient treatment and social service; handles guardianship and fiduciary matters and authorized legal proceedings; aids, guides, and prescribes vocational rehabilitation training and administers educational benefits, guarantees loans for purchase or construction of homes, farms, or business property and, under certain conditions, makes direct home loans; processes death claims in those regional offices located within the continental United States; aids and otherwise assists the veteran in exercising his rights to benefits and services; conducts administrative, finance, files, and records activities; and supervises Veterans Administration offices under its jurisdiction.

(c) Veterans Benefits Office, District of Columbia. The Veterans Benefits Office, District of Columbia, is a field station which grants benefits and services provided by law for veterans and their dependents and beneficiaries. This office performs the functions of a regional office for an assigned territory and in addition adjudicates claims for death compensation and pension, all types of Government insurance and indemnity benefits filed by beneficiaries of deceased veterans, and reimbursement for burial, funeral, and transportation expenses of deceased veterans not assigned to the Veterans Administration regional offices.

(d) Hospital. A Veterans Administration hospital is an organizational element established to provide all eligible beneficiaries with medical care at a level comparable with the best civilian institutions treating similar types of illnesses. Hospitals are generally classified as GM&S (General Medical and Surgical), NP (Neuropsychiatric), and TB (Tuberculosis) indicating the major type of treatment. Usually, however, hospitals are equipped to render more than one type of treatment and some hospitals have facilities for highly specialized services such as those for tumors, chest surgery, neurosurgery, paraplegia, etc.

(e) Center. A Veterans Administration center is an organizational element consisting of a combination of activities of two or more of the following Veterans Administration field stations under jurisdiction of one manager: district office, regional office, hospital, or domiciliary.

(f) Domiciliary. A Veterans Administration domiciliary is a field station having domiciliary activities. By domiciliary activities is meant the providing of a program of planned living in a sheltered environment and necessary ambulatory medical treatment to veterans who are unable because of their disabilities to earn a living but who are not in need of nursing service, constant medical supervision, or hospitalization.

(g) Outpatient Clinic. A Veterans Administration Outpatient Clinic is an organizational element established to provide all eligible beneficiaries with outpatient care.

(h) VA Office. A VA office is an organizational element under an officer-in-charge established to provide contact service and such other services as cannot be conveniently provided to veterans, their dependents and beneficiaries, and others in a given locality by the parent regional office or center.

(i) Other field installations. In addition to the installations referred to in the above paragraphs, there are 3 supply depots, a forms and publications depot, and a Data Processing Center.

SEC. 4. Addresses of Veterans Administration installations and jurisdictional areas of district offices.—(a) Addresses of Veterans Administration installations. This is a guide to the location of Veterans Administration field stations in each State (also Canal Zone, Philippines, and Puerto Rico) where information may be obtained by personal contact or correspondence concerning benefits to veterans and their dependents and beneficiaries. The parent regional offices, and centers having regional office activities, are listed with the VA Offices (formerly subregional and contact offices) indented thereunder. VA Offices having medical activities are preceded by an asterisk.

PART 421—GRAINS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

Subpart—1960-Crop Grain Sorghum Loan and Purchase Agreement Program

The regulations issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and the Commodity Stabilization Service published in 25 F.R. 3920 and 4894 and containing the specific requirements for the 1960-crop grain sorghums price support program are hereby amended as follows:

Section 421.5233(a)(3)(i) is amended to provide that in determining the support rate for grain sorghums shipped by rail or water to any designated terminal market listed in this subdivision, a deduction shall be made for the transportation cost, if any, for moving the grain sorghums to a tidewater loading facility located within the same switching limits, so that the amended subdivision reads as follows:

§ 421.5233 Determination of support rates.

(a) * * *

(3) (i) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, the support rate for grain sorghums shipped by rail or water and stored at any of the following terminal markets, shall be equal to the rate for the applicable terminal market minus the transportation cost, if any, as determined by the appropriate CSS commodity office, for moving the grain sorghums to a tidewater loading facility located within the same switching limits.

Title 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Valencia Orange Reg. 201]

PART 922—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

Limitation of Handling

§ 922.501 Valencia Orange Regulation 201.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 22, as amended (7 CFR Part 922), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said marketing agreement and order, as amended, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges as hereinafter provided will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The committee held an open meeting during the current week, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for Valencia oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein were promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such Valencia oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, tendent of Documents. Prices of books and pocket supplements vary.

There are no restrictions on the republication of material appearing in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or the CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS.

to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject hereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof. Such committee meeting was held on June 9, 1960.

(b) Order. (1) The respective quantities of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., June 12, 1960, and ending at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., June 19, 1960, are hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 500,000 cartons;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) All Valencia oranges handled during the period specified in this section are subject also to all applicable size restrictions which are in effect pursuant to this part during such period.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "District 1," "District 2," "District 3," and "carton" have the same meaning as when used in said marketing agreement and order, as amended.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674)

Dated: June 10, 1960.

[Lemon Reg. 850]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

Limitation of Handling

§ 953.957 Lemon Regulation 850.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 23 F.R. 9053), regulating the handling of lemons grown in California and Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such lemons as hereinafter provided will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U.S.C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based become available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The committee held an open meeting during the current week, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for lemons and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein were promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject hereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof. Such committee meeting was held on June 7, 1960.

(b) Order. (1) The respective quantities of lemons grown in California and Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., June 12, 1960, and ending at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., June 19, 1960, are hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 418,500 cartons;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) As used in this section, "handled," "District 1," "District 2," "District 3," and "carton" have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674)

Dated: June 9, 1960.

[Peach Order 2]

PART 962—FRESH PEACHES GROWN IN GEORGIA

Limitation of Shipments

§ 962.319 Peach Order 2.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 62, as amended (7 CFR Part 962), regulating the handling of fresh peaches grown in the State of Georgia, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendation of the Industry Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that this order will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to shipments of fresh peaches grown in the State of Georgia.

(2) It is hereby found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective time of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than June 12, 1960. Shipments of the early varieties of the current crop of peaches are now being made and this section should be applicable, insofar as practicable, to all shipments of such peaches in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a.m., e.s.t., June 12, 1960, and ending at 12:01 a.m., e.s.t., September 1, 1960, no handler shall ship peaches in any bulk lot or any lot of packages (except peaches in bulk to destinations in the adjacent markets) which are of a size smaller than 1¾ inches in diameter, except that not more than ten (10) percent, by count, of such peaches in any bulk lot or any lot of packages may be of a size smaller than 1¾ inches in diameter, but not more than fifteen (15) percent, by count, of such peaches in any individual package in any lot may be of a size smaller than 1¾ inches in diameter.

(c) When used in this section, the terms "handler," "adjacent markets," "peaches," "peaches in bulk," and "ship" shall have the same meaning as when used in the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and the term "diameter" shall have the same meaning as when used in the revised United States Standards for Peaches (§§ 51.1210 to 51.1223 of this title).

PART 1021—TOMATOES GROWN IN THE LOWER RIO GRANDE VALLEY IN TEXAS

Approval of Expenses and Rate of Assessment

Notice of rule making regarding the proposed expenses and rate of assessment to be made effective under Marketing Order 121 (7 CFR Part 1021, 24 F.R. 2425), regulating the handling of tomatoes grown in the Counties of Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr, and Willacy in Texas (Lower Rio Grande Valley), was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER May 24, 1960, (25 F.R. 4557). This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674).

This notice afforded interested persons an opportunity to file data, views and arguments pertaining thereto not less than five days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. None was filed.

After consideration of all relevant matters, including the proposal set forth in the aforesaid notice, which was recommended by the Texas Valley Tomato Committee established pursuant to the aforesaid marketing order, it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 1021.202 Expenses and rate of assessments.

(a) The reasonable expenses that are likely to be incurred by the Texas Valley Committee established pursuant to Marketing Order No. 121, to enable such committee to perform its functions pursuant to the provisions of the aforesaid marketing order, during the fiscal period ending February 28, 1961, will amount to $20,000.

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler pursuant to this part shall be one cent ($0.01) per 60-pound crate of tomatoes, or the equivalent quantity thereof in other containers handled by him as the first handler thereof during said fiscal period.

(c) The terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Order No. 121 (7 CFR Part 1021).

It is hereby found that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of this document beyond the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) in that (1) the rate of assessment set forth herein applies to handling of tomatoes grown in the production area and the handling of the 1960 spring crop of tomatoes has begun, (2) it is necessary that such rate of assessment be established at the earliest possible date in order to facilitate operations under the marketing order and (3) notice hereof has been given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 24, 1960, 25 F.R. 4557.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674)

Dated: June 8, 1960, to become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service.

Title 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor

PART 616—BUTTON, JEWELRY, AND LAPIDARY WORK INDUSTRY IN PUERTO RICO

Pursuant to section 5 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1062, as amended; 29 U.S.C. 205), the Secretary of Labor by Administrative Order No. 531 (25 F.R. 3178), appointed and convened Industry Committee No. 47–A and referred to it and duly noticed a hearing on the question of the minimum wage rate or rates to be paid under section 6(c) of the Act to employees in the button, jewelry, and lapidary work industry in Puerto Rico as defined in said Administrative Order, who are engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce. There was not referred to the committee the wage rate fixed for the gem stone classification of the industry (23 F.R. 4993), which had reached the objective of the minimum wage prescribed in paragraph (1) of section 6(a) of the Act.

Subsequent to an investigation and a hearing conducted pursuant to the notice, the committee filed with the administrator a report containing its findings of fact and recommendations with respect to the matters referred to it.

Accordingly, as authorized and required by section 8 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1064, as amended; 29 U.S.C. 208), Reorganization Plan No. 6 of 1950 (64 Stat. 1263; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp., p. 165), General Order No. 45–A (15 F.R. 3290) of the Secretary of Labor, the recommendations of the committee are hereby published in this order amending 29 CFR Part 616, effective June 27, 1960, to read as follows:

Sec.
616.1 Definition.
616.2 Wage rates.
616.3 Notices.

AUTHORITY: §§ 616.1 to 616.3 issued under sec. 8, 52 Stat. 1064, as amended; 29 U.S.C. 208. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 52 Stat. 1062, as amended; 29 U.S.C. 205; sec. 8, 52 Stat. 1062, as amended; 29 U.S.C. 208.

§ 616.1 Definition.

The button, jewelry, and lapidary work industry in Puerto Rico, to which this part shall apply, is defined as the manufacture from any material of buttons, buckles, jewelry (including rosaries), jewelry findings (including beads), and hair ornaments and accessories; and the processing of natural or synthetic stones for jewelry or industrial use.

§ 616.2 Wage rates.

(a) Wages at a rate of not less than 47 cents an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 by every employer to each of his employees in the button, jewelry, and lapidary work industry in Puerto Rico, who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and who is engaged in the rosary and native jewelry classification of that industry, which is defined as the assembling of rosaries and the manufacture of novelty jewelry from materials wholly or in major part of local origin such as seeds, shells, natural fibers, and similar materials.

(b) Wages at a rate of not less than 76 cents an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 by every employer to each of his employees in the button, jewelry, and lapidary work industry in Puerto Rico, who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and who is engaged in the hair ornaments classification of that industry which is defined as the manufacture of hair ornaments such as combs, clips, or barrettes decorated or ornamented with precious metals or with natural or imitation stones or pearls.

(c) Wages at a rate of not less than 72 cents an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 by every employer to each of his employees in the button, jewelry, and lapidary work industry in Puerto Rico, who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and who is engaged in the hair accessories classification of that industry, which is defined as the manufacture from any material of bobby pins, hair clips, hair curlers, hair wavers, and other hair accessories, and the manufacture of hair ornaments other than those decorated or ornamented with precious metals or with natural or imitation stones or pearls.

(d) Wages at a rate of not less than 63 cents an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 by every employer to each of his employees in the button, jewelry, and lapidary work industry in Puerto Rico, who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and who is engaged in the button and buckle and plastic costume jewelry classification of that industry, which is defined as the manufacture from any material of buttons and buckles; and the manufacture or assembly of all types of costume jewelry and jewelry findings made wholly or in major part from plastic materials, and including the pearlizing of buttons, beads, and costume jewelry and the stringing of pearlized beads.

(e) Wages at a rate of not less than $1.00 an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 by every employer to each of his employees in the button, jewelry, and lapidary work industry in Puerto Rico, who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and who is engaged in the industrial jewel and precious jewelry classification of that industry, which is defined as the sawing, cutting, grinding, polishing, and other processing of natural or synthetic jewels for industrial use, including, but without limitation, jewel bearings, industrial diamonds, and the processing of precious and synthetic stones as components of phonograph needles and the attachment of such jewels to metal phonograph needle components, but not including the production of such metal components; and the manufacture of jewelry and other personal ornaments from precious metals with or without precious stones.

(f) Wages at a rate of not less than $1.00 an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 by every employer to each of his employees in the button, jewelry, and lapidary work industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and who is engaged in the gem stone classification of that industry, which is defined as the sawing, cutting, grinding, polishing, and other processing of gem diamonds, other precious and semi-precious stones, and synthetic stones used for decorative purposes.

(g) Wages at a rate of not less than 87 cents an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 by every employer to each of his employees in the button, jewelry, and lapidary work industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and who is engaged in the metal expansion watch band classification of that industry, which is defined as the fabrication or partial fabrication of metal expansion bands or expansion bracelets for watches or other uses.

(h) Wages at a rate of not less than 67 cents an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 by every employer to each of his employees in the button, jewelry, and lapidary work industry in Puerto Rico, who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and who is engaged in the general classification of that industry, which is defined as the manufacture of all products included in the button, jewelry, and lapidary work industry in Puerto Rico, as defined in § 616.1, except those products and activities included in the rosary and native jewelry classification, the hair ornaments classification, the hair accessories classification, the button and buckle and plastic costume jewelry classification, the industrial jewel and precious jewelry classification, the gem stone classification, and the metal expansion watch band classification, as those classifications are defined in this section.

§ 616.3 Notices.

Every employer subject to the provisions of § 616.2 shall post in a conspicuous place in each department of his establishment where employees subject to the provisions of § 616.2 are working such notices of this part as shall be prescribed from time to time by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, and shall give such other notice as the Administrator may prescribe.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 7th day of June 1960.

CLARENCE T. LUNDQUIST,
Administrator.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U.S.C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U.S.C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Allied Merchandising, Inc., et al., University City, Mo., Docket 7399, April 18, 1960]

In the Matter of Allied Merchandising, Inc., a Corporation, and Peter A. Krane, William Dardick, and Vern F. Hawkins, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging cigarette vending machine distributors in University City, Mo., with making in advertising deceptive employment offers, exaggerated earnings claims, false assurances of assistance and other misleading representations.

After trial of the issues, the hearing examiner made his initial decision, including findings, conclusions and order to cease and desist, which, with slight modification, became on April 18 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents Allied Merchandising, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, Peter A. Krane, individually and as an officer of said corporation, and William Dardick and Vern F. Hawkins, individually, and respondents' agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale, or distribution of machines and other devices used for the purpose of vending merchandise, in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from representing, directly or by implication:

1. That any offer is an offer of employment when, in fact, the real purpose is to obtain purchasers of their machines, or other devices.

2. That an established route of operating machines or other devices is offered for sale.

3. That the only investment required of a purchaser is that needed to purchase an inventory.

4. That the earnings or profits derived from the operation of their machines or other devices are any amounts in excess of those which have been, in fact, customarily earned by operators of their machines or other devices.

5. That surveys have been or will be made by respondents to determine locations which would prove profitable for the installation of such machines or other devices.

6. That profitable locations will be secured for a purchaser's machines or other devices.

7. That, should a location of a purchaser's machines or other devices prove to be unprofitable, said machines or other devices will be relocated by respondents.

8. That no selling or soliciting is required of the purchaser in the operation of such machines or other devices.

9. That respondents will resell or repurchase the machines or other devices sold by them in the event the purchaser becomes dissatisfied with the profit derived therefrom and requests them to do so; or will resell or repurchase said machines or other devices for any other reason, unless such is the fact.

10. That respondents make arrangements whereby the purchasers of their machines or other devices may buy merchandise at wholesale prices.

It is further ordered, That the complaint be and it is hereby dismissed as to William Dardick and Vern F. Hawkins in their capacity as officers of respondent Allied Merchandising, Inc.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report, in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 18, 1960.

By the Commission.

Subpart—Discriminating in price under Sec. 2, Clayton Act—Payment for services or facilities for processing or sale under 2(d); § 13.824 Advertising expenses.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U.S.C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 2, 49 Stat. 1527; 15 U.S.C. 13) [Cease and desist order, Bercut-Richards Packing Co., Inc., Sacramento, Calif., Docket 7651, April 27, 1960]

In the Matter of Carroll F. Chatham, an Individual, Trading as Chatham Research Laboratories; Anglomex, Inc., a Corporation, and Dan E. Mayers, Individually and as an Officer of Said Corporation; Ipekdjian, Inc., a Corporation, and Adom Ipekdjian, and Georges Ipekdjian, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation; Cultured Gem Stones, Inc., a Corporation, and Adom Ipekdjian, and Georges Ipekdjian, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging a San Francisco manufacturer of synthetic stones having the appearance of emeralds, along with the New York City wholesaler-distributors thereof, with representing falsely in advertising that said "Chatham Emeralds" were cultured, natural stones and identical to natural stones, and to cease using the word "emerald" to describe such stones unless it was immediately preceded by "synthetic" or a similar word.

Accepting a consent agreement, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 4 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents Carroll F. Chatham, an individual, trading as Chatham Research Laboratories, or under any other name; Anglomex, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, and Dan E. Mayers, individually and as an officer of said corporation; Ipekdjian, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, and Cultured Gem Stones, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, and Adom Ipekdjian and Georges Ipekdjian, individually and as officers of said corporations, and respondents' representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the manufacture for sale, offering for sale, sale and distribution of stones now known as Chatham Emeralds or Chatham Cultured Emeralds, or any other manufactured stone having essentially the same optical, physical and chemical properties, or any other manufactured stone having essentially the same optical, physical and chemical properties as a natural stone, in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Representing, directly or by implication, that such stones have been cultured, are natural stones, or are identical to natural stones;

2. Using the word "emerald" or the name of any other precious or semi-precious stone as descriptive of such stones unless such word or name is immediately preceded, with equal conspicuity, by the word "synthetic" or by some other word or phrase of such meaning as clearly to disclose the nature of such product and the fact that it is not a natural stone; provided, however, that this prohibition shall not be construed as requiring respondents or any of them to disclose the method or process, or any part thereof, used by respondent Chatham in the manufacture of his stones.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent herein shall within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 27, 1960.

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging a Sacramento, Calif., canner of fruits, vegetables and juices—with annual sales exceeding $12,000,000—with violating Sec. 2(d) of the Clayton Act by paying favored purchasers advertising allowances which were not made available on proportionally equal terms to all their competitors.

Accepting a consent agreement, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 27 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent Bercut-Richards Packing Company, Inc., a corporation, its officers, employees, agents and representatives, directly or through any corporate or other device, in or in connection with the sale of canned food products in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Clayton Act, as amended, do forthwith cease and desist from:

Making, or contracting to make, to, or for the benefit of, any customer, any payment of anything of value as compensation or in consideration for any advertising or other service or facilities furnished by or through such customer, in connection with the handling, offering for resale, or resale, of products sold to him by respondent, unless such payment is affirmatively offered or otherwise made available to all competing customers on proportionally equal terms.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent herein shall within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order to cease and desist.

The complaint in this proceeding charged a Chicago seller of home study books on clothes designing and tailoring with misrepresenting that employment opportunities, increased earnings and other benefits would be afforded purchasers of his books, that he had authority to award the diplomas he sold for a consideration, and that they would assure holders of better-paying positions, etc.

Accepting an agreement for a consent order, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 27, the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent Edward J. Kasnicka, individually and doing business under the name of Master Designers, or under any other name, and respondent's representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with offering for sale, sale and distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of home study books designated as "Modern Garment Design and Grading Clothing for Men & Boys", "Modern Method of Women & Children's Garment Design" and "Modern Custom Tailoring for Men", or any other books of whatever names containing substantially the same subject matter, do forthwith cease and desist from representing, directly or by implication, that:

1. Respondent has the authority to award diplomas.

2. Respondent's diplomas are recognized by employers, tailors or any other members of the public.

3. The possession of one of respondent's diplomas will be useful or helpful in finding employment or influence the public to patronize the holder's business establishment.

4. Respondent's diplomas will assure persons of better paid positions or jobs or increase their incomes or prestige.

5. Respondent's books are the equivalent to a classroom study course on the same subjects.

6. Persons, after studying respondent's books, will thereby be competent or able to perform the functions, acts, and duties of skilled craftsmen in drafting, grading, cutting or tailoring, or will be so recognized as such craftsmen by the trade.

7. Persons who study respondent's books will for this reason be employed by the garment industry or tailors as drafters, graders, cutters or tailors.

8. Persons who study respondent's books are assured of success or better pay in the garment industry or tailoring business.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent Edward J. Kasnicka, an individual trading as Master Designer shall within sixty (60) days after service upon him of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with the order to cease and desist.

In the Matter of Lasky Enterprises, Inc., a Corporation, and M. B. Lasky, S. H. Jacobson, Ben Schapiro, and Harry Lasky, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

The complaint in this proceeding charged furniture and electrical appliance dealers in St. Louis, Mo., with representing falsely in advertising in newspapers, etc.—through use of such statements as "Telephone Lounger—Reg. 39.59; 34.88 $219.95—Refrigerator $158"—that the first figure, often following "Reg.", was the usual price for the merchandise concerned and that the difference between the two prices represented savings therefrom.

After the usual trial proceedings, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 27 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondents, Lasky Enterprises Inc., a corporation, and its officers, and M. B. Lasky, S. H. Jacobson, Ben Schapiro and Harry Lasky, individually and as officers of said corporation, and respondents' representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of furniture and electrical appliances, or any other merchandise, do forthwith cease and desist from representing, directly or by implication:

1. That any amount is the regular and usual price of respondents' merchandise, when such amount is in excess of the amount at which such merchandise is usually and customarily sold by respondents in the trade area where the representation is made.

2. That any savings are afforded through the purchase of respondents' merchandise, unless the price at which such merchandise is offered constitutes a reduction from the price at which such merchandise has been regularly and customarily sold by respondents in the recent normal course of their business.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 27, 1960.

In the Matter of Fred B. Miller and Robert H. Miller, Individuals and Partners, Trading as Miller Laboratories and as Fred B. Miller

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging distributors in Hagerstown, Md., with representing falsely in advertisments in newspapers and magazines and otherwise that their "Miller Truss" would bring permanent relief from ruptures, was custom fitted, was more effective than competitive products, was guaranteed to control ruptures 100 percent, etc.

Following acceptance of a consent agreement, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 14 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents Fred B. Miller and Robert H. Miller, individually or as partners trading as Miller Laboratories or Fred B. Miller, or under any other trade name or names, and respondents' representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of devices designated as Miller Truss, or any other product or device of substantially similar construction or design, whether sold under the same name or any other name or names, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by means of the United States mails or by any means in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, which advertisement represents, directly or by implication:

(a) That the use of respondents' devices gives lasting relief unless limited to the period of time in which the device is actually worn;

(b) That the use of respondents' devices gives permanent relief or ends suffering;

(c) That respondents' devices are custom fitted or in all cases are the correct truss;

(d) That respondents' devices will afford results that are different from those afforded by all other trusses;

(e) That respondents' devices are nature's way of closing or decreasing the size of hernial openings, or are nature's way of holding hernias;

(f) That respondents' devices will heal, cure or decrease the size of hernial openings;

(g) That the use of respondents' devices will aid blood circulation or strengthen the muscle;

(h) That respondents' devices will retain or hold all ruptures or hernias, or control ruptures 100 percent;

(i) That respondents' devices are guaranteed, unless the nature and extent of the guarantee and the manner of performance thereunder are clearly and conspicuously disclosed in connection with the representation of the guarantee;

2. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by any means for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of said devices, which advertisement contains any of the representations prohibited in Paragraph 1 hereof.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents Fred B. Miller and Robert H. Miller, individuals and partners, trading as Miller Laboratories and as Fred B. Miller, shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 14, 1960.

In the Matter of Morrison Knitwear Company, Inc., a Corporation, and Morris Rosen, Max Jaffe, Harold Rosen, and Hannah Rosen Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

The complaint in this proceeding charged New York City distributors with representing falsely—by advertisements in magazines, display cards supplied to sellers, attached tags or labels and otherwise—that their orlon sweaters would not "pill" (fuzz up in balls).

Accepting a consent agreement, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 14 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents Morrison Knitwear Company, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, and Morris Rosen, Max Jaffe, Harold Rosen and Hannah Rosen, individually and as officers of said corporation, and respondents' agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of women's orlon sweaters (or any other product made of orlon) in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

Representing, directly or by implication, that said products will not pill.

It is ordered, That respondents herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

In the Matter of J. R. Prentice, Individually and Doing Business as American Breeders Service, Ozark Proved Sire Service Company, a Corporation, and Don L. Hoyt, Individually and as President of Ozark Proved Sire Service Company

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging a major supplier of bull semen used in artificially inseminating dairy cows with requiring that technicians employed by him refrain from working for themselves or a competitor in a bull semen business for a period of two years after termination of their contract.

Accepting a consent agreement, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 18 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist including order requiring compliance is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent J. R. Prentice, directly or indirectly, in the course and conduct of a bull semen business conducted under the American Breeders Service, or any other name, do forthwith cease and desist from providing by contract, agreement, or understanding that technicians employed by him shall refrain from working for themselves or a competitor in a bull semen business for a period longer than permitted by the law of the State involved and in no event for a period in excess of one year after termination of their employment with him.

It is further ordered, That the complaint herein is dismissed as to respondents Don L. Hoyt and Ozark Proved Sire Service Company.

It is further ordered, That Count I of the complaint herein is dismissed.

It is further ordered, That Count II of the complaint herein is dismissed as to J. R. Prentice except for that portion thereof concerning the employment of technicians which is provided for in this order.

It is further ordered, That respondent J. R. Prentice shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon him of this order, file with the Commission a report, in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with the order to cease and desist.

dated order, Wellesley Dress Shop, Inc., et al., Niagara Falls, N.Y., Docket 7694, April 27, 1960]

In the Matter of Wellesley Dress Shop, Inc., a Corporation, and Harold Kirts and Donald King, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging a furrier in Niagara Falls, N.Y., with violating the Fur Products Labeling Act by mutilating labels on fur products prior to ultimate delivery; by setting forth on labels the name of an animal other than that producing certain fur, and failing to set forth such terms as "Dyed Broadtail-processed Lamb"; by advertising comparative prices as "were" prices without designating the time when they were in effect and failing to keep adequate records as a basis therefor; and by failing in other respects to comply with labeling and invoicing requirements.

Following acceptance of a consent agreement, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on April 27 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents Wellesley Dress Shop, Inc., a corporation, and its officers and Harold Kirts and Donald King, individually and as officers of said corporation, and respondents' representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the introduction into commerce, or the sale, advertising, or offering for sale in commerce, or the transportation or distribution in commerce of fur products, or in connection with the sale, advertising, offering for sale, transportation, or distribution of fur products which are made in whole or in part of fur which has been shipped and received in commerce, as "commerce", "fur" and "fur product" are defined in the Fur Products Labeling Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

A. Misbranding fur products by:

1. Failing to affix labels to fur products showing in words and figures plainly legible all of the information required to be disclosed by each of the subsections of section 4(2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act.

2. Setting forth on labels affixed to fur products the name or names of any animal or animals other than the name or names provided for in section 4(2)(A) of the Fur Products Labeling Act.

3. Setting forth on labels affixed to fur products:

(a) Information required under section 4 of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder in abbreviated form.

(b) Information required under section 4(2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder mingled with non-required information.

(c) Information required under section 4(2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder in handwriting.

4. Failing to set forth the term "Dyed Broadtail-processed Lamb" in the manner required by Rule 10 of said rules and regulations.

5. Affixing to fur products labels that do not comply with the minimum size requirements of one and three-quarter inches by two and three-quarter inches.

6. Failing to set forth on labels the item number or mark assigned to a fur product.

B. Mutilating, or causing or participating in the mutilation of, prior to the time any fur product is sold and delivered to the ultimate consumer, any label required by the Fur Products Labeling Act to be affixed to such fur product.

C. Falsely or deceptively invoicing fur products by:

1. Failing to furnish to purchasers of fur products an invoice showing all the information required to be disclosed by each of the subsections of section 5(b)(1) of the Fur Products Labeling Act.

2. Setting forth on invoices pertaining to fur products information required under section 5(b)(1) of the Fur Products Labeling Act, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder in abbreviated form.

D. Falsely or deceptively advertising fur products through the use of any advertisement, representation, public announcement, or notice which is intended to aid, promote, or assist, directly or indirectly, in the sale or offering for sale of fur products, and which:

1. Sets forth "were" prices or former prices without designating the time of such "were" prices or former prices.

2. Misrepresents in any manner the savings available to purchasers of respondents' fur products.

E. Making claims or representations in advertisements respecting prices or values of fur products unless there are maintained by respondents full and adequate records disclosing the facts upon which such claims and representations are based.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondents herein shall within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 27, 1960.

Title 19—CUSTOMS DUTIES

Chapter I—Bureau of Customs, Department of the Treasury

[T.D. 55149]

PART 16—LIQUIDATION OF DUTIES

Conversion of Currency

The Philippine Islands, designated in T.D. 54338, effective commencing April 1, 1957, as a country whose currency shall be subject to conversion for customs purposes in accordance with applicable law and regulations at the rate first certified by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York for a day within each calendar quarter, is hereby removed from the list of such countries, pursuant to section 522(c)(1)(B) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (31 U.S.C. 372(c)(1)(B)).

The list of quarterly-rate countries set forth at the end of paragraph (d) of § 16.4 of the Customs Regulations (19 CFR 16.4(d)) therefore is amended by deleting Philippine Islands, effective on the date of publication of this Treasury decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Publication of notice and public procedure under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 1003) is found to be impracticable because it is imperative in the proper administration of the above-mentioned provision of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, that this Treasury decision be put into effect without delay. This urgency is also found to be good cause for not deferring the effective date pursuant to section 4(c) of the Administrative Procedure Act.

(R.S. 251, secs. 522, 624, 46 Stat. 378, as amended, 759; 19 U.S.C. 66, 1624, 31 U.S.C. 372)

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York suspended certification of rates for the Philippine Islands peso effective April 25, 1960. The Bank has decided not to resume certification on a daily basis. The Bank, should circumstances permit, intends to comply with such specific requests as become necessary for the Customs Information Exchange to make for certification of the appropriate rate or rates of exchange for the specific dates requested.

Instructions will be issued as soon as practicable with respect to the rate or rates applicable for customs purposes as to exportations occurring on dates on and after April 25, 1960, and prior to the effective date of this Treasury decision.

Title 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

Chapter I—Federal Procurement Regulations

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS TO CHAPTER

Chapter 1 of Title 41 is amended as set forth below:

PART 1–1—GENERAL

1. A new Subpart 1–1.10 is added, as follows:

Subpart 1–1.10—Publicizing Procurement Actions

Sec.
1–1.1001 General policy.
1–1.1002 Availability of invitations for bids and requests for proposals.
1–1.1003 Synopses of proposed procurements.
1–1.1003–1 Department of Commerce Synopsis.
1–1.1003–2 General requirements.
1–1.1003–3 Research and development.
1–1.1003–4 Synopses of subcontract opportunities.
1–1.1003–5 Pre-invitation notices.
1–1.1003–6 Time of publicizing.
1–1.1003–7 Preparation and transmittal.
1–1.1004 Synopses of contract awards.
1–1.1004–1 Preparation and transmittal.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1–1.1001 to 1–1.1004–1 issued under sec. 205(c), 63 Stat. 390; 40 U.S.C. 486(c).

Subpart 1–1.10—Publicizing Procurement Actions

§ 1–1.1001 General policy.

Proposed procurements which offer competitive opportunities for prospective prime contractors or subcontractors shall be publicized as prescribed in this Subpart 1–1.10, to increase competition, thus assisting small business and labor surplus area concerns and broadening industry participation in Government procurement programs.

§ 1–1.1002 Availability of invitations for bids and requests for proposals.

A reasonable number of copies of each invitation for bids and requests for proposals publicized in the Department of Commerce Synopsis, including specifications and other pertinent information, shall be maintained by the issuing office. To the extent such unclassified invitations for bids and requests for proposals are available, they shall be provided to manufacturers, construction contractors, and regular dealers and to others having a legitimate interest therein, such as publishers, trade associations, procurement information services and others who disseminate information concerning invitations for bids and requests for proposals; otherwise the procuring activity may limit the availability of invitations for bids and requests for proposals to perusal at the issuing office.

§ 1–1.1003 Synopses of proposed procurements.

§ 1–1.1003–1 Department of Commerce Synopsis.

(a) The publication "Synopsis of U.S. Government Proposed Procurement, Sales, and Contract Awards" is published daily, except Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Chicago, Illinois. The primary purpose of the Synopsis is to provide industry with information concerning current Government contracting and subcontracting opportunities, including information as to the identity and location of Government contracting offices and prime contractors having current or potential need for certain types of products or services. This publication is available on an annual subscription basis, and subscriptions can be entered at the publishing office or at any Department of Commerce office. Complimentary subscriptions are available to participating Government activities upon request.

(b) Each executive agency shall participate, to the maximum practicable extent, in providing current information concerning proposed procurements to the Department of Commerce for publication in the Synopsis. Procurement agencies shall develop procedures for assuring that proposed procurements are publicized in the Synopsis as required by this section 1–1.1003.

§ 1–1.1003–2 General requirements.

(a) Every proposed advertised or negotiated procurement made in the United States, except Hawaii and Alaska, which may result in an award or awards in excess of $10,000 shall be publicized promptly in the Department of Commerce "Synopsis of U.S. Government Proposed Procurement, Sales and Contract Awards," except that the following need not be publicized in the Synopsis.

(1) Procurements where there is an absence of potential competition or where it has been predetermined that the procurement will be awarded to a specific concern (e.g., procurements of utility services and procurements for which specific background knowledge or unusual scientific and technical equipment is a prerequisite to performance).

(2) Procurements where circumstances necessitate establishing less than 15 calendar days for submission of bids, proposals, or quotations.

(3) Procurements of a classified nature.

(4) Procurements of perishable subsistence.

(5) Procurements where only foreign sources are to be solicited.

(b) The dollar amount specified in section 1–1.1003–2(a) shall not be construed as a prohibition against publicizing procurements below that amount in any case where the procuring activity determines that such publication would be advantageous to industry or to the Government.

(c) The requirements in section 1–1.1003–2(a) shall not be construed to mean publicizing delivery orders issued under existing contracts (such as Federal Supply Schedules) or orders from mandatory sources of supply (such as National Industries for the Blind).

§ 1–1.1003–3 Research and development.

In order that potential sources may learn of research and development programs, advance notices of the Government's interest in a specific research and development field shall be published in the Department of Commerce Synopsis in accordance with section 1–1.1003–7(b)(9) so as to give such sources adequate opportunity to submit information for evaluation of their research and development capabilities, except where security considerations prohibit such publication.

§ 1–1.1003–4 Synopses of subcontract opportunities.

Prime contractors and subcontractors should be encouraged to use the Department of Commerce Synopsis to publicize opportunities in the field of subcontracting stemming from Government business. Prime contractors and their subcontractors should be advised to mail subcontract information directly to the Department of Commerce.

§ 1–1.1003–5 Pre-invitation notices.

Where pre-invitation notices (see section 1–2.205–4) are used, the pre-invitation information shall be included in the Synopsis. The information need not be re-published in the Synopsis when the invitation for bids concerned is subsequently issued.

§ 1–1.1003–6 Time of publicizing.

To allow concerns which are not on current bidders lists ample time to prepare bids, proposals or quotations, procuring activities should, when feasible, publicize proposed procurements before issuance of invitations for bids and requests for proposals. Prompt reporting is particularly important where a short time for submitting bids or proposals is involved.

§ 1–1.1003–7 Preparation and transmittal.

(a) Procuring activities shall transmit a synopsis of proposed procurements as follows:

(1) When use of teletypewriter service is feasible, information shall be transmitted via teletypewriter at the end of each day to the following address: Synopsis, Commerce Department, Field Services, Chicago, Illinois.

(2) When use of teletypewriter service is not feasible, information shall be sent by airmail or ordinary mail, whichever is considered most expeditious, addressed as follows: Administrative Service Office, U.S. Department of Commerce, 433 West Van Buren Street, Chicago 7, Illinois.

(b) Each Synopsis message shall be prepared as described below:

(1) Spacing. Lines of the text shall be double spaced, not exceeding 69 typewritten spaces in length.

(2) Numbering. The first line of the message text should include a message number for ready identification and reference purposes. Messages normally will be numbered consecutively by the reporting activity, beginning a new series each calendar year.

(3) Contracting office address. Beginning with the second line of the text, state the name and location of the contracting office. Abbreviations should not be used except for the name of the State. The address may include an attention phrase directed to an official by name or title.

(4) Description of supplies or services being procured. Item descriptions will begin in narrative paragraph form, double spaced, with each line commencing at the left-hand margin. The description should be concise, but sufficiently detailed to permit understanding by interested parties. Commonly used names of the procurement items, basic materials from which fabricated, general sizes or dimensions, citations of specification or drawing numbers, Federal stock numbers, quantities, units of measure, invitation for bid or request for proposal numbers, opening dates, place of delivery, and other pertinent data shall be included. Only standard, commonly understood, abbreviations may be used. For purposes of clarity, two hyphens should be used instead of commas to separate quantities, purchase reference numbers, opening dates, etc.

(5) Several items on one invitation for bids or request for proposals. Where several items having the same procurement reference number and the same time for receipt of bids or proposals are reported, the description should be preceded by a blanket statement such as "The following described items are to be procured under Invitation for Bids (or Request for Proposals) No. ——, Opening Date ——————."

(6) Qualified products. If the procurement item is covered by one or more specifications requiring qualification testing and approval, and such requirement has not been waived, the notation "QPL" shall be inserted immediately following the specification number.

(7) Term contracts or indefinite quantities. If the quantity is indefinite, the description should so state and, where applicable, include information as to the duration of the contract period.

(8) Procurements involving set-asides. If the proposed procurement involves a small business set-aside, or labor surplus area set-aside, the Synopsis message should—

(i) Where there is a 100 percent small business set-aside, state that "The proposed procurement(s) listed herein is (are) totally set aside for small business." Separate messages should be sent covering those proposed procurements which involve 100 percent small business set-asides to facilitate publication in the Notice to Small Firms Section of the Synopsis.

(ii) Where there is a partial small business or labor surplus area set-aside, state that "An additional quantity of —————————— (Insert number of units and description) is being reserved for —————————— —————————— under (Insert "small business" or "labor surplus area" as appropriate) a partial set-aside determination."

(9) Research and development item. Notices which invite the submission of information as to research and development capabilities in specific fields of interest shall be headed "RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT SOURCES SOUGHT." This shall be followed by a statement similar to the following: "Firms having research and development capabilities in the field of —————————— and (be specific) whose facilities and personnel include —————————— (Describe in substantial detail minimum facilities and personnel required) are invited to submit complete information to the procuring office listed above. Information furnished should include the total number of employees and professional qualifications of scientists, engineers, and technical personnel; a description of general and special facilities; an outline of previous projects; a statement regarding industrial security clearance, if previously granted; and other available descriptive literature. This is not a request for a proposal."

§ 1–1.1004 Synopses of contract awards.

Awards of all unclassified contracts to be performed in whole or in part within the United States, exceeding $25,000 in amount, shall be published in the Department of Commerce "Synopsis of U.S. Government Proposed Procurement, Sales, and Contract Awards." This dollar amount shall not be construed as a prohibition against publicizing smaller awards where the procuring activity determines that such publication would be advantageous to industry or to the Government.

§ 1–1.1004–1 Preparation and transmittal.

(a) Procuring activities shall prepare information concerning contract awards in the same format, and forward single copies thereof to the same mailing address, as prescribed in section 1–1.1003–7(a) for synopses of proposed procurements. The information shall be sent by airmail or ordinary mail, whichever is considered most expeditious, before the close of business at the end of each week.

(b) The synopsis of contract awards shall contain the following information:

(1) Name and address of the procuring office.

(2) A clear and concise description of the property or services being procured, such description to be followed by the contract number and, in parentheses, by the applicable number of the invitation for bids or request for proposals.

(3) Quantity and dollar amount of each item.

(4) Name and full address of the contractor.

(5) When requested by the prime contractor, a statement of the industries, crafts, processes, or component items in or for which subcontracts are available and subcontractors are desired, together with the general area, if any, indicated by the prime contractor, such as Southeast States, West Coast, New England.

PART 1–2—PROCUREMENT BY FORMAL ADVERTISING

Subpart 1–2.2—Solicitation of Bids

2. Section 1–2.203–4 is revised as follows:

§ 1–2.203–4 Synopses of invitations for bids.

Synopses of invitations for bids shall be prepared and publicized in the Department of Commerce "Synopsis of U.S. Government Proposed Procurement, Sales, and Contract Awards," in accordance with section 1–1.1003.

3. The Table of Contents is amended to add section 1–2.409 to read as follows:

SUBCHAPTER E—AIR NAVIGATION REGULATIONS

[Airspace Docket No. 59–KC–36]

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF THE CONTINENTAL CONTROL AREA, CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, REPORTING POINTS, AND POSITIVE CONTROL ROUTE SEGMENTS

Modification of Control Zone

On October 21, 1959, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (24 F.R. 8506) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency proposed to modify the Indianapolis, Ind., control zone.

As stated in the notice, the Indianapolis, control zone presently includes the airspace within a 5-mile radius of the Weir Cook County Airport, with extensions to the west, based on the Indianapolis radio range; southwest, based on the ILS localizer course; and northwest, based on the Indianapolis VORTAC. The control zone extension to the west, designated to provide protection for aircraft executing low frequency radio range standard instrument approaches, presently extends to the Clayton fan marker, 9.8 nautical miles from the radio range station. The prescribed low frequency range standard instrument approach at Weir Cook County Airport, permits descent below 1,000 feet above the terrain to be made on the west course within 10 nautical miles of the radio range. The Federal Aviation Agency is extending this portion of the west control zone extension to a point 12 statute miles (approximately 10 nautical miles) west of the radio range to assure adequate protection for aircraft executing low frequency radio range instrument approaches. The Indianapolis control zone extension to the southwest, provided for protection for aircraft executing ILS and ADF instrument approaches, and the extension to the northwest, provided for protection for aircraft executing VOR instrument approaches, presently extend ten miles southwest of the outer marker and ten miles northwest of the VORTAC, respectively. Prescribed ILS, ADF, and VOR instrument approach procedures, at Weir Cook County Airport, require that the portion of the approach southwest of the ILS outer marker and northwest of the VORTAC be made at altitudes above 1,000 feet above the ground. Since the procedure turns associated with these instrument approach procedures are made within the control areas associated with airways, the control zone extension to the southwest, based on the Indianapolis ILS localizer course, and the portion of the control zone extension to the northwest of the Indianapolis VORTAC are not required for the protection of aircraft executing these standard instrument approaches. Therefore, it was proposed to revoke the control zone extension to the southwest and the portion of the northwest extension to the northwest of the VORTAC.

On March 24, 1960, a supplemental notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (25 F.R. 2497) extending the time for comment to April 15, 1960, and stated: "It has been determined that there is a continued requirement for the control zone extension to the southwest based on the Indianapolis Weir Cook Municipal Airport ILS localizer southwest course because of terrain features. Accordingly, the portion of the proposal concerned with the revocation of the southwest control zone extension based on the localizer southwest course is hereby withdrawn. In lieu thereof, it is proposed to extend the existing southwest control zone extension to a point 12 miles southwest of the ILS outer marker. This would provide protection for aircraft executing the procedure turn portion of the ADF instrument approach procedure. The prescribed ADF instrument approach authorizes procedure turn within 10 nautical miles (approximately 12 statute miles) of the outer marker. If this action is taken, the Indianapolis, Ind., control zone would be designated within a 5-mile radius of the geographical center of Indianapolis Weir Cook Municipal Airport (latitude 39°43'42" N., longitude 86°17'04" W.); within 2 miles either side of the Indianapolis Weir Cook ILS localizer southwest course extending from the 5-mile radius zone to a point 12 miles southwest of the outer marker; within 2 miles either side of the west course of the Indianapolis radio range, extending from the 5-mile radius zone to a point 12 miles west of the radio range; and within 2 miles either side of the 143° True radial of the Indianapolis VORTAC extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the VORTAC."

In response to the notice, the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association concurred with the modification of the northwest extension and the revocation of the southwest extension. However, with respect to the west extension, the following comment was submitted:

We do not concur in the increased length of the western extension for low frequency radio range instrument approaches.

It is believed that instrument approaches permitting flight below 1,000 feet for such distances are unnecessary and are hazardous to aircraft which operate at such low altitudes. This view would appear to be supported by the finding that no need exists to continue the other control zone extensions presently designated.

The Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association (AOPA) accordingly, must object to that portion of the proposal relating to increase in length of the western control zone extension.

The Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association submitted the following comments, quoted in part, in response to the supplemental notice:

The modified proposal should have stated that the current ADF approach on the ILS outer marker was to be protected to the ground. The entire approach is within controlled airspace since it is at all times more than 700 feet above the ground until reaching the 5-mile radius control zone.

If for some reason of policy or otherwise, it is considered that instrument flight below 1,000 feet should be protected to the ground, then it is strongly recommended that the ADF approach be modified to follow the flight levels specified for the ILS approach. Safety in flight will certainly be served by eliminating the need for aircraft to make unnecessary long flights close to the ground.

With respect to the proposed increased length of the western extension for instrument approaches using the low frequency radio range, the same situation obtains in that the entire approach to the radio range requires flight more than 700 feet above the ground. If as indicated, this is not adequate separation, then again it is recommended that the approach altitude beyond the range be raised to 1,800 feet.

The Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association must object to the modified proposal to redesignate the southwestern control zone extension. We continue our opposition to the western control zone extension.

The Federal Aviation Agency has reviewed the published instrument approaches for the Weir Cook Municipal Airport and has determined that the approach altitude over the ILS outer marker for the ADF instrument approach can be raised to coincide with the ILS approach altitude which is 1,000 feet above the terrain. Accordingly, the Federal Aviation Agency concurs in the AOPA's recommendation to revoke the southwest control zone extension based on the ILS outer marker. This concurrence is based on the Administrator's stated policy that flights conducted under instrument flight rules, where they are required to maneuver below 1,000 feet above the terrain, will be protected by control zones or control zone extension. However, in regard to the west extension, this is considered necessary because in accordance with the prescribed radio range instrument approach procedure, the procedure turn is completed at 2,000 feet MSL within 10 nautical miles of the radio range and then descent is made to cross the facility at 1,500 feet MSL which is 703 feet above the surface of the airport. In this instance, the facility is only 2.9 nautical miles from the airport, and by raising the altitude to 1,800 feet MSL, as recommended by AOPA, would require an excessive rate of descent from the facility to the airport thereby compromising safety. Therefore, the Federal Aviation Agency is modifying the Indianapolis control zone by designating it within a 5-mile radius of the geographical center of the Indianapolis Weir Cook Airport (latitude 39°43'42" N., longitude 86°17'04" W.); within 2 miles either side of the west course of the Indianapolis radio range, extending from the 5-mile radius zone to a point 12 miles west of the radio range; and within 2 miles either side of the 143° True radial of the Indianapolis VORTAC extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the VORTAC.

No other adverse comments were received. The Department of the Air Force and the Air Transport Association concurred in the notice and supplemental notice. Mr. G. Edwin Petro, Director of Aviation, American Association of Airport Executives, concurred in the Notice and advised that the name Weir Cook County Airport has been changed to the Indianapolis Weir Cook Municipal Airport. This name change is reflected herein.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rule herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530), § 601.2105 (24 F.R. 10576) is amended to read:

§ 601.2105 Indianapolis, Ind., control zone.

Within a 5-mile radius of the geographical center of the Weir Cook Municipal Airport (latitude 39°43'42" N., longitude 86°17'04" W.); within 2 miles either side of the W course of the Indianapolis RR extending from the 5-mile radius zone to a point 12 miles W of the RR; and within 2 miles either side of the 143° True radial of the Indianapolis VORTAC extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the VORTAC.

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. July 28, 1960.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

SUBCHAPTER C—AIR NAVIGATION REGULATIONS

[Reg. Docket No. 392; Amdt. 168]

PART 609—STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURES

Miscellaneous Alterations

The new and revised standard instrument approach procedures appearing hereinafter are adopted to become effective and/or canceled when indicated in order to promote safety. The revised procedures supersede the existing procedures of the same classification now in effect for the airports specified therein. For the convenience of the users, the revised procedures specify the complete procedure and indicate the changes to the existing procedures. Pursuant to authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 5662), I find that a situation exists requiring immediate action in the interest of safety, that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable, and that good cause exists for making this amendment effective on less than thirty days' notice.

Part 609 (14 CFR Part 609) is amended as follows:

1. The automatic direction finding procedures prescribed in § 609.100(b) are amended to read in part:

ADF STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURE

Bearings, headings, courses and radials are magnetic. Elevations and altitudes are in feet MSL. Ceilings are in feet above airport elevation. Distances are in nautical miles unless otherwise indicated, except visibilities which are in statute miles.

If an instrument approach procedure of the above type is conducted at the below named airport, it shall be in accordance with the following instrument approach procedure, unless an approach is conducted in accordance with a different procedure for such airport authorized by the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency. Initial approaches shall be made over specified routes. Minimum altitudes shall correspond with those established for en route operation in the particular area or as set forth below.

Pursuant to authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 5662), I find that a situation exists requiring immediate action in the interest of safety, that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable, and that good cause exists for making this amendment effective on less than thirty days' notice.
Part 609 (14 CFR, Part 609) is amended as follows:

1. The low or medium frequency range procedures prescribed in § 609.100(a) are amended to read in part:

LFR STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURE

Bearings, headings, courses and radials are magnetic. Elevations and altitudes are in feet MSL. Ceilings are in feet above airport elevation. Distances are in nautical miles unless otherwise indicated, except visibilities which are in statute miles.
If an instrument approach procedure of the above type is conducted at the below named airport, it shall be in accordance with the following instrument approach procedure, unless an approach is conducted in accordance with a different procedure for such airport authorized by the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency. Initial approaches shall be made over specified routes. Minimum altitudes shall correspond with those established for en route operation in the particular area or as set forth below.

Title 46—SHIPPING

Chapter I—Coast Guard, Department of the Treasury

SUBCHAPTER N—EXPLOSIVES OR OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES OR SUBSTANCES AND COMBUSTIBLE LIQUIDS ON BOARD VESSELS

[CGFR 60-33]

PART 146—TRANSPORTATION OR STORAGE OF EXPLOSIVES OR OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES OR SUBSTANCES, AND COMBUSTIBLE LIQUIDS ON BOARD VESSELS

Miscellaneous Amendments Respecting Dangerous Cargoes

Pursuant to the notice of proposed rule making published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 18, 1960 (25 F.R. 1440–1448), and Merchant Marine Council Public Hearing Agenda dated April 4, 1960 (CG–249), the Merchant Marine Council held a Public Hearing on April 4, 1960, for the purpose of receiving comments, views, and data. The proposals considered were identified as Items I through XII, inclusive, and Item XI contained proposed requirements regarding dangerous cargoes.

This document is the fourth of a series covering the regulations and actions considered at the April 4, 1960 Public Hearing and annual session of the Merchant Marine Council. The first document, CGFR 60–30, contains the requirements based on Item I regarding radar observers required on radar equipped vessels. The second document, CGFR 60–31, contains the requirements based on Item XII regarding commitment of employment and stability standards for passenger vessels of unusual designs. The third document, CGFR 60–32, contains the requirements based on Item X regarding storage of bulk ore cargoes. These documents were published in the FEDERAL REGISTERS dated May 6 and 12, 1960.

This document contains the final actions taken with respect to the proposed changes in Item XI regarding the transportation or stowage of dangerous cargoes. On the basis of information received changes were made in 46 CFR 146.22–1 and 146.22–100.

The provisions of R.S. 4472, as amended (46 U.S.C. 170), require that the land and water regulations governing the transportation of dangerous cargo articles or substances shall be as nearly parallel as practical. The provisions in 46 CFR 146.02–18 and 146.02–19 make the Dangerous Cargo Regulations applicable to all shipments of dangerous cargoes by vessels. The Interstate Commerce Commission in Orders Nos. 41, 41A, and 42 has made changes in the ICC regulations with respect to the definitions, descriptive names, classifications, specifications of containers, packing, marking, labeling, and certification, which are now in effect for land transportation. Various amendments to the Dangerous Cargo Regulations in 46 CFR Part 146 have been included in this document in order that these regulations governing water transportation of certain dangerous cargoes will be as nearly parallel as practicable with the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission which govern the land transportation of the same commodities. For those changes in 46 CFR Part 146, which involved changes other than shippers' requirements, the proposed amendments were considered at the Merchant Marine Council Public Hearing held on April 4, 1960.

The amendments to 46 CFR Part 146, which were not described in the FEDERAL REGISTER of February 18, 1960 (25 F.R. 1447, 1448), are considered to be interpretations of law, or revised requirements to agree with existing ICC regulations, or relaxations of previous requirements, or editorial in nature, and it is hereby found that compliance with the Administrative Procedure Act (respecting notice of proposed rule making, public rule making procedure thereon, and effective date requirements thereof) is unnecessary with respect to such changes.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by Treasury Department Orders 120, dated July 31, 1950 (15 F.R. 6521), 167–14, dated November 26, 1954 (19 F.R. 8026), and CGFR 56–28, dated July 24, 1956 (21 F.R. 5659), to promulgate regulations in accordance with the statutes cited with the regulations below, the following amendments are prescribed and shall become effective on July 1, 1960:

Subpart—List of Explosives or Other Dangerous Articles Containing the Shipping Name or Description of Articles Subject to the Regulations in This Subchapter

§ 146.04–5 [Amendment]

Section 146.04–5 List of explosives and other dangerous articles and combustible liquids, is amended by adding and changing certain items as follows:

[1] Unless otherwise exempt by the provisions of the detailed regulations.

Subpart—Shippers' Requirements Re: Packing, Marking, Labeling, and Shipping Papers

Section 146.05–5 is amended by adding a new paragraph (h) to read as follows:

§ 146.05–5 I.C.C. specification containers.

(h) Where the regulations limit the gross weight of I.C.C. specification portable tanks to 8,000 pounds, these portable tanks of gross weight not over 20,000 pounds may be used provided the lifting gear used to load and discharge the tank is of sufficient capacity to safely handle the weight. In addition to other markings required, the portable tanks shall be marked with the gross weight and the legend "Use heavy lift."

Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Explosives

1. Section 146.20–3 is amended by changing paragraph (q) to read as follows:

§ 146.20–3 Prohibited or not permitted explosives.

(q) New explosives except samples for laboratory examination and military explosives approved by the Chief of Ordnance, Department of the Army; Chief, Bureau of Naval Weapons, Department of the Navy; or Commander, Air Material Command, Department of the Air Force. All other new explosives must be approved for transportation by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

2. Section 146.20–9 is amended by adding a new paragraph (f) as follows:

§ 146.20–9 Class B explosives.

(f) Explosive power devices, class B, are devices designed to operate ejecting apparatus or other mechanisms by means of a propellant explosive, class B, and differ from explosive power devices, class C, in that they contain larger or more powerful propellants. The devices must not rupture on functioning and must be of a type approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Explosive power devices, class B, must not be shipped with igniters assembled therein unless shipped by, for, or to the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force of the United States Government.

3. Section 146.20–11 is amended by revising paragraph (a), but not the subparagraphs (1) to (3), inclusive, and paragraph (aa) to read as follows:

§ 146.20–11 Class C explosives.

(a) Small-arms ammunition is fixed ammunition consisting of a metallic, plastic composition, or paper cartridge case, a primer, and a propelling charge, with or without bullet, shot, tear gas material, tracer components, or incendiary compositions or mixtures, but not including bullets loaded with high explosives, and is further limited to the following:

(aa) Explosive power devices, class C, are devices designed to drive generators or mechanical apparatus by means of propellant explosives, class B. The devices consist of a housing with a contained propellant charge and an electric igniter or squib and shall contain not more than 400 grams of explosive composition. The devices must be of a design approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

4. Section 146.20–23 is amended by changing paragraph (g) to read as follows:

§ 146.20–23 Stowage of explosives with other dangerous articles.

(g) Dynamite, commercial boosters and/or other non-priming non-initiating types of explosives which are compatible with dynamite may be stowed in a magazine located in the same hold or compartment with nitro carbo nitrate or in holds or compartments adjacent to nitro carbo nitrate provided the nitro carbo nitrate is packaged in strong metal cans, metal or fiber drums, barrels, kegs, or wooden or fiberboard boxes with noncombustible inside containers.

§ 146.20–100 [Amendment]

5. Section 146.20–100 Table A—Classification: Class A; dangerous explosives is amended by revising "Black powder, etc." as follows:

In column 4, change "Fiberboard boxes: (ICC–12H, 23F, 23H) etc." to read:

Fiberboard boxes: (ICC–12H, 23F, 23H) WIC, not over 50 lb. net wt.

§ 146.20–200 [Amendment]

6. Section 146.20–200 Table B—Classification: Class B; less dangerous explosives is amended by inserting after "Ammunition for cannon with nonexplosive projectile, etc." as follows:

a. In column 1, insert:

Explosive power devices, class B.

b. In column 2, insert:

Explosive power devices, class B, must not be shipped with igniters assembled therein unless shipped by, for, or to the Departments of the Army, Navy and Air Force of the United States Government or unless of a type approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Each outside container must be plainly marked "EXPLOSIVE POWER DEVICES, CLASS B" and "HANDLE CAREFULLY—KEEP FIRE AWAY."

c. In column 3, insert:

No label required.

d. In column 4, insert:

Stowage:
"On deck under cover."
"Tween decks readily accessible."
Outside containers:
Wooden boxes, or wooden boxes, fiberboard lined (ICC–14, 15A, 15E, 16A) not over 200 lb. gr. wt.
Authorized only for U.S. Government shipments: Strong wooden or metal boxes or containers.

e. In columns 5, 6, and 7, insert:

Not permitted.

§ 146.20–300 [Amendment]

7. Section 146.20–300 Table C—Classification: Class C; relatively safe explosives is amended by revising certain items as follows: Under "Explosive cable cutters," amend "Explosive power devices" as follows:

a. In column 1, change the item to read:

Explosive power devices, class C.

b. In column 2, amend paragraph 1 to read:

Explosive power devices, class C • • •.

c. In column 2, amend paragraph 5 to read:

Each outside container must be plainly marked "EXPLOSIVE CABLE CUTTERS," "EXPLOSIVE POWER DEVICES, CLASS C," OR "EXPLOSIVE RELEASE DEVICES" and "HANDLE CAREFULLY—KEEP FIRE AWAY."

d. In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 under "Outside containers," change "Strong wooden boxes, etc." to read:

Strong wooden or metal boxes, not over 150 lb. gr. wt.

Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Inflammable Liquids

1. Section 146.21–30 is amended by changing paragraph (j) to read as follows:

§ 146.21–30 Stowage of inflammable liquids with explosives and other dangerous articles.

(j) Inflammable liquids shall not be stowed in the same hold or compartment with cotton, nor in the hold above or below one containing cotton.

§ 146.21–100 [Amendment]

2. Section 146.21–100 Table D—Classification: Inflammable liquids is amended by revising certain items as follows:

a. Amend "Alcohol, N.O.S." as follows: In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 under "Outside containers: Fiberboard boxes, etc." add:

(ICC–12B) WIC ICC–2U polyethylene, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

b. Amend "Carbon bisulfide (disulfide)" as follows: In column 4, change "Fiberboard boxes, WIC (ICC–12B) etc." to read:

Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12A, 12B) WIC, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

c. After "Methyl methacrylate monomer," insert the following:

In column 1, insert:

Monoethylamine (ethylamine).

In column 2, insert:

A colorless liquid having a strong ammoniacal odor.
Flashpoint below 0° F.
Can react vigorously with oxidizing materials.
Keep cool.
Keep away from heat and open flame.

In column 3, insert:

Red.

In column 4, insert:

Stowage:
"On deck protected".
"On deck under cover".
Outside containers:
Metal barrels or drums: (ICC–5, 5A) not over 55 gal. cap.
Cylinders as prescribed for any compressed gas except acetylene.
Tank cars complying with ICC Regulations.

In columns 5, 6, and 7, insert:

Not permitted.

Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Inflammable Solids and Oxidizing Materials

1. Section 146.22–1 is amended by changing the definition to read as follows:

§ 146.22–1 Definition of inflammable solids and oxidizing materials.

An inflammable solid is defined by the I.C.C. regulations as any solid material, other than one classified as an explosive, which, under conditions incident to transportation, is liable to cause fires through friction, absorption of moisture, spontaneous chemical changes, retained heat from manufacturing or processing, or which can be ignited readily and when ignited burns so vigorously and persistently as to create a serious transportation hazard. Examples: certain metallic hydrides, metallic sodium and potassium, and certain oily fabrics, processed meals, and nitrocellulose products. An oxidizing material is defined by the I.C.C. regulations as a substance such as a chlorate, permanganate, peroxide, nitro carbo nitrate, or a nitrate that yields oxygen readily to stimulate the combustion of organic matter. Such definitions are binding upon all shippers making shipments of inflammable solids and oxidizing materials by common carrier vessels engaged in interstate or foreign commerce by water. These definitions are accepted and adopted and form part of the regulations in this subchapter applying to all shippers making shipment of inflammable solids and oxidizing materials by any vessel, and shall apply to the owners, charterers, agents, master, or other person in charge of a vessel and to other persons, transporting, carrying, conveying, storing, stowing or using inflammable solids or oxidizing materials on board any vessel subject to R.S. 4472, as amended (46 U.S.C. 170), and the regulations in this subchapter.

2. Section 146.22–10 is amended by changing paragraphs (e) and (g) to read as follows:

§ 146.22–10 Stowage of inflammable solids with explosives and other dangerous articles.

* * * * *

(e) Inflammable solids shall not be stowed in the same hold or compartment over cylinders of non-inflammable compressed gases.

* * * * *

(g) Inflammable solids shall not be stowed in the same hold or compartment with cotton, nor in the hold or compartment above or below one containing cotton.

3. Section 146.22–15 is amended by changing paragraphs (b), (h), and (j) to read as follows:

§ 146.22–15 Stowage of oxidizing materials with explosives and other dangerous articles.

* * * * *

(b) Nitro carbo nitrate may be stowed in the same hold or compartment with magazines containing dynamite, commercial boosters and/or other non-priming, non-initiating types of explosives compatible with dynamite provided the nitro carbo nitrate is packaged in strong metal cans, metal or fiber drums, barrels, kegs, or wooden or fiberboard boxes with non-combustible inside containers.

* * * * *

(h) Oxidizing materials shall not be stowed in the same hold or compartment over cylinders of non-inflammable compressed gases.

* * * * *

(j) Oxidizing materials shall not be stowed in the same hold or compartment with cotton, nor in the hold or compartment above or below one containing cotton.

4. Section 146.22–25 is amended by revising paragraph (b) and adding entries to paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§ 146.22–25 Exemptions for inflammable solids and oxidizing materials.

(b) Liquid or solid organic peroxides, except acetyl benzoyl peroxide, solid, and benzoyl peroxide, are, unless otherwise provided, exempt from specification packaging, marking other than name of contents, and labeling requirements, when packed in:

(1) Strong outside containers having not over 1 pint or 1 pound net weight of the material in any one outside package with inside containers securely packed and cushioned with incombustible cushioning material.

(2) Strong outside containers having not more than 24 inside fiberboard containers each containing not more than 70 chemically resistant closed plastic tubes having fluid capacity not over one-sixth ounce each and securely packed in incombustible cushioning material. No one inside fiberboard container shall have more than 1 pint of liquid.

* * * * *

(d) * * *

Chlorine dioxide hydrate, frozen.

* * * * *

Decaborane.

5. Section 146.22–30 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (e) to read as follows:

§ 146.22–30 Authorization to load or discharge ammonium nitrate and ammonium nitrate fertilizers.

(a) Ammonium nitrate, ammonium nitrate fertilizers and fertilizer mixtures packaged in paper bags or other combustible containers, except those types exempt by this section, in amounts exceeding the 1,000 pound test sample required by paragraph (e) of this section shall not be laden on or discharged from any vessel at any point or place in the United States, its territories or possessions not including the Panama Canal Zone, until a permit authorizing such loading or discharging has been obtained by the owner, agent, charterer, master or person in charge of the vessel from the Coast Guard District Commander or other officer designated by the Commandant of the United States Coast Guard for such purpose. The Coast Guard officer issuing the permit shall satisfy himself that no local regulations or rules will be violated by the issuance of such permit. This permit requirement shall not apply to ammonium nitrate, ammonium nitrate fertilizers and fertilizer mixtures loaded in railroad or highway vehicles offered for transportation on board vessels under the provisions of §§ 146.08–1 through 146.08–55.

* * * * *

(e) A person desiring to import or export ammonium nitrate materials and formulations not conforming to any of the classes listed in this section, or described in § 146.22–100, shall make application for a permit to the U.S. Coast Guard. A sample of 1,000 lbs. of the material in bags as prepared for shipment shall be furnished at least 60 days prior to intended date of shipment. Import shipments of this sample shall be made as required for 'Nitrates, N.O.S.' This sample shall be tested by a competent laboratory designated by the Coast Guard to determine whether the characteristics of the material require its classification as a dangerous article for purposes of transportation. After such tests, conditions of loading, discharging and transportation shall be prescribed by the Commandant of the Coast Guard. Costs of such tests shall be borne by the shipper.

6. A new § 146.22–40 is added to read as follows:

§ 146.22–40 Nitro carbo nitrate.

(a) Nitro carbo nitrate packaged in strong metal cans, metal or fiber drums, barrels or kegs, and wooden or fiberboard boxes with non-combustible inside containers, may be loaded or discharged at any designated waterfront facility.

(b) Nitro carbo nitrate packaged in burlap bags, multi-wall paper bags or other non-rigid combustible containers shall be loaded or discharged at facilities so remotely situated from populous and congested areas and/or high value or high hazard industrial facilities, that in the event of fire or explosion, loss of lives and property may be minimized.

(1) This facility shall conform with port security and local regulations and shall provide an abundance of water for fire fighting.

(2) This facility shall be so located as to permit unrestricted passage to open water. The vessel shall be moored bow to seaward, and shall be maintained in a mobile status either by presence of tugs or readiness of engines. The vessel shall provide at the bow and stern a wire towing hawser having an eye splice and lowered to the water's edge.

§ 146.22–100 [Amendment]

7. Section 146.22–100 Table E—Classification: Inflammable solids and oxidizing materials is amended by revising various items as follows:

a. Amend the following items as indicated:

1. Ammonium bichromate (ammonium dichromate).
2. Calcium, metallic.
3. Compounds, tree or weed killing, solid.
4. Drugs, chemicals, medicines or cosmetics, n.o.s.
5. Inflammable solids, n.o.s.
6. Lithium peroxide.
7. Magnesium, metallic, powdered.
8. Magnesium peroxide, solid.
9. Oxidizing material, n.o.s.
10. Perchlorates, etc.
11. Permanganates, etc.
12. Potassium bromate.
13. Potassium nitrite.
14. Potassium peroxide.
15. Sodium bromate.
16. Sodium methylate, dry.
17. Sodium nitrite.
18. Strontium peroxide.
19. Zinc peroxide.

In columns, 4, 5, 6 and 7, where applicable, change "Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12B) WIC, etc." to read:

Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12A, 12B) WIC, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

b. Amend the following items as indicated:

Caprylyl peroxide solution,
Peroxides, organic, liquids, n.o.s., etc.

in column 4, under "Authorized only for material which will not react dangerously, etc.", add:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12B) WIC ICC–2U or polyethylene bottles, not over 5 gal. cap. each.

c. Amend "Chlorate and borate mixtures, etc." as follows:

In column 4, under "Mixtures containing more than 28% chlorate, etc." delete "Fiberboard boxes, WIC, etc." and insert:

Strong fiberboard boxes, WIC not over 4 lb. net wt. each, or ICC–2D bags not over 10 lb. net wt. each; gr. wt. of box not over 65 lb.

d. After "Chlorate and borate mixtures, etc." add the following:

In column 1, insert:

Chlorine dioxide hydrate, frozen.

In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 insert:

Not permitted.

e. Amend "Chromic acid, etc." as follows:

In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 under "Outside containers," add:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12A), WIC, not over 20 lb. net wt.

f. Amend "Chlorates, etc." as follows:

In column 4, change "Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12B), etc." to read:

Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12A, 12B), WIC, not over 25 lb. net wt.

g. After "Cumene hydroperoxide, etc" insert the following:

In column 1, insert:

Decaborane.

In column 2, insert:

Colorless needles.
When heated to decomposition, it may emit toxic fumes and may explode.
Keep cool.

In column 3, insert:

Yellow.

In column 4, insert:

Stowage:
"On deck protected."
"On deck under cover."
Outside containers:
Metal barrels or drums:
(ICC–6A, 6B, 6C) not over 55 gal. cap.
(ICC–17C, 17E, 17H, 37A, 37B) STC not over 55 gal. cap.
Fiberboard box:
(ICC–12B) WIC, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

In columns 5, 6, and 7 insert:

Not permitted.

h. Amend the following items as indicated:

1. Lithium aluminum hydride.
2. Lithium hydride.
3. Potassium, metallic.
4. Sodium amide.
5. Sodium, metallic.
6. Sodium potassium alloys.

In column 4, under "Outside containers," insert after "Wooden boxes, etc.":

Fiberboard box (ICC–12B) WIMC, not over 90 lb. gr. wt.

i. Amend "Matches, book" as follows:

In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 add a second paragraph to read as follows:

Book matches in a quantity not exceeding 25 books of 30 matches each, packaged as required by the Postal Regulations, are also exempt from the marking requirement.

j. Amend "Nitrates—Aluminum nitrate, etc." as follows:

(i) Delete "nitro carbo nitrate", "zinc nitrate" and "zirconium nitrate" and all wording pertaining thereto in columns 2 and 3.

(ii) In column 3, opposite aluminum nitrate, Barium nitrate, Guanidine nitrate, Lead nitrate, Magnesium nitrate and Nitrates, N.O.S., change "No label required" to read:

Yellow.

(iii) In column 4, delete the present wording and insert:

Stowage:
"On deck protected."
"On deck under cover."
"Tween decks."
"Under deck."
Outside containers:
Strong metal cans.
Metal or fiber drums.
Barrels or kegs.
Wooden or fiberboard boxes, WIC.

NOTE 1: It is not required that the above containers be ICC specification containers although ICC specification containers are acceptable, but the ship's officer in charge of loading shall satisfy himself that they are sufficient in all respects for the purpose intended. He shall refuse any containers showing damage, leakage or inability to properly contain the substance.

NOTE 2: Aluminum nitrate, Barium nitrate, Calcium nitrate, Guanidine nitrate, Nitrate of soda and potash, Potassium nitrate, Sodium nitrate, and Strontium nitrate may in addition be packed as follows:

Bulk.
Bulk in sift-proof, closed R.R. freight cars or highway vehicles.
Burlap bags, not over 200 lb. net wt., moisture-proof, made tight against sifting and of not less than 7½ oz. burlap.
Multi-wall paper bags, not over 110 lb. net wt., at least 4 ply construction, moisture-proof and made tight against sifting.

In column 5, delete the present wording and insert:

Stowage:
"On deck protected."
"On deck under cover."
"Tween decks."
"Under deck."
Outside containers:
Strong metal cans.
Metal or fiber drums.
Barrels or kegs.
Wooden or fiberboard boxes, WIC.

NOTE 1: It is not required that the above containers be ICC specification containers although ICC specification containers are acceptable, but the ship's officer in charge of loading shall satisfy himself that they are sufficient in all respects for the purpose intended. He shall refuse any containers showing damage, leakage or inability to properly contain the substance.

In column 6, delete the present wording and insert:

Ferry stowage (AA).
Outside containers:
Strong metal cans.
Metal or fiber drums.
Barrels or kegs.
Wooden or fiberboard boxes, WIC.

NOTE 1: It is not required that the above containers be ICC specification containers although ICC specification containers are acceptable, but the ship's officer in charge of loading shall satisfy himself that they are sufficient in all respects for the purpose intended. He shall refuse any containers showing damage, leakage or inability to properly contain the substance.

In column 7, delete the present wording and insert:

Ferry stowage (BB).
Outside containers:
Strong metal cans.
Metal or fiber drums.
Barrels or kegs.
Wooden or fiberboard boxes, WIC.

NOTE 1: It is not required that the above containers be ICC specification containers although ICC specification containers are acceptable, but the ship's officer in charge of loading shall satisfy himself that they are sufficient in all respects for the purpose intended. He shall refuse any containers showing damage, leakage or inability to properly contain the substance.

k. After "Strontium nitrate" insert the following:

In column 1, insert:

Nitro carbo nitrate.
For loading and discharging requirements see § 146.22–40.

In column 2, insert:

Composed principally of ammonium nitrate. Involved in a fire will greatly intensify the burning of many combustible materials and under conditions of exposure to high temperatures (above 400° F.) rapid decomposition and ignition may occur.
Will burn with explosive violence.
Soluble in water.
Do not stow in the same hold or compartment with combustible cargo, explosives (except that nitro carbo nitrate packaged in strong metal cans, metal or fiber drums, barrels, kegs, or wooden or fiberboard boxes with non-combustible inside containers may be stowed in a hold or compartment with a magazine containing dynamite, commercial boosters and/or other non-priming, non-initiating types of explosives which are compatible with dynamite) or acids and away from chlorates.

In column 3, insert:

Yellow.

In column 4, insert:

Stowage:
"On deck protected."
"On deck under cover."
"Tween decks."
"Under deck."
Outside containers:
Strong metal cans.
Metal or fiber drums.
Barrels or kegs.
Wooden or fiberboard boxes, WIC.

NOTE 1: Nitro carbo nitrate packaged in strong metal cans, metal or fiber drums, barrels or kegs or wooden or fiberboard boxes WIC is exempt from the labeling requirements.

Multi-wall paper bags, not over 100 lb. net wt., at least 4 ply construction, moisture-proof and made tight against sifting.

Burlap bags, not over 100 lb. net wt., moisture-proof, made tight against sifting, and of not less than 7½ oz. burlap.

NOTE 2: It is not required that the above containers be ICC specification containers although ICC specification containers are acceptable, but the ship's officer in charge of loading shall satisfy himself that they are sufficient in all respects for the purpose intended. He shall refuse any containers showing damage, leakage or inability to properly contain the substance.

In column 5, insert:

Stowage:
"On deck protected."
"On deck under cover."
"Tween decks."
"Under deck."

Outside containers:
Strong metal cans.
Metal or fiber drums.
Barrels or kegs.
Wooden or fiberboard boxes, WIC.

NOTE 1: Nitro carbo nitrate packaged in strong metal cans, metal or fiber drums, barrels or kegs or wooden or fiberboard boxes WIC is exempt from the labeling requirements.

NOTE 2: It is not required that the above containers be ICC specification containers although ICC specification containers are acceptable, but the ship's officer in charge of loading shall satisfy himself that they are sufficient in all respects for the purpose intended. He shall refuse any containers showing damage, leakage or inability to properly contain the substance.

In column 6, insert:

Ferry stowage (AA).
Outside containers:
Strong metal cans.
Metal or fiber drums.
Barrels or kegs.
Wooden or fiberboard boxes, WIC.

NOTE 1: Nitro carbo nitrate packaged in strong metal cans, metal or fiber drums, barrels or kegs or wooden or fiberboard boxes WIC is exempt from the labeling requirements.

Burlap bags, not over 100 lb. net wt., moisture-proof, made tight against sifting, and of not less than 7½ oz. burlap.

Multi-wall paper bags, not over 100 lb. net wt., at least 4 ply construction, moisture-proof and made tight against sifting.

NOTE 2: It is not required that the above containers be ICC specification containers although ICC specification containers are acceptable, but the ship's officer in charge of loading shall satisfy himself that they are sufficient in all respects for the purpose intended. He shall refuse any containers showing damage, leakage or inability to properly contain the substance.

In column 7, insert:

Ferry stowage (BB).
Outside containers:
Strong metal cans.
Metal or fiber drums.
Barrels or kegs.
Wooden or fiberboard boxes, WIC.

NOTE 1: Nitro carbo nitrate packaged in strong metal cans, metal or fiber drums, barrels or kegs or wooden or fiberboard boxes WIC is exempt from the labeling requirements.

Burlap bags, not over 100 lb. net wt., moisture-proof, made tight against sifting, and of not less than 7½ oz. burlap.

Multi-wall paper bags, not over 100 lb. net wt., at least 4 ply construction, moisture-proof and made tight against sifting.

NOTE 2: It is not required that the above containers be ICC specification containers although ICC specification containers are acceptable, but the ship's officer in charge of loading shall satisfy himself that they are sufficient in all respects for the purpose intended. He shall refuse any containers showing damage, leakage or inability to properly contain the substance.

1. Amend "Phosphoric anhydride" as follows:

In column 4, under "Outside containers," add:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12A) WIC, not over 12 lb. net wt.

m. Amend the following items as indicated:

1. Potassium nitrite
2. Potassium peroxide.

In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 under "Steel barrels or drums" change (ICC–17E, etc.) to read:

(ICC–17C, 17E, 17H, 37A, 37B) STC, not over 55 gal. cap.

n. Amend "Potassium sulfide (fused or concentrated, but not ground, etc.)" as follows:

In column 1, change paragraph 4 to read:

Sodium sulfide containing 35% or more combined water by weight, fused or concentrated but not ground (may be chipped, flaked or broken) when packed in steel barrels or drums that are equipped with moisture-tight closures, or in strong, tight fiber drums having a moisture barrier incorporated in the walls and equipped with moisture-tight closure is not subject to the regulations in this subchapter.

In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 add the following:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12B) WIC plastic bag, not more than 25 lb. net wt.

Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Corrosive Liquids

1. Section 146.23–25 is amended by changing paragraph (i) to read as follows:

§ 146.23–25 Stowage of corrosive liquids with explosives or other dangerous articles.

* * * * *

(i) Corrosive liquids shall not be stowed in the hold or compartment over one in which cotton is stowed unless the deck is of steel and the hatch is fitted with a tight coaming and the deck itself is tight against leakage. Corrosive liquids shall not be stowed over the square of the hatch.

§ 146.23–100 [Amendment]

2. Section 146.23–100 Table F—Classification; Corrosive liquids is amended as follows:

a. Amend the following items as indicated:

1. Acids, liquid, n.o.s.
2. Alkaline battery fluid, etc.
3. Antimony pentachloride.
4. Boiler compound, liquid.
5. Caustic potash, liquid, etc.
6. Chromic acid solution.
7. Compounds, cleaning, liquid, etc.
8. Corrosive liquid, n.o.s.
9. Cupriethylene-diamine solution.
10. Drugs, chemicals, medicines, or cosmetics, n.o.s.
11. Formic acid, etc.
12. Hexamethylene diamine solution.
13. Hydriodic acid.
14. Sodium aluminate, liquid.
15. Water treatment compound, liquid.

(i) In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 if permitted, after "Wooden boxes, etc." insert:

Wooden box (ICC–16A) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 200 lb. gr. wt.

(ii) In columns 4, 5, 6 and 7, if permitted, after "Fiberboard boxes, etc.," insert:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12B) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 5 gal. cap. each.

b. Amend "Batteries, electric storage, wet" as follows:

In columns 4 and 5 under "Outside containers" delete the present wording and insert:

Special wooden boxes (ICC–15D, 16B) not over 500 lb. gr. wt.
Special fiberboard box (ICC–12B) not over 190 lb. gr. wt.
Wooden or metal trays (non-specification). Carload or truckload shipments of electric storage batteries permitted by regulations to be shipped without outside container shall when stowed on board a vessel be packed in wooden or metal trays so constructed as to protect the batteries from damage, short circuit or from the weight of imposed stowage resting upon the batteries.
Electric storage batteries with case of asphaltum composition, impregnated rubber, steel case type, synthetic resin (plastic) or wooden battery box type, protected against short circuits and firmly secured to skids or pallets capable of withstanding the shocks normally incident to transportation are exempt from specification packaging if such completed unit meets the requirement of the ICC regulations. Battery terminals must not be relied upon to support any part of the superimposed weight.

In columns 6 and 7 under "Outside containers", delete the present wording and insert the following:

Special wooden boxes (ICC–15D, 16B) not over 500 lb. gross wt.
Special fiberboard box (ICC–12B) not over 190 lb. gross wt.
Electric storage batteries with case of asphaltum composition, impregnated rubber, steel case type, synthetic resin (plastic) or wooden battery box type, protected against short circuits and firmly secured to skids or pallets capable of withstanding the shocks normally incident to transportation are exempt from specification packaging if such completed unit meets the requirement of the ICC regulations. Battery terminals must not be relied upon to support any part of the superimposed weight.
Carload or truckload shipments of electric storage batteries containing electrolyte or battery fluid, loaded or braced to prevent damage in transit and short circuits, are exempt from specification packaging, marking other than name of contents, and labeling requirements: Provided, That such shipments constitute the only commodity being transported in the railroad car or motor vehicle body.

c. Amend "Compounds, cleaning, liquid (containing hydrofluoric acid)" as follows:

In column 4, after "Wooden boxes, etc.," insert:

Wooden box (ICC–16A) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 200 lb. gr. wt.

d. After "Difluorophosphoric acid, anhydrous," insert the following:

In column 1, insert:

Di iso octyl acid phosphate.

In column 2, insert:

Toxic and corrosive.

In column 3, insert:

White.

In column 4, insert:

Stowage:
"On deck protected."
"On deck under cover."
Outside containers:
Metal drums (ICC–17E) STC, not over 55 gal. cap.
Tank cars complying with ICC regulations.

In columns 5, 6, and 7 insert:

Not permitted.

e. Amend "Hydrogen peroxide, etc." as follows:

In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 under "Solutions not over 37%, etc.," change "Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12B) etc." to read:

Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12A, 12B) WIC of glass, polyethylene or aluminum, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

f. Amend "Hydrochloric (muriatic) acid, etc." as follows:

(i) In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 delete "Authorized only for hydrochloric acid not over 30% strength: etc."

(ii) In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 add the following under "Outside containers: Fiberboard boxes, etc.":

Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12B) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 5 gal. cap.
Fiber drums (ICC–21B) WIC polyethylene (ICC–2T–2S) not over 225 lb. gr. wt.

(iii) In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 change "Wooden box (ICC–16A), etc." to read:

Wooden box (ICC–16A) WIC polyethylene (ICC–2T, 2U) not over 200 lb. gr. wt.

g. Amend "Hydrofluoric acid" as follows:

In column 4, insert after "Hydrofluoric acid not over 62% strength: Metal barrels or drums, etc.":

Hydrofluoric acid, not over 55% strength.
Fiberboard box (ICC–12A) WIC polyethylene 1 gallon bottles, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

h. Amend "Hydrofluosilicic acid, etc." as follows:

In column 4, after "Wooden boxes, etc." add:

Wooden box (ICC–16A) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 200 lb. gr. wt.

i. Amend "Hypochlorite solutions, etc." as follows:

After "Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12B) etc." add:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12B) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 5 gal. cap.

j. Amend "Sulfuric acid (oil of vitriol), etc." as follows:

In columns 4, 5, and 7 under "For sulfuric acid of concentrations not to exceed 95% etc.":

(i) Change "Wooden box (ICC–16A) etc." to read:

Wooden box (ICC–16A) WIC polyethylene (ICC–2T, 2U), not over 200 lb. gr. wt.

(ii) Add:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12B) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 5 gal. cap.

Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Compressed Gases

§ 146.24–100 [Amendment]

1. Section 146.24–100 Table G—Classification; Compressed Gases is amended as follows:

a. After "Dimethyl ether" insert the following:

In column 1, insert:

Dispersant gas, N.O.S.

In column 2 insert:

Inflammable gas.
An inflammable gas or mixtures of gases which are used as propellants.

In column 3 insert:

Red gas.

In column 4 insert:

Stowage:
"On deck protected."
"On deck under cover."
"Tween decks."
"Under deck away from heat."
Containers:
Cylinders complying with ICC regulations, with valve protection cap, dished heads, or boxed.
Tank cars complying with ICC regulations.

In columns 5, 6, and 7 insert:

Not permitted.

b. After "Helium-oxygen mixture", add the following:

In column 1 insert:

Hexafluoropropylene.

In column 2 insert:

Noninflammable gas.

In column 3 insert:

Green gas.

In column 4 insert:

Stowage:
"On deck protected."
"On deck under cover."
"Tween decks."
"Under deck away from heat."
Containers:
Cylinders:
(With valve protection cap.)
(With dished heads.)
(Boxed.)
Tank cars complying with ICC regulations.

In column 5 insert:

Stowage:
"On deck protected."
"On deck under cover."
"Tween decks."
"Under deck away from heat."
Containers:
Cylinders:
(With valve protection cap.)
(With dished heads.)
(Boxed.)

In column 6 insert:

Ferry stowage (AA)
Containers:
Cylinders:
(With valve protection cap.)
(With dished heads.)
(Boxed.)

In column 7 insert:

Ferry stowage (BB)
Containers:
Cylinders:
(With valve protection cap.)
(With dished heads.)
(Boxed.)

c. After "Oxygen, pressurized liquid" insert the following:

In column 1 insert:

Refrigerant gas, N.O.S.

In column 2 insert:

Inflammable gas.
An inflammable gas or mixture of gases which are used as refrigerants.

In column 3 insert:

Red gas.

In column 4 insert:

Stowage:
"On deck protected."
"On deck under cover."
Containers:
Cylinders complying with ICC regulations, with valve protection cap, dished heads, or boxed.
Tank cars complying with ICC regulations.

In columns 5, 6, and 7 insert:

Not permitted.

Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Poisonous Articles

§ 146.25–100 [Amendment]

1. Section 146.25–100 Table H—Classification; Class A; extremely dangerous poisons is amended as follows:

a. After "Nitrogen dioxide, liquid, etc." insert the following:

In column 1 insert:

Organic phosphates, N.O.S. mixed with compressed gas (must contain not more than 10 percent by weight of organic phosphate).

In column 2 insert:

Mixtures of organic phosphates with expellant gas.
Avoid breathing fumes and contact with body.
Stow away from living quarters, food products and in space not easily accessible to any persons.
Protect from direct rays of sun and artificial heat.
Keep cool.

In column 3 insert:

Poison gas.

In column 4 insert:

Stowage:
"On deck under cover."
Outside containers:
Cylinders, boxed (ICC–3AA300, 3AA300, 3B300, 4A300, 4B240, 4BA240) charged with not more than 5 lbs. of the mixture and to a maximum filling density of 80 percent of the water capacity. Not more than 12 cylinders in one outside wooden box, nor more than 4 cylinders in 1 outside fiberboard box.

In columns 5, 6, and 7 insert:

Not permitted.

§ 146.25–200 [Amendment]

2. Section 146.25–200 Table H—Classification: Class B; less dangerous poisons is amended as follows:

a. Amend "Acetone cyanhydrin" as follows:

(1) In column 4, under "Outside containers", make the following changes:

(1) Change "(ICC–6J) WIC, etc." to read:

(ICC–6J, 5B) WIC (ICC–2S polyethylene) not over 55 gal. cap.

(2) After "Steel barrels or drums, etc." insert:

Aluminum drums:
(ICC–42B, 42C, 42D, 42E, 42G) not over 55 gal. cap.

(3) After "Wooden boxes (ICC–15A), etc." insert:

Wooden box (ICC–16A) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 200 lb. gr. wt.

(4) After "Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12A), etc." insert:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12B) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 5 gal. cap. each, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

b. Amend "Alcohol, allyl" as follows:
(1) In column 4, under "Outside containers" make the following changes:
(1) Under "Steel barrels or drums", change "(ICC–6J), etc." to read:

(ICC–6J, 5B) WIC (ICC–2S polyethylene) not over 55 gal. cap.

(2) Under "Aluminum drums", change "(ICC–42B, etc.)" to read:

(ICC–42B, 42C, 42D, 42E, 42G) not over 55 gal. cap.

(3) After "Wooden boxes (ICC–15A), etc." insert:

Wooden box (ICC–16A) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 200 lb. gr. wt.

(4) After "Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12A, etc.)," insert:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12B) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 5 gal. cap. each, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

c. Amend "Aldrin mixture liquid, with more than 60% aldrin, etc." as follows:
(1) In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 under "Outside containers," make the following changes:
(1) After "(ICC–37P) etc." insert:

(ICC–6J, 5B) WIC (ICC–2S polyethylene) not over 55 gal. cap.
Aluminum drums:
(ICC–42B, 42C, 42D, 42E, 42G) not over 55 gal. cap.

(2) After "Wooden boxes (ICC–15A, etc.)," insert:

Wooden box (ICC–16A) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 200 lb. gr. wt.

(3) Change "Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12B), etc." to read:

Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12A, 12B) WIC, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

(4) Insert:

Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12B) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 5 gal. cap. each, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

(5) Insert:

Mailing tubes (ICC–29) WIC polyethylene, not over 2 qt. cap. each.

d. Amend "Aniline oil, liquid" as follows:
In column 4 under "Fiberboard boxes, etc." change "(ICC–12B), etc." to read:

(ICC–12A, 12B) WIC not over 1 gal. cap. each, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

e. Amend "Arsenic acid, liquid" as follows:
(1) In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 under "Outside containers," make the following changes:
(1) Delete: "Carboys in kegs, glass (ICC–1C), etc."
(2) Insert:

Aluminum drums (ICC–42B, 42C, 42D, 42E, 42G) not over 55 gal. cap.

(5) After "Wooden boxes (ICC–15A, etc.)", insert:

Wooden box (ICC–16A) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 200 lb. gr. wt.

(6) Change "Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12B), etc." to read:

Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12A, 12B) WIC, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

(7) Insert:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12B) WIC polyethylene 2U not over 5 gal. cap. each, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

(8) Insert:

Mailing tubes (ICC–29) WIC polyethylene, not over 2 qt. cap each.

(9) Insert:

Fiber drums (ICC–21B) WIC not over 200 lb. net wt.

f. Amend the following items as indicated:

1. Arsenic chloride (arsenous) liquid, etc.
2. Arsenical compounds or mixtures, n.o.s., liquid, etc.
3. Compounds, tree or weed killing, liquid.
4. Dinitrobenzol, liquid.
5. Drugs, chemicals, medicines or cosmetics, n.o.s. (liquid).
6. Insecticide, liquids.
7. Nicotine hydrochloride, etc.
8. Nitrobenzol, liquid (oil of mirbane), etc.
9. Poisonous liquids n.o.s.
10. Sodium arsenite (solution) liquid.

i. In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 if permitted, make the following changes:
(1) Under "Steel barrels or drums", change "(ICC–6J) etc." to read:

(ICC–6J, 5B) WIC (ICC–2S polyethylene) not over 55 gal. cap.

(2) Under "Aluminum drums", change "(ICC–42B, etc.)" to read:

(ICC–42B, 42C, 42D, 42E, 42G) not over 55 gal. cap.

(3) After "Wooden Boxes (ICC–15A, etc.)", insert:

Wooden boxes (ICC–16A) WIC polyethylene 2U, not over 200 lb. gr. wt.

(4) After "Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12A, 12B) etc." insert:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12B) WIC polyethylene 2U not over 5 gal. cap. each, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

(5) Insert:

Fiberboard box (ICC–12B) WIC polyethylene 2U not over 5 gal. cap. each, not over 65 lb. gr. wt.

(6) Insert:

Mailing tube (ICC–29) WIC polyethylene, not over 2 qt. cap. each.

(7) Insert:

Fiber drums (ICC–21B) WIC, not over 200 lb. net wt.

h. Amend "Cyanides or cyanide mixtures, dry" as follows:
In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 under "Outside containers," change "Fiberboard boxes (ICC–12B, 12C) etc." to read:

Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Hazardous Articles

1. Section 146.27–25 is amended by changing subparagraph (d)(2) to read as follows:

§ 146.27–25 Requirements and conditions for loading, stowing and transporting baled cotton.

• • • • • •

(d) • • •

(2) Inflammable liquids, inflammable compressed gases, inflammable solids or oxidizing materials. These substances shall not be stowed in the same hold with cotton, nor in the hold above or a hold below one containing cotton. When possible these substances should not be stowed in a hold adjacent to a hold containing cotton. When it is impossible to provide such separation, these substances may be stowed in holds adjacent to one containing cotton: Provided, That the holds are separated by a tight steel bulkhead: And provided further, That the inflammable liquids, inflammable compressed gases, inflammable solids or oxidizing materials are packed in metal containers.

§ 146.27–100 [Amendment]

2. Section 146.27–100 Table K—Classification: Hazardous articles is amended as follows:

a. Amend "Cotton batting, etc." as follows: In columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 change the note to read as follows:

Shall not be accepted for transportation unless securely baled, bagged or in tight containers. Reject wet or oil-stained bales or bags. Bales and bags shall be afforded the requirements and conditions for loading, stowing, and transporting as detailed in § 146.27–25 for baled cotton.

b. Amend "Cotton waste, etc." as follows: In columns 4 and 5 amend the note and in columns 6 and 7 add a note to read as follows:

Shall not be accepted for transportation unless securely baled or bagged. Reject wet or oil-stained bales or bags. Bales and bags shall be afforded the requirements and conditions for loading, stowing, and transporting as detailed in § 146.27–25 for baled cotton.

Title 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

Chapter I—Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior

APPENDIX—PUBLIC LAND ORDERS

[Public Land Order 2112]

[54152]

SOUTH DAKOTA

Reserving Lands for Wildlife Conservation Revoking Certain Military Withdrawals in Part (Fort Meade Military Reservation)

By virtue of the authority vested in the President, and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, and in furtherance of the purposes and objectives of the Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act of March 10, 1934 (48 Stat. 401; 16 U.S.C. 661–666c) as amended, it is ordered as follows:

1. Subject to valid existing rights, the following-described public lands are hereby withdrawn from all forms of appropriation under the public-land laws, including the mining but not the mineral leasing laws nor disposals of materials under the act of July 31, 1947 (61 Stat. 681; 43 U.S.C. 601) as amended, and reserved under jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Interior for conservation of natural resources, including recreational and wildlife resources, and the protection and improvement of wildlife habitat thereon:

BLACK HILLS MERIDIAN

T. 5 N., R. 5 E.,
Sec. 10, lots 5, 6 and 9;
Sec. 11, lots 2 and 3, SW¼;
Sec. 13, lots 9 and 10, S½NW¼, and SW¼;
Sec. 14, lot 1, W½NE¼, SE¼NE¼, NW¼, and S½;
Sec. 15, lots 5, 8, 9, 10;
Sec. 22, lots 5, 6, 7, and 8;
Sec. 23, all;
Sec. 24, W½;
Sec. 25, lots 5, 6, and N½NW¼;
Sec. 26, lots 5, 6, 7 and 8, N½N½.
T. 6 N., R. 5 E.,
Sec. 25, lots 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, SW¼.

The described lands aggregate 3,340.16 acres.

2. The surface and mineral resources of the lands other than wildlife resources, shall be administered by the Bureau of Land Management under applicable law and regulations. Issuance of oil and gas leases shall be governed by the regulations in 43 CFR 192.9.

3. The lands may be made available for use by the State of South Dakota by cooperative agreement between the State, the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, and the Bureau of Land Management in furtherance of the purposes and objectives of section 9 of the Act of June 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 1273; 43 U.S.C. 315h) as amended; the Act of September 2, 1937 (50 Stat. 917; 16 U.S.C. 669–669l) or the Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act of March 10, 1934 (48 Stat. 401; 16 U.S.C. 661–666c) as amended. Such use by the State, however, shall be subordinate to the primary jurisdiction of the United States in the lands and shall be subject to modification or termination by the Secretary of the Interior whenever he shall deem such action to be in the public interest, after due notice and an opportunity to be heard.

4. Costs for the suppresion of fires occurring on lands administered by the Bureau of Land Management will be reimbursed to the agency taking fire suppression action on such lands.

5. The Executive order of December 17, 1878, as modified by the Executive order of May 27, 1885, reserving lands at the Fort Meade Military Reservation, is hereby revoked so far as it affects the lands described in paragraph 1 of this order and the following-described lands.

BLACK HILLS MERIDIAN

T. 5 N., R. 5 E.,
Sec. 27, lots 8 and 9.

6. The areas described in paragraph 5 of this order, containing 90 acres, were added to the Black Hills National Forest by the Proclamation of February 15, 1909. At 10:00 a.m. on July 12, 1960, they shall be open to such forms of appropriation as may by law be made of national forest lands.

7. There is excepted from the reservation made by this order, an area of approximately 105.9 acres in lots 7 and 8 and the N½NE¼ of section 26, T. 5 N., R. 5 E., which was reserved by Public Land Order No. 461 of April 1, 1948, for use of the Department of the Army as a national cemetery.

ROGER ERNST,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

[New Mexico 039886]

NEW MEXICO

Revoking Executive Order No. 8923 of October 24, 1941, as Amended

By virtue of the authority vested in the President and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, it is ordered as follows:

1. The Executive Order No. 8923 of October 24, 1941, as amended by Executive Order No. 9526 of February 28, 1945, and as further amended by Public Land Order No. 675 of October 3, 1950, which withdrew the following-described lands for use of the War Department as a National Guard rifle range, is hereby revoked:

NEW MEXICO PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN

T. 10 N., R. 2 E.,
Sec. 6, that part exclusive of the Atrisco Grant.
T. 11 N., R. 2 E.,
Secs. 28 and 33.

The areas described aggregate 1,527.60 acres.

2. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public land laws and the regulations in 43 CFR will be received at once by the Manager named below. Priorities in the consideration of such applications will be recognized as follows:

a. Until 10:00 a.m. on December 5, 1960, the State of New Mexico shall have a preferred right of application to select the lands in accordance with and subject to the provisions of subsection (c) of section 2 of the Act of August 27, 1958 (72 Stat. 928; 43 U.S.C. 851, 852), and the regulations in 43 CFR.

b. All valid applications under the nonmineral public land laws other than those coming under subparagraph (a) above, presented prior to 10:00 a.m. on December 5, 1960, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Any rights under such applications filed thereafter will be governed by the time of filing.

c. All applications under subparagraphs (a) and (b) above, shall be subject to those from persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing law, and equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation.

3. Persons claiming preferential consideration must submit evidence of their entitlement.

4. The lands will be open to applications and offers under the mineral leasing laws, and to locations under the United States mining laws beginning at 10:00 a.m. on December 5, 1960. Locations made prior thereto shall be invalid.

Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

ROGER ERNST,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior,

[Colorado 015325]

COLORADO

Opening Lands Under Section 24 of the Federal Power Act (Power Site. Reserve No. 244)

1. In DA-413-Colorado, issued February 17, 1959, the Federal Power Commission determined that the value of the following-described lands will not be injured or destroyed for purposes of power development by location, entry or selection under the public land laws, subject to the provisions of section 24 of the Federal Power Act of June 10, 1920 (41 Stat. 1075; 16 U.S.C. 818), as amended:

SIXTH PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN

T. 3 S., R. 85 W.,
Sec. 7, E½SW¼.
Containing 80 acres.

2. The lands are located along the Colorado River approximately 14 miles upstream from Dotsero, Colorado. The topography is very rough, with shallow rocky soil supporting scrub pinion and juniper trees, with a small amount of shrubs and grasses.

3. Until 10:00 a.m. on December 5, 1960, the State of Colorado shall have a preferred right of application to select the lands, in accordance with and subject to the limitations and requirements of subsection (c) of section 2 of the Act of August 27, 1958 (72 Stat. 928; 43 U.S.C. 851, 852). During this period the State may also apply under any statute or regulation applicable thereto, for the reservation to the State or to any of its political subdivisions of any of the lands required as a right-of-way, or as a source of materials for the construction and maintenance of such highways, pursuant to the provisions of section 24 of the Federal Power Act, supra.

4. Beginning at 10:00 a.m. on December 5, 1960, the lands shall be open to application, petition, location, and selection by the public generally, subject to valid existing rights, to equitable claims and the requirements of applicable law.

5. The lands have been open to applications and offers under the mineral leasing laws, and to location under the United States mining laws pursuant to the Act of August 11, 1955 (69 Stat 682; 30 U.S.C. 621).

6. The lands are occupied in whole or in part by claimants under the public land laws who have built valuable improvements on the lands and who claim an equitable interest therein.

Inquiries concerning the lands should be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Denver, Colorado.

ROGER ERNST,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

Proposed Rule Making

FEDERAL AVIATION AGENCY

[14 CFR Part 602]

[Airspace Docket No. 60-WA-74]

CODED JET ROUTES

Establishment

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to Part 602 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration the establishment of VOR/VORTAC jet route No. 92 between Oakland, Calif., and Tuscon, Ariz. This route would be established from the Oakland VOR via the Stockton, Calif., VOR; intersection of the Stockton VOR 085°, the Tonopah, Nev., VOR 268° and the Beatty, Nev., VOR 326° True radials; Beatty VOR; intersection of the Beatty VOR 142° and the Las Vegas, Nev., VOR 266° True radials; Las Vegas VOR; Prescott, Ariz., VOR; Phoenix, Ariz., VOR; to the Tuscon VOR. The establishment of this jet route would provide a route for jet aircraft service between the San Francisco-Oakland terminal area and Tuscon which will begin in the near future.

If this action is taken, VOR/VORTAC jet route No. 92 would be established from Oakland, Calif., to Tuscon, Ariz., via the Stockton, Calif., VOR; intersection of the Stockton VOR 085°, the Tonopah, Nev., VOR 268° and the Beatty, Nev., VOR 326° True radials; Beatty VOR; intersection of the Beatty VOR 142° and the Las Vegas, Nev., VOR 266° True radials; Las Vegas VOR; Prescott, Ariz., VOR; Phoenix, Ariz., VOR; to the Tuscon, Ariz., VOR.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. All communications received within thirty days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 6, 1960.

CODED JET ROUTES

Establishment

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to Part 602 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration the establishment of VOR/VORTAC jet route No. 104 from the Tuscon, Ariz., VOR to the Grants, N. Mex., VOR. The establishment of this jet route would provide a portion of a route, to be used in conjunction with existing jet routes, for jet aircraft service between Tuscon and Chicago, Ill., which will begin in the near future.

If this action is taken, VOR/VORTAC jet route No. 104 would be established from Tuscon, Ariz., to Grants, N. Mex.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. All communications received within thirty days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 6, 1960.

RESTRICTED AREAS

Revocation

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to § 608.57 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

The Federal Aviation Agency is currently reviewing the utilization of all existing restricted areas. This review is based upon all data available to the Federal Aviation Agency, including any received in response to Special Airspace Regulation No. 1 (24 F.R. 5898). According to the data available, it appears that the following restricted area does not have sufficient justification to warrant continued designation, and revocation thereof would be in the public interest:

Sheboygan, Wis., Restricted Area (R-83-A). This is an area of approximately 636 square miles over the central part of Lake Michigan, northwest of Muskegon, Mich. It is controlled by the Commanding officer, Naval Air Station, Glenview, Ill. It was designated for air-to-air gunnery, air-to-surface gunnery, rocket firing, tactics, antiaircraft firing, bombing and strafing for use at altitudes to 65,000 feet MSL and daily 0730 to 1700.

If this action is taken, Sheboygan, Wis., Restricted Area (R-83-A), would be revoked.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, 4825 Troost Avenue, Kansas City 10, Mo. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 6, 1960.

Acting Director, Bureau of Air Traffic Management.

CONSIDERATION OF ANTENNA STRUCTURES WITH RESPECT TO POSSIBLE HAZARD TO AIR NAVIGATION

Order Extending Time for Filing Comments

In the matter of amendment of § 17.4 (a), (b), (c) and (d), Part 17—Construction, Marking and Lighting of Antenna Structures.

1. The Commission has before it for consideration a telegraphic request of the Association of Federal Communications Consulting Engineers to extend the time for comments in the above-entitled proceeding to June 17, 1960.

2. In support of its request, the Association states that the Chairman of the Committee of the Association has been concerned with a protest hearing in Tucson and because of the priority of this hearing the Association requests a ten day extension.

3. In addition, other factors have come to the attention of the Commission which leads to the conclusion that an extension of time in which to file comments would not militate against orderly administration.

4. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That the date for filing comments in the above-entitled matter is extended to June 22, 1960, and the date for filing replies to such comments is extended to July 5, 1960.

Adopted: June 7, 1960.

Released: June 8, 1960.

INSTALLATION, INSPECTION, MAINTENANCE, AND REPAIR OF SYSTEMS, DEVICES, AND APPLIANCES

Locking, Hand-Operated Switch

Rules, standards and instructions for installation, inspection, maintenance, and repair of automatic block signal systems, interlocking, traffic control systems, automatic train stop, train control, and cab signal systems, and other similar appliances, methods and systems.

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, division 3, held at its office in Washington, D.C. on the 2d day of June A.D. 1960.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the provisions of section 4(a) of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237, 5 U.S.C. 1003) that the Commission has under consideration revision of § 136.410 of the above rules, Standards and Instructions prescribed by the order of June 29, 1950, as amended, by revising said section to read as follows:

§ 136.410 Locking, hand-operated switch.

(a) Each hand-operated switch in main track shall be locked either electrically or mechanically in normal position, except where:

(1) Train speeds over switch do not exceed 20 miles per hour; or

(2) Trains are not permitted to clear the main track at such switch; or

(3) Both switch and traffic-control system were installed prior to October 1, 1950.

(b) Approach or time locking shall be provided and locking may be released either automatically, or by the control operator, but only after the control circuits of signals governing movement in either direction over the switch and which display aspects with indications more favorable than "proceed at restricted speed" have been opened directly or by shunting of track circuit.

Any interested person may on or before July 11, 1960, file with the Commission's Secretary written views, arguments or suggestions to be considered in this connection and may request oral argument thereon. Unless otherwise ordered, after consideration of representations so received and with such changes as may seem warranted because of them, an order will be entered making the revised Rule, Standard and Instruction effective after due notice to all carriers which will be subject thereto.

The proposed revised section is to be issued under authority contained in section 25(c) of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended (54 Stat. 919; 49 U.S.C. 26).

By the Commission, Division 3.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Office of the Secretary

[1960 Department Circular No. 1043]

3¾ PERCENT TREASURY NOTES OF SERIES D-1964

Offering of Notes

JUNE 8, 1960.

I. Offering of notes. 1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, invites subscriptions, at par, from the people of the United States for notes of the United States, designated 3¾ percent Treasury Notes of Series D-1964, in exchange for 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of 1961, dated February 15, 1954, due November 15, 1961. Subscriptions to the offering under this circular are invited up to an amount not to exceed $3,500,000,000. If subscriptions exceed this amount by more than 10 percent, they will be subject to allotment. The books will be open only on June 8 to June 13, 1960, inclusive, for the receipt of subscriptions for this issue.

2. In addition to the exchange offering under this circular, holders of the eligible bonds are also offered the privilege of exchanging them for 3⅞ percent Treasury Bonds of 1968, which offering is set forth in Department Circular No. 1044, issued simultaneously with this circular.

3. Nonrecognition of gain or loss for Federal Income tax purposes: Pursuant to the provisions of section 1037(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as added by Public Law 86-346 (approved September 22, 1959), the Secretary of the Treasury hereby declares that no gain or loss shall be recognized for Federal income tax purposes upon the exchange with the United States of the 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of 1961, due November 15, 1961, solely for the 3¾ percent Treasury Notes of Series D-1964. Gain or loss, if any, upon the obligations surrendered in exchange will be taken into account upon the disposition or redemption of the new obligations.

II. Description of notes. 1. The notes will be dated June 23, 1960, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 3¾ percent per annum, payable on a semiannual basis on November 15, 1960, and thereafter on May 15 and November 15 in each year until the principal amount becomes payable. They will mature May 15, 1964, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

2. The income derived from the notes is subject to all taxes imposed under the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. The notes are subject to estate, inheritance, gift or other excise taxes, whether Federal or State, but are exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed on the principal or interest thereof by any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

3. The notes will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys. They will not be acceptable in payment of taxes.

4. Bearer notes with interest coupons attached, and notes registered as to principal and interest, will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000, $1,000,000, $100,000,000 and $500,000,000. Provision will be made for the interchange of notes of different denominations and of coupon and registered notes, and for the transfer of registered notes, under rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

5. The notes will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States notes.

III. Subscription and allotment. 1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Office of the Treasurer of the United States, Washington. Only the Federal Reserve Banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers. Subscriptions from banking institutions for their own account, Federally insured savings and loan associations, States, political subdivisions or instrumentalities thereof, public pension and retirement and other public funds, international organizations in which the United States holds membership, foreign central banks and foreign States, Government Investment Accounts, and the Federal Reserve System will be received without deposit. Subscriptions from all others must be accompanied by the deposit of 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of 1961, due November 15, 1961, in the amount of not less than 10 percent of the amount of notes applied for, not subject to withdrawal until after allotment. Registered bonds submitted as deposits should not be assigned. After allotment detached assignment forms may be used as provided in Section V hereof.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject or reduce any subscription, to allot less than the amount of notes applied for, and to make different percentage allotments to various classes of subscribers; and any action he may take in these respects shall be final. The basis of the allotment will be publicly announced, and allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV. Payment. 1. Payment at par for notes allotted hereunder must be made on or before June 23, 1960, or on later allotment, and may be made only in 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of 1961, due November 15, 1961, which will be accepted at par. Coupons dated November 15, 1960, and all subsequent coupons, must be attached to the bonds in coupon form when surrendered and accrued interest from May 15, 1960, to June 23, 1960 ($2.64946 per $1,000) will be paid subscribers, in the case of bearer bonds following their acceptance, and in the case of registered bonds following discharge of registration. In the case of registered bonds, the accrued interest will be paid by check drawn in accordance with the assignments on the bonds surrendered, or by credit in any account maintained by a banking institution with the Federal Reserve Bank of its District.

V. Assignment of registered bonds. 1. After allotment 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of 1961 in registered form tendered in payment for notes offered hereunder should be assigned by the registered payees or assignees thereof, in accordance with the general regulations of the Treasury Department governing assignments for transfer or exchange, in one of the forms hereafter set forth, and thereafter should be presented and surrendered to a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or to the Office of the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D.C. If the new notes are desired registered in the same name as the bonds surrendered in exchange, the assignment should be to "The Secretary of the Treasury for exchange for 3¾ percent Treasury Notes of Series D-1964." If the new notes are desired registered in another name, the assignment should be to "The Secretary of the Treasury for exchange for 3¾ percent Treasury Notes of Series D-1964, in the name of _____." If new notes in bearer form are desired, the assignment should be to "The Secretary of the Treasury for exchange for 3¾ percent Treasury Notes of Series D-1964 in coupon form to be delivered to _____." Detached assignment forms may be used for the convenience of subscribers.

VI. General provisions. 1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve Banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve Banks of the respective Districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for notes allotted, to make delivery of notes on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive notes.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve Banks.

[SEAL] ROBERT B. ANDERSON,
Secretary of the Treasury.

3⅞ PERCENT TREASURY BONDS OF 1968

Offering of Bonds

JUNE 8, 1960.

I. Offering of bonds. 1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, invites subscriptions, at par, from the people of the United States for bonds of the United States, designated 3⅞ percent Treasury Bonds of 1968, in exchange for 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of 1961, dated February 15, 1954, due November 15, 1961. Subscriptions to the offering under this circular are invited up to an amount not to exceed $1,500,000,000. If subscriptions exceed this amount by more than 10 percent, they will be subject to allotment. The books will be open only on June 8 to June 13, 1960, inclusive, for the receipt of subscriptions for this issue.

2. In addition to the offering under this circular, holders of the eligible bonds are offered the privilege of exchanging them for 3⅝ percent Treasury Notes of Series D–1964, which offering is set forth in Department Circular No. 1043, issued simultaneously with this circular.

3. Nonrecognition of gain or loss for Federal income tax purposes: Pursuant to the provisions of section 1037(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as added by Public Law 86–346 (approved September 22, 1959), the Secretary of the Treasury hereby declares that no gain or loss shall be recognized for Federal income tax purposes upon the exchange with the United States of the 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of 1961, due November 15, 1961, solely for the 3⅞ percent Treasury Bonds of 1968. Notice is hereby given that pursuant to section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 1060, as amended, 29 U.S.C. 201 et seq.), the regulations on employment of learners (29 CFR Part 522), and Administrative Order No. 524 (24 F.R. 9274) the firms listed in this notice have been issued special certificates authorizing the employment of learners at hourly wage rates lower than the minimum wage rates otherwise applicable under section 6 of the Act. The effective and expiration dates, occupations, wage rates, number or proportion of learners, learning periods, and the principal product manufactured by the employer for certificates issued under general learner regulations (§§ 522.1 to 522.11) are as indicated below. Conditions provided in certificates issued under special industry regulations are as established in these regulations.

Apparel Industry Learner Regulations (29 CFR 522.1 to 522.11, as amended, and 29 CFR 522.30 to 522.24, as amended).

The following learner certificates were issued authorizing the employment of 10 percent of the total number of factory production workers for normal labor turnover purposes. The effective and expiration dates are indicated.

Altamont Shirt Corp., Altamont, Tenn.; effective 5–19–60 to 5–18–61 (men's and boys' dress shirts).

Carwood Manufacturing Co., No. 3, 107 Chattahooche Street, Cornelia, Ga.; effective 5–17–60 to 5–16–61 (work, sport and western shirts).

Carwood Manufacturing Co., No. 2, 119 Ivie Street, Cornelia, Ga.; effective 5–17–60 to 5–16–61 (men's cotton work pants).

Freeland Sportswear Co., Inc., 246–250 Centre Street, Freeland, Pa.; effective 5–18–60 to 5–17–61 (men's outerwear).

La Crosse Sportswear Corp., La Crosse, Va.; effective 5–18–60 to 5–17–61 (knitted sport shirts).

Lyons Manufacturing Co., Lyons, Ga.; effective 5–18–60 to 5–17–61 (men's and ladies' shirts).

Monticello Manufacturing Co., Inc., Monticello, Ky.; effective 5–20–60 to 5–19–61 (ladies' blouses, men's sport shirts).

The following learner certificates were issued for normal labor turnover purposes. The effective and expiration dates and the number of learners authorized are indicated.

Gross Galesburg Co., Clinton, Ind.; effective 5–18–60 to 5–17–61; 10 learners (boys' cotton pants, jackets, dungarees).

Trent-Green Corp., Ruckersville, Va.; effective 5–20–60 to 5–19–61; 10 learners (men's sport shirts).

The following learner certificates were issued for plant expansion purposes. The effective and expiration dates and the number of learners authorized are indicated.

Altamont Shirt Corp., Altamont, Tenn.; effective 5–19–60 to 11–18–60; 75 learners (men's and boys' dress shirts).

Ringer Staples Co., Staples, Minn.; effective 5–19–60 to 11–18–60; 20 learners (supplemental certificate) (sportswear and other outerwear).

Trent-Green Corp., Ruckersville, Va.; effective 5–20–60 to 11–19–60; 20 learners (men's sport shirts).

Glove Industry Learner Regulations (29 CFR 522.1 to 522.11, as amended, and 29 CFR 522.60 to 522.66, as amended).

Fairfield Glove Co., Bonaparte, Iowa; effective 5–18–60 to 5–17–61; 10 learners for normal labor turnover purposes (gloves and mittens).

Wainwright Corp., New London, Iowa; effective 5–20–60 to 5–19–61; five learners for normal labor turnover purposes (leather work gloves).

Hosiery Industry Learner Regulations (29 CFR 522.1 to 522.11, as amended, and 29 CFR 522.40 to 522.44, as amended).

The Batesville Co., Batesville, Miss.; effective 5–23–60 to 11–20–60; 20 learners for plant expansion purposes (seamless).

Green Cove Springs Hosiery Co., Green Cove Springs, Fla.; effective 5–17–60 to 5–16–61; 5 percent of the total number of factory production workers for normal labor turnover purposes (full-fashioned).

Grey Hosiery Mills, Inc., 305 Fourth Avenue East, Hendersonville, N.C.; effective 5–18–60 to 5–17–61; five learners for normal labor turnover purposes (full-fashioned, seamless).

Grey Hosiery Mills, Inc., 305 Fourth Avenue East, Hendersonville, N.C.; effective 5–18–60 to 11–17–60; 10 learners for plant expansion purposes (full-fashioned, seamless).

Knitted Wear Industry Learner Regulations (29 CFR 522.1 to 522.11, as amended, and 29 CFR 522.30 to 522.35, as amended).

Warrenton Manufacturing Co., Elsberry, Mo.; effective 5–18–60 to 5–17–61; five learners for normal labor turnover purposes (women's slips, half-slips).

Each learner certificate has been issued upon the representations of the employer which, among other things, were that employment of learners at subminimum rates is necessary in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment, and that experienced workers for the learner occupations are not available. The certificates may be annulled or withdrawn, as indicated therein, in the manner provided in Part 528 of Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Any person aggrieved by the issuance of any of these certificates may seek a review or reconsideration thereof within fifteen days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER pursuant to the provisions of 29 CFR 522.9.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 26th day of May 1960.

ROBERT G. GRONEWALD,
Authorized Representative of the Administrator.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Commodity Credit Corporation

SALES OF CERTAIN COMMODITIES

June 1960 Monthly Sales List

Notice to buyers. Pursuant to the policy of Commodity Credit Corporation issued October 12, 1954 (19 F.R. 6669) and subject to the conditions stated therein, as well as herein, the commodities listed below are available for sale on the price basis set forth.

Principal changes in the list for June are the addition of broken rice and small red beans. Pea beans have been dropped from the list in accordance with the April 12 announcement (press release USDA 1048-60) that any pea beans not sold by June 1 would be donated through domestic outlets.

The CCC Monthly Sales List, which varies from month to month as additional commodities become available or commodities formerly available are dropped, is designed to aid in moving CCC's inventories into domestic or export use through regular commercial channels.

If it becomes necessary during the month to amend this list in any material way—such as by the removal or addition of a commodity in which there is general interest or by a significant change in price or method of sale—an announcement of the change will be sent to all persons currently receiving the list by mail from Washington. To be put on this mailing list, address: Director, Price Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C.

All commodities (except oats) currently offered for sale by CCC, plus tobacco from CCC loan stocks are eligible for export sale under the CCC Export Credit Sales Program. The following commodities are currently eligible for barter: Nonfat dry milk, cotton, tobacco, rice (milled), wheat, corn, barley, rye, and grain sorghums. This list is subject to change from time to time.

Interest rates per annum under the CCC Export Credit Sales Program for June 1960 are 4¾ percent for periods up to six months, 4⅞ percent for periods from over six and up to 18 months, and 5¾ percent for periods from over 18 months up to a maximum of 36 months.

The CCC will entertain offers from responsible buyers for the purchase of any commodity on the current list. Offers accepted by CCC will be subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by the Corporation. These terms include payment by cash or irrevocable letter of credit before delivery of the commodity, and the conditions require removal of the commodity from CCC storage within a reasonable period of time. Where conditions of sale for export differ from those for domestic sale, proof of exportation is also required, and the buyer is responsible for obtaining any required U.S. Government export permit or license. Purchases from CCC shall not constitute any assurance that any such permit or license will be granted by the issuing authority.

Announcements containing all terms and conditions of sale will be furnished upon request. For easy reference a number of these announcements are identified by code number in the following list. Interested persons are invited to communicate with the Commodity Stabilization Service, USDA, Washington 25, D.C., with respect to all commodities or—for specified commodities—with the designated CSS Commodity Office.

Commodity Credit Corporation reserves the right to amend, from time to time, any of its announcements. Such amendments shall be applicable to and be made a part of the sale contracts thereafter entered into.

CCC reserves the right to reject any or all offers placed with it for the purchase of commodities pursuant to such announcements.

If CCC does not have adequate information as to the financial responsibility of a prospective buyer to meet all contract obligations that might arise by acceptance of an offer or if CCC deems such buyer's financial responsibility to be inadequate CCC reserves the right (i) to refuse to consider the offer, (ii) to accept the offer only after submission by the buyer of a certified or cashier's check, bond, letter of credit or other security acceptable to CCC assuring that the buyer will discharge the responsibility under the contract, or (iii) to accept the offer upon condition that the buyer promptly submit to CCC such of the aforementioned security as CCC may direct. If a prospective buyer is in doubt as to whether CCC is acquainted with his financial responsibility he should communicate with the CSS office at which the offer is to be placed to determine whether a financial statement or advance financial arrangement will be necessary in his case.

Disposals and other handling of inventory items often result in small quantities at given locations or in qualities not up to specifications. These lots are offered promptly upon appearance by public notice issued by the appropriate CSS office and therefore generally they do not appear in the Monthly Sales List.

On sales for which the buyer is required to submit proof to CCC of exportation the buyer shall be regularly engaged in the business of buying or selling commodities and for this purpose shall maintain a bona fide business office in the United States, its territories or possessions, and have a person, principal, or resident agent upon whom service of judicial process may be had.

Prospective buyers for export should note that generally, sales to United States Government agencies, with only minor exceptions, will constitute a domestic unrestricted use of the commodity.

Commodity Credit Corporation reserves the right, before making any sale, to define or limit export areas.

Commodity	Sales price or method of sale
Dairy products	Sales are in cariots only in store at storage location of products. Submission of offers: For products in Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Washington, submit offers to the Portland CSS Commodity Office. For products in other States and the District of Columbia, submit offers to the Cincinnati CSS Commodity Office.
Nonfat dry milk (bags and drums as available).	Domestic, unrestricted use; announced prices, under LD-29 as amended: Spray process, U.S. extra grade, 15.00 cents per pound. Roller process, U.S. extra grade, 13.00 cents per pound.
	Export: Competitive bid under LD-33 pursuant to invitations to bid to be issued by Cincinnati and Portland CSS Commodity Offices (may be applied to arrangements for barter or approved credit sales).
Cotton, upland	Domestic or export, unrestricted use: Competitive bid and under the terms and conditions of Announcement NO-C-12 (sale of 1958 and prior crop cotton for unrestricted use), and Announcement NO-C-13 (sale of 1959-crop Choice (A) cotton for unrestricted use). Under NO-C-12 and NO-C-13, cotton in CCC's catalogs to be sold at highest price offered but in no event at less than the higher of (1) the market price as determined by CCC or (2) 110 percent of the applicable Choice (B) support price plus carrying charges.
Cotton, extra long staple	Domestic or export, unrestricted use: Competitive bid and under the terms and conditions of Announcements NO-C-6 as amended and NO-C-10 as amended, but not less than the higher of (1) 105 percent of the current support price plus reasonable carrying charges, or (2) the domestic market price as determined by CCC.
Catalogs	Catalogs for upland cotton and extra long staple cotton showing quantities, qualities, and locations may be obtained for a nominal fee from the New Orleans CSS Commodity Office.

ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION

[Docket No. 50-94]

GENERAL ELECTRIC CO.

Issuance of Amendment to Utilization Facility License

Please take notice that the Atomic Energy Commission has issued Amendment No. 2 to Facility License No. CX-4, set forth below. The amendment revises and broadens the authorization under the present license No. CX-4 and amendment thereto issued to General Electric Company, covering the operation of the licensee's critical experiment facility located at its Vallecitos Atomic Laboratory, California.

The Commission has found that issuance of the amendment to License No. CX-4 will not result in undue hazard to the health and safety of the public and will not be inimical to the common defense and security.

The Commission has found that prior public notice of proposed issuance of this amendment is not necessary in the public interest since operation of the critical experiment facility as proposed does not present any substantial changes in the hazards to the health and safety of the public from those presented by the previously authorized operation of the facility.

In accordance with the Commission's rules of practice (10 CFR Part 2) the Commission will direct the holding of a formal hearing on the matter of the issuance of the amendment upon receipt of a request therefore from the licensee or an intervener within thirty days after issuance of the license amendment. Petitions for leave to intervene shall be filed by mailing a copy to the Office of the Secretary, Atomic Energy Commission, Washington 25, D.C., or by delivery of a copy in person to the Office of the Secretary, Germantown, Maryland, or the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, Washington, D.C. For further details, see (1) the applications for license amendment submitted by General Electric Company and (2) a hazards analysis of the proposed operation of the critical experiments facility prepared by the Hazards Evaluation Branch of the Division of Licensing and Regulation, both on file at the Commission's Public Document Room. A copy of item (2) above may be obtained at the Commission's Public Document Room or upon request addressed to the Atomic Energy Commission, Washington 25, D.C., Attention: Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

Dated at Germantown, Md., this 3d day of June 1960.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

R. L. KIRK,
Deputy Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

[License No. CX-4; Amdt. 2]

Effective as of the date of issuance specified below, License No. CX-4 is amended to read as follows:

1. This license applies to the reactor designated by General Electric Company as the Critical Experiment Facility (hereinafter referred to as "the reactor") which is owned by the Company and located at its Vallecitos Atomic Laboratory in Alameda County, California, and described in applications for license amendment No. 10 dated December 30, 1959, and No. 11 dated March 2, 1960, (hereinafter together referred to as "the application").

2. Pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, (hereinafter referred to as "the Act") the Atomic Energy Commission (hereinafter referred to as "the Commission") finds that:

A. The reactor authorized for construction by Construction Permit No. CPCX-4, issued to General Electric Company, has been constructed and will operate in conformity with the application and in conformity with the Act and the rules and regulations of the Commission;

B. There is reasonable assurance that the reactor can be operated without endangering the health and safety of the public;

C. General Electric Company is technically and financially qualified to operate the reactor, to assume financial responsibility for payment of Commission charges for special nuclear material for a reasonable period of time, and to engage in the proposed activities in accordance with the Commission's regulations;

D. The possession and operation of the reactor and the receipt, possession and use of the special nuclear material in the manner proposed in the application will not be inimical to the common defense and security or to the health and safety of the public; and

E. General Electric Company has submitted proof of financial protection which satisfies the requirements of Commission regulations currently in effect.

3. Subject to the conditions and requirements incorporated herein, the Commission hereby licenses General Electric Company:

A. Pursuant to section 104c of the Act and Title 10, CFR, Chapter I, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities", to operate the reactor in accordance with the procedures and limitations described in the application;

B. Pursuant to the Act and Title 10, CFR, Chapter I, Part 70, "Special Nuclear Material," to use up to 800 kilograms of Uranium-235 contained in uranium of various enrichments in connection with operation of the reactor; and

C. Pursuant to the Act and Title 10, CFR, Chapter I, Part 30, "Licensing of Byproduct Material," to possess but not to separate such byproduct material as may be produced by operation of the reactor.

4. This license shall be deemed to contain and be subject to the conditions specified in § 40.54 of Part 50 and § 70.32 of Part 70 and is subject to all applicable provisions of the Act and rules, regulations and orders of the Commission now or hereafter in effect and the additional conditions specified below:

A. As used in this license, "Summary Safeguards Report" shall be deemed to mean "GEAP 3306, Summary Safeguards Report for the Critical Experiment Facility Vallecitos Atomic Laboratory, Pleasanton, California", dated December, 1959, as amended by application for license amendment No. 11.

B. Unless otherwise authorized by the Commission in writing, General Electric Company shall not operate the reactor:

(1) At power levels in excess of 200 watts (thermal); or

(2) With any core for which the calculated Doppler coefficient is less than -1.28×10^{-4}/°C.; or

(3) When a graphite central test region is used, with more than 20 percent of the total fuel loading located in the graphite test region; or

(4) With other than uranium oxide or thorium oxide fuels.

C. Unless otherwise authorized by the Commission in writing, General Electric Company shall:

(1) Observe all limits and requirements specified in paragraph 4.B. of this license.

(2) Observe all limits and requirements and all maximum and minimum values specified in sections 1.3 "General Description of Reactor" and 1.4 "Operations" of the Summary Safeguards Report.

(3) Make no change in the basic design concept or use of the reactor.

(4) Make no change with respect to any design value, limit or procedure, and conduct no experiments as to which the application states will not be made or conducted without the prior approval of the Commission.

D. General Electric Company may make other changes in the reactor design, core design or in the limits or procedures specified in the application, and may conduct tests or experiments, in the reactor only in accordance with the following procedures:

(1) Prior to making any such changes or conducting any such test or experiment the Manager-Experimental Reactor Physics shall evaluate the hazards involved in the proposed change, test, or experiment and the effect of such change, test or experiment on each of the accidents analyzed in section 5 of the Summary Safeguards Report.

(2) a. If the Manager-Experimental Reactor Physics determines that the proposed change, test, or experiment involves hazards less than, and not different from, those analyzed in section 5 of the Summary Safeguards Report, or does not involve nuclear safety considerations, no further approval shall be required.

b. If the Manager-Experimental Reactor Physics does not make the determination described in subparagraph a. above, the General Electric Company Laboratory Safeguards Group shall evaluate the effect of the proposed change, test, or experiment on each of the accidents analyzed in section 5 of the Summary Safeguards Report. If the Laboratory Safeguards Group determines that the hazards involved in the proposed change, test, or experiment are not greater than, and not different from, those analyzed in section 5 of the Summary Safeguards Report, no further approval shall be required for the proposed change, test, or experiment.

c. If the Laboratory Safeguards Group determines that the hazards involved are or may be different from, or greater than, those analyzed in section 5 of the Summary Safeguards Report, General Electric Company shall provide the Commission with a report describing the proposed change, test, or experiment and including a hazards evaluation of such proposed change, test, or experiment.

d. If, within 15 days after receiving such report, the Commission does not issue any notice to the contrary to General Electric Company, the Company may make or conduct such change, test or experiment without further approval.

e. If, within 15 days after receipt by the Commission of such report, the Commission notifies General Electric Company that, in the Commission's opinion, the hazards involved may be greater than or materially different from those analyzed in section 5 of the Summary Safeguards Report, the change, test, or experiment shall not be made or conducted until after such change, test, or experiment has been authorized in writing by the Commission. The report submitted by General Electric Company shall constitute an application for a license amendment.

For purposes of paragraph 4.D., a proposed change, test or experiment shall be deemed to involve "hazards less than, and not different from, those analyzed in section 5" if (1) the probability of the types of accident analyzed in section 5 would be decreased; and (2) the consequences of the types of accidents analyzed in section 5 would be decreased; and (3) such change, test, or experiment would not create a credible probability of an accident of a different type than any analyzed in section 5. A proposed change, test, or experiment shall be deemed to involve hazards "not greater than, and not different from, those analyzed in section 5", if (1) the probability of the types of accidents analyzed in section 5 of the Summary Safeguards Report would not be increased; and (2) the consequences of the types of accidents analyzed in section 5 of the report would not be increased; and (3) such change, test, or experiment would not create a credible probability of an accident of a different type than any analyzed in section 5. A proposed change, test, or experiment shall be deemed to involve hazards "greater than or materially different from those analyzed in section 5" if (1) the probability of a type of accident analyzed in section 5 would be increased; or (2) if the consequences of any type of accident analyzed in section 5 would be increased; or (3) if such change, test, or experiment might create a credible probability of an accident of a materially different type than any analyzed in section 5.

E. In addition to those otherwise required under this license and applicable regulations, General Electric Company shall keep the following records:

(1) Reactor operating records, including power levels;

(2) Records containing a description, procedures, and results for each critical experiment performed;

(3) Records showing radioactivity released or discharged into the air or water beyond the effective control of General Electric Company as measured at the point of such release or discharge;

(4) Records of emergency scrams, including reasons for emergency shutdowns; and

(5) Records containing a description of each change in the limitations and procedures described in sections 2 through 4 of the Summary Safeguards Report, and each test or experiment authorized by the Manager-Experimental Reactor Physics or by the Laboratory Safeguards Group and a summary statement of the bases for the conclusions reached by the Manager or the Group; and containing a description of the evaluation made by the Manager or the Group of the hazards involved in the change, test, or experiment and the effect of such change, test or experiment on each of the accidents analyzed in section 5 of the Summary Safeguards Report.

F. General Electric Company shall immediately report to the Commission in writing any indication or occurrence of a possible unsafe condition relating to the operation of the reactor.

G. General Electric Company shall submit to the Commission an annual report of operating experience pertinent to safety. This report shall describe, among other things, the changes, tests, or experiments authorized by the Manager-Experimental Reactor Physics or the Laboratory Safeguards Group. The first such report shall be filed in June, 1961.

5. This license amendment is effective as of the date of issuance and shall expire at midnight May 14, 1968.

Date of issuance: June 3, 1960.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

R. L. KIRK,
Deputy Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

REGENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Issuance of Construction Permit

Please take notice that no request for a formal hearing having been filed following the filing of the proposed action with the Office of the Federal Register on May 10, 1960, the Atomic Energy Commission has issued Construction Permit No. CPRR-55 authorizing The Regents of the University of Wisconsin to construct a 10 kilowatt (thermal) pool-type nuclear reactor on the University's campus in Madison, Wisconsin. Notice of the proposed action was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 11, 1960, 25 F.R. 4206.

Dated at Germantown, Md., this 7th day of June 1960.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

[Docket No. 50-166]

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Proposed Issuance of Construction Permit

Please take notice that the Atomic Energy Commission proposes to issue a construction permit, substantially as set forth below, authorizing The University of Maryland to construct a 10 kilowatt pool-type nuclear reactor on the University's campus in College Park, Maryland, unless within fifteen days after the filing of this notice with the Office of the Federal Register a request for a formal hearing is filed with the Commission by the applicant or an intervener as provided by the Commission's rules of practice (10 CFR Part 2). Petitions for leave to intervene shall be filed by mailing a copy to the Office of the Secretary, Atomic Energy Commission, Washington 25, D.C., or by delivery of a copy in person to the Office of the Secretary, Germantown, Maryland, or the AEC's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, Washington, D.C. For further details see (1) the application submitted by The University of Maryland and (2) a hazards analysis prepared by the Hazards Evaluation Branch, Division of Licensing and Regulation, both on file at the AEC's Public Document Room. A copy of item (2) above may be obtained at the AEC's Public Document Room or upon request addressed to the Atomic Energy Commission, Washington 25, D.C., Attention: Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

Dated at Germantown, Md., this 3d day of June 1960.

R. L. KIRK,
Deputy Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

1. By application dated April 8, 1960 (hereinafter referred to as "the application"), The University of Maryland requested a Class 104 license, defined in § 50.21 of Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities", Title 10, Chapter 1, CFR, authorizing construction and operation on the University's campus in College Park, Maryland, of a 10 kilowatt pool-type nuclear reactor (hereinafter referred to as "the reactor").

2. The Atomic Energy Commission (hereinafter referred to as "the Commission") finds that:

A. The reactor will be a utilization facility as defined in the Commission's regulations contained in Title 10, Chapter 1, CFR, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities";

B. The reactor will be used in the conduct of research and development activities of the types specified in section 31 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (hereinafter referred to as "the Act");

C. The University of Maryland is financially qualified to construct and operate the reactor in accordance with the regulations contained in Title 10, Chapter 1, CFR, to assume financial responsibility for the payment of Commission charges for special nuclear material and to undertake and carry out the proposed use of such material for a reasonable period of time;

D. The University of Maryland and its contractor, Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company, are technically qualified to design and construct the reactor;

E. The University of Maryland has submitted sufficient information to provide reasonable assurance that a reactor of the general type proposed can be constructed and operated at the proposed location without undue risk to the health and safety of the public, and that omitted information necessary to complete the application will be supplied; and

F. The issuance of a construction permit to The University of Maryland will not be inimical to the common defense and security or to the health and safety of the public.

3. Pursuant to the Act and Title 10, CFR, Chapter 1, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities", the Commission hereby issues a construction permit to The University of Maryland to construct the reactor in accordance with the application. This permit shall be deemed to contain and be subject to the conditions specified in §§ 50.54 and 50.55 of said regulations; is subject to all applicable provisions of the Act and rules, regulations and orders of the Commission now or hereafter in effect; and is subject to the additional conditions specified below:

A. The earliest completion date for the reactor is June 30, 1960. The latest completion date for the reactor is October 31, 1960. The term "completion date", as used herein, means the date on which construction of the reactor is completed except for the introduction of the fuel material; and

B. The reactor shall be constructed and located on The University of Maryland's campus in College Park, Maryland, as described in the application.

4. This permit is provisional to the extent that a license authorizing operation of the reactor will not be issued by the Commission unless The University of Maryland has submitted to the Commission, by amendment of the application, additional data to complete the hazards analysis of operating the proposed reactor and the Commission has found that the final design provides reasonable assurance that the health and safety of the public will not be endangered by operation of the reactor in accordance with the specified procedures.

5. Upon completion (as defined in paragraph 3.A. above) of the construction of the reactor in accordance with the terms and conditions of this permit, upon the filing of the additional information needed to bring the original application up-to-date, and upon finding that the reactor authorized has been constructed and will operate in conformity with the application, as amended, and in conformity with the provisions of the Act and of the rules and regulations of the Commission, and in the absence of any good cause being shown to the Commission why the granting of a license would not be in accordance with the provisions of the Act, the Commission will issue a Class 104 license to The University of Maryland pursuant to section 104c of the Act, which license shall expire twenty years after the date of this construction permit.

6. Pursuant to Section 50.60 of the regulations in Title 10, Chapter 1, CFR, Part 50, the Commission has allocated to The University of Maryland for use in connection with the operation of the reactor, 4.5 kilograms of uranium-235 contained in fully enriched uranium and 80 grams of plutonium contained in encapsulated plutonium-beryllium sources.

Date of issuance:

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

ASSOCIATED MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRIES, INC.

Notice of Filing of Application for Order Retroactively Exempting Transaction Between Affiliates

JUNE 6, 1960.

Notice is hereby given that Associated Motion Picture Industries, Inc. ("Associated"), a registered closed-end, non-diversified investment company, has filed an application pursuant to section 6(c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "Act") for an order retroactively exempting from the provisions of section 17(a) of the Act the purchase from Associated by Victor M. Carter on July 1, 1959, of shares of the common stock of Republic Pictures Corporation ("Republic") in connection with the transactions mentioned below.

The request of Associated is based upon the following representations and information contained in its application:

On and prior to July 1, 1959, Associated, a corporation organized in 1943 under the laws of Delaware, owned 216,349 shares of Republic common stock with a par value of 50 cents a share, which represented 5 percent or more of the outstanding voting securities of Republic. Carter has been a director of Republic since November 5, 1958.

Pursuant to an agreement dated April 29, 1959, as amended July 1, 1959, Associated and seventeen other corporations and persons agreed to sell all of their Republic common stock holdings, amounting to 549,383 shares to Carter and six other purchasers at a price of $10 per share payable in cash.

The purchase and sale of the common stock was consummated on July 1, 1959. Of the 549,383 shares of Republic common stock which were the subject of this transaction, 216,249 shares were sold by Associated and 249,383 shares were acquired by Carter. Of the 216,249 shares of Republic common stock sold by Associated, 121,349 were transferred to Carter and the balance was transferred to purchasers other than Carter.

Republic is engaged, through its subsidiaries and divisions, in the business of film processing, graphic arts, distributing its library of films to the television industry and theaters, leasing its studio property and in the manufacture and sale of plastic products.

Pursuant to the definition contained in section 2(a)(3) of the Act, Carter is an affiliated person of Republic and Republic, in turn, on and prior to July 1, 1959, was an affiliated person of Associated. Generally speaking, section 17(a) of the Act prohibits an affiliated person (Carter) of an affiliated person (Republic) of a registered investment company (Associated) from purchasing from such registered investment company (Associated) any security of which the seller is not the issuer (stock of Republic), unless the Commission by order upon application pursuant to section 17(b) of the Act grants an exemption from section 17(a) of the Act upon a finding that the terms of the proposed transaction, including the consideration to be paid or received are reasonable and fair and do not involve overreaching on the part of any person concerned; and that the proposed transaction is consistent with the policy of the investment company concerned, and consistent with the general purposes of the Act.

An application pursuant to section 17(b) of the Act for an order exempting a transaction from the provisions of section 17(a) of the Act is limited to only a proposed transaction. Since the transaction referred to above has already been consummated, Associated requests an order pursuant to section 6(c) of the Act retroactively exempting such transaction from the provisions of section 17(a) of the Act.

Section 6(c) of the Act authorizes the Commission by order upon application conditionally or unconditionally to exempt any transaction from any provisions of the Act or of any rule or regulation thereunder, if and to the extent that the Commission finds that such exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

The application states that the book value of Republic's common stock at the end of Republic's fiscal years 1957–1959, inclusive, was equal to $2.226, $2.766 and $2.858 a share, respectively. For the fiscal year 1957, Republic had a deficit in net income of 67 cents a share of common stock before preferred dividend requirements. Net income applicable to Republic's common stock for the fiscal years 1958 and 1959 was equal to 54 cents and 24 cents a share, respectively. The sales price of $10 per share of Republic's common stock is equal to 12.5 times per share earnings for the fiscal year 1958; and 41.66 times per share earnings for the fiscal year 1959. The only cash dividend paid by Republic on its common stock during the period 1957–1959, inclusive, was 15 cents a share paid in 1959.

The application also states that the closing prices of Republic's common stock on the New York Stock Exchange on April 20, 1959, the day following the execution of the instant purchase—sale agreement was 9½; and the closing price of such stock on said exchange on June 30, 1959, the date preceding the closing, was 10¾.

The application further states that the agreement for the sale of Republic's common stock was ratified by Associated's board of directors on May 13, 1959 and that neither Carter nor any of the other purchasers of Republic stocks had any connection with Associated or any of its directors except that Carter was the owner of record of 501 shares of a total of 187,926.4 shares of Associated's outstanding capital stock.

The application also states that until after the consummation of the transaction neither Associated nor any of the other parties or their attorneys was aware of Carter's status as an affiliated person of Republic under the Act or of the possible application of section 17 of the Act to the transaction.

The application further states that the terms of the transaction are reasonable and fair and do not involve overreaching; that the transaction is consistent with the policy of Associated; and that exemption from the provisions of section 17(a) of the Act would be appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 21, 1960 at 5:30 p.m., submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to the nature of his interest, the reason for such request and the issues of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D.C. At any time after said date, as provided by Rule 0–5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application herein may be issued by the Commission upon the basis of the showing contained in said application, unless an order for hearing upon said application shall be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion.

By the Commission.

BANK FIDUCIARY FUND OF MAINE

Notice of Application by Investment Company for Exemption From Certain Sections of the Act

JUNE 3, 1960.

Notice is hereby given that Bank Fiduciary Fund of Maine, a registered open-end diversified investment company, has filed an application pursuant to section 6(c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act"), for exemption from the following sections of the Act: Sections 16(a), 22(d), 22(e), 24(d), 20(a) and Rule 20a–1, of the general rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

The application contains the following representations:

Applicant was organized in October 1959 under the Mutual Trust Investment Company Act of Maine as a mutual trust investment company to serve as a medium for the common investment of trust funds held in a fiduciary capacity by banks and trust companies in Maine whose trust assets are not large enough to permit them to form common trust funds of their own. Applicant is subject to regulation and supervision by the Bank Commissioner of the State of Maine, and its investment powers are limited by statute so that, except for obligations of the United States, it may not invest more than 10 percent of its assets in the securities of any one issuer, it may not purchase more than 10 percent of the outstanding stock of any one issuer, and it may not invest in obligations of individuals or in the notes or bonds of any corporation if the total issue of such notes or bonds is less than $500,000. The selection of investments is also limited by the "prudent man" rule which governs investments by fiduciaries in the State of Maine.

Applicant will not employ underwriters or sales personnel, or undertake any active sales campaign, and its shares may be purchased by eligible banks and trust companies at the initial offering price of $100 per share without any sales load. A charge of 25 cents per share will be made to the participating banks for the purpose of defraying organizational expenses, estimated to amount to about $2,500. When such expenses have been recovered, this charge will be discontinued and subsequent purchases will be made at net asset value as determined on designated valuation dates without any further charges.

Applicant contends that compliance with the provisions of the Act described below would be unduly burdensome and expensive since the statutory limitations on its investment activities and the supervision of the Bank Commissioner of the State of Maine make such compliance unnecessary in the protection of the investing banks.

Section 16(a) prohibits a person from serving as a director of a registered investment company unless elected by the holders of the outstanding voting securities at an annual or special meeting called for that purpose. Applicant has not issued any of its shares and accordingly its present board which was selected at its organizational meeting on October 21, 1959, not having been elected by shareholders, does not comply with section 16(a). In order to avoid the expense of a special meeting of shareholders prior to the date of its regular annual meeting, Applicant requests an exemption from section 16(a) so as to permit the present board of directors to serve until the next annual meeting of shareholders.

Applicant represents that compliance with the proxy rules promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as required by section 20(a) of the Investment Company Act and Rule 20a–1 thereunder would constitute an undertaking of substantial expense to Applicant without providing a comparable benefit to its investors. In this connection, it is represented that the board of directors will always be comprised of officers of the banks and trust companies which are eligible to invest in Applicant's shares. The certificate of incorporation provides that each bank which owns stock of Applicant shall be entitled to be represented on the board of directors by one director. Annual meetings of stockholders are required to be held.

Applicant requests exemption from that portion of section 24(d) which provides that no security issued by a registered investment company shall be entitled to the exemption from registration under the Securities Act of 1933 that is provided by section 3(a)(11) of that Act. Section 3(a)(11) of the Securities Act of 1933 grants an exemption for securities sold only to persons resident within a single state by a corporation incorporated in and doing business within such state. In support of its request, Applicant represents that it intends to distribute to each trust company and bank eligible to invest in its shares a copy of the registration statement filed under the Investment Company Act, and that such statement contains the information which Applicant would be required to furnish were it to register under the Securities Act.

Section 22(d) of the Act would require Applicant to sell its securities at a public offering price described in a prospectus. Applicant states that the same reasons urged for the exemption from section 24(d) have equal application to this request.

Applicant also requests certain relief from section 22(e) of the Act, which provides, with certain exceptions not pertinent here, that no registered investment company shall suspend the right of redemption or postpone payment for shares redeemed for more than seven days after tender. Applicant requests exemption from these requirements to the extent necessary to permit it to follow a procedure under which notice of redemption must be given fourteen days in advance of quarterly asset valuation dates and payment be made within ten days following such valuation dates. Applicant represents that such procedure is consistent with the practice followed by common trust funds operated by banks and trust companies in Maine and is appropriate in the special circumstances under which Applicant proposes to operate, since it is intended to offer participation to banking fiduciaries for funds held on a long-term basis.

Section 6(c) of the Act provides, among other things, that the Commission, by order upon application, may conditionally or unconditionally exempt any persons from any provision or provisions of the Act or of any rule or regulation thereunder, if and to the extent that such exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

For a more detailed statement of the matters of fact and law asserted, all interested persons are referred to said application which is on file at the office of the Commission in Washington, D.C.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 20, 1960, at 5:30 p.m., submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to the nature of his interest, the reason for such request and the issues of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D.C. At any time after said date, as provided by rule O–5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application herein may be issued by the Commission upon the basis of the showing contained in said application, unless an order for hearing upon said application shall be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion.

By the Commission.

GREAT BASIN CONSOLIDATED MINES, INC.

Order Temporarily Suspending Exemption, Statement of Reasons Therefor, and Notice of Opportunity for Hearing

I. Great Basin Consolidated Mines, Inc. (issuer), a Nevada corporation, 5906 Evergreen, Las Vegas, Nevada, filed with the Commission on May 5, 1960, a notification on Form 1–A and an offering circular relating to an offering of 300,000 shares of its $1 par value common stock at $1 per share for an aggregate offering of $300,000 for the purpose of obtaining an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, pursuant to the provisions of section (b) thereof and Regulation A promulgated thereunder.

II. The Commission has reasonable cause to believe that:

A. The terms and conditions of Regulation A have not been complied with in that the notification fails to disclose that Marko Mining & Milling Co., Inc., a Nevada corporation, is an affiliate of the issuer.

B. An exemption under Regulation A is not available to the issuer in that Marko Mining & Milling Co., Inc., which became an affiliate of the issuer within the past two years, is presently offering its securities under Regulation A (24SF–2680) for an aggregate offering price of $300,000.

C. The offering circular omits to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading, particularly with respect to the failure to disclose the existence of Marko Mining & Milling Co., Inc., a company organized by and having the same controlling persons as the issuer and having the same business purpose as the issuer.

D. The offering would be made in violation of section 17 of the Securities Act of 1933.

III. It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule 261(a) of the general rules and regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the exemption under Regulation A be, and it hereby is, temporarily suspended.

Notice is hereby given that any person having any interest in the matter may file with the Secretary of the Commission a written request for hearing within thirty days after the entry of this order; that within twenty days after receipt of such request the Commission will, or at any time upon its own motion may, set the matter down for hearing at a place to be designated by the Commission, for the purpose of determining whether this order of suspension should be vacated or made permanent, without prejudice, however, to the consideration and presentation of additional matters at the hearing; that if no hearing is requested and none is ordered by the Commission, this order shall became permanent on the thirtieth day after its entry and shall remain in effect unless or until it is modified or vacated by the Commission; and that notice of the time and place for any hearing will promptly be given by the Commission.

By the Commission.

MONARCH OIL & URANIUM CORP.

Order Temporarily Suspending Exemption, Statement of Reasons Therefor, and Notice of Opportunity for Hearing

JUNE 6, 1960.

I. Monarch Oil & Uranium Corporation, an Oklahoma corporation, 2840 West 24th Ave., Denver, Colorado, filed with the Commission on May 5, 1955, a notification and offering circular relating to an offering of 600,000 shares of its 1 cent par value common stock at 8 cents per share for an aggregate of $48,000, and filed various amendments thereto, for the purpose of obtaining an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, pursuant to the provisions of section 3(b) thereof, and Regulation A promulgated thereunder.

II. The Commission has reasonable cause to believe that:

A. The terms and conditions of Regulation A have not been complied with in that Monarch Oil & Uranium Corporation has:

1. Offered and sold its securities without the use of the offering circular required by the regulation;

2. Offered and sold its securities by the use of sales material not filed with the Commission as required by the regulation.

B. The notification and offering circular contain untrue statements of material facts and omit to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading, particularly with respect to:

1. The failure to disclose information concerning a lease of some of the company's unpatented mining claims;

2. The failure to disclose an interest in certain property owned by the corporation;

3. The failure to reflect the contingent liability due to sales of securities in violation of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended;

4. The statement that the entire proceeds of the offering would be used primarily to repay prior purchasers of preorganization certificates sold in violation of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

III. It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule 223(a) of the general rules and regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the exemption under Regulation A be, and it hereby is, temporarily suspended.

Notice is hereby given that any person have any interest in the matter may file with the Secretary of the Commission a written request for hearing; that within 20 days after receipt of such request, the Commission will, or at any time upon its own motion may, set the matter down for hearing at a place to be designated by the Commission for the purpose of determining whether this order of suspension should be vacated or made permanent, without prejudice, however, to the consideration and presentation of additional matters at the hearing; and that notice of the time and place for said hearing will be promptly given by the Commission.

By the Commission.

UNION TEXAS NATURAL GAS CORP.

Notice of Filing of Amendment to Application

JUNE 6, 1960.

Notice is hereby given that Union Texas Natural Gas Corporation ("Union Texas"), successor by merger to Texas Natural Gasoline Corporation ("Texas Natural") and Union Oil and Gas Corporation of Louisiana ("Union Oil"), has filed an amendment to the application filed by Texas Natural, requesting that the exemption heretofore granted (Holding Company Act Release No. 13648, January 3, 1958) to Texas Natural and its subsidiaries, pursuant to section 3(a)(3) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), be modified or amended so as to grant a like exemption to Union Texas, as a holding company, and to all of its subsidiaries, as such.

All interested persons are referred to the amended application for a statement of the facts submitted as a basis for the requested exemption, which facts are summarized as follows:

Union Texas, a Delaware corporation, is the surviving company resulting from a merger, effective March 3, 1960, of Texas Natural into Union Oil, which thereupon changed its name to Union Texas Natural Gas Corporation. Prior to said merger Union Oil and its subsidiaries were engaged in exploring for and producing crude oil, condensate and natural gas. Union Oil owned producing oil and gas properties in Louisiana, Texas, the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, Canada, and in Venezuela and Argentina. As at December 31, 1959 the consolidated assets of Union Oil and subsidiaries totaled $77,562,911 and for the year 1959 consolidated revenues and net income were $45,210,583 and $14,623,805, respectively.

Texas Natural and its subsidiaries, prior to the merger, were engaged principally in the manufacture and sale of liquefied petroleum gas and natural gasoline. Texas Natural also owned all the outstanding common stock of Florida Keys Gas Company, Inc. ("Florida Keys"), a Florida corporation, which is a gas utility company operating in Key West, Florida and environs. Florida Keys purchased its liquefied petroleum gas requirements from Texas Natural and now obtains these requirements from the surviving corporation. As at August 31, 1959 the consolidated assets of Texas Natural and subsidiaries totaled $52,333,214 and, for the 12 months then ended, consolidated revenues and net income were $33,234,510 and $4,526,227, respectively. Florida Keys, as at August 31, 1959, had total assets of $585,317 and for the 12 months then ended had revenues and net income of $382,361 and $17,022, respectively.

Union Texas and its subsidiaries are now engaged in the businesses formerly conducted by Union Oil and its subsidiaries and Texas Natural and its subsidiaries. The only subsidiary of Union Texas which is a public-utility company is Florida Keys, formerly a subsidiary of Texas Natural. Union Texas asserts that it is entitled to exemption under the provisions of section 3(a)(3) of the Act on the ground that "it is only incidentally a holding company, being primarily engaged or interested in one or more businesses other than the business of a public-utility company and not deriving any material part of its income from any one or more subsidiary companies, the principal business of which is that of a public-utility company."

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 27, 1960, request in writing that a hearing be held in respect of the request for exemption, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of law or fact he desires to controvert, or he may request that he be notified should the Commission order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D.C. At any time after said date the Commission may grant the exemption requested, or take such other action as it deems appropriate.

By the Commission.

G. KRUEGER BREWING CO.

Notice of Application To Strike From Listing and Registration and of Opportunity for Hearing

JUNE 7, 1960.

In the matter of G. Krueger Brewing Company, Common Stock, File No. 1-1331.

The American Stock Exchange has filed an application with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to section 12(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule 12d2-1(b) promulgated thereunder, to strike the specified security from listing and registration thereon.

The reasons alleged in the application for striking this security from listing and registration include the following:

The number of shares which remain outstanding and unacquired by United Industrial Syndicate Inc., and the number of holders of such unacquired shares, have become so reduced as to make inadvisable further dealings therein on the Exchange.

Upon receipt of a request, on or before June 24, 1960, from any interested person for a hearing in regard to terms to be imposed upon the delisting of this security, the Commission will determine whether to set the matter down for hearing. Such request should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person requesting the hearing and the position he proposes to take at the hearing with respect to imposition of terms. In addition, any interested person may submit his views or any additional facts bearing on this application by means of a letter addressed to the Secretary of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D.C. If no one requests a hearing on this matter, this application will be determined by order of the Commission on the basis of the facts stated in the application and other information contained in the official files of the Commission pertaining to the matter.

By the Commission.

PART 301—DOMESTIC QUARANTINE NOTICES

Subpart—Khapra Beetle

REVISED ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS DESIGNATING PREMISES AS REGULATED AREAS

Pursuant to § 301.76–2 of the regulations supplemental to the Khapra Beetle Quarantine (7 CFR 301.76–2) under sections 8 and 9 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U.S.C. 161, 162), revised administrative instructions are hereby issued as follows, listing premises in which infestations of the khapra beetle have been determined to exist and designating such premises as regulated areas within the meaning of said quarantine and regulations.

§ 301.76–2a Administrative instructions designating certain premises as regulated areas under the khapra beetle quarantine and regulations.

Infestations of the khapra beetle have been determined to exist in the premises listed in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. Accordingly, such premises are hereby designated as regulated areas within the meaning of the provisions in this subpart:

(Sec. 9, 37 Stat. 318; 7 U.S.C. 163. Interprets or applies sec. 8, 37 Stat. 318, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 161. 19 F.R. 74, as amended; 7 CFR 301.76–2)

Subsequent to the twenty-sixth revision, effective March 26, 1960, infestations of the khapra beetle were discovered on the premises of the J. M. Martinez Chicken Yard, located at the corner of Third and Randall Streets, General Delivery, Winkelman, Arizona; and the R. E. Nelson Farm (Feed barn), Route 1, Box 162, Yaleta, Texas. Movement of regulated articles from these properties was immediately stopped. Within a few days the infested premises had been fumigated in their entirety and declared free of khapra beetle infestation. Accordingly, these properties are not being included in this revision.

This revision has the effect of revoking the designation as regulated areas of certain premises in Arizona, it having been determined by the Director of the Plant Pest Control Division that adequate sanitation measures have been practiced for a sufficient length of time to eradicate the khapra beetle in and upon such premises. It also adds certain premises in Arizona, California, and Texas to the list of premises in which khapra beetle infestations have been determined to exist, and designates such premises as regulated areas under the khapra beetle quarantine and regulations.

As an informative item, the revision segregates certain regulated premises in Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas where the approved fumigation treatment has been applied to the portion of the premises in which live khapra beetles were found and which are consequently in a somewhat different category than untreated premises.

These administrative instructions shall become effective June 14, 1960, when they shall supersede P.P.C. 612, Twenty-sixth Revision, effective March 26, 1960 (25 F.R. 2571).

These instructions, in part, impose restrictions supplementing khapra beetle quarantine regulations already effective. They also relieve restrictions insofar as they revoke the designation of certain regulated areas. They must be made effective promptly in order to carry out the purposes of the regulations and to be of maximum benefit in permitting the interstate movement, without restriction under the quarantine, of regulated products from the premises being removed from designation as regulated areas. Accordingly, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 1003), it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the foregoing administrative instructions are impracticable and good cause is found for making the effective date thereof less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 8th day of June 1960.

[SEAL] L. F. CURL,
Acting Director,
Plant Pest Control Division.

PART 301—DOMESTIC QUARANTINE NOTICES

Subpart—Witchweed

REVISED ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS DESIGNATING REGULATED AREAS

Pursuant to § 301.80–2 of the regulations supplemental to the witchweed quarantine (7 CFR 301.80–2), under section 106 of the Federal Plant Pest Act (7 U.S.C. 150ee) and sections 8 and 9 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U.S.C. 161, 162), administrative instructions appearing as 7 CFR 301.80–2a are hereby revised to read as follows:

§ 301.80–2a Administrative instructions designating regulated areas under the witchweed quarantine.

Infestations of the witchweed have been determined to exist, in the quarantined States, in the civil divisions and premises, or parts thereof, listed below, or it has been determined that such infestation is likely to exist therein, or it is deemed necessary to regulate such localities because of their proximity to infestation or their inseparability for quarantine enforcement purposes from infested localities. Accordingly, such civil divisions and premises, and parts thereof, and all highways and roadways abutting thereon, are hereby designated as witchweed regulated areas within the meaning of the provisions in this subpart:

Marion County. That area bounded by a line beginning at a point where the Marion-Dillon County Line and the Lumber River join and extending southwest along said river to its intersection with U.S. Highway 76, thence northwest and southwest along said highway to its junction with State Secondary Highway 31, thence southwest along said highway to its junction with State Primary Highway 41, thence southwest along said highway to its junction with State Secondary Highway 33, thence west along said highway to its junction with State Primary Highway 41A, thence north along said highway to its junction with State Highway 389, thence north along said highway to its junction with U.S. Highway 501, thence northwest and north along said highway to its intersection with State Secondary Highway 368, thence west along said highway to its intersection with Catfish Canal, thence north along said canal to the Marion-Dillon County Line, thence eastward along said county line to the point of beginning, excluding all the corporate limits of the towns of Marion and Mullins, except the W. P. Clark farm located on Marion Street in the town of Mullins and one block south of the Mullins Armory.

That area bounded by a line beginning at a point where U.S. Highway 301 crosses the Marion-Florence County Line and extending north along said county line to its junction with the Marion-Dillon County Line, thence north and east along said county line to its junction with the first dirt road, thence east along said dirt road to its junction with U.S. Highway 301, thence south along said highway to its junction with State Secondary Highway 64, thence southeast along said highway to its junction with the first dirt road on the east side of said highway, thence east, southeast, and southwest along said dirt road to its junction with State Secondary Highway 64, thence southeast along said highway to its junction with State Secondary Highway 38, thence east along said highway 1.2 miles to a point, thence south along a line projected from said point to the head of the left fork of Pot Swamp, thence south along said swamp to its intersection with U.S. Highway 76, thence west along said highway to its junction with State Secondary Highway 64, thence due southwest along a line projected from said intersection to the Marion-Florence County Line, thence northwest and north along said county line to the point of beginning.

That area bounded by a line beginning at a point where State Primary Highway 9 and State Secondary Highway 40 join and extending southeast along State Secondary Highway 40 to its junction with State Secondary Highway 47, thence southwest along said highway to its junction with State Primary Highway 9, thence south along said highway to its junction with U.S. Highway 378, thence southwest along said highway to its intersection with the Great Pee Dee River, thence northwest along said river to its junction with Catfish Creek, thence north along said creek to its junction with Collins Creek, thence east, and southeast along said creek to its junction with State Primary Highway 9, thence southwest along said highway to the point of beginning.

That area bounded by a line beginning at a point where U.S. Highway 378 and State Secondary Highway 86 join and extending north along State Secondary Highway 86 for 0.4 mile to its intersection with a stream, thence east along said stream to its junction with the Little Pee Dee River, thence southward along said river to its junction with the Sampson Landing Road, thence west along said road to its junction with State Secondary Road 49, thence northwest along said road to its junction with U.S. Highway 378, thence southeast along said highway to the point of beginning.

The William Davis farm located on the southwest side of a dirt road and 1.5 miles northwest of its junction with State Secondary Highway 9, said junction being 0.5 mile northeast of the junction of said highway and State Secondary Highway 40.

The James Ford farm located on the southeast side of U.S. Highway 76 and 1.1 miles northeast of its junction with State Secondary Highway 309.

The Paul Richardson farm located on the southeast side of State Secondary Highway 207 and 1.35 miles southwest of its junction with State Primary Highway 908.

The Alma F. Rowell farm located on the southeast side of State Primary Highway 41 and 1.75 miles northeast of its junction with State Primary Highway 41A.

The Harry Sellers farm located on the west side of U.S. Highway 301 in the town of Sellers.

Marlboro County. That portion of the county lying south and east of U.S. Highway 15, excluding the corporate limits of the towns of Bennettsville, McColl, and Tatum.

The Marvin Strong farm located on the south side of the South Carolina-North Carolina State Line and 1.3 miles east of its junction with State Primary Highway 77.

Williamsburg County. The S. Wayne Gamble farm located on both sides of State Primary Highway 375 and 2 miles southeast of its intersection with U.S. Highway 52.

(Sec. 9, 37 Stat. 318, sec. 106, 71 Stat. 33; 7 U.S.C. 162, 1506e; 19 F.R. 74, as amended; 7 CFR 301.80–2. Interprets or applies sec. 8, 37 Stat. 318, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 161)

These revised administrative instructions shall become effective June 14, 1960, when they shall supersede P.P.C. 627, 2d Revision, May 28, 1959 (7 CFR 301.80–2a).

One of the purposes of this revision is to extend the regulated areas to include for the first time parts of Brunswick, Johnston, and Lenoir Counties, North Carolina; and part of Williamsburg County, South Carolina. Also, additions have been made to the areas now regulated in Bladen, Columbus, Cumberland, Duplin, Harnett, Hoke, Pender, Sampson, and Scotland Counties, North Carolina; and Darlington, Florence, Horry, Marion, and Marlboro Counties, South Carolina.

These instructions should be made effective as soon as possible in order to be of maximum benefit in preventing the interstate spread of witchweed infestations. Accordingly, it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 1003) are impracticable and unnecessary, and good cause is found for making the instructions effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 8th day of June 1960.

GENERAL

§ 730.950 Basis and purpose.

(a) Subject Matter. The regulations contained in §§ 730.950 to 730.995, are issued pursuant to and in accordance with the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, and govern the following provisions for the 1958 and subsequent crops of rice: The establishment of farm normal yields; the measurement of farms and the final dates for the disposal of excess acreage; the amount, adjustment, and review of the farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess; the issuance of marketing cards and certificates; the identification of marketings of rice as subject to or not subject to the penalty and lien for the penalty; the rate of the penalty and the manner in which penalties shall be paid by producers and buyers; the refunding of penalty overpayments; the postponement or avoidance of penalty on excess rice by storage, by underplanting the allotment or producing a less than normal crop in a subsequent year, or by delivery to the Secretary of Agriculture; the records and reports required to be made by rice producers and handlers; and special provisions and exemptions applicable to farms on which the acreage of nonirrigated rice is three acres or less, rice produced by publicly-owned experiment stations, and rice planted for wildlife feed.

(b) Public notice. Prior to issuing the regulations contained in §§ 730.950 to 730.995, public notice (25 F.R. 3530) of the Department's intention to formulate and issue amendments to these rice marketing quota regulations was given in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 1003). These amendments cover (1) a change in the provision permitting a producer to pay a proportionate part of the penalty or to store or deliver a proportionate part of the excess to avoid or postpone the penalty so as to continue the liability of such producer for the remainder of the penalty on the farm marketing excess notwithstanding the apportionment; (2) deletion of certain provisions with respect to the measurement of farms and definitions of certain terms, since such provisions are now included in Part 718 of this chapter—Determination of Acreage and Performance (22 F.R. 3747), and Part 719 of this chapter—Reconstitution of Farms, Farm Allotments, and Farm History and Soil Bank Base Acreages (23 F.R. 6731), and amendments thereto; (3) delegation of certain administrative functions to the county office manager that were previously assigned to the county committee; (4) assignment of specific functions relating to the handling of marketing quota penalties to the county office manager instead of to the treasurer of the county committee; (5) deletion of certain language with respect to the sale of rice obtained by redemption of soil bank delivery orders (CCC Form 382 or CCC Form 103); and (6) miscellaneous changes in language for the purpose of clarification and to obtain uniformity between the rice marketing quota regulations and marketing quota regulations applicable to other basic commodities. No data, views or recommendations pertaining to these changes were received pursuant to such notice. In view of the fact that the changes in language and other changes were rather general and would have required innumerable amendments to the regulations, the regulations have been completely revised and reissued to include all such changes.

(c) Effective date. The revised regulations herein shall become effective beginning with the 1960 crop of rice. The regulations approved April 25, 1958, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 1, 1958 (23 F.R. 2897; §§ 730.950 to 730.996), as amended, shall remain in effect and apply to the 1958 and 1959 crops of rice.

§ 730.951 Definitions.

As used in the regulations in this subpart and in all instructions, forms and documents in connection therewith, the words and phrases defined in this section shall have the meaning assigned to them herein unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires. The following words or phrases are defined in Part 719 of this chapter, Reconstitution of Farms, Farm Allotments, and Farm History and Soil Bank Base Acreages (23 F.R. 6731) and any amendments thereto, and shall have the meaning assigned to them by such regulations: community committee, county committee, county office manager, Department, farm, operator, person, producer, Secretary, State administrative officer and State committee. The phrase, expiration of time limitations, is defined in Part 720 of this chapter, General Policy and Interpretations (24 F.R. 4233) and shall have the meaning assigned to it therein.

(a) "Act" means the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, and any amendments or supplements thereto.

(b) "Actual production" of any number of acres of rice on a farm means the actual average yield per acre for the farm times such number of acres.

(c) "Actual yield" means the number of pounds of rice determined by dividing the number of pounds of rice produced on the farm by the rice acreage on the farm.

(d) "Administrator" means the Administrator, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture, who is responsible to the Assistant Secretary in charge of agricultural stabilization for the general direction and supervision of programs assigned to the Commodity Stabilization Service.

(e) "Attorney-in-Charge" means the person in charge of the field office or branch office of the Office of the General Counsel, United States Department of Agriculture, serving the area in which the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State office is located.

(f) "Buyer" means a person who buys rice.

(g) "County office" means the office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee.

(h) "Crop year" means the calendar year in which the rice crop is produced.

(i) "Director" means the Director of the Grain Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

(j) "Excess rice acreage" means the rice acreage determined for the farm which is in excess of the farm rice acreage allotment.

(k) "Farm acreage allotment" means the rice acreage allotment established for the farm in accordance with applicable regulations.

(l) "Farm marketing excess" means the amount of rice determined for any farm under § 730.959 or § 730.962, whichever is applicable.

(m) "Farm marketing quota" means the rice marketing quota established for the farm under § 730.958.

(n) "Intermediate buyer" means any buyer or transferee who purchases or acquires any rice prior to the time the rice so purchased or acquired has been marketed either (1) to a warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, or (2) to any other grain dealer who conducts his business in a manner substantially the same as a warehouseman or mill operator.

(o) "Market" means to dispose of rice in raw or processed form, by voluntary or involuntary sale, barter, or exchange, or by gift.

(1) The terms "marketed", "marketing", and "for market" shall have meaning corresponding to the term "market" in the connection in which they are used.

(2) The term "sale" means any transfer of title to rice by a producer by any means other than barter, exchange or gift. The penalty on excess rice is due regardless of what use is made of the excess rice.

(3) The terms "barter" and "exchange" mean transfer of title to rice by a producer in return for rice or any other commodity, service, or property, in cases where the value of the rice or such other commodity, service, or property is not considered in terms of money, or the transfer of title to rice by a produeer in payment of a fixed rental or other charge for land, or the payment of an amount of rice in lieu of a cash charge for harvesting or milling rice (commonly called "toll rice").

(4) The term "gift" means any transfer of title to rice accompanied by delivery of the rice by a producer which takes effect immediately and irrevocably and is made without any consideration or compensation therefor.

(p) "Marketing year" means the period beginning August 1 and ending July 31 of the following year, both dates inclusive.

(q) "Normal production" of any number of acres of rice on a farm means the normal yield of rice for the farm times such number of acres.

(r) "Normal yield" means the number of pounds per acre of rice established as the normal yield per acre for the farm under § 730.953.

(s) "Penalty" means the penalty referred to in § 730.972.

(t) "Regional attorney" means the person in charge of the regional office of the General Counsel, United States Department of Agriculture, serving the area in which the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State office is located.

(u) "Representative of the State committee" means a member of the State committee or any employee of the State committee.

(v) "Review committee" means the committee appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture to review farm marketing quotas as provided in section 363 of the act.

(w) "Rice" as used in the regulations of this subpart means rough rice with a maximum moisture content of 14 percent. Rice with a moisture content in excess of 14 percent will be adjusted to the equivalent of 14 percent moisture content.

(x) "Rice acreage" means the acreage planted to rice and the acreage of volunteer rice which reaches maturity, excluding (1) any acreage of nonirrigated rice produced on any farm on which such acreage is three acres or less, (2) any acreage of sweet, glutenous, or candy rice, commonly known as Mochi Gomi, (3) any acreage of rice grown for experimental purposes only by or under contract to a publicly-owned agricultural experiment station, (4) any acreage of rice in excess of the allotment on a wildlife refuge farm consisting solely of Federal or State-owned land: Provided, That such acreage is not harvested, but is left on the land for wildlife feed, (5) any acreage planted to rice in excess of the farm rice acreage allotment, or, when applicable, the permitted acreage of rice under a conservation reserve contract under the soil bank program, which is destroyed or otherwise handled or treated (by the producer or from some cause beyond his control) not later than the final date for the disposal of excess acreage as provided in § 730.955(b) of the rice marketing quota regulations for 1958 and subsequent crop years (23 F.R. 2897), and any amendments thereto, so that rice cannot be harvested therefrom, and (6) any acreage seeded to rice outside of the field border levee where such levee is bounded by a fence or other barrier which would make it impossible to harvest or destroy the rice from such area by mechanical means, and any acreage seeded to rice inside of drainage ditch banks where the topography would make it impossible to harvest or destroy the rice from such acreage by mechanical means: Provided, That the seeding operations have been performed with an end gate seeder or by airplane.

(y) "State office" means the office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State committee.

(z) "Transferee" means a person who acquires rice from a producer or any other person by barter, exchange, or gift.

§ 730.952 Instructions and forms.

The Director shall cause to be prepared and issued such forms as are necessary and shall cause to be prepared such instructions with respect to internal management as are necessary for carrying out the regulations in this part. The forms and instructions shall be approved by, and the instructions shall be issued by, the Deputy Administrator for Production Adjustment, Commodity Stabilization Service.

§ 730.953 Normal yields.

(a) Farms for which normal yields will be determined. The county committee shall determine a normal yield for each farm for which a farm marketing excess is required to be determined for any crop year, for each farm for which a request is made to the county committee by the operator, either prior to or after seeding, and for each farm as required for the purposes of the provisions of § 730.980 (h) and (i). Determination of farm normal yields shall be documented and such determination, subject to review and revision, shall be approved by the State committee, or by the State administrative officer, program specialist, or farmer fieldman. No notice of a farm normal yield shall be mailed to a producer until the yield has been approved as provided in this paragraph.

(b) Yields based on reliable records. Where reliable records of the actual average yield in pounds per harvested acre for all of the five calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year for which the yield is determined are available to the county committee, the normal yield per acre of rice for the farm shall be determined to be the average of such yields adjusted for abnormal weather conditions and for trends in yields.

(c) Appraised yields. If for any year of such 5-year period data are not available or there was no actual yield, then the normal yield (per harvested acre of rice) for the farm shall be appraised by the county committee taking into consideration abnormal weather conditions during such 5-year period, trends in yields, the normal yield for the county, the yields obtained on adjacent farms during such year and the yield in years for which data are available. If on the account of drought, flood, insect pests, plant disease, or other uncontrollable natural cause, the yield for any year of such period is less than 75 per centum of the average, 75 per centum of such average shall be substituted therefor in calculating the normal yield per acre for the farm. If, on account of abnormally favorable weather conditions, the yield for any year of such period is in excess of 125 per centum of the average, 125 per centum of such average shall be substituted therefor in calculating the normal yield per acre for the farm.

MEASUREMENT OF FARMS AND FINAL DATES FOR DISPOSAL OF EXCESS ACREAGE

§ 730.954 Measurement of farms.

(a) Farms which are to be measured. Provisions shall be made for the measurement of all farms in the county having a rice acreage allotment and any other farm in the county on which the county committee has reason to believe there is rice which could be available for harvest, regardless of its intended use, for the purpose of ascertaining with respect to each of such farms the acreage of rice and whether such acreage is in excess of the farm acreage allotment. Measurement shall be made under the general supervision of the county committee in accordance with Part 718 of this chapter, Determination of Acreage and Performance (22 F.R. 3747), and any amendments thereto.

(b) Water company measurements. Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, acreage measurements made by employees of water or irrigation companies to determine water charges may be used in lieu of or in connection with measurements by a reporter, where available and authorized by the State committee: Provided, That (1) substantially all of the rice acreage will be determined by the water or irrigation company; (2) the county committee is willing to accept such measurements; (3) a random spot check of a sufficient number of the company determinations is made to establish acceptability of such acreage determinations; (4) a conservation reserve contract is not in effect on the farm; and (5) the water or irrigation company does not share in the rice crop on the farm.

§ 730.955 Notice of excess acreage and final dates for disposal of excess acreage.

(a) Notice of excess acreage. The provisions of Part 718 of this chapter, Determination of Acreage and Performance (22 F.R. 3747), and any amendments thereto, relating to notices to farm operators, shall be applied when notifying farm operators of excess acreage.

(b) Final date for the disposal of excess acreage. The final dates determined by the Administrator, for the disposal of excess rice acreage are considered to be not later than 30 days prior to the date rice harvest normally begins in the county or State. The dates for each crop year in each county or area of a county by which excess rice must be destroyed or otherwise handled or treated (by the producer or from some cause beyond his control) so that rice cannot be harvested therefrom, unless extended as provided in Part 718 of this chapter, Determination of Acreage and Performance (22 F.R. 3747), and any amendments thereto, are as follows:

Arkansas: August 1.
California: September 1.
Florida: October 15.
Illinois: September 15.
Louisiana: August 1.
Mississippi: August 15.
Missouri: August 15.
North Carolina: August 31.
Oklahoma: August 15.
South Carolina:
All counties for rice planted on or about March 15: August 1.
All counties for rice planted on or about May 15: September 15.
All counties for rice planted on or about June 15: October 15.
Tennessee: August 31.
Texas:
All counties except Bowie: July 15.
Bowie County: September 1.

§ 730.956 Reports and records of farm measurements.

A record shall be kept in the county office of the measurements made on all farms. There shall be filed with the State office a written report setting forth for each farm for which a farm marketing excess is determined (a) the farm serial number, (b) the name of the operator, (c) name of each producer, (d) the total acreage in cultivation, (e) the farm acreage allotment, (f) the rice acreage, (g) the farm normal yield, and (h) the farm marketing excess in pounds.

FARM MARKETING QUOTA AND FARM MARKETING EXCESS

§ 730.957 Marketing quotas in effect.

Marketing quotas when effective with respect to a particular crop of rice shall be applicable in the continental United States. Such quotas shall be applicable to any rice of that crop notwithstanding that it may be available for market prior to the beginning of the marketing year or subsequent to the end of the marketing year.

§ 730.958 Farm marketing quota.

The farm marketing quota for any farm for any crop of rice shall be that number of pounds of rice produced less the amount of the farm marketing excess for the farm.

§ 730.959 Farm marketing excess.

The farm marketing excess for any crop of rice for any farm shall be the normal production of the rice acreage on the farm in excess of the farm acreage allotment therefor: Provided, That the farm marketing excess for any crop shall not be larger than the amount by which the actual production of such crop of rice on the farm exceeds the normal production of the farm rice acreage allotment if the producer establishes such actual production as provided in § 730.962.

§ 730.960 Notice of farm marketing excess.

Written notice of the farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess for a farm shall be mailed to the operator of each farm for which a farm marketing excess is determined. Notice so given shall constitute notice to each producer having an interest in the rice crop produced or to be produced on the farm. A copy of such notice shall also be mailed on the same day to each other rice producer on the farm as shown on county office records. Each notice shall contain a brief statement of the procedure whereby application for a review of the farm marketing quota, farm marketing excess, or any determination made in connection therewith may be had in accordance with section 363 of the act. A record of each notice containing the date of mailing the notice to the operator of the farm shall be kept among the permanent records in the county office and upon request a copy thereof shall be furnished without charge to any person who as operator, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper is interested in the rice produced on the farm for which the notice is given. Each notice shall be on a Form MQ-93-Rice and shall contain the information necessary in each case to inform the producer as to the basis for the determinations set forth in the notice and the effect thereof and shall be signed by a member of the county committee on behalf of the county committee.

§ 730.961 Farms for which proper notice of the farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess of rice was not issued.

Where, for any reason, proper notice of the farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess and of the producer's right to obtain a downward adjustment in the farm marketing excess for his farm on account of actual production, and of his right to store or deliver to the Secretary the farm marketing excess of rice established for the farm, was not issued to the producer in sufficient time to allow him 30 days prior to the time in which he was required to make application for a downward adjustment, or to store or deliver to the Secretary the farm marketing excess, as prescribed by §§ 730.960, 730.962, 730.980, and 730.981, the producer shall be so notified by the county committee on Form MQ–93—Rice and the producer may, within 30 days from the date such notice is mailed to him, apply to the county committee for a downward adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess and may, within 30 days from the date such notice is mailed, store or deliver to the Secretary the farm marketing excess as provided in §§ 730.962, 730.980, and 730.981. In the event application for downward adjustment in the farm marketing excess is made by the producer, a revised notice on Form MQ–93—Rice with a copy of the determination of the county committee as provided in § 730.962(b) shall be mailed to the operator of the farm, to the applicant if he is not such operator, and to all other interested producers.

§ 730.962 Farm marketing excess adjustment.

(a) Adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess. (1) Any producer having an interest in the rice produced on any farm for which there is an excess may (i) within 60 days after the harvesting of rice is normally substantially completed in the county or area in the county in which the farm is situated or within 30 days after a late notice of farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess is mailed, as provided in § 730.961, apply in writing to the county office for a downward adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess on the basis of the amount of rice produced on the farm in the applicable crop year, or (ii) apply in writing to the county office at any time prior to the institution of court proceedings to collect the penalty for a determination that there was no farm marketing excess for the farm because the actual production of rice on the farm was not in excess of the normal production of the acreage allotment.

(2) The date on which the harvesting of rice is normally substantially completed in the county or area in the county shall be determined by the Administrator. Unless application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess is made prior to the expiration of 60 calendar days next succeeding that date or within 30 days after a late notice of farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess is mailed as provided in § 730.961 or unless prior to the institution of court proceedings to collect the penalty with respect to the farm it is determined that there was no farm marketing excess for the farm, the farm marketing excess for any farm in the county as determined on the basis of the normal production of the excess rice acreage for the farm shall be final as to the producers on the farm. A record of each application so made and the date thereof shall be maintained in the county office. The county committee shall establish a time and a place at which each application will be considered and the applicant shall be notified of the time and place of the hearing. Insofar as practicable, applications shall be considered in the order in which made.

(3) The established date on which rice harvest is normally substantially completed has been determined as aforesaid in rice-producing counties to be as follows:

Arkansas: November 15.
California: November 30.
Florida: November 30.
Illinois: October 15.
Louisiana: November 1.
Mississippi: October 31.
Missouri: October 1.
North Carolina: November 1.
Oklahoma: November 15.
South Carolina; November 1.
Tennessee: November 1.
Texas: October 20.

(b) Procedure in connection with an application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess. (1) The county committee shall consider each application on the basis of facts known by or made available to it and on the basis of such evidence as may be presented to it by the applicant.

(2) The actual production of any farm shall be determined in view of the relevant facts, including the past production on the farm; the actual yields during the same year of other farms in the community; the actual and normal yields of other farms in the community which are similar with regard to farming practices followed, type of soil, and productivity; the harvesting, processing, sales, and storage of the commodity produced on the farm; farming practices followed on the farm; and weather and other factors affecting the production of rice on the farm and in the locality in which the farm is situated. In determining actual production, the county committee shall include, in addition to the actual production of the harvested acreage, the estimated production of any unharvested acreage which has been classified as rice acreage, unless the county committee determines that no rice could be harvested in any manner from the unharvested excess acreage after approval of the downward adjustment.

(3) In the consideration of any application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess, the producer shall have the burden of proof. The evidence presented by the applicant may be in the form of written statements or other documentary evidence, or of oral testimony in a hearing before the county committee during its consideration of the application. In order to expedite the consideration of applications, the county committee shall receive, in advance of the time fixed for consideration of the application, any written statement or documentary evidence offered by or on behalf of the applicant, and the application may be disposed of upon the basis of such statement or evidence, together with other information bearing on or establishing the facts which are available to the county committee, unless the applicant appears before the county committee at the time fixed for considering the application and requests a hearing for the purpose of offering documentary evidence or oral testimony in support of the application. Every such hearing shall be open to the public.

(4) The county committee shall make its determination in connection with each application not later than five calendar days next succeeding the day on which the consideration was concluded. The determination of the county committee shall be in writing and shall contain (i) a concise statement of the grounds upon which the applicant sought an adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess, (ii) a concise statement of the findings of the county committee upon the questions of fact, and (iii) the determination of the county committee as to the farm marketing quota and the farm marketing excess. A revised notice on Form MQ–93–Rice with a copy of the determination made as aforesaid shall be mailed to the operator of the farm, to the applicant if he is not such operator, and to all other interested producers.

(5) All county committee determinations made in connection with applications for adjustment in the farm marketing excess, subject to review and revision, shall be approved by the State committee or by the State administrative officer, program specialist, or farmer fieldman. No notice of the determination shall be mailed to the operator until the determination has been approved as provided in this subparagraph.

(c) Adjustment where no rice is produced. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, whenever the county committee determines that no rice has been or will be produced in a particular crop year on a farm for which a farm marketing excess has been determined, the county committee may adjust the farm marketing excess and notify the operator of such adjustment as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, without the necessity of an application by the producer.

§ 730.963 Publication of the farm acreage allotments, marketing quotas, and marketing excesses.

A record of the farm acreage allotments, farm marketing quotas, and farm marketing excesses established for farms in the county shall be made and kept freely available for public inspection in the county office.

§ 730.964 Marketing quotas not transferable.

A farm marketing quota established for a farm may not be assigned or otherwise transferred in whole or in part to any other farm.

§ 730.965 Successors in interest.

Any person who succeeds to the interest of a producer in a farm or in a rice crop produced on a farm for which a farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess were established shall, to the same extent as his predecessor, be entitled to all the rights and privileges incident to such marketing quota and marketing excess and be subject to the restrictions on the marketing of rice. However, a successor to a deceased producer shall not be personally liable for an unpaid marketing quota penalty incurred by the producer prior to his death, but a suit may be brought to enforce the lien for the penalty against the rice. If a successor in interest should acquire from a deceased producer rice subject to lien for the penalty, no marketing card or marketing certificate shall be issued to permit the successor in interest to market the rice penalty free until the penalty has been satisfied.

§ 730.966 Review of quotas.

(a) Right to review by review committee. Any producer who is dissatisfied with the farm acreage allotment, normal yield, farm marketing quota, farm marketing excess, or other determination for his farm in connection with marketing quotas, may, within 15 calendar days after the notice thereof was mailed to him, apply in writing for a review by a review committee of such acreage allotment, normal yield, farm marketing quota, farm marketing excess or other determination in connection therewith: Provided, That if a review hearing has been held and determination made by a review committee with respect to the acreage allotment, normal yield, farm marketing quota, farm marketing excess, or other determination in connection therewith, no application by a producer for further review by a review committee with respect to such determination may be filed. Unless application for review is made within such period, the acreage allotment, normal yield, farm marketing quota, farm marketing excess, or other determination, as the case may be, shall be final as to the producers on the farm. Application for review and the review committee proceedings shall be in accordance with Part 711 of this chapter, Marketing Quota Review Regulations (21 F.R. 9365), and any amendments thereto.

(b) Action by county committee prior to review hearing. Action shall be taken by the county committee prior to the review hearing in accordance with Part 711 of this chapter, Marketing Quota Review Regulations (21 F.R. 9365), and any amendments thereto, relating to examination by county committee.

(c) Court review. If the producer is dissatisfied with the determination of the review committee he may, within 15 days after notice of such determination is mailed to him by registered mail, institute proceedings against the review committee to have the determination of the review committee reviewed by a court in accordance with section 365 of the act.

MARKETING CARDS AND MARKETING CERTIFICATES

§ 730.967 Issuance of marketing cards.

(a) Producers eligible to receive marketing cards. The operator and all other producers on a farm shall be eligible to receive a marketing card (MQ–76—Rice) for the applicable year if (1) no farm marketing excess is determined for the farm, (2) an amount equal to the penalty on the farm marketing excess has been received from the producer or any buyer as provided in § 730.975 or § 730.976, (3) the farm marketing excess is stored, as provided in § 730.980, or (4) the amount of the farm marketing excess has been delivered to the Secretary, as provided in § 730.981. A marketing card shall not be issued until the performance report (CSS–578) has been signed by the operator or his representative. Marketing cards will be delivered to producers at the county office, except that if the county office manager determines that it would facilitate the administration of the act, and he has reason to believe that the marketing card will be used, marketing cards may be mailed to the producers entitled thereto. Each marketing card shall be serially numbered and shall show the serial number of the farm, the name and address of the producer to whom issued, the name and address of the county office and the actual or facsimile signature of the county office manager. The facsimile signature provided for herein may be affixed by a county office employee.

(b) Producers ineligible to receive marketing cards. The producers on a farm shall be ineligible to receive marketing cards: (1) If any producer on the farm owes any penalty for excess rice in any preceding crop year, (2) if determination of the rice acreage has not been made and has been prevented by any producer on the farm, and (3) if the farm marketing excess determined under § 730.959 is adjusted under § 730.962. A producer shall not be considered to owe any penalty under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph if he has avoided or postponed payment of the penalty through storage of excess rice in accordance with applicable regulations.

(c) Multiple farm producers eligible to receive marketing cards. Any producer who is a rice producer on more than one farm in a county shall not be eligible to receive a marketing card for any such farm in the county until, in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, he is eligible to receive a marketing card for each of such farms. However, only one rice marketing card need be issued to a producer who has an interest in the rice crop on more than one farm in the county, provided (1) the farm serial numbers of all such farms are entered on the marketing card, (2) the producer is eligible to receive a marketing card on each farm in the county in which he has an interest in the rice crop, and (3) the producer has not received a marketing certificate pursuant to the provisions of § 730.975(c) on any such farm. The other producers on a farm for which the multiple farm producer would otherwise be eligible to receive a marketing card shall be eligible to receive marketing cards with respect to the farm notwithstanding the ineligibility of the multiple farm producer to receive a marketing card. Where a producer is engaged in the production of rice in more than one county (in the same State or in two or more States), the regulations outlined in this section for issuing marketing cards for multiple farms in a county may be followed with respect to all such farms, wherever situated, if the county committees of the respective counties or the State committee determines that the procedure would be necessary to enforce the provisions of the act. The State committee may require any multiple farm producer to file with it a list of all farms on which he is engaged in the production of rice, together with any other information deemed necessary to enforce the act.

(d) Use of marketing cards. The serial number of the farm or farms for which a marketing card is issued shall be entered on the marketing card. A marketing card shall not be used to identify rice produced on any farm the serial number of which is not entered on the card. A marketing card shall not be used to market any rice which was not produced on a farm the serial number of which appears on the marketing card.

(e) Producers to whom marketing cards will not be issued to enforce the provisions of the act. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the county committee shall deny any producer a marketing card if it determines that such action is necessary to enforce the provisions of the act. A marketing certificate may be issued in such cases for any proved production.

§ 730.968 Issuance of marketing certificates.

(a) Producers to whom marketing certificates may be issued. The county office manager shall upon request issue a marketing certificate. Form MQ–94—Rice, to any producer (1) who is eligible to receive a marketing card and who desires to market rice by telegraph, telephone, mail or by any means or method other than directly to and in the presence of the buyer or transferee; (2) who has availed himself of the provisions of § 730.975(c); (3) who is ineligible to receive a marketing card solely because of penalties owed by him or by any producer on the farm for excess rice for any preceding crop year; (4) who is ineligible to receive a marketing card solely because of excess rice produced on another farm as provided in § 730.967(c); (5) who is ineligible to receive a marketing card because the farm marketing excess determined under § 730.959 was adjusted under § 730.962; (6) who has eligible rice produced in a prior year but who is ineligible to receive a marketing card for the current crop year; (7) who is ineligible to receive a marketing card under § 730.967(e); or (8) who is a responsible executive officer of an agricultural experiment station entitled to market experimental rice only produced in excess of the allotment on an experimental farm.

(b) Completion of marketing certificate. Each marketing certificate shall show (1) the name and address of the producer to whom issued, (2) the names of the State and county, and the serial number of the farm, (3) the number of pounds of rice eligible to be sold, (4) the serial number of the marketing card assigned to the producer for the farm if applicable, or the word "none" if no card has been assigned, and (5) the actual or facsimile signature of the county office manager and the date of issuance. Such facsimile signature provided for herein may be affixed by a county office employee. The original and first copy of the marketing certificate shall be issued to the producer for delivery to the buyer or transferee and the triplicate copy shall be retained in the county office. A marketing certificate shall not be used to identify rice produced on any farm the serial number of which is not entered on the certificate. When the rice is marketed the buyer or transferee shall enter both on the original and copy of the marketing certificate (i) the number of pounds of rice marketed, (ii) the date marketed and (iii) the name and address of the buyer or transferee. Both the buyer or transferee and the producer shall sign the original and copy of the marketing certificate. The original shall be retained by the buyer or transferee and the copy shall be returned to the producer. If all of the rice eligible to be marketed was not marketed in one transaction, or if the producer desires to market part of the eligible rice to another buyer or transferee, he shall request the county office manager to issue a marketing certificate for the balance of the unmarketed eligible rice. Such request shall be accompanied by the completed producer's copy of the marketing certificate showing the amount of rice previously marketed. The completed producer's copy of the marketing certificate shall be retained in the county office and a marketing certificate for the balance of the unmarketed eligible rice shall be issued to the producer. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the producer may request, and the county office manager shall issue, more than one marketing certificate at one time, provided the total number of pounds of rice shown on all the marketing certificates as eligible to be marketed does not exceed the number of pounds eligible to be marketed for the farm.

§ 730.969 Lost, destroyed or stolen marketing cards or marketing certificates.

(a) Report of loss, destruction or theft. In case a marketing card or marketing certificate delivered to a producer is lost, destroyed, or stolen, any person having knowledge thereof should insofar as he is able, immediately notify the county office of the following: (1) The name of the operator of the farm for which such marketing card or marketing certificate was issued; (2) the name of the producer to whom the marketing card or marketing certificate was issued, if somebne other than the oprator; (3) the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate; and (4) whether in his knowledge or judgment it was lost, destroyed or stolen.

(b) Investigation and replacement. Each person desiring a marketing card or marketing certificate to replace one lost, destroyed or stolen, shall file a written application therefor with the county office. Each such application shall be on Form MQ–117, and shall contain the information necessary to identify the missing item, the circumstances concerning the loss, destruction or theft of the missing item, a report of marketings identified by the missing item and the date and signature of the applicant. If, based on information furnished by the applicant, the county office manager is satisfied that there has been no collusion or fraudulent action on the part of the producer, he shall issue a marketing card or marketing certificate to replace the one lost, destroyed or stolen. If the county office manager has reason to believe that collusion or fraudulent action may be involved, he shall issue the producer a marketing certificate and undertake an immediate investigation of the circumstances of such loss, destruction or theft. Each marketing card or marketing certificate lost, destroyed or stolen shall be cancelled and each replacement marketing card or marketing certificate issued under this section shall bear across its face in bold letters the word "Duplicate." The producer to whom the marketing card or marketing certificate was issued and later cancelled shall be notified that such item is void and of no effect. In each case where a marketing card or marketing certificate is reported stolen and is later cancelled, notice of such theft and cancellation shall be given to rice buyers, mill operators and warehousemen who serve the county or the immediate vicinity of the farm, and county office managers in adjoining counties. In case a marketing card or marketing certificate is reported lost or destroyed and is later cancelled, notice of such loss or destruction and cancellation shall be given to rice buyers, mill operators and warehousemen who serve the county or the immediate vicinity of the farm, and county office managers of adjoining counties, unless the county office manager determines that sending such notice will serve no useful purpose. Any person coming into possession of a cancelled marketing card or marketing certificate should immediately return it to the county office in which it was issued.

§ 730.970 Cancellation of marketing cards and marketing certificates issued in error.

Any marketing card or marketing certificate erroneously issued shall, immediately upon discovery of error, be canceled by the county office manager. The producer to whom such marketing card or marketing certificate was issued shall be notified in the manner prescribed in § 730.969(b) that the marketing card or marketing certificate is void and of no effect and that it shall be returned to the county office. Upon the return of such marketing card or marketing certificate, the county office manager shall cause to be endorsed thereon the notation "Canceled." In the event that such marketing card or marketing certificate is not returned immediately, notice of cancellation shall be given to rice buyers, mill operators and warehousemen who serve the county or the immediate vicinity of the farm, and county office managers in adjoining counties, unless the county office manager determines that sending such notice will serve no useful purpose.

IDENTIFICATION OF RICE

§ 730.971 Time and manner of identification.

Each producer of rice and each intermediate buyer shall, at the time he markets any rice, identify the rice to the buyer or transferee in the manner hereinafter provided as being subject to or not subject to the penalty or the lien for the penalty, as follows:

(a) Identification by marketing card. A marketing card (MQ–76—Rice) for the applicable crop year shall, when presented to the buyer by the producer to whom it was issued, be evidence to the buyer that the rice for which the marketing card was issued may be purchased without the payment of any penalty by him and that such rice is not subject to the lien for the penalty.

(b) Identification by marketing certificate. A marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice) properly executed shall, when delivered to the buyer by the producer, be evidence that the amount of rice shown thereon may be purchased without the payment of any penalty by him and that such rice is not subject to the lien for penalty.

(c) Identification by intermediate buyer's record and report. The original and copy of an intermediate buyer's record and report (MQ–95—Rice), properly executed by the first intermediate buyer and the producer of the rice and any subsequent buyer in the manner outlined in § 730.984(d) or § 730.985, shall be evidence to any buyer that the rice covered thereby is not subject to the lien for penalty and may be purchased by him without payment of any penalty in the event either (1) the MQ–95—Rice shows the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate by which the rice was identified and the signatures of the producer and intermediate buyer, or (2) the original MQ–95—Rice bears the endorsement "Penalty Satisfied" and the signature and title of the county office manager and the date thereof.

(d) Rice sweepings, spillage, or accumulation of samples. A person other than a producer or intermediate buyer offering rice sweepings or spillage for sale shall obtain a certification from the elevator operator, warehouseman or processor, or other grain dealer, who conducts his business in a manner substantially the same as an elevator operator or warehouseman, stating that the rice had previously been marketed to the person executing the certificate, if such is the fact. Such certification shall be kept as part of the records of the buyer who buys the sweepings or spillage. Any person other than a producer or intermediate buyer offering rice accumulated from samples taken for grading and testing purposes shall obtain a certification from the grader or tester certifying that the rice was an accumulation of samples. Such certification shall be kept as part of the records of the buyer who buys the samples.

(e) Rice identified as subject to the penalty and lien for the penalty. All rice marketed by a producer or by an intermediate buyer which is not identified in the manner prescribed in this section shall be taken by the buyer thereof as rice subject to penalty and the lien for the penalty and the buyer of such rice shall pay the penalty thereon at the rate prescribed in § 730.972.

PENALTY

§ 730.972 Rate of penalty.

The rate of penalty on rice shall be 65 per centum of the parity price per pound of rice as of June 15 of the calendar year in which the crop is produced. The rate of penalty applicable to the 1958 crop of rice shall be 3.88 cents per pound, which is 65 per centum of the parity price per pound of rice as of June 15, 1958, which is determined to be 5.98 cents per pound. The rate of penalty applicable to the 1959 crop of rice shall be 3.81 cents per pound, which is 65 per centum of the parity price per pound for rice as of June 15, 1959, which is determined to be 5.86 cents per pound.

§ 730.973 Lien for penalty.

The entire amount of rice produced in any year on any farm for which a farm marketing excess is determined shall be subject to a lien in favor of the United States for the amount of the penalty until the penalty is paid in accordance with § 730.975 or § 730.976, or the farm marketing excess is stored in accordance with § 730.980, or delivered to the Secretary in accordance with § 730.981.

§ 730.974 Interest on unremitted penalty.

The person liable for the payment or collection of the penalty shall be liable also for interest on the amount of penalty which is not remitted in accordance with § 730.975(b) or § 730.976(c), as the case may be, at the rate of 6 percent per annum from the final date for remitting the penalty until the date such penalty is remitted. The computation of interest on any penalty due shall be made beginning with the day following the final date for remitting the penalty.

§ 730.975 Payment of penalties by producers.

(a) Producers liable for payment of penalties. Each producer having an interest in the rice produced on any farm for which a farm marketing excess is determined shall be liable to pay the amount of penalty on the farm marketing excess as provided in this section. The amount of the penalty for which any producer is liable shall nevertheless be reduced by the amount of the penalty which is paid by another producer or a buyer of rice produced on the farm.

(b) Time when penalties become due. To the extent collection has not been made prior thereto, the amount of the penalty with respect to the farm marketing excess for any farm shall be remitted by the producer not later than 60 calendar days after the date on which the harvesting of rice is normally substantially completed in the county or area in the county in which the farm is situated, as determined in accordance with § 730.962(a)(3), or not later than 30 calendar days after notice of farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess is mailed as provided for in § 730.961: Provided, however, That the penalty on that amount of the farm marketing excess delivered to the Secretary pursuant to § 730.981 or § 730.961 shall not be remitted: And provided further, That the penalty on that amount of the farm marketing excess which is stored pursuant to § 730.980 or § 730.961 shall not be remitted until the time, and to the extent, of any depletion in the amount of rice so stored not authorized as provided in § 730.980(g).

(c) Apportionment of the penalty. The county committee may, upon application of any producer made (1) within 60 days after the harvesting of rice is normally substantially completed in the county or area in the county in which the farm is situated (as established in accordance with § 730.962), or (2) in the case of a delayed notice of the farm marketing excess within 30 days from the date such notice is mailed to him, determine his proportionate share of the penalty on the farm marketing excess if, pursuant to the application, the producer establishes the fact that he is unable to arrange with the other producers on the farm for the payment of the penalty on the entire farm marketing excess or for the disposition of the farm marketing excess in accordance with § 730.980 or § 730.981, that his share of the rice crop produced on the farm is marketed or disposed of by him separately, and that he exercises no control over the marketing or disposition of the shares of the other producers in the rice crop. The producer's proportionate share of the penalty on the farm marketing excess shall be that proportion of the entire penalty on the farm marketing excess which his share in the rice produced on the farm bears to the total amount of rice produced on the farm. When the producer pays his proportionate share of the penalty, or, in accordance with § 730.980 or § 730.981, stores or delivers to the Secretary the number of pounds required to postpone or avoid the payment of the penalty on his proportionate share, he shall be entitled to receive marketing certificates issued in accordance with § 730.968 to be used by him only in the marketing of his proportionate share of the rice crop produced on the farm: Provided, That the producer shall remain liable for the remainder of the penalty on the farm marketing excess notwithstanding any apportionment under this paragraph.

§ 730.976 Payment of penalties by buyers or transferees.

(a) Buyers or transferees liable for payment of penalties. Each person within the United States who buys or acquires from the producer any rice subject to the lien for the penalty shall be liable for and shall pay the penalty thereon. Rice shall be taken as subject to the lien for the penalty unless the producer presents to the person who buys or acquires such rice a marketing card (MQ–76—Rice) or marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice) as prescribed in § 730.971 (a) or (b).

(b) Payment of penalties on account of the lien for the penalty. Each person within the United States who buys or acquires rice which is subject to the lien for the penalty shall pay the amount of the penalty on each pound thereof in satisfaction of the lien thereon. Rice purchased or acquired from any intermediate buyer shall be taken as subject to the lien for the penalty, unless, at the time of sale or transfer, the intermediate buyer delivers to the purchaser or transferee the original and a copy of an intermediate buyer's record and report, MQ–95—Rice, properly executed by the producer of the rice and the first intermediate buyer, which show (1) the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate, by which the rice covered thereby was identified when marketed, or (2) on the reverse side the statement "Penalty Satisfied" and the signature and title of the county office manager and the date thereof.

(c) Time when penalties become due. The penalty to be paid by any person who buys or acquires rice pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this section shall be due at the time the rice is purchased or acquired and shall be remitted not later than 15 calendar days thereafter.

(d) Manner of deducting penalties and issuance of receipts. The person who buys or acquires rice may deduct from the price paid for any rice an amount equivalent to the amount of the penalty to be paid by the person who buys or acquires rice pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this section. Any person who buys or acquires rice who deducts an amount equivalent to the penalty shall issue to the person from whom the rice was purchased or acquired a receipt for the amount so deducted which shall be in the case of rice purchased or acquired from the producer by an intermediate buyer, on MQ–95—Rice, and in all other cases, on MQ–81—Rice.

(e) Collection by buyer at a sale which depleted stored excess rice. Any buyer within the United States who purchases rice at a sale which has the effect of depleting stored excess rice, including a sale for storage charges, shall collect the penalty due from the producer under § 730.980(g) and remit the amount of the penalty to the county office within 15 days after such purchase in the manner provided in § 730.977. Failure to collect from the producer shall not relieve the buyer of his duty to remit the amount of the penalty.

§ 730.977 Remittance of penalties to the county office.

The penalty shall be delivered or mailed to the county office only in legal tender, or by check, draft or money order drawn payable to the order of the Commodity Stabilization Service, USDA. All checks, drafts, and money orders tendered in payment of the penalty shall be received in the county office subject to collection and payment at par. If the penalty is remitted by an intermediate buyer, it shall be accompanied by the original and first copy of MQ–95—Rice, and the county office manager shall show that the penalty is paid by entering on the reverse side of both copies the statement "Penalty Satisfied" and his signature and title and the date thereof before returning the first copy to the intermediate buyer.

§ 730.978 Deposit of funds.

All funds received in the county office in connection with penalties for rice shall be scheduled and transmitted on the day received or not later than the next succeeding business day, to the State office, where such funds shall be deposited to the credit of a deposit fund account with the Treasurer of the United States in the name of the Chief Disbursing Officer of the Treasury Department (referred to in this subpart as "deposit fund account") to be held in escrow. In the event the funds so received are in the form of cash, such funds shall be deposited in the county committee bank account and a check shall be issued in the amount thereof, payable to the order of the Commodity Stabilization Service, USDA. A record shall be maintained of each amount received in the county office, showing the name of the person who remitted the funds, the identification of the farm or farms in connection with which the funds were received, and the name of the person who marketed the rice in connection with which the funds were remitted.

§ 730.979 Refunds of money in excess of the penalty.

(a) Determination of refunds. The county committee, upon its own motion or upon the request of any interested person, shall review the amount of money received in connection with the penalty for any farm to determine for each producer the amount thereof, if any, which is in excess of the security required for stored excess rice or the penalty due. Any excess amount shall be refunded. Any refund shall be made only to persons who bore the burden of the payment and who have not been reimbursed therefor. The excess amount shall first be applied, insofar as the sum will permit, so as to make refunds to eligible persons other than producers and the remainder, if any, shall be applied so as to make refunds to the eligible producers. The amount to be refunded to each producer shall be either (1) the amount determined by apportioning the excess amount among the producers on the farm in the proportion that each contributed toward the payment, avoidance or security of the penalty on the farm marketing excess or (2) the amount which is in excess of the security required for stored excess rice and the penalty due on that portion of the farm marketing excess for which the producer is separately liable. No refund shall be made to any buyer or transferee of any amount which he collected from the producer or another, deducted from the price or consideration paid for the rice or for which he was liable.

(b) Certification of refunds. The county office manager shall notify the State administrative officer of the amount which the county committee determines may be refunded to each person with respect to the farm, and the State administrative officer shall cause to be certified to the Chief Disbursing Officer of the Treasury Department for payment such amounts as are approved by him. No refund of money shall be certified under this section unless the money has been received in the county office and transmitted to the State office.

§ 730.980 Stored farm marketing excess.

(a) Amount of rice to be stored. The number of pounds of rice in connection with any farm which may be stored in order to postpone the payment of the penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty shall be that portion of the farm marketing excess which has not been delivered to the Secretary or on which the penalty has not been paid. The amount of the farm marketing excess for the purpose of storage shall be the amount of the farm marketing excess as determined at the time of storage under § 730.959 or § 730.962, whichever is applicable.

(b) Kinds of storage; commingling and substitution. Excess rice shall be stored either in an elevator or warehouse duly licensed and authorized to issue warehouse receipts under Federal or State laws, hereinafter referred to as "licensed storage," or in any other place adapted to the storage of rice, hereinafter referred to as "non-licensed storage." Commingling and substitution of rice shall be permissible in case of licensed storage, but this shall not be construed to permit the substitution of warehouse or elevator receipts deposited in escrow to postpone or avoid payment of penalty under paragraph (c) of this section. In the case of non-licensed storage, excess rice may, with the prior written approval of the county committee, be commingled with stored excess rice from any other year, and any or all stored excess rice may be replaced by rice from any other year produced by the same producer on the same or any other farm, if (1) the county committee gives prior written approval of such replacement; (2) the rice to be used for substitution is in storage; (3) the county committee determines that the rice to be used for substitution is of a quality equal to or better than the excess rice in storage and for which substitution is to be made; and (4) the requirements of this section with respect to furnishing a bond or depositing funds in escrow are complied with. The removal of stored excess rice from storage without compliance with all conditions precedent or subsequent to such removal shall constitute unauthorized depletion of the storage amount and shall be subject to penalty as provided in paragraph (g) of this section. Rice in which the producer has an interest produced on any farm may be stored in any location to postpone the penalty on any excess rice in which the same producer has an interest, provided the rice so stored is determined by the county committee to be of a quality equal to or better than the rice produced on the farm with the excess. The storage of rice in non-licensed storage shall be effective only if the producer submits a written statement showing the exact location of the stored rice by quarter section or other comparable descriptive location in areas where description is not by quarter section. Excess rice for any year which was properly stored in non-licensed storage in order to postpone the payment of a penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty may be moved to licensed storage if, prior to the movement of the rice, a written request to do so is filed in the county office and approval of the county committee is granted in writing, and if the rice is moved and stored in licensed storage in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section within 15 days after approval is granted. When all requirements for licensed storage have been met in accordance with the foregoing provisions, the bond or escrow funds held in connection with the non-licensed storage may be released. The penalty on any stored excess rice removed from non-licensed storage without the prior written authorization from the county committee shall be due on such removal. Rice produced on a farm by any producer may be placed in non-licensed storage and substituted for excess rice for any year which was properly stored in licensed storage in order to postpone the payment of a penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty if a written request to do so is filed in the county office and approval of the county committee is granted in writing upon the determination of such committee that the rice to be stored in non-licensed storage is of a quality equal to or better than the rice in licensed storage, and the rice in an amount equal to the amount in licensed storage for which substitution is desired is stored in non-licensed storage in accordance with paragraphs (b) and (d) of this section and is secured by a good and sufficient bond of indemnity or the deposit of funds in escrow, as provided in paragraph (d) of this section. When all requirements for non-licensed storage have been met in accordance with this section, the warehouse receipt covering the rice in licensed storage shall be returned to the person who deposited it. Rice stored in non-licensed storage shall be subject to inspection at all times by officers or employees of the Department, or members, officers or employees of the appropriate State or county committee.

(c) Licensed storage; deposit of warehouse receipts in escrow. The storage of excess rice in licensed storage in order to postpone the payment of the penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty shall be effective for such purposes only when a warehouse receipt covering the amount of rice so stored is deposited with the county office manager to be held in escrow. The warehouse receipt shall be an endorsed negotiable receipt or a non-negotiable receipt. In the case of a non-negotiable receipt, the warehouseman or elevator operator shall be notified in writing by the owner of the receipt and the county office manager that it has been deposited in escrow and that delivery of the rice covered thereby is to be made under the terms of the deposit in escrow while such receipt remains so deposited. Any warehouse receipt so deposited shall be accepted only upon the condition that the producers by or for whom the rice is stored shall be and shall remain liable for all charges incident to the storage of the rice and that the county committee and the United States in no way shall be liable for such charges. Whenever the penalty with respect to rice covered by the warehouse receipt(s) is paid or otherwise satisfied in accordance with law, the warehouse receipt(s) shall be returned to the person who deposited it.

(d) Non-licensed storage bonds. The storage of excess rice in non-licensed storage in order to postpone the payment of the penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty shall be effective only when a good and sufficient bond of indemnity, on a form prescribed for the purpose, is executed and filed with the county office manager in an amount not less than the amount of the penalty on that portion of the farm marketing excess so stored, or funds are deposited in escrow as hereinafter provided. Each bond given pursuant to this paragraph shall be executed as principal by the producer storing the rice and either by two persons as sureties who are not producers on the farm and who own real property with an unencumbered value of double the principal sum of the bond, exclusive of homestead exemptions, or by a corporate surety authorized to do business in the State in which the farm is situated and listed by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States as an acceptable surety on bonds to the United States. Each bond of indemnity shall be subject to the conditions that the penalty on the amount of rice stored shall be paid at the time, and to the extent, of the depletion of any amount stored which is not authorized under this subpart, and that if at any time any producer on the farm prevents the inspection of rice so stored, the penalty on the entire amount stored shall be paid forthwith. Whenever the penalties secured by the bond of indemnity are paid or reduced from any cause, the county office manager shall furnish the principal and the sureties with a written statement to that effect. Unless the bond in effect permits the commingling or substitution of rice in storage, a new bond covering all excess rice of the producer stored in non-licensed storage and not covered by funds in escrow shall be required as a condition for commingling rice or permitting substitution of any other year stored excess rice. In such case, upon approval and acceptance of the new bond, the old bond may be released. The bond of indemnity provided for in this paragraph may be waived by the county committee with the approval of the State committee if the excess was produced by a State or State institution or other agency of a State or by a Federal institution or Federal agency: Provided, That as a condition of the waiver the head of the State or Federal institution or State or Federal agency shall agree in writing to comply with all the other provisions of this subpart with respect to stored farm marketing excess.

(e) Non-licensed storage; deposit of funds in escrow. The storage of excess rice in non-licensed storage in order to postpone the payment of the penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty, if a bond is not furnished in compliance with the regulations contained in this subpart shall be effective for such purpose only when an amount of money equal to the penalty on that portion of the farm marketing excess so stored is deposited with the Treasurer of the United States to be held in escrow to secure the payment of such penalty and the right of inspection during the period of storage. All checks, drafts and money orders shall be received in the county office subject to collection and payment at par. Funds in escrow shall be subject to the condition that the penalty on the amount of rice stored shall be paid at the time, and to the extent, of any depletion of the amount stored which is not authorized and that, if at any time any producer on the farm prevents inspection of any rice so stored, the penalty on the entire amount stored shall be paid forthwith. In case approval is granted to commingle rice or to substitute rice of any crop for excess rice in storage, there shall be on deposit in escrow, pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph, funds which cover all excess rice for any year stored by the producer in non-licensed storage pursuant to this section which is not covered by a bond given pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section. Whenever the penalty with respect to rice covered by funds in escrow is paid or otherwise satisfied in accordance with law, the amount of funds covering such rice shall be released to the person who made the escrow deposit.

(f) Time of storage. Storage of rice in connection with any farm in order to postpone the payment of the penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty shall not be effective unless the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b), and (c), (d), or (e), of this section are complied with prior to the expiration of the period allowed in accordance with § 730.975(b), for the remittance of the penalty with respect to the farm marketing excess for the farm.

(g) Depletion of stored excess rice. The penalty on the amount of excess rice stored shall be paid by the producers on the farm at the time and to the extent of any depletion in the amount of rice stored except as provided in paragraphs (h) and (i) of this section and except to the extent of the following: (1) The amount by which the stored excess rice exceeds the farm marketing excess for the farm as determined in accordance with § 730.959 or § 730.962, (2) the amount by which the stored excess rice exceeds the amount of the farm marketing excess as determined by a review committee or as a result of a court review of the review committee determination, (3) the amount of any rice destroyed by fire, weather conditions, theft, or any other cause beyond the control of the producer, provided the producer shows beyond a reasonable doubt that the depletion resulted from such cause and not from his negligence nor from any affirmative act done or caused to be done by him, and (4) the amount of any rice delivered to the Secretary under the provisions of § 730.981. The penalty on the amount of any unauthorized depletion in the storage amount shall be at the rate applicable to the marketing year in which the stored excess rice was produced, except that if the storage amounts of two or more crops are commingled or if the storage amount of one crop is replaced by rice of another crop, as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the penalty shall be computed first at the rate applicable to the marketing year for the oldest crop involved in the storage amount until the entire penalty for the storage amount of such crop is satisfied and thereafter in turn at the rate applicable to the marketing year for each of the next oldest crops involved in the storage amount until the entire penalty for the storage amount of each such crop is satisfied.

(h) Underplanting the farm acreage allotment for a subsequent crop. Whenever the rice acreage on any farm for any subsequent crop of rice is less than the farm acreage allotment therefor, the producers on the farm who stored excess rice in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this section shall, upon application made by them to the county committee, be entitled to remove from storage without penalty any rice so stored by them, whether produced in a prior year on the farm or another farm, to the extent of the normal production of the number of acres by which the acreage planted to rice is less than the farm acreage allotment. Such application shall be made in writing not later than December 31 of the crop year in which the underplanted crop is harvested. The amount of rice which would otherwise be authorized to be removed from storage in connection with the farm under this paragraph shall be reduced to the extent that stored excess rice from any other crop is authorized to be removed from storage in connection with the farm. The amount of rice authorized to be removed from storage shall be apportioned among the several producers on the farm who have stored excess rice to the extent of their need therefor in accordance with their shares in the acreage which was or could have been planted to rice or in accordance with their agreement as to the apportionment to be made. A producer shall not be entitled to remove rice from storage under this paragraph in connection with any farm unless, at the time the determination is made under this paragraph, the rice is stored and owned by the producer and, at the end of the rice seeding season for the crop for the area in which the farm is situated, the producer is entitled to share in the rice crop which was or could have been planted on the farm. For the purpose of this paragraph the acreage, if any, under a conservation reserve contract will be considered rice acreage and such acreage shall be added to the rice acreage determined for the farm. The acreage considered as rice acreage under a conservation reserve contract shall be the acreage placed in the conservation reserve at the regular rate, not to exceed the amount by which the rice acreage allotment (after release and before reapportionment) for the farm exceeds the rice acreage determined for such farm:

Provided, That in the event the farm also has one or more other commodity allotments and the acreage placed in the conservation reserve at the regular rate is less than the sum of the amount by which the respective allotment (after release and before reapportionment) exceeds the acreage planted to each allotment crop on the farm, the acreage placed in the conservation reserve at the regular rate shall be prorated and credited to each allotment commodity. If the acreage placed in the conservation reserve at the regular rate is equal to or is in excess of the sum of the amount by which the respective allotment (after release and before reapportionment) exceeds the acreage planted to each allotment crop on the farm, no excess penalty rice may be removed from storage. A producer shall not be entitled to remove excess rice from storage under this paragraph by underplanting the allotment on government-owned land under a lease restricting the production of rice.

(i) Producing a subsequent crop which is less than the normal production of the farm acreage allotment. Whenever in any subsequent year the rice acreage does not exceed the farm acreage allotment and the actual production of rice on the farm is less than the normal production of the farm acreage allotment therefor, the producers on the farm who stored excess rice in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this section shall, upon application made by them to the county office, be entitled to remove from storage, without penalty, any rice so stored by them, whether produced in the prior year on the farm or another farm, to the extent of the amount by which the normal production of the farm acreage allotment, less the normal production of the underplanted acreage for the farm which was or could have been determined under paragraph (h) of this section, exceeds the amount of rice produced on the farm in that year. Such application shall be made in writing not later than 60 calendar days after the date on which the harvesting of rice is normally substantially completed in the county or area in the county in which the farm is situated as determined in accordance with § 730.962. The actual production of rice on the farm shall include, in addition to the rice actually produced on the farm, the production of rice attributed to the soil bank acreage reserve for the farm on the basis of the yield that would be indicated from the productivity index used for determining the rate of payment per acre for the acreage reserve program. The amount of rice which would otherwise be authorized to be removed from storage in connection with the farm under this paragraph shall be reduced to the extent that stored excess rice from any other crop is authorized to be removed from storage in connection with the farm. The amount of rice which is authorized to be removed from storage shall be apportioned among the several producers on the farm who have stored excess rice, to the extent of their need therefore in accordance with their proportionate shares in the rice crop planted on the farm, or in accordance with their agreement as to the apportionment to be made. The determination of the amount of rice produced on the farm shall be made in accordance with the marketing quota regulations applicable to the crop. A producer shall not be entitled to remove rice from storage under this paragraph for any farm unless, at the time the determination is made under this paragraph, the rice is stored and owned by the producer and, at the time of harvest, the producer is entitled to a share in the rice crop planted on the farm. For the purpose of this paragraph, any acreage which is considered to be rice acreage under a conservation reserve contract under § 730.980(h) will be deemed to have produced the normal production of rice when determining the actual production for the farm.

§ 730.981 Delivery of the farm marketing excess to the Secretary.

(a) Amount of the rice to be delivered. The amount of rice delivered to the Secretary in order to avoid the payment of the penalty in connection with any farm shall not exceed the amount of the farm marketing excess as determined at the time of delivery, in accordance with § 730.959 or § 730.962, whichever is applicable.

(b) Conditions and methods of delivery. For and on behalf of the Secretary, the county office manager for the county in which the farm for which the marketing excess is determined is situated shall accept the delivery of any rice tendered to avoid the payment of the penalty. The delivery of the rice for this purpose shall be effective only when the producers having an interest in the rice to be so delivered convey to the Secretary all right, title, and interest in and to the rice by executing a form provided for this purpose and (1) deliver the rice to an elevator or warehouse and tender to the county office manager the elevator or warehouse receipt for the amount of the rice, or (2) show to the satisfaction of the county committee that it is impracticable to deliver the rice to an elevator or warehouse and receive an elevator or warehouse receipt therefor, deliver the rice at a point within the county or nearby and within such time or times as may be designated by the county office manager. None of the rice so delivered shall be returned to the producer. Insofar as practicable, the rice so delivered shall be delivered to the Commodity Credit Corporation of the United States Department of Agriculture, and any rice which it is impracticable to deliver to such Corporation shall be distributed to such one or more of the following classes of agencies or organizations as the State committee selects, which delivery the Secretary hereby determines will divert it from the normal channels of trade and commerce: Any Federal relief organization, the American Red Cross, State or county or municipal relief organization, Federal or State wildlife refuge project or any voluntary relief organization registered with the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid of the International Cooperation Administration for shipment for relief overseas.

(c) Time of delivery. Excess rice may be delivered to the Secretary at any time within 60 calendar days after the date on which the harvesting of rice is normally substantially completed in the county as determined in accordance with § 730.962(a) or pursuant to § 730.961. Excess rice may be delivered to the Secretary after such period only if the excess rice was stored in accordance with the provisions of § 730.980 (a) to (f), and the rice has not gone out of condition through any fault of the producer.

(d) Rice to be unencumbered. Any rice delivered to the Secretary for the purpose of avoiding the penalty with respect to the farm marketing excess for any farm shall be free and clear of all encumbrances and particularly no rice shall be accepted for such purpose if it is subject to storage charges or liens of any kind. Conveyance of the rice to the Secretary shall be made by the execution and delivery of Form MQ–99—Rice.

§ 730.982 Refund of penalty erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected.

Whenever, pursuant to a claim filed with the Secretary within two calendar years after payment to him of the penalty collected from any person, pursuant to the act, the Secretary finds that the penalty was erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected and the claimant bore the burden of such penalty, he shall certify to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States for payment to the claimant, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, such amount as the claimant is entitled to receive as a refund of all or a portion of the penalty. Any claim filed pursuant to this section shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

§ 730.983 Report of violations and court proceedings to collect penalty.

It shall be the duty of the county office manager to report in writing to the State administrative officer each case of failure or refusal to pay the penalty or to remit the same as provided in §§ 730.975 to 730.977. It shall be the duty of the State administrative officer to report each such case in writing to the office of the General Counsel of the Department which shall have authority to refer such cases for the institution of proceedings by the United States Attorney for the appropriate district under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States to collect the penalties, as provided in section 376 of the act.

RECORDS AND REPORTS

§ 730.984 Records to be kept and reports to be made by warehousemen, mill or elevator operators, other processors, or transferees and buyers other than intermediate buyers.

(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each warehouseman, mill or elevator operator, processor, or transferee and each buyer other than an intermediate buyer, who buys, acquires, or receives rice from the producer or intermediate buyer, who buys, acquires, or receives section 373(a) of the act, keep the records and make the reports prescribed by this section, which the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out with respect to rice, the provisions of the act.

(b) Nature and availability of records. Each warehouseman, mail or elevator operator, processor, or transferee, and each buyer other than an intermediate buyer, shall keep as part of or in addition to the records maintained by him in the conduct of his business, a record which shall show with respect to the rice purchased, acquired or received by him from the producers or the intermediate buyers thereof the following information: (1) The name and address of the producer of the rice, (2) the date of the transaction, (3) the amount of the rice, (4) the serial number of the marketing card (MQ–76—Rice), or marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice), or intermediate buyer's record and report (MQ–95—Rice), by which the rice was identified, or the report and penalty receipt for rice not identified (MQ–81—Rice), and (5) the amount of any lien for the penalty or of any penalty incurred in connection with the rice purchased, acquired, or received by him. The record so made and all business records of such persons required to keep such records shall be kept available for examination by the county office manager or any representative of the State committee or investigators and accountants (special agents) or other authorized representatives of the Director, Compliance and Investigation Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, for two calendar years beyond the calendar year in which the marketing year ends, or longer if requested by the State administrative officer. Such records shall include relevant books, papers, records, accounts, correspondence, contracts, documents and memoranda, but shall be examined only for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept pursuant to the regulations in this subpart or of obtaining the information required to be furnished in this subpart but not so furnished. The county office manager shall furnish, without cost, blank copies of (MQ–97—Rice) which may be used for the purpose of keeping the record required under this section.

(c) Records and reports in connection with rice subject to penalty. Each warehouseman, mill or elevator operator, processor, or transferee, and each buyer other than an intermediate buyer, who purchases any rice from the producer or intermediate buyer which is not identified at the time the rice is purchased in the manner provided in § 730.971 (a), (b), and (c), shall, with respect to each such transaction, execute the report and penalty receipt for rice not identified on MQ–81—Rice and report to the county office manager the following information: (1) The name and address of the producer or intermediate buyer from whom the rice was purchased or acquired, (2) the names of the county and State, and the address of the county office of the county in which the rice was produced, (3) the date of the transaction, (4) the amount of the rice, (5) the year harvested, (6) the amount of the penalty incurred in connection with the transaction, and (7) whether an amount equivalent to the penalty was deducted from the price or consideration paid for the rice. Each record and report on MQ–81—Rice shall be executed in triplicate. The person who executes MQ–81—Rice shall retain one copy, give the original to the producer or intermediate buyer, as the case may be, which shall be the receipt to him for the amount of the penalty in connection with rice, and mail or deliver the remaining copy to the county office manager. It shall be presumed that rice was not identified by MQ–76—Rice, as provided in § 730.971 (a), or MQ–94—Rice, as provided in § 730.971(b), or MQ–95—Rice, as provided in § 730.971(c), if the serial number of the marketing card, marketing certificate or intermediate buyer's record and report, does not appear on the records required to be kept pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) Records and reports in connection with rice identified by intermediate buyer's records and reports. Whenever rice is identified by the intermediate buyer's record and report (MQ–95—Rice) executed in accordance with § 730.985, the warehouseman, mill or elevator operator, processor, or transferee, or the buyer other than an intermediate buyer, who purchases or acquires the rice covered thereby shall retain the first copy as a record of the transaction and forward the original to the county office manager as a report on the transaction in every case where he purchases or acquires all or the remainder of the rice covered by the record and report. In all other cases, where the warehouseman, mill or elevator operator, processor, or transferee, or the buyer other than an intermediate buyer, purchases or acquires only a portion of the rice covered by the intermediate buyer's record and report, he shall make a record and report of the transaction by endorsing on the reverse side of both the original and first copy his name and signature, the amount of rice purchased or acquired, and the date of the transaction and return the forms so endorsed to the intermediate buyer to be delivered to the person who finally purchases or acquires the remainder of the rice.

(e) Records in connection with rice identified by marketing certificates. Whenever rice is identified by a marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice), the warehouseman, mill or elevator operator, processor, or transferee, or the buyer other than an intermediate buyer, who purchases the rice so identified shall retain the original of the marketing certificate as a record of the transaction completed as provided in § 730.968(b).

(f) Time and place of submitting reports. Each report required by this section shall be submitted not later than 15 calendar days next succeeding the day on which the rice was marketed to a warehouseman, mill or elevator operator, processor, or transferee, or a buyer other than an intermediate buyer, to the county office manager for the county in which the rice was produced.

§ 730.985 Records to be kept and reports to be made by intermediate buyers.

(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each intermediate buyer shall, in conformity with section 373(a) of the act, keep the records and make the reports prescribed by this section, which the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to rice, the provisions of the act.

(b) Form of record and report in connection with rice purchased or acquired from producers. Each intermediate buyer who purchases or acquires any rice from the producer thereof shall, with respect to each such transaction, keep a record and make a report on the intermediate buyer's record and report (MQ–95—Rice) of the following information: (1) The name and address of the producer from whom the rice was purchased or acquired, (2) the names of the county and State and the address of the county office of the county in which the rice was produced, (3) the date of the transaction, (4) the number of pounds of rice, (5) the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate by which the producer identified the rice at the time it was marketed, or if the rice is not so identified, the amount of the penalty, and whether an amount equivalent to the penalty was collected or deducted from the price or consideration paid for the rice, and (6) the year in which the rice was harvested. The record and report shall be executed in quadruplicate and, after the entries described above are made, the intermediate buyer and producer shall certify to the correctness of the entries by signing the MQ–95—Rice so executed shall be retained by the producer as a record of the transaction and as a receipt for the amount equivalent to the penalty, if any, which was deducted from the price or consideration paid for the rice. One copy of MQ–95—Rice so executed shall be retained by the intermediate buyer as his record in connection with the transaction. Whenever rice is identified by a marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice), the intermediate buyer and the producer shall complete the original and copy of the marketing certificate in accordance with the provisions of § 730.968(b). The copy shall be retained by the producer and the intermediate buyer shall attach the original of the marketing certificate to the first copy of MQ–95—Rice to be delivered to the warehouseman, mill or elevator operator, processor, or transferee or buyer other than an intermediate buyer, who finally acquires the rice covered by MQ–95—Rice, and marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice). Whenever the intermediate buyer markets or delivers a portion of the rice covered by a single MQ–95—Rice to another and retains a portion of the rice, the intermediate buyer shall obtain from the person to whom the portion of the rice is marketed or delivered an endorsement on the reverse side of both the original and first copy of MQ–95—Rice showing the name and signature of the person, the number of pounds of rice marketed or delivered to him, and the date of the transaction.

(c) Manner of making reports. The intermediate buyer shall deliver the original and copy of the intermediate buyer's record and report MQ–95—Rice to the warehouseman, mill or elevator operator, processor, or transferee, or the buyer other than an intermediate buyer, to whom all or the remainder of the rice covered thereby is marketed. When rice is marketed or delivered by one intermediate buyer to another intermediate buyer, the original and first copy of MQ–95—Rice shall be transmitted by one intermediate buyer to another and the last intermediate buyer shall deliver them to the warehouseman, mill or elevator operator, processor, or transferee, or buyer other than an intermediate buyer. If all or the remainder of the rice is not marketed or delivered to a warehouseman, mill or elevator operator, processor, or transferee, or buyer other than an intermediate buyer, the last intermediate buyer shall, within 15 days after purchase of such rice, mail or deliver the original and first copy of the intermediate buyer's record and report to the county office manager.

(d) Reports to the county office manager. Each intermediate buyer shall, within 15 days after all Forms MQ–95—Rice contained in a book have been executed, or by February 28 of each calendar year, whichever is the earlier, mail or deliver to the county office from which the book was obtained the executed copies and unexecuted sets of Form MQ–95—Rice which were retained by him. Books of Form MQ–95—Rice shall be reissued to any intermediate buyer upon request. In the event that the county committee or State administrative officer has reason to do so, any or all intermediate buyers to whom books of Form MQ–95—Rice were issued or reissued after the end of the calendar year may be requested to mail or deliver on or before the end of the marketing year to the county office from which the book was obtained, the executed copies and unexecuted sets of Form MQ–95—Rice. In the event that the county committee or State administrative officer has reason to believe that any intermediate buyer has failed or refused to comply with the regulations in this subpart, the county office manager or State administrative officer shall notify the intermediate buyer in writing that he is considered to be an intermediate buyer under the provisions of the rice marketing quota regulations and that he is requested to furnish a report within 15 days to the county office manager on Form(s) MQ–95—Rice of all rice purchased or acquired by him during the period of time specified in the request. The notice shall advise the intermediate buyer that the information required to be reported on Form MQ–95—Rice is in accordance with the rice marketing quota regulations and he shall be advised of the penalty for failure or refusal to keep the records and make the reports as provided in § 730.986. The intermediate buyer shall make the report for the period specified as requested by the county office manager or State administrative officer.

§ 730.986 Buyer's special reports.

In the event that the county committee or State administrative officer has reason to believe that any buyer has failed or refused to comply with the regulations in this subpart, the buyer shall, within 15 days after a written request therefor made by the county office manager or State administrative officer and deposited in the United States mails, addressed to him at his last known address, make a report, certified as true and correct on MQ–97—Rice to such person with respect to all rice purchased or acquired by him during the period of time as specified in the request. The report shall include the following information for each lot of rice purchased or acquired from the persons specified or during the period specified: (a) The name and address of the producer of the rice, (b) the date of the transaction, (c) the amount of the rice, (d) the serial number of the marketing card (MQ–76—Rice), marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice), intermediate buyer's record and report (MQ–95—Rice), or the report and penalty receipt for rice not identified (MQ–81—Rice), and (e) the amount of the lien for the penalty or the amount of penalty incurred in connection with the rice purchased or acquired.

§ 730.987 Penalty for failure or refusal to keep records and make reports.

Any person required to keep the records or make the reports specified in § 730.984, § 730.985, or § 730.986, who fails to keep any such record or make any such report, or who makes any false report or keeps any false record shall, as provided in section 373(a) of the act, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense.

§ 730.988 Records to be kept and reports to be made by producers.

Each producer with respect to any rice crop shall keep the records and make the reports prescribed by this section, which the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to rice, the provisions of the act. Upon written request of the county committee or county office manager, any producer shall, within 15 days from the date the request was mailed to him, file with the county office manager for the county in which the farm is situated, a farm operator's report on MQ–98—Rice showing for the farm the following information: (a) The total number of pounds of rice produced thereon in the applicable crop year, (b) the name and address of each buyer or transferee of any rice, (c) the amount of rice sold to each buyer, (d) the amount equivalent to the penalty which was deducted from the price or consideration for the rice, (e) the amount of unmarketed rice of the applicable crop on hand, (f) the disposition of any rice not otherwise accounted for, and (g) the rice acreage for the applicable crop year.

§ 730.989 Data to be kept confidential.

Except as otherwise provided herein, all data reported to or acquired by the Secretary pursuant to and in the manner provided in this subpart shall be kept confidential by all officers and employees of the United States Department of Agriculture, members of county committees, other local committees, and State committees, county agents, and officers and employees of such committees or county agents' offices, and shall not be disclosed to anyone not having an interest in or responsibility for any rice, farm or transaction covered by the particular data, such as records, reports, forms, or other information, and only such data so reported or acquired as the Secretary deems relevant shall be disclosed by them to anyone not having such an interest or not being employed in the administration of the act and then only in a suit or administrative hearing under Title III of the act.

§ 730.990 Enforcement.

It shall be the duty of the county office manager to report in writing to the State administrative officer forthwith each case of failure or refusal to make any report or keep any record as required by §§ 730.984 to 730.988, inclusive, and to so report each case of making any false report or record. It shall be the duty of the State administrative officer to report each such case in writing in quintuplicate to the Office of the General Counsel of the Department which shall have authority to refer such cases for the institution of proceedings by the United States Attorney for the appropriate district under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, to enforce the provisions of the act.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS AND EXEMPTIONS

§ 730.991 Farms on which the only acreage of rice is nonirrigated rice not in excess of three acres.

(a) Conditions of exception. The farm marketing quota of rice for any crop shall not be applicable to any nonirrigated (dry land) farm on which the rice acreage for such crop is not in excess of three acres.

(b) Issuing marketing cards or marketing certificates. The county office manager shall, for each farm to which the provisions of this section are applicable, issue marketing cards or marketing certificates to the producers on the farm in the manner and subject to the conditions specified in §§ 730.967 to 730.970.

§ 730.992 Experimental rice farms.

(a) Conditions of exemption. The penalty shall not apply to the marketing of any rice of any crop grown for experimental purposes only on land owned or leased by any publicly-owned agricultural experiment station, and which is produced at public expense by employees of the experiment station, or to rice produced for experimental purposes only by farmers pursuant to an agreement with a publicly-owned experiment station whereby the experiment station bears the costs and risks incident to the production of the rice and the proceeds from the crop inure to the benefit of the experiment station: Provided, That such agreement is approved by the State committee prior to the planting of the rice crop on the farm. The production of foundation, registered, or certified seed rice will not be considered produced for experimental purposes only.

(b) Issuing marketing cards or marketing certificates. The county office manager shall, upon written application of a responsible executive officer of any publicly-owned agricultural experiment station to which the exemption referred to in paragraph (a) of this section is applicable, issue a marketing card or a marketing certificate for the experiment station in the manner and subject to the conditions specified in §§ 730.967 to 730.970.

§ 730.993 Rice produced on a wildlife refuge farm.

The penalty shall not apply to any rice produced in excess of the allotment on a wildlife refuge farm consisting solely of Federal or State-owned land: Provided, That such acreage is not harvested, but is left on the land for wildlife feed. The exemption from penalty shall be granted by the county office manager upon the written application of the farm operator or responsible executive officer on any such farm, stating that none of the excess rice produced on the farm will be harvested and that such excess will be left on the farm for wildlife feed. For the purpose of marketing within quota rice produced on such farm, a marketing card or marketing certificate may be issued in the same manner and subject to the conditions specified in §§ 730.967 to 730.970.

§ 730.994 Erroneous notices.

(a) Erroneous notice of acreage allotment. In any case where through error in a county or State office the producer was officially notified in writing of a rice acreage allotment for a crop year which was larger than the finally-approved acreage allotment and the county committee and the State administrative officer find that the producer, acting solely on the information contained in the erroneous notice, planted an acreage to rice in excess of the finally-approved acreage allotment, the producer will not be considered to have exceeded the acreage allotment unless he overplanted the allotment shown on the erroneous notice. The farm marketing quota and the farm marketing excess for the farm under the foregoing circumstances will be based on the acreage allotment contained in the erroneous notice, and if the acreage planted to rice on the farm is adjusted to the allotment contained in the erroneous notice within the time limits for disposal of excess acreage as provided in § 730.955(b), the farm will not be considered to be overplanted. Before a producer can be said to have relied upon the erroneous notice, the circumstances must have been such that the producer had no cause to believe that the acreage allotment notice was in error. To determine this fact, the date of any corrected notice in relation to the time of planting; the size of the farm; the amount of rice customarily planted; and all other pertinent facts should be taken into consideration. If the county committee determines that the producer was justified in relying on the erroneous notice of rice acreage allotment for the farm, such determination shall be subject to review and approval by the State administrative officer before the erroneous allotment is used by the county committee to determine the marketing quota and marketing excess for the farm.

(b) Erroneous notice of measured acreage. The provisions of Part 718 of this chapter, Determination of Acreage and Performance (22 F.R. 3747), and any amendments thereto, relating to notices to farm operators shall be applied when determining whether an erroneous notice of measured acreage is applicable to a particular case.

§ 730.995 Approval of reporting and record-keeping requirements.

The reporting and record-keeping requirements contained herein have been approved by, and subsequent reporting and record-keeping requirements will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 8th day of June 1960.
